FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Once again we are starting another year at Stout. For the freshman and transfer students, it will be a new and profitable experience. Others are returning for a second and third year. For the seniors, it will be the last year at college. To give all of you an idea of what to expect these coming nine months, the Stoutonia has formulated the following platform:

First and foremost, the paper is, as stated in the masthead, "more than just a newspaper:— It is an educational experiment written to inform, enlighten, and to give its staff members experience that conforms to good journalistic principles and practice." The Stoutonia hopes, during the year, to reflect the true "spirit of the school and its activities and to print material of interest to both students and alumni of Stout.

The Stoutonia will be working throughout the year in cooperation with the Stout Student Association on various projects including Homecoming, student elections, and qualification of the student body in social doings as well as school work.

This is your paper, and it is hoped by the editorial staff that you will take a personal interest in it. We will keep you posted on the coming events of the year and also on the events that you wanted to attend but perhaps couldn't make.

To all of you, both new and returning students, the Stoutonia wishes to extend best wishes for a happy and successful year.

GOVERNING BOARD NEWS

The first meeting of the year for the Student Governing Board was opened by President Richard Duthler on Tuesday evening at 6:30 in the HE building.

Old business included reports on several new additions to the school. A whirlpool for the athletic department has been purchased. Also, the old TV set in the Union has been traded in on the purchase of a new one. A new stone slab has been ordered by the SSA at a cost of $100 to replace the broken bench to the south of the HE building.

It was noticed that on Labor Day, when new students and their parents arrived at Stout, the buildings were all closed. It was proposed that a recommendation be sent to Dr. Iverson that the buildings be open for inspection at that time next year.

The next proposal was that of making improvements on the stage for the purposes of safety. A counter-weight system was considered as a solution to the problem. The MAP is contributing money to this project and it was suggested that the SSA do likewise. This was tabled.

Plans for Homecoming were discussed. A motion was passed that Herb Pringle be appointed parade marshal. Plans are also underway for enlarging and improving the Coronation ceremony.

A motion was passed that married students would be able to obtain activity cards free of charge for their husbands or wives.

The matter of improving student assemblies was brought before the board and a motion was made by John Christensen. It stated that the SSA ask all organizations to put skits or shows on for the Wednesday Assemblies. Two weeks will be allowed for choosing the dates open. The SSA will reimburse each organization for necessary expenses. Five faculty judges will judge each skit and award a $25 cash prize to the winner on Awards Day.

Next a motion was made which authorized the SSA to pay for half of

NEWMAN CLUB PARTY WELCOMES STUDENTS

Fun and refreshments highlighted the Newman Club party which was held on church night on Friday, September 5, at 8 p.m. Father Butz, the new chaplain of the Newman Club, gave a short talk and welcomed the students and faculty.

Games, relays, and dancing was the entertainment which the Altar Society, who sponsored the party, provided. Following the entertainment, a very delicious lunch was served by the ladies.

The centerpieces of flowers that were placed on the card tables around the room gave a friendly and delightful atmosphere. Music for the evening was provided by several big name orchestras.

W. S. F. HOLDS FIRST MEETING SUNDAY

The first regular meeting of the Wesley Student Foundation was held Sunday, September 7, at 5:30 o'clock. The meeting began with fellowship singing followed by a supper of scalloped potatoes and ham, corn, bread, fruit jello, cake and milk. Beverly Peterson's committee served the 65 students in attendance.

A skit "Previews of Wesley" was given by a group of students directed by Pat Jensen, Marilyn Fredeen and Catherine Magee provided recreation with several mixer games.

As part of the worship service, Rev. Reece presented a 15 minute Bible study in which he asked questions as to what we as students would like to know about the Bible. Ellen Russell led the student worship service. The meeting closed with "The Lord's Prayer" sung by Iris Ruf.

Next week WSP will participate in the "Moonlight Hike" being sponsored by all church groups.

the expense of the Freshman-Senior picnic.

The final business wound up with an appointment of students to several committees. They are: counseling service, Lloyd Woodmansee, Ann Swittemberg; commencement, Jeanette Oetting, Charles Russell; athletics, August Schulz, Jean VanBuren; assembly, Iris Ruf, Colleen Ceminisky, Milton Benner; library, Van Cartwright, Jim Cook; curriculum and instruction, Maryann Smith, Joe Leckmeyer; student welfare, Bob Asman, Ann Rossmiller, Dick Duthler, Marilyn Eckstein.

CHURCH NIGHT IS OBSERVED BY W. S. F.

The Wesley Student Fellowship of the Methodist Church held their annual Church Night Friday, September 5.

Devotion for the 75 students present was conducted by Catherine Magee, Marilyn Fredeen, and Ardith Garrison. Mr. Knight provided calls for group folk games.

Bob Spinti, president of Wesley, introduced the cabinet and advisors and invited everyone to attend the meeting Sunday evening.

"Motive" magazine and a pamphlet on Wesley were given to the new students.

The W.S.G.S. of the church served the group ice cream and cake at the end of an evening of fun and fellowship.

GETS CONSTITUTION

The Alumni Association office has received a copy of its constitution from the Metropolitan Detroit Alumni Association of the Stout Institute. It is on file in that office and is available to any other chapter.

ALUMNUS IS MEMBER OF COMMITTEE

A Menomonie woman, Mrs. William Campbell, the former Inez Olson, a graduate of 1939, was a member of the Food Standards Advisory committee, which presented its proposed standards for canned vegetables at a formal hearing August 28 at 10 a. m. in Madison. The meeting was announced by the state department of agriculture.

Mrs. Campbell and four other state residents were appointed by Governor Kohler to study the federal and existing state standards to arrive at an up-to-date set of standards for the state of Wisconsin.

Other members of the committee are Mrs. Ryerson, Madison; Dr. Henry Scott of the Wisconsin alumni research association, Madison; and Dr. Flora Hanning of the University of Wisconsin faculty department, Milwaukee.

BLUEDEVILS PREPARE FOR OPENING GAME

13 Lettermen And 26 Others Team Up For Seasons First Game

The Stout Blue Devils will open their 1952 intercollegiate schedule under their new coach, Jack Wink, when they take on the sailors from Great Lakes tomorrow night under the lights at Nelson Field. The game figures to be a tough one, for the Blue Devils will have to stop the running of Johnny Miller and George Young, plus the passing of Jim Clark in order to win their first game.

The Blue Devils, who have been working hard getting ready for the Bluejackets, are led by thirteen returning lettermen, seven other members of last year's second place entry, and nineteen freshmen. In addition, Stout has regained the services of backs Mel Zemplinski, Steve Hansen, and Dick Cheke. Hansen, a 1950 letterwinner with the Blue Devils figures to add prominently to the Stout running attack, while Zemplinski and Cheke will attempt to retain Stout's excellent passing reputation.

Stout students should not be too optimistic over tomorrow's encounter. Under a new coach and new offensive system, it will take many more hours of arduous practice to get the team ready for a top notch performance. This, however, is not the only problem confronting Coach Wink. Several of the key players reported only last week, greatly slowing down offensive and defensive maneuvers.

Many members of last year's team have since departed. Gone are ends Herb Markley, Ed Fandry, John Debrauske, Bob Roloff, and Ed Wilkie. As a result of this terrific loss, the veteran redhead George Krall has been shifted to an end slot in an attempt to bolster what is probably the weakest position on the Blue Devils' squad. Teaming with Krall will be Neill Hooper of West Allis who appears to have partially recovered from a bruised shoulder incurred in an early workout. Stout figures to have two of the finest tackles in the conference in Juniors John Widmar of Crosby Minnesota, and Mark Riemers of Menominee, in spite of losing Al Hoppe and Ted Hein of last year's team. Widmar, an all-conference selection in 1951, reported at a trim 205 pounds while Riemers, at 6-3 and 220 pounds, has looked particularly impressive thus far this season. Stout is again fortunate to have veterans Karl Turk and Louie Lausted at the guard spots. Turk, probably the fastest offensive lineman in the conference, is a possible all-conference selection at this position.

Lloyd Woodmansee, a senior squad member from New Auburn, Wisconsin, is slated to open at the center spot vacated by Willis Bogenhagen. To assist Woodmansee at the pivot will be the veteran junior letterman, Joe Stebly. "Yogi Joe," who hails from Boys Tech in Milwaukee, played defensive guard last season.

At this writing, Stout's starting offensive backfield has not as yet been determined. The quarterback slot has provided quite a problem thus far, due to the absences of Gale Woelffer and Wayne Weiler. However, Don Woelffer, younger brother of Stout's backfield coach, has arrived on the scene to partly alleviate matters. Last minute starter for the Blue Devils at this position could also be Mel Zemplinski, who has formerly held a left half assignment. If Zemplinski does fill the bill the halves will be manned primarily by Hansen, Bill Kiefer, three time varsity letterwinner from Hastings, Minnesota, and George Van Buren, Superior Junior. Once again, Stout will open the season with the stocky Ronald "Red" Walker of Durrand at fullback. The redhead, at 5-8 and 180 pounds was an all-conference selection in 1951. Backing up Walker will be a newcomer to the Blue Devil cause, Leo Janis of Milwaukee. Janis has looked very good in the early workouts.

W. A. A. ENTERTAINS AT SPORT SPREE

WAA's new year was started out with a bang when it sponsored the Sports Spree for all freshmen and transfer students during orientation week. After every one had energetically participated, the "pop" was furnished by the "S" Club.

The next activity on the agenda is the Treasure Hunt Monday, September 15 for all prospective members. After the Treasure Hunt, refreshments will be served and a chance will be given the girls to sign up for volleyball. Jody Bain, sports chairman, will be on hand to answer all questions.

Any time you are in doubt which sport is being played, you can consult the activities calendar on the physical education bulletin board. These activities will be played on Monday and Tuesday evenings from seven to nine.

Don't forget the Treasure Hunt on September 15 at seven o'clock. Meet in the gymnasium.

HYPERIAN SORORITY HOLDS FIRST MEETING

The Hyperian Sorority held its first meeting of the year on Tuesday evening September 9, at 7:00 p.m.

Because the previously elected vice-president, Nancy Bunker, did not return to Stout this year, a new vice-president, Lois Feggestad, was elected. Other business including planning the entertainment for the Intersorority rushing party.

JACK WINK

JACK WINK TAKES OVER AS NEW COACH

Last April, Jack Wink was chosen head football coach at The Stout Institute. Tomorrow night the same Jack Wink will make his Stout coaching debut when the Blue Devils tangle with the mighty Bluejackets of Great Lakes.

Wink came to Stout from Wayne, Nebraska, where he had been head football coach at Nebraska State College. During his three year tenure, Wink built up the enviable record of twenty-one wins and six losses. Prior to his coaching in Nebraska he taught physical education at New London, Wisconsin, for one year, after he completed his work for the Master of Science degree at the University of Wisconsin.

While attending Wisconsin, he played varsity football for three years and was quarterback of the great team of 1942. Other members of that famous backfield were Elroy "Crazylegs" Hirsch, the late Mark Hoskins, and the fabulous Marlin "Pat" Harder.

Jack Wink is a graduate of Boys Technical High School in Milwaukee, where he captained the football team. During the service training program he attended the University of Michigan and helped the Wolverines gain a Big Ten title in 1943 along with his former Wisconsin teammates, Freddie Negus and Elroy Hirsch. In recommending him Harry Stuhldreher said: "He is an outstanding man in every way, possessing a pleasing personality and appearance, filled with industry and desire to do a good job." We here at Stout wish Jack Wink every success possible in the coming season and the years following.

BIG SISTERS TAKE FRESHMEN TO TEA

The Big-Little Sister Tea was held Sunday, September 7, in the Harvey Memorial under the direction of Colleen Mitchell, vice president of the Y.W.C.A.

About 250 Big and Little Sisters were served fancy cookies, mints, nuts and tea by Miss McCalmont, and Mrs. Arneson. Edna Gaffron and Lois Feggestad, president and secretary, respectively, of the organization, also poured.

The next Y.W.C.A. activity is the Fall Festival, which will be held for Freshmen girls Wednesday evening

GREAT LAKES WILL OPEN HERE SATURDAY

The Great Lakes "Bluejackets" headed by Lt. Cliff Niedzielski will open their ten game schedule with the Stout Blue Devils at Nelson Field on Saturday night. The Bluejackets, who last year established an eight win and three loss record, are building their hopes for a successful season around eighteen returning lettermen and a few outstanding newcomers.

Probable starters in the line for the Great Lakes entry will be Tom Martin and Bob Jackson at the ends, Bill Williams and Charlie Thomas at tackle, Joe Roper and co-captain, Jack Cahill, at guard, and the 220 pound Bob Hunt at center. Thomas, a 6-2, 195 pounder, captained the University of Pittsburgh eleven before joining the Navy, while co-captain Cahill won freshman numerals at the University of Illinois. Another man sure to see action in Saturday's battle will be Irish Jack Murphy, 6'2" end, who last year caught three touchdown passes for the 1951 Bluejacket team.

The Bluejackets were the victims of a bad break earlier this month when Harry Stuhldreher Jr., son of the famous Notre Dame quarter back, was transferred to the Naval Air Station in Jacksonville, Florida. In his stead Coach Niedzielski plans to install tall Jim Clark in the quarter back slot. Clark, who played for the University of Houston (Texas), is slated to do most of the passing against the Blue Devils.

Co-captain and offensive star of the Bluejacket team is Johnny Miller, former standout of Schurz High School in Chicago, Northwestern University and the Chicago Bears. At 5-9 and 185 pounds the fleet footed Miller averaged better than five yards per carry last season. Teaming with Miller at the opposite half is Claude Taliaferro, younger brother of the famed George Taliaferro of the University of Indiana. Claude played with the Illinois team in the 1952 Rose Bowl contest and is expected to add more speed.

L. S. A. WELCOMES NEW STUDENTS

On church night, Friday September 5, Stout L.S.A. met at the church parlor of Our Saviour's Lutheran church.

L. S. A. president Ray Burkhalter was in charge of general arrangements being assisted by Betty Medith who lead in devotion, and Carol Koch who was in charge of recreation. A lunch was served by the Ladies Aid of Our Saviour's church.

On Sunday night, September 7, LSA held its annual hike to Point Comfort. Attendance was approximately the same as on church night. An outdoor supper centered around grilled hamburgers was enjoyed by the fresh air feasters. Virginia Hoppe and Rose Deuber were in charge of food with Carol Koch and Pat Caseberg leading in recreation and Shirley Lundon lead the devotion.

Sunday evening, September 14, LSA will meet jointly with the other youth groups on the campus for a hike to Point Comfort. The hike is sponsored by the Stout Y.W.C.A.

Appointment of nine new members to the staff of The Stout Institute at the opening of the college year has been announced by Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of Stout.

DR. OTTO W. NITZ

Dr. Otto W. Nitz has been selected as associate professor of chemistry. Dr. Nitz received his bachelor of Science degree from Elmhurst college, and his M. S. and Ph. D. from the University of Iowa. After serving as head of the chemistry department of Northern Montana State college, he became chief chemist with the Kentucky Synthetic Rubber corporation of Louisville, Kentucky. He resigned from this position to join the Stout Institute faculty.

MISS ELLEN NELSON

Associate professor in the department of food and nutrition is Ellen Nelson, formerly supervisor of home economics in the Joliet, Illinois, high school and junior college. Miss Nelson, a Bachelor and Master's graduate from Stout Institute, has completed the major part of her work for a doctorate at the University of Illinois.

VICTOR H. HARDT

Heading the college music department will be Victor H. Hardt, formerly director of instrumental work in the public schools of Windom, Minnesota. Mr. Hardt, who will hold the rank of assistant professor received his Bachelor's degree from Concordia college, Concordia, Illinois, and his Master's degree in music from the University of Minnesota. He has nearly completed his Doctorate at Columbia university. Professor Hardt is well-known in public school music circles for his compositions for piano and band. He has done considerable arranging for band and ensembles, and has appeared frequently as a concert pianist.

DR. E. R. RUDIGER

Dr. E.R. Rudiger has been appointed as assistant professor of industrial education. Dr. Rudiger received his Bachelor's and Master's degrees from Stout Institute, and his Doctorate from the University of Missouri. An air force veteran of World War II, Dr. Rudiger also was a member of the faculty of Berry college, Mount Berry, Georgia.

MISS C. ARDIS THVEDT

Miss C. Ardis Thvedt, who holds a Bachelor's degree from Concordia college, Moorhead, Minn., and her Master's from the University of Wisconsin, has accepted the position of instructor of art. Miss Thvedt was formerly art supervisor of Stoughton high school and later taught at Fergus Falls, Minnesota, before joining the faculty of Stout Institute.

EDUCATIONAL PROCEDURES STAFF AT NROTC

I. E. GRADS TAKE PART IN ORIENTATION

Stout Institute graduates in industrial education took a prominent part in the Sixth Annual Orientation Course for Naval Officers, conducted during the summer at Northwestern University. Participating officers have been designated as teachers of Naval Science in 52 colleges and universities providing naval officer training in their NROTC programs.

Graduates of Stout who took part in the conference included Homer C. Rose (B.S. '31), assistant head and senior educational specialist, standard and curriculum branch, Bureau of Naval Personnel; Lawrence Braaten (B.S. '36, M.S. '51), training aids specialist, Bureau of Naval Personnel; and Harry G. Bergner (B.S. '31), training specialist, Bureau of Naval Personnel.

The Orientation course is designed to provide instruction and experience in four areas: Functional Speech, Administrative procedures, Educational Psychology, and Educational Procedures.

The Educational procedures part of the Orientation Course consists of conferences on methods of instruction, testing, training aids utilization, lesson planning, and practice teaching. For this instruction, the large group of approximately 140 officers is divided into seven sections each under the supervision of a member of the Educational Procedures staff.

The instructional staff is drawn largely from Northwestern, some other NROTC universities and colleges, and the Bureau of Naval Personnel; however, a number of educators are employed as individuals because of the particular contribution they can make to the program.

A significant feature of the training is the practice teaching. Each officer prepares and presents several types of lessons. These lessons are analyzed and evaluated by members of the class. Naval officers have found this experience so helpful that the time devoted to practice teaching has been increased each year.

NEW POLICIES AT LYNNWOOD THIS YEAR

Mr. Edwin Siefert, resident head at Lynnwood Hall, has added six new policies to last years regulations in order to cope with situations which have arisen during the past school year.

The first, and most important with regard to personal safety, is that no guns and ammunition will be allowed in the dormitory. Also at this time, all fishing equipment and accessories will not be handled in the dorm.

The second policy has in mind the instilling in each individual, the responsibility of his room and belongings. Each person is expected to have his bed straightened and room in presentable order by 10:00 a.m. on weekdays and by noon on Sundays. The boys are also requested to keep their closets in a neat and orderly arranged manner.

That each occupant is liable for damage to his room, and broken, destroyed, or missing equipment, covers the third new regulation.

Also, a new policy calls for the abandonment of storage of food in the dorm. Hereafter, only packages from home, which contain cookies, cakes, etc., may be allowed in the rooms.

The fifth new policy applies to room decorations. All decorations must now be approved by the counsellors and the Resident Head before they may be attached to the walls. This prevents destruction to the newly painted walls.

The last new regulation requires entrance and exit from the front door only. The back door is now to be used in case of emergency only.

ously announced. Wink, who starred as a quarterback for Wisconsin and Michigan universities, was coach at Wayne State Teachers college, Wayne Nebraska. While at Wayne, Wink's teams won 21 and lost only 6. The new Stout coach holds both a Bachelor's and a Masters from the University of Wisconsin.

HOME MANAGEMENT HOUSE DUTIES BEGIN

The first girls of the year to try their skill at running the Home Management house for nine weeks are as follows: Phyllis Horning, Betty Kleist, Liz Kasson, Jan Waseen, Michiko Okado, Sumie Doi, Rita Hack, Mimi Miller, Jane Davies, and Joan Lee.

STOUT SELECTED AS CONFERENCE CENTER

The Stout Institute has been selected as one of four centers in the state to sponsor a conference in Family Living Education on Tuesday, September 23. Arrangements for this conference have been made by a state committee under the auspices of the Wisconsin Home Economics Association.

Dr. Esther McGinnis, specialist and field worker in family living education, will conduct the conference. This is her second visit to The Stout Institute, having been here last March. The two-day conference which she conducted at that time for home economists from the colleges and universities of Wisconsin and Minnesota was enthusiastically received. Dr. McGinnis spent the past year conducting many similar conferences throughout the United States and Canada.

The present fall meeting also promises to be stimulating and helpful to home economists who are planning and initiating a new year of activities in family life education. Dr. McGinnis will offer many new, helpful and practical ideas to the participants in the conference. In addition to her interesting and vital presentation of the needs and philosophy of making all homemaking teaching family-centered, she will present a variety of teaching methods, including the use of films, socio-drama and discussion.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

As each school week passes more activities are taking place, and everyone's true sportsmanship will be seen.

At the game Saturday night there were many faithful fans despite the very "unpleasant" weather. Let's all be sure to show up at the next home game, September 26, and support the players.

This week-end two Sorority Rushing Parties are being held, and all the girls are very anxiously awaiting them.

Each week in the future will hold new experiences and activities so let us all be sure to participate in them.

SSA MESSAGE

S. S. A. MESSAGE:

By now you've probably all dried out from the drenching most of us received at last week's football game.

It sure was swell seeing so many of you stick it out for the entire game, and I'm sure if we support the team as well as we did in the rain that when we have fair weather football games the support will be overwhelming. You all know that the boys spend a lot of time practicing to bring forth a good ball club and this year we will find a team that has a very good chance of taking first place in the conference. Let's show the team we're really behind them and do our part to bring Stout another championship.

This Saturday they will travel to Winona for a non-conference tilt, but will meet River Falls in the first conference game the following Saturday.

Plans have been started for this year's Homecoming festivities, and we urge each and everyone of you to get out and help the organizations to which you belong to make the Homecoming festivities one that will long be remembered.

Your student movie tickets are available in the S. S. A. office, so be sure to stop in if you haven't already gotten yours.

Your S. S. A. Officers,
Dick, Jack, Ann, George

GOVERNING BOARD

The second meeting of the Student Governing Board was held at 6:30 in the basement of the HE building, last Tuesday evening.

Reports on Homecoming were that the Friday night program would include the processional, a quartette number, introduction of last year's queen, coronation of this year's queen, a band number and the recessional. Following this, the band will lead the way out to the field. The usual activities will take place at the bonfire except for the omission of the fireworks. This year the clothing department is making new velvet capes for the queen and her court. Saturday there will be the parade, game, fifteen minutes of maneuvering between halves, and the Homecoming Dance following the game. The game begins at 7:30.

It was moved that $10 be paid to each of the high school bands participating in the Homecoming parade. Also, the Field-Schlick band is being contacted to provide entertainment for the celebration.

It was moved that we readopt the rules as set up by the SSA for the guarding of the bonfire.

The question of residence before pledging a fraternity was brought before the Board. It was made clear that a full semester, eighteen weeks, is necessary. A summer session of six weeks is not sufficient.

Two tentative sets of judges were set up for the purpose of judging the Homecoming parade floats, and the student assembly skits. For the assembly were: Mr. Zieman, Miss Hain, Dr. Agnew, Miss Nelson, and Mr. Hardt. For the skits were Miss Nobel, Mr. Kransch, Miss Tvedt, Mr. Flemming and Miss Amon.

Last on the agenda was the selection of thirty-one candidates for the Who's Who. This group will be narrowed down to twelve finalists at the next meeting.

The Board adjourned at 8:00.

SYMPHONICS, GLEE CLUB TRYOUTS HELD MONDAY

Tryouts for Symphonic Singers, Glee Clubs and ensembles were held Monday, September 15 through Friday, September 19. Students were asked to go to the music offices during their free periods.

An organizational meeting will be held on Monday, September 22 at 5 P. M. in Room 29. The first rehearsal will be held on Wednesday evening, September 24, at 7 P. M. in Room 29.

During the football season, the band will practice on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Friday evenings at 5 P. M. Plans are being made for the band to travel to La Crosse on October 4 for the Stout-La Crosse game.

Any students who play an instrument but have not yet joined the band are urged to do so as soon as possible.

LYNWOOD HALL ELECTS 1952-53 OFFICERS

What's new at Lynwood? Lots of things from new paint to new officers. Elections were held and Mr. Ed Siefert reports that George Veda is president of Lynwood for 1952-53.

Caree Tremo is vice president; Alphonse Steilbicki, secretary; the treasure is William Beyers; sargent-at-arms, Herbert Yoshita; student representative, Stanley Tobin; S. S. A., Charles Van Styke.

Lynwood has been turned over almost exclusively to freshmen this year, with Bob Spinti acting as counselor on the first floor and Lloyd Woodmansee on the second floor.

DO IT NOW!!

With the new year hardly started we may find wisdom in words that were printed in your Stoutonia almost thirty years ago.

Every now and then we are guilty of procrastination. We wait until tomorrow with what we should and could do today. We know we have done it before and gotten away with it, and so we just do it once more. Remember you can't put a thing over if you keep on putting it off.

Many people put off seemingly small matters, saying they can do them tomorrow, even though they will not have as much time, but they will do them just as well or maybe better, because they can work better under pressure. These people are laboring under a sad delusion. Nothing was ever done better by putting it off. The inevitable result is that their will is weakened and they become slaves to the habit of procrastination; each added offense weakens the will still more and strengthens the habit.

If you are in this state, start today to change matters; set your will against the habit, and above all, start now, don't put it off! "Habit is a great cable, we weave a thread to it each day, at last it becomes so strong we cannot break it."

Get the habit of studying from the beginning of the semester. Don't put off going to the library tonight because you'll have plenty of time tomorrow morning. Remember to make your motto "Don't put off for the morrow what you can do today." instead of, "Don't do today what you can leave for tomorrow."

DORMITORY GIRLS ELECT OFFICERS

Election time 1952 . . . and here are the results of the dormitory elections held in the girls' dorms last Tainter Hall elected as their officers for the year: Elene Sweet, president, Barb Rushing, vice president; Kay Yentz, secretary; Charlotte Elliott, treasurer; and Myrtle Tamura, representative to the student council.

Tainter Annex elected roommates to hold the offices of president and vice president. They were Lillian Smith and Joyce Frederick. The rest of the officers are: Barbara Niss, secretary; Carol Blaney, treasurer; Dorothy Neis, council representative.

The elections were also held by the sophomores and transfer students living in Eichelberger Hall. In the coming year, Mary Lou Anderson will be president; Jean Baker, vice president; Virginia Lathrope, secretary; Barbara Clemmons, treasurer; and Betty Appel, student representative.

The girls are now familiar with their tasks which range from conducting a meeting, to recording demerits. Remember?

MOVIE PRIVILEGES ARE BEING ABUSED

Have you been sitting in the movie and couldn't hear the story as someone is sitting near you talking? This has been happening in the theaters of Menomonie, and the Stout students seem to be the main offenders. If this problem is not solved, the students of Stout Institute will lose the student movie privilege of lowered rates. None of the students want to lose this privilege. It is a right that very few towns give college students. Mr. Lee Thompson, manager of the theaters in Menomonie, does not want the students to have to relinquish their student movie cards, but they will have to give them up if the students do not co-operate. So let's have no more talking in the theater so that we can keep the student movie cards and also enjoy the films.

THEATER CARDS ARE NOW AVAILABLE

The movie cards now available for your use are in the S. S. A. office. These cards enable students to get into the movie for fifty cents instead of the usual sixty cents. The card is good every night of the week except Saturday, Sunday and holidays. It may, however, be used for Sunday matinees. Student admission is a privilege. Do not abuse it, or you will lose it.

CONGO CLUB MEETING HAD GOOD ATTENDANCE

About 25 students attended the first Sunday night meeting of the Congo club which was held at the church. Pat Wangen and Joeline Chryst served as co-chairmen of the supper committee. The cost supper consisted of hot dish, hot rolls, celery and carrot sticks, fruit jello and cake. Jan Waseen led the discussion. Dr. Agnew, advisor for the group, led the singing and introduced each member through his song arrangements. After the worship and discussion, a period of recreation concluded the meeting.

MR. BERND RECEIVES MAILING DIRECTIONS

TROUBLES! TROUBLES! MEET PAUL BERND

So you think you have trouble! Take just a minute from your complaining about meals, assignments, and tests to look at this man. His name is Paul Bernd.

Mr. Bernd was the AAA consultant who was the assistant driver's training teacher for the advanced course this summer session. His troubles started when he left Ames, Iowa, the place he had been teaching. Mr. Kranzusch, Stout's driver education teacher received a telegram saying that Mr. Bernd would arrive at the train depot but when he went to meet Mr. Bernd, Mr. Kranzusch found a call from Pembine, Wisconsin, waiting at the depot. Mr. Bernd had traveled to Chicago by train. There he was sold a ticket for Menomonie, Michigan. The mistake was discovered at Green Bay. Mr. Bernd then took a bus to Pembine, called Mr. Kranzusch, and hitchhiked to Menomonie. Hitch-hiking is against the law in Wisconsin.

During the ceremony at the end of summer session, Mr. Bernd was presented with the tag of mailing directions you see in the picture. It is hoped that he will reach his destination without further mishap.

DAIRY DAY COOKING SHOW SUCCESSFUL

Highlight of the women's events on Dairy Day, September 13, was the cooking demonstration presented at Stout Institute auditorium by Martha Logan of Swift and Co. Sponsored by the Menomonie Chamber of Commerce, the event was staged before a capacity audience, with over 200 disappointed women turned away because of lack of seating facilities.

Welcoming the audience were Dr. Alice J. Kirk, Dean of The Stout Institute Division of Home Economics, and Loy C. Montgomery, President of the local Chamber of Commerce. Both expressed appreciation for the continued interest which the ladies had shown in the cooking school.

Stout Institute, widely known for its course in home economics, has been chosen for three consecutive years to undertake management of the cooking school program. Through the efforts of Dr. Kirk, a two-hour demonstration of preparation of many dairy products was arranged for the Dairy Day audience.

Demonstrations on the stage of auditorium were conducted by Martha Logan, famous home economist, who in real life is Camille Martineau. Assisting her were Matilda Towne, a graduate home economist, and Rose Deuber and Roberta Harris, Stout Institute coeds.

Tremendous interest was shown in the Atlanta Lane birthday cake, a tantalizing combination of three layers of white butter cake, thick nut filling, and a mountain of white frosting. This delicacy was presented to Miss Jenny Landfelt on her birthday.

Burnettes, a frankfurter bun covered with a smooth cheese sauce and garnished with spicy, pickled orange slices and parsley was shown as an attractive and appealing luncheon dish. Tender-grown frozen chicken, Dairy Day Con'td on page 4

CASTING FOR M. A. P. TO BE HELD SEPT. 24

Casting for the Manual Arts Players first play of the season will be held Wednesday night, September 24 at 7:30 in the auditorium. Mr. N. C. Ziemann of the Speech Department has announced that the Annual Fall play will be KIND LADY by Edward Chodorov, adapted from a story by Hugh Walpole. It is a play dominated by the heroism of a kind old lady against a background of horror, gloom and evil. KIND LADY is not a psychological study, a mystery play, nor a melodrama, but it has elements of all three.

MISS RUTH AANESS MARRIES MILLARD HARMAN

A former student from La Crosse, Ruth Jeanette Aaness, B. S. 1947, married Millard Harmon on June 21 at Granby, Connecticut.

MISS MARY ANN HOULE AND WILLIAM DUFOUR ARE WED

On June 21, Mary Ann Houle, B. S. 1949, wed William Dufour at St. Joseph's Catholic church in Menomonie. A reception was held at the Menomonie Country Club.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD FOR GEORGE DONFEILDE

Word has been received of the death of a Stout Institute graduate, George Danfield (B.S. '43), who passed away September 10 at Newberry, Michigan. Funeral services were held Saturday at Rhinelander, Wisconsin.

Mrs. Danfield was also a Stout Institute graduate, the former Evelyn Bothwell (B.S. '45).

MARY SWISTON AND RAY EVERTS ARE MARRIED

Mary Swiston, B. S. 1935, was married to Ray Everts on August ninth in Milwaukee. The couple are now making their home in Milwaukee.

"MADHATTERS" THEME OF RUSHING PARTY

On Thursday evening, September 11, the Intersorority Rushing Party was held at Riverside Park. The theme of the party was the "Mad Hatters". Everyone was requested to wear a mad hat and the turn out of ridiculous hats was terrific. Prizes for the three funniest and most original were given to Rose Pepper, Barbara Clemens, and Janet Wurtz.

The Pallas Athene Sorority was general chairman of the party, the Sigma Sigma Sigmas were in charge of invitations, the Hyperians provided the entertainment, and the Alpha Sigma Alpha took charge of the refreshments.

BLUDEVILS BOW TO BLUEJACKETS

In a game marred by the very worst weather conditions possible, the Stout Bluedevils fell to the Bluejackets of Great Lakes by the score of 7-2. The valiant Bluedevils scored upon early in the first quarter, completely outplayed the Bluejackets during the remaining portion of the contest. Several times during the second half the Bluedevils drove deep into Great Lakes territory only to lose the ball on fumbles or downs.

The first game of the 1952 season opened with Dick Cheke of Stout kicking off to the Sailor's Taliaferro who ran the ball back to the Bluejacket 38 yard line. The Bluedevils held and Taliaferro kicked to Mel Zemplinski who returned to the Stout 26. On the second play from scrimmage, Great Lakes received the first break of the game when a Zemplinski to Walker handoff fell to the turf with the Bluejackets recovering. From the Stout 19 the sailors started a drive that eventually saw George Young, former Purdue fullback, going over from the two yard line. Young also converted and the score read Great Lakes 7, Stout 0. Spearheading this thrust was halfback Claude Taliaferro who on two occasions ran the Stout right to set up the Blue jacket score.

The heavens opened shortly after the Great Lakes touchdown and many of the fans, not dressed for the unexpected weather, rushed for cover.

The remainder of the first quarter found both teams unable to gain at the expense of the other as the ball, being slippery and wet, became extremely difficult to handle. It was during this period, however, that a few of the loyal Bluedevil backers saw one of the greatest defensive plays in Stout football history. With Stout deep in sailor territory, quarter back Mel Zemplinski faded back to pass. The ball went short and was intercepted in the flat by halfback Jack Stovall. The fleet Stovall started up the west sideline and headed for an open field with one blocker in front of him. On the Stout 40, John Widmar, the Bluedevil's all-conference tackle, crossed over and throwing a terrific side body block upset both the blocker and the ball carrier. That great defensive maneuver saved Stout from a sure Great Lakes touchdown, and the inspired Bluedevils held for downs.

The rain kept coming down as the second quarter opened and more terrific defensive football followed. Stout's aggressive defensive line kept pushing the sailors back until the Navy team could not retreat any farther. On second down, halfback Dick Monson attempted to skirt around end, but the alert George Krall broke through the interference to grab him and spin him into the end zone for a safety, to give the Bluedevils two points. Following the safety, the Bluejacket entry kicked to Stout from the twenty yard line, but once again the Bluedevils failed to gain consistently and a series of fourth down kicks prevailed throughout the remainder of the first half.

The rain tapered off slightly during the third quarter, but again neither team could penetrate the other's defense. During the fourth and final quarter, the Bluedevils made at least four or five serious attacks on the Bluejacket goal. With Red Walker, Zemplinski, Bill Kieffer, and Steve Hansen leading the assault, 3 times Stout crossed the middies ten yard line. Each time the Bluejackets led by tackle Chuck Thomas, guards Roper and Cahill, and linebackers Hunt and Young held in the crucial spots. Finally with eleven seconds remaining, Taliaferro punted and Zemplinski made a sensational run to midfield as the clock ran out to end one of the greatest defensive games in years.

All members of the Bluedevils who saw action played good hard football and are to be commended for a fine showing in this the opening game of the year. The Bluedevils defensive unit of Joe Stebly, Mark Riemers, Widmar, Karl Turk, Lo Janis, Clarence Lamers, Walker, and Krall looked exceedingly impressive, while of the freshmen, Janis perhaps made the most auspicious debut. Many times he came up with key tackles and intercepted the only Bluejackets pass of the night.

Employer, to newly hired steno: "Now I hope you thoroughly understand the importance of punctuation." Steno: "Oh yes, indeed I always get to work on time."

V.A. REPORTING—

NEWS RELEASED BY THE VETERANS ADMINISTRATION

Veterans planning to train under the Korean GI Bill should give careful thought to their choice of a training program, for under the law they'll be allowed to change their course no more than once, Veterans Administration said today.

The purpose of the new GI education and training program is to help a veteran reach a definite, identified goal. The goal may be purely educational such as obtaining a college degree; professional such as becoming a doctor, or vocational such as training to be a carpenter.

Before a post-Korean veteran even applies for training under the new GI Bill, he should have clearly in mind just what his goal in life might be VA advised. His training can serve as an invaluable means toward arriving at that goal.

Veterans who are not sure about their goal, or about the type of training needed to reach it, would do well to talk over their problems with educators, businessmen, professional people or any other persons in a position to offer constructive advice.

Or, if they wish, they may apply to the VA for advisement and guidance, consisting of tests and thorough interviews given by trained vocational counselors.

If a veteran makes his single change of course within two years after his date of discharge, he will not need VA's approval. However, if his progress was unsatisfactory, he will have to show VA that it was not because of his own misconduct, neglect or lack of application.

If he wants to change courses after his deadline—and he never made a change before—he will need VA's approval. This may be granted, under the law, if VA finds that (1) he has not been making satisfactory progress in his present program through no fault of his own, and the program he wants to change to is more in keeping with his aptitudes and previous training, or (2) the program to which he wants to change is a normal progression from his present program to which he wants to change is a normal progression from his present program.

The deadline for starting—for a veteran discharged from service before August 20, 1952—is August 20, 1954. Other veterans, discharged later, will have two years after their release from active duty in which to begin.

Training under the Korean GI Bill is available to veterans who served, any place in the world, after the outbreak of fighting in Korea, on June 27, 1950. They must have a discharge or release under conditions other than dishonorable, as well as at least 90 days total service, unless discharged sooner because of a service-connected disability.

THE PRISON WALTZ DRAWS GOOD CROWD

Saturday night after the Stout-Great Lakes game, the Sigma Tau's held an all-school dance, The Prison Waltz, in the Stout gymnasium. A good, if slightly damp, crowd of students danced to the music of George Sodeberg and his Royal Blackhawks.

After the students opened the barred door to the gym, they found themselves face to face with a Rogues Gallery of typical Stout instructors, wanted for a variety of crimes ranging from "Parmerology" to "Ptomaine Poisoning".

HOME EC. MAJORS TEACH OFF CAMPUS

On Monday, September 15, the following senior Home Economics education majors began their off campus teaching: Phyllis Spaulding at Baldwin; Fran Soulek at Eau Claire; and Catherine Magee and Char Winslow at Stanley.

This is the first year that off campus teaching is being done at Stanley. All of the teaching at the mentioned places is for a period of one week.

fried with mushrooms and an unusual sauce, proved a hit.

Also featured was the perfect warm weather supper. This menu included a crisp dairy casserole, acquainted by a colorful cheese platter on which were green grapes, crunchy meat chips, and slices of swiss and cheddar cheese pointed off by onions rolled in cheese and dipped in poppy seeds.

Ice cream pie was the delectable finale to the demonstration. Rich pink ice cream was placed in a pie shell and topped with snowy meringue. The pie was in and out of the oven in a twinkling and served to six lucky ladies in the audience.

Numerous prizes were donated by business establishments for distribution at the cooking show, under the chairmanship of Norman Chudacoff. Actual presentation of prizes was made by Shirley Young, Dunn County home agent, assisted by Mrs. Gene Rudiger and Betty Oberpriller.

Prizes and their lucky recipients included a Juice-O-Mat from Mike and Otto's, won by Mrs. George Hintz of Menomonie; groceries from Campbells Daylight grocery, Mrs. Gordon Schroeder, Menomonie; hair dryer from Coast-to-Coast, Rosamond Carlson, of Eau Claire; groceries from Golf View Groceries, Mrs. Ira Hake, Menomonie.

Radiant heater from Montgomery Ward's, Mrs. Art Berg, Menomonie; groceries from Lammer's Grocery, Mrs. Paul Beguhn, Menomonie; electric clock from Goodrich's, Mrs. James Berger, Menomonie; groceries from A & P, Mrs. Melvin Christopherson, Menomonie; aluminum stove set from Firestone store, Mrs. William Hintzman of Menomonie; food warmer from Rudiger's, Alice Kelly, Chippewa Falls.

Groceries from National Tea, Mrs. Herman Halverson, Menomonie; coffee maker from Palmer's Electric, Mrs. Selmer Samdahl, Menomonie; wool blanket from the Fair store, Mrs. Rose Hunt. The grand prize was a mixette from Van's Appliance store, won by Mrs. Fred Morrison, Menomonie. Food prepared during the demonstration was also given to member of the audience.

Other members of the cooking school committee who were introduced to the audience included Ada Hosford, assistant cashier at the First National bank; Clara Carrison, assistant professor of foods and nutrition at Stout, Shirley Young, Dunn County home agent, and Barry Stewart of WMNE. Norman Chudacoff of the Fair store was also a committee member.

W. A. A. BEGINS SPORTS ACTIVITIES

W. A. A. introduced the freshmen and transfer students to the women's sports activities on Monday, September 15, by sponsoring a Campus Treasure Hunt. Following the treasure hunt, plans were made for the volleyball tournament. Also, a reminder was made to purchase hot dogs at the football games.

The girls were assembled together in the gymnasium at seven o'clock, where they divided into teams and started on the search for the hidden treasure. The campus was "combed with a fine tooth comb," until the treasure, a bag of caramels, was found by nine freshmen. They were Doris Hutchinson, Deloris Aeschliman, Joyce Fraedrich, Viona Teiomi, Joan Anderson, Pat Gfall, Sylvia Rubin, Shirley Lunden, and Joan Mountford. Following the treasure hunt refreshments were served.

During the course of the evening plans were completed for the volleyball tournament. The tournament is now in full swing with 80 players participating in the opening league. Schedules for the games are posted on the W. A. A. bulletin boards in the H. E. and Phys. Ed. buildings.

Even though last Saturday was a wet evening to be selling hot dogs, W. A. A. wishes to extend sincere appreciation to those who helped in the distribution.

To a tramp, who wanted to earn a bite to eat, the farmers' wife said: "If I thought you were honest, I'd let you go into the chicken house and gather eggs."

"Lady," he replied, with offended dignity, "I was manager of a bathhouse for 15 years and I never took a bath."

ADAH FRYKLUND GRANT, BRINGS NEW BOOKS

Announcement has been made by the supervising committee of the Adah Fryklund Memorial Library Collection that a number of books in the collection have now been received by the Stout Institute library and are available for circulation. Committee members are urging that all lovers of good reading enjoy the splendid volumes which compose the collection.

The collection has come into being through a memorial fund subscribed by friends of the late Mrs. Verne C. Fryklund and by organizations of which she was a member. Committee members administering the collection include Gertrude L. Callahan, chairman of the Stout Institute English department; Lillian Froggatt, head librarian of the Stout Institute library; and Mrs. William Howison, assistant librarian at Stout.

Committee members have endeavored to select books of enduring value, especially those which touched upon Mrs. Fryklund's life or upon activities in which she was interested. Mrs. Fryklund's Southern background is reflected in certain volumes, together with her love of the outdoors. Additional books on home management and cookery will reflect her training as a home economist.

Included in the memorial collection will be editions from the Heritage Book Club, presented in Mrs. Fryklund's name by her son, Richard. These volumes are widely recognized as outstandingly beautiful editions of the classics. Special bookplates have been designed for all volumes in the collection.

Although the Adah Fryklund Memorial Library Collection is now housed in the office of the Stout Institute library, located in the Home Economics building of the college, the collection

NEW CATALOG WILL SOON BE FINISHED

It won't be long now until the new, completely revised regular session catalogue will be rolling off the press. October 15 is the date set for general distribution.

This year's catalogue will be completely revised and reorganized to bring the very latest information to students, alumni and prospective students.

The 124 page catalogue will be printed with a two color cover-blue and white, with the general make-up being the same as in past years. All the work for the book is being done by the Stout Institute Press which supplies Stout with a great deal of its printed material.

The directory may be obtained, free of charge, at the President's office by any one interested.

will be moved to the Memorial Room of the new Stout library, when that structure is completed.

According to plans announced by the supervising committee, additions to the Adah Fryklund collection will be purchased at regular intervals and will be made available for circulation. Volumes to be placed in circulation at this time include Animals, by Audubon; Life in America, Davidson; Robert E. Lee, Freeman; Voyage to Windward, Furnas; The West of Alfred Jacob Miller, Miller; Thomas Jefferson, Schachner; Sand in Their Shoes, Shay; Bradford of Plymouth, Smith; North With the Spring, Teale; Pioneer in Northwest America (1841-58), Unonius; Early New England Potters and their Wares, Watkins; and Literary Britain.

Books given in Mrs. Fryklund's memory by Richard Fryklund are The Book of Ruth; Pilgrim's Progress, Bunyan; Alice's Adventures in Wonderland, Carroll; Great Expectations, Dickens; Adventures of Sherlock Holmes, Doyle; Sketch Book of Geoffrey Crayon, Gent., Irving; and War and Peace, Tolstoi, (2 vols.).

INTER-RELIGIOUS COUNCIL URGES "GO TO CHURCH"

The Stout Inter-religious Council had its first meeting of the school year last Monday evening. At this meeting, October 5 was set as "Go to Church Sunday." Students are urged to find the church of their choice and to attend it that day. Many churches will be having special services for the students that day. While special emphasis is being placed on going to church Oct. 5, we want to urge the students that every Sunday should be "Go to Church Sunday."

STS WILL GIVE PROMPT CARE TO EARLY JOBS

Organizations and individuals at the Stout Institute who need printed forms of one type or another have an opportunity, for a limited time only during the first semester, to line up one of the best deals in many years with the Stout Typographical Society, said Art Scheldrup, organization president, last week.

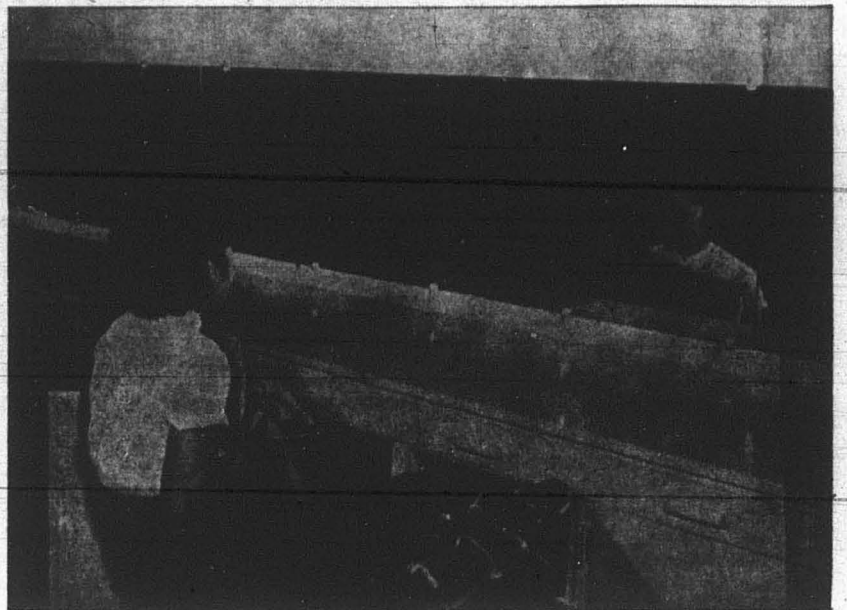

Due to an unusually low amount of STS jobs in the shop at this time, the first few organizations or individuals who turn in jobs will get almost immediate service at usual low STS prices.

This information is announced by the organization in an effort to spread out over a longer period of time, the supply of work which usually comes in all at one time and causes unusual delays in service. Priorities for attention will be on a first come, first served basis.

Anyone who wishes to have work done should follow standard STS procedure, which is as follows. See Ronnie Johnson, preferably, or any other STS member, and ask for an estimate. Show him the layout you want, or ask him to help you decide on a suitable design for your particular job. Tell him how many copies you want, and when you need it. You will then be given a contract and estimate sheet to sign. By following this procedure, both you and the STS will know exactly what the finished product will look like, and how much it will cost before it is started. STS prices are approximately one half those of commercial printers. These low rates are made possible by buying paper at school discount rates, charging only 60 cents an hour for labor instead of the commercially common $3.00, and by cutting down on profits.

The STS handles no jobs that compete directly with local printers. If, however, the job is personal stationery for a Stout student, or membership cards for a Stout organization, or in some other way directly related to school, the STS will handle it.

GIRL TRAVELS 5000 MILES TO ATTEND STOUT

Maria Quichocho, pictured above, came all the way from Guam to attend The Stout Institute. She is experimenting with American fabrics in the new textile laboratory and is very interested in clothing and textiles.

STUDENT FROM GUAM ENROLLS AT STOUT

It is often said that those who travel the farthest often arrive the soonest. This has certainly been true in the case of Maria Quichocho, who in a matter of 35 airborne hours found herself transported from her island home on Guam to become one of the first coeds to register this year at The Stout Institute, Menomonie, Wisconsin.

Maria, who one day was harvesting bananas on her central Pacific farm home, found herself a few days later in an American city, ready to start her new life as a college freshman.

But life in Menomonie was not as strange to Maria as one might imagine. She had been well briefed on the subject by a U. S. airforce sergeant from Eau Claire, Wisconsin, Ernest Stark, who with his buddy had told Maria all about life in Wisconsin. In a paper sent to them from home, they had read of Maria's plans, so they contacted her immediately.

"All they said was really true," claims Maria. "They told me I would have to learn to drink lots of milk, since I would be in the heart of America's dairyland."

However, Maria has discovered that the farms of Guam differ from those in America. She has found U. S. farms, as well as their livestock, much larger than those of her native land. Instead of Wisconsin's wheat and alfalfa, farmers on Guam find their tropical climate more suited to pineapple, bananas and taro, a potato-like vegetable used in their native dish called poi.

At first, Maria was teased about the insects which supposedly infest the Pacific Island; several people claiming that Guam mosquitoes were as big as a man's fist. To this the little Stout coed merely replies:

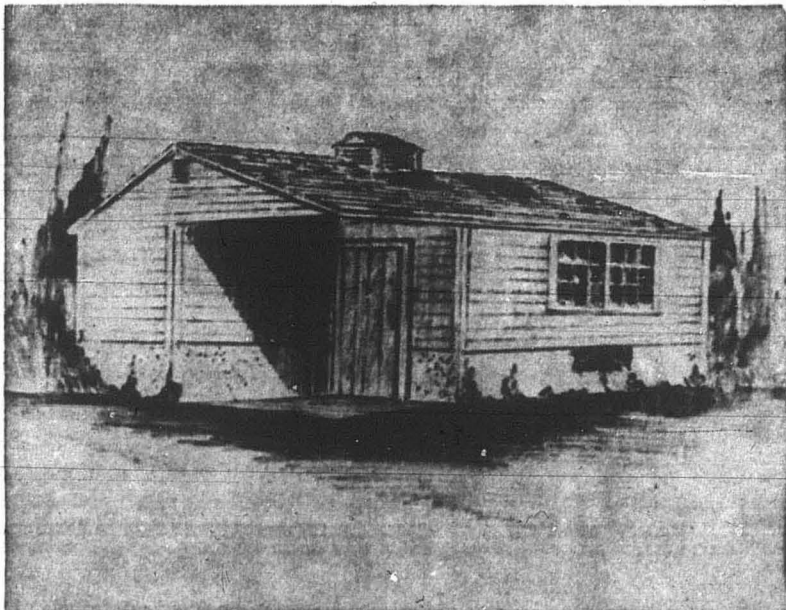

"From the experiences I've had with your local mosquitoes, I find the Wisconsin variety every bit as big as those on Guam and able to bite twice as hard."

Maria is the second member of her family to go abroad to school. An older sister graduated from the University of Hawaii last spring. Maria has had a desire to come to the United States ever since she studied U. S. history in grade school. She wanted to see the nation which had so greatly influenced her island's way of life and future since 1898, when America took over the government of Guam from Spain. As a second-ranking graduate in a class of 132, Maria received Eichelberger and non-resident scholarships from Stout Institute, based upon recommendation of the Guamanian Department of Education.

When asked about the educational system of her country, Maria explains that all schools on Guam were damaged during World War II and are still in the process of repair. Quonset huts and other convertible military installations are being used as temporary classrooms. Another phase of Guam's educational development in existence since the end of the last war is an exchange teacher program being carried out by the Guamanian and U.S. governments.

MILK HOUSE TO BE AUCTIONED THIS SATURDAY

This model milk cooling house which stands on The Stout Campus was built by students of the carpentry classes. It conforms to rigid requirements. It will be sold at public auction tomorrow at the Dunn county fairgrounds. Profits will go to the Menomonie Memorial Hospital Auxiliary.

MILK HOUSE TO BE SOLD AT AUCTION

Public auction of the milk cooling house which was on exhibition at Menomonie's recent Dairy Day will take place this Saturday, September 27, as a feature of the 4-H and FFA Pured Breeders' Bull Sale at the Dunn county fairgrounds.

The milk house, which attracted crowds of Dairy Day visitors, exceeds the minimum regulations of the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture and conforms to the rigid requirements of the Chicago Board of Health. The building was constructed by The Stout campus near the Industrial Education milk house which thousands of Wisconsin farmers must construct by November 15.

Profits from the sale of the building will be presented to the Menomonie Memorial Hospital Auxiliary, of which Mrs. Milton Hintzman is president. The Menomonie Loan and Sales company, with Col. Martin Hanson as auctioneer, will contribute their services in conducting the sale.

Stout Institute students, working under K. T. Olsen, Phillip Ruehl, and George Soderberg of the college faculty, constructed the milk house. Cooperating on the project were Harold Kuhn, Dunn county agent, and Louis Larson, business agent of the local carpenters' union.

Persons interested in purchasing the milk house, or any farmers planning construction of a similar structure, have been invited by the college to inspect the building before the auction. The milk house stands on the Stout campus, near the Industrial Education building. The building has been set upon skids for easy removal by the purchaser.

NOTICE! MIX UP ON STUDENT-WIFE CARDS

Apparently there has been a mix up concerning the extent of students' wives privileges. Last year there was an assessment of 50¢ for each student-wife card issued in the SSA office. This year there is no such charge, but you are required to pay the reduced rate of 40¢ at the game which is in keeping with last year's policy. The tickets are free; admission is not.

TOWER STAFF IS NOW SCHEDULING PICTURES

Despite all of the smoke and fire, senior pictures are still being taken. Class pictures for freshmen, sophomores, and juniors will be taken, in the auditorium on Monday night, starting at 7 o'clock. Watch the posters in the halls and check the bulletin boards for your scheduled time.

The Tower staff has to meet a deadline in November. Besides getting a discount at the engraver's for having the photographs in this early, it means that there will be enough time for the senior pictures to be alphabetized and the other pictures to be given their proper placement.

COL. KENT OF KAMEHAMEHA TO VISIT HERE

A distinguished representative, Col. Harold B. Kent, from the Kamehameha Schools in Hawaii will be visiting Stout on Monday, September 29. At that time he will interview students who are interested in teaching in Hawaii for the school year 1953-54. There is one position open in each of these fields: electric shop, machine shop, and homemaking.

The Kamehameha Schools are located on Kapalama Heights above the city of Honolulu. They are maintained by the Bernice P. Bishop estate for the education of native Hawaiians.

Recent teachers at this school were Mr. and Mrs. Ardean Sveum, and Mr. and Mrs. Aino Nylund.

HOMECOMING THEME CONTEST CLOSES

Have you entered the Homecoming theme contest? Today is the last chance to hand in your themes as the contest closes tonight. Five dollars will be awarded to the person who hands in the winning theme voted on by the students in assembly next Wednesday.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

VOTE! VOTE! VOTE!

Every four years for a brief period of time, the people of the United States become interested in politics. Then the flame dies and we completely forget that we, not just the figures that we put up, are the government of this country.

In a short time the poles will again open for the purpose of choosing the man that will lead us into peace, or war. It is the duty of every loyal American, whether he is digging coal in the mines of Pennsylvania or taking Industrial Arts at The Stout Institute, to vote. It is easy for us today. We do not have to travel miles, we do not have to sign our lives away, we simply have to check a small piece of paper and hand it in. The country has even taken into consideration those people who will be away from home during election, and have produced an absentee ballot. This may be obtained by writing to your city registrar. DO IT TODAY.

Not to vote is just as bad as voting on the Communist ticket. Lets be true to our country and ourselves and make Stout a 100% voting body. Send for your absentee ballot today, and after you have voted, no matter what the outcome of the tally, stand behind your leader and be a true American.

DR. L. GOULD SPEAKS ON DEMOCRACY

Dr. Gould, president of Carleton College, spoke on "The Main Idea" at convocation on September 17. His speech covered a review of the world situation and the importance of a clear prospective on the part of the American people.

President Fryklund introduced Dr. Gould with an overwhelming list of Dr. Gould's accomplishments. Dr. Gould summarized the world situation by stating his belief that we will avoid a hot war, but will have years of tension near to the state of war.

The attitude of the American people must be that of faith in the future. They must clarify their ideas on what the really important ideals of democracy are. He believes that someday this nation may be grateful for the present threat of communism because it will point out what is really important in democracy. To Dr. Gould, the American way of life is "the habit of the free." He emphasized the importance of belief in the reality of the moral law. Dr. Gould defined colleges as "the back bone of civilization."

The humor throughout Dr. Gould's speech made it entertaining as well as educational.

DR. FLEMING GETS HIGH SCHOOL PAPER

A copy of the school newspaper of Washington Park Senior high school has been sent to Dr. Fleming by John A. Wooley, a Stout Institute graduate who was formerly one of Dr. Fleming's students in journalism.

According to the masthead, Mr. Wooley is one of the faculty advisors of the "Park Beacon," the weekly newspaper of Washington Park. The paper combines school news, columns and a good sports page, with a number of interesting photos of campus life.

SSA MESSAGE

They say, "a chain is only as strong as its weakest link." That saying must be very much over worked, but the truth of it is always before us. The students and organizations of Stout are a chain. They are the chain that is going to pull the homecoming bandwagon. Admittedly, if a small percentage of the students form a weak link, the chain won't actually break and leave homecoming at a standstill. The point is that a strong chain will produce a bigger, better, and more enjoyable homecoming. Past homecomings have been very successful. The 1952 homecoming will be even more successful if we all get with it and pull like every good link should.

Stout's first home game was nice for the ducks to watch. Tomorrow's game should be good for us to watch. Hope everyone is there to cheer Stout to their first victory.

Student movie tickets are still available at the S. S. A. office.

Don't forget the Duffy's Tavern Dance after the game. It is sponsored by the F. O. B. fraternity and everyone is invited to attend.

Your S. S. A. Officers,
Dick, Jack, Ann, George

GOVERNING BOARD NEWS

President Richard Duthler opened a short meeting of the Student Governing Board on Tuesday evening at 6:30 in the basement of the HE building.

Plans were begun to select a representative from Stout to compete in the National Association of Manufacturers 57th Annual Congress of American Industry. This is to be held in New York City, Dec. 3-5. The representative must be a Wisconsin resident attending an accredited college. Five junior girls were selected. This group will be narrowed down to one candidate.

The meeting was adjourned at 7:15.

GAMMA DELTA HOLDS A DAMP HAYRIDE

Despite the rain last Sunday evening, the Gamma Delta group went on a hayride. After a thrilling but slightly damp ride, they returned to St. Paul's church for refreshments and a short meeting.

The Lutheran student group from River Falls has invited Gamma Delta to the dedication and Open House for a new Lutheran Student Center to be held September 28. A notice with further details will be put on the bulletin board and anyone interested may sign up.

The next meeting will be held October 5 at 5:00. There will be Bible study, recreation and a cost supper cooked and served by the fellows.

JANE DAVIES WINS TRIP TO NEW YORK

A Stout Institute coed, Jane Davies of Tallula, Illinois, was recently named a national winner in the 1952 National Needlecraft, all-expense trip to New York City, plus a cash award.

Announcement of Miss Davies' success was made in this area by Dr. Alice J. Kirk, dean of the Stout Institute Division of Home Economics, in which Jane is a senior, majoring in Home Economics education.

During her New York visit, Jane saw her contest wardrobe modeled at a fashion show at the Waldorf Astoria hotel. Clothing which she had entered included a navy silk shantung dress, an unlined jacket to match, and a matching coat lined with multicolored striped taffeta.

Previous to her victory in the national contest, Miss Davies had won the qualifying contest for participants in her state. Beginning in 1948, Jane has won five consecutive prizes for her designing and sewing skill.

As a 16 year old, Miss Davies won a national first prize for her entry in the junior division of the contest.

S. C. F. PROGRESSES IN BIBLE STUDY

The Stout Christian Fellowship held their regularly scheduled meeting last Tuesday at 7:00. After the singing of several songs and necessary business was conducted, Eileen Haskins led a discussion on the third and fourth chapters of Acts.

Due to the special services being held next Tuesday evening in the Stout auditorium commemorating the printing of the Revised Standard Version of the Bible, there will be no meeting of the Stout Christian Fellowship.

V.A. REPORTING—

NEWS RELEASED BY THE VETERANS ADMINISTRATION

J.P. Cullen, Manager of the VA Regional Office, today told veterans how they can prevent unnecessary delay in applying for education and training under the new Korean GI Bill. First, VA said, veterans should send their completed applications for training to their nearest VA Regional Office, and not to VA's headquarters in Washington, D. C.

Hundreds of applications have been coming into Washington. This merely delays things, since the Central Office must then forward the papers to the proper VA Regional Office for action. The Washington headquarters does not process any of the applications for training taken in the U. S. A.

The second way veterans can prevent unnecessary delay is to make certain they include photostatic or certified copies of their discharge or separation papers, along with their applications for GI training.

The VA must have the information on the DD214 form in order to process the applications.

A third way veterans can help VA to help them, Cullen said, is by completely filling out their application forms for education and training. The form has five sections which the veteran must complete: 1. Identification of the veteran; 2. Program of education and training applied for; 3. Education and training received while on active duty; 4. Civilian education, and 5. Employment experience.

Unless all the necessary information is included on the form VA can't take action on the veteran's application.

M.A.P. HOLDS PICNIC AT POINT COMFORT

Point Comfort was the scene Monday night of the M. A. P. picnic. Cheeseburgers headed the menu accompanied by potato chips, onions, tomatoes, cup cakes, pop and marshmallows. The group sang a few songs which brought the picnic to an end. An enjoyable time was had by all.

KOREAN VETS RECEIVE BENEFITS OF GI BILL

On August 20, 1952, Public Law 550, the new enactment of the GI bill became effective, having been passed by Congress and signed by the President. This new enactment is of far-reaching significance, educationally and otherwise, to the veterans to whom it applies.

The new GI law was designed "to provide vocational readjustment and to restore lost educational opportunities to certain persons who served in the Armed Forces on or after June 27, 1950, and prior to August 20, 1954, or two years after release or discharge from active duty, which ever comes later. The term "eligible veteran" means any person who is not in the active service of the Armed Forces and who has served during the basic service period for 90 days or more and has been released or discharged from active service under honorable conditions.

The law also provides other benefits, such as guaranteed or insured loans for homes, farms, and businesses; unemployment compensation, job finding help and mustering out pay.

For veterans pursuing a full-time program of education or training in a college, 14 semester hours or the equivalent, the total monthly allowances are as follows: with no dependents, $110; with one dependent, $135; with more than one dependent, $160. These payments are to be made directly to the veteran who will be obliged to pay his own tuition and fees, buy books and other supplies, and provide his subsistence.

Under the new law, such persons are entitled to 1½ days of education or training for each day of his active service, with a maximum of 36 months. However, veterans who have pursued programs under earlier veterans' education and training laws (Public Laws 346, 16 or 894) are entitled to a maximum of 48 months less whatever time they have spent in the earlier programs.

Each eligible veteran may select a program of education or training at any approved educational institution or training establishment of his choice, which will accept and retain him as a student. The veteran may make not more than one change of program of education.

The loan provisions of the new GI bill for post-Korean veterans are similar to the GI loan program now in effect for World War II veterans. Home loans may be guaranteed for up to 60 percent of the loan, but the guaranteed portion may not exceed $7500. Other real estate loans may be guaranteed up to 50 percent, with a $4000 top. Non-real estate loans, such as GI business loans, may be guaranteed for up to 50 percent with a $2000 ceiling as to the guarantee. All such loans also may be insured.

VA's Direct Loan Program, now in effect for World War II veterans, has been extended to veterans who served since the outbreak in Korea. Under the program, VA may make loans directly to veterans but only in certain areas where four percent GI loan money is not available.

ARTS AND CRAFTS IS BUSILY REORGANIZING

Despite the fact that the total membership of The Stout Arts and Crafts Club was lowered more than normal due to a large number of graduates and several service inductees the club is off to a good start for the new school year. Fortunately none of the club officers are among those who did not return.

To date the club has held two business meetings followed by short work periods. At the most recent meeting the club decided on the type and number of button pins to order for Stout's homecoming. The Stout Arts and Crafts Club has the exclusive right for the sale of homecoming buttons and hopes that every Stout student will confirm his or her spirited support of the annual event by wearing one of the club's attractive buttons.

The club wishes to announce that applications are being accepted for new members. Anyone interested should get in contact with a club member or Mr. Kranzusch, the club's advisor. Each application will be carefully considered and at a future business meeting a sufficient number of new members will be chosen from the applications to fill the club's quota for the first semester.

GI loan safeguards, written into the new law, apply both to World War II veterans and those with post-Korean service.

A veteran's property must meet or exceed minimum requirements for planning, construction and general acceptability.

The deadline for loans for veterans with service after Korea is 10 years after the present emergency ends.

The new unemployment compensation program administered through the states by the U.S. Dept. of Labor, provides unemployed post-Korean veterans with payments of $26 a week, for a total of up to 26 weeks. The deadline for unemployment compensation will be five years after the end of the emergency period.

The mustering out payments, provided for in the new GI bill will be made at the time of discharge to anyone who served in the rank of Captain or less in the Army or Air Force, or as Lieutenant Senior Grade or less in the Navy. Payments are $200 for those with at least 60 days service who were on active duty outside the continental limits of the United States or Alaska, $200 for those with 60 days on active duty. The payments are to be made at the rate of $100 a month until settled. This mustering out program, similar to that in effect after World War II, will be administered by the Armed Forces and the Treasury Department, not by the VA. To obtain the money, the veteran must apply to his particular branch of service.

Veterans are reminded that the last three benefits of the new GI bill covering unemployment compensation, mustering out pay, and job hunting aid are not administered by the Veterans Administration. Veterans always should correspond directly with the agency concerned, not with the VA.

The date on which the present emergency comes to an end is one that has to be determined either by Presidential proclamation or by concurrent resolution of Congress.

RIFLE CLUB PREPARES FOR FULL SCHEDULE

With rifles blazing every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday evenings, and Saturday mornings, the Stout Rifle Club with six returning members and many prospective new members, resumed meetings in preparation for a full schedule of shooting matches this coming season.

The Rifle Club, which is a class A organization affiliated with the National Rifle Association, has $3000 worth of equipment which consists of five .22 calibre target rifles, six calibre .30 military rifles, six metal bullet traps, and numerous other items.

The Club has sent out challenges to twenty-three schools this year. Among the more famous are the following: University of Wisconsin, University of Minnesota, Ohio State University, Harvard, Penn State, University of Connecticut, Michigan Tech., University of San Francisco, University of Idaho, University of South Dakota.

There are plans for a women's team in the Club this year. At present seven women are interested. Stan Meyer, president of the organization, comments that a few more women members would do the Club a lot of good.

The Muzzle Loader's Brawl, an annual event sponsored by the Rifle Club is scheduled for November 22. The Club also sponsors hunting parties and M1 shoots. The color guard, which marches with the band, was originated by the Rifle Club.

Each rifle team in the club consists of five shooters. There is no limit to the number of teams the club may have. In a match every member of each team fires a total of thirty rounds of ammunition in three different positions: the prone or laying position, the kneeling position, and the offhand or standing position.

The officers of the Rifle Club are the following: Stanley L. Meyer, president; Hugh Schmah, Jr., vice-president; DeWayne A. Nevin, secretary and treasurer.

The club is open to anyone interested in rifles, target shooting, muzzle loading, or hunting.

ALPHA SIGMA ALPHA'S ENTERTAIN AT PARTY

In connection with the rushing season the Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority held the opening of their country lodge on the morning of Saturday, September 20. This was the first party to better acquaint sophomores with Stout sororities.

A. S. A. limousines provided transportation for the freshmen to the country club. The guests received silver keys at the desk after registering. They met the members in the dining room where a warm fire and cheerful red and white color scheme created a friendly atmosphere.

For the occasion the management engaged a French dance team to provide entertainment. A brief ceremony created a serious moment in the party gaiety. Parfaits and coffee were served.

The little woman had been converted to a diet made up exclusively of raw fruit and vegetables, and when she asked dad to call the children to dinner, he'd always shout: "Hurry up, kids, supper's wilting!"

STOUT SKI CLUB WILL REORGANIZE FOR '52

Who: Stout Ski Club

What: First meeting of season
When: Tuesday, September 30, 7:00 P.M.

Where: Room 22

Why: Organization and Plans for 1952 Ski season.

Freshmen, transfers, and any other students who have a love for a beautiful hill all covered with snow: the winter of '52-'53 is not far off and the hill at Deepwood is in fine shape. Last year's skiers will all remember this spot.

We plan a few trips to several of the other ski areas in the vicinity. Don't worry if you have never worn a pair of boards. Everyone starts at some time or other and there is no time like the present.

RADIO CLUB SENDS OUT CALL FOR MEMBERS

CPB (Cold Pork and Beans) are the call letters of the Stout Radio Club's ham station. Station CPB is sending out a call for radio enthusiasts who wish to devote one evening a week to working toward an operators license. Anyone interested in the theory, repair, or building of electronic equipment is welcome to attend the meetings which are held every Thursday evening at 7:00 P.M. One meeting of each month is devoted to club business. The other meetings are work nights.

The Radio Club is affiliated with the N. W. Radio Club and plays host to them once a year.

TAINTER DINING HALL IS SCENE OF PARTY

Tainter Hall's dining room had its first birthday party September 18 at 6:00. The girls honored were those who had their birthday in June or September.

The Tainter Hall girls made colorful centerpieces of fresh flowers. The birthday dinner consisted of baked ham, candied sweet potatoes, fresh green peas, pineapple jello salad, and rolls. The final touch was added with a dessert of chocolate cake and strawberry ice cream.

NEWMAN CLUB HOLDS ITS FIRST MEETING

The first regular meeting of the Newman club was held at St. Joseph's school auditorium on Sunday evening, September 14. Before the meeting a cold plate supper was served by the food committee appointed at "Church Night".

Highlighting the meeting was the election of this year's officers. The following members were elected to the designated positions: Jerry Schemansky, president; Donald Walters, vice president; Jackie Frisbie, secretary, and Carol Blaney, treasurer.

Retiring president Joe Luetkemeyer gave a brief talk on last year's happenings and expressed his gratitude for the opportunity of serving as club president. Rev. Peter J. Butz, the clubs' new chaplain, explained his views relative to this year's activities.

The evening was completed by dancing to records played by the parish's new juke box.

YOUNG REPUBLICANS PLAN MIXER PARTY

September 26th at seven-thirty is the time which the Stout Young Republicans have set aside for their get acquainted party. The program of the evening will include street dancing in the tennis court of Stout Court. Willis Capps and his committee have planned along with the dancing, games and refreshments which will start the party going and keep it gay.

Anyone interested in an evening of fun is invited to come tonight. Let's get out and get interested in our organization, and remember to vote in the coming election.

100% RECORD ACHIEVED FOR PLACEMENTS

A record of 100% placement was achieved for industrial education graduates. The increasing shortage of trained industrial education personnel was especially great in electricity, printing, auto mechanics and metals. This latter field included machine shop, welding, and general metals.

Bachelor of Science graduates in industrial education are located in the following positions: James A. Andersen, Drummond, Wisconsin; Carl F. Anderson, Woodruff, Wisconsin; Donald A. Anderson, Alpena, Michigan; Kenneth I. Arnetveit, armed services; Bruce M. Arntson, Rochester, Minnesota; James A. Baker, J. I. Case Co., Minneapolis, Minnesota; Amond R. L.S.A. COMMITTEES PLAN FOR SEMESTER

The past few weeks has been filled with committee meetings and planning sessions for the Stout L. S. A.

The Bible study planning committee, consisting of Joan Anderson, Pat Caseberg, Shirley Lunden, Carol Koch, Jerry Sommers and Dufur Peters, met and decided on a tentative schedule. "We Believe" will be the topic of study for the coming few weeks to be followed by a study of "Revelations" when enough source material has been collected to justify a good start on what is considered a difficult subject. A chart will be posted within the near future that will list the subject and coordinator for each Sunday of the first semester.

The L. S. A. program planning committee consisting of the group officers and advisors, who are: Ardis Olsen, Carol Koch, Rose Deuber, John Christensen, Dufur Peters, Ray Burkhalter and Miss Fardell, met and confirmed the L. S. A. programs for each Sunday of the first semester. From all indications it appears that a most interesting and varied list of activities is in store and should appeal to all. It is the desire of the planning committee that with the help of the listed program schedule that all L. S. A. attenders will be able to take an active participating part; participation by the majority of its members is one of the best distinguishing between an active organization and an inactive one.

For Sunday, September 28, a special scavenger hunt will be L. S. A.'s main interest activity. Program coordinator will be Carol Koch who will be assisted by whomever she selects to take charge of the various program duties.

It is urged that all students focus their special attention for L. S. A. activities which will be posted each week near the library entrance and in weekly Stoutonia articles.

TUULIKKI MANNI RETURNED HERE THIS SUMMER

This summer the first of our foreign students returned. Since her leaving Stout, Tuulikki Manni has gone far in her service of Finland.

A desire to serve her country had caused her to work as a nurse's aid with the army during World War II. This same spirit brought her to the U.S. in spite of difficulties she might encounter.

Tuulikki came to us on a Rotary Club Scholarship in 1949. She arrived for the spring semester. Working at the Dunn County Hospital in the summer brought enough money to continue the next fall, for a Finnish citizen could bring only a small amount of money out of the country.

In 1950 Tuulikki entered Macalaster to better learn our language and more of our history and culture. After a semester, she returned to Finland to work for the government in a job comparable to a Home Agent, but on a national scale.

The next year the Rockefeller Foundation offered this remarkable girl a scholarship. She refused, but was again contacted. The Finnish Government flew her to Paris for an interview, and this time she accepted.

In August of 1951, Tuulikki once again came to the United States. This time she was a student at the Harvard School of Public Health. All parts of the globe were represented there. Doctors and nutritionists from every country except Russia and the satellite nations were her classmates. A heavy schedule and stiff competition demanded hard work and study. In addition she learned much from the people around her. At the end of her training she flew to various states to study our public health set up in different parts of the country.

Before returning to Europe, she came to Menomonie for a few days' visit with Mrs. Nelson. From here Tuulikki flew to New York, then sailed for Sweden on the Gripsolm. She returned to Finland to start a tremendous job, the setting up of a Public Health Service. In this work she will stress the need for good nutrition. Her task will not be easy, but her courage and love of Finland give promise of success.

DO WE NEED HELP?

Many of the old reporters and production staff turned out, but new help is still needed. If you are interested in writing for the paper be sure to attend the next Stoutonia meeting which will be held Monday at 5:00 in room 122 of the H. E. building.

WESLEY STUDENTS HEAR CAMP TALKS

Camp talks highlighted the weekly Wesley Student Fellowship meeting Sunday, September 21. The members who attended the summer camp were Ardith Garrison, Ellen Russell, George Stolp, Fred Kajihara and Bob Spinti.

George Stolp's committee served the supper, which consisted of hot dogs, beans, fruit jello, cake and milk.

A song fest and worship service were conducted by Iris Ruf and Ardith Garrison, respectively.

The meeting ended with a friendship circle and the singing of "Blest Be the Tie."

Members are urged to sign on the poster if they wish to attend for supper.

ALL STUDENTS INVITED TO ATTEND S. C. S.

All students, new and returning, are invited to attend the weekly meetings of the Stout Christian Fellowship. This fellowship group consists of students of all denominations who wish to further Christian activities on the campus and who wish to grow in their own Christian experiences.

A meeting is held each Tuesday evening at 7:00 in the clubroom over the union. The meetings consist of a short song service followed by a Bible study led by a member of the group. Your presence and participation is solicited.

NEWS OF OUR ALUMNI

DR. RUDIGER REPLIES TO APPOINTMENT

The executive committee of the Stout Alumni Association announces that Dr. E. Robert Rudiger has been appointed as Alumni secretary and treasurer to fill the vacancy left by Bob Swanson. Mr. Swanson will be on a leave of absence this year to continue work on his doctorate degree. The Alumni Association wishes to extend a note of thanks to Mr. Swanson for his work in the association and wish him luck in his graduate work.

Dr. Rudiger, 1948, a native of Menomonie, received his Doctor of Education degree at the University of Missouri on June 5, 1952. Since that time he has been on the staff at the Stout Institute. While an undergraduate, he displayed an active interest in student affairs. He was a member of the Arts and Crafts Club, Epsilon Pi Tau, and Phi Omega Beta fraternities. He has had considerable teaching and trade experience in the industrial field. The executive committee is happy that he has accepted the position of secretary and treasurer of the Alumni Association.

GERALD SOLIE MAKES TRAINING IN THERAPY

Gerald Solie, of 5038 Washington Blvd., St. Louis, Missouri, is enrolled in a special occupational therapy course for I. E. graduates at Washington University. This period of training is to be followed by nine months of internships in various hospitals.

NEW LIBRARY PROGRESS IS ON SCHEDULE

Latest word from Superintendent Argon Johnson's office is that the library is progressing according to the schedule. Many of you who were not in Menomonie during the summer will be interested to know that the foundation is completed, but that 159 cement pilings had to be sunk 25 feet in the ground before the foundation could be started.

At the present time construction has run into a temporary snag because of the shortage of tile, but to offset this shortage the men are actively engaged in filling in and leveling off the floor with from 400 to 500 yards of sand in preparation for the pouring of the floor. This job will take approximately 10 days to complete.

Some vital statistics on the building itself are: the finished library will be 123 feet in length, 124 feet, 4 inches wide.

DR. E. R. RUDIGER IS NEW ALUMNI SECRETARY

Being appointed national secretary of the Stout Alumni Association is indeed an honor and privilege. It is my sincere hope that the association, through the cooperation of the officers, committees, local chapters, and the entire active membership, may continue to grow and progress in the future as in the past.

During recent years, concerted effort has been made towards organizing local chapters whenever possible, thereby strengthening our organization by the activities of these local groups. It is through local chapters, that graduates are able to enjoy each other's fellowship long after graduation. It is my hope that many more chapters will be organized in the near future.

The success of an alumni organization depends upon the interest and cooperation shown by its members. You may do your part by cooperating with committee members and officers, contributing to the Alumni section of the Stoutonia, keeping your membership paid up and encouraging others to do the same, and finally, by keeping the home office informed of your change of address.

Committees have begun to work for a bigger and better homecoming. The team meets its old rival from "Minnie Creek" which promises an exciting time for all. Plan now to attend.

TRI SIGMA'S WORK TO AID POLIO DRIVE

An informal but highly effective campaign to increase the scope of medical research in poliomyelitis has quietly gathered momentum during the past year, inspired by the memory of a silver-haired, five year old boy.

Among sponsors of the campaign is Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority, whose chapters have organized on a nationwide basis to fight polio in memory of the son of their national president, Mrs. Robertson Page.

It was on September 15, 1951, that Robbie Page, 5½, died of bulbar polio at Children's Hospital in Boston. The doctors, with tears in their eyes, looked down at this boy who had made such a brave fight in the iron lung and said, "We just don't know enough!"

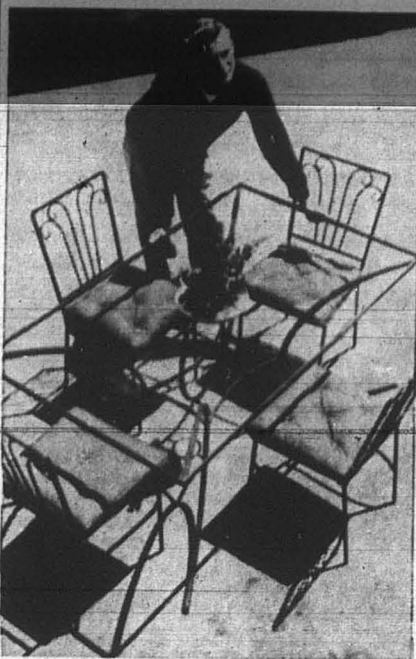

Two days later, Robbie was laid to rest next to his grandmother in Blossom Hill Cemetery in Concord, N. H. By the time of his funeral, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robertson Page of 78 Westminster Road, Newton Centre, Mass. had conceived the Robbie Page Memorial Fund with the objective of helping the doctors to "know enough," so that other children in the future might be spared the ravages of polio. The policy of the Fund is to work in close harmony with other organizations in this field, but to concentrate exclusively on medical research with the objective of speeding the day when a cure or preventive for polio is found.

As a result of contributions received during the first year, $5,000 grant has been made to the University of Michigan for a fellowship in studies in the care or prevention of poliomyelitis. A young doctor is currently doing a spec-

RICHARD J. HERZING STUDENT OF GRAD ENTERS FORD FINALS

Richard J. Herzing, a graduate of Stout Institute, flew to Detroit this week with one of his students to attend the National finals of the Ford Motor Co. Industrial Arts contest. The student, Robert Pimentel, was the recipient of an Achievement award for being first in his division, Wrought Iron.

He will now compete for one of ten special awards in the finals. These awards are $200 each. Robert Pimentel's entry was a wrought iron glass topped table with matching chairs. He was in competition with thousands of other students throughout the nation.

Several years ago Dean Bowman was instrumental in getting this Industrial Arts contest organized. Under the sponsorship of the Ford Motor Co. it has become a large and important event for people in the Industrial Arts field.

ial study on the motor nerve cells, which are the ones invaded by the polio virus, a study which has been described by eminent medical authorities as a promising avenue of research. A grant of $500 to Children's Hospital in Boston has also been authorized which will go into a study to develop a quicker and less expensive diagnostic procedure in polio.

Since money alone cannot buy research, the Fellowship plan has been adopted by the Robbie Page Memorial Fund Committee as the soundest contribution to the overall battle against polio. By training a young doctor in this field, the Fund not only accomplishes immediate investigation but also encourages a promising young man or woman to enter research. It is thus an investment in future as well as current research.

Mrs. Page is national president of Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority, which has adopted the Robbie Fund as its major social service project, with Mrs. Henry W. Morrison of New Britain, Connecticut, acting as chairman for the sorority. Other contributions have been solicited from friends, business acquaintances, fraternal groups—and from strangers. Serving as treasurer of the fund is Ralph M. Eastman, vice president of the State Street Trust Company of Boston, whose son was stricken with polio in Korea. Heading up the fund raising activities is Robbie's father, who is public relations representative of the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston.

Support for the fund has come from a wide variety of sources throughout the nation, including Father Flanagan's Boys Town where $15 was raised for the Robbie Fund through a penny collection. Contributions have been received from families stricken by polio, in memory of, or in behalf of loved ones.

The sadness attending the death of this blue-eyed little boy has thus been transformed into a positive force for good, with Robbie becoming a symbol

ALUMNI PLAN ACTIVITIES FOR HOMECOMING

The Homecoming committee of the Alumni Association, with Ray Cornwell serving as general chairman, is developing plans for a number of activities for Homecoming weekend. Registration will begin Friday afternoon in the main corridor of the Home Economics building. All alumni are asked to register, as the register is bound each year and filed for future reference.

The annual business meeting of the association will be held at homecoming this year to allow more of the members to participate. The meeting will be held in the Harvey Memorial on October 18, at 4:00 P.M. with all members being urged to attend. In addition, the traditional alumni banquet will be held in the cafeteria, Saturday evening at 5:30 P.M. For those who wish to tarry at the banquet talking to old friends, a section will be reserved for them at Nelson Field. Tickets for the banquet, and special reserved tickets for the football game will be available at the registration booth.

Plan to attend the homecoming activities here the weekend of October 17, 18, and 19.

NOEL T. MYERS SENT TO MEDITERRANEAN

Stout graduates spread in every direction around the globe. Again we had confirmation of this fact when Dean Bowman received word that Noel T. Myers, who completed his Master's Degree at The Stout Institute in 1945, is to be sent to the Mediterranean area, October 1.

He has been appointed by the U. S. Office of Education to serve in the point four program. Mr. Myers has been assigned to the educational field staff in Lebanon, working as a vocational education specialist.

His address after October 1 will be: T. C. S. Educational Field Staff, % American Embassy, Beirut, Lebanon.

Although Guam was given its independence in 1950, American influence is still a potent factor in island affairs, for Guam remains an important U. S. military base. As evidence of far-reaching American influence, Maria points out that Americans have made pets of the wild deer and hogs which inhabit parts of Guam. For instance, Maria says:

"Anderson Airbase is in the midst of a wilderness once over-run by wild animals. These animals have remained on the field and have become such pets that airforce personnel never know what kind of wild game may be sleeping under wings of a B-29."

Because of her interest in home economics, Maria has taken special notice of American cooking. She finds it somewhat similar to that at home except for the fiesta and fandango feasts. Before these festivals, many days are devoted to preparing such island delicacies as coconut, crab, lobster, and shrimp.

Another part of The Stout Institute home economics program for which Maria has shown enthusiasm is that of clothing and textiles, experimenting with the many new American fabrics displayed there.

Although the speed of Maria's journey to Stout was typical of modern air travel, her departure will not be as sudden. She will not see her Pacific home again for nearly four years, when she hopes to return to Guam, a thoroughly trained and efficient home economist.

FORMER STOUTITES RECEIVE DEGREES

Several former Stout students were among those who received their Master of Arts degrees from the University of Minnesota this past summer. They are Arvin A. Ahlf, B.S. '49; Clifford Ingwell, B.S. '48; Richard P. Maliszewski, B.S. '49.

MISS JEAN ARCHIE CHANGES HER NAME AND ADDRESS

Miss Jean Archie, 1951, has informed the alumni office that she not only has a new address, but also a new name. She is now Mrs. A. Robertson of 219 Jackson Street, Janesville, Wisconsin.

MR. & MRS. CLAUSEN HAVE NEW ADDRESS

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Clausen have informed the alumni office of a new address; Route 7, Box 1240, Vancouver, Washington. They haven't moved, but the post office has rerouted them.

HERZINGS' OF CALIFORNIA ANNOUNCE BIRTH OF A GIRL

Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Herzing of Woodside, California announce the birth of their daughter, Yvonne Marie, on May 24, 1952. Mr. Herzing received his Bachelor's degree several years ago from Stout Institute and has just completed work on his Master's degree this summer at Stanford University.

RICHARD JOHNSONS' BECOME PARENTS OF BABY BOY

Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Johnson 1952, 118 E. Pearl Street, Ishpeming, Michigan, announce the birth of a six pound, 10 ounce baby boy on September 4. The boy is named Joel Richard. Mrs. Johnson is the former Janis Oebser, 1950.

TWIN DAUGHTERS ARE BORN TO MR. AND MRS. S. GRUDICHAK

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen J. Grudichak announce the birth of twin daughters, Virginia and Mary, on August 18, 1952. Mr. Grudichak graduated with the class of 1949. The family is living at 197 St., Brawley, Calif.

BLUEDEVILS TIE GAME WITH WINONA WARRIORS

Stout Bluedevils Emerged With a 6-6 Tie In a Hard Fought Battle Last Sat.

Last Saturday night the Bluedevils of Coach Jack Wink traveled to Winona, Minnesota, to meet the Winona Warriors at Maxwell Field. As the final gun sounded the Bluedevils emerged with a 6-6 tie in a game that showed flashes of both good and very mediocre play.

The Bluedevils, hampered by the losses of end Dick Cheke and quarterback Mel Zemplinski to the armed forces, had trouble splitting the big Warrior line and could not manage to come up with enough sustained scoring drives. The Stout ground game, which appeared far superior to the passing attack, looked exceptionally good during certain stages of the contest, although on several occasions the Wisconsin State Teachers College entry fumbled or had passes intercepted just when it appeared as if a touchdown was on the way.

WARRIORS RECOVER FUMBLE

The game opened with Wallie Puetz kicking off to Don Woelffer, newly installed Stout quarterback. Woelffer carried the ball back to the Bluedevil 26 yard line on a short runback. On the very first play from scrimmage a Woelffer handoff fell to the ground and the Warriors recovered on the 23. Just three plays later quarterback Lowell Mc Millen scored the first touchdown from nine yards out to give the Warriors an early 6-0 lead. Winona, offside on the try for point, never did get the kick away as center George got off a poor pass from the pivot.

Once again Puetz kicked off for the Warriors, this time to Red Walker who returned to the Stout 32. Two plays gained 13 yards with Bill Kieffer and Walker carrying to the 45.

Here the Stout attack bogged down and following an exchange of punts, Winona recovered a Woelffer pitchout on the Warrior 42. After losing four yards on first down, Mc Millan faded back to his 25 before spotting and Dick Keller all alone on the Stout 40. Keller raced to the Bluedevil 17 before being stopped and again it appeared as if the Warriors were on the march. But two plays later, Reuben Ramos, Bluedevil freshman, intercepted a Mc Millan aerial on the 7 and roared back to the 13 to end the scoring threat.

As the second quarter started the Bluedevils began a march that carried them 55 yards to the Warrior 20 before the Winona line held for downs. Steady ground gainers during this drive were Kieffer, Walker, and Steve Hansen. The latter two combined in a slick reverse play from the single wing, producing four first downs. This proved to be the last long drive of the first half.

WALKER GOES OVER

John Widmar kicked off for the Bluedevils as the third quarter got under way, and Winona after making two first downs lost the ball when a fourth down pass fell aimlessly to the ground. Finally the Bluedevils caught fire as two Woelffer forwards hit ends George Krall and Al Loew to give them a first down on the Winona 37. After Woelffer's first down pass fell incomplete, Kieffer made it first and ten on the 25. George Van Buren streaked around end for nine more and Walker banged through to the Warrior 7. It took the stocky redhead just two more carries to make it into the endzone ending a 62 yard scoring march. George Krall's kick hit the goal post and the score remained 6-6. A series of fumbles and interceptions followed the ensuing kickoff as the third quarter drew to a close.

As the fourth quarter opened the Bluedevils threw three passes, all incomplete, although a Woelffer to Kieffer aerial just missed on the Winona 25. This pass if completed would have given Stout a sure touchdown as the Bluedevil back had eluded all defenders. On fourth down, Kieffer got off a rather poor punt that went out of bounds on the Warrior 26. Three plays failed to gain and Grebin punted to Kieffer who fumbled on the dead run as Roland Hill recovered for the Minnesota school on the Bluedevil 41. Again the Warriors threatened as Puetz broke through for a 26 yard gain to the Stout 15, but John Widmar saved the day on the succeeding play as the 205 pound tackle fell on a Winona fumble on the Stout 18. After Kieffer and Walker broke thru for a first and ten on the 30, the on fourth down, setting the stage for Bluedevils were forced to kick to Mc Millen who returned the ball to midfield. The Warriors failed to gain and Stout got a break when a high pass from center forced Grebin to run on fourth down setting the stage for the Bluedevils final long unsuccessful surge of the night. Kieffer and Van Buren got things started by making it first and ten on the Winona 47. A Kieffer to Van Buren pass gained nine before Walker drove to the 25 for Stout's eleventh and last first down of the game. On third down Woelffer elected to pass, but the ball fell short into the waiting arms of Grebin who ran all the way down to the Stout 33. Four plays later the gun sounded and the Bluedevil gridders left the field a very tired and somewhat disappointed team.

FALCONS HERE FOR CONFERENCE OPENER

Seeking their first win of the season, the Stout Bluedevils will play host to River Falls State college this Saturday night in a Wisconsin State conference football game. Kick off time at Nelson Field will be 8:00 PM.

River Falls has eleven lettermen returning this year, plus an array of freshmen and upper-classmen all working for starting berths. Head Coach Phil Belfiori, who is in his second year as Falcon coach, hopes to better his team's .500 rating of last season. So far this year the Falcons have a one won and one lost record. River Falls stopped Augsburg 20-0 in their first game of the year, but last week dropped an 18-6 ball game to St. Cloud Teachers college.

Although Stout won last year's clash with the Falcons 39-0 the Bluedevils are now learning an entirely new system of play. This year, under the direction of Head Coach Jack Wink, former Wisconsin and Michigan university star, the Bluedevils are in the process of absorbing and polishing a new system. Coach Wink is teaching the boys the single wing and T formation.

Thus far this season Stout has lost one game and tied another. In their opening 7-2 loss to the Bluejackets of Great Lakes, the Stout defensive unit displayed terrific potential. Likewise in the 6-6 tie with Winona State Teachers last Saturday, great defensive play prevailed. With two games behind them, the Stout offense is expected to break loose and display the winning form which the team is known to possess.

Eight of the River Falls returning lettermen are expected to start the game. Included in probable starting berths for the Falcons are: John Oedemaand, Troy Rudesill, tackles; Don Helberg, guard; Herb Voss, center; Tom Linehan, end; Claire Murphy, full back; and Chuck Braun and Bobby Wood, halfbacks. The quarter back slot will probably be handled by Joe Burgoyne, former University of Minnesota griddler.

The probable line-up for Stout will find Clarence Lamers and George Krall at the ends, Mark Reimers and Widmar at tackles, Karl Turk and Jerry Henderson at guards, and Lloyd Woodmansee at center. The backfield will include Don Woelffer, quarterback, Bill Kieffer and Steve Hansen, halfbacks, and "Red" Walker, full-back.

devils were Walker, Kieffer, and Van Buren on offense while Lamers, Krall, Widmar, Reimers, Janis, Stebly, Ramos, and Walker all did yeoman work on defense. Woelffer in his first start of the season as quarterback is also to be commended for a good showing despite a definite lack of experience which cannot be overlooked.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

Sports Round up

For the first time in six years the Wisconsin State Teachers College Conference will split up into northern and southern division competition for the coming football season. It is being tried this year in an attempt to equalize the travel expenses for the ten schools. The college presidents and athletic directors hope to have a plan worked soon which will enable the return to a one conference set-up for the 1953 football season. The division will not operate for the basketball season with all ten schools operating as a single conference. Milwaukee, Stevens Point, Platteville, Oshkosh, and Whitewater will comprise the southern circuit, while La Crosse, River Falls, Eau Claire, Superior, and the Stout Institute will compete in the northern division. Four conference games will comprise the schedule for each of the teams.

Three new coaches are making their debut in the conference this year. Bill Vickroy has taken over at La Crosse succeeding Clark VanGelder, now grid mentor at Fresno, California. Vickroy served as assistant under VanGelder. John Roberts has taken over the grid reins at Stevens Point replacing Hale Quandt, who will remain at the college as athletic director and head basketball coach, while Jack Wink has replaced Tony Storti at the home school.

WE WILL WIN COACH WINK TELLS LIONS

"We will win the majority of our remaining games!" These words highlighted a talk given by Jack Wink, football coach of the Stout Institute, to the Lion's club at their regular meeting on Wednesday evening, September 17, at the Country Club.

Commenting on Stout's first game of the season against Great Lakes, Coach Wink said that the team was not up to top form, because there were quite a few new, inexperienced men, and because of the short period of two weeks' practice preceding the game. However, the coach thought that his team's defense was good and did an excellent job preventing the Great Lakes team from scoring more than it did.

Wink considered that it was no disgrace to lose to a potentially good team such as the Great Lakes team by a score of only 7 to 2. Instead, he considered it a moral victory. He indicated that if Stout had been up to top form, the Bluedevils could have won the game. Even as it was, he said, the team left the field in good physical condition and in high spirits.

Coach Wink pointed out prospects of the team for this coming year, discussing players and the positions they will hold. He felt that the team would show a definite improvement by the next home game. Wink then previewed the coming games, describing the strength of the individual teams and predicting that the toughest games would be against La Crosse and St. Cloud.

La Crosse at Milwaukee
Oshkosh at Stevens Point
Platteville at Whitewater

Across the Desk.....The problem of sacrificing football for marriage befell a veteran mainstay of the Bluedevil squad when Karl Turk of Aurora, Minnesota, elected to forego the River Falls encounter.....Red Walker was the work horse of the Winona affair carrying the ball 23 times for a total of 90 yards.....another Bluedevil back, Steve Hansen, incurred a pulled knee muscle after suffering a severe leg bruise against Great Lakes.....still another casualty was John Widmar, who played most of the game with a badly bruised shoulder.....observers of Stout games will wonder how long Woelffer will direct Bluedevil play from quarterback.....Don Woelffer, is wearing the same number 54 that brother Gale wore last season.....the Bluedevils would be the proud possessors of two wins if they could have erased the first three minutes of both the Great Lakes and Winona games.....on both occasions Bluedevil fumbles led to early scores for the opposition. Surprise of the month.....Coach Tom Stilt sporting a tie and blue suitcoat at the Winona game....."Roundy" Asman appears to be taking over the cheerleading duties for the Stout aggregation.

PLEASE DO NOT WEAR HIGH SCHOOL LETTERS

Every year at this time many high school letter sweaters are seen on the Stout campus. The "S" club, composed of Bluedevil major monogram winners, suggests that all high school letter sweaters not be worn. The sweaters, however, are permissible provided that all numerals and monograms are taken off. We realize that all of you enjoy wearing your high school colors, but it is felt that high school days are now over and that college life has started. So from now on let's try to remember to comply with the wishes of the "S" club and the student body by leaving the letter sweaters at home. Thanks a lot.

RETURN MARRIED

Wedding bells rang for several people on the Stout Campus during the summer months. Both Zoe Muehlhauser and Mimi MacLachlin came back as Mrs. Millers. Barbara Sherwood is Mrs. Don Hiller and Jean Moore is Mrs. George Van Buren.

The man who marries his secretary and thinks he'll continue dictating to her is really an optimist.

"BOWMEN'S SHOWMEN
WILL LEAVE
EAU CLAIRE FOAMIN"

JODY BAIN ELECTED QUEEN

HOMECOMING THEME IS SELECTED

Foam will fly the night of October 18. "Bowman's showmen will leave Eau Claire foam," is this year's winning theme for homecoming. The winning theme received students approval at the election last Wednesday, October 1, in student assembly.

This year's winning theme was a concentrated effort by four students announced the SSA office. These four students entered their theme under the title, "Big Four". The "Big Four" are commonly known as: Dale Andersen, John Christensen, Jim Cook, and August Schulz.

Other themes, submitted, were in keeping with the homecoming idea, but only one theme can be selected. Now that the theme is known let's have everybody pitch in and do their best, it's homecoming for students and alumni.

TEACHER'S CONVENTION IS OCTOBER 9 AND 10

The Northwestern Wisconsin Teachers' Association will convene at Eau Claire October 9 and 10.

The speakers engaged for the convention are Governor Walter Kohler, Jr.; Judge Luther W. Youngdahl, former governor of Minnesota; Hal Boyle, war correspondent; Dr. Ralph McDonald, president of Bowling Green University; Anna Russell, international concert comedienne; and Dr. Murray Banks, psychologist and marriage consultant.

Y. W. C. A. WILL HOLD INITIATION SERVICE

The Y.W.C.A. initiation service will be held Wednesday, October 8, in the Harvey Memorial.

All freshmen, transfers and upperclassmen that are not already members are cordially invited to attend.

SIX NEW CHEERLEADERS ELECTED WEDNESDAY

At the student assembly on Wednesday, September 24th, thirteen cheerleading candidates went through their paces and led the student body in cheers. Out of the thirteen, the students voted upon six, thus electing the following cheerleaders for the 1952-53 school year: Joyce Fraedrick, Shirley Lundeen, Mary Seppanen, Tom Sommers, Joan Gritt, and Roberta Harris.

This year Joyce Fraedrick is a freshman from Weyauwega H. S. During her three years of cheerleading, Joyce won several letters plus gold and silver pins.

Another winner was an out-of-state girl, Shirley Lundeen, from Moose Lake, Minn. She won her letter during her one year of cheerleading there.

Mary Seppanen is a beginner in cheerleading this year. She has had no

NEW HOUSING CLASS ADDED TO CURRICULUM

Another elective, housing, has been added to the curriculum this fall. There are twenty-five girls taking the course this semester. The course builds on an Art minor and meets Tuesday and Thursday from three to five.

Some of the things that are included in the course are the materials used in construction; type of construction; how to buy a house intelligently; and the cost involved in renting or owning a house. Right now the class has been divided into two groups, one doing research on costs and the other on sociological factors involved in housing.

On one of its first meetings the class visited the milkhouse being built by Stout students at which time Mr. Olson told them about the materials, cost, and advantages and disadvantages in the construction.

QUEEN AND COURT TO REIGN OVER FESTIVITIES

FIRST M. A. P. PLAY WILL BE 'KIND LADY'

Kind Lady, by Edward Chodorov, is the name of the play which was chosen by the Manual Arts Players as the first play of the year. This production, under the direction of Norman Ziemann of the Stout speech department, is in the process of being cast and the various committees and crews are being set up. This play is a favorite production of college and little theatre dramatic groups, and has recently been revived on Broadway.

Rehearsals started last Tuesday. They will continue about six and a half weeks and will end with the performance scheduled for Nov. 13, 14, and 15.

A lot of work goes into producing a play. If you would like to get a better idea of just how much, watch for notice of the M.A.P. open house to be held soon.

SUBMIT SSCQT APPLICATIONS NOW

Applications for the December 4, 1952 and April 23, 1953 administrations of the College Qualification Test are now available at Selective Service System local boards throughout the country.

Eligible students who intend to offer this test on either date should apply at once to the nearest Selective Service local board for an application and bulletin of information.

Following instructions in the bulletin, the student should fill out his application and mail it immediately in the envelope provided. Applications for the December 4 test must be postmarked no later than midnight November 1, 1952.

According to Educational Testing Service, which prepares and administers the College Qualification Test for the Selective Service System, it will be greatly to the student's advantage to file his application at once, regardless of the testing date he selects. The results will be reported to the student's Selective Service local board of jurisdiction for use in considering his deferment as a student.

There will be a very brief meeting of all men in attendance who are non-veterans, draft eligible and who have taken the college qualification test. This meeting will be in the Stout Auditorium, Wednesday morning, October 8 immediately following the regular convocation.

FUNDAMENTAL DESIGN CLASS STUDIES LINE

The fundamentals of design class, under the direction of Miss Thvedt, is working with one of the elements of design; that is line. They have studied line as a symbol that represents form, texture, and space.

One of their projects very nicely coincided with one of the beautiful fall days that we have been enjoying. This project was the study of the two point perspective, with emphasis placed on a linear drawing of the I. E. building.

The class has also been using horizontal, vertical, diagonal and circular lines; each in a separate drawing that is simple, but yet very interesting.

GRANT REYNARD TO LECTURE AT CONVOCATION

Mr. Grant Reynard, famous painter, is scheduled to arrive here on October 8th, for an Assembly program at which he will present, "Painting My Way Across the U. S. A." This will be a lecture on the artist's travels across America; North, South, East, and West with color slides of his pictures which were painted in widely various places. Mr. Reynard accompanies his paintings with lively comment on historic and exciting places and people. The lecture presents a country-wide pageant warm with beauty and human interest. During Mr. Reynard's two day visit on the campus he will give a demonstration on the making of a painting, which all students are welcome to attend. A schedule of Mr. Reynard's lectures and demonstrations will be posted on the bulletin board.

QUEEN'S COURT: PHYL, JUNE, DOT, AND FRAN

Jody Bain, a sophomore from Shorewood, Wisconsin, has been chosen to reign over the 1952 homecoming. Members of her court will be: Phyllis Allman, Dorothy Gargulak, June Keefer, and Fran Soulek.

Jody, who was sponsored by the WAA, is on the council of WAA, a member of the Home Economics Club and Wesley. She has been a member of the freshman Girl's Glee Club and the Ski Club.

Phyllis Allman, is a senior from Phillips, Wisconsin, sponsored by the Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority of which she is president. She has been a member of the Home Economics Club, Dietetics Club, Y.W.C.A., and a drum majorette.

Rice Lake, Wisconsin, is Dorothy Gargulak's home town. She was sponsored by an independent group. Dorothy is secretary of the Pallas Athene sorority and treasurer of her junior class. She is a member of WAA, The Stoutonia, the Home Economics Club, and the Newman Club.

June Keefer, from Hannibal, Wisconsin, was sponsored by the Hyperian sorority, of which she is treasurer. She is a member of the Home Economics Club and Wesley. June is treasurer of the Ski Club.

Fran Soulek, a senior from Suring, Wisconsin, was sponsored by an independent group. Fran is a member of the Home Economics Club, The Stoutonia, and Alpha Sigma Alpha. She is chaplain of the latter group.

PROGRAM FOR SOCIAL SCIENCE IS CHANGED

Our social science program is, at the present time, in the process of revision and reorganization. Through the years, a need has been felt to coordinate the various individual social sciences into one integrated social science.

Formerly, the program was organized in the following fashion: Sophomores took General Sociology, Juniors took General Economics, Seniors took Government and/or Modern World or History of Americas.

The new sequence is as follows: Sophomores take Human Relations; Juniors choose two of the three—General Economics, General Sociology, or Government; Seniors take Problems of American Society, plus one of the two—History of Americas or Modern World.

During the college year 1952-53, Sophomores will begin the second sequence, Junior and Seniors will finish the first sequence.

The Human Relations course is a new integrated study in historical perspective of major cultural and social processes of American society. It is a general social science using data of anthropology, economics, political science, social psychology and sociology. In the past, these social sciences, plus social education, human geography, cultural history and institutional psychology, have tended to look at man, the homo sapiens, from their own individual vantage points. Consequently, this same man, this homo sapiens, appears to not one, but to nine different men, according to the point from which he is viewed.

In fact, it is quite conceivable that a person studying one social science, perhaps psychology, may be totally unaware of the field of anthropology. Likewise, it is equally conceivable that a person studying another social science, such as sociology, may be totally unaware of the field of philosophy.

By coordinating these different viewpoints, we have a better opportunity to see man as he really is, a whole. Thus, the revised social science program, which includes the new Human Relations course, has been designed to carry out this integration.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Do you realize that homecoming is only two weeks away?? There are many projects that must be completed in this short time. School assignments must not be forgotten, so it would be wise to be thinking ahead. Careful planning must be done now so everything will be ready when the alumni return.

The bonfire must be built, floats have to be constructed, town decorations put up, and the gymnasium decorated for the dance. These various activities will provide an opportunity for each student to display his or her talent. The S. S. A. officers have spent many hours on the plans for homecoming. They have laid the groundwork—the rest depends upon the cooperation of the student body.

Each class will be working on their assigned projects. Through the active participation of every member, the classes will contribute greatly to the success of the 1952 homecoming. Let's start our plans now so we won't be caught unprepared when the big weekend arrives.

SSA MESSAGE

Again this year, the Stout Students Association has adopted a foreign student through the CARE organization. Our "adopted" friend this year lives in Germany. We have received two letters from Germany which we will present to the student body as soon as they can be translated. We ask you to read these letters and answer them as you would a personal letter, because this German student needs more than our money; he needs our friendship and our encouragement. Bring your letters to the SSA Office and we will address and mail them.

Only two weeks until homecoming! This year's homecoming is designed to top them all. Among the "Special" features attending the homecoming celebration is the Field Schlick Glockenspiel Corps from St. Paul. This well-known corps will participate in the parade as well as a special program on Saturday evening. But, outside entertainment will not make our homecoming a success. A bang-up weekend depends upon all of you. So, let's get going on those floats, decorations, and other special activities—we need you all, and we know you'll come through.

BIBLE OBSERVANCE
HELD TUESDAY EVENING

Promotion of the revised standard version of the Holy Bible was featured at a special service of thanksgiving and dedication held in the Stout auditorium Tuesday evening at 8:00 p.m. Dr. Allen Van Cleve was the main speaker of the evening while special music was furnished by the Menomonie mass choir.

To promote the revised standard version of the Bible, Dr. Allen spoke of the history of the Bible and of its importance in our fast moving world of today. Dr. Allen said that to us, the most important factor of this new version is the change in use of words. These changes will make it possible for everyone to have a clearer concept of some of the original meaning of the verses.

The Bible observance, held in Menomonie, was only one of three thousand being held in other communities throughout the United States and Canada.

Menomonies' mass choir, directed by Mrs. E.T. Boe, sang "Festival Hymn". Members of the choir, representing Protestant Churches of Menomonie filled the seats of the second balcony in the Stout auditorium.

Five Bibles were presented to educational institutions of Menomonie. Receiving these dedication Bibles were Mabel Tainter library, Dunn County Normal school, Dunn County School of Agriculture, Menomonie High School and The Stout Institute.

Thirty two scholars have been working for fifteen years to translate a revised Bible from many old manuscripts. Their final result has received the stamp of approval of the National Council of Churches.

Although the program was to promote the revised standard version of the Holy Bible, it was stated that in these times, even more than before, people should get to know God. This can be done by public worship, private prayer, and study of His word.

ALPHA SIGMA ALPHA ANNOUNCES PLEDGES

After the final signing on Tuesday noon, which ended the forty-eight hour sorority silence period, the invitations were sent out to future sorority pledges. Alpha Sig pledges will be: Zoe Miller, Hazel Nelson, Darlene Neas, Colleen Ceminsky, Joeline Chryst, Verna Dunn, Dorothy Brownell, Maryann Timmerman, Gloria Voigt, Ruth Sipple, Mary Gehler, Arlys Hammon, Nancy Gunderson, JoAnn Brehm.

RUSHING PARTY WAS ALL GREEK TO THEM

A Greek theme set the atmosphere for the Hyperian Sorority's rushing party in the Harvey Memorial on Sunday afternoon, September 28. The Hyperian gods and goddesses entertained the girls with games, and a Greek feast was served. General chairman for the party was Beverly Henderson.

NEWMAN CLUB ASKS,
"CAN BOYS COOK?"

Can the boys cook? That is the question being asked by the Newman Club this Sunday, October 5, at 6:00 p.m. at St. Joseph's hall.

Dick Kassel is chairman of the evening meal and has not let out the secret of menu. All the planning and cooking is strictly "Men at work." Dick wants all the boys to back him up at the supper.

Members have a question box which will be opened after the meal for Father Butz to answer.

Several name bands will be on hand to furnish music for dancing after the meeting. Cards and other games will be played. So, as the committee says, "Let's all turn out for a good time and see what the boys can cook!"

L. S. A. WILL HOLD A SEMINAR MEETING

On Sunday, October 5, L. S. A. will meet at 5:30 at Our Saviour's Lutheran church for a regular supper meeting to be followed by the second of a series of seminar meetings which are under the coordination of Ardis Olson. "The Calling of a Christian Student" will be the topic for the second session. A panel of several students and a faculty member, Miss Fredt, will present the special topic parts which will be followed by an open group discussion.

Carol Koch was chairman for the special activity on last weeks program, a scavenger hunt which really had the L. S. A. group on the chase. Other committees and their chairmen were as follows: recreation, Louise Zirbel; food, Ardis Olson; and worship, Jerry Sommers. Following the regular scheduled program the entire group adjourned to the Friendship Room of the new parish hall to roast marshmallows in the fireplace and sing to the accompaniment of the new piano.

This Sunday, October 5, is "Go to Church Sunday" at Stout. All Lutheran students are urged to observe the day by attending services at any one of the several Lutheran churches in Menomonie.

PLEDGING DISCUSSED
BY PHI SIG'S

Pledging Discussed By Phi Sig's At the regular business meeting on September 25, the Phi Sig's discussed pledging. A list of prospective pledges was sent to Dean Price for scholastic check.

As in the days of the Kaffos, the familiar straw hats and canes will appear. Pending arrival of official national fraternity sport shirts, however, the pledges will wear dress shirts and red "string" or Texas-type ties.

A trend away from "Hell Week" toward "Help Week" will be emphasized. Helpful projects for pledges to perform will be sought.

The finance committee reported that plans on its secret money-making "scheme" were progressing on schedule. Keep watching for further news of this event.

Stout's Phi Sig's also plan to hold a special party with the Eau Claire chapter at Stout's homecoming game with Eau Claire.

SYMPHONIC SINGERS
ELECT NEW OFFICERS

Seventy members showed up for the first S.S.S. meeting last Wednesday, September 24. The meeting was held in room 27 at 7:00 p.m. Mr. Hardt, the new director, suggested that the first thing to be done was to elect new officers.

Lewis Lausted was elected president; Iris Ruf, vice-president; Jan Wudtz, secretary; Joeline Chryst, treasurer; Elsie Bush and Dorothy Belisle, librarians.

PHI SIGS GIVE PARTY FOR MR. BETTERLEY

With the beginning of the new year, the Omega chapter of Phi Sigma Epsilon found itself in a regrettable situation. Mr. Ralph Betterley, for many years the faculty advisor to the old KFS organization, had accepted a position at the Northwestern Institute of Technology.

Following up on old customs, the fraternity gave a farewell party for Mr. Betterley on Thursday evening, September 18. The party was held at the summer cottage of Mr. Edwin Siefert, also a fraternity advisor. Following the presentation of a personalized wallet to Mr. Betterley, the evening's entertainment was underway. Mr. Betterley, well known locally as a skilled barbershop quartet enthusiast, tried to impart some of his skill to the Phi Sigs present but did not fare too well.

President Howard Heigl served as toastmaster, while Richard Bilse was in charge of food and beverages.

FRESHMEN INVITED TO M. A. P. OPEN HOUSE

The Manual Arts Players are holding their third annual open house on Tuesday, October 7, for people interested in dramatic week. A special invitation is extended to freshmen and transfer students. At 7:30, Mr. Zieman and his cast will give a demonstration rehearsal of the fall play, "Kind Lady." Following a tour of the stage, including demonstrations of lighting, stage equipment, and makeup, refreshments will be served.

BOWHUNTERS MEET TWICE A MONTH

The "Bowhunters" of The Stout Institute hold their business meetings on the first and third Wednesdays of every month, at 7:30 p.m. in room 22 of the I.E. building. These meetings are usually followed by shooting practice in the Stout gym. All interested students are invited to come to the next meeting.

BAND OFFICERS ARE ELECTED AT PRACTICE

Officers for the band were elected at their Tuesday practice. They are: Pres. David Gresch, Vice-Pres. Betty Johansen, Sec-Treas. Rose Deuber, Prop. Mgr. Edward Clary, Librarians Ronald Anderson, Donald Koch.

The band's next appearance will be at La Crosse next Saturday evening. Buses for band members and cheer leaders will leave at 2:00 P. M. The band will do playing only, as the La Crosse band is scheduled for marching maneuvers.

P. A.'S HOLD ANNUAL RUSHING PARTY

The Pallas Athene Sorority held its rushing party Saturday, Sept. 28, at 2:00 p.m. in the Harvey Memorial.

An archway of roses formed the entrance into P. A. land for the girls. As they entered, all were given typical P. A. land attire.

The fun began as "Bunny" Benedict introduced the games. Following this came the ceremony led by Bea Anderson. As the refreshments were served, the girls were delighted to see an attractive fruit salad served. This was accompanied by assorted crackers and coffee.

POST-KOREAN VETERANS ATTEND STOUT

By Oliver Agerlie

Three students who recently were under Communist fire in the hills of Korea, and a Naval flier who survived a forced landing while flying a mission from Hawaii, are among 19 veterans attending the Stout Institute under Public Law 550. This total, made up of men who are receiving an education because of their military service since the outbreak of the Korean conflict, represents one of the state's largest enrollments of post-Korean veterans.

That veterans of the Korean conflict are greatly interested in education, and will eventually become an important factor in American higher education, can be seen by the speed in which these veterans registered in college. As Public Law 550 was not put into effect until August 20 of this year, eligible service men had only two weeks in which to make their college plans, present their applications, and begin classes at the college of their choice.

Among the veterans who saw action in Korea and who are now enrolled in Stout Institute are Warren H. Schuster, Oshkosh; Gerald H. Oberpriller, Menomonie; and Kenneth L. Lamkin, Rice Lake.

Schuster served in the battle for Hill 717 before being hit in the head by enemy mortar fire. Oberpriller served seventeen months with the 287th QM. Lamkin, as a forward observer for the Air Force attached to the Army Seventh Division, escaped from the Inchon Reservoir. Lamkin, also was the first post-Korean veteran to enroll at Stout Institute. His application was in the registrar's office on August 20, the first possible day of acceptance.

A former Navy pilot, Allan E. Reed, Menomonie, was forced to dump 20,000 pounds of cargo, and 500 gallons of gasoline into the ocean when two engines of his JRM ceased to function. The third of the four engines then operated only intermittently in mid-ocean while he was returning to Alameda, California, from a supply flight to Hawaii. The plane cleared San Francisco at a mere 1900 feet altitude and returned to Alameda many hours late.

Other post-Korean veterans enrolled at Stout include: George J. Fink, Oshkosh; Howard L. Thorpe, Stanley; John L. Oakeson, Marinette; William E. La Bine, Ontonagon, Michigan; Roland C. Beiswanger, Ridgeland; Roland E. Seager, Neenah; and Daniel K. Jeatren, Stephen E. Hansen, John Albert Anderson, Vern F. Ader, Oliver J. Agerlie, Clifford J. Schultz, Richard F. Rowe, and Robert A. Erickson, all of Menomonie.

A total of 105 veterans, including two women, attend Stout this semester. Veterans not enrolled under Public Law 550 are enrolled under laws 346, 16, 894. Post-Korean veterans not presently enrolled at Stout Institute, but who wish to register, may do so when registration for the second quarter begins, November 3.

Public Law 550 provides eligible veterans, who have served in the Armed Forces since June 27, 1950, the opportunity to make up their lost educational opportunities. Under this law, veterans pursuing a full time program receive the following monthly allowances: those with no dependents, $110; those with one dependent, $135; those with more than one dependent, $160.

Such persons are entitled to 1½ days of education for each day of active service, with a maximum of 36 months. However, veterans who have pursued earlier programs are entitled to a maximum of 48 months, less time spent in earlier program. This law also provides for such benefits as guaranteed or insured loans for homes, farms, and businesses; unemployment compensation, mustering-out pay, and job-finding help.

THREE DELTA KAPPA MEN ARE DRAFTED

When the fall semester started, the Delta Kappa fraternity counted seventeen noses within their compact group. By October 20, only fourteen will remain. Uncle Sam needed men, so he called Tom Williams, Ralph Hetzel, and Bob Cseh. Williams is already in the army and is stationed at Fort Knox, Kentucky. Hetzel and Cseh will depart on Monday, October 20.

Homecoming is approaching fast and the Delta Kappas are making plans for gala weekend. Festivities start bright and early with a breakfast at six o'clock the morning of the 18th. Many former Sigmas and Delta Kappas are slated to return to the Stout campus for the big weekend. Among the notables are Buster Braun, Moose Nicolai, Claude Klein, Gerald Jeffry, and Dirk VanDuzee.

BLUEDEVILS DEFEATED IN CONFERENCE OPENER

Falcons Take the Game 21-0, playing inspired Football all the way

The River Falls Falcons led by head coach Phil Belfiori spoiled the Blue-devils conference opener by grinding out a 21-0 decision at Nelson Field Saturday night. The Falcons, who previously had defeated Augsburg 20-0 and lost to St. Cloud 18-6, came into Menomonie a vastly inspired ball club and were led by veteran holdovers Troy Rudesill, Tom Linehan, Clair Murphy, Jerry Route, and Bobby Wood. The field generalship of transfer student Joe Burgoyne also improved the Falcons offense, which most of the time completely fooled the Bluedevil defenders.

The game opened appropriately enough with John Widmar kicking off to the Falcons Clair Murphy who roared back to the River Falls 38 following an 18 yard return. Three plays failed to gain and Steve Hansen returned Linehan's kick to the Stout 23. On the first play from scrimmage Hansen spun around end for 37 yards to the River Falls 40, but a clipping violation sent the Bluedevils reeling back to the Stout 45. Two plays failed to gain and Don Woelffer's third down pass was intercepted by Burgoyne who returned to the River Falls 47. Murphy carried down to the Stout 43 in two plays to give the Falcons their initial first down of the evening. Two pass plays gave the Falcons two more first downs to advance the ball to the Stout 22 yard line. Hubers and Wood then carried down to the Bluedevils 16 where the Stout line held.

Pass scores for Falcons
The Falcons broke the scoring ice in the second quarter. Kieffer punted from the Stout 18 to the Falcon 40 where Route was tackled after a two yard advance. Two completed passes from Murphy to Linehan put the ball in play on the Stout 37. Route picked up 6 to give the Falcons a first down plays later when Route flipped a 19 yard airail to Joe Burgoyne going away for the counter. The score became 7-0 following the first of three successful conversions by Tom Linehan. During the remainder of the second quarter the Bluedevils made several long gains, but interceptions, fumbles, or penalties hampered the Stout cause.

The third quarter again proved scoreless as both teams displayed flashes of both good and bad football. It was during this period, however, that the Falcons began a march that eventually ended in a fourth quarter touchdown. This scoring march covered a total of 80 yards in just 8 plays to send the Falcons into a two touchdown lead. Once again Route passed to Burgoyne for the score after Burgoyne's long pass to Linehan gave the Falcons a first on the Stout 26. Linehan again converted to make the score 14-0 with 14 minutes of play remaining.

The Bluedevils made a vain attempt to make yardage during the final stages of the contest but were just not up to it. With Kieffer, Van Buren, and Walker doing the brunt of the carrying it seemed at times as if the Blue-devil offense might prevail, but various incomplete passes and one fumble stymied the Bluedevils hopes of overtaking the Falcons.

River Falls scored their third and last touchdown of the encounter when Kieffer's fourth down kick was blocked down on the Bluedevil 10 yard stripe. Three plays netted the Falcons a score with Murphy going over from the four. Linehan's kick was good. When the final gun sounded the Falcons were the proud possessors of their first conference win of the season.

Whenever nature leaves a hole in a person's mind, she generally plasters it over with a thick coat of self-conceit.
—Henry Wadsworth Longfellow.

BLUEDEVILS TRAVEL TO LA CROSSE SAT.

Seeking their first win of the season, Stout's Bluedevils will travel to LaCrosse Saturday to meet the Indians in a night game at 7:30 p.m. at the La Crosse field.

La Crosse in its first year under Bill Vickroy owns a two won and one lost record. Pre game statistics favor La-Crosse, but Coach Jack Wink and his Bluedevil team will be seeking a win.

Probable backfield starters for La-Crosse will be Levenhagen at quarterback, Wangerin and Tuska at half, and Stueck at full. While in the line it may be ends Bill and Wildt, guards Mettlich and Kime, tackles Eifert and Leiman and center Bjorkl.

For Stout, Coach Wink plans to open with Lamers and Krall at end, Reimers and Widmar at tackle, Henderson and Turk at guard, and Woodmansee at center. In the backfield will be Woelffer at quarterback, Hansen and Kieffer at half, and Walker at full.

The Bluedevil backfield will be hampered by injuries received in last week's game. Stout last defeated La Crosse in 1949, and the Bluedevils would like to repeat the performance this year. A Bluedevil win would give Stout its first conference victory of the season. The game will also be the first conference contest for La Crosse, and the Indians are pointing toward a win.

GEORGE KRALL.
PLAYER OF THE WEEK

George Krall, whose home town is Mountain Iron, Minnesota, is playing in his fourth consecutive year as a Stout Bluedevil. After graduating from Mountain Iron high school in 1948, George enrolled at The Stout Institute in the fall of the same year. During his high school career, George won three letters in football, two in basketball and two in track.

In his first three seasons, George played as a running halfback, but this year, because of a weak spot in the Bluedevil forward wall, he has been shifted to end.

In the Stout backfield George gave a good account of himself with his overall speed and good ball handling. As an offensive end his fleetness afoot has made him the target of many Stout passes. On defense George can be rated no less than terrific as his opponents will verify on end run plays around his side of the line.

George is the type of ball player that can be expected to play good, hard ball throughout the entire 60 minutes on the gridiron. Standing 6' 1" and weighing 185 pounds, George is a tough man to move out of his position in the defensive line. Through his hard work, he has merited the starting assignment at right end in the last two games and appears to have this spot clinched for the remainder of the season.

George, who graduates in June, is majoring in Industrial Education at the Stout Institute. Besides playing football and doing his school work, George keeps himself busy by waiting on tables at the Campus Cafe.

Praise, like gold and diamonds, owes its value to its scarcity.
—Johnson.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

The Bluedevils have been working strenuously this week getting ready for the La Crosse Indians at La Crosse Saturday. With the Blue-devils having scored a total of 8 points in three games, it is amazing that the team has not dropped all three contests. The Stout defense, however, has limited the combined efforts of Great Lakes, Winona, and River Falls to a not too impressive 34 points for an average of 11.3 points per game or what is generally considered good enough to win most games.

The River Falls crew came into Menomonie a thoroughly inspired and mentally alert ball club. They could not help remembering the 39-0 setback that the men of Tony Storti handed them in 1951, when the Blue-devils could do no wrong and the Falcons could do nothing right. This game proved to be just the reverse of the one played last year. Stout's passing attack, which in years gone by, was the Bluedevils chief scoring weapon has been dolefully weak this far. However, this factor is not surprising when losses of player personnel are considered. Gone are such fine receivers as Ed Fandry, Herb Markley (second ranking scorer in 1951), and Bob Roloff. Fandry and Roloff would have been only sophomores this year.

CROWD SWINGS IN TO "DUFFY'S TAVERN"

The doors swung out and 300 people swung in. In case all of you Stout students are wondering about the swinging, don't worry. All the swinging took place last Saturday evening at the annual F. O. B. sponsored "Duffy's Tavern" dance.

As each dancer entered the gym, Bob Takasaki and Jim Toms relieved them of their tickets and swung open the doors to the dance floor. Refreshments, served on the house, were dispensed by four bartenders decked out in the familiar black derby, black bow tie, and white shirt. Seven gallons of punch was served to the dancers. Bartenders, who did the serving, were: Don Conacken, Guy Schramm, Bob Wong, and Joe Stebly.

Bar murals, at convenient places in the gym, were designed by John Debrauske as decorations. Music was furnished by "The Royal Blackhaws" under the direction of George Soderberg.

and could have greatly alleviated this problem. The quarterback position also has posed a severe headache to coach Jack Wink, having lost both Gale Woelffer and Wayne Weller. Added to these are the losses of Dick Cheke and Mel Zemplinski to the armed forces. This is not the time to give up on the team so let's give them all the backing that we can for tomorrow night's game at La Crosse.

Last Weeks Scores

Across the Desk . . . Saturday's contest proved to be the unveiling of Don Steele to the Bluedevil lineup. Steele, who is primarily known for his talents on the hardwood, decided to try out for the grid shortly before the Winona game. Another addition to the Bluedevil squad is Jack Aakhus brother of Charley Aakhus former West Point standout. . . Denny Chin-nock, a member of Stout's cage and golf squads the past two seasons made his appearance on the local scene a few days ago. . . Chin-nock left Tuesday for Boston, Massachusetts, where he will attend school in the Army Security program. . . One more injury befell the Bluedevils when full back Red Walker reinjured his knee against the Falcons. . . Uncle Sam is really haunting the Bluedevils as Coach Gale Woelffer and guard Bob Popovich recently received their induction notices. George Van Buren, the Bluedevil Jr. halfback from Superior, exhibited some fancy running during the River Falls and Winona games. . . At 5' 9" and 160 the shifty Van Buren appears to be the fastest member of this years backfield taking over for last years speed demon, Dick Mc Namara.

DEAN BOWMAN RETIRES AFTER FIRST SEMESTER

The Dean of Industrial Education Will Retire After 33 Years At Stout

Clyde A. Bowman, dean of the division of industrial education of The Stout Institute for 33 years, will retire at the close of the first semester in January. His request for retirement was approved by the board of trustees of the school, Friday night at Madison.

John Jarvis, associate professor of industrial education, will take the place vacated by Dean Bowman on the recommendation of President Verne C. Fryklund. Jarvis became a member of the faculty of the school in 1946, following his release from active duty in the Navy with the rank of lieutenant commander in the Navy Reserve.

Dean Bowman will be given the title of emeritus dean of industrial education upon his retirement. He plans to sell his home in Menomonie and live on the west coast where he will endeavor to discover some light occupation to his liking.

BOWMAN HALL

Bowman Hall will henceforth be the name of the industrial arts building which has been the scene of Dean Bowman's greatest activity. Change in the name was voted by the board on the recommendation of President Fryklund.

Dr. L. D. Harvey, first president of The Stout Institute, who died in the spring of 1922, will have his memory perpetuated on the campus by changing the name of the home economics building to L. D. Harvey Hall, also at the recommendation of President Fryklund and by action of the board of trustees.

Appropriate bronze plaques will be placed on the buildings.

Dean Bowman came to Stout from the faculty of the Columbia University Teachers College in the fall of 1919 as director of the division of industrial education. The title was later changed to dean.

During his service he saw the school develop from a two year training school for teachers of industrial arts and home economics to an institution conferring degrees of bachelor of science in home economics and industrial arts and education and degrees of master of arts through its graduate school.

PRODUCT OF STOUT

Dean Bowman is himself a product of Stout Institute. His father, G. L. Bowman, came to Menomonie in 1904, as principal of the Dunn County Normal School and remained in that capacity until his death. Bowman completed his high school education at Waupaca where his father had been principal of the county normal school.

He then attended the River Falls Teachers College, then called a state normal school, for two years and received his diploma. Returning to Menomonie he completed the work required for a diploma from The Stout Institute.

El Paso, Tex., was the scene of his first teaching experience. Later he taught at Stillwater, Minn., and then joined the faculty of the Stevens Point Normal School, now Central State College. He taught there for three years before obtaining a year's absence to attend the teachers college of Columbia University.

After teaching another year at Stevens Point, Bowman returned to the teachers college at Columbia as a member of the faculty, remaining there until he entered service in the Army in October, 1917.

ARMY SERVICE

Released from the Army in December, 1919, as a lieutenant, he returned to Columbia to resume his teaching, remaining there for the second semester and through the summer session before coming to The Stout Institute as director of industrial education.

During his years of teaching at Stout, Bowman won wide repute for his ability to present graphic analyses

CLIFF KYES TO PLAY AT HOMECOMING DANCE

Cliff Kyes of Mankato, Minnesota, will furnish the music for the Homecoming dance to be held October 18. Dancing will be from 9:30 to 12:30 in the high school gymnasium.

The free dance, sponsored by the SSA, will follow the Homecoming game with Eau Claire Bluegolds. As this is one of the major college activities of the school year, residence hours are extended to 1:00 a. m.

SENIOR HOMECOMING PLANS ARE STARTED

Senior homecoming plans began to roll at a senior class meeting last week. President John Christenson explained the traditional class duties for the celebration and formed committees. These committees will plan the decorations for the school, an alumni booth, and the class float.

The committee planning school decorations, is Milt Benner, Ann Rossmiller, Charmaine Chopp, Nadine Brown, Mary Lou Bohrnstedt, Ardith Weber, Joyce Applegren, and Jane Schadewald. Alumni Booth committee is Jim Cook and Dale Anderson. Those planning the float are Larry Temple, Ernie Christenson, and Joe Luetkemeyer.

With the homecoming plans completed, the seniors will meet as a class to do the work.

FRESHMEN BEGIN ON HOMECOMING DUTIES

The freshman class has been working on the arrangements for their part of the homecoming festivities. President Dave Samdahl has appointed Carl Spinti chairman of the bonfire committee, Lois Schrader chairman of the float committee, and as usual, the entire freshman class has been given complete charge of clean-up after the dance.

The bonfire will be held on Friday evening, the 17th, and the boys promise to make it a spectacular event. Coffee will be served by the girls from the dorm until 10:30, and a group of local girls will serve at 12:00.

Lois Schrader has appointed the float committee, and they are already trying to "cook up" ideas that will make it a winning float.

YOU CAN MAKE HOMECOMING A SUCCESS

Once again homecoming plans are flying thick and fast. There is much to be done and many details to be arranged. As this year's homecoming approaches let's hope that everyone will get in and push to make it the most successful one ever.

Homecoming is an opportunity for the student body to welcome back alumni. The whole student body has a part in it. Your SSA officers have been working hard for some time now to help you achieve a successful homecoming.

Each group has its own responsibility. To the freshmen goes the challenge to build a bigger and higher bonfire than the records set by preceding classes. Other classes will be busily decorating in various places; the sophomore class will be responsible for decorating the town and field; the junior class for the dance, and the senior class for the school and the setting up of the alumni booth. Many organizations are planning special events for returning alumni. In addition classes and organizations will be working on floats for the parade.

But each group is made up of individual members. Are you doing your part in making this event a success? You can willingly serve on committees, and you can pitch in by helping wherever needed. It is up to you to make these returning alumni feel welcome personally by a friendly manner as you come in contact with them next week. Don't let the responsibility rest with just a few. Remember, the success of homecoming depends on YOU.

SOPHOMORES PLAN TO DECORATE THE TOWN

The Sophomore class is busy working out its part in preparing for homecoming. Bob Moe, the president of the sophomore class and general chairman has appointed three committees:

Gloria Voight and her committee have charge of decorating the town, lamp posts, store windows, etc. Of course, all sophomores are invited to help. Other decorations may include welcome signs put up by the town and welcome alumni banners.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES MEETS IN MADISON

Business Included Recent Faculty Resignations And Appointments And Renaming Buildings

Faculty resignations and appointments, the renaming of college buildings, and presentation of biennial and quarterly budgets were items of business at a meeting of The Stout Institute Board of Trustees, held October 3, in Madison.

Special attention by President Fryklund and Board members was given the resignation of Clyde A. Bowman, dean of the division of industrial education, who submitted his resignation after 33 years at the college. The Board voted to confer upon Dean Bowman the title of emeritus dean of industrial education, and directed its secretary to transmit to him a letter expressing appreciation of the Dean's long and faithful service.

Chief among faculty appointments was that of John Jarvis, present associate professor of industrial education, who was named professor and dean of the division of industrial education. A member of the Stout Institute faculty since 1946, Mr. Jarvis will have his Ph. D. from the University of Minnesota before taking over his duties as dean.

He holds the B. S. of mechanical engineering from the University of Wisconsin, a B. S. in industrial education from The Stout Institute, and an M. S. in industrial education from Wayne University. After working as an engineer for Chevrolet Motor Company, Mr. Jarvis served in the Navy in World War II. He holds the rank of lieutenant-commander in the Naval Reserve.

Appointment of other new faculty members included Victor Hardt, formerly of the Windom schools, as assistant professor of music; Richard Klatt, formerly of Georgia Institute of Technology, as instructor of industrial education; Dr. E. Robert Rudiger, formerly in the University of Missouri graduate school, as assistant professor of industrial education; Dr. John Halgren, Menomonie physician, as college physician; and Shirley Kuhn, graduate of Minneapolis Swedish Hospital School of Nursing, as the college nurse.

In appreciation of Dean Bowman's many services to The Stout Institute, the Board of Trustees approved President Fryklund's recommendation that the Industrial Education building be renamed C. A. Bowman Hall. Dr. Fryklund described the appropriateness of this selection by saying that Dean Bowman's greatest educational activity had taken place in that building. An appropriate bronze plaque will be affixed to the building upon the Dean's retirement.

Honoring The Stout Institute's first president, Lorenzo Dow Harvey, the Trustees approved President Fryklund's recommendation that the Home Economics building of the college be named L. D. Harvey Hall. An appropriate plaque will also be placed upon the building.

Among other items of business brought to the attention of the Board was Dr. Fryklund's report on the recent Stout summer session, including the program of convocation speakers. Approval of legislative scholarships, Eichelberger scholarships and out-of-state tuition exemptions was granted by Board members.

Concluding the meeting, President Fryklund submitted to the Trustees a quarterly budget for the second quarter of 1952-53 and a proposed biennial budget for the 1953-55 biennium.

PRESIDENT FRYKLUND RETURNS TO CAMPUS

Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of The Stout Institute, has returned to the campus after representing the college at two recent educational events.

Acting as one of three judges for selecting winners of the nation-wide industrial competition sponsored by the Ford Motor company, Dr. Fryklund flew to Dearborn Michigan. He was joined by Dr. Harold Vincent, superintendent of Milwaukee schools, and Dr. Robert Smith, emeritus professor of industrial education at Ohio State University.

The panel selected 10 national winners who had submitted projects from industrial education classes. Winners were chosen from among 31 finalists, survivors of 5100 original entrants. Winners received $200 in prizes, awarded in addition to the three-day, all-expense tour furnished all finalists.

Previous to his Dearborn trip, Dr. Fryklund attended the annual conference of the Vocational Directors Association of Wisconsin, held at Delevan.

ARTS AND CRAFTS CLUB PLANS QUEEN'S CHAIR

Selection of new members and preparation of the queen's sedan chair are the immediate items of activity for the Stout Arts and Crafts Club.

On Monday evening, October 6, new members will be selected from applications received by the club. A work period will be held following the business meeting. On October 13, a regular meeting will be held followed by a pledge meeting at which time the pledge duties will be assigned.

Work on the sedan chair will begin on October 13, also and will be a joint project of both the pledges and regular members.

It is the Stout Arts and Crafts' honor to carry the queen in the homecoming parade. This is accomplished by the queen sitting in the specially constructed sedan chair which is carried on the shoulders of about twelve club members. Bearing of the queen is usually one of the more enjoyable pledge duties because everybody's eye is on the queen and therefore everybody notices who the muscular carriers are.

MISS THVEDT BECOMES A. S. A. ADVISOR

Miss C. Ardis Thvedt, art instructor, has accepted the invitation to become the faculty advisor for Alpha Sigma Alpha. The Alpha Sigs have been without an advisor since Miss Hinkley, former art instructor, resigned from the faculty last summer.

Monday evening fourteen girls were officially pledged in ceremonies held in the Harvey Memorial.

$100 LOST BECAUSE OF VANDALISM

Lost: $100!!!
Yes, that's the amount of hard-earned money from the Stout Student Association reserve fund which is lost for other student activities or projects because of the vandalism of some person who broke an ornamental stone bench on the Stout campus.

Many of you undoubtedly have noticed the broken stone seat, a bench which had been donated by the Class of 1950 to future generations of Stout Institute students. That bench was designed to afford years of comfort and beauty to our campus—until some vandal decided otherwise.

Through the splendid cooperation of the SSA, the necessary $100 has been appropriated to repair the damage. The expenditure will prove a wise one, but had the seat been left unbroken this $100 would be available for progress or for enjoyment, rather than to undo a senseless evil.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

One week until homecoming! Now is the time to prepare for the biggest event of the school year. Previous homecoming celebrations have been so successful that they are now the standards by which this year's and future homecomings are rated against. The preparation for homecoming takes much time and deliberation, with everyone pitching in and lending a helping hand.

As in other years, the big problem for this year's homecoming is the need for instilling an interest in the affair in all students. In order to obtain an ample amount of cooperation, this interest must somehow be created.

In some way, each and every Stout student should contribute something to make this year's homecoming a huge success—better than those of previous years. The success of homecoming hinges on the degree of participation of many persons, and not just that certain select few doing all the work. Remember, the only way you as students can be sure that the homecoming festivities will be a success is to put forth some effort and show a little cooperation and interest.

Let's make the 1952 homecoming one that will be impossible to duplicate.

TEA ROOM DEPICTS FRENCH ATMOSPHERE

On September 25 the Tea Room class served its first meal to the public for the coming year. The village of De Grasse, France was the first in a series of quaint eating places which will be visited during the year.

Since De Grasse is the center of the perfume world, nasturtiums, gladiolus, and dwarf zinnias were used to reproduce in part the beauty of this provincial village in which Kathleen Norris has a villa. Aqua table linens accentuated the flowers.

The foods served were typical of that local. Included on the menu were: chicken in patty shells; fish fillets; sauce meuniere; parsley potato balls; buttered peas; lettuce salad with a French dressing; crusty bread; chocolate eclairs; French pastry cake and glazed cherry tarts.

On October 2 a journey will be made to Grandma Anderson's kitchen in Wabasha, Minnesota. The menu will include various home made breads plus Cedric Adam's chocolate layer cake as specialties.

HAWAIIAN MOVIES ARE FEATURED AT WESLEY

"Hawaiian Movies" was the feature of the meeting of Wesley Student Fellowship Sunday evening. The movies showed scenes of life in Hawaii, plants, flowers, houses, parades and volcanoes. Bob Takasaka loaned the movies to the group. Everyone enjoyed the added Hawaiian music supplied by Jim Toms and Bob Wong.

Jan Benedict's committee served a supper which fit into the Hawaiian scene. The menu was Chow mein, tossed vegetable salad, hot rolls and butter, orange sherbet, cookies and milk.

The worship was presented by Vivian Barnhardt's committee. The history of hymns was the theme with a meditation on each verse.

Next Sunday will be a gala hayride with LSA. Wesley will furnish the food and LSA the transportation. Come next week to the hayride for lots of fun.

Glen Mar Studios asks that the seniors return their proofs as soon as possible.

TRI SIGMAS PLEDGE FOUR NEW MEMBERS

Formal pledging of new Sigma Sigma members took place on October 8 in the Harvey Memorial. The new Tri Sigma pledges are Celia Fritz, Doris Van Kuren, Janet Kumbier and Barbara Wormet. Following the pledging ceremony, a social get-together with singing and picture-taking was held.

TAINTER HALL WILL SERVE OPEN HOUSE TEA

When you saunter over to the open-house at the women's dormitories on Sunday afternoon, October 19, from 3:00 to 5:00, don't overlook the tea which will be served at Tainter Hall during these hours.

The food committee headed by Pat Jensen is busy searching for extra special dainties which will appeal to the masculine fancy.

"Table decorations promise to be right in keeping with the homecoming spirit and theme," comments Maria Quichocho, chairman of the decorations committee.

The dormitory girls wish to take this opportunity to invite all faculty, students, and returning alumni to attend their open-house tea.

EICHELBARGER GIRLS HOLD PAJAMA PARTY

The thirty sophomore and transfer girls living at Eichelberger Hall opened their annual series of dorm parties with a pajama party Thursday evening, October 2.

The party, which took place in the recreation room at Eichelberger, was held to better acquaint the transfer students with the other girls.

Pat Jensen, chairman of the entertainment committee, supplied the girls with various games. The girls closed the party singing favorite old songs. Refreshments of cupcakes and cocoa were on the menu for an evening snack.

DORM TAKES NEW SHAPE: 29 GIRLS GO ON DIET

For two weeks, 29 girls living at the dormitories have been on a diet. This is the largest group in many years.

The girls are not deprived of food essentials. However, they are limited to one slice per meal of Olga's delicious homemade breads. They do not have any gravies or rich desserts, but fruit is substituted for that luscious piece of pie. They can not lunch between meals or have any seconds.

They are on the diet table as long as they want to be, but may leave whenever they want to.

SKI CLUB WILL OFFER INSTRUCTION CLASSES

At the last meeting of the Stout Ski Club the president, Herb Reibe, announced that there would be classroom instruction offered to the members of the club. The instruction will be given by the members, and it will include the correct procedure for making the different types of turns and stops, how to ride a rope tow, and other maneuvers that are necessary in skiing.

The first of this series will be given by Herb Reibe at the regular meeting on Tuesday, October 21, at 7:00 p.m. in room 122 of the Home Ec. Building. He will give the new members an idea of the dangers of skiing as compared to other sports, the cost of skiing, and ideas on the care, selection, and purchase of equipment.

If you are interested in skiing you are invited to come to the next meeting.

A. P. O. MEMBERS MEET WITH SCOUT BOARD

Four members of Alpha Phi Omega, August Bell, Bob Spinti, Bruce Sorenson, and Donald Walters, participated in the Red Cedar area Boy Scout Board of Review Tuesday, September 30. Members met with the Board of Review in the I.E. building at 7 p.m. to interview scouts in the Red Cedar area who were advancing in rank.

Purpose of the Board of Review is to check scout's credentials in regard to preparedness for the next rank up, and to interview the scout for possible counselling if he has difficulties advancing in rank.

Alpha Phi Omega is deeply interested in the scouting movement, and members serving on the board of review receive valuable training handling boy scout problems and probable solutions.

MILWAUKEE ALUMNI ELECT NEW OFFICERS

The Milwaukee Alumni Association held a picnic on September 25 at which time election of officers was held. The outcome of the election will be published in the Stoutonia at a later date. A get-together is being planned during the Fall Teachers Convention. New and lost members are asked to get in touch with Frank Dummann, 191 North Broadway, Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

ROBERT MANSON SENDS HIGH SCHOOL PAPER

Another high school newspaper, the product of a Stout alumnus, has been submitted to Mr. Whydowski and Dr. Fleming by Robert Manson, (B.S. '51), who directs advanced students in printing "The Signal," the newspaper of Thomas Jefferson high school, Council Bluffs, Iowa.

According to Mr. Manson, the four page, well-illustrated semi-weekly is written by the high school journalism department and produced in the Vocational Printing class. His print shop is also responsible for the school's production output of printed matter.

According to his letter, Bob's work at Council Bluffs is progressing smoothly and he is hoping to visit Stout whenever his schedule permits.

ROBERT MORRIS NOW TEACHES AT TONY

Robert Morris, B. S. 1951, is now teaching in Tony, Wisconsin. His address is Ingraham, Wisconsin. There he is teaching three small classes. There is a plan at present to have shops in 7th and 8th grades. Bob also teaches a chemistry class.

SIG TAU PLAN ANNUAL ALUMNI BREAKFAST

The members and alumni of Sig Tau Gamma fraternity will hold their annual homecoming breakfast at the Harbor Inn at 8:00 a.m. on October 18. Invitations to the alumni of Sig Tau are in the mail and a large number of grad Sig Taus are expected to attend. Speeches from the alumni about their experiences in the field will be out on the program.

The alumni chapter of Sigma Tau Gamma will hold an important meeting after the breakfast. It is hoped that all alumni will be able to attend this meeting. Officers of Sig Tau's alumni chapter are Earl Dehne, President; Henry Roesler, Vice-president; Warren Barberg, Secretary-Treasurer; and Robert Swanson, Faculty Advisor.

Looking to the future, Sig Tau is laying the groundwork for the Rose of Sigma Tau formal dance. Sigma Tau Gamma annually sponsors this first all school formal of the season.

With pledging and hell week just around the corner, the pledge committee, chairmaned by Sam Mikitarian, Sig Tau's vice-president, is actively preparing the pledging schedule for the coming Sig Tau pledges. Sig Tau pledges will easily be recognized by their blue and white shields and helmets and gold swords.

Fred Bahr's popcorn committee reports that hard work has paid off; the popcorn and candied apple sales at Stout's home games being very gratifying. With the Golden Rule Variety Store going up in flames, Sig Tau was left without a candied apple supply. Rallying the forces of the frat Fred Bahr and Larry Smith led the group in manufacturing the delicious, golden apples.

KFS ALUMNI SERVED COURT SUMMONS

Hear Ye! Hear Ye! Know ye all men by these presents that all Kappa Phi Sigma (alias KFS) alumni are hereby requested to attend a grand old-fashioned homecoming reunion.

The afore-mentioned reunion of the above mentioned alumni will be held at the Anchor Cafe, City of Menomonie, State of Wisconsin. Feeding of the face will begin promptly at 10:00 a.m. or shortly thereafter, illnesses not withstanding.

The afore-mentioned alumni, hereafter known as the party of the first part, will have their various illnesses diagnosed by an ill-famed "Dr." Howard Heigl, hereafter known as the party of the second part. Following the bounteous (what do you expect for 75¢?) banquet, the party of the second part will officiate at ceremonies designed to bring the party of the first part up to date on campus happenings. The party of the first part is expected to reply in kind.

All of the afore-mentioned alumni are requested to inform Jack A. Luy, 314 Wilson Avenue, City of Menomonie, State of Wisconsin if they plan to visit this renowned banquet on the previously mentioned date. Postcards will be welcomed, collect telephone calls will be refused.

Signed in utter confusion this seventh day of October, in the year nineteen hundred and fifty-two.

CHICAGO HOMEMAKING GRADUATES ORGANIZE

A group of Home Economics graduates from the Chicago area have organized a group of H.E. graduates who are homemakers, writes Mrs. Audrey Keith Hanson. She is the only member from Stout and would like other graduates to join. The group meets once a month on alternate Saturdays and Wednesdays in the North Tea Room at Carson Pierie Scott's for luncheon and a program. If interested, write to Mrs. Donald Hanson, at 10210 W. Belmont, Franklin Park, Illinois.

DETROIT ALUMNI HOLD ELECTION OF OFFICERS

On May 1, 1952, through the courtesy of the Detroit Edison Company, 92 former Stout students organized under the name of "Metropolitan Detroit Alumni Association". The following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Ole Ollison; Vice President, Leroy Charlick; Secretary-treasurer, Charles Strong; Corresponding Secretary, Marian Stevens. Alfred Lamb is the Past President of the group.

RUTH HAUGE MARRIES DONALD LECLAW; BOTH ARE TEACHING

Ruth Hauge, B.S. 1951, was married on June 5 to Donald Leclaw, a graduate of River Falls State College. She and her husband are both teaching at Kewaskum, Wisconsin.

Glen Mar Studios asks that the seniors return their proofs as soon as possible.

of various types of situations and procedures in the educational field. He is the author of several articles and papers presenting the manner of development of such analyses.

He has also won renown, particularly among the graduates of The Stout Institute, for his ability, based on careful analysis of educational trends, to predict, four years in advance, the types of teaching subject matter for which there would be the greatest demand.

Miss Marjorie Bish of Chippewa Falls, and Dean Bowman were married August 23, 1917, while he was at Columbia. They have two daughters, Mary Alice, who is Mrs. Joseph Fisher, living at Ishpeming, Mich., and Nancy, Mrs. E. L. Neuffer, Milwaukee.

Successor

Jarvis, who will succeed Bowman, will receive his doctor of philosophy degree by the time he takes over his new duties at mid-year. He obtained his bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering from the University of Wisconsin, another bachelor's degree in industrial education from The Stout Institute, and a masters of science from Wayne University, Detroit, Mich. He worked two years as engineer for the Chevrolet Motor Company.

Since coming to The Stout Institute staff, Jarvis has won recognition as a leading faculty member and as an outstanding instructor in and exponent of vocational education and industrial education and industrial arts. He is 44 years of age, married and the father of two children. He is a native of Jamesville.

E. Robert Rudiger has already joined the staff of the school and will take over the work of Jarvis at the turn of the semesters. He received both bachelors and masters degrees from Stout and his doctor's degree in education from the University of Missouri. During the present semester he is taking the place of Robert Swanson, on leave of absence.

This file will contain the names and addresses of all old FOB members so that when you want to get in contact with one of the old members, or vice versa, we can be proud and happy to furnish the necessary information. So what do you say, old man, send us that address.

If you happen to be coming up for homecoming, which should prove to be a gala time, we are at this time inviting you to our annual breakfast. It will take place Saturday morning 8:30 in the Tea Room. We're hoping to see you all then; if not, don't forget to send us your address.

Sincerely,
FOB President

LA CROSSE BEATS OUR BLUEDEVILS 14-6

Stout Outplays Indians During The Second Half Though Favored to Lose

LaCrosse's championship hungry Indians took an important step toward another Wisconsin State Teachers College title by beating Stout Blue Devils 14-6 at Veterans Memorial Field in LaCrosse. The Blue Devils gave a good account of themselves and actually outplayed and outscored the Indians throughout the second half despite the fact that LaCrosse was favored by more than two touchdowns.

Indians Score Early

It did not take the Indians very long before opening the scoring in the first quarter. Jerry Tuska received John Widmar's opening kickoff on the LaCrosse 15 and ran all the way back to the Stout 36. From here it took the Indians only three plays to hit paydirt. First Tuska took the pigskin around end for a first down on the 14. After McCarthy was held to a gain of one yard, Tuska again sprinted around the flank to score standing up. Ronnie Wangerin converted, and LaCrosse jumped out to an early 7-0 lead.

Hansen Almost Breaks Loose

On the ensuing kickoff Steve Hansen grabbed the ball on the 15 and roared back to the Stout 40 before being stopped, but the Blue Devils were offside and Robarge kicked off once again. This time Hansen took the kick and for a second it appeared as if he might go all the way, but a LaCrosse tackler caught him from behind on the Indian 30. Hansen later revealed that he was just out of gas and that his legs seemed to tighten up. It is possible too that Hansen's first run took much of the wind out of him. At any rate, the Blue Devils could gain only seven yards in three plays and a moment later lost the ball on Stilp's incomplete pass to Hansen.

Tuska Scores Again

Following an exchange of punts the Indians again began to move into Stout territory. With Tuska, Wangerin, and McCarthy doing most of the carrying LaCrosse drove to the Stout 17 before McCarthy fumbled and Lamers recovered for the Blue Devils. The remaining stages of the first quarter and the early part of the second period found neither team able to penetrate the others defense. Just before the end of the half, however, Karl Turk fell on Berzinski's fumble on the Blue Devil 34, but on the succeeding play Eifert pounced on Hansen's bobble and LaCrosse had a first down on the Stout 28. Fullback Jack Stueck and quarterback Bob Kime reeled off 13 yards in two plays for another first on the Stout 15. From here Tuska swept around right end to give the Indians another touchdown. Wangerin made the second of his two successful conversions and the score read LaCrosse 14 Stout 0 at the half.

Walker Goes Over

Following the halftime intermission the Blue Devils came out of the dressing room a thoroughly rejuvenated aggregation. Hansen took the kickoff and raced back to the Stout 32 for a 17 yard return. With Walker and Ritt carrying, the Blue Devils pushed the ball to the LaCrosse 47. On the first down, Stilp faded back and hit Don Steele with a long aerial on the LaCrosse 15. Steele caught it going away and was finally brought down by Tuska on the LaCrosse 8 yard line. Hansen then drove to the three whereupon Walker banged into the endzone for the touchdown. Stilp's attempted conversion was blocked by Capt. Ted

PLAYER OF THE WEEK

George VanBuren

Playing in his third season for Stout is George Van Buren. George, who hails from Superior, Wisconsin, stands 5' 7" and weighs 160 pounds. A graduate of Superior Central high school in 1950, George enrolled at The Stout Institute in the fall of that year and reported for the first day of football practice. While attending high school, George earned three letters in football and two in basketball. When a junior he was captain of his football team and his last three years were elected to the all-city team.

George earned his varsity "S" at Stout in his sophomore year as a halfback. Thus far this year George has exhibited some fancy running in the Blue Devil backfield. In both the Winona and River Falls games his speed and shiftness reminded the fans of Stout speed demons of past seasons. In the River Falls encounter, George was Stout's leading ground gainer. Although he shares the spotlight in a halfback position with Bill Kieffer and Steve Hansen, when the play calls for a "good little man", George is there to make the needed advance.

At Stout George's favorite interest is in cars and his favorite subject naturally is auto mechanics. In the food department, steaks rank high with George although his favorite dish is chop suey. A married man this year, George is employed for part-time work at Close Sales as a general maintenance man.

Levenhagen and the Blue Devils trailed 14 - 6 with eleven minutes and nine seconds remaining in the third quarter. The remainder of the third quarter found both teams stopping the other for short gains. Red Walker did the bulk of the carrying for the Blue Devils and managed to pick up two more first downs during this time.

Play started from the LaCrosse 32 as the fourth period opened. Failing to gain in two running plays, Meyers elected to pass, but the ball fell to the ground, incomplete. Levenhagen's ensuing punt on fourth down carried to the Stout 32 where Walker carried to the 35, but a clipping penalty on the Blue Devils put the ball in play on the Stout 20. Walker gained ten yards in two tries to give the Blue Devils a first down on the 30.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

Several features of this years game with LaCrosse brought back memories of the contest played last year at Nelson Field. The final score proved to be almost identical to last years when the Indians triumphed 14-7. Another similarity occurred when Red Walker again crossed the LaCrosse goal line for the lone Blue Devil marker. The Stout fullback, however, was the only member to reappear from either teams starting backfield. Bill Kieffer, suffering from a badly bruised hip, did not see any action in Saturday's encounter, somewhat hampering the Blue Devil's offensive attack.

The Blue Devils, who were outplayed during the early stages of the contest, played inspired football during the second half and showed signs of coming out of their early season doldrums. The end play of Clarence Lamers and Don "Stainless" Steele was particularly outstanding during the final half as both sophomores made numerous tackles and refused to be taken out by the LaCrosse interference. Steele also proved entirely capable on offense throwing 3 passes for 84 yards. Lamers, meanwhile, further distinguished himself by pouncing on two fumbles. The center of the Stout defensive wall was again manned by Joe Stebly who has been as solid as the Rock of Gibraltar in the team's first four games.

It is definitely not a disgrace to lose to a team such as LaCrosse, who by virtue of this win have won three of their first four starts, losing only to St. Norberts by a score of 14-0. Interest will center around Eau Claire next week when the Indians try for their third conference win of the season facing the tough Bugolds of Eau Claire State.

PALLAS ATHENES HOLD PLEDGING PARTY

The Pallas Athenes Sorority welcomed its new members at an informal pledge party held in Dr. Marshall's room at 7:30 last Thursday night October 2.

The new members are Barbara Clemons, Mary Detlor, Nancy Elam, Joanne Fritz, Joan Gritt, Nancy Han-shus, Patricia Jenson, Diane Klemme, Virginia Lathrope, Delores Sauvey, and Ann Switzenberg.

After the pledging ceremony, a light lunch was served and songs were sung.

DR. MAUDE WILLIAMSON

CONSULTANT SPENDS EIGHT WEEKS HERE

Dr. Maude Williamson, former professor in charge of Home Economics Education of the Colorado A and M College, Fort Collins, Colorado, is spending eight weeks on The Stout Institute campus as a consultant in Home Economics Education.

For two years, 1949-51, Dr. Williamson was attached to the Headquarters of the Supreme Commander of Allied Powers in Japan in the capacity of Advisor to the Japanese Ministry of Education for Homemaking Education. Since her return she has acted as a consultant at Florida State University and was a visiting Professor at Utah State College, Logan, Utah. During the past two weeks, Dr. Williamson has held many conferences with various department heads. During the next six weeks she will work intensively with Dean Kirk and members of the Home Economics faculty in an analysis of the Home Economics curriculum.

As a service to the teachers of Wisconsin, The Stout Institute is also offering Dr. Williamson's services to vocational schools in the state. On October 13, 14, and 15, she will be in Appleton conferring with the teachers in Neenah, Menasha, Kaukauna, Kimberly and Appleton, and on October 23 and 24, she will be in Manitowoc meeting with the vocational teachers from Sturgeon Bay, Sheboygan, Two Rivers and Green Bay.

The Stout Institute is fortunate in having Dr. Williamson on the campus in the consulting capacity. She has had wide experience in the field of Vocational Education, having served as Vice President of the American Vocational Association and President of the Colorado Home Economics Association. She is widely known for her very popular text by Williamson and Lyle, "Homemaking Education in the High School".

SIG TAU WILL HOLD BREAKFAST SUNDAY

This Saturday, members and alumni of Sig Tau will be participating in an activity that is an old favorite to them. Yes, there will be food on the table at Sig Tau's annual homecoming breakfast which is to be held at the Harbor Inn, October 18, at 8:00 a.m. The food to be devoured at the breakfast will be bacon, eggs, fruit juice, toast, etc.

Replies from alumni have been pouring in and it looks like a good crowd will be on hand. Such gatherings come once a year so all alumni should have plenty of news for the group.

After the breakfast an important alumni chapter meeting will be held. All alumni who can possibly make it are urged to attend this meeting.

TOWER PICTURES ARE TO BE TAKEN MONDAY

The organization pictures for the Tower are to be taken Monday night, October 20 in the auditorium. Be sure to check the bulletin board for the time of each organization picture.

The Tower is progressing nicely, the underclassmen pictures having been completed. The dummy was sent to the engraver in Minneapolis last Wednesday for an estimate of the cost.

In order to get a reduction in cost, the staff is working to complete pictures by November 15.

QUEEN JODY WILL BE CROWNED TONIGHT

Tonight Johnny Bluedevil will attend a queen's coronation, the opening ceremony in a weekend of homecoming celebration. Following the tradition of past royalty, Betty Worthington, 1951, will crown the new queen, Jody Bain.

After the recessional the student body will proceed to the fairgrounds for the lighting of the bonfire by the co-captains of the football team. Cheerleaders, band and alumni will conspire to present a lively ceremony. A parade and snake dance will climax the evening's entertainment.

NEW GOWNS FOR THE COURT ARE BOUGHT

This year the Student Governing Board decided that the money which is usually spent for the fireworks that follow the bonfire be used to buy new gowns for the queen and her court. The new gowns are finger-tip length jackets of pinwale corduroy lined with sateen. The queen's gown is white and the attendants are blue with matching lining. Much credit is due the following girls who made the gowns: Janice Wurtz, Miriam Eckert, Mary Detlor, Carol Bredlow, Jean Baker, Donna Harvey, Colleen Mitchell, Aletha Zimmerman, Carol Schauf, and Jacqueline Frisbie.

HOMECOMING EVENTS KEEP EVERYONE BUSY

The welcome mat is out for both students and alumni this week. The SSA and school organizations have planned a full week for all concerned. As in previous years, homecoming has been the best ever and homecoming 1952 is no exception.

Returning alumni can register at the alumni booth in the Home Economics corridor today. Alumni arriving Saturday can register at the alumni booth throughout the day. Alumni planning on attending the game and the alumni dinner can purchase tickets at the registration booth.

Festivities will be highlighted Friday night by the crowning of Queen Jody Bain in the Stout auditorium by Betty Worthington, the '51 homecoming queen. Following the coronation, a torchlight parade, led by the queen and her court, will wind its way to the fairgrounds where the bonfire, built by the freshmen, will be lighted.

After the bonfire is roaring, the band will play several selections, cheers will be lead by the cheerleaders talks by returning alumni, former SSA presidents, members of the football team, the coach, and the queen and her court. Fireworks will end the festivities at the fairgrounds after the singing of the Alma Mater.

Saturday is a full day for everyone with organization breakfasts, functions, E.P.T. initiation, and last minute touches on floats.

Parade time is set for two and from all indications this year's parade will be something to see. Prizes will be awarded in three divisions: the most beautiful, the most in keeping with the theme, and the most humorous. The theme is "Bowman's Showmen Will Leave Eau Claire Foam".

As in previous years alumni will again be able to take tours through the Home Economics and Industrial Arts buildings. Much remodeling has been undertaken and completed since last year and will undoubtedly be of interest to returning alumni.

The alumni dinner will be held at 5:03 p. m. in the cafeteria and the homecoming game with Eau Claire State College will begin at 7:30 p. m.

VOCATIONAL SCHOOL BEGINS THIS WEEK

A variety of interesting courses, ranging from home nursing to driver's training, is on the agenda for the Menomonic Vocational school program, which began this week. In addition to the regularly scheduled classes, arrangements are being made to fill requests for woodworking and fly-tying classes. Later on in the semester, students of T.V.A. classes will observe and assist in some of the vocational classes.

F. O. B. MEMBERS REVIVE LITTLE BROWN JUG

In 1934, the F.O.B. fraternity introduced the "Little Brown Jug" to stimulate friendly rivalry during the football season between Eau Claire State College and the Stout Institute. Years later the jug was never replaced.

The FOB's now have another jug, similar to the old one. On the "Little Brown Jug" are two panels for the marking of scores from year to year. On the front side and back side are the monograms of Eau Claire and of Stout, painted in their school colors.

The new "Little Brown Jug" will be presented at the Homecoming dance after the game to the captain of the winning team. The jug will be kept by that team for one year. In case of a tie, the jug will remain with the previous years' winner.

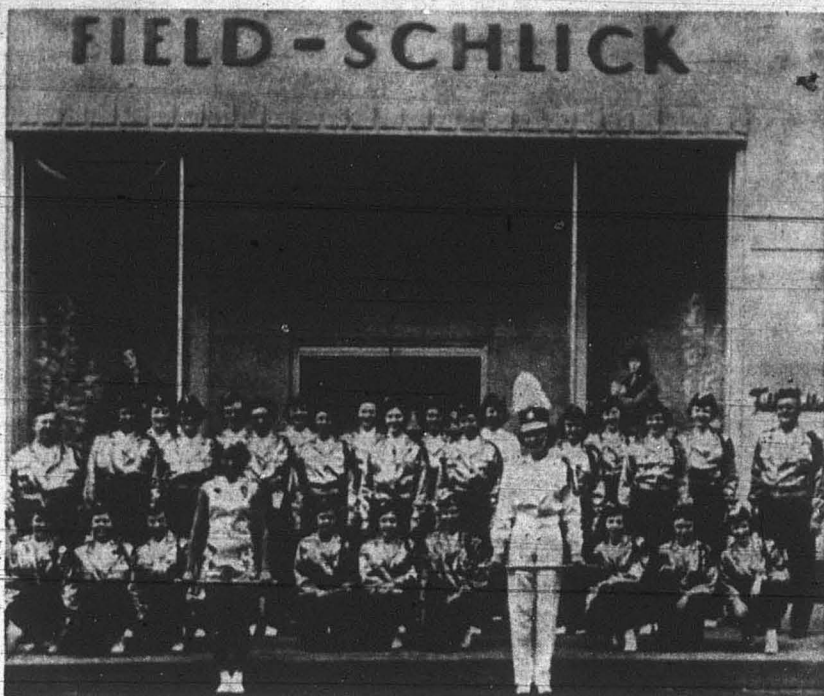

VIOLINIST AND BARITONE WILL GIVE RECITAL

Claire Wellman, concert violinist, and Robert Speaker, baritone, will present a recital at convocation on Wednesday, October 22.

Miss Wellman is an artist who is fully qualified to represent good music to large scale audiences. Her concerts have drawn only the highest praise from critics, conductors, and fellow musicians. She is possessed of a technique which need fear no cadenza, and her interpretive ability is of a nature so versatile that all music from Bach to the most radical modern art is well presented. Miss Wellman's partial itinerary includes recitals in London, Paris, Brussels, and Naples.

"Rave Reviews" have marked the career of popular young American baritone Robert Speaker. After having served four years in World War I, as a radio officer in Okinawa, Manila, and Tokyo, Mr. Speaker has made literally hundreds of appearances in concert and oratorio in more than twenty states.

As a concert artist, Robert Speaker has never failed to score great success. A leading Chicago newspaper put his name in headlines and stated that "he proved himself the possessor of an excellent baritone voice, a reliable technique and a good musical imagination." In addition to many standard oratorio and concert pieces, Mr. Speaker has appeared in such works as "Ruth" by George Schumann, "King Olaf" by Edward Elgar, and "Reguim" by Gabriel Faure.

This is the Field-Schlick Drum and Glockenspiel Corps of St. Paul, Minnesota. This band will be in our Homecoming Parade and will give a performance at 7:20 at Nelson Field Saturday night.

FIELD-SCHLICK BAND IS HERE FOR PARADE

The Field-Schlick Drum and Glockenspiel Corps of St. Paul, Minnesota, will be one of the outstanding bands of the homecoming parade. This thirty-two member group performed in Menomonic for Dairy Day and because of their excellent exhibition many of the students felt that they would provide very good entertainment for our 1952 homecoming.

The Field-Schlick Band is being sponsored jointly by the SSA and the following Menomonic business establishments:

Bank of Menomonic

Campus Cafe
Colberts' Shoe Store
Fair Store
First National Bank
Goodrich Furniture
Jones Pharmacy
Ken's Barber Shop
Kraft State Bank
Lee's Drug Store
O'Connell's TV
Stoppee Cafe
White Front

This band which is a part of the Field-Schlick Carnival Club of St. Paul features Minnesota's 14 year old champion baton twirler.

Besides marching in the homecoming parade at 2:00 o'clock they will also put on a show Saturday evening at 7:20 at Nelson Field.

HOMECOMING DANCE WILL FOLLOW GAME

Admission to the Homecoming dance to be held Saturday night in the high school gym following the Eau Claire vs Stout Institute football game will be free for all Stout students. Music will be furnished by Cliff Kyes and his orchestra.

This dance is another service of your Stout Student Association, the organization sponsoring the homecoming dance. The junior class has taken charge of the arrangements for this dance; they have decorated the gym with the homecoming theme. Murals on the outside walls will be painted by Don Duxberry, official class artist. John DeBock and Barney Styer, who are making all the arrangements, assure us that every one should find this a very successful dance.

PHI SIG PLEDGES DON PARAPHENALIA TODAY

Sunrise this morning found the new pledges of Phi Sigma Epsilon scurrying about hunting up various oddments officially known as "pledging paraphenalia."

Among other new experiences was the tying of a Texas-type string bow tie. This bright red ribbon plus sailor straws, walking canes, and various tagboard signs produce a decided list to starboard. This added ballast is all part of the bothersome (purely intentional) pledging paraphenalia.

Strutting the campus in their proud attire this homecoming weekend will be the pledges to Omega Chapter of Phi Sigma Epsilon: Oliver Agerlie, James Berray, William Buckley, Gino Casucci and Robert Moe.

PHOTOGRAPHERS HERE FROM POPULAR SCIENCE

New York Photographers To Make Film Strip Of Wood Finishing Methods

On August 27th, two professional photographers from the Popular Science Magazine flew from New York to Menomonic to make two film strips at The Stout Institute on practical finishing procedures. The preliminary steps to produce these film strips began last June, when Mr. David G. Goodman, the editor in Chief of Audio-Visual Aids of the Popular Science magazine, wrote a letter to the McKnight and McKnight Publishing Company, asking if they knew of a capable person who could help them make some film strips on finishing materials.

Mr. George Soderberg, who is assistant professor of Industrial Education at The Stout Institute and the author of Finishing Materials and Methods was the capable person selected for this job.

The photographers arrived on Wednesday and left on Friday. They put in about 10 to 18 hours a day and took 280 pictures which were all in color. The pictures were taken on various procedures to produce a professional looking finish on different woods and metals. Fifty-one dollars were spent for lumber to make the 12" x 24" panels which were used to demonstrate the various finishes. All of the pictures were taken in room 22 in the Trades Building.

In addition to the film strips, Mr. Soderberg authored all of the materials to be used with the film strips as a teaching aid. He has been working on this material since he was first notified last June and he just recently finished it. Both of these film strips, which are entitled Practical Finishing Procedures, will be sold in a series with four other film strips about lumber and carpentry. They will be ready for sale about the 15th of October and will sell for about $31.00. The purpose of these film strips is to introduce new and better finishing materials and methods, to supplement lecture demonstrations through colored film slides, to create better understanding of good finishing procedures, and to bring before the craftsman the professional procedures necessary to finish his project.

MEET THE STOUTONIA'S EXECUTIVE STAFF

DO YOU KNOW THE STOUTONIA STAFF?

In order that the students of The Stout Institute may become acquainted with the executive staff of the Stoutonia, we are presenting this brief outline of the production manager, business manager, associate editor, and editor.

The production manager, Jerry Schemansky, is a second semester sophomore from Detroit, Michigan. Interested in production and journalism, while a student at Hamtramck high school, he came to Stout well versed in the art of setting up a paper. Jerry's interests at Stout are varied. He is a member of S. T. S., Sigma Tau Gamma, A. P. O., Tower, and president of the Newman Club. Besides this, your production manager is interested in sports. He thinks that this is a wonderful country for fishing, and has in it the friendliest people he has ever met.

Closing the school and opening the golf course is the dream of business manager Milt Benner. A student from Oshkosh High, Milt worked as a dispersing clerk in the navy before entering The Stout Institute. He spent 1950-51 as the Stoutonia artist, and then gained his present office. "S" Club, F. O. B., and the assembly lyceum committee are among the activities in which Milt participates. He puts his talent for drawing to good advantage as artist for the Tower.

A very capable associate editor is found in Colleen Ceminsky. She can be found every Monday night at the usual 5:00 o'clock meeting of your Stoutonia participating in the weekly news cast. A sophomore from Montgomery, Minn., Colleen was one of the founders of the high school paper there, not only contributing her services as a reporter, but also in the life of proof and copy reading. In her freshman year she worked as a reporter and quickly advanced to associate editor. Interested especially in

Today is the day. A months preparation and expenditure of energy will enjoy one great moment and then pass into the memory of all who attend the homecoming activities as a never to be forgotten occasion on the Stout campus.

Homecoming is the time when old friends meet and new friends are made. We take pride in our alumni and we wish to take this opportunity to welcome back our alumni and wish them success in all their future undertakings.

There are a great many events taking place this week-end so indulge in all which pertain to you. Here is a brief outline of the activities for October 17, 18, 19. A complete program will be available this afternoon.

sewing, Colleen is a member of the Home Economics Club. She is also an active member of the Newman Club.

To the students at Stout, Francis Oberpriller needs no introduction. Almost everyone has seen him running down the corridor of Harvey Hall chasing a reporter for a story, or in Bowman Hall trying desperately to get your Stoutonia out on time. Even before he entered Stout in 1949, Fran was interested in news work. Not only did he work on Menomonie High's Maroon Warrior, but he took the journalism course both there and at Stout. Fran spent two and one half years as a reporter, one half year as sports editor, and then graduated to the editorship of our paper. He also has been publicity editor for Stout. Fran's one desire is to print a paper that will be interesting to both students and alumni. Because of this, he would like anyone with criticisms or suggestions to bring them to him.

Thirtieth Annual Homecoming-----

As the hours before homecoming come to a close, anxious students and alumni of The Stout Institute await the events which will prove to be both exciting and entertaining. But how many of you realize that Stout did not always have the celebration that is about to start this evening, how many of you realize that this year, homecoming 1952, is the thirtieth annual event of its kind. The October 20, 1922 Stoutonia announces the first one thus:

"This is our first real homecoming and it is a real pleasure to have this red-letter day added to the Stout Calendar, and thus give us an opportunity to see so many of our former acquaintances, and bid them a hearty welcome. Welcome you certainly are, to help make this a gala day and a fitting celebration for the first, of what we hope will be an annual event."

Not much has changed in the program since that first real homecoming. We still have the alumni breakfasts, the parade, the football game and the big dance afterwards, but each year there are more alumni that come home to see their friends and relive the memories of good old Stout.

"To you, the grads, we extend a real glad hand, for you are the founders of the day of homecoming at The Stout Institute, a day which will be remembered in the years to come."

Let's make this thirtieth year a specially happy celebration. Put your hand and heart out to the fellow you meet in the hall, at the game, parade, or dance, and make the next thirty years as happy as the first thirty have been.

Mr. Grant Reynard, famous painter and lecturer, presented "Painting My Way Across the U. S. A." at convocation Wednesday, October 8, at The Stout Institute. Mr. Reynard extended his stay at Stout, Wednesday and Thursday, during which time he painted scenes from around Stout while the students and faculty were given a chance to watch him at work.

The convocation consisted of colored slides of the paintings Mr. Reynard has made of country scenes, colleges, and other buildings. He accompanied each slide with a brief comment.

While painting on the campus, Mr. Reynard was attired in a brown checked suit with a grey cap and was using a wooden bench for his easel and a small folding chair. Mr. Reynard tried to answer all questions which were asked by numerous students as they stopped to watch him paint. Some of the questions were concerned with the materials he was using; the length of time he has been painting; the price he was asking for his paintings and various others.

Using a variety of brushes and moist water colors, Mr. Reynard completed the sketches in the afternoons which he would make in the morning. One of these was of the Tower of The Stout Institute including a fall scene.

"PEPPER POD" DEPICTED BY TEA ROOM CLASS

On October ninth, members of the Tea Room class served their third meal to the public. The Pepper Pod, a quaint eating place located in Hudson, Colorado, was the place visited.

On October sixteenth, a journey will be made to Little Sweden in Chicago, which is noted for its smorgasbord.

HELL WEEK BEGINS FOR SIG TAU PLEDGES

With a flurry of swords and shields the pledges of Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity began hell week yesterday at 5:00. The members of Sigma Tau Gamma welcome these men as pledges and with great pride, these men are placed before the eyes of the Stout campus. Easily recognized by their blue and white helmets, shields and golden swords; these men will perform many interesting tasks about the campus.

The Sig Tau pledges of the fall of 1952 are Robert Bruswick, Dick Kadotani, Jerry Sommers, George Stolp, Dick Warzinske, and Herbert Riebe.

In the past, Sigma Tau Gamma's pledging program has included activities that benefitted the school and the community; again this year such activities will be on the program.

Last year Sig Tau pioneered the idea of a longer period of pledging by having three weeks pledging instead of the traditional one week. The 1952 pledge program will be similar. The first week is hell week. The second week the pledge's regalia will be retired and the week will be devoted to the study of the fraternities' pledge manual. The history, ideals, policies, etc.

Behold, here is a list of the times and places of Sig Tau activities during hell week. Be on hand and get the most out of hell week.

Friday, October 17

12:30 - 12:55 Door guard at west door of the HE building

E. P. T. INITIATION TO BE HELD SATURDAY

The Theta chapter of Epsilon Pi Tau will hold its formal initiation Saturday, October 18, at 10:30 a.m. in the club room above the union. This initiation is for the candidates who successfully passed their oral examination which was given on Wednesday, October 15, at 7:00 p.m. in the Industrial Arts building.

The initiation will be completed with a banquet which is to be held in the Marion Hotel at 12:00 noon on Saturday. John Wilson, president of Epsilon Pi Tau, will be toastmaster at the banquet and Mr. John Jarvis, assistant professor of education, will give the welcome to the new members. Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of The Stout Institute, will be the guest speaker.

The Epsilon Pi Tau alumni who will be at Stout for the homecoming festivities are cordially invited to attend both the initiation and the banquet.

The Theta chapter of Epsilon Pi Tau, which is an international honorary professional fraternity in industrial arts and industrial-vocational education, was organized on The Stout Institute campus, May 27, 1933. At that time it was a small chapter of eight men and has since increased to a chapter of fifty-eight men on campus.

F. O. B. PLEDGING WILL BEGIN ON FRIDAY

On Friday, October 17th, the F.O.B. pledges will again put on the traditional black derbys, black bow ties, and white T-shirts and go through the week long pledging ceremonies.

The pledging committee has set up several events for the pledges to take part in throughout the week, some of which are: participation in the homecoming parade, skit night, athletic night and the informal initiation. At the end of hell week, Thursday, October 23, the pledges will be welcomed into the Phi Omega Beta fraternity at a colorful formal party.

STOUT AND EAU CLAIRE A. P. O. CHAPTERS MEET

The A. P. O. chapters of Stout and Eau Claire will hold a supper meeting at 5:00 p.m. Saturday, October 18, at the Harbor. The meeting is for the purpose of exchanging new ideas and also to promote stronger relations with the Eau Claire chapter.

After the meeting the A. P. O. members of The Stout Institute will attend the game where they will assist the spectators by acting as ushers.

An informal meeting will follow the supper which features "chicken in the basket".

HYPS PLEDGE TWELVE NEW MEMBERS

The Hyperian Sorority's pledging party was held on Monday, October 6, at 8:00 p.m. at the Trinko residence. After a pledging ceremony, a meeting was held. Refreshments of doughnuts and hot cider were served to top off the evening.

The twelve Hyperian pledges are Jody Bain, Jean Baker, Carol Bredlow, Miriam Eckert, Marilyn Freden, Jackie Frisbie, Kay Garvin, Bernadine Gunderman, Betty Jacobson, Marilyn Klusmeyer, Pat Wangen, and Kay Wedin.

TRI-SIG MEMBERS TO ATTEND CONFERENCE

The regional leadership conference of the Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority is being held at Milwaukee on October 25 and 26.

Attending, with expenses paid, will be Phyllis Allman, as president of the local chapter; Catherine Magee, treasurer; Miss Jeanne Diefenbach, faculty sponsor; and Miss Marjory Elliot, alumni advisor. Several members also expect to attend.

GAMMA DELTA PLANS FOR NEXT MEETING

There will be a meeting of Gamma Delta at St. Paul's Church on Sunday evening, October 19. Watch the bulletin board for the posters telling the time. Entertainment, lunch and Bible study are being planned.

P. A. BREAKFAST TO BE ON SUNDAY THIS YEAR

The alumni homecoming breakfast will mark the annual get-together of the members of the Pallas Athene Sorority and its alumni. The breakfast will be held Sunday morning, October 10, at 8:30 at the Anchor Cafe.

In accordance with alumni requests the P.A.'s have arranged to have their breakfast on Sunday morning instead of the usual Saturday morning for the convenience of those traveling from a great distance.

An attractive meal of orange juice, scrambled eggs, bacon or sausages and toast will be served. Following the meal, welcoming speeches will be heard.

ANNUAL BREAKFAST IS PLANNED BY HYPS

Attention all Hyperian Alumna!! Don't forget to attend the Hyperian Sorority's annual homecoming breakfast at the Hotel Marion on Saturday morning, October 18, at 9:00. We'll see you there.

ALPHA SIGS WILL HOLD ALUMNI BREAKFAST

Alpha Sigma Alpha will greet alumni and pledges at the homecoming breakfast Saturday morning. This is the occasion for old and new to meet and reminisce. Breakfast will be served at 9:30 at the Methodist Church. Co-chairmen are Nancy Ceaglske and Fran Soulek.

"BIG FOUR" WINS THE THEME CONTEST

Homecoming, style 1952, should be well on the way to reality, now that the homecoming theme is known. The "Big Four", Dale Anderson, John Christensen, Jim Cook, and August Schulz, have supplied the necessary ammunition for float ideas by submitting the winning homecoming theme.

The old adage, two heads are better than one, didn't hold true at this year's contest. Four heads, apparently, are much more successful, as this year's winners will attest. "Bowman's Showmen will leave Eau Claire Foam", was worth $5.00 to the winners.

The SSA office reports other homecoming themes were well received by students at the convocation.

SWIMMING POOL TO BE READY FOR USE SOON

According to Rudolph Roen, superintendent of buildings and grounds, the swimming pool, which is now undergoing repairs, is expected to be ready for student use in approximately three weeks. Repairs were started last week to check a fungus growth of unknown origin.

Under the direction of three engineers from St. Paul, M. J. Sommervold local contractor, is making the necessary repairs. During the past week his crew has been busy washing the walls and spraying them with a new type of disinfectant. This fungicide, proven successful in other damp places, destroys the fungi before they have a chance to grow.

At the same time the disinfecting is going on, minor repair work is being done on windows, woodwork and ventilators to put the swimming pool in first class condition.

M. A. P. MEMBERS SHOW MYSTERIES OF STAGE

Future eager Thespians of The Stout Institute were acquainted with the stage and activities of the Alpha Psi Omega at the Manual Arts Players' open house last Tuesday night.

New and continuing students of Stout climbed high among the drops, border lights, and curtains of the stage. Dressing rooms and all things connected with the stage were shown and explained by the MAP members. Students had the opportunity to see just what goes into the production of a play and just how everything works.

Mike Pavlicin, president of MAP, related the activities of the organization and how membership is obtained. He also extended an invitation to all who were interested to help on the production of the fall play, "Kind Lady." The cast of "Kind Lady" then went through a regular rehearsal for those present.

After all the mysteries of the stage were revealed, cider and doughnuts were served to all attending.

HOME MANAGEMENT GIRLS ENTERTAIN

The students leaving the Home Management House, served formal dinner to some of the faculty members which included Dean Kirk, Miss Williamson, and Miss Thvedt.

At an earlier date, the students invited friends in for an evening of bunco and a tour of the house, completing the evening by serving the girls dessert and coffee.

ARTS AND CRAFTS SELL HOMECOMING BUTTONS

The sale of homecoming buttons, float decoration, and initiation of new members are the immediate activities of the Stout Arts and Crafts club.

Get in the homecoming spirit by wearing a homecoming button. Get yours from any Arts and Crafts member or stop at the desk on the first floor of the H. E. building. For just twenty-five cents you can have one of the most attractive buttons ever offered.

On Monday evening, October 13, following a short business meeting, the entire club membership adjourned to the general mechanics shop and attached ribbons to the homecoming buttons.

Next Monday evening new members will be admitted. Six men have been pledged by the club for first semester. The new members-to-be are August Bell, John Burnett, James Castagna, Richard Kadatonia and Neil Palmer. The new members will be under the direction of a five-man pledge committee, members of which are Fred Bahr, chairman; assisted by Dufur Peters, Albert Spanheimer, Walter Westenberg, and James Zeasman.

A second committee, which has good things in store for everyone, is the foods committee. Norman Schultz is chairman of this committee and is assisted by the club's fairer members, the three girls: Ann Sipple, Carol Zuege and Miriam Miller.

An important work meeting was held Wednesday evening at Mr. Kranzsch's home. Both regular members and pledges were present to work on the float.

The Stout Arts and Crafts club wishes to welcome all alumni and particularly former club members back to the campus for this annual big event. Let's everyone join in to make this a most enjoyable homecoming.

AND YOU THINK 12:30 IS EARLY

Twelve-thirty hours may seem rather hard for the girl of 1952 to take on a Friday or Saturday night of a big dance. But Ma was just as streamlined in her day as the modern Miss is now. If you think you've got it tough, frosh, just read this and you will think differently about the problem. It seems that when Pa was courting Ma on the Stout campus back in about 1916, the girls lived in Lynwood Hall and their rules were really tough.

All lights had to be out at 9 o'clock on Friday and Saturday nights. In order to do this all girls had to be in the house at 8:00 p. m. The gentlemen interested in the members of Lynwood showed their consideration for this rule by making all plans for further engagements at the beginning of the evening.

Upon obtaining permission from the preceptress in charge, any girl was allowed to go home weekends if she was properly chaperoned by two matrons.

The girls were not allowed to attend more than one dance at Rusk during the same evening.

Have pity! These rules caused the gentlemen many hardships.

S. C. F. MEMBERS ARE STUDYING "THE ACTS"

After a short business meeting, the Stout Christian Fellowship continued their study of the "Book of Acts" under the leadership of Rose Deuber at the regular meeting Tuesday, October 7, at 7:00 p.m. in the club room. Every week a member takes part of the "Book of Acts" and leads the group in a discussion on it. All interested students are invited to come and join in the discussion at the next meeting.

SELECTIVE SERVICE TESTS WILL BE GIVEN

The number of students taking the Selective Service College Qualification Test will swell to approximately half a million with completion of the third series of tests to be given December 4, 1952, and April 23, 1953, at 1000 testing centers throughout the country.

In announcing dates of the third series, Major General Lewis B. Hershey said that 413,395 students have already taken the test. He reported that the Educational Testing Service of Princeton, New Jersey, again has been designated to prepare and administer the test on the basis of submitted bids and to send each examinee's score to selective service local boards.

Students currently deferred on the basis of test scores or class standards number about 190,000.

General Hershey emphasized that increasing manpower demands make it important that each draft-eligible student who has not taken the test do so as soon as possible.

Students whose academic year will end in January 1953 have been urged to take the December 4, 1952 test so they will have a test score in their cover sheets before the end of their academic year, at which time their boards will reopen and reconsider their cases to determine whether they should be deferred as students.

To be eligible to apply for the college deferment test a student must (1) intend to request deferment as a student; (2) be satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course of instruction; and (3) must not previously have taken Selective Service College Qualification Test.

Applicants for the test will mail application blanks for the December 4, 1952 and April 23, 1953 administrations to Education Testing Service in self-addressed envelopes, which will be given to registrants by local boards. All these cards have not yet been mailed to local boards and it was emphasized that they will not be available until after October 6, 1952.

Applications for the December 4, 1952 test must be postmarked not later than November 1, 1952. Applications postmarked after midnight of that date can not be accepted for the December test.

The present criteria for deferment as an undergraduate student are either a satisfactory score (70) on the Selective Service College Qualification Test or specified rank in class (upper half of the male freshman class, upper two thirds of the male sophomore

BOYS' COOKING SEEMS TO PLEASE EVERYONE

Reports indicate that everyone was pleased with the spaghetti and meat-ball feast given by the boys of the Newman Club last Sunday, October 5.

Plans were made for the Newman Club members to help the parish with the St. Joseph Fair. Mrs. Vanek, President of the Altar Society spoke to members in behalf of the parish. She asked them to make St. Joseph's feel like their "home" parish and that the best way to feel at "home" is to do a little "house work". Mrs. Vanek then told the Newman Club what they could do to help at the fair.

A group of boys volunteered to scrub walls in preparation for the fair on Tuesday, October 14. The girls will help as clerks in booths and wait on table.

After the business meeting the young men went to the Mission service while the girls had the honor of doing the dishes. The group enjoyed dancing the remainder of the evening.

The next meeting will be a hay ride on October 26, after which chili will be served.

CLASS PARTICIPATES IN GIRL SCOUT WORK

Again this year, girls from the educational psychology classes are actively participating in girl scout work. After a four week training period they will assist scout leaders with their troops.

These ten girls have attended classes with town women to learn the songs, activities and traditions of girl scouting. The meetings are held once a week at the Methodist church.

class, or upper three fourths of the male junior class).

Students accepted for admission or attending a graduate school prior to July 1, 1951 satisfy the criteria if their work is satisfactory. Graduate students admitted or attending after July 1, 1951 satisfy the criteria if in upper half of their classes during their senior year or make a score of 75 or better on the test. It is not mandatory for local boards to follow the criteria.

General Hershey has emphasized many times that the criteria are a flexible yard stick and that the standards may be raised anytime necessity for manpower demands.

The two forthcoming administrations of the College Qualification Test represent the eighth and ninth testing dates of the program. In the first series of tests 64 per cent of the students made 70 or better. The tests in all three series are equivalent in difficulty.

Use of tests by the Selective Service System, along with class standing, was originally based on recommendations of the six Scientific Advisory Committees appointed in 1948 by General Hershey. The Committees' report, presented by Dr. M. H. Trytten, Chairman, was made in the fall of 1950. After a subcommittee had prepared general specifications for a suitable test of scholastic aptitude, Educational Testing Service was designated as the testing agency to carry out the construction of the test and its nation-wide administration.

The Congress, in the 1951 Amendments to the Universal Military Training and Service Act, declared that adequate provision for national security requires maximum effort in the field of scientific research and development and the fullest possible utilization of the Nation's technological resources. It authorized The President to provide for the deferment of any or all categories of persons whose activity in study is found to be necessary to the maintenance of the national health, safety or interest. The intent of Congress was that these students should be deferred only until they completed their college training. Any registrant who was in a deferred classification is liable for training and service until he reaches the age of thirty-five.

L. S. A. AND WESLEY MEMBERS SEE SLIDES

Being unable to secure a wagon for their hayride, L. S. A. and Wesley kids watched the projection of slides taken by Mary Detlor on her trip to Washington D. C.

Vivian Barnhardt's committee served the supper of mashed potatoes, creamed chicken, squash, fruit salad, rolls and butter, chocolate cake and milk.

The worship service was centered around a patriotic theme with singing of national hymns and showing of national pictures.

The meeting closed with the Friendship Circle and the singing of "Blest Be The Tie." Both groups will meet separately next week.

Y. W. C. A. INITIATES NEW MEMBERS

The Harvey Memorial was the scene of the Y.W.C.A. initiation on Wednesday evening. Many new students were initiated as many of the old members looked on.

The highlight of the evening was the speaking of Dr. Williamson, who is visiting on our campus. She spoke on her travels to the Far East. Everyone enjoyed hearing Dr. Williamson's informative talk.

Edna Gaffron, president of the organization, welcomed the girls and presented the program. Lois Dickman was in charge of the affair. A business meeting was also held at this time.

L. S. A. WILL SPONSOR BREAKFAST SUNDAY

L.S.A. will sponsor its annual homecoming breakfast at Our Saviors Lutheran church on Sunday morning, October 19. Ask an L.S.A. member about the time. If you have not attended an L. S. A. homecoming breakfast before, by all means come. It is well worth the extra hour of sleep that you may have to give up.

On Sunday evening, October 19, the third in a series of seminar programs will be held. These discussions have been well received, so don't miss this one, and the final fourth program on November 9.

Plans have been made for a Gamma Delta guest night to be held October 26. Included in the program plans is a movie for the two Lutheran groups.

Welcome back all former L. S. A. homecomers. L. S. A. wishes you a most enjoyable weekend.

GRANDMA ANDERSEN'S KITCHEN PRESENTED

On Thursday, October 2, the institutional management class, under the direction of Miss Killian, had as their theme, "Grandma Andersen's Kitchen." The rust colored linens and the Pennsylvania Dutch cookery lent an atmosphere of pronounced refinement which is typical of the small Hotel Anderson which is nestled in Wabasha, Minnesota.

The menu consisted of a choice of broiled veal chops or Minnesota Wall-eyed pike with parsley butter sauce, wild rice, broccoli, fresh fruit salad, assorted relishes, assorted breads, a choice of Cedric Adam's devil's food layer cake or schaum torte, and a beverage.

PHYSICS LAB TAKES ON NEW LOOK

The physics lab., in the I. E. building, has taken on a new appearance. In case readers are wondering about the new look, curiosities may be satisfied by taking a jaunt up to the third floor in the I.E. building. Students will be amazed at the efficient manner which the new cabinets are arranged in and the new color in the rooms.

In years gone by, students and instructors hiked between the lecture room and the lab. All this hiking has been changed by the construction of a door connecting both rooms.

Another striking innovation are the new table tops in the lab room. Actually the tops are finished in "Kem Cote", a scientific process by which top finishes are preserved.

New equipment for demonstrations and lab experiments are added as the necessity arises. Old equipment that has become unserviceable or out of date is being replaced also.

Some new pieces of equipment added to the lab recently are an electric eye for demonstration purposes, Geiger counter, stroboscope, and a heat-kit for charging storage batteries.

LIBRARY IS CROWDED FOR STORAGE SPACE

The library now located in the Home Economics building will soon be replaced by the new library, which is now being built south of the campus. Students who use the library can see that we really need a new one.

There are about 20,000 books that are shelved in the library now, with an overflow of about 15,000. These books are stored in three storerooms, and also seven tables in the library are occupied by the extra books.

The library receives 335 periodicals regularly, and the shortage of space makes it harder to display them properly.

These conditions present many problems for the librarians. It is difficult to keep the shelved books straightened and to locate stored books.

NEWS OF OUR ALUMNI

ALUMNI GREETINGS FROM THE PRESIDENT

Homecoming week-end is that happy time of the college year when many of you, the alumni of The Stout Institute, return to be with us on campus. We look forward to this event as a most pleasant reunion, upon which much planning and effort have been expended by the student body and faculty

Our 1952 homecoming is of special significance, for it is dedicated to Dean Bowman, who is retiring after 33 years of service to Stout. We hope that you will take this opportunity to greet the Dean once again. We are anxious also that you observe the progress which has been made on our new library and that you visit the home economics laboratories which have recently been placed in service.

Whether you are with us in person or in spirit, we want all our alumni to share with us such traditional homecoming events as the bonfire, the parade, the football game, the organizational reunions, and the alumni dinner. Yes, this week-end will be packed with fun and reminiscence for all of you. Welcome home!

PHI U'S ORGANIZE AN ALUMNI CHAPTER

Tau Chapter of Phi Upsilon Omicron is organizing an alumni chapter as part of the professional work for the year. All interested Phi Upsilon Omicron alumni that are in the Menomonie vicinity and would be able to attend alumni meetings are urged to contact the Tau chapter.

Double post cards will be sent to all alumni in order to enable them to mail back their replies. Interested alumni that attend homecoming should be sure to sign the notice which will be posted on the new Phi U bulletin board in the hall of the H. E. building.

ADDRESSES OF CLASS OF '52 ARE WANTED

All graduates of the class of 1952 are reminded to send their addresses to Dr. Robert Rudiger, National Alumni Secretary, Menomonie, Wisconsin. As members of the class of 1952, they are automatically paid-up alumni members. However, the Stoutonia can not be mailed to them unless their address is on file. Let's have that address!

ALUMNI REGISTRATION BOOTH IS SET UP

All alumni returning for homecoming are asked to register at the booth which will be set up on the first floor corridor of the H.E. building. The booth will be open for registration Friday afternoon and all day Saturday. Alumni banquet tickets and reserved football tickets will be available at the booth.

Provisions will also be made for collecting alumni dues at the booth for your convenience. This year a Student Directory will be placed at the booth to assist you in locating persons on the campus. In addition to this, paper will be provided whereby alumni members can jot down news items for publication in the Stoutonia. Try to bring along some short item of news that will contribute to our alumni news section in the Stoutonia.

ALL ALUMNI RECEIVE TREASURER'S REPORT

All members of the Alumni Association have received a treasurer's report, an information blank concerning alumni gatherings, and a form for renewing membership. The membership dues are $2.00 per year with a provision for a joint husband and wife membership for the same price. Life memberships are still $30.00, with two thirds of this amount being earmarked for the scholarship fund.

No Stoutonia will be mailed to members after November 15 unless their dues are paid. Help us by paying your dues promptly.

HOMECOMING GAME LINE-UP IS ANNOUNCED

The Eau Claire Bluegolds will be seeking their first conference win of the season when they meet the Blue-devils at Nelson Field Saturday night. Victims of a heartbreaking 25-24 loss to Superior and a 32-6 pounding by the LaCrosse Indians last week, the Blue-devils at Nelson Field Saturday night. Mankato 35-20 and tied the Falcons of River Falls 13-13.

The overwhelming loss to LaCrosse came as a distinct surprise to a majority of the Bluegold boosters as the Indians completely outplayed and out-charged the Eau Claire entry. As in their game with Stout, LaCrosse opened the scoring shortly after the opening whistle. This scoring thrust seemed to rattle the Bluegolds to such an extent that they never could get a sustained march underway.

Spearheading the Bluegold attack against the Bluedevils will be Bill Casey, senior halfback from Eau Claire. At 5' 11" and 185 lbs., the fleet footed Casey has exhibited some fancy running in games played thus far this season. Casey also handles much of the passing and punting chores for the Bluegolds and can be regarded as a definite threat every time that he handles the ball. Other members of the Bluegold backfield slated to start are: Rolfe Vierbecker, 6'0", 195 lbs.; Darrel Snell, 5'8", 180 lbs., and Gordon Schofield 6'0", 194 lbs. Vierbecker, a sophomore from Clintonville, tallied the lone touchdown against LaCrosse when he took a twenty yard pitch from Casey in the fourth quarter. Schofield, a twenty-one year old senior from Cameron, is expected to most of the passing against the Bluedevils, while Snell is regarded as a powerful and deceptive runner.

Eau Claire is again fortunate to have veteran Gene Johnson, at the end posts. Galuska at 6'1" and 195 lbs. is also a key performer on Bill Zorn's cage squad. An outstanding lineman on the Bluegold roster is big Mario Braga, a 220 pound tackle from Detroit. Braga, who is twenty-seven years old, is a two time letterwinner and is expected to play a 60 minute game in the Bluegold line.

HERE ARE BOWMAN'S SHOWMEN FOR THE HOMECOMING GAME

PHI U'S HOLD SEVERAL BUSINESS MEETINGS

The Tau Chapter of Phi Upsilon Omicron has held several business meetings this fall. The highlight of the first meeting was the report on the Phi U conclave. President Charmaine Chopp told of her experiences and points of interest that she saw on her trip to conclave which was held at Buffalo State Teachers College in Buffalo, New York, last June.

September 29 a dessert meeting was held at Dean Kirk's apartment. After the lunch of torte and coffee, final plans were made for the professional work during the year. So that Phi U will become better known on the campus, the organization will have a bulletin board in the corridor of the HE building. Also, as a new professional work project for this year the organization will make scrapbooks for the nursery school. This will consist of zippers, buttons, and other things that will be learning activities for the children. The Tau Chapter is also making plans to organize an alumni chapter in this area.

DIETETICS CLUB HOLDS SUPPER MEETING

On October sixth, the Dietetics club held a supper meeting in the tea room. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss the Christmas fruit cake sale and the American Dietetics Association's Convention which will be held in the Twin Cities October 21 and 22. Phyllis Allman, Marilyn Eckstein, and Joyce Callen will be in charge of the fruit cake sale. Estimates on the cost of the cakes ranged from $1.00 to $1.90. They will be ready shortly before Christmas vacation.

The entire Dietetics club plans on attending the American Dietetics Association convention on October 22. Iris Ruf, who has charge of transportation, is arranging for a bus which will leave the school at 7:00.

RIFLE CLUB TO MEET UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO

October 25 marks the opening match for the Stout Rifle Club when they compete against the University of Idaho for the first contest of the 1952-53 season.

When the first round is fired, the Stout Rifle Club will be ready to give any club that challenges the team a run for their money. With such sharpshooters as Hugh Schmahl, Stan Meyer, DeWayne Nevin and others from last year and with many straight shooters who joined this year, the club has hopes of a very successful season.

STEVEN'S POINT ROUTS BLUEDEVILS 27-0

Pointers score 3 times in final stanza after Leading 7-0 at half.

The Stout Bluedevils made their fifth bid of the season for their first victory, but the Pointers of Head coach John Roberts had other ideas, as Stevens Point, playing with only thirteen returning lettermen and a vast majority of freshmen, soundly trounced the Bluedevils 27-0. Playing out of a straight T-formation, the Pointers were led by quarterback Don Herman, fullback, Norbert "Nubs" Miller, and freshmen halfbacks Jim Giordonna and Russ Stimac.

Woelffer's Punt Blocked.
During the first half, the Pointers badly outplayed and outcharged the Bluedevils, gaining ten first downs to the visitors two. The lone score, however, occurred as a result of a blocked punt on the first play of the second quarter. On fourth down and a yard to go, Don Woelffer attempted to punt from the ten yard line, but Joe Sontag, the middle linebacker, roared through to block it and Stevens Point regained possession on the Bluedevil 5. Giordonna cracked the line twice and went over from the one yard marker to send the Pointers into an early lead. Alton Due of Clintonville converted and the score read 7-0 in favor of the Pointers.

Point Threatens Again
After Bill Kieffer had returned Mark Schommers' ensuing kickoff to the Bluedevil 22, Kieffer and Red Walker banged to the 33 giving Stout its second and last first down of the half. After three plays gained nine yards, Stilt called Walker through the middle, but the redhead was stopped short of a first down and the Pointers gained possession on the Stout 42. The Bluedevils, however, received a good break two plays later when Miller fumbled and Stebly recovered on the 41. But three plays failed to gain and on the fourth down George Van Buren punted to Joe Sanks on the Point 27. Following this punt return, the Pointers racked up five successive first downs with Giordonna, Miller, and Hermna, sparking the attack. With first and ten on the Bluedevil 14, two Herman passes missed the mark. On third down the old statue of liberty play gained 4 yards with Byron Purchatzke carrying to the ten. Here the Pointers failed in their bid for another counter as a Herman to Purchatzke screen pass failed to gain the necessary yardage. Stout took over and the half ended one play later with Walker carrying for a three yard advance.

Bluedevil Drive Fails
As the second half opened, Mark

Schommers kicked to Van Buren, who returned to the Stout 31. Kieffer made seven in two tries and Walker carried to the 41 for a first down. On first down, Stilt hit Don Steele with a buttonhook pass on the Stout 48. One play later Walker had a first on the Point 47. Another Stilt completion, this time to Neil Hoepfner, put the ball in play on the 34. Kieffer and Walker then roared to the 24 in two plays giving the Bluedevils their fourth successive first down at this point. On third down and seven, Stilt again fired to Steele who advanced to the Point 10 yard line. Here Walker gained a yard before an offside penalty on Stout made it second and fourteen. On the succeeding play Stilt's pass just eluded Walker's grasp and on third down Kieffer, fading to pass, was smeared on the 25, fumbled when hit, and the Pointers took over.

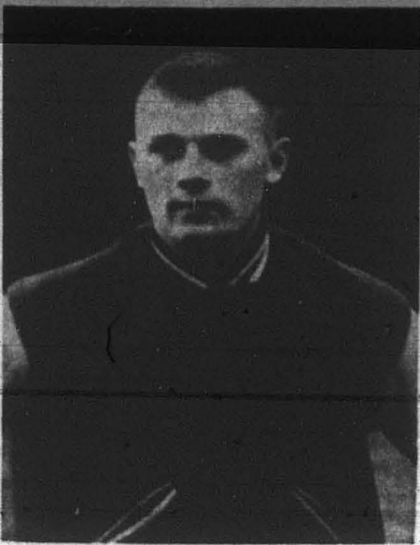

76 Yards In 10 Plays
After Sanks took Woelffer's fourth down punt to the Point 24, Stevens Point began another scoring march. Miller and Giordonna picked up eleven in two plays and Point had a first on the 36. Russ Stimac then circled the Bluedevil flank for a 12 yard advance to the Point 48, before "Nubs" Miller carried all the way down to the Bluedevil 32. Giordonna, Miller, and Stimac carried to a first down on the Stout 10 as the third quarter ended. It took the Point fullback just three plays to score and a moment later Due converted to give the Purple and Gold a 14-0 lead.

Stimac Goes 42 Yards
Midway in the fourth quarter Purchatzky returned Woelffer's punt to the Point 30. In three plays Russ Stimac gained 70 yards, finally running around right end for the touchdown from 42 yards out. Due's attempted conversion was wide of the mark and the Pointers had an insurmountable lead. Stevens Point added their fourth and final touchdown later when Woelffer punted to the Stout forty where Purchatzky returned 9 yards to the 31. On the very first play from scrimmage Sid Davidson of Waupaca raced 31 yards around left end to score standing up. Due made his third conversion in four attempts and the game ended moments later with Stevens Point deserving the 27-0 victory.

PLAYERS OF THE WEEK

TOM STILT

Returning to the Stout line-up after acting as an assistant to Coach Wink for the first part of the season is Tom Stilt. Tom, whose home town is Neenah, Wisconsin, is not a new face to the Bluedevil line-up.

After graduating from Neenah High in 1947, Tom enrolled at the University of Minnesota. During his high school career Tom won three letters in both football and track and also two in basketball. As a senior he was captain of his football team and was elected to a conference position for three years for his football ability and two years for his basketball prowess.

At Minnesota Tom won a numeral on the freshmen squad and the following year transferred to the Stout Institute. Because of the ineligibility ruling Tom didn't play football during the 1948 season. Then during the summer of 1949 he broke his kneecap in a sandlot workout and was lost for the entire season. In 1950 Tom got his first chance on the Stout Bluedevil team and performed at a halfback position in the defensive backfield. As a right halfback he earned his varsity "S".

Last year, because his knee bothered him, Tom acted in the capacity of backfield coach. This year, up until the LaCrosse game, he performed the duties of assistant coach, but because of the loss of quarterback Mel Zemplinski to the armed forces, Tom stepped into the picture again.

At Stout Tom is majoring in Industrial Education with his major interest in the woods area. A senior this year, Tom graduates in June.

JOHN WIDMAR

John Widmar, who claims Crosby, Minnesota, as his home town, is in his third season as a Stout Bluedevil tackle. John graduated from Crosby Ironton high school in 1948, where he starred in football, basketball, and baseball the full four years of his attendance. John was chosen for the all-state high school basketball team in his junior year and as a senior captained the basketball team.

In his first season of football at Stout, John won his varsity letter. Last year he was elected to a first string tackle position on the all-conference state college team.

John plays both offensive and defensive tackle, the coach taking advantage of his 6' 205 pound frame. As in his first two seasons, John is playing "heads up" football all the way and remains the top mainstay of the Bluedevil line. His ability to break up enemy plays and get his man, tags him as the enemies number one man to stop.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

With the conference football season more than half over, Wisconsin State Teachers College students, alumni and fans have begun to wonder who the 1952 champions will be. La Crosse, defending champion, and winner of two north division starts without a setback must be established as the favorite. But River Falls by virtue of a 20-14 win over Superior also appears headed for a strong finish. Indeed, the game of the season might well be the River Falls-La Crosse encounter on October 25. La Crosse, in a game that was supposed to be close, routed an inferior Eau Claire to the tune of 33 - 6 last Thursday night. The Bluegolds had earlier lost to Superior 25 - 24 and tied the Falcons 13 - 13. Hard running by veteran backs Jerry Tuska, Ronnie Wangerin, Bob Keim, and Bob Stueck featured the Indians game with the Bluegolds. The Eau Claire offense primarily built around Bill Casey failed to materialize while the Bugold tackling and blocking looked extremely bad. Stevens Point, meanwhile, seems to hold the upper hand in the southern conference. Their victory over the Bluedevils proved that early wins over Oshkosh and Milwaukee were not mere accidents. Whitewater travels to Stevens Point tomorrow for the Pointers homecoming. The Quakers have not fared too well thus far this season and cannot be ruled as a threat for the conference title.

The Bluedevils homecoming game with the Bugolds should prove to be an interesting affair. All previous records go into the fire when these traditional rivals meet. Both teams should be up for this game as neither club gave their best performance last week. The lack of spirit was obvious at the Stevens Point game so let's get behind the team and win our first of the season at home tomorrow night.

POLITICS CLASS SPONSORS STRAW VOTE

November 4 is drawing closer and closer, and questions are floating through the air. "Who will win this critical election?" "Will Senator Joe McCarthy be defeated by Fairchild?" There are many newly turned twenty-oners who are eagerly awaiting their first chance at voting, and those who just miss the day are moaning.

But - - - everyone at The Stout Institute will have a chance to appear at the polls to vote! The American Politics class is sponsoring a straw vote on October 28 - - one week before the national elections. Everyone - any age - is urged to appear at the polls in front of the Harvey Memorial and cast their ballot. The students will have a chance to cast their vote for either Stevenson or Eisenhower for president or McCarthy or Fairchild for senator from Wisconsin.

Will this straw vote be an indication of the way in which the national election will go??? Cast your vote, and the results will be published in the Oct. 31 issue of the Stoutonia.

Remember, every time you open your mouth to talk, your mind walks out and parades up and down the words.—Edwin H. Stuart.

Across the Desk.....Tom Stilt retired from the coaching lines two weeks ago to give the Bluedevils a terrific boost at the quarterback slot.....Stilt last played for Stout in 1950 and has assisted Tony Storti and Jack Wink since then.....Tom is one of the best liked players on the squad and his fellow teammates will tell you that there is no finer competitor or team player in the game than the 5' 9" 180 pounder from Neenah.....Steve Hansen was injured just a few plays after the game started against Point, when a cleat snared him just under the left eye.....Steve did not see any action during the remainder of the game which greatly damaged the Bluedevil ground attack.....Manager "Barney" Styer pulled a rock at Stevens Point prior to game time when he locked a few items in a locker along with the key to the lock.....Coach Jack Wink had a sharp looking pair of shoes until Don Woelffer decided to spill a bottle of tough skin over them.....Don's brother Gale will see his last Bluedevil game for awhile as he will depart for army duty sometime next week.....

Wally Christensen erstwhile tennis player and coach was seen at the Point game Saturday night.....An outstanding golfer in the Wisconsin State Teachers College Conference was recently chosen captain by his teammates.....He is Ted Levenhagen, a rugged 165 pound linebacker and punter for the LaCrosse Indians.

MR. RICH IS DELEGATE TO CONFERENCE

Mr. C. L. Rich represented Stout Institute at the National Electronics conference held recently in Chicago.

Professor Rich found that advancement in this science is increasing at an ever-faster rate, pointing out such examples as the automatic control of all types of machines used in industry; automatic control of lighting conditions; of communication, of transportation; and automatic control in the field of nucleonics. The armed services, without question, are getting the most attention just at present, Professor Rich discovered.

About 20,000 persons attended the conference. While most of these people were from all parts of the United States, a number were from other countries. Many universities and colleges sent representatives.

Huge exhibits were offered by many of the big companies, with smaller exhibits being presented by the smaller companies. Such exhibits included automatic flight control, all sorts of time machines, many types of calculating machines, and nuclear counters and devices.

Lectures were continual in three separate rooms from 9 to 12 and 1:30 to 4:00 on each of the three days, each room having speakers taking up a separate and distinct branch of electronics each half day. A total of twenty-one different classifications were represented, including memory tubes, computers, television, radar, recording techniques, etc. Each speaker used slides showing the various circuits used for his particular topic. Many of these lectures were highly technical, while others were within reach of even the layman's understanding.

Mr. Rich states he missed some lectures he would like to have heard, inasmuch as three were always being given at the same time and in different rooms.

Again this year, even more than last, representative of the larger companies were present in force, seeking interviews with those interested who might qualify for jobs and positions being offered. A number of these representatives had separate rooms assigned to them. Mr. Rich stressed the fact that men specializing in this field are much in demand.

CAST YOUR STRAW FOR PRESIDENT

Hear ye! Hear ye! Voting for president and U. S. senator from Wisconsin will be held for all Stout students in front of the Harvey Memorial on Tuesday, October 28th.

This straw vote is being sponsored by the American Politics class under the direction of Dr. Agnew in order to see whether or not the Stout vote will be indicative of the national vote. The results will be published in the Oct. 31 issue of the Stoutonia.

Come on and vote! Here is your chance to practice for Nov. 4th; and if you aren't of legal age you may still have the thrill of voting.

1952 HOMECOMING WAS A SUCCESS

During the past few weeks, the main topic on the campus was homecoming. Everyone was urged to give his best to participate in any way he could to make the 1952 homecoming a success.

Now that the big weekend has come and gone, it is time for us to look back over the festivities. We can be proud of the fine celebrations we had planned, and we can be even more pleased if we know that we worked hard to make the homecoming a joyous one for the alumni.

Everyone, the football team, classes, organizations, individuals, and returning alumni, is given a vote of thanks for making the thirtieth annual homecoming a real anniversary.

NEWMAN CLUB WILL GO ON HAY RIDE

"We're going on a hay ride October 26, starting at 6:15 from St. Joseph's Hall," reports the Newman Club. Everyone is invited.

Francis Oberpriller and Al Stralbeck are co-chairmen, while Don Walters is in charge of transportation.

Joan Gritt is chairman of the food committee. She is assisted by Carolyn Schauf, Carol Blaney, Delores Sauey, Margie Fitzgerald and Bernie Gunderman. They promise bowls of chile at the end of the ride, to be followed by dancing.

No matter what the weather, the committee says bundle up and come to its real old fashioned hayride. Fun for all is promised.

ALL COLLEGE DORMITORIES OFFER THEIR ANNUAL OPEN HOUSE TEAS

One of the visitors is pictured above as he signs the guest register upon entering Tainter Annex.

Girls Conduct Visitors Through The Rooms and Serve Tea as Finale

Approximately 150 people took advantage of the opportunity to get an "inside view" of the girls' dorms on Sunday, October 19, from 3 to 5 o'clock.

Visitors to Eichlberger, which was renamed "Queen's Castle" for the homecoming weekend, were welcomed by Queen Jody, who was seated on a throne in the reception room. The white runner leading to the throne and the guards stationed at the entrance gave a royal atmosphere to the dorm.

A false ceiling of blue and white crepe paper plus representatives of football players on the walls gave Tainter Annex a festive look. Each of the rooms had some door decoration or other expression of welcome for the open house visitors, and many rooms had guest registers for names, addresses, and comments.

The usual "homey" atmosphere of Tainter Hall prevailed as guides took visitors on tours to the rooms. Pictures of the occupants or maps depicting the occupants' home towns were seen on several doors.

After the completion of this tour, guests were invited to the candlelight tea in the living room. A centerpiece consisting of an S of blue mums centered in a square of white mums, accentuated the array of sandwiches, cakes, nuts and mints on the tea table.

The vice presidents of the dorms, Jean Baker, Joyce Fraedrich, and Barbara Rushing were in charge of the open house, while Pat Jensen was chairman of the food committee and Marie Quehio directed decorations for the tea.

LYNWOOD HALL BOYS PREPARE FOR REAL TEST

Girls, your chance has come to get revenge and prove that you, too, can find the dust in forgotten corners! On Sunday, November 2, from 2 to 4 o'clock, Lynwood dormitory will open its doors for the annual open house.

Guests will be guided through the rooms by Ken Geski, Carl Spinti, John Glodowski, Darrell Prems, George Ueda, Tom Semmers, Walt Hovey, Zane Zander and Larry Bruno. In addition to the tours of the rooms, lunch will be served under the direction of Bruce Leonard and his committee. The publicity is being handled by Emil Spehar, with Don Hilgendorf seeing that the invitations are sent. The general planning is being handled by Harold Thorpe.

HOME EC CLUB HOLDS 'DREAM DAZZLE DANCE'

The Home Economics club has chosen "Dazzle Dream Dance" as the theme of their annual record hop. This dance will be held in the Stout gym this Saturday evening, October 25. Dancing to many big name bands will begin at 8 p.m.

The admission is 25 cents for couples and 15 cents for singles. The Home Economics club hopes that these lower prices will encourage many students to attend the dance.

Jo Gritt and Virginia Lathrope are co-chairmen of this event. They have been working with the following committees: decorations—Barbara Clemmons, Fern Swenson, Doris Aeschliman, Doris Hutchinson, Pat Casberg, Joan Stegeman, Barb Brown, and Carol Tickler; records—Mary McIlquham and Margie Fitzgerald; posters—Jody Bain, Jean Robey, and Mary Gehler; tickets—Delores Sauey, Carlene Polivka, Ruth Vance, Mary Louise Buol, Rosemary Haas, Roberta Haskins, and JoAnn Chamberlain; entertainment—Rose Peper, Dianne Klemme, and Carolyn Solem.

The Home Economics club extends an invitation to all students to attend their Dazzle Dream Dance tomorrow night.

DR. SALYER GIVES REPORT ON WORKSHOP

Dr. Guy Salyer recently reported to the college faculty on his activities as Stout's representative last summer at the North Central Workshop on Teacher Education, held on the University of Minnesota campus.

According to Dr. Salyer, twenty-two teacher-training institutions of the North Central area were represented. Among Wisconsin institutions participating were Stout Institute and state colleges at Stevens Point, Eau Claire, Platteville, and River Falls.

Eight staff members directed workshop activities. These persons included John Jacobs, Emporia Teachers college; Paul Grim, University of Minnesota; Gordon Mork, University of Minnesota; George Hill, Ohio university; Ernest Mahan, Pittsburg Teachers college; H. W. Renninger, Iowa Teachers college; Ed Potthoff, University of Illinois; C. H. Allen, Missouri State Teachers. Additional resource persons were available from the University of Minnesota staff.

Working in small groups on group projects, participants did research in the following fields: instruction, general education, student personnel, and faculty organization. Combined reports from these groups are soon to be available.

Dr. Salyer participated in study groups of general education and laboratory experiences. He was also able to attend a number of committee meetings dealing with the other topics under consideration at the workshop.

In reporting to the faculty, Dr. Salyer listed the following educational considerations as those emphasized by workshops in 1951 and again in 1952:

Study committees as excellent means for faculty growth and experience.

College administrators becoming much more interested in teachers who have a viewpoint of the whole college rather than a narrower viewpoint of an individual subject-matter field.

Use of some part of an instructor's time for institutional betterment.

Use by some institutions of a few days for a retreat at the opening of the school year for faculty discussion of institutional problems. Institutional studies leading to a better understanding between teachers and administrators and between academic and professional departments.

Reflective thinking as a goal in education which uses facts to solve problems rather than uses facts as ends in themselves.

Additional relevant information presented by Dr. Salyer showed that 138 members of various college faculties have been trained in North Central workshops, that 115 have attended one workshop, that 17 have attended two workshops, and that 6 have attended three workshops or more.

Dr. Salyer also pointed out that he could obtain North Central resource files for interested faculty members and urged all the faculty to read an article on the North Central project, that article appearing in the July 5 issue of School and Society.

Two future events growing out of the North Central project were mentioned by the speaker. He indicated that Dr. C. H. Allen, director of personnel at Missouri State Teachers college, would pay a coordinator's visit to Stout and other state colleges in this area, probably in November.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

It's hard to realize that in just one more week's time we will have filled the pages of a quarter of this year's calendar at Stout. These pages have been covered with so many scribbled memoranda that some days even the margins had to be used.

Perhaps it would be wise to jot down another very important memorandum right now. What have our class assignments been these past eight weeks? Have we kept up with them? In another week most of us will be given a chance to show the results of our efforts when we take our mid-semester exams.

Let's be fair to ourselves. Let's keep in mind what our goals were in coming to Stout, and let's prove to ourselves that we are fulfilling these goals by doing well on those nine weeks' test.

So let's gather up the loose ends that were set aside in the rush of homecoming preparations. Let's star a memorandum to read those last few chapters of the text, review those notes, and think through those important principles. Let's do a preparation job you'll be proud of and one that will add to the future which we are building everyday.

J.F.

SSA MESSAGE

The big weekend is over and now the 1952 homecoming is a memory that will long be talked about by students, faculty, and alumni.

It really was swell to see that so many alumni could make it back and they contributed a great deal to the success of our homecoming.

Perhaps the biggest event was the winning of the homecoming game. Our team really played excellent ball, as they completely dominated the play and romped to an easy 35-0 victory over our traditional rival—Eau Claire. The support the student body showed was overwhelming and was a paramount factor in the win. Let's not forget that spirit in our remaining games.

Hats off to the A. P. O., Alpha Sigma Alpha, and Sig Tau for their excellent floats. We also send our thanks to the senior class for their decoration of the buildings, to the junior class for the beautiful gym decoration, to the sophomore class for their clever decorations of the town, and last but not least, hats off to the freshmen for a terrific bonfire.

Remember, only one more week until the first nine weeks are over!

Don't forget the Home Ec Club "Dazzle Dream Dance" tomorrow night.

Your SSA Officers,
Dick, Jack, George, Ann

ROSE OF SIGMA TAU FORMAL TO BE NOV. 8TH

As the successful homecoming week end drew to a close, the efforts of the men of Sigma Tau Gamma were directed toward preparation for the first all school formal dance of the year. The Rose of Sigma Tau formal is presented each fall for the enjoyment of all the Stout students. In realization of the fact that this is the only all-school formal of the semester the Sig Tau dance committee is working harder than ever before in an effort to make this one of the biggest and best formals of the year.

This year's dance has been scheduled for November 8, early enough so as not to interfere with deer season and long enough after homecoming to keep the school's social calendar full and well balanced.

In keeping with the fraternities 32 year old nation wide tradition, Stout's chapter of Sigma Tau Gamma will again this year select a girl to reign over the dance and forthcoming activities as "Rose of Sigma Tau". Last year's Rose was Noreen Kahl Cook who has been preceded by Rose Christenson and Beverly Ryder.

As in years past, the dance will be held in the Stout gymnasium. Tickets will be on sale for two weeks, starting Monday October 27; at this time tickets may be obtained either from fraternity members or from the ticket booth in the H E corridor. General chairman for the formal will be Jim Brown. Assisting him will be Lawrence Smith who will take charge of printing tickets and programs. Other members of the committee handling the dance are Jerry Schemansky, Dave Gresch, Fred Bahr, and Dick Duthler.

Y W. C. A. GIRLS WILL TAKE ON ODD JOBS

Wanted: Miscellaneous jobs to earn money for a conference fund for the Y. W. C. A.

Y. W. C. A. members ask that anyone having work to be done such as baby sitting, washing, ironing, etc. please contact any Y. W. C. A. member.

The money earned will be used to help send members to the Y conferences held each spring and fall. This fall it will be held at Camp Iduhapie near Minneapolis. If you can use professional student help, contact Mrs. Mathew Reneson at 515 R Monday through Friday October 24—November 7 between the hours of nine and five.

F. O. B. BREAKFAST IS HELD IN TEA ROOM

HOME EC CLUB WILL HEAR DR. WILLIAMSON

Dr. Williamson will speak on clothing problems of Japan on Tuesday, October 28, at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium. She will use her collection of twenty kimonos and haories (kimono jackets), for different ages as illustrative material during her discussion of the clothing problems of Japanese women. These costumes will be modeled by some of the Home Economics Club members.

ALPHA SIGMA ALPHA HOLDS BREAKFAST

The annual Alpha Sigma Alpha homecoming breakfast was held in the Methodist church basement on Saturday morning October 18. The returning alumni introduced themselves and told about the work which they are now doing. President Ardith Weber explained to the former members of the SMA the organization and meaning of the A. S. A. chapter at Stout.

ARTS AND CRAFTS HAS A FINE HOMECOMING

The Stout Arts and Crafts Club can rightly add its title to the list of organizations that experienced a most successful homecoming. Again the club carried the queen in the parade. All homecoming buttons were sold. There was no meeting on Monday evening, October 20, and initiation has been postponed one week until October 27.

"First time I ever rode in a sedan chair, bumpy at times, lots of fun, very comfortable, the guys (carriers) kept me company by talking to me, a real nice job and a good idea". These are a few of the comments made by Queen Jody Bain when asked what she thought about the sedan chair.

The club is indeed grateful for the Queen's comments and all the other fine comments received by the club on the sedan chair. The club wishes to thank all the members and pledges who worked on the chair, also to everyone who helped carry it in the parade, especially to the fellows from Lynwood Hall who helped when several club members were unable to carry it at the last moment.

Chairman in charge of sales, Norm Schultz, is happy to report that the entire stock of seven hundred 1952 homecoming buttons were sold. The club feels that everyone who has one of the buttons has a very good remembrance of a most successful homecoming.

A P O ENTERTAINS AT A SUPPER MEETING

The Eta Kappa chapter of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, entertained the Eta Lambda chapter from Eau Claire at a supper meeting held at the Harbor, Saturday, October 18, preceding the homecoming game.

Following the supper, which featured "chicken in the basket", the members of both chapters engaged in informal discussions relative to fraternity activities.

Members from the Eau Claire chapter included President Bob Howard, Vice-President La Verne Johnsen, Recording Secretary Vito Racanelli, La Vern Severson and Don Christiansen. Dean Bill Zorn and son Bill Jr. were also in attendance.

Present from Stout were President Bob Adkins, Vice-President Bob Spinti, Recording Secretary Charles Weber, Corresponding Secretary August Bell, John Wilson and Curtis Gehling.

Faculty advisors in attendance were Dean Price and Dwight Chinnock. Scouting advisor Phil Johnson and Alumni Norman Lenius completed Stout's representatives at the meeting.

TRI SIG BREAKFAST HELD ON SATURDAY

The Episcopal Church decorated in an autumn theme was the scene of the Tri Sigma Breakfast on Saturday, October 18. Menu cards carrying out the float theme "Destination—Planet Victory" flanked each cover, the breakfast which consisted of frosted grapes, scrambled eggs, bacon, coffee cake, marmalade, and coffee. Following a short program, visiting alumni gave short talks. The alumni in attendance were Lois Subitch, Gerry Raisler, Dorothy Hardies, Isabelle Benedict Larson, Jean Kelton, Barbara Pech Ueanker.

HOME EC CLUB HOLDS MEETING MONDAY EVE.

The Home Economics Club is holding its initiation Monday night, October 27, at 7:15 p.m. Following the initiation Reverend Malmin will demonstrate hand painting of wooden plates.

All Home Economics students are invited to join the club and may do so by paying their dues to Gloria Voight before Monday night. Regular meetings are held every fourth Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the cafeteria.

P.S.E.'S HOLD BREAKFAST AT ANCHOR CAFE

Adding to the many successes of the 1952 homecoming was the Phi Sigma Epsilon breakfast. From 10:00 to 11:30 a.m. Sunday, the Anchor Cafe was the site of a happy reunion.

After the feast, President Howard Heigl introduced the pledges. Ed Siefert, fraternity advisor, welcomed all the alumni back to Stout. Ralph Betterley, former advisor of P. S. E., also was on hand to greet former members.

Alumni and former members present were called upon to say a few words. Those present were: Dick Sorenson, Air Force, Truax Field; Larry Mosher, Teaching, Harmony, Minnesota; Don Berg, Berg Chevrolet Co.; Clancy Urankar, Teaching, Milwaukee, Wisconsin; Jerry Zelenka, Teaching, Milwaukee; Burt Jaeger, Teaching, Rembine, Michigan; Dean Fry, Teaching, Mosinee, Wisconsin; Bob Sipple, Insurance, Menomonie, Wisconsin; Bill Albrecht, Teaching, Three Rivers, Wisconsin; Vaughn Stai, Teaching, St. Cloud, Minnesota; Carroll Brusen, Johnson Truck Bodies, Rice Lake; Jim Bailey, WMNE, Menomonie.

President Heigl read greetings from Arthur H. Will, the first president of the K. F. S. group back in 1930-31.

Ralph Betterley sang "The Preacher and the Bear" while other entertainment was provided by Dick Bilse, Jim Berray, Willis Capps, and Clancy Urankar. The 1952 reunion of the Phi Sigma Epsilon closed with the singing of the fraternity songs.

PLAYER OF THE WEEK

Bill Kieffer, a hometown product of Hastings, Minnesota, is playing in his fourth season as a Stout Bluedevil. After graduating from Hastings High School in 1949, Bill enrolled at The Stout Institute in the fall of the same year. Bill was an all-around athlete in high school, winning four letters in both basketball and baseball, three in football, and two in track. As a senior, he captained the basketball team and was elected to an all-conference position his last two years as a basketball player and his final year for his football ability.

In his first season of football at Stout, Bill won his varsity letter. Under Coach Storti, Bill played in the right halfback slot, but this year he has been shifted to left half.

So far this year Bill has highlighted Bluedevil drives through the enemies lines, especially over the tackle position. Bill is not only agile as a runner but is the team's top punter. Last year he led the conference in average yards per try on punts with a 38.5 average. In the homecoming game against Eau Claire he averaged 39.5 yards in six punt attempts. Standing an even 6 feet and weighing 175 pounds, Bill is used on both offense and defense.

Bill, who graduates in June, is majoring in Industrial Education with his major interest shared between the metal and woods area.

At Stout Bill is active in extra-curricular activities, being a member of both the FOB fraternity and the Stout "S" club. He enjoys fishing, but this year his married life is taking up the greater share of his extra time.

STOUT OUTPLAYS AND OUTSCORES EAU CLAIRE

Capacity Crowd Enjoys Homecoming Game as Bluedevils Win 35-0

An enjoyable homecoming was had by all, as the Bluedevils stunned an outplayed Eau Claire team, 35-0, before a capacity crowd at Nelson field. The win marked the first Stout triumph of the season and the first win under the auspices of the new Bluedevil mentor, Jack Wink. Every member in the Bluedevil cast played good ball with particular emphasis directed toward the Stout line. The starting backfield composed of Tom Stilt, Bill Kieffer, Steve Hansen, and Red Walker also played their best game of the season as a unit. Stilt called an excellent game and his passing was somewhat on the sensational side as he completed 7 passes for 118 yards and two touchdowns. The Stout quarterback also booted five consecutive extra points and handled all kickoff chores. Kieffer, meanwhile, scored two touchdowns, had a third one called back, and gained a total of 31 yards in 13 carries. The right halfback Steve Hansen, chalked up one touchdown and gained 38 yards in 5 tries, while capt. Walker hit the Blugold line for 74 in 10 tries. The Bluedevils other touchdowns were counted by Neil Hoepfner, junior end from West Allis, and Jim Aumann, freshman fullback from Stanley.

Blugolds Threaten Early
Following Stilt's opening kickoff the Blugolds moved to the Stout 30 before a clipping penalty sent the Blugolds reeling back to the Bluedevil 49. On fourth down and six yards to go Walker fumbled Darrell Snell's punt on the Stout 29 and Eau Claire recovered at this point. A Gordie Schofield to Don Galuska aerial put the ball in play on the 17 for a first down before Snell carried for three yards in two attempts. On third down, Schofield elected to pass to Galuska but Don Ritt, freshman from Waukesha, leaped to intercept on the Stout 4 yard line.

After an exchange of punts, Bluedevil fans experienced a brief thrill when Bill Kieffer, veteran back from Hastings, Minnesota, broke through the Eau Claire defense for a 72 yard touchdown run. The play was called back moments later, however, when an offside penalty was declared on the Bluedevils by referee Win Brockmeyer of Wausau. This penalty which would have proved a overwhelming blow to many a team did not seem to affect the Bluedevils in the slightest, as Red Walker picked up a first down in just two rushes. After Kieffer failed to gain, Stilt completed his first pass of the night by hitting Don Steele on the Stout 48. On the succeeding play, a fancy bit of ball handling was executed by Walker as he flipped a lateral to Stilt on the Eau Claire 40. Tom banged down to the 33 before being tripped up to wind up a nineteen yard gain for the Bluedevils. Hansen skipped for three yards before an offside violation on the Blugolds made it second and two on the Eau Claire 25. A moment later Kieffer gave the Bluedevils another first down on the 18, with a neat bit of running over right tackle. At this point Walker carried half of the Blugold team down to the five yard line as he refused to be stopped short of a first down. With a first down on the five the Blugold line tightened and it took the Bluedevils four plays before Bill Kieffer could punch over from the one. This score, incidentally, marked the Bluedevils first touchdown at home this season and seconds later Stilt made it 7-0 when his kick sailed squarely between the uprights.

Stilt Connects With Hansen

Stout received a terrific break that set up the second touchdown when John Oakeson recovered Mel Peterson's fumble on the Blugold 46, after Darrell Snell had returned Stilt's

BLUEDEVILS TRAVEL TO SUPERIOR SATURDAY

The Superior Yellow jackets will play host to the Stout Bluedevils this Saturday in an afternoon tilt. Game time is scheduled for 2 p.m.

Coach Leo Di Marco's squad will be seeking revenge for the 53-0 loss they received here last year. Finishing third in the conference last year, Superior staked up three wins, two losses, and one tie. Stout finished second in conference play last year with five wins and one loss.

Earlier in the season Superior was claimed to be the darkhorse of the northern division with twenty lettermen returning to the squad. One-half of the returning lettermen are from Superior. Their loss of seven men through graduation included Harry Wilson, all conference halfback of 1951. There have been no losses to the armed forces so far this season.

Although Stout sustained a few injuries in the glorious homecoming victory over Eau Claire last Saturday, all the regular starters will be in shape and ready to play this week. It is very evident that the team spirit has taken great strides since the beginning of the season.

Since this game will be a real toss up, with Superior being slightly favored, the Bluedevils will be working toward another game in the winning column.

kickoff 35 yards to the Eau Claire 42. Following Kieffer's first down incomplete pass to Hansen and Walker's loss of two yards, Stilt spotted Hansen in the clear on the east-side line. Hansen made an excellent catch on the 35 and took the ball the remaining distance for the score with no one laying a hand on him. Again Stilt converted and the score stood 14-0. Kieffer Scores Again

Great defensive work on the part of the Bluedevil line set up the next score as the Blugolds lost 13 yards in three plays. On the fourth down Snell's punt was downed by Galuska on the 33 and the Bluedevils immediately went to work once again. A Stilt to Hoepfner toss gained five before Steve Hansen dashed to the 23 for the Bluedevils sixth first down. Once more Red Walker answered the call and ate up 19 yards before being stymied on the Blugold 4 yard marker. Three plays later Stilt started around right end only to lateral to Kieffer for the third touchdown of the second quarter. Don Woelffer again came in to hold the ball for Stilt and the field general from Neenah responded by booting the ball over the crossbar for his third straight.

Hoepfner Makes It 27

The Bluedevils further managed to humiliate the Blugolds by adding another counter just before the termination of the first half. With third down and twenty yards needed for a first down, Snell got off a very poor quick kick to the Eau Claire 44 yard line. A fifteen yard pass play from Stilt to Steele made it first and ten on the 29 as the clock began ticking off the precious seconds. The Blugold line held momentarily, however, as Walker and Kieffer could gain only two yards in two tries. On fourth down and eight Stilt again hit Steele and the boy from Seward, Alaska carried to the thirteen for another first down. On the succeeding play Kieffer picked up two before Hoepfner took Stilt's eleven yard pitch over the Eau Claire goal line. Stilt's kick was good and the half ended two plays later with the Bluedevils in possession of a 28 point lead.

Play Slows Down

Neither team showed much offensive prowess in the third quarter as the action slowed down considerably during this period. Another Eau Claire fumble, their third of the night, was recovered by George Krall on the Blugold 15 yard line shortly after the fourth quarter had opened. Kieffer made a yard and then George Van Buren took it around end for nine before Steele came to the rescue by nabbing Stilt's fourth down pass on the one yard line. In two rushes Aumann racked the line to go into the endzone standing up and the Bluedevils added their 35th point seconds later when Stilt converted.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

Well it took the Bluedevils six games before they could break into the win column, but Saturday night proved to be the charm as they routed a good Eau Claire team 35-0. Perhaps the large homecoming crowd had much to do with the victory, because the boys had more spirit than they have had since their initial encounter with Great Lakes. Or maybe it was due to the fact that the team wanted to win this game for Jack Wink. This was the big one, the game that would mean so much to the players and their coach. At any rate the Bluedevils brought back sterling memories of the past as they fought and battled their way to an overwhelming triumph. When the gun sounded ending the game the players converged around Coach Wink and hoisted him to their shoulders for a ride to the locker room. This in effect showed the respect and admiration that every man on the squad has for their leader. This was indeed a fitting climax to a grand and glorious Stout victory. Incidentally several season records were set in this ball game.

1. First win of the season.
2. First Bluedevil win for Coach Jack Wink
3. First touchdown scored at home.
4. First conversion of the year.
5. First shutout of the year.

FOOTBALL TEAM HONORS DADS ON NOVEMBER 1

The last Stout football game of the season on November 1, will be highlighted by the annual observance of Dad's Day, sponsored by the "S" club. Approximately 25-30 Dads of team members are expected for the occasion and merchants of Menomonie will act as Dads for those fellows whose fathers cannot attend.

The weekend event will begin with a banquet at 12:30 on Saturday in the cafeteria. The tentative main speaker for the banquet is Dr. Edwin Kleinpell, the president of River Falls Teachers College. In addition to the main speaker, President Fryklund and Coaches Johnson and Wink will give welcoming addresses.

Following the banquet, both Mothers and Dads will gather in the Harvey Memorial for a short social hour. Next on the agenda is a tour of Harvey Hall, sponsored by the Intersorority Council, and an "S" club tour of Bowman Hall and the Trades building. The afternoon will be completed by a Pink Tea for the mothers, to be given in the tea room. The Intersorority Council and Miss Killian have planned a menu of pink and white sandwiches, pink cupcakes, rose bud ice cream, and coffee.

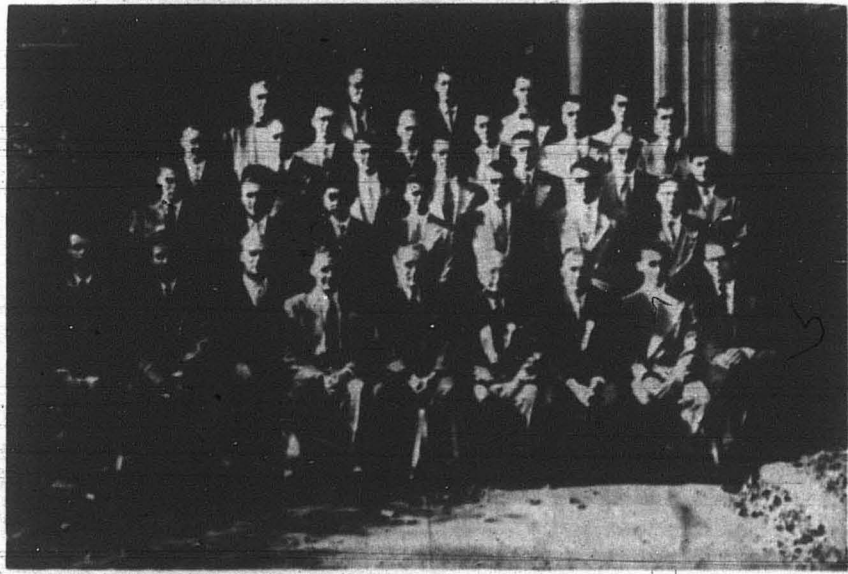

In order that they can be easily recognized, the Dads will wear large numbers which correspond to their son's line number. At half time, each Dad will be introduced individually.

Following the game, the Tri Sigma sorority and Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity will sponsor an all school Dad's Day dance in the Stout gym.

BASKETBALL PRACTICE WILL START MONDAY

Basketball practice for hopeful members of the 1952-53 squad will start on Monday, November 3, at 4:00. Ray C. Johnson, director of athletics and head coach of basketball, announced today. With the first game scheduled for December first, it leaves less than a month for pre-season workouts. All prospects who intend to try out for the squad should sign up on the list on the bulletin board outside the coaches's office.

THESE ARE THE 24 NEW E. P. T. MEMBERS

E. P. T. INITIATES TWENTY-FOUR NEW MEMBERS

The formal initiation of Epsilon Pi Tau was held recently in the club room above the union. There were twenty-four candidates initiated into the Theta chapter at The Stout Institute. Two of the candidates were from the teaching field and their oral examinations were held at 8:30 a.m. Saturday morning instead of Wednesday night as were the examinations for the other candidates.

The initiation banquet was held at the Marion Hotel. John Wilson acted as toastmaster for the banquet and Professor Jarvis welcomed the new members. President Verne C. Fryklund of The Stout Institute gave the after dinner speech using as his topic, "Mr. Bowman." Mr. Bowman, Dean of Industrial Education at The Stout

EISENHOWER, McCARTHY WIN AT STOUT

Eisenhower — 307 votes; Stevenson — 117 votes; Taft — 2 write-in votes; McCarthy — 234 votes; Fairchild — 179 votes.

These figures are the result of the final counting of ballots at the American Politics vote.

The polls opened at 8:00 Tuesday morning with Mr. Phil Ruehl of the Stout faculty casting the first vote. 59.2% of the total student body, faculty, and administrators cast their ballot on Tuesday. When this percentage is broken down, it is found that 70% of the faculty voted, 26.8% of the administrators, and 57% of the students voted.

Some interesting features were noticed at the polls. Many of the people had to be dragged to the polls; some voted but didn't know a thing about the people they voted for; and some students took this straw vote seriously and said, "Oh, I've already voted absentee; I can't vote here."

These are the facts. Are they a forecast of Tuesday's results?

TWENTY-FIVE STUDENTS GRADUATE IN JANUARY

The list of January, 1953, graduates has just been released by the registrar. All of the June, 1952, graduates have been placed. Many job openings are coming in every day for mid-year placements so that it looks as if the January grads will have no trouble in finding a position to their liking. Those receiving their Bachelor degrees in Home Economics Education are: Shirley Bendixen, Sumie Doi, Miriam Miller, and Phyllis Spaulding. Those who will be graduating with a major in Dietetics will be Betty Kleist, Elizabeth Kasson, and Michiko Okada. The January Industrial Education graduates will be: Darrell Anderson, Alfred Anderson, DeWayne Burck, John Debrauske, Curtis Gehung, George Krall, Donald Leach, Robert Marsh, Stanley Meyer, Darrell Radle, Stuart Smith, Albert Spanheimer, Lawrence Temple, James Tomita, William Van Valzah, John Wenstandt, John Wilson, Gale Woelffer. Those who will be receiving their M. S. degrees at that time will be Raymond Luhrsén and Ralph Smith.

'SWEETHEART' DANCE WILL BE HELD SATURDAY

"Ah! but this night is all fair, too sweet!
I say all this to you;
and you, you listen!"

Cyrano de Bergerac

We cannot hope to further immortalize or improve on Cyrano's poetic phrases, but the students of Stout will be exposed to the atmosphere which made his words possible.

Once again the students through the cooperation of the Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority and the Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity, both national organizations with chapters on the Stout campus, the students of Stout will be treated to a gala evening of scintillating entertainment.

Presented through the medium of a Dad's Day "Sweetheart" Dance these organizations hope to give to all the students that feeling of belonging which comes only when you have a sweetheart.

The dance has been dedicated to Dad and his "sweetheart". Together they will be taken back to yesteryears and surrounded by fond memories. Along with these resurrected memories, all fathers of Stout students will be presented with pleasurable gifts.

In addition, there will be presented to a lucky two-some, an evening of entertainment which will include an outing at the cinema, a reserved table and a complete steak dinner at a secluded spot in suburban Menomonie.

Admission price is 40 cents single and 75 cents couple. The dance will be held in Ye Olde Stout gym and the popular music of George Soderberg will emanate from beneath a flowing canopy. Wall murals will depict memories from yesteryears in romantic theme.

NAME PLAQUES TO BE PLACED ON H.E. AND I.E. BUILDINGS

Sometime in the near future you will see tributes in the form of bronze plaques on the entrances of the Industrial Education and Home Economics buildings. Inscribed on these plaques will be the names of two of the men who have played an important part in Stout history—Dr. L. Harvey, the first president of the Stout Institute, and Dean Bowman, who has been on the faculty since 1920. Our gratitude to these two men is expressed in this way.

PROVIDE BABY SITTERS FOR VOTERS

BABY SITTING DONE BY YOUNG REPUBLICANS

As part of the nation-wide "Get Out the Vote" campaign, the Young Republican club of The Stout Institute will operate a baby sitting bureau on election day, November 4. The bureau will provide Menomonie mothers with dependable, well-trained students who are majoring in home economics to care for children while their mothers vote.

Trained in child development and child guidance, The Stout Institute students have the necessary preparation to care for children left in their charge. The coeds feel that the baby sitting project gives them opportunity to apply their knowledge and to gain practical experience with children, as well as to provide a needed community service.

Menomonie mothers can take advantage of this service by a phone call to 1376-W, the centrally-located YGOP headquarters, notifying the bureau of the time a baby sitter will be needed. A qualified sitter will be taken to the home of the voter and will remain until that mother has voted. Transportation to and from the polls, for all who desire it, will also be provided by the Young Republican group. Local advertisements will provide additional information.

There will be no obligation to pay for these baby sitters, for they are all volunteer workers. Mrs. Miriam Miller, senior student from La Vrosse and chairman of the baby sitters, is making arrangements for the girls to sign up at Stout. She expects to have over seventy-five baby sitters in all.

The enterprise will be strictly non-partisan, according to William Capps, Stout junior from Elroy, who originated the project.

According to Capps:

"We're not interested in which candidate the people vote for. We are mainly concerned that they use their priceless American heritage—the right to vote."

The aim of the project, Capps points out, is to encourage Menomonie voters city's history.

With these facilities available, Menomonie citizens will have no excuse for not voting, members of the YGOP state, for both the baby sitters and transportation will be provided for according to the YGOP, it isn't every city that has trained home economists all voters free of charge. After all, to serve as free baby sitters.

STUDENT WORKS ON STOUT TOWER

Probably the Menomonie citizen enjoying the best view of his city recently was Herbert Pringle, Stout Institute senior from Marysville, Michigan, who perched himself atop Stout's famous clock tower to repaint and repair the lighted signs which identify the college to the surrounding countryside.

Perched 75 feet above the Stout campus, Pringle gave the signs a new coat of blue and white—Stout's traditional colors. In addition, he checked all electrical connections for the signs.

The repair work was undertaken as a project by the Manual Arts Players, the Stout dramatics organization of which Pringle is a member.

Speaking of the endeavor, Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of Stout, said, "I want to congratulate Herbert Pringle and the entire MAP organization. Their effort toward improving the appearance of the college indicates a real concern for the welfare of Stout Institute."

MISS O'BRIEN MEETS WITH 34 REGISTRARS

Miss Gertrude M. O'Brien, registrar of The Stout Institute, recently attended a meeting of Registrars of Wisconsin Colleges, held on the campus of Lawrence college, Appleton.

Included in the program was a timely address, "Selective Service and the College Student," given by Major C. L. Shepard, of the State Headquarters of Selective Service, Madison.

Registrars from 35 Wisconsin colleges were represented at the meeting, held in the lecture room of the new Worcester Art Center on the Lawrence campus.

SUPERVISING TEACHERS HOLD CONFERENCE

MENOMONIE, WIS.—An all-day conference of supervising teachers in the Stout Institute off-campus home economics teacher training program was held recently at Stout Institute. Under the direction of Marjory Elliott, supervisor of Stout Institute cadet teachers, participants discussed valuable aspects of the cadet teaching program, from the viewpoint of both supervisor and cadet teacher.

Special resource person for the meeting was Dr. Maude Williamson, emeritus professor of home economics education at Colorado A and M college, who explained principles of effective supervision. Dr. Williamson has recently visited off-campus teaching centers in the Stout cadet program.

Cooperating in the meeting were Miss Margaret Perman, supervising teacher at Stanley high school; Mrs. Roberta Johnson, supervisor at Baldwin high school; Miss Mabel Otteson, homemaker coordinator at the Eau Claire School of Adult and Vocational Education; and Miss Ruth Duszbury, supervising teacher from the Eau Claire school.

Between sessions of the conference, the meal management class under the direction of Miss Nelson, served luncheon to the participants.

SENIORS!

There are still a few seniors who have not handed their graduation photograph proofs back to Glenmar Studios. Please get them back no later than Monday, Nov. 3.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Did you ever wonder why ghosts and witches are a part of Halloween? Why, on this night, we bob for apples and then count the seeds in the core to learn our fortunes?

The name, Halloween, means All-Hallow's Eve, or the night before All Saints' Day. But long before the church gave this name to the day, it had been celebrated in one way or another in many parts of the world.

Years and years ago, the Celts and their druid priests began the new year on November first. This marked the beginning of winter. A feast was held in honor of Samhain, lord of death, and ghosts arose from their graves to warm their bones at familiar firesides. Mischievous witches rode through the air on besoms (broomsticks), or black cats magically turned to coal black steeds for this one night.

When the Romans invaded England in 55 B.C., they brought with them the festival of Pomona, goddess of the harvest, so nuts and fruits, especially apples, became part of the Samhain ceremonies.

Jack-o'-Lantern was a legendary man who was so stingy that he was refused entrance to heaven. Because he had played practical jokes on the devil, the gates of hell were barred to him too. He was condemned to wander over the earth with his lighted lantern until Judgment Day.

Boys and girls who dressed in masked costumes and go from door to door threatening "trick or treat," have no idea that they are probably following an old All Souls' Day custom of begging cakes for the dead.

Halloween customs of today, from tick-tacking and soaping windows to carrying jack-o'-lanterns and having fortunes told, tell us more about the beliefs and customs of our long-gone ancestors than almost any other holiday.

GOVERNING BOARD NEWS

The October 28 meeting of the Student Governing Board opened with a discussion of committee reports and old business. The meeting commenced at 6:30 in the H. E. basement.

Dormitory representatives were urged to be in attendance at as many of the meetings as they could.

There was some discussion on the possibility of ordering phonograph records of our Alma Mater and Pep Song. These records would be sold for one dollar a piece. No action was taken.

In the near future, members of the Governing Board will accept an invitation which has come from River Falls to attend one of their Wednesday evening social functions.

On November 11, Mr. C. H. Allen from CTA chairman of the personnel service at the College of Kirksville, Mo. will be at Stout. He will meet with the Governing Board to consult with them on the problems of handling student welfare. This meeting will be held at 8:30 A. M.

BIG STINK ON CAMPUS: FELINES FOR FRAULEINS

"Good grief! I hope I never have to do that again." That's what one freshman girl said after skinning her cat. Her roommate didn't even come down to supper. Come on, Mr. Arneson, let's be easy on those kids!

Music! Music! Music?? The girls' dorms were serenaded by the frat pledges last week. Well, at any rate it was different!

Due to previous commitments with Uncle Sam, Chuck Van Slyke (better known as "Klondike") from Seward Alaska, will soon be leaving Stout. Best of luck in the world, Chuck!

The Lynwood Hall boys did a good job of checking the girls' rooms for dust. Now girls, it's our chance to get even. Let's show up 200 strong on Nov. 2.

Two freshman girls are already campused. If that is any indication of times to come—watch out!

The Annex was informed of a new purchase—spin dryers. They came. A few pieces of line attached to a movable base. Well, it was a little early for Christmas anyway!

REED AND DUNCAN NEW S. T. S. INITIATES

Initiation of two members into the Stout Typographical Society began last Friday morning with the donning of funny paper hats signifying apprenticeship in a professional fraternity.

Allan Reed and Jerry Duncan are the two new initiates who have been parading around the campus wearing hats made out of funny papers. They have also been busy making up several hats representing the various degrees in the Typographical Society. Last Friday, they were engaged in making a ten page booklet which was to conform to good fundamental design.

There are three degrees in the society and are recognized by the various colored hats. The apprenticeship degree is represented by a funny paper hat; the journeyman degree by a newspaper hat; and the masters degree by an all white hat.

These degrees are the same as used by the printing industry to indicate how far one has advanced in knowledge and skill in the printing field.

To be a member of the Stout Typographical Society, one must be majoring in printing at Stout and completed two courses in printing.

MR. R. F. LEWIS CONSULTS WITH STOUT FACULTY

Mr. R. F. Lewis, State Assistant Superintendent from Madison, arrived at Stout yesterday with a group of advisors to consult with the faculty. With him are Mr. Schultz, State Music Supervisor; Mr. Miller, State Health and Physical Education Supervisor; and Mr. Liebenberg, Secondary Education Advisor.

Mr. Lewis is also here today to complete his consultations. He and his staff are discussing problems of the curriculum with members of the faculty who wish to participate.

DIETETICS CLUB TAKES FRUIT CAKE ORDERS

The orders for the fruit cake sale will be taken this week by Phyllis Allman, chairman of the sale, or by any member of the Dietetics club.

The cakes will be gift wrapped in either one or two-pound packages. They will be baked November 15, and the club will try to have the cakes distributed before Thanksgiving. While you are making out that tentative Christmas shopping list, how about including a few pounds of fruit cake? Give your order to the girls.

"ADVENTURES OF OZ" IS CONGO CLUB TOPIC

The "Adventures of Oz" was chosen by Bill LaBine as his topic for the discussion October 26. Bill brought out the facts that when we come into a college town, we meet many people, such as the townspeople, business men, teachers and church members whose friendships we should value. We go to college to get a well-rounded education and develop our minds intellectually.

Everyone joined in singing several hymns after which Ed Clary led recreation.

Judy Day, Barb Hilts and Marge Strombeck had charge of the food.

MR. RAY ADVISES NOVEL HONEYMOON

Trying to think up something new these days is quite a problem. But back in 1916 the sun was shining, the bees were buzzing, and all was well with the world. Then a member of the Stout faculty got married, and in the August issue of the Stoutonia the following article appeared:

Boys, if a novel honeymoon is your wish, buy a motorcycle with bath tub attachment and let 'er go.

The pleasures of such a trip are suggested by the late experiences of our adventurous bricklaying instructor and his young bride, Mr. and Mrs. J. Edgar Ray. Some of the advantages pointed out are that you can cook your meals on the engine, churn your butter on the road, take in the landscape with not only your eyes, but ears, nose, and mouth, and then when you are approaching a city, wash off your frame in the bath tub attachment and be all set. If you are turned down at the hotel on a rainy night because of your personal appearance, just invert the afore said wash tub to keep off the downpour, and let the mosquitoes sing you to sleep.

A week or so of this jolting will settle you down for life. But before starting, realize the full wonders of such a journey by reading a copy of Mr. Ray's new book now on press entitled, Across Country on a Motorcycle or Why I'll Take a Wheelbarrow on My Next Honeymoon.

A.P.O. INVITES MEN WHO WISH TO JOIN

On Friday, October 24, 1952, Eta Kappa Chapter of Alpha Phi Omega sent out invitations to various students who wish to become members. An informal get-together of the prospective members was held Tuesday evening in order that they might become better acquainted with the functions of Alpha Phi Omega.

Alpha Phi Omega is a national service fraternity, composed of college and university men who are or who have been previously affiliated with the Boy Scouts and who have pledged themselves to serving their fellowmen.

The new members will be pledged into A.P.O. on Tuesday, November 4, 1952. Having been pledged, they will assist the old members in the carrying out of the many services performed by Alpha Phi Omega.

New members will attend the formal initiation banquet on November 15, 1952, which is the highlight of all the activities sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega.

PLEDGES ARE INITIATED INTO PHI OMEGA BETA

Thursday, October 23, the Phi Omega Beta fraternity held a formal initiation at the Anchor Cafe to welcome the six new members.

The new members who gained entrance into the F. O. B. fraternity this semester are Dave Bohrnstedt, Al Loew, Kenneth Pietenpol, Chuck Smith, and Marlowe Sperstad.

The initiation was started by officially bringing the former pledges into the fraternity, which was followed by everyone's congratulations, and a delicious dinner of steak, chicken, or ham with all the trimmings.

Following the dinner the F. O. B. president, Milt Benner, and advisors, Dr. Ray and Dr. Rudiger, gave short talks welcoming the new members and told about the former F. O. B.'s and other things of interest to the members.

L.S.A. WILL SPONSOR A FELLOWSHIP FEAST

Stout L.S.A. is sponsoring a Fall Fellowship Feast at Our Saviour's Lutheran Church starting at 5:00 p.m. Sunday, November 2. L.S.A. groups from our sister colleges at River Falls and Eau Claire have been invited. Also of a special treat will be several Land O'Lakes regional officers and Miss Evelyn Schaeffer. Miss Schaeffer, is advisor to Lutheran students at the University of Minnesota and will be the main speaker of the evening. The subject of Miss Schaeffer's talk will be "L.S.A. Beyond Our Campus". Very popular with the very active Lutheran groups at the University of Minnesota, Miss Schaeffer's talk should be one of interest and inspiration to everyone.

A special menu of ham dinner will be served by the church women's guild. A definite price has not been set but the cost will be in accordance with student budgets and most assuredly worth the money.

Last year a banquet of the same nature was sponsored by the Stout L.S.A. and the event proved so successful it was decided to hold another this year. If everyone will do his or her part, be it helping on any of the various committees or just attending the evenings event as a Stout student, this year's event could be even more successful.

Gamma Deltans were the guests of L.S.A. on a special guest night held at Our Saviour's Church. The program was shared by both groups, a new modern movie titled "Love Thy Neighbor" was shown. It is hoped this may be worked as an annual affair as many other L.S.A. events have become.

WESLEY STUDENTS TO TRAVEL TO CONVENTION

The conference of the State Methodist Student Movement will be held at the Wesley Foundation in Madison, October 31-November 2. There will be over 100 students from about 18 state colleges in attendance.

The theme of the conference is "The Christian Student and the World Struggle." The main speaker is Dr. Hiel Bollinger.

Stout will be represented by about 20 students. Rev. Reece and Miss Margaret Harper will accompany the group.

SKI CLUB BEGINS LESSONS IN SKIING

With the deep powder shows of winter in mind, the Stout Ski Club has begun skiing lessons for members and all other interested persons. These lessons consist of a background for skiing as well as coaching on correct form.

Care, purchase, and cost was the theme of the first lesson on skiing conducted by the Ski Club at their last meeting. Lessons will be held every other week from now until the skiing season.

The Club has its eye set on making many visits to Deepwood and Telemark this season, which starts about Christmas, usually lasting until the end of March.

The Club has twenty five old members. Most of the members are interested in down-hill skiing, but those interested in jumping are also invited to join.

ROSE OF SIGMA TAU FORMAL TO BE ON NOV. 8

Find November 8, on your calendar and make a big red circle around it, for it is the date of the Rose of Sigma Tau formal. This is an event which the entire student body won't want to miss, for it is the only semi-formal dance of the fall semester.

High light of the dance will come when the 1952 Rose Queen will be presented with a crown of roses, indicating that she is the girl who will reign over the dance and all forthcoming social activities of the fraternity. In next week's issue of the Stoutonia, the 1952 Rose Queen will be announced.

Gentlemen, let no grass grow under your feet. If you haven't taken positive action toward getting a date for the Rose of Sigma Tau formal, now is the time to do so.

Tickets for the dance have been on sale during the past week and will be available to everyone throughout next week. They may be obtained in the main corridor of Harvey Hall or from fraternity members. The price of the tickets is $1.75 per couple.

For a few hours on that important Saturday night, the Stout gymnasium will be transformed into a beautiful rose garden for the enjoyment of the Stout fellows and their dates who will dance to the music of George Soderberg and his orchestra.

Social chairman Jim Brown is backed up by Jerry Schemansky, Fred Bahr, Richard Duthler, David Gresch, Corkey Collette, and George Stephenson. A week of hard work is foreseen by this committee who are at work on the many last-minute details of the dance.

STANLEY KENDALL MARRIES MRS. MARIANNE FERGUSON

Mr. Stanley Kendall and Mrs. Marianne Ferguson were married on Thursday, October 30, 1952, at Coeur d'Alene, Idaho. Mr. and Mrs. Kendall will make their home at 5808 North Lindeke, Spokane, Washington after November 15.

DIETETICS MEMBERS ATTEND CONVENTION

On October 22, the Dietetics Club, accompanied by Miss Meiller, attended the 35th annual meeting of the American Dietetics Association at the Minneapolis Auditorium. Their attention focused mainly on the exhibits and lectures.

The theme for Wednesday was "To Help Develop Dietitians to Meet Responsibilities." In carrying out this theme, discussions on the following topics were held: Nutrition in the Community; Appraising Food Quality; and Diet Therapy and Feeding Practices. A talk on the dietitian's responsibility in hospital administration was of special interest to the girls. The talks given by armed forces dietitians drew forth many questions.

The exhibits were on display on several floors in the auditorium. Large quantity cooking equipment, dishes, various food products, and new products such as purified amino acids and calorie-absent sweeteners were among the ones examined by the group.

A woman's guess is much more accurate than a man's certainty.

SUPERIOR WINS 33-26 IN CONFERENCE TITLE

Stout Finishes Fourth;
Lundberg and Polglase Spark Yellowjackets

In one of the highest scoring games of the season, the Superior Yellowjackets outscored the Stout Blue Devils 33-26. The Yellowjackets were sparked to victory by quarterback Don Polglase and fullback Rodney Lundberg. Lundberg, a sophomore, scored four times and proved to be one of the best runners that the Blue Devils have come up against. Polglase displayed both poise and finesse at the quarterback slot and called a very fine game. The Blue Devils ace in the hole was the chunky redhead from Durand Red Walker. The veteran Blue Devil fullback scored two touchdowns and bettered his chances for an all-conference position. A strong wind helped both teams pile up scores, though punting yardage fell when either kicker was booting against the wind.

Superior Recovers Fumble
Just as in previous games played this year the Blue Devils made a costly mistake that led to the first Yellowjacket score. After John Oakeson had intercepted Don Polglase's pass on the Blue Devil two yard line, Tom Stilt fumbled and Jack Hulmer recovered on the three. Two plays later Lundberg scored and the Yellowjackets were off to an early lead. Polglase's kick was wide off the mark.

Ritt Goes 65 Yards
On the ensuing kickoff Bill Kieffer took the ball on his own ten yard line and raced 57 yards to the Yellowjacket 33 before he was brought to the turf. But three plays failed to gain and Kieffer punted out of bounds on the Superior 12. Lundberg, Dick Christian, and Gerry Finkler lost one yard in three running plays and Polglase went back to kick on fourth down. Polglase, kicking with the wind, booted the ball over Steve Hansen's outstretched fingertips on the Stout 45, but Don Ritt, backing up the play, raced over to grab it on the 35. Hansen hit the first Yellowjacket with a block and from here on terrific downfield blocking followed with Ritt going 65 yards without being touched. Neil Hoepfner, Karl Turk, and Mark Reimers made the other key blocks that set up this long scoring jaunt. Stilt converted and Stout led 7-6.

12-7 at Half Time
This long run failed to rile the Yellowjackets as they traveled 72 yards in just six plays after Rodney Lundberg took Tom Stilt's kickoff back to the Superior 28. Two Polglase passes, one to Dennis Dahl and the other to Calvin Kessler gave the Yellowjackets a first down on the Blue Devil 25. After another Polglase aerial fell incomplete, Lundberg dashed 25 yards around left end to score standing up. Once again Polglase missed the attempted conversion and the Yellowjackets had come from behind to lead 12-7.

Blue Devils Score Early

The Blue Devils received a terrific break four plays after the second half started when Jim Berryhill made a high pass from center to kicker Don Polglase. Polglase could not get the kick away and was smeared back on the Superior 13 yard marker. An incomplete toss from Stilt to George Van Buren made it second and ten at this point. But then Van Buren shot through tackle on a quick opening play to hit paydirt. Stilt's kick was wide and the Blue Devils led 13-12.

Lundberg Scores Again

Rodney Lundberg carried five yards for his third touchdown just prior to the end of the third quarter. After Lundberg returned Kieffer's punt to the 17, the Yellowjackets once again began to roll. Gerry Finkler and Lundberg carried to Stout 36 before Polglase completed two short passes to Kessler. Kessler was finally hit on the Blue Devil 5 after an overall gain of 20 yards setting the stage for Lundberg's scoring plunge. Polglase made his first conversion of the afternoon and the Yellowjackets led 19-13.

Walker Goes Over

Red Walker put the Blue Devils back in the ball game on the first play of the fourth quarter after Stilt threw two completions to Hoepfner and Don Steele. Bill Kieffer and Walker ran to the Yellowjackets one before the redhead finally charged over. Stilt's kick was again wide of the mark resulting in a tie score at this stage of the ball game. The Yellowjackets and Blue Devils exchanged kicks before Superior got another scoring drive underway midway in the final period. After Lundberg took Kieffer's short against the wind kick on the 35 and returned to the 32, Polglase faded back and threw to Kessler but the ball fell short of the mark setting up a second down. At this point Dick Christian took over right tackle to send the Yellowjackets into the lead for the fourth time. Polglase booted and the score read Superior 26 Stout 19.

The Spread Ties It

The Blue Devils wasted no time in getting back into the scoring marathon. After Van Buren had returned Polglase's kickoff 18 yards to the Blue Devil 36, Walker, Van Buren, and Kieffer made nine yards in three carries to make it fourth and one on the 45. Instead of punting the Blue Devils broke out of the huddle into a spread formation that completely fooled the rival Yellowjackets. Red Walker took the handoff from Stilt and broke over left tackle to go all the way for the touchdown. Stilt made the all important extra point and again the contest was all knotted up.

PLAYER OF THE WEEK

"RED" WALKER

Playing in his third season as a fullback and his fourth year as a Stout Blue Devil is Ronald "Red" Walker. Ron, a native of Durand, Wisconsin, stands 5' 8" and weighs 180 pounds. While attending high school Ron earned three letters in both football and basketball. As a senior he was captain of the football team and was elected to an all-conference position in this sport for three years. "Red" was also all-state his last year and played fullback at the fourth annual high school all-star game held at Madison in 1949.

"Red" won his varsity "S" at Stout his freshman year, playing in a half-back position. Since his sophomore year, when he was shifted to fullback, "Red" has played consistently in the Stout line-up. Last year he was top ground gainer on the team and thus far this year is the team's leading scorer. A hard charging backfield man, "Red" has averaged 6.7 yards per carry on thrusts attempted mainly through the line. His 53 yard scamper last week was one of the Blue Devil highlights in a disputable loss suffered at Superior.

The stocky redhead has the distinction of being the only Blue Devil player to play his regular position on offense for the entire game throughout the season. He also plays defense and, though comparatively short in stature, is an asset when it comes to stopping enemy plays.

One of the most well liked ball players by his teammates, Ron has been acting captain on the gridiron since the Stevens Point game. The stocky fullback, who has made the number 55 on his jersey well known among Stout rooters, is one of the easiest players to spot on the field; he is usually wearing the dirtiest jersey and pants even before the first half of the football game is completed.

"Red" received honorable mention on the all-conference state teachers college team last year, and at the present time appears to be in the limelight for all-conference honors for the 1952 team.

territory, Kieffer's punt was gathered in on the Stout 38 by Finkler who returned to the 30. Three plays gained 7 yards before Lundberg churned 23 yards around left end to score. Polglase made his third successive boot and the Yellowjackets led 33-26.

Blue Devils Make Last Try

No one can say that the Blue Devils stopped trying. After Lundberg's touchdown the Blue Devils began chucking the ball all over the Superior ball park. Two long passes to Hoepfner and Steele gave the Blue Devils the ball on the Yellowjacket 35. Another Stilt pass, this time to Kieffer, gave Stout a first down on the 20, before Van Buren raced for 7 more to the 13. An interference penalty on the Yellowjackets gave the Blue Devils another first down on the 6. This play, a Stilt to Walker aerial, might have given the Blue Devils the score had not the Superior player interfered. With a first and goal on the 6 and only 15 seconds remaining Stilt elected to pass. The Blue Devil quarterback spotted Don Steele in the end-zone, but at the last possible second Polglase leaped up and speared the ball on the goal line to end the threat and the ball game.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

Hats off to the 1952 champions of the Wisconsin State Teachers College Conference! This year we have two undefeated teams - La Crosse and Platteville. Once again the La Crosse Indians won the coveted title when they outlasted a good River Falls team 20-7 at River Falls. This game matched the only two undefeated clubs in the northern division, although the Falcons had earlier been held to a 13-13 deadlock by Eau Claire. Just as in previous encounters witnessed this year, the Indians struck quickly. On the second play of the game, guard Jim Bell stole the ball from a Falcon back and shot 15 yards into the end-zone for the first counter. Just five minutes later, halfback Willie Berzinski catapulted 37 yards through center for a 13 point lead. River Falls never could recover from this lightning like explosion and the Indians had won another crown.

La Crosse was led to another football championship by Captain Ted Levenhagen and a fine supporting cast that included backs Jerry Tuska, Bob Keim, Ronnie Wangerin, Bob Stueck, and Willie Berzinski. Levenhagen, one of the best holer guys in the league, had much to do with the Indians success. While the La Crosse line was not as good as in years gone by, it still allowed only 48 points in 4 contests. Spearheaded by Don Primeau, Bob Synowicz, Jim Bell, and Jack Eifert, the Indian line played hard charging football throughout the season.

The losing River Falls entry has nothing to be ashamed of. This was a team that also had its share of good backfield material. Joe Burgoyne, Jerry Route, Clair Murphy and Bobby Wood gave the Falcons plenty of speed, deception, power, and passing ability. The kicking and pass receiving of veteran end Tom Linehan also figured prominently in the Falcons final second place statue.

Platteville, meanwhile, fooled some of the experts when they defeated Stevens Point for the southern division championship. Both teams, heretofore unbeaten, played inspired football, but the Pioneers finally gained the 13-0 decision and the title.

The Pioneers had only eight returning lettermen on hand when the season started. They realized that much of the work would have to be done by veteran squad members and a vast majority of newcomers. But somehow Platteville managed to bring home the bacon, much to the credit of head coach Lester "Butch" Leidl.

The losing Pointers, led by head coach Johnny Roberts, also had their share of newcomers as exactly half of their 34 man squad were freshmen. Paced by a backfield composed of freshmen halfbacks Russ Stimac and Jim Giordonna and veteran lettermen "Nubs" Miller and Don Herman, the Pointers presented a serious threat to everyone that they encountered.

Across the Desk . . . Two freshmen Blue Devil backs have dented the scoring column in the past two games. . . They are Jim Aumann of Stanley and Don Ritt of Waukesha. The Yellowjacket's Don Polglase showed the Blue Devils some nifty quarterbacking Saturday. . . The veteran Polglase is also an outstanding member of Leo DiMarco's cage squad and will be seen at his guard spot this winter. . . Steve Hansen has really been the jinx player on the Blue Devils this year. . . Steve was kicked just above the elbow in the second quarter and had to be removed from the contest. Hansen had earlier suffered injuries in all but two of the first seven games.

"KIND LADY" WILL BE PRESENTED NEXT WEEK

Tickets can be Obtained Monday Through Friday By Showing SSA Cards

Tickets for the M. A. P. play, "Kind Lady," can be obtained simply by showing your SSA cards. Stout students do not have to buy a ticket, as play admittance comes as one of their SSA privileges. Students may get their free tickets in the corridor of Harvey Hall anytime during the day Monday through Friday, November 10 through 14.

"Kind Lady" is the story of the harrowing adventures that befall a wealthy and warm-hearted spinster after she invites a shabbily dressed young man into her home for tea one Christmas Eve. When she discovers that the vagrant is an unusual and intelligent person, with an educated appreciation of the "old masters" on her walls, she takes a liking to him. Soon, by many subtle devices, he has wormed himself and what prove to be his gang of thieves into her house hold, and has taken her prisoner. The effect is as if a kitten let in for a dish of warm milk turned suddenly into a menacing tiger.

The play's taut suspense grows out of the dogged efforts of the spinster, frustrated time and again, to get news of her incredible plight to the world outside. Meanwhile, her captors proceed to keep her isolated, sell her paintings, and undermine her fortune.

Barbara Hiltz will be seen here as the gracious and gentle "kind lady" who is almost driven out of her mind by her captors. Ernest Collette will portray the suave king of the thieves, while Edward Nowickie, JoAnn Chamberlin, Carol Zuege, Micky White and Barbara Brown will be seen as his clever conspirators.

The cast of the MAP's production of "Kind Lady" will also include Carlos Cartor, Carol Viestanz, Myra Evans, Darrel Ebert, Jan Wurtz, Mike Pavlicin and Vivian Barnhardt.

HYPERS PREPARE ANNUAL CHRISTMAS CARD SALE

Attention, all Christmas card senders!!!

The Hyperian Sorority is preparing for its annual sale of Christmas cards. This year's cards are not only more beautiful than ever before, but they are far less expensive than they have been in previous years. The exact price has not as yet been determined, but the cards will be suited to YOUR budget.

The front of the card has a beautiful white picture of the Stout tower on a blue background.

You may give your order to any member of the Hyperian Sorority now, or buy the cards in the first floor corridor of the Home Economics building where they will be sold in the near future.

THE SWIMMING POOL WILL OPEN ON MONDAY

"Get in the swim," will be a familiar saying around The Stout Institute for the rest of the school year. The swimming pool is now completely repaired and ready to be used starting Monday, November 10. Students may swim from five to six on school nights and two to four on Saturdays. Let's all get out and take advantage of this improvement to our school.

SEVEN STUDENTS ARE CALLED INTO SERVICE

Seven students have been called into service since the beginning of the fall term. Latest student called is Bob Adkins, member of the senior class.

WE'RE READY AND WAITING

LYNWOOD HOLDS OPEN HOUSE SUNDAY

"Very nice." "Good housekeepers." "Too much decoration in the rooms." "Dirt between the radiator and the walls." "Hm, cozy." "Neat."

Many comments such as these were heard Sunday afternoon when at Lynwood Hall from 2 to 4 p. m.

Upon entering the dorm, the visitors were greeted and asked to sign the guest register. The genial hosts also asked the girls to check their white gloves at the desk for reasons known only to boys.

The fellows did an excellent job of conducting tours through the rooms on the three floors. The guests were especially interested in the artistic identification signs on most of the doors. Other items of interest were shop projects completed during the first quarter, examples of the boys' hobbies, and beds so well made that they bounced coins tossed on them.

At the conclusion of the tour, guests Yoshida.

were entertained in the recreation room. Many favorable comments were made about how well the boys served the coffee and tea.

Mrs. Rebecca Nelson, director of dormitories, arranged the beautiful decorations. George Ueda's parents sent the attractive anthuriums, ti leaves and wood roses from Hawaii especially for this occasion.

George Ueda, general chairman of the event, feels that open house was a great success. This can be attributed to the splendid co-operation he received from his committees.

Bruce Leonard, chairman of the food committee was assisted by the following boys who poured and replenished at the table: Jim Dailey, Tom Kitto, Wally Klosterman, John Oakeson, Len Olund, Jerry Poat, Rubeen Ramos, and Bob Seaman.

Attending to the many last minute details was Harry Thorpe, inspection chairman.

The guides were: Larry Bruno, Carlos Carter, Bob Foster, Ken Geske, John Glodowski, Walt Hovey, Leo Janis, Darrell Premo, Tom Sommers, Carl Spinti, Al Strelbicki, Stan Tobin, Ralph Treftz, George Ueda, and Herb

SCHEDULE FOR CONVOCATIONS IS NOW SET UP

The next assembly program to be given for the student body will be on November 19 when Colonel Larson presents, "People and their Hobbies." Colonel Larson, a hobbyist, entertainer, author and cinematographer, accompanied by his daughter, will present a lecture complete with stage demonstration and motion pictures in natural color. Having been stricken with polio, Colonel Larson started his hobby career which led to his ultimate recovery. His message to everyone, "Have a hobby to keep yourself mentally and physically alert, and pave the way to a happy future."

Miss Lorraine King, a very fine harpist from Minneapolis, Minnesota will be here on December 10. Miss King has a fine personality in front of a group and is sure to present a very good program.

On January 21, Mr. Robert Deichert, accordionist, will entertain the student body. Mr. Deichert was here at Stout three years ago and was liked very much by the students. He is able to play very high class music on his type of accordion.

Howard Higgins, former Dean of Emerson College, has struck a new and overwhelmingly popular note in the presentation of his amusing, informative lecture, "Among the Spirits." Slate writing, spirit messages, spirit materialization, and eyeless psychic vision are all part of his repertoire. In the latter part of his program he exposes these practices humorously, entertainingly and most convincingly. Widespread interest in the subject makes his program a record breaking attraction everywhere.

Dr. Lampe of the University of Iowa will be a guest speaker at the February 25 assembly. Mr. Lampe is one of the American Brotherhood and will tell the practical things which people can do to promote an understanding and realization of the ideals of American brotherhood. This will be a program by the Inter-religious Council and American Brotherhood.

On March 4, the Platoff Don Cossack Chorus and Dancers will appear here. Organized in 1927 in Prague, Czechoslovakia, by its founder and present director, Nickolas Kostukoff, the chorus has toured all five continents. Their outstanding program of inspiring Liturgical music, haunting folk melodies, boisterous regimental Cossack songs, and thrilling, exciting dances, once heard and seen is never forgotten.

Mr. Frederick, a noted pianist, will present a concert on March 25. A remarkable feature of Mr. Frederick's is his large hands. He is one of the best performers on certain types of stunts and "clown acts."

Betty Roadman, actress, author, lecturer, and impersonator, is one of the best loved entertainers on the platform today. On April 15 she will be enjoyed by all.

Action! This will be the last assembly for the year, and it is hoped that it will be enjoyed by all.

Geraldine Bienasz Will Be Crowned at Formal Dance Tomorrow Night

Announcement was made earlier this week by the men of Sigma Tau Gamma that the all-school semi-formal dance to be held in the Stout gym tomorrow night will be highlighted by the coronation of Mrs. Geraldine Bienasz as 1952 Rose of Sigma Tau. Mrs. Bienasz, a well known Stout senior from Menomonie, is wife of fraternity president David Bienasz.

The Rose of Sigma Tau semi-formal dance is traditionally presented each year by the Sigma Tau Gamma Fraternity for the enjoyment of all Stout students.

The dance is scheduled to begin at 8:30 tomorrow in the Stout gymnasium with the Royal Blackhaws providing the music for the evening.

Special guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rudiger. Also present will be the fraternity advisors and their wives; Mr. and Mrs. John Jarvis, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Arneson, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Swanson.

In the blustery fall month of November, dancing in a beautiful rose garden will be a rare treat. But this is one of the many features that will be enjoyed by those attending the dance.

If you haven't already purchased your ticket, you may get it at the door tomorrow night.

FRESHMAN CLASS WILL HOLD MIXER ON NOV. 7

Friday night, November 7, the freshman class is having a mixer for all freshmen.

The party, which will be held in the Stout gym, to better acquaint the freshman with each other. Only freshman may come to the party.

Dave Samdahl is general chairman of the party, with John Phelan as master of ceremonies. Mary Paciotti will be in charge of the mixer dances, Darrell Primo will act out different song titles, Barb Rushing will lead the group in relays, and Kathie Seymour will lead them on their merry way with a scavenger hunt. Refreshments will be directed by Jack Luy.

E. P. T. MEMBERS WILL GO ON FIELD TRIP

On November thirteenth and fourteenth the members of Epsilon Pi Tau will go on their annual field trip. This field trip is one of the main events sponsored by this organization. The purpose of this event is to acquaint the members with on-the-job situations.

It has been the policy of Epsilon Pi Tau to observe various aspects of industrial education. Last year, the Wausau Junior and Senior High School and the Wausau Vocational School were included in their tour.

The first stop of this years field trip will be the New Richmond High School at New Richmond, Wisconsin. After this the group will proceed to Minnesota State Prison at Stillwater. After a tour of the prison shops the group will move on to Minneapolis where they will inspect the facilities at the Miller Vocational School. The remainder of the trip will include the Minneapolis Moline Tractor Co. plant and various other factories throughout the twin cities.

INITIATION HELD TONIGHT BY PHI U'S

The Tau Chapter of Phi Upsilon Omicron will initiate thirteen girls Friday, November 7, at 6:00 p.m. Phi Upsilon Omicron is the National Honorary Home Economics Fraternity on campus.

These girls were chosen from the upper two-fifths of their classes on the basis of professional interest, leadership, resourcefulness, efficiency, dependability, judgment, cooperation, consideration, and participation in extra-curricular activities.

Three seniors girls, Phyllis Allman, Shirley Lepien, and Dorothy Messerschmidt are among these first semester initiates. The remaining ten are junior girls—Mary Detlor, Rose Deuber, Nancy Elam, Joan Fairweather, Jacqueline Frisbie, Edna Gaffron, Lois Peterson, Avis Reschenberg, Iruis Ruf, and Janice Wurtz.

APPLICATIONS INVITED FOR FELLOWSHIPS

The Danforth Foundation of St. Louis, Missouri, invites applications for the second series (1953) of graduate fellowships for college seniors and recent graduates who are preparing themselves for a career of college teaching and are planning to enter graduate school in September, 1953, for their first year of graduate study. The Foundation welcomes applicants from the fields of Natural Sciences, Social Sciences, Humanities and other fields of specialization to be found in the undergraduate college.

President Fryklund has named Dr. R. G. Iverson as the Liaison Officer to work with the Danforth Foundation on the selection of candidates. These appointments are primarily "a relationship of encouragement," carrying a promise of financial aid within prescribed conditions as there may be need. Students with or without financial need are invited to apply. All Danforth Fellows will participate in the annual Danforth Foundation Conference on Teaching, to be held at Camp Minnawaca in Michigan next September. The qualifications of the candidate as listed in the announcement from the Foundation are:

Evidence of superior intellectual ability in college record.
Good record of health and emotional stability.
Outgoing personality and the concern for people, essential for successful teaching.
Choice of vocation of teaching as form Christian Service.
Deep religious convictions and growing religious perspectives.
(The Foundation is looking for candidates who are seriously examining their own religious life, and are seeking a maturing faith and a social outreach.

Each institution is asked to limit its nominations to two, or at the most three. Any student wishing further information should get in touch with Dr. Iverson.

Armistice Day is observed on November 11 in the United States, Great Britain, Canada, throughout the British Empire generally, and in France, as the day commemorating the cessation of hostilities between the Allies and Germany on November 11, 1918. The Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, in Arlington National Cemetery, Washington, D. C., is the scene of the national observance of Armistice Day in the United States.

But, what have we learned from this armistice? We have fought a second world war and are possibly on the verge of a third world war, each one more terrible than the preceding. Are we making headway toward peace or are we inviting war? The speaker at convocation last Wednesday, Dr. Mark Graubard from the University of Minnesota, gave some suggestions that we should all think about. Just the title of his speech alone should set us thinking: "Can Democracy Survive?"

We hope that democracy can survive and feel that the interest shown by the record vote in the recent presidential election is an indication of the responsibilities that the man on the street is assuming in his role in democracy.

NATIONAL ADVISOR TO VISIT L.S.A. SUNDAY

Miss Alice Oeterness, national L. S. A. advisor, will spend a whole day at Menomonie on Sunday, November 8. Arriving Sunday morning, Miss Oeterness will attend L. S. A. Bible study. In the evening, starting at 5:30, Miss Oeterness will be a special guest at Stout L. S. A.

A discussion on christian teachers in home economics, dietetics and industrial arts will be the main topic of the program. Good fun and food will be on hand for all. Everybody is welcome; let's show Miss Oeterness we have an active, interested L. S. A. It is not often we have a national officer as a guest.

For everyone interested, now is the time to start making plans to attend the Regional Fall L. S. A. Conference at Gustavus. The conference is on the week end of November 15 and 16 and already about two car loads of students are signed up to go. Anyone interested can get in contact with an L. S. A. officer or sign up on a list that will be posted.

S.T.S. INITIATES TWO NEW MEMBERS NOV. 5

Informal initiation took place Wednesday evening, November 5, for two pledges to the Stout Typographical Society. The two new members were Jerry Duncan and Allan Reed.

Special tests were given to these new members to see if they qualify for the degree of apprentice in the organization. Three present members were also examined for advancement to the next degree, indicative of advanced knowledge and skill in the printing field. Those advancing to the rank of journeyman were Dufur Peters, Gary Gore, and Allen Marheine. The evening's activities were concluded by serving refreshments to the members and the new initiates.

20 STUDENTS ATTEND WESLEY CONFERENCE

"The Christian Student in the World Struggle," was the theme of the state Methodist Student Movement conference held at the Wesley Foundation in Madison, October 31, November 1, 2. About 150 students attended. Miss Harper accompanied the 20 students from Stout who attended.

On Friday evening Stout had the worship service. Ellen Russell headed the committee which showed pictures of Hawaii along with the worship service.

The main speaker, Hiel Boellinger from the national office in Nashville, spoke three times throughout the conference. Discussion groups followed each speech. Each student attended one workshop on science, religion, education or philosophy. The conference was climaxed by a banquet on Saturday night followed by a Communion service.

DR. GRAUBARD TALKS AT CONVO ON DEMOCRACY

"Can Democracy Survive?" was the question Dr. Mark Graubard tried to answer in his speech at convocation November 5.

He began by stating that seven years ago the United States was a leader among nations and was strong and respected. He contrasted the benefits we have to offer with the disadvantages the Soviet Union has to offer, and asked why we have lost so much respect of other nations.

He believes the world lost its faith in America at Yalta when she failed to see the threat of Russian aggression. This left a vacuum. Russia filled this vacuum by offering hope, profit, a goal, a leader, and loyalty. The only solution for the United States is to develop a counter faith. She must study the intellectual and moral front and be more tolerant of others, and faith will be renewed in America.

DR. WILLIAMSON TALKS ON JAPANESE CLOTHING

"Clothing Problems in Japan," was the subject for Dr. Maude Williamson's talk before an open meeting of the Home Economics Club, Tuesday evening.

Dr. Williamson, former Head of Home Economics at Colorado A. & M., has spent two years in Japan with the Department of Education. During this time she visited various parts of Japan observing the methods and progress of home economics and collected many articles of Japanese clothing.

Dr. Williamson discussed the clothing customs and styles of the Japanese and the type of clothing worn by each age group. With the aid of Sumi Doi and Michiko Okado, who modeled komonos, Dr. Williamson displayed her collection of Japanese komonos and zori, or Japanese shoes.

SPECIAL APO MEETING IS HELD ON TUESDAY

A special meeting for members and pledges, of APO, was held Tuesday evening, November 4, in Bowman Hall. Bob Spinti, vice-president, presided at the meeting. Spinti explained the duties of each pledge during the probationary period prior to becoming a member. The pledges were sworn in after being oriented by the vice-president and members of committees, and placed on probation till November 15, when the formal initiation of the pledges will take place.

Bob Spinti told the pledges that they must give freely of themselves in programs sponsored by the organization and that they should be willing to accept responsibility and perform services to the best of their abilities.

Chairman of the other committees, in the organization, gave brief talks as to the history, purpose, and the workings of APO.

Pledges taken into the organization at this pre-formal initiation were: Oliver Agerlie, and Floyd Jolliffe.

Real happiness is not costly—but men pay fearful prices for its imitations.

FROM THE CAT'S POINT OF VIEW

by Felix Fysiology

It's about time you got around to asking me how I feel about this. Freshmen can be very annoying. The other day a girl came up to me, pulled me up by the tail, and said, "This is it?"

Mr. Arneson, can't you get those kids to call my muscles by the right names once in a while? They're calling my xiphohumeralis a pectoanti-brachialis. I can't understand such stupidity! And to top that off, someone tried to tell her partner that my lattissimus dorsi was inserted on my tibia, imagine!!!

Say, did you hear what two people were doing to me? Because they didn't want to waste time tying my skin back on after each class, they were going to sew a zipper down my back. I'm glad you laid down the law to them!

Yesterday someone had the audacity to say that I was the skinniest cat they had ever seen. Why, in my prime I was the handsomest alley cat that ever made his home in the Chicago dump. I bet they're still talking about me!

Before I forget, Mr. Arneson, someone cut right down to my liver two days ago. It's Scotch taped now, but I advise you to find out who did it!

I won't say any more now, but wait to see how mean I am when those freshmen take their practical exam. They won't find any muscles on which to pin their tags!

BY GOLLY, I'LL GET EVEN YET!

"There are only a very, very few jobs about which a person can be enthusiastic all the time. Work of this nature is so rare that it's in the category in which the colored lady put happiness: 'There ain't no such thing. You just gotta be happy without it.'"

JOURNALISM CLASS IS HELPING WITH PAPERS

The students in Mr. Fleming's journalism class have been writing articles for the Dunn County News and the Stoutonia as part of their journalism experience.

For the Dunn County News, the students must write four news stories, cover public speeches, and report the activities of the different departments at the court house.

For the Stoutonia, they are required to write publicity, sports, and feature articles. In addition, each person must write an editorial and assist the editor in publishing one issue of the paper.

In carrying out the assignments, students gain experience in interviewing and taking part in community affairs. Those students who are now enrolled in this class are: Lois Bredlow, Joan Fairweather, Marge Fitzgerald, Bernadine Gunderman, Roberta Harris, Jo Hosford, Don Leach, Eleanor Lehmann, Francis Oberpriller, Ellen Russell, Donald Walters, and Charles Weber.

A recent issue of the Dunn County News contained five front page stories written by members of the journalism class. Joan Fairweather has also had a feature story published in the Milwaukee Journal, St. Paul Pioneer Press, and the Eau Claire Leader.

TEA ROOM THEME IS NEW ORLEANS SETTING

On October 30, "The Court of Two Sisters" was the theme for Tea Room. This famous eating place, which is located in New Orleans, is noted for its combination of French, Creole, and Spanish cookery. Out of the numerous, well known eating places in New Orleans, "The Court of Two Sisters" is famous not only for its food but also for its genuine hospitality which the girls did their best to create.

The menu brought out the fact that in France food and eating are considered an art. The menu included such specialties as avocado cocktails, fried chicken on a waffle, and fabulous pie.

On November 6, a harvest smorgasboard will be held. The menu will consist of an abundance of hearty foods which are typical of this season.

RIFLE CLUB OPENED SEASON LAST FRIDAY

With rifles zeroed in, the Stout Rifle Team opened the small bore target shooting season against Manmouth College, Friday evening, in the upper gym of Bowman Hall.

Under the expert coaching and shooting of Stan Meyer, Glenn Voelz, Hugh Schmah, and DeWayne Nevin and others the rifle team has high hopes of winning a large portion of the matches this season.

The schedule of matches for the year is as follows: October 25, University of Idaho ROTC (Rifle Club); November 1, Manmouth College Rifle Club and Superior State Teachers College; November 8, Penn State Teachers College Rifle Club and Arizona State College Rifle and Pistol Club; November 29, Northwestern University Rifle Team and Farrogut College Rifle and Pistol Club; December 6, Michigan Tech. Rifle Club and University of San Francisco Rifle Club; December 13, University of Minnesota Rifle Club (ROTC); January 10, Juron College Rifle and Pistol Club and University of Nevada Rifle and Pistol Club; January 17, Harvard University Rifle Club and University of Nebraska (ROTC) Rifle Club; January 24, Ohio State University Rifle Club; February 7, California State Teachers College; February 14, University of Vermont Rifle Club and New York University Rifle and Pistol Club; February 21, City College of New York and University of Cincinnati Rifle Club; February 28, Penn State; March 7, University of Pittsburgh Rifle Club and March 14, University of Wisconsin Varsity Rifle Club.

The Stout club which is a Class A organization affiliated with the National Rifle Association, has a good supply of target rifles and other equipment. New equipment is purchased each year to add to the supply.

November 22 is the date scheduled for the Muzzle Loader's Brawl, an annual event sponsored by the Stout Rifle Club.

The members of the club report that the hunting bags have been heavy with game since the season opened on October 4. Many bag limits of partridge, grouse, pheasant, duck, and squirrel have been brought in.

Whenever you pick up a gun remember the 10 COMMANDMENTS OF SAFETY which are as follows: 1. Treat every gun with the respect due a loaded gun; 2. Carry only empty guns, taken down or with the action open, into your automobile, camp, and home; 3. Always be sure that the barrel and action are clear of obstructions; 4. Always carry your gun so that you can control the direction of the muzzle, even if you stumble; 5. Be sure of your target before you pull the trigger; 6. Never point a gun at anything you do not want to shoot; 7. Never leave your gun unattended unless you unload it first; 8. Never climb a tree or a fence with a loaded gun; 9. Never shoot at a flat hard surface or the surface of water; and 10. Do not mix gunpowder and alcohol.

The sixth greatest cause of accidental deaths in the United States is firearms, so be careful. Make, "Safety First—Always," your motto. The life you save may be your own!

CONGO CLUB MEMBERS ENJOY SQUARE-DANCING

Square-dancing, worship service, election of a vice president, and a short business meeting, were the activities that the Congo Club members gave their attention and talents to on Sunday, November 2, in the basement of the Congo church.

Darrel Premo led the calls and records provided the music for the evening's dancing.

Pat Wangen was in charge of the worship service that consisted of hymns and a responsive reading.

The club nominated Tom Kito as their new vice president.

Members of the food committee for this meeting were Marge Strombeck, Jane Motyka, Jan Waseen, and Judy Day.

"Show us the Father" is to be the topic of discussion for the next meeting.

V.A. REPORTING—

NEWS RELEASED BY THE VETERANS ADMINISTRATION

More than 28,000 veterans received GI 4 percent home loans from private lenders during the month of September, the highest volume since December 1951, Veterans Administration announced today.

Despite a general tightening up of the mortgage market, an average of 25,000 veterans a month obtained GI home financing during the first six months of 1952, VA said.

A low of 22,285 home loan applications was received during May, 1952. Since that time, the volume of GI home loan applications has been increasing steadily. During September, VA received 28,501 home loan guaranty applications from private lenders or lending institutions.

The trend of home loan guaranties in Wisconsin is definitely upward, J. P. Cullen, Manager of the VA Regional Office, said today. He stated that in July the VA guaranteed 278 home loans, in August 359, in September 432, and October is running well ahead of September.

Although the national monthly total of GI loan applications is substantial, VA said that geographically the market is out of balance. Some areas in the nation have an adequate supply of 4 percent GI loan money while other areas have little or none at all.

This geographical unevenness is not unique in the GI loan field VA pointed out, but has always been a general characteristic of the over-all mortgage market.

The recent renewal of the mortgage purchase program of the Federal National Mortgage Association—a Government corporation which buys GI loans from private lenders—will help to bolster the GI loan money supply in many communities, particularly where the supply of private capital is low, VA said.

Early in September, FNMA made available approximately $400 million for over-the-counter purchase of GI and FHA loans in non-defense areas.

As of the end of September, VA has approved 3,124,632 loans for homes, farms and businesses totalling more than $19.1 billion, of which VA guaranteed or insured nearly $10 billion.

Approximately 2,865,000 loans were for the construction or purchase of homes; 64,000 were for farms, and 196,000, for businesses.

Veterans with service since June 27, 1950, the beginning of the Korean campaign, are eligible for VA guaranteed loans on the same basis as World War II veterans under the Korean GI Bill signed by the President on July 16, 1952.

VA pointed out that, although figures are not available, the number of post-Korean veterans who have received GI loans is small because the GI loan program for them just recently got underway.

DID YOU HEAR ABOUT THE SALESMAN WHO - -

No doubt at one time or another every person has heard something about a traveling salesman, and they have also heard about the man who knocks on the door and introduces himself as, "The Fuller brush man." At the present time on the Stout campus there is a student who is engaged in this type of work; he is Jim Wallesver, a senior from Woodville, Wisconsin, who is doing this in order to meet the expenses of a college education.

Many stories have been told about the traveling salesman, but to get an accurate description of what the salesman is like, and what his job is like, a person should meet and talk with one to understand the things that they accomplish while serving the demands of the people.

The job of a salesman is by no means an easy one. It involves getting out on the road early in the morning and then traveling from place to place over all kinds of roads and then returning home.

The ability to meet people and sell them some object is truly a test of one's selling power. First you have to sell yourself to the people and then you have to sell your product. Another trait that is necessary for good salesmen is the ability to smile when after having given an excellent sales talk, the prospective customer says that he or she is not interested in buying anything.

For the past year Jim Wallesver has been a salesman for a well known brush company and from all indications he seems to be very successful in this field.

STOUT MEN ARE FOUND PRACTICING ECONOMY

While the Stout girls are studying Home Economics a few of the Stout fellows are practicing a little economy. If one will look off into the far corners of the Stout cafeteria you will find the same group of fellows sitting at the same table each evening. A closer look will uncover a paper sack behind one leg of the table. If you were to watch long enough you would see the fellow closest to the paper sack look cautiously around and then reach down into the sack. His hand would soon emerge holding a half gallon of milk. Yes! He has been to the Russell's Dairy.

Simple arithmetic shows that the four fellows can each have two glasses of milk for only five cents. To buy this milk at the cafeteria they would be paying better than three times as much. Hats off to a group of practical economists.

Keep your boots off the roots!

JUST LOOK WHAT THE FRESHMEN ARE DOING

If you've been seeing a few be-draggled freshmen walking around the campus, here's the reason. It was their first experience with mid-semester exams. I might add that the midnight oil burned fast and furious for a while.

After having the boys check the girls rooms so thoroughly for dust, we were expecting to see an immaculate Lynwood Hall. So what happens—you rub your finger across a table top and DUST. Boys, we're ashamed of you! What would your mothers think?

The weekend came to a wonderful end when the Sig Tau's came Sunday night with a car load of taffy apples. It was the gooiest, but most enjoyable 10:30 hour we've ever had. Thanks loads.

"Calling all freshmen," to attend the party tonight at the gym. There will be games, dances, and loads of fun for all. I'll see you there.

The freshman class was well represented in football this year and we hope they can represent us in basketball too. Everyone is backing you, so keep up the good work, boys.

Cider, doughnuts, election returns, and late hours! What more can the freshman girls ask for. Tuesday evening they had a party. They listened to the election returns and could stay up until 12 o'clock!!!

GERTRUDE PROVOST TAKES RELIGIOUS VOWS

Announcement has been received that a former Stout Institute student, Gertrude Provost (Ex. '50), is now Sister M. Gertrude Provost of the Medical Mission Sisters. Sister M. Gertrude took her first profession of religious vows in August.

Many Stout students still on campus will remember her, for she was very active in such campus organizations as Stoutonia, Newman club and Pallas Athene. She was also energetic in holding class offices and was narrator for Stout's 1948 Founder's Day program.

Sister M. Gertrude indicates that her Stout Institute training is being put to good use, for her first official assignment was to direct five to seven persons in the operation of a novitiate kitchen.

Alumni readers will recall that she was in attendance at Stout from 1946-1949. Sister M. Gertrude is at present at a novitiate in Philadelphia.

JAMES COVEY

JAMES COVEY VISITED CAMPUS LAST WEEK

James Covey, B. S. 1951, was back for a brief visit to our campus last week. On October 20, 1952, he received a General Line Commission as ensign from the Navy's only officer candidate school at Newport, Rhode Island. All the men at the school are college graduates, with a total enrollment of 1,900 students. While at Stout, Covey was a member of the F. O. B. fraternity.

ARTS AND CRAFTS INITIATED SIX MEN

Initiation of new members was held on Monday evening, October 27, by the Stout Arts and Crafts club. Six men were welcomed into the club following a very entertaining initiation program. Monday night, November 3, was the first regular work meeting for both new and old members.

Everything from good attempts at musical entertainment to speeches was included in the program put on by the new members for the regular members enjoyment. Results of the tests were revealed but no comment will be made at this time as to the general results.

The evening ended with a delicious lunch with the dishes and other cleaning being done by the new members upon their demand to show how much they appreciated a meeting held for their honor.

Work night, November 3, was the first time old and new members met to work at their favorite arts and crafts projects. The new members will most undoubtedly add to the club in the way of interest and participation as they continue to work upon and expand their personal interests.

PHI SIGS HOLD FORMAL INITIATION BANQUET

"All the chicken you can eat," followed by a candlelight formal initiation ceremony for nine members, featured the Thursday evening meeting, October 29, at the Hide-a-Way.

New members initiated into the fraternity are as follows: Fred Kneisler, Fred Scheppeler, Gino Casucci, William Buckley, James Berray, Oliver Agerlie, Willis Capps, Robert Moe, and Leroy Sharkey.

Following the initiation ceremony, a regular business meeting, with the new members participating, was held. The Phi Sig-Tri Sig dance was discussed by August Schultz and Jim Cook, and a paper drive for November 8 was decided upon. Oliver Agerlie was appointed fraternity reporter.

Refreshments and entertainment, provided by the new and old members, followed the meeting.

TRIP INITIATE TWELVE NEW MEMBERS

Twelve girls were initiated into the Hyperian Sorority on Thursday evening, October 24, at the Brewer residence.

After a formal initiation ceremony, pictures were taken, Hyp songs were sung, and refreshments were served.

Mary Ann Moore was general chairman for the initiation, and Char Winslow was in charge of corsages. Hostesses were Jan Waseen and Jane Shadewald.

TRAVELING SECRETARY VISITS LOCAL TRI SIGS

The Sigma Sigma Sigma Sorority was honored last week to have among its midst Miss Janet Mayer, traveling secretary of the organization. Miss Mayer spent three days on campus observing Tri Sigma members in class, in activities, and in work.

On Wednesday, Miss Mayer was the honored guest at the Tri Sigma Halloween Tea and on Wednesday evening she spoke to the sorority. On Thursday Miss Mayer scheduled conferences with each officer and chairman and gave suggestions as to how they could better fulfill their jobs.

JEROME LOUSCHIN WINS DOOR PRIZE AT DANCE

Theater tickets and a steak dinner for two were won by Jerome Louschin at the Dad's Day Sweetheart dance co-sponsored by the Phi-Sigs and Tri Sigs in the Stout Gym Saturday evening.

Joan Lee drew the winning name which gave Jerome Louschin, a junior from Ely, Minnesota, a steak dinner and movie for two. The presentation was made by Willis Capps and Jack Luy representing the Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity and Sigma Sigma Sorority.

Quaint drawings of flappers, fur coats and flippers brought the bygone days of mom and pop to the many couples dancing to the fine music of George Soderberg and his Royal Blackhawks.

Between the TROOP ENDS

The library received several new books recently. Some of them are, Foundations of World Organization; Hugh Walpole; The United Nations; Showmanship; The Short Story in America; An Age of Criticism; and Hearth in the Snow.

Hearth in the Snow, by Laura Buchanan and Herry Allen, tells of teaching in a remote Alaskan village, and of the responsibilities to school, mama and papa, and of evening and weekend social activities. The teacher doubles as doctor, postmaster, minister, and collector of internal revenue.

"We went to the Yukon by way of Texas because we were looking for a country place near New York." With this opening sentence the author, Florence Page Jaques, begins the book As Far As the Yukon. The book is about a trip to Alaska and her own wild flower gardens.

America's Heartland, by Green Peyton is a book about the Southwest which traces the history of this interesting region from the earliest Indian civilization through Spanish, French, and American conquests.

Another book they have just received is North With the Spring by Edwin Way Teale. Weary of winter, the author sets out to watch the unfolding of spring from the southern tip of Florida to the Canadian Border.

These are all good books, well worth your reading.

18 GIRLS ARE HONORED AT BIRTHDAY DINNER

The freshmen girls living at Tainter Annex and Tainter Hall held their second birthday dinner of the year, in the Tainter Hall dining room, last night, October 30.

The dinner was held in honor of eighteen freshmen girls whose birthdays are in the months of July and October.

L. S. A. ENTERTAINS AT A FELLOWSHIP FEAST

L. S. A. sponsored a fall fellowship feast on Sunday evening, November 2. L. S. A. groups from River Falls and Eau Claire State Colleges were honored guests. Also present was the complete slate of regional L. S. A. officers. Speaker for the evening was Miss Evie Schaefer, Lutheran student advisor from the University of Minnesota. The advisor for Lutheran students on the campuses of Superior State College and University of Minnesota Duluth Branch and a student from U. M. D. were present.

About twenty-five students from River Falls and about fifteen students from Eau Claire attended the meeting.

The special guests of the evening and those traveling long distances to attend was the complete slate of Land O' Lakes regional officers who represented five different colleges in Minnesota. Also traveling a long distance to attend were the two young ladies from the head of the lakes area. One of these people was the student advisor for Lutheran students at Superior State College and the University of Minnesota Duluth branch and second was a student from the Duluth Branch.

Miss Schaefer told briefly about some of her experiences at the world Lutheran Conference held at Hanover, Germany. She related how L. S. A. showed up at such a distant place.

L. S. A. is a training ground, Miss Schaefer pointed out. It involves actions, attitudes, personal giving—don't always expect to take as you get out of something only what you put in—stewardship; this involves time and talent as well as money.

Miss Schaefer was very happy that a small school like The Stout Institute had the evidences of such an active and interested L. S. A. and that it was very gratifying to see the other schools come long distances to give support and showing of interest. She urged that as many people as possible should attend the Fall Conference at Gustavus the week end of November 15 and 16.

DELTA KAPPA ACCEPTS NINE NEW MEMBERS

The Hide-a-way was the scene of the annual Delta Kappa formal initiation ceremonies on October 23 when nine new members were initiated into the fraternity. A dinner featuring chicken and steak was served preceding the initiation.

The new Delta Kappa's are Frank Doerfler, West Allis; Roger Hanson, Wittenberg; Bill Rahl, Augusta; Alan Stauve, Whitehall, Art Scheldrup, Stoughton; Paul Northrop, Menomonie, Alex Gembolis, Wakefield, Michigan; Robert Ruparich, Chisholm, Minnesota; and George Ueda, Haka-lau, Hawaii.

Following the dinner and initiation ceremonies, the entire group met at a secret rendezvous for a special gathering. Don Leach and "Jug" Van Valzah led the group in singing.

TRI SIG MEMBERS ATTEND CONFERENCE

Seven members of the Beta Pi chapter of Sigma Sigma Sigma attended the Regional Leadership Conference Program at Milwaukee, October 25-26. The girls stayed at the Plankinton House where both days were filled with a varied program which, as the girls stated, was "interesting and educational leaving us with a richer meaning of Sigma Sigma Sigma."

Beta Pi chapter was co-chairman of the Circulation Party which ended Saturday's program, and Miss Jeanne Diefenbach, faculty advisor of the chapter, spoke at the Sigma Inspiration Hour on Sunday.

Members from The Stout Institute attending this conference were Phyllis Allman, Donna Anderson, Marge Ramsey, Janice Wurtz, Phyllis Spaulding, Catherine Magee, Miss Jeanne Diefenbach and Miss Marjory Elliott.

SIG TAU PLEDGES ARE INITIATED AT BANQUET

Six former pledges of Sigma Tau Gamma can at last breathe a sigh of relief. Their three weeks of pledging ended last night with a banquet held at the Anchor cafe. The six new members are Robert Brunswick, Richard Kadotani, Herbert Reibe, Jerry Sommers, George Stolp, and Richard Warsinske.

The first week of pledging was hell week and the pledges were seen in their blue and white shields and helmets and gold swords. Week number two saw the pledges studying feverishly over their pledge manuals. The final week was a week of special duties. The term "special duties" covers a lot of ground, and so did the pledges.

The new members presented a delightful skit for the group. Much hidden talent was uncovered last night and this new talent will undoubtedly blossom again at future Sig Tau activities.

Menu for the banquet was ham, baked potatoes, peas, salad, and pie.

HOME EC CLUB HEARS TALK ON PAINTING

The Home Economics Club held its initiation Monday night, October 27, with about 75 new members attending. Following the initiation, Reverend Malmin gave a demonstration on hand painting of wooden plates.

Mr. Malmin showed the group the different patterns he had painted on plates, baskets, and other wooden articles. He said his hobby is really the painting of Scandinavian designs, but that he likes to paint wildlife and outdoor scenes as well.

He said that anyone who likes to paint can do this kind of work. It isn't hard after a little practice and makes a very worthwhile and interesting hobby.

MAP PLAY WILL GIVE AUDIENCE A THRILL

One of the best chill-and-shudder plays to have reached the American stage in many seasons has been chosen as the next attraction to be presented by the Manual Arts Players. This is "Kind Lady," the Broadway hit melodrama by Edward Chodorov which was described by one of the New York critics as "one of the most engrossing studies of villainy on the modern stage." Present plans call for its presentation at the Stout Auditorium beginning Nov. 13 for performances through Nov. 15.

The terrifying story of a slightly eccentric and wealthy spinster who is kidnapped in her own house, "Kind Lady" resorts to none of the usual tricks employed by dramatists of the goosellesh school of writing. Though not a shot is fired in three tense acts, no clutching hand seen, nor a police alarm sounded, the suspense in "Kind Lady" is said to be so well sustained and agonizing that audiences experience chills, thrills, and fevers right up to the last shocking surprise, which occurs at the final curtain.

Trouble for the "kind lady" of the title starts when she finds at her door one Christmas Eve a shabbily dressed young man whom she invites into her home for tea, and discovers him to be extremely cultivated and an art connoisseur. Days later he is back to return a jade cigarette case he had stolen on his first visit, with the story that he had pawned it to help a sick wife and child, who are in the street waiting for him. The spinster has them in, and sends the young man for a doctor. Within the week, the family she befriends, aided by three supposed relatives, move in upon the "kind lady" to stay. They dismiss the servants, hold the spinster prisoner, spread the word that she has sailed suddenly for a trip around the world, and board up her house.

The agonizing suspense of "Kind Lady" centers in the repeated attempts of the captive to outwit her captors and win her freedom.

PA PLEDGES ENTERTAIN MEMBERS AT A PARTY

On Thursday, October 30, at 7:45 p.m. the active members of the Pallas Athene Sorority were guests at the party given in their honor by the pledges. The scene of this annual affair was Dr. Marshall's apartment.

The party started with a bang as the pledges presented a skit entitled, "As Teaching Goes, So Goes the Teacher."

A light lunch was served and the party ended with everyone trying to move Dr. Marshall's furniture back where it originally was.

BLUEDEVILS LOSE 21-39 TO ST. CLOUD

Staff Photo
The Stoutonia camera caught this action shot of Stout vs St. Cloud game.

Peterson Scores three times To pace the victors and Overtake the Bluedevils.

The Stout Bluedevils played their second game of the season against a Minnesota opponent and came out on the short end of a 39-21 score before a near capacity crowd on Dad's Day. St. Cloud, winner of the Teachers College conference title in Minnesota, played a good game of football throughout and thoroughly controlled the action in the second half after trailing 21-13 at the intermission. Stan Peterson, 200 lb. fullback, scored three times to pace the victors, while Steve Hansen counted twice for the Bluedevils. Red Walker, playing in his last college game also scored, to give him a total of five for the season!

Hansen Scores Early

The Bluedevils began a 76 yard march that culminated in an early first quarter score the first time that they had their hands on the ball. Hansen, Walker, and Bill Kieffer carried to the St. Cloud 47 before a Tom Stilt to Don Steele aerial gave Stout a first down on the 31. With the Bluedevils just short of another first down on the 22, Walker sped 13 yards to the 9 before finally being brought down. On the succeeding play Hansen shot over left tackle for the touchdown and Stilt made the first of three successful conversions to send the Bluedevils into a 7-0 lead.

Huskies Come Back

The Huskies, however, did not seem to be too shaken up over matters as they followed with a score of their own seconds after the opening of the second quarter. Roy Grove, Peterson, and Don Cash did the bulk of the carrying as St. Cloud drove 62 yards in just 8 plays. A long Borgert to Cash forward pass was good for 20 yards in this scoring march.

A fumble on Sheldon Anderson's ensuing kickoff caused the Bluedevils trouble as Don Hill recovered on the Stout 29. Borgert, Cash, and Peterson carried to the two before Peterson finally hit off left tackle to score.

Walker Goes Over

After Steve Hansen had returned Ken Athman's fourth down punt to the Stout 40, the Bluedevils drove to the St. Cloud 36 in four running plays. With a first and ten Stilt faded and passed to Don Steele on the 13 for a 23 yard gain on the succeeding play. Walker carried for 9 in two carries before Hansen got a first on the 2. One play was all that was needed as Walker went over for the touchdown and Stilt converted making it 14-13 in favor of the Bluedevils.

Ritt Intercepts

After Reichel returned Stilt's kick-off to the St. Cloud 17, Borgert faded back to his 10 before throwing down field to Reedstorm. But Don Ritt, freshman half from Waukesha, leaped high in the air to snare the ball on the 45 and returned to the 27 before being hit. The clock on the scoreboard showed just 53 seconds remaining and the Bluedevils took a time out. On the very first play Stilt fired to Neil Hoepfner on the Huskie three. The Bluedevils took another timeout following this play although it did cost them 5 yards. After Stilt threw incomplete to Steele, Hansen ran the remaining eight yards around left end to score. Again Stilt converted and the score read 21-13 at halftime.

St. Cloud Recovers Fumbles

The Huskies came back to score shortly after the third quarter opened, thanks to another Bluedevil fumble as the ball squirted out of Hansen's hands on the Stout 29. Cash and Peterson carried to the Stout 4 before Grove

SUPERIOR BACK RANKS FIRST IN SCORING

Bob Lundberg, Superior State College fullback, won the individual scoring championship of the northern division of the Wisconsin State College Conference. Lundberg, who scored seven touchdowns in four loop contests, scored four times against the Stout Bluedevils for his outstanding performance of the season. Willie Berzinski, flashy first year halfback of the champion La Crosse Indians, took runner-up honors with 30 points while teammate Jerry Tuska took third position with 24. The leading northern division scorers follow:

	T.D.	E.P.	T.P.
LUNDBERG, Sup.	7	0	42
BERZINSKI, La X	5	0	30
TUSKA, La X	4	0	24

finally scampered into the end zone. Fisher's kick was good and the Huskies trailed by only a single point. The Bluedevils roared back however, as Don Woelffer returned Anderson's kickoff to the Stout 36. Hansen and Walker carried to the St. Cloud 49 before Stilt connected with Hoepfner on the Huskie 37. But two plays failed to gain and on third down Walker fumbled and Frank Iacarella recovered on the 35. With a fourth and seven on the Stout 35 Borgert hit Reedstorm on the nine yard line for a first and goal. The Bluedevils held for three downs but Peterson finally banged through tackle for the counter. Fisher's kick was good making it 27-21.

After Kieffer punted to Reichel on the St. Cloud 44, the Huskies added an insurance marker. The 150 lb. Cash carried on a majority of the running plays and eventually went over for the Huskies 32nd point. Again Fisher's boot was good to make it 33.

Pass Scores For Huskies

The Huskies added insult to injury when they tallied their final touchdown just before the end of the game. A low pass from center Lloyd Woodmansee made it impossible for Kieffer to get his fourth down punt away from the Stout 22. The Huskies second string quarterback, George Hansen, then entered the game and threw a high wobbly pass to Reedstorm in the end zone and the game ended seconds later with St. Cloud earning the 39-21 decision.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

Saturday night marked the end of another Stout football campaign. While the Bluedevils came out on the short end of six out of eight games, many of the encounters were very close and hotly contested. As a matter of fact the Bluedevils played only two bad ball games throughout the season, a 21-0 loss to River Falls and a 28-0 trouncing by the Pointers of Stevens Point. They managed to give the La Crosse Indians a battle royal at La Crosse when they lost 14-6 although they outscored and outplayed the Indians during the second half.

The Bluedevils finally got their offense under way during the last three games as much improvement was recorded in this department. Out of a total of fourteen touchdowns registered throughout the season, 12 were counted in those last three contests. Unfortunately however, the defensive play did not keep pace with the offense in the final two encounters.

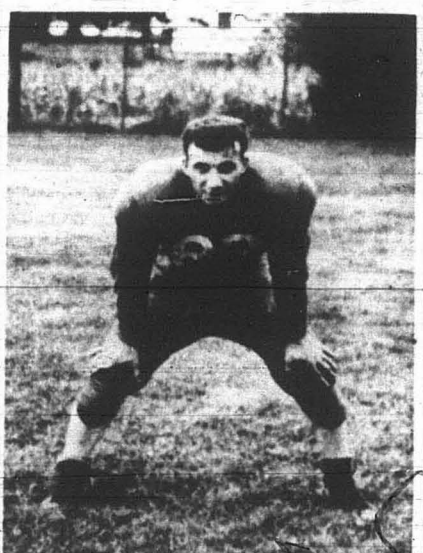

Eight members of the Bluedevil squad played their last collegiate game Saturday. End George Krall, guards Bob Popovich, Karl Turk, and Louie Lausted, center Lloyd Woodmansee, and backs Ronald "Red" Walker, Tom Stilt, and Bill Kieffer are the departing seniors. All of these men will be sorely missed and fondly remembered by all Stout supporters. Walker particularly will be remembered for his fine offensive work and terrific blocking and tackling ability.

Stilt, who started the season as an assistant coach, also deserves credit for a job well done. His passing ability, which was as good or better than the combined talents of Gale Woelffer and Wayne Weiler of last years edition will be hard to replace.

Congratulations are also in order for Coach Jack Wink who did a fine job under critical circumstances. A general loss of depth was certainly apparent throughout the season and losses to the armed forces also dimmed prospects for the Bluedevils. Another unfavorable condition prevailed when Wink finished the campaign with only one assistant coach as opposed to the three assistants employed by Tony Storti last year.

Across the desk... Despite two costly fumbles, Steve Hansen played the outstanding game of his collegiate career Saturday night... The Dad's Day ceremonies came off well even though Don Beran ran from one end of the field to the other lining up sponsors and placards... St. Cloud's Stan Peterson showed the Bluedevils why he scored in almost every game played by the Minnesota entry when he tallied three times Saturday... Red Walker led the Bluedevil scorers with five touchdowns. Other Stout touchdowns were made by Hansen with three, Kieffer with two, and Aumann, Ritt, Van Buren, and Hoepfner with one each... Tom Stilt booted ten for thirteen in the conversion department, missing on two at Superior and having one blocked at La Crosse.

PLAYER OF THE WEEK

KARL TURK

Karl Turk, who hails from Aurora, Minnesota, has played in his fourth year as a Stout Bluedevil. After graduating from Aurora High School in 1948, Karl enrolled at The Stout Institute in the fall of that year. During his high school years, Karl won three letters in both football and basketball and two major letters in track. When a junior, he was all-conference guard in basketball. The following year as a senior, Karl was captain of his basketball team, and was also elected to an all-conference position in football.

In his first season of football at Stout, Karl won his varsity "S". Under Coach Storti, he was one of the mainstays of the offensive line, playing in a guard position. This year he also played guard, only in a defensive assignment. Rated as one of the fastest linemen in the conference, Karl was in on many of the tackles aimed at stopping enemy gains. His speed was used to advantage also on a unique offensive play in which the guard is eligible to carry the ball. Standing 5' 9" and weighing 175 pounds, Karl has used his stocky frame to make many

'52 DAD'S DAY PROVES TO BE A REAL SUCCESS

Dad's Day proved to be a big success. The day began with the "S" Club banquet honoring all the dads, which was held in the cafeteria at 12:30. Dr. Agnew acted as Master of Ceremonies and a speech given by Dr. W. R. Davies, President of Eau Claire Teachers College, highlighted the occasion. Speeches were also given by Dr. Verne Fryklund, Dean Bowman and "Red" Walker.

After the banquet a group picture was taken, followed by a tour of Bowman Hall and Harvey Hall.

During the half of the game each Dad or sponsor was presented with a group picture, which was taken early in the afternoon.

While the Dad's were being entertained at the banquet at noon, the mothers were entertained at a tea given by the Intersorority Council. After the tea a group picture of the mothers was also taken, which also was followed by tours through the two buildings on campus.

After the game the "Sweetheart Dance" honoring Dad and his sweetheart concluded the day's festivities.

key blocks and recover loose enemy fumbles. His outstanding play last year placed him on the all-conference state teachers' team.

Karl, whose major interest in Industrial Arts centers around the woods area, graduates in June. One of four married men on this years' squad, Karl is employed for part-time work at the Menomonie Bake Shoppe.

DON'T MISS MAP THRILLER 'KIND LADY'

After a successful opening on Thursday night, the Manual Arts Players shudder-and-suspense melodrama, "Kind Lady," will remain at the Stout Auditorium Theatre for two more performances, November 14 and 15.

First-nighters at the Stout Auditorium Theatre found that "Kind Lady" has more than the usual quota of thrills and chills. Indeed it is difficult to recall a play that creates such extraordinary tension and suspense as does this drama of how Mary Herries tries to communicate with her friends outside and of how the kidnappers keep her isolated, attempt to drive her insane, meanwhile disposing of her paintings and otherwise undermining her fortune.

If you haven't as yet made plans to attend this play, you can still get your free ticket in Harvey Hall by showing your SSA card.

LIGHTS! CAMERA! ACTION!

Some of the members of the audio visual production class are shown above as they work on a set for the picture, "Block Cutting and Printing."

AUDIO-VISUAL CENTER MAKES A SOUND FILM

Produced in full color, a 16 millimeter instructional motion picture, "Block Cutting and Printing," has just been completed by the audio-visual center of Stout Institute.

A print of the 13 minute sound film has already been purchased by the film service of Indiana University, for showing throughout that state. Additional prints are being previewed for possible purchase by Utah university, Michigan State College, San Francisco State College, the Milwaukee public school system, and the Little Rock (Arkansas) public schools.

Negotiations are also underway for inclusion of the motion picture in the film rental service of the University of Wisconsin, which will then fill requests from Wisconsin schools. The Stout Institute does not itself operate a film rental service.

First public showing of the production was given for delegates attending the printing section meeting of the Wisconsin Education association. This meeting was part of the annual WEA convention in Milwaukee on November 6, 7, 8. Program planners of the WEA printing section had requested a showing of the film at that time. Mr.

Raymond Cornwell of the Stout printing department introduced the film.

"Block Cutting and Printing" is planned for use with students from junior high school level through college and adult education training. The film can be used in art classes, crafts training, graphic arts courses, hobby groups, industrial arts classes, and occupational therapy.

Content of the film describes the procedure for cutting and printing a two-color design by use of a very simple method. Included are techniques of transferring the design, cutting, proofing, registering for color, and printing the blocks by three different methods. A review of all techniques concluded the picture.

Production of "Block Cutting and Printing" was done under the direction of David Barnard, director of audio-visual education at The Stout Institute. Educational collaborator on the film was Lloyd Whydowski, chairman of Stout's printing department. Raymond Cornwell, instructor of printing, was narrator and demonstrator for the film.

In creating the film, Stout students in classes of "Production of Audio-visual Materials" received first-hand experience in film production by actual work on the movie. They first completed research in 19 relevant textbooks to obtain a consensus of proper

PRESIDENT AND TWO FACULTY ON AACTE TEAM

President Verne C. Fryklund, Mr. Ray A. Wigen, and Dr. Erich R. Oetting of The Stout Institute participated in a visitation program of the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education on the campus of Northern Illinois State Teachers college at DeKalb, Illinois, November 3-4.

The Stout representatives were members of an eight-man AACTE team which visited DeKalb to aid in the improvement of programs for the education of teachers. Also on the team were four men from Ball State Teachers college, Muncie, Ind., and the executive secretary of the Illinois Education association.

In helping the faculty at DeKalb carry through the self-evaluation project, the team of visitors met with the college administration, various faculty groups, students, and individual faculty members.

At the close of the two-day visitation, which had been carried out in a completely friendly spirit, the team of visitors, through their chairman, gave the faculty at DeKalb a frank analysis of the team's findings. Both shortcomings and strengths of the college, as observed through the visitation, were pointed out and specific instructions made for future action.

The Stout Institute, as a member of the AACTE, will be visited by a member team early in March. This new technique of self-evaluation among colleges for teacher education is designed to afford a great deal of improvement without standardization.

DR. WILLIAMSON SPEAKS AT AAUW MEETING

Dr. Maude Williamson, visiting professor, now at The Stout Institute, was the principle speaker at the meeting of the American Association of University Women held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, November 13, in the Grey Barn apartments, 814 Fourth street.

Hostesses for the occasion were Lillian Jeter, Lillian Carson, Hazel Van Ness, and Clara Carrison. The program was arranged by the International Relations committee of AAUW, whose chairman is Miss Gertrude M. O'Brien.

In her talk, Dr. Williamson gave impressions of Japan as it exists under American occupation.

THIS WEEK THE NATION TURNS TO EDUCATION

American Education Week, being observed throughout the nation from November 9-15, reminds Menomonie citizens of the accomplishments and needs of this community's elementary and secondary schools, as well as its institutions of higher learning.

This observance, which has been an annual event for 32 years, is sponsored by the American Legion, the U. S. Office of Education, the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, and the National Education Association. General theme of this year's celebration is recognition of the needs of "Children in Today's World."

Individual aspects of the general theme stress the importance of harmonious, rewarding association of every child with his church, his home, his school, and his nation. Equally stressed is each child's awareness and appreciation of his heritage, his opportunities, and his future in a democratic society.

Special emphasis during American Education Week in this community is being placed on the need to recruit teachers. The observance is also designed to inform potential teachers of the opportunity which teaching offers, both in aiding on-coming generations and in repaying obligations owed great teachers of the past.

In April, to focus the attention of the community upon opportunities for service and personal satisfaction in the field of home economics, The Stout Institute will hold an open house for residents of this area. Dr. Alice J. Kirk, dean of the Stout division of home economics, will be in charge of this event.

American Education Week stresses the contributions of the nation's teachers—at all levels of instruction—in developing splendid men and women from promising boys and girls. These teachers seek to make their schools "Halls of living as well as learning." They seek to promote the welfare of all whom they contact.

In addition to educating America's young people, however, today's teachers strive to impress upon students that an education must be earned; that it is not a gift achieved without effort. Today's student, especially each teaching candidate, is also taught that only by effort and application can he both repay his debt to past generations and, at the same time, assure a safe future for generations yet to come.

Not only are the ethical, aesthetic aspects of teaching emphasized for young people in search of a career. Equally of interest are the practical rewards of the profession. A recent "Fortune Magazine" survey of Americans indicated that over one-half of the nation's parents believe that college training is of real importance to their children in obtaining a rewarding position gaining promotion, achieving above-average annual and life income, and guarding themselves against chronic fluctuations in the labor market.

Evidence that many of these factors are true of a college education can be seen in the employment picture for graduates of Menomonie's own Stout Institute. According to Miss Gertrude M. O'Brien, chairman of the college placement committee, shortage in home economics graduates has increased since 1945 until, for the last several years, that shortage has become critical.

Until the supply of home economics teachers is increased, many smaller high schools in the state are unable to open the home economics departments which they desire and need. In other instances, home economics departments in the state have closed for lack of teachers.

To alleviate the shortage in home economics, promising candidates for this field—and more of them—must be encouraged to enter this work. A greater supply will also help satisfy the urgent demands for highly-paid home economists in industry, commercial demonstration service, agriculture extension work, commercial food service, hospital dietetics, and institution management.

Home economists must be recruited to replace the many trained personnel who, each year, put their home economics skill to work as homemakers and mothers.

According to Miss O'Brien, the supply of graduates for the teaching of industrial education barely meets the demand in some fields; in other fields the shortage is already serious. Included among the teaching fields of greatest need are electricity, metals, auto mechanics and printing. This deficiency, she feels, will become even more severe for the 1953 placement season.

As part of a continuing record of 100% placement of its industrial education graduates, The Stout Institute prepares not only educators but also personnel as designers and production experts for manufacturing plants, instructors in military service schools, trainers in education departments of industry, and other technically educated specialists. More high school graduates, with interest in some phase of industrial arts training, are required to meet these varied needs.

Also in the throes of one of the greatest shortages in the nation's educational history is the field of elementary teaching. As America's bumper crop of babies born during World War II is reaching school age, the pinch in teaching personnel is already felt at the elementary level. This pinch will eventually reach sec-

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

In spite of preceeding articles printed in The Stoutonia in the past weeks, it is interesting to note that there has been no noticeable let up in walking across the grass. One might also note, as we did during the past week, that Stout students are not the only violators. Faculty members numbering as high as five, and high school students are also among the offenders. The five faculty members that we noticed not only cut across the grass once, but did so a number of times.

An interesting remark made by one faculty member, referring to the beaten path next to the new tunnel project, was to the effect that one might wonder just where the new tunnel is going through. Then, he proceeded on his merry way across the grass.

The high school students are equally guilty of walking on the grass. We have noticed that quite a few of them cut across our campus and do so frequently and at a variety of points.

True, some of the students at Stout do walk on the grass, but before any one starts to place all of the blame upon the student body, we suggest that they be more observant and include all the violators.

THANKSGIVING RECESS BEGINS ON NOV. 26

A reminder that Thanksgiving vacation is just around the corner and this means that there are no cut days before or after vacation. The Thanksgiving recess will begin Nov. 26 at noon and school will resume Dec. 1.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMS TO BE JUNE 30, 1953

The U. S. Civil Service Commission has announced examinations for filling Engineer and Engineer Trainee positions in the Bureau of Reclamation in the West and Midwest. Salaries for Engineer are $3,410 and $4,205 a year, and for Engineer Trainee, $2,950 and $3,175 a year.

The Engineer Trainee examination is of special interest to sophomore and junior college students, as it is open to persons who have completed or expect to complete by June 30, 1953, one-half or three-fourths of a college course in engineering. Applicants must also take a written test. Applicants for the Engineer examination will be rated on the basis of their education or experience only.

Further information and application forms may be obtained at most first and second-class post offices or from the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C. Applications for Engineer Trainee will be accepted until December 2, 1952, and for Engineer until further notice by the Executive Secretary, Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, Bureau of Reclamation, Denver Federal Center, Denver, Colorado.

MISS O'BRIEN IS CHAIRMAN OF PLACEMENTS

Selection of Miss Gertrude M. O'Brien, chairman of the placements committee of The Stout Institute, as their group chairman for the coming year has been announced by the Teacher Placement Officers of Wisconsin Colleges.

Miss O'Brien was elected at a recent meeting of that organization in Hotel Schroeder, Milwaukee, during the WEA convention, November 6-8.

"FRESHMAN HEAVEN" IS THOROUGHLY ENJOYED

"Freshman Heaven" is what last week could be called. With half of the teachers at conventions, we frosh had lots of time off. Lucky, lucky!!

Say, what's this I hear about two girls and four boys playing basketball one Thursday evening. Girls, isn't there an easier way to get a man?

Senior, sophomore, and junior W. A. A. members—this is the year to bow down to the freshmen. Why, we already won the volleyball tournament and we're well on the way to winning the rest! Watch out, here we come!!

I don't know what's been happening, but at least 5 girls were sick last week. Keep it up and we'll all be at the infirmary. But maybe that wouldn't be so bad—I hear the food's pretty O.K.

Everyone had loads of fun at the Freshmen Mixer. Let's get together again.

How is "Gabby Hayes" today? You and "Red Walker" should entertain us again sometime!

Seven weary and excited frosh girls spent a wonderful day at Minneapolis last Saturday. They also spent a lot of that green stuff. Oh well, girls, we all know that we have to splurge sometime.

HOBBIES WILL BE TOPIC OF CONVOCATION

"People and Their Hobbies," a lecture complete with stage demonstration and motion pictures, will be presented at assembly hour on Wednesday, November 19. Colonel Larson, a hobbyist, entertainer, author, and cinematographer, accompanied by his daughter, will present a motion picture in natural color. It portrays plain people and their unusual hobbies, including trick and fancy roping, kitchen juggling, a record jet plane in action, and many other entertaining performances.

Having been stricken with polio, Colonel Larson started his hobby career, which led to ultimate recovery. His message to everyone, is "Have a hobby to keep yourself mentally and physically alert, and pave the way to a happy future."

It is a fine thing to have ability, but the ability to discover ability in others is the true test.

MR. R. WIGEN IS INDUSTRIAL ARTS PRESIDENT

Mr. R. A. Wigen, director of graduate studies, was elected president of the Wisconsin Industrial Arts meeting at the W.E.A. convention held in Milwaukee last weekend.

Mr. Wigen stated that this is not his first experience as president of an Industrial Arts association. He served as president of the Minnesota State Industrial Arts association during the years 1930-32 and as vice president of the Wisconsin Industrial Arts association during this past year.

Dr. E. R. Rudiger acted as discussion leader at the general shop sectional meeting at the convention. The topic which he presented was "Project Selection for the General Shop." Dr. Rudiger, in opening the discussion, presented a paper on this subject. Little material on this area of industrial education is available.

Chairman of the general shop sectional meeting was Keith Moon, a graduate of Stout in 1942, who is now teaching at Pulaski high school near Green Bay.

Raymond L. Cornwell presented a new film produced at The Stout Institute, entitled Block Cutting and Printing. This film was shown at the Graphic Arts sectional meeting. He also acted as discussion leader for the group on the topic "Audio-Visual Aids for the Graphic Arts." Later he distributed copies of "Film Strips and Films for Industrial Education," a compilation which has recently been revised and reprinted at Stout. At the business meeting, Mr. Cornwell became secretary-treasurer of the Wisconsin Graphic Arts Teachers association for the following year. He has previously served on the board of directors of the organization for three years.

PEP SONG AND ALMA MATER ARE RECORDED

Records of Stout's Alma Mater and the school pep song will soon be available.

These records will cost one dollar each if 200 records are ordered. Orders will be taken before sending for any amount. The money must also be sent with the order.

The two songs will be recorded on 10" records by professional recording artists. They will run approximately two and one-half minutes.

DR. WILLIAMSON WAS GUEST AT WESLEY

Dr. Williamson was the guest speaker at the meeting of the Wesley Student Fellowship on Sunday, November 9, at 5:30 o'clock.

Dr. Williamson spoke on the three great religions of Japan, which are Buddhism, Shintoism, and Christianity. She showed colored slides of the many religious shrines which she had visited while in Japan.

The meeting ended with the Friendship circle and the singing of "Blest Be the Tie."

Next week a movie, one of the Moody Bible Institute series, "God of the Atom," will be shown.

LYCEUM SERIES FOR 1952-53 IS NOW SET UP

November 21, begins the Lyceum series for 1952-53 at The Stout Institute. Lillian Moore, ballerina, will be featured at the first program. Harvey, a comedy by Mary Chase, will be presented by the University of Minnesota Players, January 9. The university players will return again, March 6, to give the comedy, Ah! Wilderness, by Eugene O'Neill. On February 20, the Ameco McCool singers, Evelyn Ames, contralto, and Charles McCool tenor, will present the evenings entertainment. The Lyceum series for the year will close April 17, with the return of the Guardsmen Quartette.

FRED A. FISHER ONE GRAD DIES IN JAPAN ON NOVEMBER 6

We have just received word from Lt. William H. Fischer that Ensign Fred A. Fisher died as a result of injuries at the U. S. Naval Hospital in Yokosuka, Japan, on November 6.

No further details were available except that Fred had just arrived in Yokosuka Naval Base to take over his initial assignment as Security Officer when the injuries occurred.

Fred graduated from Stout in June of this year. He was a member of Epsilon Pi Tau, Radio Club, Rifle Club, Ski Club, and president of the Stout Symphonic Singers.

Funeral arrangements were made in his hometown, Minneapolis.

A. P. O. ELECTS A NEW PRESIDENT FOR TERM

Alpha Phi Omega held its regular meeting Tuesday, November 11, in Bowman Hall, at 6:30 p.m. Main purpose of the meeting was the election of a new president to serve out the unexpired term of former president Bob Adkins. Other business included the reading of material in regards to the National Convention of Alpha Phi Omega to be held in Columbus, Ohio, December 28, 29, 30.

Bruce Sorensen and Charles Weber were nominated to the office of president. After the votes were tabulated Bruce Sorensen was declared president. Dean Price, advisor of the organization, swore the new president into office immediately after the tabulation of votes.

Information about the National Convention of Alpha Phi Omega to be held in Columbus, Ohio, was read by Vice-President Bob Spinti. President Spinti made it known that it would be a good idea if one underclass delegate were appointed to attend the convention as official delegate of Eta Kappa chapter of Alpha Phi Omega. Dean Price will also attend the convention as a delegate but as an advisor.

These prints are buyable with a 25% educational discount.

RECREATION NIGHT TO BE HELD AT L. S. A.

Recreation night at L. S. A. will be held Sunday evening November 16. Stout L. S. A. members will attend the annual Regional Land O'Lakes fall L. S. A. conference at Gustavus Friday through Sunday.

On Sunday evening, L. S. A. will be out for activity. This will be a special meeting in that the emphasis will be on recreation. Volleyball, shuffleboard, table tennis and table games of many sorts will be open to everyone; just take your pick or try them all. A word of advice beforehand: wear free action clothing, jeans, slacks or anything which allows movement with ease.

Supper will be served at 5:30 as usual, followed by a movie titled "Return to Faith". The program coordinator is John Christiansen and he promises action. Outside of the supper and the movie the entire evening is recreational.

Leaving The Stout Institute campus Friday afternoon and returning Sunday afternoon will be three car loads of L. S. A. representatives who are attending the annual Regional Land O'Lakes Fall L. S. A. conference at Gustavus. If anyone reading this article has not as yet signed up to go and would like to make the trip, you have until about four o'clock today to possibly get a ride. There is room for a few more people and the cost of transportation is low.

The Land O'Lakes Region is the largest region in the national L. S. A. organization. The Stout Institute is represented in the slate of officers with Ardis Olson as editor of the regional newsletter "Splash," which is a monthly publication sent to many colleges in three different states that are included in the Land O'Lakes region.

ROSES BLOOMED FOR THE SIG TAU FORMAL

Even though the winter months are quickly closing in on us there were roses blooming in the Stout gym last Saturday night. The annual Rose of Sigma Tau fall formal prompted the creation of the many decorations that swathed the gym for an evening of dancing to the music of the Royal Blackhawks.

Highlighting the evening was the coronation of Geraldine Bienaisz as rose queen for the year 1952-53. Professor John Jarvis, fraternity advisor, presented queen Geraldine with a crown of white roses. Geraldine Bienaisz is a well known senior at Stout and wife of fraternity president, David Bienaisz.

The Rose of Sigma Tau fall formal is presented each year for the enjoyment of all Stout students. This year's dance has definitely been logged as a success.

Social chairman, Jim Brown, had the responsibility for the many details of the dance. Sam Mikitarian took charge of preparing the punch and Lawrence Smith was in charge of printing the programs.

STOUT'S BASKETBALL SEASON OPENS DEC. 1

First Three Games Are Against Some Of The Top Minnesota Teams

Stout Institute's basketball squad will begin its 1952-53 season by meeting the challenge of three of Minnesota's top teams. Stout's opening game against St. John's University will be on December 1, and will be followed by contests with Carleton college and St. Mary's college. Stout is expected to be at a disadvantage against these veteran teams, as only four returning letterman and four other former squad members compose Stout's nucleus of veteran players.

Stout's basketball schedule follows:

- December 1 St. John's University here
- December 2 Carleton College there
- December 6 St. Mary's college here
- December 9 Winona State College there
- December 13 Eau Claire State College there
- December 16 St. Cloud State College here
- December 18 Superior State College here

- January 10 LaCrosse State College there
- January 16 Platville State College there
- January 17 Stevens Point State College there
- January 20 St. Mary's College there
- January 24 River Falls State College here
- January 27 Winona State College here
- January 31 Northland College here
- February 3 Eau Claire State College here
- February 6 Superior State College there
- February 13 Milwaukee State College here
- February 14 Oshkosh State College here
- February 21 LaCrosse State College here
- February 28 River Falls State College here

"Despite the lack of veteran material, loss of several of our most promising freshman early this year, and losses to the military, our prospects in material are shaping up fast," says Ray Johnson, coach of basketball. According to Johnson, "Our most conspicuous deficiency is at the center position."

Stout's starting team has not been chosen. From a turnout on November 3, of 34 players, 26 players survived the first cut last Monday. A breakdown of these tentative players by class rank follows:

- Seniors
 *Kieffer, Bill
 Stilt, Tom
 Rokusek, James
- Juniors
 Boldt, Robert
 Hoepfner, Neil Reimers, Mark
 Widmar, John
- Sophomores
 Ader, Vern
 *Hawkes, Dennis
 Heywood, Charles

 Hansen, Steve Klosterman, Wallace
 Mosely, David
 Premo, Darrell
 Seaman, Don
 Stewart, Thomas
 Wills, Vernon
 Woelffer, Don
 Woodliff, Ronnie

Zander, Zane
 *Lettermen
 Another cut to approximately 20 players will be made on Wednesday. Freshman included in these cuts will be put on the freshman varsity team.
 Don Steele, sophomore from Seward, Alaska, returns as a letterman, and is one of the best guard prospects on the team. Bill Kieffer, senior from Hastings, Minnesota, is expected to resume his role as a driving guard. Lettermen returning to positions at forward include Bob Moe, sophomore from Chetek, Wisconsin, whose deadly two-hand shots are well-known to Stout basketball fans, and Dennis Hawkes, sophomore from Madison, Wisconsin, whose classy hook-shots are also easily identified by spectators.

Other veterans on the squad will be Al Ochs, Peshtigo, Wisconsin; Charles Heywood, Minneapolis, Minnesota; Walt Hinterberg, Watertown, Wisconsin; and Mark Reimers, Menomonie, Wisconsin.

Although a definite starting line-up has not been announced, possibilities favor Bill Kieffer and Don Steele, guards; Bob Moe and Mark Reimers, forwards; and Charles Heywood, center.

The Freshman varsity team has already been partially formed with a starting line-up captained by George Whalen, Waupaca, Wisconsin. Team members include Max Cisco, Lima, Ohio; Jerry Frank, Dresser, Wisconsin; Wayne Plunkhan, Juneau, Wisconsin; and John Posewitz, Sheboygan, Wisconsin. This squad works out twice a week and will enter intra-mural basketball competition on a unit basis. Bill Buckley urges any freshman men interested in joining this team to come and see him in the coaches office. The team is in need of more members and offers the possibility of working up into the regular varsity squad.

When asked about this season's title contenders in the state, Coach Johnson comments, (Wisconsin teams can expect tough competition from the veteran teams of Superior State college and LaCrosse college.)

Stout's record for the past two years indicates that Stout will have to make substantial gains to win a position in the first division. The team will face a real challenge in this year's schedule.

TWENTY-SEVEN MEN WIN S'S IN FOOTBALL

On Thursday, November 6, it was disclosed that 27 members of the Blue-devil football squad received major monograms. Players who received the varsity "S" were ends Neil Hoepfner, Don Steele, George Krall, Clarence Lamers, and Al Loew; tackles Mark Reimers, John Widmar and Bob Moe; guards Bob Popovich, Karl Turk, Lewis Lausted, Gerry Henderson, Joe Stebly, and Art Goglin; centers Ron Wilhelm and Lloyd Woodmansee; and backs Tom Stilt, Don Woelffer, Bill Kieffer, Steve Hansen, Ronald Walker, Don Ritt, George Van Buren, Leo Janis, John Oakeson, Rueben Ramos, and Jim Aumann.

Freshmen numerals will be awarded to ends John Walter, Roland Litchfield, Ed Baxter, and Louie Scherf; guard Jim Nadeau, and backs Kenneth Lamkin and Max Cisco.

It is interesting to note that six of the 27 monogram winners are freshmen while eight are seniors, six are juniors and the remaining seven are sophomores.

It was also disclosed that Tom Stilt was voted the most valuable player by his teammates. Stilt came out of football retirement to spark the Bluedevil attack during the last few games.

Ronald "Red" Walker of Durand was elected team captain, a title that he held in the last four games. Walker, another senior, will go down as one of the greatest fullbacks in Stout's history. His three touchdowns in four conference games made him the fourth highest scorer in the North Division.

Tip O'Neil one time outfielder of the Cincinnati Reds, reports Lee Allen in his book about the Reds, once encountered a local preacher on the way to a Sunday afternoon game. Tip asked the preacher if he was going to the game.

"No," replied the parson, "Sunday is my busiest day."

"I know," sympathized Tip, thinking of the customary double-header. It's my busiest day too."

"Yes," said the pastor, "but I'm in the right field."

"So am I," said Tip. "Ain't that sun something terrible!"

AIR FORCE INTERVIEWS ITS RESERVE MEMBERS

The United States Air Force is conducting an inventory of all Air Force Reservists not on active duty.

This was announced today by Major General Harry A. Johnson, Commanding General of the Tenth Air Force, from his headquarters at Selfridge Air Force Base, Michigan.

A selected team of interviewers will be on duty beginning Nov. 10, 1952 and continuing thru Nov. 26, 1952 at the Volunteer Air Reserve Headquarters, 126 N. Barstow Street, Eau Claire, Wisconsin. General Johnson said this team's objective is to interview personally every Air Force Reservist in an 18 county area surrounding Eau Claire. Dunn County is included in this 18 county area. Air Reservists are being notified by mail of the inventory and given an appointment with the interviewing team.

It was explained that the information needed by the Air Force from every Reservist consists essentially of his present civilian occupation, his dependents and his physical condition. The primary reason for this survey is to bring files of Reservists up-to-date and to clarify the status of each Reservist in the Air Force in the event of mobilization. General Johnson said, "In too many cases, the information the Air Force now has is out of date and must be made current."

"No one wants war. But if an emergency confronts our Nation, our Armed Forces must be as ready as possible. This inventory will enable the Air Force to get an exact line on its Reservists so that an orderly mobilization could be effected, if necessary."

Reservists who have moved and have not notified Tenth Air Force are urged by the General to send in their new address immediately.

He urged employers to give Air Force Reservists in their employ time off, if necessary, to visit the interviewing team.

RAMMER'S TEAM WINS VOLLEYBALL TOURNEY

W. A. A.'s 1952 volleyball tournament, under the direction of Jody Bain, came to a close Monday, November 3, when the championship game was played.

Mae Rammer's and Barbara Rushing's teams were almost evenly matched for three games had to be played to determine the champions. Captain Mae Rammer and her team: Carol Schilstra, Nancy Rinquist, Mary Buol, Verna Tuomi, Virginia Ehlers, Dorothy Neis, Pat Casberg, Lois Gallagher, and Terry Fronda, came through with "flying colors" as 1952 W. A. A. volleyball champions.

procedures. They then undertook writing of the script, photography, editing, and rough synchronization of the sound track to the edited picture track.

Working under the direction of Professor Barnard, these students were also assigned as members of a regular camera crew. Crew members, in order to gain varied training, rotated such duties as that of camera man, lighting director, set supervisor, etc.

Cost of the Kodachrome sound film will be completely repaid by sale of prints to other schools, universities, and adult education centers. The audio-visual center of The Stout Institute has announced that prints of "Block Cutting and Printing" are now available for preview by prospective purchasers, merely by contacting professor David Barnard at the college.

Thanksgiving?

It's More Than Thursday- And Turkey and Tradition

Consider this peculiar day. Consider it well. For there is nothing like it elsewhere.

Here is a holiday that commemorates no hero, celebrates no battlefield. No lobby is behind it; no group or sect or party. It doesn't even fall on the same date twice. All America loves it with a quiet and intense affection reserved for no other day in the year.

What makes Thanksgiving different? What makes it beloved? What makes it real?

Perhaps the answer is simple. Thanksgiving is an affirmation to a deeply held conviction. The conviction that these things we call free and decent and American didn't just happen to us. We didn't get them because we were wiser ... or cleverer ... or even luckier.

This conviction is the sum of many beliefs and experiences. The belief in the dignity of every human being. We had to fight for that belief in 1776. The belief in a real right and wrong. We had to act on that belief in 1863 and wipe out slavery or perish. The belief in decency and honesty and integrity. We had to live by that belief or fall apart as a people. And finally, the belief that calls for action today; the belief in a responsibility, under God, to our fellow man, wherever he may be.

Our attitudes as a people testify to these beliefs. Our whole national history is a witness to them. In less than a century they have caused us to abolish human slavery, establish free government across a great continent and bring about equal opportunity for all. We have demonstrated these beliefs in action to bring, in our time, the world's nearest approach to a classless society of free men and women.

As we give thanks we take stock of these things we believe in. We renew our faith in them. We renew our confidence in ourselves, in our land, our neighbors, our way of life under God. We look ahead secure in the knowledge that our children, in their turn, will bear further and greater witness to the beliefs which have sustained us.

Of all of them and of that way of life they have made possible, Thanksgiving Day is our joyous affirmation.

THANKSGIVING DAY, A DAY OF PRAISE

Some three hundred years ago our Pilgrim Fathers established the first Thanksgiving day. It was a day of praise, a day of thanksgiving to God, a day of hope for an uncertain future.

The Pilgrims lived for several years on the brink of starvation, and when God provided them with more than ample harvest they felt that they owed a very special praise. In America they had found a place to worship God in their own way, and for this they were thankful. The future of their new land was quite uncertain, and they hoped with all their hearts for a land of the free.

As Thanksgiving again draws near we find ourselves in a somewhat similar situation. We have not been starving or freezing, but we find we are being threatened by an enemy much larger than hunger or cold. This Thursday, may we give a special prayer to God to lead us through the coming crisis and to help us now as He has so many times before.

MEET TIMMY, THE 2-BIT TURKEY

TIMMY THE 2-BIT TURKEY
(Sung to the tune of "Rudolph the red-nosed Reindeer")
Timmy the 2-bit turkey
Couldn't "gobble" very well
Even his mom and daddy
Said it sounded like a knell.
All of the other turkeys
Used to laugh and call him names
They wouldn't let poor Timmy
Join in any turkey games
Then one sunny Saturday
A Movie Man came to say
"Timmy with your gobble new.
Won't you join my sound effects crew?"
Then how the turkeys loved him
As they shouted out with glee,
"Timmy the 2-bit turkey,
You'll go down in history!"

Income tax errors in returns were one out of four last year. Considering the difficult questions asked, isn't that a good average?

GOVERNING BOARD NEWS

The November 18 meeting of the Governing Board was called to order by President Richard Duthler at 6:30 p.m.

Old business included a reminder that the co-ordinator from Missouri will be here this week to discuss Student Welfare with the Governing Board and the officers. Another reminder was that December 3rd is the date set for the Governing Board to visit River Falls.

A petition was brought before the board by Howard M. Heigl, representing the Omega Chapter of the Phi Sigma Epsilon. His letter asked for a franchise on holding paper drives in Menomonie. The Board granted permission that it be the only Stout organization allowed to hold such drives. It was recommended, however, that preference be given to the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts who are already holding paper drives.

George Stephenson again opened the subject of dormitory representatives. It was made clear that they were elected for a purpose and are expected to fulfill that purpose by regular attendance at the meetings.

There is almost unlimited application of the Scriptural injunction, "Let him who is without sin cast the first stone."

An old Negro preacher owned a mule which had an efficient pair of heels and a loud but unmusical voice.

One Sunday morning, while the preacher was delivering his sermon, the mule persisted in putting his head in at the window and braying loudly.

The preacher finally said: "Bred-dern and sistern, is dere one among you all who knows how to keep dat Mule quiet?"

"Pahson," replied a man, "if you will jess tie a stone to dat mule's tail he will keep quiet."

"Breddern and sistern," said the preacher, "let him who is without sin tie de first stone."

In a small fight club the fans were disgusted with the lack of action in the ring. The "battlers" circled lazily, with no punches thrown. A forbidding silence mounted in the arena. Then...

"Hit him now, ya bum," a fan yelled. "Ya got the wind with you!"

DEAN BOWMAN SITS IN AT UNITED NATIONS

Imagine yourself sitting in on a committee meeting of the United Nations. The topic, "Freedom of Information," is discussed by three different men speaking Spanish, English, and French. Yet, you are able to understand what each man is saying because the voices are coming to you over ear-phones in your own language. This was the interesting experience Dean Bowman had when he visited the United Nations in New York City, October 22-28. He also visited the General Assembly and watched it in action.

Dean Bowman's main reason for attending the United Nations was to confer about UNESCO—United Nations Educational, Scientific, Cultural Organization. He is especially interested in Unesco's Technical Assistance program. The aim of this program is to help raise the level of technical training by sending technical assistance experts to 75 under-developed countries. These experts are trained in technical institutes. The program is financed by the member countries. The Technical Assistance program is a long term experiment, and it is too early to predict its success. Russia has spoken violently against it.

DEER SEASON WILL BEGIN TOMORROW

Each year about this time, there is a hustle of activity as the more optimistic of hunters hand up the shot-guns which have been their constant companions the last month, and pick up instead a fire arm of a different variety. This fire arm or as more often called a "deer gun" is carefully prepared for action.

Friday night, November 21, there will be much scurrying and packing as all is readied for the most important trip of the year. After everything is checked and double checked the loaded car heads for the favorite hunting grounds.

Saturday morning everyone rises long before daylight, eats a good breakfast, and then departs. Nerves are on edge; the woods are dark and quiet. About daylight, at a pre-appointed time set by the state game commission, everyone starts shooting. After about five minutes this barrage stops and as the smoke clears the lucky hunters tag their deer and start looking forward to next year.

Well, this might be a little far fetched, but to the non-hunter it sounds no sillier than the true account of a deer hunting trip.

This year the deer season runs from November 22-29. Only forked-horn bucks may be legally shot. At the writing of this article it appears that the season will be held on the chosen dates. However, due to the dryness of the woods, Conservation Director, Ernie Swift, will tell the hunters Wednesday as to the fate of the long awaited deer season.

To all the Stout men who bravely venture forth during this great week, we wish our luck. However, we wish to remind you that the noise you hear may not be your deer but someone else's DEAR! Be Careful!

THE SAD TALE OF TOM, THE TURKEY

Here I am, sitting on a table with my head chopped off. I'm fried to the most horrible black crisp I've ever seen (I bet they won't even be able to eat me), and I'm stuffed to the gills with dressing. Of all the ridiculous situations to be in!!

I suppose you think that you have the upper hand, keeping us cooped up all the time, and chopping our heads off at Thanksgiving. But actually we've never had it so good. We're fed the best grain that's sold in the U. S. (Sure tasted okeh, too.) We live on grates—our feet never touch the ground. (A bit hard on the tootsies, but at least we don't have to take a bath.)

I'm not complaining, though, especially after hearing Grandpa's stories. It seems that once upon a time we turkeys had the run of the land—and it was considered a feat of great skill to kill one of us. We'd roost in trees during the night, and hide from hunters during the day. It took a lot of cunning to make us show our heads. Then—BANG—and one of our friends would be a dinner. Thank goodness we belong to the modern age!!

Back in the pen at home, I was the real life of the party. I even wore white bucks and argyles. And you should have seen women chase me! I was the handsomest Tom Turkey you ever saw! And here I sit with a burnt skin. Of all the audacity, of all the nerve, of all the ———!

FIVE MEMBERS ATTEND W. A. A. CONVENTION

Lawrence College, Appleton, Wisconsin, was the place where five Stout students, Carol Bredlow, Nyla Bock, Jean Baker, Nan Carroll, and Deanne Krueger, attended a WAA convention with representatives from Lawrence, Ripon, Platteville, Carroll, Beloit, Milwaukee Downer, Milwaukee State, Eau Claire, and La Crosse colleges on November 7 and 8.

During this weekend, the students attended a number of banquets, business meetings, discussion groups, a "gym jam", water ballet, and tours of the campus.

The convention gave Stout's representatives some very definite ideas as to a means of "fattening" the treasury, ideas for new and different sports, all school programs, and better student participation.

The convention for 1953 is going to be held at Beloit College under the direction of their Women's Recreation Association.

The true way to be deceived is to think oneself more knowing than others.

WE THINK THE ODDS ARE AGAINST US

"Yes, we know there were some errors in last week's paper. We will also agree that there were errors in the issue of the week before, but before bawling us out too unmercifully about it, we want to call your attention to these facts... In an ordinary newspaper column there are 10,000 letters, and there are seven possible wrong positions for each letter making 70,000 opportunities to make errors and several million chances for transposition... There are 40 columns in this paper, so you can readily see the chances for mistakes. Did you know that in the sentence, 'To be or not to be' by transposition alone, 2,759,022 errors can be made? Now aren't you sorry you got mad about that little mistake last week?"

MILWAUKEE E. P. T. HONORS DEAN BOWMAN

The Theta Chapter of the Epsilon Pi Tau in Milwaukee held its annual breakfast at the State Teacher's Convention as a special farewell to Dean Bowman. The breakfast was served in the Colonial Room of the Hotel Wisconsin at 7:00 a.m. on Friday, November 7.

A very unusual and special floral arrangement was on the table before Dean Bowman that morning. Each of the thirty-three flowers in the bouquet was fashioned of a silver dollar wrapped in cellophane. The gift was a very fitting commemoration of Dean Bowman's thirty-three years of leadership at The Stout Institute.

Another special gift, was presented by the woodworking students of Harold A. Schulz of Pulaski H. S. in Milwaukee. Mr. Schulz was chairman of the EPT breakfast. The gift was a birdseye maple serving tray made by the students. In the center of the tray was a 1952 fifty cent piece, signifying the year of his retirement.

During the breakfast, the wall behind the head table was uncurtained, revealing a photographic display of Dean Bowman. The pictures were enlargements of photographs which had been taken in his youth.

Among other honors bestowed upon him was a certificate of life membership in the Wisconsin Industrial Arts Association. It was presented by the executive committee in recognition of his long and meritorious service in the interests of Industrial Arts. For many years, Mr. Bowman was chairman of the state curriculum committee of this association.

Faculty members who attended the EPT breakfast from Stout were: Clyde A. Bowman, John A. Jarvis, Philip Ruehl, Ray A. Wigen, J. Edger Ray, Matthew W. Reneson, Ray F. Kranszuch, E. Robert Rudiger, and Raymond L. Cornwell.

Dean Bowman has been with The Stout Institute since 1919. His retirement will be effective beginning with the second semester of this school year.

BERNADINE GUNDERMAN SENIOR GIRL TO GO TO 4-H CLUB CONGRESS

"You've cinched our record!" "We'll all be red scarfers' at the '420 house'!"

"Aren't you happy?" These were the words which greeted Bernadine Gunderman on her arrival home last Thursday. A phone call Thursday morning notified Bernadine that she had been selected as one of Wisconsin's 26 delegates to the 31st National 4-H Club Congress, which will be held in Chicago, the week of November 30 to December 4.

Bernie, a senior from Bloomer, Wisconsin, is majoring in home economics education at The Stout Institute. This is the third honor awarded to her this year and it is a fitting climax to this, her 10th and last year as a 4-H club member.

Bernie is the fifth and last of her roommates to receive this honor. This series started in 1948 when Lois Bredlow, a senior from Watertown, Wisconsin, was selected as a delegate. In '49, Miriam Eckert, a junior from Manchester, Wisconsin, was chosen; in '50, it was Mary Detlor, a junior from Plainfield, Wisconsin; and last year Carol Bredlow, a sophomore from Watertown, Wisconsin, attended. The girls live at 420 10th Avenue, which was christened the "420 House" last February when it served as headquarters for the state reunion of the "red scarfers" (former delegates to the National Club Congress).

Chosen from more than 42,000 club members in the state, Bernie will be one of the 1,200 boys and girls from the 48 states, Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico, who will attend the congress. Group discussions, exchange of ideas, educational tours, and special award presentations will comprise part of the scheduled program.

Bernie won double honors in the state for her 1952 project work. Her versatility and ability in all phases of home economics was reflected when she was chosen one of eight girls in the state to receive honors as an all-around member in home economics projects. At the same time she was picked as one of 17 district winners in clothing.

A listing of Bernie's activities shows clearly her enthusiasm for 4-H club work. These include: district leadership camps, judging contests, dress reviews, safety speaking contests, delegate to numerous State Fairs, and club officer for five years.

"Of course I've heard much about club congress, but I am anxious to have it as an experience of my own. I know it will be a memorable climax to 10 happy years in 4-H," was Bernie's reaction to the news. The girls at the "420 House" are busy helping their delegate to get ready for the club congress and, from all signs, Bernie will be a well-informed as well as enthusiastic participant.

Famous last words: "Are you defrosting the icebox, or is this dinner?"

S. T. S. TAKES ORDERS FOR STATIONERY

Do you have the problem of what to get as a gift for certain people on your Christmas list? Do you want to get them something nice, something they will use, and something that isn't too expensive? You may wonder if there is such a gift, but you need look no further. That gift is personalized stationery.

Stationery orders will be taken by the Stout Typographical Society starting Tuesday, December 2, and running through Tuesday, December 9, in the corridor of Harvey Hall.

There will be a display of a wide selection of style and designs to choose from. You might even make up your own original design and use a favorite style of type. There is also a wide selection of colored inks to choose from.

Stationery containing a letterhead using the Stout Tower (in blue ink) with the name and address printed across was very popular in the past.

Delivery of the completed stationery is promised before the start of Christmas vacation.

STOUT IS CENTER FOR TEACHER EXAMINATIONS

CO-ORDINATOR FOR SCHOOLS IS ON CAMPUS

Dr. C. H. Allen, co-ordinator of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, will be on the Stout campus Friday and Saturday of this week. Dr. Allen will hold conferences with the Institutional Studies Committee, Administration staff, and individual members of the faculty at The Stout Institute.

Dr. Allen's position as co-ordinator comprises an area covering 19 states. The purpose of the association is to observe teacher training programs at the 32 participating State Teacher Colleges in the 19 states. Dr. Allen acts as an advisor in reviewing the strong and weak points of the different teacher training programs. If a program, in Dr. Allen's estimation, offers weak points, he offers suggestions for strengthening the program. Strong points of the program are also acknowledged by the co-ordinator. Traveling from campus to campus offers Dr. Allen a wide range of experiences and increased knowledge in giving advice. From these travels, the co-ordinator can obtain a different view-point of the program in questions than can faculty members in charge of the program.

Conferences with the Institutional Studies Committee will give Dr. Allen the opportunity to offer suggestions and improvements to the program at Stout. The final decision of acceptance or disapproval of suggestions offered will rest with the committee at Stout.

Dr. Allen spent the past four days at two Wisconsin State Teacher Colleges reviewing their teacher-training programs. He visited River Falls State Teachers College Monday and Tuesday. Eau Claire State Teachers College was hosts on Wednesday and Thursday. Today and tomorrow Dr. Allen is here at Stout.

COL. LARSON SHOWS HOBBIES IN ASSEMBLY

A colored movie, roping and juggling tricks, and the antics of Little Joe, the trick rooster, were only part of the entertaining lecture put on at convocation, November 19, by Colonel Larson, entitled "People and Their Hobbies." Colonel Larsen, who was originally from Chippewa Falls, started his hobby career after he was stricken with polio. This led to his ultimate recovery. Miss Judy, who accompanied him is one of the youngest trick and fancy ropers. She performs to teach the younger set what can be done with a simple rope.

Colonel Larson gives this advice to everyone—"Have a hobby to keep yourself mentally and physically alert, and pave the way to a happy future."

National Examinations Will Be Given Here On February 14, 1953

The National Teacher Examinations, prepared and administered annually by Educational Testing Service, will be given at 200 testing centers throughout the United States on Saturday, February 14, 1953; The Stout Institute is one of these centers.

At the one-day testing session a candidate may take the Common Examinations, which include tests in Professional Information, General Culture, English Expression, and Non-verbal Reasoning; and one or two of eight Optional Examinations designed to demonstrate mastery of subject matter to be taught. The college which a candidate is attending, or the school system in which he is seeking employment, will advise him whether he should take the National Teacher Examinations and which of the Optional Examinations to select.

Application forms and a Bulletin of Information describing registration procedure and containing sample test questions may be obtained from college officials, school superintendents, or directly from the National Teacher Examinations, Educational Teaching Service, P. O. Box 592, Princeton, New Jersey. Completed applications, accompanied by proper examination fees, will be accepted by the ETS office during November, December, and in January, as long as they are received before January 16, 1953.

For application forms and information bulletins, students are invited to see Dr. E. R. Oetting in Room 123, Harvey Hall. Seniors and Graduate students are encouraged to take these examinations.

REGISTRATION STARTS NOV. 23 FOR WOMEN

The announcement has been made from Dean Kirk's Office that the pre-registration of all freshmen and transfer women will take place during the period from November 23 to December 5.

All freshmen and transfer students are advised to make appointments with their advisors immediately so that sufficient time may be allowed for personal counseling and the careful planning of programs.

1953 TOWER BEGINS TO TAKE SHAPE NOW

If you have been seeing photographers climbing on chairs, popping into classes, or jumping up in meetings, don't be alarmed. They've only been filling their photo assignments by taking pictures for the 1953 Tower.

The class pictures have come back from the photographers, and soon the Tower staff will be checking names, scaling pictures, and writing copy for them. Yes, the Tower is now beginning to take shape.

"400" WILL STOP FOR THANKSGIVING

Arrangements have been made and the "400" will stop on Wednesday, November 26, at the junction at 1:30. The buses will operate between the school and the junction to take students out to the "400". Similar arrangements have been made for the Christmas vacation.

MEET THE TOWER STAFF

Making plans for the '53 tower are: Jerry Schemansky, Norma Schlottman, Hazel Nelson, Dr. Rinehart, and Don Walters. Dufur Peters and Bill Beyer are standing.

HERE ARE THE MANAGERS OF THE '53 TOWER

The Tower is under the management of Editor Hazel Nelson this year. Hazel, a senior home economics major from Glen Flora, Wisconsin, started work on the Tower in the spring of her freshman year as a member of the literary staff. Her sophomore year work on the Tower was again in the literary department, and last year she served as Co-Editor of the book. When not in the Tower office, Hazel can probably be found working in the cafeteria collecting money at the cashier stand. She also belongs to Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority and is secretary of Phi Upsilon Omicron.

Dufur Peters, a transfer last year from Northland College, is Business Manager. This is Dufur's first year on the Tower. Dufur, an I.E. printing major, is a member of STS, Arts and Crafts, and Sigma Tau Gamma.

Also new on the staff is literary editor, Norma Schlottman, a sophomore from Menomonie. Norma keeps busy during the week working as a vendor at the State Theater.

Donald Walters, a junior from Two Rivers, Wisconsin, and also a printing major is production editor. This is Don's second year on the staff, and it seems he still doesn't know how he got mixed up on this production. As he tells it, one Sunday morning he was abruptly awakened by production advisor, David Barnard, and told, "I have a little job for you to do; it won't take long." Don didn't see his family until late that evening! Don is a member of STS and APO.

A senior, Milt Benner, from Oshkosh, Wisconsin, is art editor for the second time. Milt is a drawing major at Stout, and is business manager for the Stoutonia, president of the FOB fraternity, a member of the "S" Club and of the Assembly-Lyceum committee.

The two faculty members assigned to the Tower as advisors are Dr. Kleth Rinehart and David Barnard. Not only do they advise, but they also give moral support as well; for there are times when the editor and her staff feel pretty downcast and wonder "Will the Tower ever be finished on time?" Come next May, you'll have the answer to that question—Your copy of the bigger and better 1953 Tower.

FIVE DELTA KAPPA MEN GRADUATE IN JANUARY

When the first semester comes to a close in January, five Delta Kappas will finish their college careers. Those who will be graduated are Don Leach, Menomonie; Darrel Radle, Arkansas; Stuart Smith, Iron Mountain, Michigan; Jim Tomita, Honolulu, Hawaii; and Bill VanValzah, Racine.

When these men are graduated, only five members will remain from the group that was present at homecoming one year ago. Uncle Sam has taken four men while the others have graduated. Despite the loss of so many members, Delta Kappa is planning ahead and a bright future is in sight.

DORMITORIES TO HOLD THANKSGIVING DINNER

The evening of November 25 will be a special one for the freshman girls living at the dormitories, for it has been set as the date for this year's Thanksgiving dinner.

Although the guest list isn't complete as yet, Mrs. Rebecca Nelson has announced that Dean Antrim and Miss Ann Noble will be guests.

The dining room will be decorated for the occasion by a combined committee of girls from Tainter Annex and Tainter Hall.

The menu will be of the traditional type: cranberry cocktails with hors d'oeuvres will be served, followed by roast turkey with dressing and cranberry sauce. Mashed potatoes, relishes, festival salad, butterhorn rolls, and mixed vegetables will form the remainder of the meal which will be climaxed with pumpkin and mince pie.

GRADUATE MEN'S CLUB HOLDS DINNER MEETING

The Graduate Men's Club of The Stout Institute conducted its first dinner meeting Wednesday, Nov. 12, in the Tea Room. An almost complete group of graduate students and a number of faculty members, after selecting their respective meals in the school cafeteria, met at an informal gathering.

They were fortunate in securing Dean Bowman, and he presented a most carefully prepared talk on UNE SCO and his recent visit at the United Nations headquarters in New York. Dean Bowman selected a topic on an item which is current and much neglected in interest, and imparted a desire to each individual to learn more about not only the United Nations, but the specific agencies.

PALLAS ATHENES TAKE IN ELEVEN MEMBERS

The result of the P. A. formal initiation was eleven happy girls and eleven new members in the Pallas Athene Sorority. The ceremony was held on November 6, at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. George LaPointe.

The ceremony was performed by Bea Anderson, president of P. A.'s and assistance was given by Doris Beyer; Dorothy Gargulak, Carol Zuege, and past president, Ann Rossmiller.

Following the ceremony and refreshments, songs were rendered by Iris Ruf, Jan Benedict, and Ann Rossmiller.

CONGO CLUB TOPIC IS "WE WILL SEE JESUS"

The Congo Club met at 5:30 p.m. in the basement of the Congregational Church last Sunday for worship, a meeting and supper.

Worship was led by Judy Day. Then the group was divided into small groups to plan the activities for the coming week.

Judy Day, Marge Strombeck and Jerry Poat served a delicious lunch of chili and apple crisp.

The topic for discussion on November 23 will be "We Will See Jesus."

TAINTER DINING HALL HAS BIRTHDAY DINNER

The girls living at Tainter Annex and Tainter Hall held their birthday dinner honoring the eleven girls whose birthdays were in August and November.

On the birthday table was a large package wrapped as a gift. From this package were streamers going to each place. Each girl received a gift which was significant to the girl.

A bottle can lift 500 times its own weight—wonder what it eats for breakfast?

ARTS AND CRAFTS CLUB HOLDS WORK MEETINGS

Work meetings have been the rule of late in the Stout Arts and Crafts Club. Large number of members to try their hand at "Art" of deer hunting.

The past meetings of November 10 and 17 have been full work meetings. Members have been busy finishing old projects or are starting new ones; the shop has been reminded of a bee hive with its activity and droning sounds.

As of late with the appearance of gun stocks and other such repairs and fixings, the talk has naturally shifted to the topic of deer hunting. From indications, it appears that about one-half the entire club membership will be pursuing the art and craft of deer hunting. Also very much on the go is the club advisor, Mr. Kranzsch. If experience means anything, Mr. Kranzsch should most certainly be successful.

Only a week will tell who was the most careful and knew his art the best, the club members or Mr. Buck. Who will be the first to mount his trophy?

TEA ROOM DEPICTS WILLIAM PENN HOTEL

Odors of Dutch and Quaker cookery flowed from the tea room on November 13th. The scene duplicated was the William Penn Hotel which is located in the mountains near Strausberg, Pennsylvania. This region, noted for its flowers and friendly atmosphere, attracts tourists from New York, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania. Among the hearty, old fashioned foods served were individual chicken pies, shoo fly pie, and fashnachts, a kind of raised doughnut.

On November 20th Martha's Vineyard, a resort on the Atlantic coast will be visited. Since the Northeastern coast is the origin of our Thanksgiving day, a typical holiday menu with its English touch will be served.

ASA MEMBERS OBSERVE FOUNDERS' DAY NOV. 15

Alpha Sigma Alpha celebrated a Founders' Day on November 15. This date marked the fifty-first birthday of the sorority. The Beta Phi Chapter set aside Sunday for the formal observance of the occasion.

Group attendance at the Congregational Church and the Catholic Church was followed by a luncheon at the Marion Hotel. Members proudly wore red and white corsages to honor the day.

NEIL PALMER SHOWS SLIDES TO SKI CLUB

Slides were shown by Neil Palmer at the last meeting of the Ski Club, Tuesday, November 17. These slides were taken at the Deepwood ski area, located near Colfax.

Old members enjoyed the memories of last winter's escapades "one the hill" and new members now look forward to the winter activities.

Conditionary exercises will be discussed at the next meeting, so when the first snows fly, "we'll be on the way."

NATIONAL L. S. A. STAFF MEMBERS VISITS HERE

Miss Alice Oeterness, national L. S. A. staff member, spent two busy days at The Stout Institute, visiting students and faculty, seeing the campus, and conducting programs.

Miss Oeterness was met about 6:30 Sunday morning by a delegation of Tainter Annex girls who promptly took her on an early walk along the lake and about the other interesting parts of Menomonie.

Sunday morning, Miss Oeterness attended L. S. A. Bible study and church with the group. At the regular meeting Sunday evening Miss Oeterness gave greetings from the national office and briefly explained what the national L. S. A. was doing and planned to do throughout the year. The special program for the evening consisted of a Phillips 66 type group discussion on the Christian vocations that might pertain to Stout students.

On Monday, Miss Oeterness spent the day visiting with Stout students and certain faculty members. She also visited several of the shops and labs in both the Industrial Arts and Home Economics departments. In the evening a large group of students met with Miss Oeterness during supper at the Stout cafeteria.

Miss Oeterness stated that she enjoyed her stay at our campus very much and was pleased that L. S. A. was real at The Stout Institute. It is the wish of the national officers that visitations such as that of Miss Oeterness to our campus might help the local L. S. A. groups with special problems and ever improve upon the local groups. Miss Oeterness left us with much food for thought and action. Let us put it to good work.

EXCHANGE STUDENT TO TALK ON SWITZERLAND

Dorothy Woodruff, International Farm Youth Exchange, is to speak for the Home Economics club, November 12. She is to tell of her five month trip to Switzerland.

Miss Woodruff graduated from River Falls Teachers College and taught in rural schools two years before her trip to Switzerland where she stayed on farms to study how the people lived.

The 4-H club sponsored Miss Woodruff because of her outstanding work in 4-H. She is also active in youth organizations.

The speaker is a very charming person and everyone is invited to hear her speak.

School
Newport, R.I.
This looks like a fine set-up for any graduating senior who will have to join the armed services upon completion of his last semester. Following four months of school, one graduates with an Ensign rating.

All the candidates are college grads, thus giving the base a pleasant atmosphere. The hours for students are 6:00 a.m. to 10:30 p.m.

We have liberties every week-end, and a rumored two week Christmas vacation. We may also receive free tickets for several football games in the Boston area.

The chow is good, milk with every meal, ice cream about once a day, and fruits and juices for breakfast. school, write to the recruiting station in Minneapolis.

MARVIN FRIEBEL TELLS OF NEW ADDRESS

Dear Sir;
I want to inform you of my change of address, and also to mention a few things about my work in Precision Air Craft Work in Los Angeles.

Upon receiving my B.S. degree in June, 1950, and after making contacts with various teachers agencies in dentials from Sacramento, I came out to the west coast.

My credentials were readily obtained, but the seemingly good position turned out to be not so good. Southern California and receiving offers of a teaching position upon the issuance of my special teaching credential I was offered a good job in "Precision Parts" at Shaner Specialties in Los Angeles in 1951. At this time, I am in charge of production at the plant. The work consists of setting up turret lathes and drill presses along with maintenance of all the tools for the machine operators. The milling machines call for extra attention and maintenance and are an integral part of the set-up at the plant.

I hope to enroll on a part-time basis at U.C.L.A. to continue work toward my Master's degree.

Our new address locates us in "West Westchester", a mile from the blue Pacific. The address of our new home is:

9514 La Lipera Blvd.
Los Angeles 45, Calif.

In closing, I feel certain that without the wonderful write-ups in the Stoutonia, and the contact it gives me with Stout Institute, I should feel quite left out of things and probably forget for a time the excitement and wonder of college. I remain as always,

Very sincerely,
Marvin Friebel

HUGH TAYLOR BECOMES A SUPERVISOR

The following letter has been received from Hugh O. Tyler, class of '47.

"It has been some time since my last writing to you and my status has changed considerably since then. I am now in my third year with a new title from shop instructor to department head, vocational subjects. I have completely switched over from teaching students to full time supervision. I have a staff of seven vocational instructors. The main objective of our vocational department is training and job placement. I find it very interesting making contacts with employers and union officials. Last spring our department offered one hundred percent placement to our graduates. I hope that this will be possible at the close of this school year. I find this work very interesting and challenging."

ALUMNI OFFICE ISSUES JOINT MEMBERSHIPS

Attention Alumni:

The National Alumni office is now issuing joint memberships to husband and wives who are both Stout graduates. The cost of this joint membership is the same as a single membership. Act now and take advantage of this saving plan. Wives must give their maiden names so the alumni file can be kept up to date.

COMMUNISM ON DISPLAY

Donald Walters examines the booklist in the "Iron Curtain" display which was prepared by the library in connection with new books they have received.

LIBRARY ADDS A SECTION ON COMMUNISM

To make available to its students reading matter which inspires Americanism and patriotism, The Stout Institute has added to its library a special section of books describing the dangers of Communism to the American way of life.

Volumes selected are among those which were displayed at the American Legion's 10th District Fall conference, held recently in Menomonee. At the conference, a widely-discussed exhibit of books on the Communistic menace urged the reading of informative volumes dealing with Communism.

The exhibit was constructed for the American Legion by Claude Craemer (M.S. '52), a Stout graduate who is now teaching at Eau Claire high school. The book display was shown at the clubrooms of the American Legion in Eau Claire before being shown at the Legion fall conference. It has now been erected in the lower corridor of Harvey Hall at Stout where it is attracting much attention among students at the college.

Basis of a large number of these books is repudiation of Communism by authors who formerly were party members, but who have later become disillusioned by Communism's threat to the free world.

Books of this type are: "Red Masquerade," by Calomiris; "I Chose Freedom," by Krachecenko; and

"KIND LADY'S CHARACTERS ARE EXCELLENT

Splendid casting and excellent character portrayals marked the Manual Arts Players' successful production of "Kind Lady," presented November 13-15 in the college auditorium. The three-act melodramatic thriller provided the audience with an enjoyable evening's entertainment.

Showing the patient work of Director Norman Ziemann, the play's careful casting gave the plot an atmosphere of reality. Although six of the cast were freshmen students and five others were upperclassmen making their first stage appearance, they and their more experienced colleagues handled their roles in mature fashion.

"Kind Lady" proved to be the story of the gracious, gentle, and warm-hearted spinster, Elizabeth Herries. Her adventure began on a Christmas Eve when she invited a shabbily dressed young man into her home for tea. The young man, Henry Abbott, preying on the sympathies of the kind Miss Herries, soon wormed himself and his gang of thieves into her home. The plotters kept her a prisoner, disposed of her precious paintings, and attempted to drive her insane. The suspense of the play developed when Miss Herries tried to let outsiders know of her troubles, and everyone in the audience relaxed with relief when she finally succeeded.

All of the actors can well be proud of their portrayals. Barbara Hilts, in the role of the gracious "kind lady," did an outstanding job with the leading role. Ernest "Corky" Collette, as the ringleader of the thieves, again performed with the ability he has displayed in previous productions. Ed Nowickie, as the thieving Mr. Edwards, was a newcomer who handled his role very effectively. Jo Ann Chamberlain, in the role of Mrs. Edwards, did a commendable acting job. Her shrieks at Aggie surprised even the audience. Aggie, their daughter, was played by Barbara Brown. As Barb only spoke three lines, her acting ability had to project her part. Carol Zuege, as the wife of the gang's ringleader, performed with true acting ability.

Jan Wurtz, in the role of Lucy Weston, a family friend, should indeed be commended for her excellent characterization. Myra Evans, as Phyllis Glanning, the "kind lady's" niece, handled her role in a manner that denotes previous acting experience. Darrel "Fritz" Ebert, in the role of Miss Glanning's fiancé, displayed the talents that earned him the award "Best Thespian of 1952" in his high school. Michael Pavlicin, as Pierre Devereau, an art dealer, once again performed in the manner for which he has been noted in previous appearances on the stage. Vivian Barnhardt portrayed her role of a servant in a very effective fashion. Sheldon "Mickey" White, another of the veteran performers, made an excellent doctor. Carol Viestenz, as the maid, was well suited for her role and gave a very realistic portrayal of her emotions.

Last, but not least, Carlos Carter, as the life-saving banker, Mr. Foster, was another of the freshmen who gave a splendid performance. Many fine productions are in store for the MAP audiences if these freshmen continue to do as well as they did in this, their first appearance.

Another accomplishment which deserves credit was the designing and building of the set. For the first time, this activity was directed by a student, Sam Mikitarian. He, together with the rest of the production staff, should indeed be complimented for their fine work.

Mr. Ziemann, his cast, and his production staff, can well be proud of "Kind Lady." The thought and effort which they devoted to entertaining the college and the community achieved performances deserving of the highest praise.

Alimony is the high cost of leaving.

Some how or other, little income tax exemptions who come home with poor report cards, are more or less forgiven at this time of year.

The dollar may not go as far as it used to, but what it lacks in distance it more than makes up in speed.

L.S.A. MEMBERS GO TO FALL CONFERENCE

Eleven Stout students attend conference at Gustavus Adolphus college at St. Peter, Minnesota.

Leaving the Stout campus on last Friday, November 14, and returning on Sunday: Joan Anderson, Ray Burkhalter, Don Hilgenfort, Art Jersild, Shirley Lunden, Carol Koch, Ardie Olson, Dufur Peters, Ruth Behrents, Jerry Sommers, Kay Wedin, and Jim Halverson, a Menomonee resident, who furnished his car.

The annual Regional Land O'Lakes Fall L. S. A. conference was the event. This meeting was the largest and, from all indications, the most successful since the start of the annual conference.

Schools from three states and from a total of nearly twenty different colleges were represented at the conference.

"Summoned to Serve" was the conference theme. Speakers for the meet were of both national and local scope in the ranks of the Lutheran Student Association of America.

Many discussions and sessions were held which allowed delegates to pick meetings where their interests lay. This also made it possible for everyone to take part in the discussions, in this manner ideas and other helpful information was passed on from one L. S. A. college group to another.

Recreation night at L. S. A. will be held Sunday evening, November 23.

Due to the fact that the regular meeting place was previously engaged for Sunday evening, November 16, L.S.A. held only a short meeting. The group learned a couple of new songs then ate supper with the P. T. A. group at Our Saviour's Lutheran Church. A movie titled "Return to Faith" was shown in the friendship room following supper and at seven o'clock the meeting was closed.

On Sunday evening, L. S. A. will be out for activity. This will be a special meeting the emphasis being placed on recreation. Shuffleboard, table tennis, and table games of many sorts will be open to everyone, just take your pick or try them all. A word of advice beforehand; wear free action clothing, jeans, slacks or anything which allows movement with ease.

Supper will be served at 5:30 as usual to be followed by the recreational feast.

This meeting will be a carry over from last week's program.

REPRESENTATIVES FROM AIR FORCE VISIT HERE

Representatives of the U. S. Air Force were at Stout Institute from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Wednesday, November 12, to discuss the recent changes in policy in the aviation cadet program, and also to inform interested students as to type of aircraft flown, training received, advantages graduates will incur upon completion of the program, and also to answer any questions which any students may care to ask.

Aviation cadet training is available to all qualified young men who have completed 60 semester hours of college. Applicants must be between the ages of 19 and 26 and one half years and unmarried. The air force is primarily interested in securing applications from college graduates or from men who will culminate their training after at least two academic years.

THREE GIRLS TO BEGIN DIETETIC INTERNSHIPS

Red letter day for a dietetic major is synonymous with the day she receives her appointment to some hospital. For three January graduates, November 14 was this long awaited day which would determine the future.

When the new semester begins, Elizabeth Kasson will be going to Ancker Hospital, St. Paul, Minnesota, to begin her internship; Betty Kleist will go to St. Mary's Hospital in Rochester, Minnesota; and Michiko Okada will be at another college campus for the next year, interning at Indianapolis University in Indiana.

THANKSGIVING DAY AS IT WAS IN 1621

On a cold day in 1620 the Mayflower docked. As the people stepped on the frozen Massachusetts soil, they knew little of the hardships they would endure. The Pilgrims suffered through a bitter winter, waiting impatiently for the first signs of spring. Sickness came to this struggling colony, and before the grass turned green, almost half of them had died.

Spring came, and the spirits of this courageous group rose. They plowed the rocky New England soil, and planted corn and grain. Everyone in the family worked. If they weren't planting, they were carrying water or helping a neighbor build a house or catching fish for the noon meal.

Indians came and offered to be their friends. Many a man learned how to kill deer with an Indian bow and arrow. And every boy learned how to catch a rabbit in a hand-made trap. Besides this, the Indians offered many practical suggestions for building homes, planting crops, and finding food. Without the Indians, it is doubtful if the Pilgrims could have survived the first year.

At last came the harvest. The crops had done well, and there was enough food to last through the winter, and on into spring. The Pilgrims decided to celebrate by having a feast, thanking God for his blessings. The women worked for days preparing food. There were constant fires under the spits where the meat was roasting. Huge kettles of vegetables were prepared, and last minute arrangements were made. The friendly Indians were invited to come to the feast. And at last, everything was ready.

As the two peoples, red and white, sat around the table, they knew they had much to be thankful for. The crops were in, and they wouldn't have to face another winter of starvation. Families had their own homes; people could worship as they pleased; they had friends in their new country.

We today, can be thankful for many things. We have food, peace, freedom of speech, worship, press and thought. But how many people can say that? More than half of the world is ruled by dictators who think more of personal gain than of the welfare of the people. Most important of all, we can be thankful that we live in a country that has never been invaded by foreign troops. We truly can sit down to a Thanksgiving dinner and say, "We gather together to ask the Lord's blessings - - -"

ELECTION PARTY HELD BY FRESHMEN GIRLS

The freshmen girls living at Tainter Annex and Tainter Hall held election parties Tuesday evening, November 4, in the living rooms of the Annex and the Hall.

The girls were given "late hours" so that they could listen to the election returns. A committee from each dormitory was in charge of preparation and refreshments for the party. Apple cider, doughnuts and ice cream were on the menu as refreshments.

E. P. T. MEMBERS TAKE TWO-DAY FIELD TRIP

The recent field trip taken by E. P. T. members was of keen interest to all concerned. From the time members left the square, Thursday morning until their return Friday evening, places visited included a high school, state prison, window and casing mfg. co., vocational school and an aeronautical instrument plant.

At 7:15 a.m. E.P.T. members left the square and headed for New Richmond, Wisconsin and a visit to the local high school. A guided tour through the industrial arts and farm mechanics shops of the high school, were the highlights of the tour in New Richmond.

Stillwater State Prison at Stillwater, Minnesota, was the next destination of the field trip. Officials of the institution, conducted the E. P. T. group through the entire prison area with special emphasis placed on prison shops. Special interest centered in the foundry where castings for farm machinery were made. The members were informed that the farm machinery made at the prison was sold or the open market under the trade name "Minnesota Line." Other products manufactured at the prison also are sold on the open market. Income from these products would make the prison a self-paying institution if all profits were turned back to the prison. After visiting shops the group was taken through the cafeteria and members were impressed by the cleanliness of the cafeteria. One of the group asked a guide about food at the prison and was surprised to learn that the inmates are allowed to eat as much as they want but must eat everything that they take. The group moved to the auditorium from the cafeteria where L. J. Meffert, superintendent of education at the prison, told the members that illiterate inmates are required to attend the prison school, on their free time in the evening from 5:00 p.m. till 7:00 p.m. Other inmates are on a voluntary basis in attending classes. Mr. Meffert also informed the group that inmates can take credits to secure a high school diploma if they desire one. Upon completion of the prescribed course, the inmate is issued a diploma from his home town high school and not from the prison.

Anderson Window and Window Casing Mfg. Co., was the next scheduled stop on the tour. Here members were taken through the entire plant from start to finish. They saw logs as they first come into the mill and go through the different stages necessary in completing the finished product. The Co. specialized in making windows and window casings. Company officials also showed the latest techniques used in mass production of their product. Of special interest was the electronic drying machine used in drying laminated cases for doors. This machine can do the process in two minutes which is considerably faster than other equipment used for the same purpose.

Minneapolis was the final destination for the first day of the field trip. Members slept at the Y.M.C.A. Thursday evening. Friday morning the group toured the Miller Vocational School in Minneapolis. Many of the shops were visited and special interests were centered on electrical, machine shop, woodwork, printing, and auto mechanics. The group was especially interested in the discipline problem in some of the shops. In some cases the students, in the shops, conducted the tour through the room without the benefit of the instructor. Members were amazed at the lack of discipline because of the excellent cooperation between the instructor and students. Lunch was eaten at the school cafeteria to end morning activities.

Friday afternoon's destination was the Minnesota Honeywell Aero Division. Products manufactured at the plant are: automatic pilots, bomb sights, automatic gauges, and servo units. Sensitivity of these products requires workers of special technical skills, consequently mass production is not employed at the plant. In the gyro instrument department, personnel are required to wear white uniforms, white hats, and white gloves. It is of vital importance to have this department closed off and entirely free of dust. The gyro instruments are sensitive to dust consequently precautions are taken to insure a pure atmosphere at all times even to controlled humidity.

Arriving back in Menomoneie Friday evening, E. P. T. members had much to talk over and digest after their two day field trip. Experiences and knowledge gained by the trip should prove helpful to each member in the future.

MARINE CORPS TRAINING PLANS ARE DESCRIBED

Two Marine Corps Training programs which are designed to keep students in college until after graduation were described by 1st Lt. Devine of Minneapolis in a recent visit to The Stout Institute. One program is suitable for college freshmen, sophomores, and juniors. Its aim is to train high-caliber men who can assume responsibility as commissioned officers. These trainees devote two summer periods of six weeks each to practical and theoretical military instructions with emphasis on tactics of squadron and platoon. At the completion of the training and upon graduation from college the trainee is eligible for a commission as a second lieutenant in the Marine Corps Reserve. No training or other work is required during the academic year. The trainee is deferred from Selective Service induction if he agrees to accept a commission, if offered one, and if he agrees to serve not less than two years on active duty. The second program is designed for graduates or seniors. The aim of this program is to qualify the trainees to become second lieutenants. It consists of an intensive ten week training period following graduation from college. Upon successful completion of this course the trainee is commissioned a second lieutenant in the Marine Corps Reserve.

1st Lt. Devine, together with a Marine Corps Medical Officer, will return to The Stout Institute campus sometime during the latter part of January or in February. Students who may be interested in either of these programs will have an opportunity for an interview, and those who decide to make application for training will receive their physical examinations so that they may learn immediately about their eligibility.

If any students are immediately interested in these programs, they may contact R. G. Iverson. Posters describing the programs may also be viewed on the bulletin board adjoining the Student Personnel Office.

We wouldn't mind the inevitability of death and taxes if only they came in the order named.

ELEVEN TEAMS IN INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL

Six intramural basketball games were played this week to open the winter intramural season. Coach Jack Wink has mapped out a very interesting overall program that is directed to serve all of the students. Under the direct supervision of Coach Wink will be basketball, badminton, table tennis, volleyball, and wrestling. The Rifle Club, Bow Hunters, W.A.A. and Ski Club will supervise other activities such as archery, swimming, dancing, skiing, tobogganing, ice skating, and marksmanship. Boxing will be offered if the students show enough interest. Further announcements on these events will be posted on the bulletin boards in the Physical Education building.

The intramural basketball season promises to be a dandy. With Karl Turk and John Jacobson leading the way, the FOB's will be tough again this year. The defending champions lost only one member of the squad that copped last year's laurels. That man, "Red" Walker, will do his prancing for Uncle Sam. This year's bucket edition will find some fireballing freshmen trying for the honors that usually go to the upperclassmen. One frosh team is made up almost entirely of varsity candidates.

Six games will be on tap each week—two on Monday, two on Tuesday, and four on Thursday. All games will be played in the upper gym with the exception of Thursday when two games will be played in the lower gym. Starting times are at 6:30 and 7:30.

With eleven teams signed up, each team will play ten games. Wink announced that a Shaughnessy playoff may be held at the end of the regular schedule.

FROSH HAPPENINGS

Lucky Lynwood! Honestly, how do you boys get invited to Tainter Hall parties when we girls in the Annex don't even rate an invitation? Come on girls lets move to Lynwood.

One of the frosh boys seems to be sporting a broken nose. Was it football, basketball, or I won't say it.

The other night I counted 18 girls knitting argyles. There just ain't no justice. We sit knitting for them and they run around with other girls. If we don't watch out we'll soon be old grannies.

Parking cars around the girls dorm has become a problem. It seems that when freshmen girls come home from their date, the parking lots are always full. Upperclassmen, is there a solution for this? ? ?

Hats off to all of the freshmen students in "Kind Lady". You represented our class in fine style.

Condensed milk, hamburger, and cat food is all he'll eat. Who's "he"? A little kitten that 3 freshmen adopted. He caught a cold, so if you see a grey kitty walking around dragging a blanket behind, bring him to the girl's dorm, O.K.?

IT'S INCOME TAX TIME

As yet no one has suggested to the government that those hardworking citizens who fill out their own income tax blanks should deduct so much an hour for the work.

Keep your boots off the roots!

THE NEW PHI U MEMBERS

PHI UPSILON OMICRON TAKES IN 13 MEMBERS

Friday evening, thirteen new members were initiated into the Tau Chapter of Phi Upsilon Omicron, National Honorary Home Economics fraternity. Three of the new members are seniors: Dorothy Messerschmidt, Shirley Lepien, and Phyllis Allman. The remaining ten are juniors: Jackie Frisbie, Rose Deuber, Joan Fairweather, Iris Ruf, Lois Peterson, Nancy Elam, Mary Detlor, Avis Reschenberg, Janice Wurtz, and Edna Gaffron. Following the initiation the group went to the Harvey Memorial for cake and coffee. During future weeks the members will be studying for their Phi U examination, which will be given the beginning of next month.

CAN YOU IMAGINE—

Phyllis being an Allwoman instead of an Allman
Frederick being a Saloon iinstead of a Bahr
Jean being a Butcher instead of a Baker
Nancy being a Sale instead of a Bargaen
August being a Jingle instead of a Bell
William being a Sellher instead of a Beyer
Dennis being a Stream instead of a Brooks
Barbara being a Black instead of a Brown
Elsie being a Tree instead of a Bush
Ardis being a truck instead of a Carr
Carlos being a Carryher instead of a Carter

RED CROSS NURSING CLASS WILL BE GIVEN

Shortly after Christmas, a Red Cross nursing class will begin. The class will be instructed by Mrs. Delma Wald, R. N. The Red Cross states that the course is especially valuable: (1) to families with illness in the home, requiring home nursing care, (2) because of the shortage of medical and professional nursing service, (3) because there is a tendency toward early release from hospitalized care, thus placing the responsibility on the home, (4) because of the increased birth rate, and (5) because ours is an aging population and nearly every home has, or will have, responsibility for an aged relative.

The course is open to both men and women. The subjects covered in the seven 2-hour lessons are:

- 1—When sickness Occurs
- 2—The Patient Goes to Bed
- 3—The Clean and Well Groomed Bed Patient
- 4—Food and Medicine Ordered by the Doctor
- 5—Simple Treatments Ordered by the Doctor
- 6—Care of the Sick related to Control of Communicable Disease
- 7—Civil Defense for Mass Care

The exact dates of this course will be announced later. Posters will announce it in The Stout Institute, and townspeople will be contacted by personal call.

The project for getting members for this class is being undertaken by the Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority. Further information can be secured from them or from the Red Cross.

YWCA HOLDS REGULAR BUSINESS MEETING

The YWCA held its regular meeting on Wednesday, November 12, 1952.

The conference which will be held November 21-23 at Camp Idnubopi was discussed. A vote was taken and passed to give a small amount from our treasury to the five members who will attend.

The corridor sale which will be held December 3 was also discussed. It was explained that each member should make articles to be sold for Christmas presents.

Plans were made for the Thanksgiving breakfast which will be held November 25 at 7:00 a.m. in the club-room. Each member is to sell tickets for the event.

SCIENCE FOUNDATION OFFERS FELLOWSHIPS

As one means of promoting the program of science the National Science Foundation is authorized by the National Science Foundation Act of 1950 to award graduate fellowships for scientific study. Selection of persons for the fellowships will be made solely on the basis of ability. They are awarded to individuals in graduate study in the fields of biological, engineering, mathematical, medical and physical science.

Individuals now in college or graduate school may secure application forms through the office of their dean or their department head. Further information concerning this fellowship may be obtained at the Stoutonia office.

FIRST TWO MATCHES WON BY RIFLE CLUB

Manmouth College and Superior State Teachers College became the first teams to go down under the straight shooting of a very promising Stout team, November 1, in the upper gym.

Averaging 26.6 points higher per man than the Manmouth Club and 16 points higher per man than Superior State, the local team outscored the two competing teams 1363-1230 and 1363-1283 respectively.

The individual scores for the Stout team are as follows: Glen Voelz, 281; Hugh Schmahl Jr, 275; Stan Meyer, 274; DeWayne Nevin, 267; and Joe Luetkemeyer, 266.

The local club is preparing for the Muzzle Loader's Brawl, an annual social event open to all Stout students and faculty. The dance will take place November 22, in the Stout gym.

HYPERS ARE STUFFING TOYS FOR CHILDREN

The Hyperian Sorority is starting its annual social service project. The girls are busily making stuffed toys for Christmas gifts for the children at the Chippewa Falls Orphanage. The girls know their efforts will be warmly appreciated, so the work is actually fun. The stuffed elephants, and bunnies, and puppy dogs will be individually wrapped in gay Christmas paper and sent to the orphanage before Christmas.

Have you been studying the pictures by the Fundamentals of Design class on the second floor. Do not expect the pictures to tell a story, because the girls concentrated mainly on color in their drawings.

The girls were concerned with what happens to the colors themselves within a unit. They also used their knowledge of line which they had studied at the beginning of the course.

As you study the designs, you will notice the varied and individual expressions of color. An example of this was in Jane Motyka's interesting design. She portrayed a nutcracker in the process of cracking a nut. Her use of color, along with a humorous touch, brought about a very subtle approach.

Ann Shemick portrayed her design on a black background, which made a deep contrast with the light colors of her design.

Nancy Brackett showed a very harmonious design in her use of green, brown, and orange.

The values of color were shown in Ferne Swenson's drawing.

A. P. O. INITIATES PLEDGES WITH CEREMONY

An impressive ceremony took place in the room above the Student Union, Saturday evening, November 15, when Alpha Phi Omega held its formal initiation.

The duties of the initiation ritual were performed by a special ritual team composed of the Eta Kappa chapter's president, vice president, secretary, treasurer, alumni secretary, sergeant at arms, chairman of the advisory committee, and the scouting advisor.

Acting in the absence of Treasurer Robert Brunswick, Curtis Gehling explained the three cardinal principles of leadership, friendship, and service to the new initiates. Acting Chairman of the Advisory Committee, Dr. Guy Salyer, told the purpose of Alpha Phi Omega, which is to assemble college men in the spirit of the Scout Oath, men in the spirit of the Scout Oath, and Law, to develop friendship, and to promote service in humanity. Scouting Advisor Phil Johnson explained the great responsibility of service, men of Alpha Phi Omega have in service to the community, the state, and the nation.

President Bruce Sorenson then pronounced the fraternity pledge, taken by all initiates before they are admitted to membership in the fraternity. In taking this pledge the initiates bound themselves to a pledge of loyalty and service to their fraternity brothers, to the student body and faculty of the college, the youth of America, the community, and to the nation as a fully participating citizen.

Secretary Charles Weber proceeded by explaining what the different characteristics located on the fraternity's coat of arms symbolize and what their relative significance is to the members of this service fraternity. The coat of arms counterpart, the fraternity pin was vividly explained by the acting alumni secretary, Donald Walters.

The president then declared the initiates as members of the fraternity and presented each of the initiates with a recognition button, symbolical of active participation in the fraternity's program of unselfish service. The new members were then given the Greek words which stand for Alpha Phi Omega and were told the meaning which each word stands for. A fellowship circle was formed and Dr. Salyer gave the dedication address which was followed with the singing of the fraternity's toast song.

The initiatory ceremony was concluded with the recitation of the guiding principles of Alpha Phi Omega in both the Greek and English language. After the new members were warmly welcomed, the entire group enjoyed a delicious steak dinner served at the Anchor Cafe.

DELTA KAPPA TO HOLD FALL DINNER DANCE

The Hotel Marion will be the scene of the Delta Kappa fall dinner dance tomorrow evening at 7 p.m. The dance will also serve as an informal initiation for nine new members.

Darrel Radle, chairman, has prepared a delightful evening of entertainment. After a steak dinner, the Delta Kappas and their guests will dance to the smooth and rhythmic offerings of George Soderberg and his Royal Blackhawks.

FOB HOLDS PARTY FOR "RED" WALKER

The F.O.B. fraternity held a party last Wednesday, November 12, in honor of "Red" Walker who left for the Army, November 19.

The party was attended by the members of the F.O.B., friends, and business men from Menomonie. The lunch and refreshments were donated by several business men who wanted to show their appreciation toward "Red" for his splendid showing on the football field and as a friend.

The F.O.B. fraternity on behalf of "Red" Walker wish to thank the many people who helped make this party a big success.

YOUNG REPUBLICANS ASSIST THE VOTERS

Through the cooperation of the faculty, and administrators of The Stout Institute, the Wisconsin Telephone Co., Jake Lee, John Dale, Gus Bakke, and the assistance of the Young Republicans and other interested persons, free baby sitting and a free ride to the polls was provided the citizens of Menomonie on Election Day, November 4.

Dismissing for the day the students of The Stout Institute who baby sat or drove voters to and from the polls, the cooperation of Jake Lee in providing telephones, the service of the Wisconsin Telephone Co., and the general assistance of John Dale and Gus Bakke, a non-partisan campaign to get out the voters of Menomonie left the local citizen no excuse for not casting his ballot.

Willis Capps, general chairman of the campaign, stated that many voters took advantage of the free services.

Mrs. Mimi Miller and James Leader were in charge of the baby sitters and drivers respectively. Those who assisted in baby sitting, driving, and telephone answering were as follows: Carol Schilstra, Jackie Sorenson, Ardis Olson, Mary Lou Bohrnstedt, Dickie Nelson, Barbara Rushing, Shirley Lundeen, Virginia Ehlers, Janice Hornick, Barbara Brown, Lois Gallagher, Joan Stegeman, Vera Dale, Ann Sipple, Avis Mertes, Rita Hack, Nancy Brackett, Dorothy Brownell, Colleen Cerninsky, Helene Magelee, Margaret Keeber, Darlene Pyatt, Pat Ryan, Hugh Schmahl, Oliver Agerlie, Dick Duthler, Corky Collette, Bob Sipple, Jerome Sommers, and Ken Lantto.

WESLEY MEMBERS SEE "GOD OF THE ATOM"

"God of the Atom," one of the Moody Bible Institute films, was featured at the meeting of the Wesley Student Fellowship on Sunday, November 16, at 5:30 o'clock. This film is one of the series which includes "God of Creation" and "Voice of the Deep." The film showed the extreme powers of the harnessed atom and also some mathematical figures of its use. Scientists were shown working with the experiment used with atoms.

Singing and recreation were predominant with a worship service presented by Marilyn Fredeen's committee.

The calendars Wesley is selling were passed out to the group.

Next Sunday there will be conference talks by the members. Don't miss Wesley.

DIETETICS CLUB HOLDS ITS REGULAR MEETING

On November 10th the Dietetics club held its monthly meeting. Following this supper, which everyone ate in the tea room, the Christmas fruit cake sale was discussed. Various members were assigned the task of either preparing or wrapping the cakes. The cakes were to be baked the following Saturday so that the flavors would have a chance to blend. Two hundred forty pounds of one and two pound cakes were to be baked.

Having attended the National Dietetics Convention in Minneapolis a month ago, several of the girls were interested in the advantages of civilian versus military internship. Arrangements are being made to have a civilian dietitian talk on the subject since the military view point was heard at the convention. After hearing both sides, the girls feel that they will be more able to make a choice that will suit their particular needs best.

YWCA BREAKFAST WILL BE SERVED TUESDAY

The YWCA is giving a breakfast on Tuesday, November 25, in the club-room above the Union. The YWCA girls are selling tickets now. Get yourself in the mood for Thanksgiving by coming to the breakfast.

MADSEN'S JEWELERS

NEW LIBRARY IS GROWING DAY BY DAY

In the hall of the H. E. building is a picture of a library. South one block that picture is being recreated in brick and stone. To the skeptics the completion must seem in the dim future, but to the optimist each day brings growth and development.

Any interested observer, whether man or child, will find much to watch during the following months, for construction will continue through the heavy winter weather.

Waiting for materials has slowed the building schedule; however, in a short time, rising walls will give mute promise that within the next year Stout will have a new place of learning.

INTER-SORORITY BALL WILL BE DECEMBER 5

The annual inter-sorority ball will be held on Friday evening, December 5th in the Stout gym.

"Crystal Belles" will be the theme of this year's ball. A gay time of dancing and fun is planned for all.

Any alumni wishing to attend can contact their representative organizations.

Alpha Sigma Alpha is in charge of decorations for the dance, the Hyperians are chairmen of clean-up, the Pallas Athenes are in charge of music, programs and invitations, and the Tri Sigmas are general chairmen.

George Soderberg and his Royal Blackhawks will provide the music for the evening.

'DEER' SEASON WILL OPEN SATURDAY NIGHT

The deer hunting season opens tomorrow. To a few, unlucky persons it means death and destruction in the hands of careless hunters, but why run the risk of getting killed by some careless shooter when you can get your deer at the Muzzle Loader's Brawl. Opening day is tomorrow and the time is 8:30 P.M. The hunting area is the Stout gym.

There is no licence required for opening day, although one might be nice later on. A few of the wise old hunters have their deer stashed away for the opening day.

Due to the relaxing of the hunting regulations, it is no longer necessary to wear the usual hunting clothes. Jeans and levis are more practical for hunting anyway.

One competent observer has reported that the deer are so plentiful that guns are no longer necessary to bag the game. A few kind words and a little coaxing have proven, in the long stalk, to be more effective.

So all you bucks bring your does, and maybe we can even look for a turkey in the straw!

SENIOR WINS HOME AGENTS' SCHOLARSHIP

Selection of Lois Bredlow, a senior at The Stout Institute, as winner of the annual Wisconsin Home Agents Association scholarship has been announced by Dr. Alice J. Kirk, dean of the Stout division of home economics.

The Home Agents scholarship is designed to assist a junior student majoring in college home economics who is planning to enter the extension service after graduation. The winner is selected for her merit in citizenship, scholarship in school and leadership, potentialities, personality, and achievements in 4-H club work.

Miss Shirley Young, Dunn County Home agent and Miss Yvonne Olson, Eau Claire County home agent, represented the Home Agents association in selecting the recipient of the scholarship.

Lois, who is from Watertown, Wisconsin, is majoring in home economics education. Although she is interested in all the home economics program at Stout, she indicates a slight preference for the courses dealing with clothing. Lois chose The Stout Institute for her training in extension work because of its widely known home economics department.

Miss Bredlow has been a 4-H club member for eleven years and a junior leader in the club for seven of those years. It was through her 4-H activities that she first became interested in home economics and a career as a home agent. In 1948 Lois won a trip to National 4-H club Congress in Chicago for her outstanding work with her record book in home economics projects.

During the summer of 1950, Lois had the honor of attending the National 4-H club camp in Washington, D. C. She says, "Being part of such a great event is certainly a wonderful experience."

Throughout her 4-H club work, Lois has excelled in projects dealing with foods and nutrition, clothing, and food preservation. She is looking forward to instructing rural girls and home makers on the newest and easiest methods of carrying out their home-making duties.

Lois has already had some practical experience this semester through practice teaching with girls in a high school class. In her cadet teaching group, she is teaching a clothing unit.

In her three and one half years at The Stout Institute, Lois has been busy with extra curricular activities as well as her classes. She is a member of the Phi Upsilon Omicron honorary society in home economics and the Hyperion sorority. She is on the Home Economics club council as vice-president, and is a member of the college newspaper staff. She is also on the yearbook staff and last year was president of the Women's Athletic Association at Stout.

STUDY IS MADE OF THE STATUS OF GRADUATES

A series of follow-up studies of former Stout Institute graduate students has been completed by R. A. Wigen, Stout's director of graduate studies, to determine the status of graduate students who have satisfied the requirements for the Master of Science degree. Part of the survey dealt with recruitment and placement of graduate students.

Two large maps, 32" by 42" have been prepared. One indicates the source of graduate students by location and type of school. The other map shows placement of graduate students according to location and type of position.

A summary of the study indicates that entering graduate students possessed undergraduate degrees from 89 universities, colleges, teachers colleges and professional and technological schools located in the United States, Canada, and Hawaii.

The placement map indicates that graduate students are located in the following positions: supervisors and directors, 55; colleges and universities, 41; teachers and counselors, 198; and industry and commerce, 19. In addition, no specific data appeared for 56 persons. Another six are retired or deceased.

As of August, 1952, the graduate school of Stout Institute had granted 375 Master of Science degrees to persons fulfilling the necessary requirements.

L.S.A. WILL PROVIDE RECREATION AT PARTY

On Sunday evening, December 7, L.S.A. will be part of a joint Christmas Party.

An annual affair, the joint Christmas Party between the Congo Club, the Wesley group, and L.S.A., will be held at the Methodist Church.

The Congo Club will be in charge of worship, L.S.A. will have responsibility of providing recreation, and the host Wesley group will serve the supper.

This party has always been well attended in past years so let us from L.S.A. show up in large numbers to enjoy a big evening of fun, food and fellowship.

December 7, 5:30 o'clock at the Methodist Church and everybody welcome.

TOURS PLANNED FOR FOREIGN STUDENTS

Michigan State College is opening its Kellogg Center for Continuing Education to a representative group of 30,000 students from foreign countries who are enrolled in American colleges and universities. The dates of this meeting are December 23 to January 1. The purpose is to provide foreign students with a more clear and accurate picture of America and to provide a rich and stimulating experience during a period which might otherwise be nonproductive. The activities which have been planned include visits to homes in central Michigan, Christmas dinner and observances in the Kellogg Center, visits to business and industrial concerns, discussions of the American educational system, recreation, and interviews with nationally-known personalities. The total cost of the entire Christmas Adventure will be $80.00 per student. This will include room, meals, transportation, and entertainment planned as a regular part of the adventure. The cost of transportation to and from Michigan State College must be paid by the student. Those who may be interested are asked to see Dr. R. G. Iverson at their earliest convenience.

OFFICIALS OF INDONESIA INSPECT STOUT

Visiting The Stout Institute this week are two official representatives of the Ministry of Education of the Republic of Indonesia. The two men are at the college to study methods and organization of American vocational education. Upon their return to Indonesia they will use their American experiences in a program to improve vocational training in Indonesia.

The visitors are Raden Roesman, inspector of the technical division of the Indonesian Ministry of Education, and Kahar Masjhur, inspector for Sumatra.

In 1945, Indonesia severed its colonial ties with the Dutch and is now on independent republic. Independence was proclaimed by two Indonesian national heroes, Dr. Sukarno and Dr. Hatta.

FIELD TRIP SCHEDULED FOR STOUTONIA STAFF

A field trip to Minneapolis is in store for the members of the Stoutonia staff. The students plan to go through the Minneapolis Star & Tribune buildings and the WCCO Studios. The trip is scheduled for Saturday, December 13, the buses leaving at 8 a.m. and returning about 7 that same evening. Mr. Whydowski and Miss Diefenbach will chaperone the group.

Any Stoutonia staff members who would like to go on the trip but have not signed up should do so immediately.

A.S.A.'S ARE SELLING MAGAZINES THIS WEEK

A.S.A.s suggest a magazine subscription as a solution to many of your Christmas shopping problems. They are sponsoring the sale of numerous nationally known magazines this week and next. Look for their booth in the main floor corridor of the Home Economics Building.

THIS IS LAST DAY TO ORDER STATIONERY

Hurry! Hurry! Today is your last chance to order personalized stationery for yourselves and for Christmas gifts. There are many handsomely designed letterheads with a variety of beautiful stationery to choose from and the price is just right. So, don't wait. Rush over to Harvey Hall now and place your order.

Orders will be taken by members of the Stout Typographical Society until four o'clock this afternoon. These orders will be filled before Christmas vacation begins.

WHAT GOES INTO AN M. A. P. PRODUCTION?

As curtains were drawn and sets dismantled, another Manual Arts production, "Kind Lady" went down in history as success to that organization.

But did you realize, as you comfortably sat and watched the two hour performance, how many countless hours were spent to make this play a success? Did you realize how much time and effort was required just so you might have an evenings entertainment? The organization worked long and diligently for six weeks in an effort to make the presentation successful. Also, approximately 43 persons combined their talents and efforts to make the performance possible. Not to be overlooked is the help which was received from the printing department, which printed the programs, and Phi U, which helped sell tickets.

The entire production was under the direction of Norman Ziemann of The Stout speech department, assisted by Doris Hutchinson. These positions required them to be present every night of practice. Doris, as prompter, had to always be on her toes. Taking the position of stage manager was Herb Pringle, and the handling of the financial side of the production was undertaken by Louise Wenger. With the help of the usherettes, Lillian Smith, house manager, had charge of the seating.

A new position, that of technical director, was handled by Sam Miketarian. Previously, the director, had the responsibility of designing the set, but this year Sam had charge of the creation and building of the set. Saturday mornings, many energetic students could be seen pounding nails painting scenery, or hoisting down flats or boards from above the stage.

Mood and time of day are determined by lighting. Dick Dutler and David Peake took care of this. Ringing the doorbell at just the right instant and slamming the door at just the right time was the job of Louise Wenger.

To get the right costumes for a play sewing must be done, attics must be gone through and doorbells rung. Between scenes, the costume committee was there to help the actors make quick changes of costumes in record time.

The property committee obtained and kept track of numerous properties, large and small. It took a lot of time and patience to dig up all of the necessary articles. The properties had to be returned, safe and sound, to the owners. The stage crew had to make sure that the ash tray was on the table at just the right time and that the pictures were put on the wall or taken down at the right scene.

Publicity is very important to a play. If people don't know that a play is to be given—they won't attend. The publicity department did the advertising for the play. This consisted partly of making posters, distributing posters, and writing news stories.

A good play needs to have a competent make-up crew. Facial features and expressions must be able to be seen by those sitting in the farthest seats. Furthermore, an "old age" part could not be played effectively of the actor looked like a 20 year old.

Last but not least are the actors. They spent many long hours on stage practicing, getting in just the right facial or verbal expression, and at home memorizing and "woodshedding" their parts.

Thus a play was born, through the combined efforts of not ten, not twenty, but of many interested and enthusiastic persons.

APO WILL SELL BLUE-PRINTS IN JANUARY

Members of Alpha Phi Omega will sell sets of blue-prints to interested students and mid-year graduates. Sample sets will be on display in Harvey Hall January 7 and 8.

Selling of blue-prints by APO is one of the ways the organization has of making money and also providing a service to interested students. Samples will be displayed in Harvey Hall January 7 and 8, and a member of the organization will be in attendance to answer questions or to help in the selection of a set.

We of Alpha Phi Omega extend an invitation to all students to visit our sample displays in Harvey Hall January 7 and 8.

HARPIST WILL PLAY AT NEXT CONVOCATION

Miss Lorraine King, harpist, will appear at the convocation on Wednesday, December 10, at which she will play many old favorite songs such as "Danny Boy", "Silent Night Fantasy", and "Gypsy Fire Dance."

Miss King, a graduate of the department of music of the University of Minnesota, has studied harp with Mr. Henry Williams formerly of the Minneapolis Symphony, with Mr. Joseph Vito of the Chicago Symphony, with Granjony of New York, and with Bernard Zighera of the Boston Symphony.

Miss Lorraine King has appeared with Andre Kostalanetz and Vaughn Monroe on CBS broadcast and on television over KSTP in the Twin Cities. She recently returned from a concert tour with the Nordic Cathedral Choir of Luther College of Decorah, Iowa. At times Miss King also plays with the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra and has done much concert work throughout the northwest and has made numerous appearances with musical organizations as soloist and guest artist. She recently appeared in a recital at Northrup Auditorium sponsored by the University of Minnesota.

NEWMAN CLUB HOLDS DAY OF RECOLLECTION

Sunday, December 7, the Newman club of The Stout Institute is sponsoring a Day of Reflection. All Catholic students of Stout are urged to attend this day of remembrance.

Arrangements have been made to have Reverend Francis Kamp, S.V.D., give the informal conferences. Father Kamp, a member of the Missionary Order of the Society of the Divine Word, was ordained to the priesthood in 1947. Since his ordination Father Kamp has devoted much of his time as a professor in the seminary. His literary work has included two years as editor-in-chief of the Little Missionary.

The program, scheduled to start with Holy Mass and concluding with benediction services, is as follows:

8:00 A.M.—Holy Sacrifice of the Mass
9:00 A.M.—Breakfast in the School Hall
9:45 A.M.—Conference
10:45 A.M.—Conference
11:45 A.M.—Lunch
12:45 P.M.—Newman Club Meeting
2:00 P.M.—Conference
2:30 P.M.—Confessions
3:30 P.M.—Conference and Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament

The Newman club feels fortunate in getting such a well known speaker for the day and hopes to see a large crowd in attendance. Any students on the campus who may be the least bit interested in this church activity may feel free to attend.

The breakfast and lunch, which will be served by the Ladies' Alter Society of St. Joseph's church, has been especially prepared for this type of program. Thus, all in attendance are guaranteed the best in food during their day.

TRI SIGMAS SIMPLIFY CHRISTMAS SHOPPING

Have any of your students ever wished that you wouldn't have to tramp from store to store on cold wintry days to do your Christmas shopping? Here's good news! This year you can stay right here in Harvey Hall and pick out a gay holiday apron for Mom, a handpainted tie for Dad, an exquisite smoked dress for baby sister, and a colorful shirt for brother. After choosing, say to the Tri Sigmas behind the counter, "Wrap these up!", pay a nominal charge, and walk out of the building with a light-hearted feeling because your Christmas shopping is done.

This grand service is being offered to Stout students and faculty by the Sigma Sigma Sigma Sorority which has worked hard to provide a variety of lovely gifts from which you may choose.

Shop early! Shop the easy way! Stop in front of Harvey Memorial during the week of December 8 to 13!

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Recently, we have heard many comments on fraternities constantly throwing digs at each other. It is evident, to all that the fraternities, on a whole, were not always on friendly terms. It seems that something should be done to remedy this.

Maybe the solution to this problem would be to form an inter-fraternity council. This council would function for the sole purpose of uniting fraternities simply by having the fraternities working together instead of constantly competing against each other.

This idea of an inter-fraternity council is not new on the campus in this column. Perhaps this is the year we can do something about it. It has been brought to the attention of the students year after year about it.

INVESTIGATION OF FRESHMAN NEWS

Seems as if two freshman girls are using their artistic ability to brighten up their rooms. That "ceiling paper" looks better in the nearest wastebasket, kids!!

Again the frosh girl won a WAA tournament—shuffleboard. It's a shame the upper classmen don't give us any competition!

To many of us, the first snowfall was the beginning of many griefs, but to two freshmen it was the most wonderful thing they had ever seen. Maybe we'd feel the same way if we had lived in a land of sunshine and summer all our lives.

It was overheard that 4 freshmen boys got engaged during the Thanksgiving vacation. If it's true, congratulations. But please let the girls know who you are so we can take your name off the "available" list!!

We had an awfully worried girl on our hands the other day. Seems as if she's on the diet table, and when orders for Thanksgiving pie were asked for, she couldn't believe that the dieters would get pie too. But after she was finally convinced that she could have some too, she tried to order a double piece. Tough luck though—no extras!!

Monday morning after vacation at least half the dorm stayed in bed. What's the matter, kids, —too much turkey?????

YWCA CANDY SALE IS HELD WEDNESDAY

The YWCA held a Candy sale to make money for a Conference fund. The district conference was held at Camp Idhuhapi near Minneapolis. Four girls from our local YWCA attended the conference.

On December 3, a Christmas corridor sale was held to make money for the organization.

WHAT WOULD YOU DO WITH IT?

Question. What would you do if someone handed you a "diphyllobothrium latum"?

Marilyn Young— "Paint it red".

Tom Stilt— "I ain't telling".

Fran Soulek— "I'd give it to Santa Claus".

Bob Popovich— "I'd eat it".

Jean Somervold— "I'd drop it as fast as I could".

Joe Stebly— "Sounds fishy".

Sam Mikitarian— "Put it in a drawer and look at it".

Mae Rammer— (She was speechless for the first time in history.)

Jim Aumann— "Put it in room 36 in the Annex."

Willis Bogenhagen— "Put it in a bottle".

Dennis Hawkes— "I'd use it to play basketball".

Jan Schott— "Eat it with sommersausage".

I don't know what you'd call it, but in everyday language, a diphyllobothrium latum is a fish tapeworm.

A.P.O. MEMBERS MET NOVEMBER 2.

Alpha Phi Omega held its regular meeting Tuesday, November 25, at 6:30 p.m. in Bowman Hall. A report of the executive meeting was read and ideas from the executive meeting were made known to the members.

Business completed at the meeting was the delegating of power to the delegates, to the National Convention, on amendments to the constitution.

A report was given by Charles Weber, secretary, on the outcome of the executive meeting held by the officers of the organization. Plans discussed at the executive meeting included a project dealing with first aid kits in all of the shops at Stout. Members were asked if they would volunteer to contact instructors in the various shops. Members quickly volunteered and were informed that they would obtain information as to what the first-aid kits contained now and what the instructor thought they should contain. Members were to report their findings at the next meeting.

Suggestions for building up the treasure were acquired by some of the members; some ideas suggested were: selling coasters, making scaled models for Boy Scout troops, and making score cards to be used in the student union at Stout. The idea of selling blue-prints to interested students was brought up again. It had been the policy of APO, in the past, to sell blue-prints in sets to outgoing seniors and other students interested in making shop projects. This project has been stopped for awhile but the organization has decided to renew this custom.

Final business brought up was the reorganization of various committees.

GOOD PROGRAMS TO BE AT EICHELBERGER

Something new has been added to dorm life at Eichelberger. In addition to the regular business at dorm meetings, educational entertaining programs will be given. The get-togethers will be held twice a month and will consist of talks by persons from Stout and visitors on campus. The girls will choose their own programs. This type of educational, entertaining meetings in dormitories is becoming more common in colleges throughout Wisconsin.

These past few months we have heard comments from many of you concerning the absence of the Key and Hole, which is the gossip column that has previously appeared in The Stoutonia. So many of you missed it that we decided to start peeking into all the keyholes again and passing on to you the things we see.

Many of the fellows and gals have taken the fatal step and are now married or engaged. We wish a lifetime of happiness to Dave and Gerry Bieniasz, Jim and Rosie Zeasman, Bud and Zoe Miller, Don and Barb Hiller, George and Jean Van Buren, Ardie Weber Breitsman and her husband, Stan and Mimi Miller, and Don Gerstad, Karl Turk, John Debrauske and their wives.

Best wishes also to all of those lucky girls who are now wearing those precious gems on their left hands: Nadine Brown, Rose Peper, Nancy Hanshus, Jan Waseen, Joanne Peterson, Katherine Magee, Nancy Kaunzner, and Ruth Sipple.

Although Fred Bahr spent many hours in the woods, his only catch was a two legged deer — Mary Paciotti. You could have done MUCH worse, Fred!

Well, Dick Duthler, it looks like you are finally settling down. Of course, knowing that Janet Gray is knitting you a sweater for Christmas helps. Right-o?

Lucky, lucky Ann Ritzinger!! Don Zittleman has finished his stretch in the service and is now back in school. Seems as if "Leaky" Lamers is getting sweet on a certain frosh girl!! Better watch that stuff, "Leaky"!

Carl Spinti and Joyce Fraedrichs have a special interest—a little kitten they adopted. But it's for certain that the cat isn't the only thing that is keeping them together!!

We noticed Mama and Papa Gresch in the cafeteria line every night. Are you living on love, Jo and Dave?

We'll be seeing you at the Intersorority Dance tonight and at the basketball game tomorrow night.

We remain faithfully yours,

Key and Hole

ELEVEN STUDENTS ARE CALLED INTO SERVICE

Latest check in Dean Bowman's office shows that four more Stout students have been called into the Armed Forces for military duty. The grand total, to leave for service, has now reached eleven; since September.

Latest student to be called into service is Jerry Schemansky, member of the sophomore class. Jerry is scheduled to report to his induction center on the 5th of December.

Students called into service, since the last check in Dean Bowman's office, are: Herbert Riebe, junior; Charles Van Slyke, freshman; and Ronald Walker, senior.

The senior class leads in the number of contributions to the Armed Forces with six men, followed by the sophomore class with three men. Both the junior class and the freshmen class have contributed one student each.

HOME EC CLUB TAKES COOKIE ORDERS

"The best way to a man's heart . . . or a woman's, or the bridge club's, is through its stomach. Everyone knows that! But what everyone may not know is that the Home Economics club is prepared to help you win that heart. The girls are now taking orders for boxes of mouth-watering Christmas cookies in holiday wrap. An assorted box of almond macaroons, fruit cookies, orange-nut-honey cookies, and pecan balls—three dozen in all costs only 75 cents. Cookies will be available December 15. Orders will be taken until December 11, but don't wait! Order yours today!

"TIM" TIMMERMAN UMPES ALL-STAR GAME

J. E. "Tim" Timmerman, who now lives in Honolulu, a Stout grad of 1948, writes that he recently umpired two games played between the Major League All-Stars and teams from the Islands.

He states he got into one argument which involved Peeewe Reese and Nellie Fox. The umpires were complimented by the Honolulu press for doing a big league job of handling the game.

The All-Stars copped the games by scores of 15-4 and 9-7. Besides Fox and Reese, the major line-up included Enos Slaughter, Hank Sauer, Yogi Berra, Ed Robinson, Jackie Jensen, Billy Martin and Robin Roberts.

STUDENTS SEE SPORTS FILMS IN ASSEMBLY

Wednesday, December 3, in convocation, the students at Stout were given season tickets to the Minneapolis Laker's basketball games. In the comfort of the auditorium they watched movie highlights of the games that won the championship for the Laker's. They also met individual players on the team in the movie. A second movie was showed of the Stout versus Eau Claire football game.

DELTA KAPPA HOLDS FALL DINNER DANCE

The annual fall dinner dance of the Delta Kappa Fraternity was held November 22. George Soderberg and his Royal Blackhaws provided the music as the Delta Kappa's and their guests had a delightful evening of dining and dancing at the Hotel Marion. Mr. and Mrs. Eric Oetting and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rudiger were guests of honor.

Why is it that Lincoln's Gettysburg address contained only 266 words and the Declaration of Independence only 300 words, but a recent Price Orders from OPS on the lowly cabbage required 26,911 words?

V.A. REPORTING—

NEWS RELEASED BY THE VETERANS ADMINISTRATION

Veterans with service since the outbreak of the Korean conflict, June 27, 1950, who have sold the homes or farms they purchased with guaranteed loans under the World War II GI Bill may now have new and full loan guarantee rights under the Korean GI Bill, Mr. J. P. Cullen, Manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office said today.

Cullen pointed out that this same renewal of rights applies to veterans who have disposed of real property purchased with the aid of business loans which were guaranteed or insured under the World War II GI Bill.

The Korean GI Bill, signed by the President on July 16, 1952, extends the loan guaranty provisions of the World War II GI Bill to veterans who served anywhere in the world since June 27, 1950—the start of the Korean campaign.

Under the two GI Bills' VA guarantees the lender against loss on home loans up to 60 percent of the loan, with a maximum guaranty of $7,500.

On farm or business loans, VA guarantees the lender against loss up to 50 percent of the loan, with a maximum guaranty of $4,000 on loans involving real estate and $2,000 on loans not involving real estate.

The new amount of guaranty available under the Korean GI Bill to veterans who used their loan guaranty benefits under the World War II GI Bill will be reduced by:

- (1) The initial amount of guaranty on real property to which the veteran still holds title.
- (2) The initial amount of guaranty on a loan which is in default, and
- (3) The initial amount of the guaranty on a loan on which the VA has paid a claim.

World War II veterans who sell their homes and the purchasers assume the 4 percent GI loans will be given conditional certificates of eligibility when they apply for loan guaranty benefits under the Korean GI Bill. These conditional certificates will serve notice to the lender that the veteran's entitlement is subject to reduction owing to VA's liability on the original loan.

However, if no default or claim is outstanding on the World War II loan on the date the new loan application is received from the lender, VA will issue a commitment for the full guaranty requested.

When an application for a new loan is received and a default or claim outstanding or pending on a previous loan for which the veteran is still liable, the amount granted under the World War II GI Bill.

Veterans who sell their real property and pay off the original loan will be issued unconditional certificates of eligibility.

World War II veterans qualifying as post-Korea veterans and who still hold title to property will not receive the balance of guaranty remaining under the original GI Bill. This balance will be cancelled and reissued under the new Korean GI Bill.

World War II veterans who have business loans not involving real property still outstanding may obtain full loan guaranty benefits for homes or farms under the Korean GI Bill without disposing of their business.

Deadline for using loan guaranty benefits under the World War II GI Bill for must veterans who have not served since June 27, 1950 to July 25, 1957.

TEA ROOM DUPLICATES "MARTHA'S VINEYARD"

"Martha's Vineyard," a resort overlooking the Atlantic Ocean, was duplicated in the tea room November 20th. Since the North Eastern coast is the origin of Thanksgiving Day, a typical Thanksgiving menu with its English touch was served. Included among the traditional favorites were roast turkey with dressing, mince meat pie with cheese, and pumpkin pie with whipped cream.

A special Christmas tea and a visit to Santa Claus, Indiana are being planned for after the Thanksgiving holiday.

VACATION WAS ENJOYED BY ALL

What a Thanksgiving vacation!

We certainly were fortunate to have fair weather throughout the month of November . . . that is up until the day before Thanksgiving vacation.

Old man winter made his appearance by covering the Northwest with a beautiful blanket of snow, competing the holiday spirit. But, he also covered roads and telephone lines with a heavy coating of ice, making all means of communication hazardous and impossible.

Plans were changed, rides were cancelled, and the entire student body was in an uproar, afraid they would be eating their Thanksgiving dinner in Menomonie instead of "home cooking".

Although the minds of many were undecided on the decision of starting home, the will to succeed was far stronger and students began their journey by either train, car, or bus.

Monday morning, droopy-eyed students congregated in the halls, hardly able to tell their tales of travel and experiences. Although hardships were endured by many, the stay at home was well worth it and they are anxiously awaiting the merriness of Christmas.

PHI SIGS ATTEND MEET AT STEVENS POINT

The campus of Stevens Point State Teachers College was the setting for the Phi Sigma Epsilon Regional Meeting, to which seven representatives from The Stout Institute traveled Saturday, November 22.

Topics of discussion concerned methods of fund raising and unification of pledging. A banquet for members of all chapters, followed the business meeting.

Representing the Omega Chapter of Stout were the following: Bob Asman, Richard Bilse, William Buckley, Fred Knelsler, Al Ochs, Leroy Sharkey, and Howard Vetter.

Other Wisconsin colleges having Phi Sigma Epsilon chapters represented were Eau Claire, Milwaukee, Stevens Point, and Whitewater.

WESLEY MEMBERS VIEW CHRISTIAN PROBLEMS

The Wesley Student Fellowship held its meeting Sunday, November 23, at 5:30. Reports from the State MSM conference were given by David and Mary Peake. They told of the workshop periods on Religion, Science, Philosophy, and Education. Mary described the three speeches Hiel Boellinger gave on the subject "The Christian Student in the World Struggle". Jan Benedict conducted folk dances for recreation.

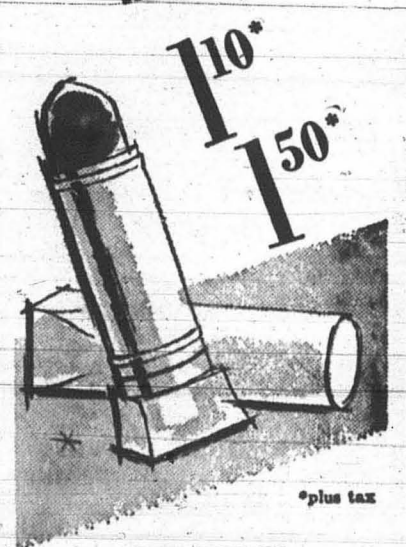

Marilyn Klusmeyer's committee served the supper. The menu was: mashed potatoes, creamed dried beef, bread and butter, apple crisp, and milk.

The next meeting will be held December 7 at the Methodist Church. It will be a party with Congo and LSA.

ST. JOHN'S 78-68 VICTOR IN OPENER

Opatz Tallies 21 For Johnnies; Kieffer Bags
17 To Lead Bluedevils

The Johnnies of St. John's University spoiled the debut of the Bluedevil cagers when they scored a 78 - 68 triumph Monday night. The Johnnies, ably coached by John Hiller, conquered the Eau-Claire Bluegolds 100 - 78 at Eau Claire last Friday.

Coach Ray Johnson opened with Tom Stilp and John Widmar at guards, Bill Kieffer and Don Steele at forwards, and Bob Moe at the pivot. During the first period of play, which saw the Johnnies take an early 22-14 lead, St. John's controlled both boards and managed to hit almost every free throw attempt. The Johnnie's sharp-shooting guard, Johnny Opatz, gave the Bluedevils much of the trouble as his overall ball handling and long shooting ability greatly affected the final outcome.

The Bluedevils managed to outscore the Johnnies in the second quarter 25 to 22 as the passing and shooting slowly began to materialize. Steele and Kieffer led the assault as Stout trailed by only four at the intermission.

As the third quarter started the Bluedevils began to exhibit some excellent ball handling and shooting and overtook St. John's by scoring 20 points during this period. John Widmar hit on three out of four shots but fouled out before the period ended along with the Alaska sophomore, Don Steele.

Fouls eventually killed the Bluedevil chances for victory as Widmar, Steele, Moe, and Stilp all went down with five personals. Much of the work in the fourth quarter had to be done by freshmen and many did a highly creditable job in their first game but were unable to hold or regain the lead.

The game ended with Stout on the short end of a 78-68 verdict but everyone who attended saw a game that was exciting and well played throughout. Bill Kieffer, senior from Hastings, Minnesota led the bluedevil scorers with 17 points while Opatz had 21 for St. John's.

INTRAMURAL GAMES ARE WELL UNDER WAY

After two weeks of intramural basketball play, the FOB's, Phi Sigmas, and the Frosh are deadlocked in a three way tie for first place. Close behind with only one loss in three games, are the Delta Kappa Reds. Highlighting last week's play was the stunning upset pulled by the Delta Kappas on the Carbonizers.

The most notable thing thus far has been the high scoring of the FOB's and the Phi Sigmas. Behind the nucleus of John Jacobson, Karl Turk, and Al Loew, the FOB's have presented a potent offense. The Phi Sigs have relied on the sharpshooting of Neil Hoepfner and Jim Olds.

FOUR STUDENTS ATTEND YW-YM CONFERENCE

Four members of The Stout YWCA recently attended the fall conference of the YW-YM Iduhapi District at Camp Iduhapi in Minnesota. Miriam Eckert, Joyce Callen, Eunice Nulton, and Edna Gaffron were accompanied to and from the camp by Miss Mary McCalmont former Stout chemistry instructor. The theme of the entire conference was "Christianity on the Campus."

Dr. Huntly Dupri, Dean of Macalester College, was the keynote speaker. He gave three talks: The Campus Scene; The Challenge to the Individual; the Challenge to the Association. Following each of the speeches, discussion groups met to discuss various phases of the talks.

The Iduhapi district is made up of universities and colleges in Minnesota and northern Wisconsin. Student YW-YM representatives from Macalester College, St. Cloud State Teachers College, St. Paul and Minneapolis campuses of the University of Minnesota, Hamline University, Northland College, Carlton College, and Stout attended the conference.

Stout Institute was in charge of recreation; Macalester, arrangements for the conference; Carleton, get acquainted games; Hamline University, worship; the University YWCA, publicity; the YMCA, registration and finance.

TRI SIGMAS INITIATE SIX NEW MEMBERS

The Harvey Memorial was the scene of the initiation held by the Sigma Sigma Sigma Sorority on November 15th. Upon successfully completing a written examination, six girls were taken into the sisterhood. Following the initiation, a ham dinner with all the trimmings was held at the Anchor Bonnie Retzlaff, Carolyn Schauf, Celia Fritz, Janet Kumbier, and Barbara Wormet.

The six initiates were Rita Hack, Bonnie Retzlaff, Carolyn Schauf, Celia Fritz, Janet Kumbier, and Barbara Wormet.

Returning the garment he had purchased, the irate customer declared: "You said my money would be returned if it was not satisfactory." "Possibly I did," said the merchant. "But I'm very satisfied with your money."

W.A.A. OFFERS ATHLETICS FOR ALL WOMEN

Volleyball, deck tennis and shuffleboard currently feature the sports spotlight of the Women's Athletic Association, according to Miss Irene Erdlitz, director of the intramural program for women.

Promotion of a program of activities that will reach all women students and result in enjoyment and development of good health, physical efficiency, leadership, good sportsmanship and cooperation is the primary purpose of this all-campus organization, related Miss Erdlitz.

There are no special requirements necessary to enter this athletic organization, according to director Erdlitz. All that a student has to do is report for one sport and she then becomes an automatic member. No special skill is necessary for any one sport. In many cases, it is a member's first experience with the sport.

The organization meets every Monday and Tuesday evenings and each girl is assigned one-half hour at the sport of her choice.

The association has three forms of recognition—an organization emblem, a varsity letter, and a pin. An organization emblem is given to every member who has been in the association for one year and who has taken part in two or more organized activities. In order to acquire a letter, a member must obtain 8 organized points and 50 unorganized points, and for a pin, 12 additional organized points and 50 additional unorganized points. Organized points are acquired by participating in a sport which is supervised by a sports manager, while unorganized points are outside activities.

Sports managers for this year are: Volleyball, Jody Bain; Basketball, Nyla Bock; Bowling, DeAnne Krueger; Swimming, Arlene Chapman; Shuffleboard, Nan Carroll; Deck tennis, Kay Garvin; Archery, Margaret Ort; Softball, Dorothy Danzinger; Hiking, Doris Van Kuren; and Tennis, Ann Switzenberg.

Officers of the organization are: Mrs. George Van Buren, president; Nyla Bock, vice-president; Marilyn Fredeen, secretary; Carol Bredlow, treasurer; Marge Fitzgerald, social chairman; Jean Baker, historian; and Betty Appel, reporter.

The association also sponsors other campus activities such as the hot dog concession at football games, homecoming queen, homecoming float, sports spree, and treasure hunt.

WAA SHUFFLEBOARD TOURNAMENT IS OVER

Under Nan Carroll's direction forty WAA members participated in the shuffleboard tournament during November. Some stiff competition was put up, but Terry Fronda and Ginny Ehlers overcame their competitors by winning four out of four games.

The runners up are Joan Andersen and Judy Day with three wins and no losses; Marie Stradthoff and Rosemary Haas with three wins and one loss.

Now that shuffleboard is over Nyla Bock, basketball sports head, will be anxious to see you on Monday and Tuesday evenings, but remember to avoid as many forfeits as possible.

PRESIDENT AND THREE FACULTY GO TO BOSTON

President Fryklund, Dr. Wall, Dr. Rudiger, And Miss Elliott Attend AVA Convention

President Verne C. Fryklund and three members of The Stout Institute faculty represented the college at the forty-sixth annual convention of the American Vocational Association, held in Boston on November 30-December 5.

In addition to Dr. Fryklund, faculty members in attendance included Dr. Gustive Wall, associate professor of education; Dr. E. Robert Rudiger, assistant professor of industrial education; and Miss Marjory Elliott, assistant professor of home economics.

President Fryklund served as a member of two panel groups, one dealing with "Problems of Industrial Arts in Schools and Colleges," and the other with "Fostering Socio-Economic Understanding and Growth Through Industrial Arts Offerings."

Panel members for "Problems of Industrial Arts in Schools and Colleges" discussed such matters as acceptance of industrial arts as an accredited subject of general education at various levels of instruction, earning and evaluation of industrial arts credits, transfer of industrial arts credits at various instructional courses for industrial arts major and minors.

In addition, panel participants answered questions dealing with uniformity of standards for accrediting industrial arts courses in high schools and colleges throughout the nation. Other matters relevant to this topic included problems in the administration of accreditation standards.

Taking part in the panel with President Fryklund were Dr. James F. Baker, assistant professor of education, Boston University; Dr. John R. Ludington, specialist for industrial arts, U. S. Office of Education; Dr. A. Russell Mack, Massachusetts supervisor of secondary education; Dr. Lynne C. Monroe, chairman of the industrial arts department, Santa Barbara College; and Armand Rehn, director of practical arts, Newark, N. J. Chairman of the entire section was

Dr. H. H. London, head of industrial education at the University of Missouri. Dr. William R. Peck, superintendent of schools at Holyoke, Massachusetts, spoke on "Industrial Arts, An Accredited Subject of General Education."

"Fostering Socio-Economic Understanding and Growth Through Industrial Arts Offerings" was the topic of the second panel in which President Fryklund participated. Panel members discussed the industrial arts curriculum, together with activities and goals of industrial arts, as aids in stimulating students to achieve greater knowledge and growth in regard to the social and economic factors of society.

Panel members, in addition to Dr. Fryklund, included Dr. G. Harold Silvius, chairman of the industrial education department, Wayne University; Harry O. Thomas, Louisiana supervisor of industrial arts; and Dr. John W. Karnes, Jr., assistant professor of industrial education, University of Connecticut.

Chairman of that meeting was Dr. Walter R. Williams, Jr., head of industrial arts and vocational education at the University of Florida. Dr. Stanley Pawelek, supervisor of industrial education at Baltimore, Md., spoke on "Significant Social and Economic Bases of Industrial Arts Programs."

Dr. E. Robert Rudiger, as executive secretary of the National Stout Institute Alumni Association, was chairman of a breakfast for Stout alumni in attendance at the AVA convention. More than 30 Stout graduates, many now in high positions in vocational education, were present.

President Fryklund addressed the group on improvements already made at Stout and plans for the future. Dr. Rudiger described present-day Menomone to the students of years past.

Miss Marjory Elliott, attending the National Association of Teacher Trainers of Home Economics, which is a division of the American Vocational Association, was elected secretary-treasurer of the former group. She will serve in that capacity for the coming year.

ANNUAL COFFEE HOUR WILL BE HELD DEC. 16

The Christmas Coffee Hour will be held in the tearoom on Tuesday afternoon, December 16. This annual Christmas speciality is sponsored by the class in tearoom management, under the direction of Miss Killian. It is an opportunity for everyone to enjoy a Christmas treat here at school.

A system of serving in two sections will be used to avoid overcrowding and to ensure prompt service. The first group of people will be served at 3 o'clock and the second group at 4:15. Fifty reservations, at a sold cost of fifty cents each, will be sold for each section.

Traditional Christmas decorations will create a festive holiday mood for the occasion. A red and green color scheme will be carried out with a tree, poinsettias, and red and green candles adding touches of the Christmas spirit.

Identical food will be served to both groups of people. The menu will include sandwiches, small frosted cakes, individual ice cream Santa Claus and Christmas trees, salted nuts, mints, coffee, and tea.

The tearoom class and Miss Killian hope everyone will take advantage of this Christmas treat and attend their Christmas Coffee Hour next Tuesday afternoon. Members of the class will be selling the reservations for this event. Contact one of the girls for a ticket now, as the number of people who can be served is limited.

COME TO CHRISTMAS TEA DECEMBER 17

On December 17th the Home Economics club invites the student body and faculty to attend its annual Christmas tea. The tea will be held in the Harvey Memorial at 3:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. under the chairmanship of Elaine Hansen. Carolers will lend their voices during the tea to create a Christmas atmosphere.

LITHOGRAPHY CLASS SEES PRINT COMPANY

Last Tuesday afternoon, the offset lithography class went on a field trip through the Johnson Printing company at Eau Claire which is the largest plant in this area that does offset work.

The purpose of this trip was to observe how offset is being used in today's industry. This tour was very educational and very interesting to the group of printers. A quick trip was made throughout the plant to get a general layout, and then the group was free to wander about and ask anyone questions about their work. Most of the time was spent in the process and plate-making rooms which was of most importance to the group.

Lithography itself is not new, but new chemicals and processes of photography have brought about modern methods of reproduction. The same theory holds true today as back in the "stone age", that water and grease (ink) do not mix.

Along with Mr. Barnard and Mr. Whydowski, the following students went on the trip: Al Marheine, Gary Gore, Ronnie Johnson, Ray Burkhalter, Jim Brown, and Jerry Duncan.

PA'S HOLD CHRISTMAS PARTY WEDNESDAY

On Wednesday, December 10, the Tea Room was festively trimmed with yule tree decorations, and the holiday spirit filled the room. The occasion for this was the Pallas Athenes Christmas party. At 5:45 p.m. the girls came in with their trays filled with tasty food appropriate for Christmas.

Barb Clemons and Jo Fritz were the co-chairmen of the party. Previous to the party they had the girls exchange names for presents. After the dinner these presents were opened and everyone delighted in showing the rest what she had received.

Dr. Marshall, the P.A. advisor, and Dean Antrim, the guest, received their presents from Santa Claus.

CHRISTMAS DANCE IS TO BE HELD TONIGHT

The annual Christmas dance is to be held Friday, December 12, in the Stout gym. The starting time is 8:30. The dance is free and open to all S.S.A. members.

Music will be furnished by George Soderberg and his Royal Blackhawks. The sophomores are in charge of the decorations and the freshmen will furnish the entertainment.

STOUTONIA STAFF TO LEAVE ON FIELD TRIP

Fifty five members of The Stoutonia staff will be leaving the south entrance of Harvey Hall tomorrow for an all day field trip in Minneapolis.

The first stop is the Minneapolis Star and Tribune plant where they will see an introductory movie to the tour through the plant. The tour is scheduled so that the staff will see the afternoon edition being printed on the series of 44 presses stacked two stories high and one block long.

From the Tribune plant, the staff will head for the WCCO news room, arriving in time to see the noon news cast. The point of interest, however, is the teletype machine where the UP and AP news is wired in from all parts of the world.

The afternoon will be spent in seeing the Christmas decorations and in shopping. A word of reminder to the members of the staff who were not at the meeting last Monday but intend to go, be sure to be at the south end of Harvey Hall by eight o'clock.

"400" WILL STOP FOR CHRISTMAS VACATION

Students will soon be faced again with the problem of getting home for Christmas. The "400" will stop at the Menomone Junction on Dec. 19 at 1:20. Bus transportation will be provided, the busses leaving school at 12:30. The train will also stop on Jan. 4 for returning students. NOTICE . . . will the students please purchase their tickets in the town office.

MISS O'BRIEN ATTENDS CONVENTION

Miss Gertrude M. O'Brien, chairman of the placement committee of The Stout Institute, attended a meeting of the National Teacher Placement association, held December 3-6 in Chicago.

Placement officers from 70 colleges were present at the gathering, which discussed current trends and problems in the duties of college placement officers.

LORRAINE KING PLAYS HER HARP AT CONVO

"She's the best yet!" "Wasn't that good!" "That, I like!" These were just a few of the enthusiastic remarks that were made by the students coming from convocation December 10. The program they had just heard was put on by Miss Lorraine King, harpist and lecturer. Miss King explained the art of harp playing in a humorous manner while she played folk music from several countries, Harp Aeolia, The Mari-nette, Christmas carols, and Bobby Maxwell's arrangement of Hungarian Rhapsody.

DEAN ANTRIM STARTS A DANCING CLASS

Attention all students interested in learning to dance! Dean Antrim has started a class in social dancing for any students interested. The class is held in the Stout gymnasium at 5:00 o'clock on Thursdays. The music is furnished by Dorothy Belisle.

Dean Antrim has announced that the class is limited to 25 couples, but anyone who is interested may join until that quota is reached if he does so by the next meeting of the class. This is your chance!

CHRISTMAS CONCERT TO BE HELD WEDNESDAY

With 130 members of the student body participating, the annual Christmas concert of The Stout Institute will be presented in the college auditorium on Wednesday, December 17, at 8:15 p.m. Tickets, 75 cents for adults and 35 cents for children under twelve, are now being sold by music students who are conducting an advance ticket sale. This concert will also be presented Wednesday morning, Dec. 17th, at 10:00 for a student assembly program.

For the first time, The Stout Institute concert band will have a prominent part in the Christmas concert, sharing the event with the Symphonic Singers and other vocal groups at the college.

The concert is being directed by Victor H. Hardt, chairman of music at the college. Dorothy Belisle, Menomone; Jane Davies, Tailula, Ill.; and Dorothy Messerschmidt, Dale, will be student accompanists.

CHRISTMAS DINNER TO BE HELD AT THE DORM

The girls living at Tainter Annex and Tainter Hall will be honored by a Christmas party to be held December 18th.

The dinner will begin with fruit cocktail served in the living room at 5:45. The presidents of the Hall and Annex will serve the punch from the frosted bowl and glasses. A fire will be lit in the fireplace to add to the atmosphere of the occasion.

At 6:15 dinner will be served in the dining room where each table will be decorated and hold a place card for each girl.

The guests will be President Fryklund, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Price, Dean Kirk, Dean Antrim and Mr. and Mrs. Bowman.

CLASSES WILL SERVE BUFFET LUNCHEONS

On December 15th and 18th the two meal management classes will serve buffet luncheons to the faculty. Each class will serve one half of the faculty. Under the supervision of Miss Nelson the girls are planning the menus, marketing, preparing, and serving the food. The Christmas color scheme will be carried out in both the food and decorations. Special Christmas foods include cranberry punch, fruit breads, mint ice, and cranberry layer cake. Elaine Hansen and Colleen Mitchell are general chairmen of the buffet for December 15th. The December 18th buffet is under the supervision of Louise Wenger and Jackie Frisbie.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

At the past convocations the assembly-lyceum committee has been distributing question forms to the students asking them to rate the program that is given. This we consider a very good practice and by so doing the committee will be able to know the type of convocation preferred by the students. This will also help in planning the program for next year.

The students must be honest in filling out these forms. We must realize that the purpose of the convocations is not entirely for entertainment, but that they are to help increase our knowledge. By having a background of the important happenings in the world we will be able to understand them better and in this way become better citizens of our country.

The assembly-lyceum committee has a difficult task in choosing speakers and programs that will interest the majority of the students most of the time. The committee has done a very fine job of planning this year's program and we as students can do much to help them by expressing our opinions. The program for next year will soon be planned so let them know what you think will be of interest to the students.

CHURCHES HOLD JOINT CHRISTMAS PARTY

The joint Christmas party of Congo, LSA and Wesley was held at the Methodist church on Sunday, December 7. There were about 90 students, advisors, and pastors in attendance.

Wesley served the supper under the direction of Bert Moline's committee. The students enjoyed a meal of barbeques, vegetable salad, festive red and green gelatin dessert and apple cider.

Congo Club presented a Christmas carol worship service involving the relating of the birth of Christ and singing of the familiar caroles, the climax was the singing of "Silent Night" by Dr. Agnew. Participating in this service were four members of Congo club. There were: Ed Clarey, Tom Kitto, Judy Day and Barbara Hilt.

L. S. A. was in charge of recreation. First of all Carol Koch divided the group into small groups. Then charades were presented involving Christmas songs, poems, words, customs and other Christmas features. A questionnaire of Christmas traditions was passed out and answered with name of country where the tradition originated.

Darrel Premo auctioned off some food which was left over from the supper. Here there were many bargains purchased and there was lots of fun involved in the auction.

DELTA KAPPAS WILL HOLD A STAG PARTY

At their last meeting, the Delta Kappas decided to hold a stag Christmas party before the holiday vacation starts. Present plans call for a supper followed by a regular meeting. After the meeting, the members will dig into a grab bag to get a small gift. Following the singing of yuletide songs, the members will spend the rest of the evening playing cards.

It was also decided that the annual Christmas basket to a needy family will again be given away. Each year at Christmas, the Delta Kappa fraternity selects a needy family and gives away a basket filled with food. With the basket of food goes the feeling of good will that Christmas brings to everyone whether he is rich or poor, dark or white, adult or child.

The Delta Kappas have received word that Ross Slater, B.S. '51, who was wounded in both legs while serving in Korea, is recuperating from his wounds in a hospital in Japan. "Tiger", as he was sometimes called, is expected to go back to the front when his wounds heal. Another former Delta Kappa, Dan Gordon, B.S. '52, is now home on furlough from the army. He expects to be shipped to Korea sometime this month.

SIG TAU HEAD VISITS CAMPUS TODAY

Mr. Earl Webb, president of the national organization of Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity is in Menomonie today visiting with members and officers of Stout's Alpha Kappa chapter of Sig Tau and with various officials of the college.

Mr. Webb's visit marks the first time since 1951 when John Foos, the organization's national field secretary came to Stout, that an official representative of Sig Tau has visited this northernmost of Sigma Tau's chapters. Acting as host for the day will be David Bieniasz, president of the local chapter, who will show Mr. Webb around the school. Several activities of the chapter are planned, including a special dinner meeting this evening, so that all the members of the local may greet Mr. Webb personally.

Sig Tau's 1952 national convention will be held in Indianapolis, Indiana on the 28th, 29th, and 30th of this month. Six members of Alpha Kappa are planning on being present at the meeting which will draw together all the chapters from California to Louisiana to New Hampshire for the sixteenth such convention. At that time the members present will celebrate thirty two years of Sig Tau history.

MILWAUKEE CHAPTER ENTERTAINS ALUMNI

The Milwaukee alumni chapter played host to the Stout Institute alumni group attending the WEA convention. The alumni enjoyed group singing and talking over old times. Speeches were given by the national alumni secretary, and Dean Bowman. Kenneth Shank acted as emcee. The alumni association would like to express its thanks to the Milwaukee chapter for a job well done.

MRS. PARTRIDGE GETS THE BIRD

Last year during partridge season, Mrs. Paul Partridge was teaching her Home Economics class in Askov, Minnesota high school. Wham! A tinkle of window glass feathers at Mrs. Partridge's feet. She preceded the arrival of a bundle of leaved over and picked up a stunned partridge. This year Mrs. Partridge was again guiding her students through the mysteries of homemaking when, wham!—a tinkle of glass, same window, heralded the arrival of more feathers. With the patient air of one who's done all this before, Mrs. Partridge leaned over and picked up another stunned partridge.

B. BARGEN HAS COMPLETED HER ORIENTATION

2nd Lt. Barbara A. Borgen, 1952 graduate of The Stout Institute, has just completed an orientation course at Medical Field Service School where she learned the customs and practices of the Army Medical Service before beginning her formal training as a dietetic intern at Brooke Army Hospital. She is one of ten recent graduates of approved schools of dietetics who have entered on active duty as 2nd lieutenants of the Reserves, who will train under the supervision of the experienced dietitians of the Hospital's staff. The year's internship gives the young dietitian the experience she needs and prepares her for the responsibilities in her field of work. Successful completion of her internship makes her eligible for membership in the American Dietetic Association.

In addition to working with the staff dietitians in all aspects of the tremendous job of planning appetizing well-balanced meals for the patients, working out special diets and supervising kitchen personnel, the dietetic interns attend classes regularly, complete research problems and gain some practical experience in other Army hospitals when they go for some weeks to other camps and stations of the Fourth Army Area.

Earl Wilmarth, '52 has completed his infantry basic training and is beginning a twelve week course in radio school at Fort Riley, Kansas. He and his wife are living in Junction City, Kansas. He has no Christmas leave this year so they would like to take this opportunity to extend a Christmas greeting to their many friends and alumni from Stout.

R. G. CHRISTIANSON WORKS AT AIR BASE

R. G. Christianson, B. S. '50, is now employed at Scott Air Force Base, Illinois. He has served as classroom and lab instructor in the fundamental branch of the radio mechanism course. At present he is assigned to the testing and evaluation section of the school. Here he gives examinations relative to student evaluation. His address is:

PAT ALLARD IS TEACHING IN MANITOWOC

Mr. Angus B. Rothwell, superintendent of schools at Manitowoc, Wisconsin, recently forwarded to Miss Gertrude M. O'Brien, chairman of the Stout placement committee, a newspaper clipping describing the work of Patricia Allard (B. S. '52), who teaches home economics in Washington Junior high school, Manitowoc.

In the photo which accompanies the news story, Pat is shown teaching techniques of the sewing machine to an eighth grade girl who is Miss Allard's home economics class.

The article and photo of Miss Allards were contained in a recent issue of the Two Rivers Reporter, a daily paper of the Manitowoc area.

STOUT PLACES FOUR ON ALL-CONFERENCE TEAM

Red Walker, Don Steele, Karl Turk, and Bill Kieffer are Named

The Stout Bluedevils managed to place four gridders on the northern division all-conference team. The team, which was picked by the coaches of the schools comprising this section of the conference, was divided into offensive and defensive platoons. Captain Red Walker bagged both offensive and defensive honors, while Don Steele and Karl Turk made the offensive squad and Bill Kieffer copped the safety position in the defensive backfield.

The champion La Crosse Indians gained four positions on the offensive squad and three on the defensive platoon to lead all teams in conference selections. Tom Lineham, senior end from River Falls, and Walker were the only players to be selected on both platoons.

Other notables selected were: Don Polglaze, Superior's ace quarterback and all conference basketball guard; Captain Ted Levenhagen, of La Crosse, one of the best golfers in the conference; and Willie Berzinski, flashy freshman halfback from La Crosse. The league's high scorer, Rodney Lundberg, fullback from Superior, failed to win a berth on the squad, much to the surprise of some of the league's students and spectators.

Of the Bluedevil cast, Karl Turk

was the lone repeater. Turk, a veteran of four years competition, played most of his football for Stout on defense this year even though he excelled as a pulling guard in Coach Storti's formation last year. One of three graduating guards, Karl was exceedingly small and fast for a lineman.

Captain Walker, a honorable mention choice last season, once again played sterling and inspiring football. The most consistent ground gainer in the Bluedevil backfield, the redhead from Durand played an important role as a defensive line backer and called all defensive signals as well. Tired and overworked in many of the teams' games Red gave everything that he had every minute on the field. His ability as a leader was rewarded when his fellow mates elected him team captain just after the final game.

Much credit is due Don Steele for his stellar performance this season. Don, who didn't even try out for football until just prior to the Winona game, overnight became one of the best pass receivers in the conference and added a terrific boost to the Stout offense. The Alaska boy, who is commonly referred to as "Stainless" is presently cavorting on the hardwood after gaining a monogram as a freshman last year.

Bill Kieffer, senior from Hastings, is another one of those natural all-around athletes. Bill, who participated in football, basketball, and baseball during his high school and college days, was the high scorer for Stout's cage squad last season. Kieffer's best game this year was the Eau Claire Homecoming tilt when he scored twice and had a third touchdown called back. A passer of better

STOUT PLAYS BALL AT EAU CLAIRE SATURDAY

Facing their bitterest conference rivals, The Stout Institute basketball squad will meet a tough Blugold squad from Eau Claire State college on Saturday evening, December 13, at 8:00 p.m. in the new Eau Claire college gym. Stout students who wish to see these teams in action may do so for fifty cents admission, upon presentation of their SSA cards at the Eau Claire box office at game time.

Coach Bill Zorn's Blugolds, with six returning lettermen, are expected to give the Stout cagers a rough time in the Bluedevils' first conference game of the season. The Blugold team has lost no lettermen to the armed forces, but four of their veteran players graduated last spring. Last year Eau Claire placed fifth in the conference with 7 wins and 5 losses.

Starting in the Eau Claire line-up Saturday night is one of the Blugold's leading scorers, Stan DuFrame, who plays at the forward position. Last year he placed sixth among scorers in the conference with a total of 186 points. Stan is a senior whose hometown is Eau Claire.

Other returning lettermen on the Blugold squad and possible starting players are Cornell Torgeson, guard, and Don Konkrite, forward, both seniors this year. Sophomores returning lettermen are Hank Sletner, forward; Mike Hanson, guard; and Greg Green, center.

The probable starting line-up for the Bluedevils will be Kieffer and Seaman, guards; Steele and Widmar, forwards; and Bob Moe, center.

Another tough game of the season will be fought by Coach Johnson's basketball cagers against the St. Cloud Teacher's college squad in a non-conference game here Tuesday evening, December 16. St. Cloud, a strong contender for the Minnesota State Teacher's College conference title, snapped St. John's winning streak last week. Greatest single St. Cloud threat is Don Buege, leading scorer, who tallied 31 points in the St. John's game to set a new St. Cloud record.

than average ability, he also figured prominently in the Bluedevils aerial pattern.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

With the Bluedevils making their conference debut in Eau Claire tomorrow night, it might be interesting to preveiw some of the teams that are certain to be contenders for the 1952-53 crown. The championship seems to be headed in a northerly direction if we are to go by pre-season indications. Last year's Whitewater entry, champion of the conference and Wisconsin representative at the N.A.I.B. tournament in Kansas City, has lost seven lettermen by graduation including three all-conference selections—Dick Noonan, Don Erickson, and Wesley Herbst.

The Superior State Yellowjackets should merit the role of favorite, though they dropped a close two point decision to St. John's last week. Coach Leo DeMarco has ten out of eleven lettermen back from last year's squad which took third place in the conference race. Included in this list are Don Polglaze, an all-conference choice at a guard position last year, and Derich "Fred" Walker, a smooth working forward who averaged over 16 points a game for the Yellowjackets.

Two other northern schools, LaCrosse and River Falls, could very well figure in the conference picture. At LaCrosse, mentor Cliff DeVoll has seven men back from last year's runner-up squad in the conference race. Heading the list is Glynn Humphery, an all-conference selection at guard last year. Art Richter, the top scorer for the Indians last year, has been taken into the armed forces. River Falls, meanwhile, opens the league race with a new coach. He is Phil Belfiori, grid coach at River Falls the past two seasons and successor to Joe Hay who left his Falcon job for a post at Western Michigan State College. Big Roger Kuss, who scored 315 points in 12 conference tilts for a 29.6 average, will again be on hand to spark the attack. Even though the Falcons lost Ray Czech and Don Barlow to the service, Belfiori will have five lettermen returning, including Jim Beljisle of Menomonie and Zeke Wells.

Of the southern schools, Stevens

Point seems the likely candidate for dark horse honors with seven lettermen around which to build a contending quintet. Coach Quandt's young team was really beginning to roll near the end of the season, although the loss of five lettermen through graduation, including all-conference guard Chet Polka and two others to the armed forces might prove too much to overcome.

Across the Desk—Although the Bluedevils dropped games to St. John's, St. Mary's and Carleton, it must be remembered that all three of these teams are regarded as powerhouse aggregations in Minnesota this year—St. John's has already won over Eau Claire and Superior, while the Carleton five roared to a lopsided victory over a strong Lake Forest quintet—Pat Costello, the ace forward of the St. Mary's entry will go down as one of the greatest scorers to ever attend that institution—Currently the Bluedevils have four freshmen on the varsity squad: center Ronald Woodliff, forwards Tom Stewart and Don Seaman, and guard Wally Klosterman. Another newcomer sure to help the Stout cause is Bruce Leonard.

More than two thousand years ago, three Wise Men followed the Star of Bethlehem to a manger... the humble birthplace of Him who was to bring a new spirit into the World... the spirit of "Peace on Earth, Good Will to Men." Today, as in all the years between, that spirit lives on in the hearts and minds of all mankind... calling us to church on this, our Saviour's natal day... to lift our voices in those beloved old Christmas hymns and carols... and lift our hearts anew with the courage and hope of His Message.

We wish to extend to all our readers and advertisers a very Merry Christmas

THE NIGHT BEFORE CHRISTMAS

'Twas the night before Christmas, when all through the house
 Not a Creature was stirring, not even a mouse;
 The stockings were hung by the chimney with care,
 In hopes that St. Nicholas soon would be there;
 The children were nestled all snug in their beds,
 While visions of sugar-plums danced through their heads;
 And mamma in her kerchief, and I in my cap,
 Had just settled our brains for a long winter's nap,—
 When out on the lawn there arose such a clatter,
 I sprang from my bed to see what was the matter.
 Away to the window I flew like a flash,
 Tore open the shutter and threw up the sash.
 The moon, on the breast of the new-fallen snow,
 Gave a lustre of midday to objects below;
 When what to my wondering eyes should appear,
 But a miniature sleigh and eight tiny reindeer,
 With a little old driver, so lively and quick
 I knew in a moment it must be St. Nick.
 More rapid than eagles his coursers they came,
 And he whistled and shouted and called them by name:
 "Now, Dasher! now, Dancer! now, Prancer and Vixen!
 On, Comet! on, Cupid! on, Donder and Blitzen—
 To the top of the porch, to the top of the wall!
 Now, dash away, dash away, dash away all!"
 As dry leaves that before the wild hurricane fly,
 When they meet with an obstacle, mount to the sky,
 So, up to the house-top the coursers they flew,
 With a sleigh full of toys, and St. Nicholas too.
 And then in a twinkling I heard on the roof
 The prancing and pawing of each little hoof.
 As I drew in my head and was turning around,
 Down the chimney St. Nicholas came with a bound.
 He was dressed all in fur from his head to his foot,
 And his clothes were all tarnished with ashes and soot;
 A bundle of toys he had flung on his back,
 And he looked like a peddler just opening his pack.
 His eyes how they twinkled! his dimples how merry—
 His cheeks were like roses, his nose like a cherry;
 His droll little mouth was drawn up like a bow,
 And the beard on his chin was as white as the snow.
 The stump of a pipe he held tight in his teeth,
 And the smoke it encircled his head like a wreath.
 He had a broad face, and a little round belly
 That shook, when he laughed, like a bowl full of jelly.
 He was a chubby and plump, a right jolly old elf—
 And I laughed when I saw him, in spite of myself.
 A wink of his eye and a twist of his head
 Soon gave me to know I had nothing to dread.
 He spoke not a word, but went straight to his work,
 And filled all the stockings; then turned with a jerk,
 And laying his finger aside of his nose,
 And giving a nod, up the chimney he rose.
 He sprang to his sleigh, to his team gave a whistle,
 And away they all flew like the down of a thistle;
 But I heard him exclaim, ere he drove out of sight:
 "Merry Christmas to all, and to all a good-night!"

JOLLY SANTA

Children gather in large numbers around the throne of Santa Claus in the department store every year. Boys and girls anxiously await their turn to tell Santa Claus their Christmas lists. Santa Claus is a familiar figure every December, but have you ever wondered how he originated?

In 1600 the Archbishop of Myra,
 Saint Nicholas, in Asia Minor dropped purses of gold down the chimney of a very poor man so the man could supply his daughter with dowries. From that day on, Dutch boys and girls celebrated his feast day December 6.
 Saint Nicholas was given the name Sinter Klaas. Sinter Klaas rode across Europe each December for centuries. The pockets of Sinter Klaas were stuffed with apples, nuts, and trinkets for good children. Saint Nicholas carried birch rods to whip the bad children.

Dutch settlers brought Sinter
 Klaas to America early in the 17 century. Soon the Norwegian and Belgian settlers began to celebrate Sinter Klaas day. English boys and girls wanted to receive gifts, too. Sinter Klaas was changed to Santa Claus, and the day was changed from December 6 to the birthday of Christ, December 25.

ORIGINS OF CHRISTMAS TRADITION

To illustrate Clement Clark Moore's poem, "A visit to St. Nicholas," Thomas Nash, located Santa's home at the North Pole and gave him a sleigh drawn by reindeer. He drew the familiar fat, merry old fellow with red cheeks and white beard, dressed in red, wearing a cap and boots, carrying a pack of toys and smoking a short pipe. Santa was given a spy-glass to locate the good children and a book in which to enter their names.

Trees were first decorated by hanging apples and fruit on them. It was declared that all of the trees in the forest blossomed and bore fruit the night of our Lord's Nativity. The lights on the tree were a gift from Martin Luther, who one Christmas Eve saw the stars peering through the branches of the forest pines. Wanting to share the beauty, he brought home a lighted tree.

St. Francis of Assisi is accredited as having been the popular-izer of carol singing at Christmas time. He taught the faithful simple and tuneful melodies, and overjoyed by the success attending his presentation of the first Christmas Crib in 1223, he burst into joyous vocal recitation of the gospel story. One early bishop of the Church of England spoke of the "angels" song on the morning of the nativity.

At one o'clock on Christmas morning, whenever they were free to do so, the cattle would turn their heads eastward, get down on their knees to worship the King that was born in a stable. During the Christmas season, the barnyard cocks were accustomed to crow with more than usual force. Special food was provided for birds and animals.

The practice of placing burning candles in the windows on Christmas Eve is a continuation of an Irish custom, bound up with the thought of the Christ Child out alone in the cold and dark and requiring to be lighted on His way. The blazing Yule log, radiating warmth, was also emblematic of Christ as the light of the world.

The stockings the children of today hang by the fireplace were once the wooden shoes of the children of Amsterdam. With the passing of wooden shoes, the children hopefully began to hang their stockings by the fireplace instead. The apples and nuts placed in the stockings are symbolic of love and fertility.

Holly, considered sacred by the Druids, who believed that its evergreen leaves attested to the fact that it was never deserted by the sun. Legends relate that the crown of thorns was plaited from the holly. Before the Crucifixion, the berries were white, but turned crimson like drops of blood. Whoever brings the Christmas holly into the house first, either husband or wife, is the one who will rule the ensuing year.

DR. W. RACHE GIVES BOOKS TO SCHOOL

Newspapers of the Milwaukee area have recently reported that a Stout Institute graduate, Dr. William F. Rasche, director of the Milwaukee School of Adult and Vocational Education, would give money each month for purchase of books for that school's technical library.

Dr. Rasche said that his gift is designed to recognize the services of the vocational school board, the faculty, and the staff. He indicated that he wanted the school librarian and the faculty to select the books.

In announcing his contribution, Dr. Rasche pointed out that he had been director of the school for 25 years and that a portrait of himself has been presented recently to the school by the faculty and staff of the school.

The director called presentation of the portrait "symbolic of the total effort of all who contributed to the progress of our institution" and said that he wanted to recognize the services of others in the book presentation.

This is the second gift of books that Dr. Rasche has given to public institutions in Milwaukee. In 1943, he and Mrs. Rasche gave the public library $1,000 and in 1944, $1,500, to establish a book collection in memory of their son, William Jr., who was reported missing in action with the merchant marines in 1943.

REMINDER! NO CUTS ALLOWED JANUARY 5

A reminder that Christmas vacation started today, and that also meant that there should have been no cut days today or after vacation. School will resume January 5.

SKI JUMP AT WAKANDA MAY BE REPAIRED

Lately there has been some talk around Menomonie of repairing the ski jump, and of constructing a toboggan slide at Wakanda park.

The park board of Menomonie has the money to spend for such repair and construction work, but seem a little shy about putting the money to use.

Perhaps they fear that the slides would not be used enough to warrant going to the trouble to repair and fix them up for use.

The ski slide would need very minor repairs because the local ski clubs prepare the slope and jump of the slide. Most of the work would involve making and extending the toboggan slide. The park board has seen that this was done in the past.

In the past when both slides were in use, many skiing and toboggan parties, as well as many individual groups, made excellent use of the slides. Why not again?

Let's talk it up and show our interest in a very worthwhile and enjoyable project.

PLAY, HARVEY, NEXT LYCEUM JANUARY 9

The next lyceum program will be held at The Stout auditorium on Friday, January 9, at 8:00 p.m. The University of Minnesota players will present the play "Harvey." "Harvey" is the famous 6 feet 1½ inches tall rabbit who has been amusing audiences since he first appeared on the stage in 1944.

The university players have been a regular feature of The Stout Institute lyceum programs for the past few years. Last year they presented "Papa Is All", an entertaining comedy that was received with enthusiastic approval.

A new food unit is being installed in Room 301, Harvey Hall, to accommodate two more girls. It will be ready for the second semester foods classes to use. This new unit was needed, as the sections would be too full otherwise during the second semester.

APO WILL BE SELLING WOODWORKING PLANS

Would you like complete directions for making a typing table? Or a bench? Or a chair? The Alpha Phi Omega will be selling blueprints for woodworking projects in the corridor of Harvey Hall January 7 and 8. That is the Wednesday and Thursday of the week following Christmas vacation.

Each blueprint has complete instructions in three dimensions of some article suitable for a woodworking project. There is also a picture of the completed project with each set of blueprints.

The APO will be happy to have all interested students visit their table in the corridor of Harvey Hall, where a member of the organization will show them sample displays and help them to select a set.

EPT HONORS DEAN BOWMAN AT PARTY

The Epsilon Pi Tau held its annual Christmas party at the Methodist church Monday evening. A group of over eighty people, composed of members and their wives or lady friends, attended the party which was to be Mr. Bowman's last meeting with the group.

After being served a fine meal of turkey with all the trimmings, including well-seasoned coffee, they were treated to a skit portraying a day in Dean Bowman's office. Mr. Paul Wegman, playing the part of Dean Bowman, dictated a letter to his secretary amidst several interruptions, one of which was a lengthy telephone call in which Mr. Bowman would at intervals say "yes" or "um hum". It turned out that it was his wife who was calling.

President John Wilson then presented Dean Bowman with a gift from the group expressing their sincere best wishes and the hope that he would from time to time think of the Theta chapter of Epsilon Pi Tau. The gift consisted of a leather case for his well-known "little black book", and a bath robe to aid in his plans for retirement.

One of the highlights of the evening occurred when Mrs. Bowman was called upon to say a few words. She expressed her desire for a little black book so that she might tell a joke, whereupon she received many little black books from all directions.

Throughout the dinner Christmas music was played, which along with the decorations and Christmas tree, added to the Christmas atmosphere.

ALL BOOKS ARE DUE ON JANUARY 5, 1953

Books that are drawn for use over Christmas vacation are due the day college is in session again, which is January 5, 1953. This practice is the same as in the past.

JUNIOR GIRL IS NAMED COVER GIRL OF MONTH

Dr. Alice J. Kirk, Dean of The Stout Institute Division of Home Economics, has been informed by the publishers of the national magazine, "What's New in Home Economics", that Mary Alice Detlor, a junior in home economics at Stout, has been named "cover girl and home economics student of the month" for the December issue of that publication.

In addition to the full-cover photo of Mary Alice, the magazine has devoted to her life accomplishments its entire "Home Economics Careers in the Making," edited by Inez Searles Willson.

The article highlights the fact that Miss Detlor from Plainfield, Wisconsin, was encouraged to enter home economics by her mother, herself a graduate in that field. According to Mary Alice's version of her choice of a career:

"I give much credit to my mother. She didn't always tell me to run out and play. But instead she encouraged me to discover the right way of home-making."

According to the article, Miss Detlor plans to enter home economics extension work following her graduation from Stout. Then, with her college degree in home economics, Miss Detlor feels she will be thoroughly equipped to serve the persons to whom she is attracted by her own rural background:

"I want an opportunity to serve the people in whom I have a deep interest and a great faith—the people in rural areas. Reared on a farm, I know their need for help and encouragement in making their daily lives easier."

Miss Detlor's 4-H Club achievements have been many. In 1951, she was selected Outstanding 4-H Achievement Girl in Wisconsin, chosen among 45,000 members in the state. A year earlier, she was Outstanding Home Economics Girl in Wisconsin, winning a trip to the National 4-H Congress.

From her 40 4-H Club projects in home economics and agriculture, she has collected over $1,500 from awards and sale of dairy and beef cattle. Mary Alice has used these funds to finance her college education at The Stout Institute.

DR. RINEHART WILL GO TO CONVENTION

Dr. Keith Rinehart, instructor of English, will leave on December 24, for Boston, Massachusetts, where he will attend a three day convention of the Modern Language Association.

BROKEN STONE BENCH HAS BEEN REPLACED

When the stone bench outside of the union was broken last year, everyone wondered how the damage could be mended. Now, for the benefit of those who have not already noticed it, the bench has been repaired. This was not done, however, without cost.

Now that the bench has been fixed, let's see to it that this doesn't happen again.

Student teachers, John Debrauske and Don Leach, point out carpentry details on a model garage constructed by the architectural drafting students of Menomonie high school.

GARAGE BUILT TO SHOW THE CORRECT WAY

Coordinating structural and mechanical details of carpentry with architectural design, students of the architectural drafting department of Menomonie high school recently completed construction of a scale model garage under the direction of their Stout Institute cadet instructors, Donald Leach, Menomonie, and John Debrauske, Sheboygan.

Students in the architectural drafting class are William Geisert, Gary Quilling, Gareth Nelson, Milton Martinson, and Neil Larson.

The model gives the complete details of garage construction. In order to gain adequate knowledge for the project, the students were first required to draft a complete set of plans including conventions, foundations, footing, elevations, cornices, and roof details. This set of plans will be included with the project when it is displayed at the high school.

The students started at ground level and worked up. On top of the simulated ground they laid a cinder fill. This was then covered by a floating cement slab. Then the walls, consisting of platform construction, were raised individually. The walls included doors and windows whose construction gave the students an opportunity to design and work with headers, trimmers, and cripple studs, along with regular studs and plates included in wall construction.

Students were then required to cut rafters to exact scale length, complete with a heel cut. The roof was then assembled and fitted. Finishing of the project was done by the students in their general finishing class, under the direction of their regular instructors, together with Stuart Smith, student instructor of general finishing.

The garage design and construction project was introduced into the course of study because instructors Don Leach and John Debrauske, as senior students at The Stout Institute, realized that students could not gain proficiency in architectural drafting without an adequate knowledge of the problems involved in carpentry. These cadet instructors obtained the approval of Mr. Dwight Chinnock, Stout Institute's director of student instructors. They then consulted Dr. J. E. Ray, head of the drafting department of the college, and Mr. K. T. Olsen of the carpentry department, for advice on latest building methods in garage construction.

The project will go on display at Menomonie high school next week.

AUDIO-VISUAL CENTER REVISES ITS FILM GUIDE

The Audio-Visual Center of the Stout Institute has announced that the third revision of its film guide INDUSTRIAL EDUCATION FILMS AND FILMSTRIPS is now ready. This attractive 88 page booklet lists 124 separate film sources of films, and catalogs each film and filmstrip under various areas of industrial education. Each film and filmstrip is annotated, and where the information is available, a rating is given for the film based upon its use in Stout classes.

The catalog was originally started in 1947 by committees of students working in the Audio-Visual Education course who wanted to have a film source guide in industrial education when they left school to teach. This work was taken up by a group of graduate students who decided to enlarge and improve the format of the publication. They searched dozens of separate catalogs and brochures in gathering the additional information. A card file was started, with a card for each film, which makes it possible to revise and keep future editions of the catalog up to date more easily.

The project was directed from the start by Mr. David P. Barnard, Assistant Professor of Audio-Visual Education, who on the latest revision, enlisted the aid of Mr. Raymond Cornwell, Instructor of Industrial Education, who helped materially in directing the project. Special acknowledgment is made to three men who have since graduated from Stout and are now teaching: Mr. Robert Morely, now with the Port Huron, Michigan Public Schools; Mr. Edwin Binstock, now with Army Air Force at Chanute Field, Rantoul, Illinois; and Mr. William Fehrenbach, now teaching in the Milwaukee Public Schools. The complete revision of the catalog took about a year and one half.

Charles Houge, an elementary printing student, designed and printed the three color cover. Miss Janice Olson, typist, cut and ran all of the stencils for the project, and Miss Jackie Frisbie spent many hours collating the book.

The film guide is distributed free of charge to men students taking the Audio-Visual Education course, and is available for one dollar to other students on the campus. A price of two dollars per copy has been set for books that are mailed to persons requesting them. All inquiries should be addressed to Mr. David P. Barnard. A HOME ECONOMICS FILMS catalog is also available which was first published in 1949.

DEAN BOWMAN HONORED AT A DINNER

As the semester brings a finishing point for the students, so it does for Dean Bowman as he completes a thirty-three year era in his life. Faculty members as well as friends throughout the state and nation will be celebrating with him at a farewell dinner held in his honor on January 10, at 6:30. The dinner will be held in the church parlors of Our Saviour's Lutheran Church.

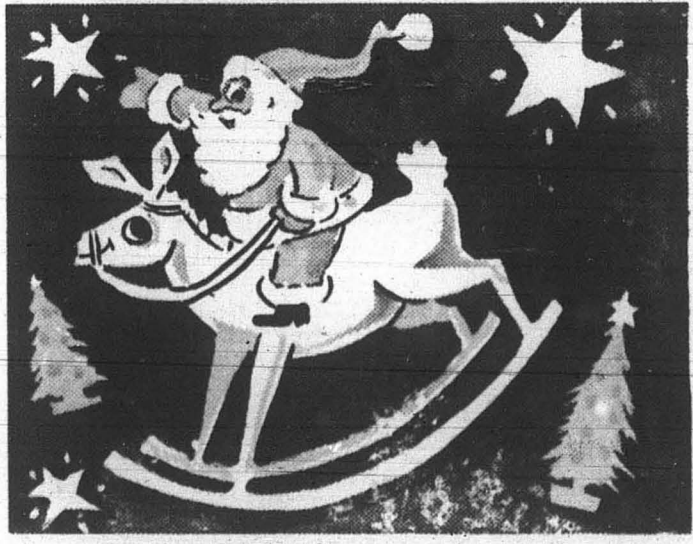

Coming from the University of Minnesota is Associate Professor Wm. J. Micheels, who will be Master of Ceremonies for the evening. The evening's program will be centered around the guest speaker's address. Wm. F. Rasche of the Milwaukee School of Adult and Vocational Education will be the speaker of the evening.

We wish you a Merry Christmas full of Joy . . . Peace . . . and Happiness. . . . and for the coming New Year we hope that you receive the blessings of health and prosperity

WHITE FRONT CAFE

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK
We know that there are great minds and small minds. We measure the great minds by their ability to read and interpret facts and figures. Small minds do not realize the significance of a scientific approach to life. Great minds like Einstein's can grasp the mysteries of the universe, write them down, and interpret their effect on mankind.
But what of the small minds? Many of us cannot conceive these things. We're the type who believe in Santa Claus. Oh, none of us are so naive as to say that every Christmas Eve a man in a red suit and long white beard comes down the chimney—but we're speaking of the symbolic Santa Claus—the one that believes in giving rewards for small favors—the one that believes in the basic good of mankind—the one that is ready to turn a crying child into a smiling one.
Great minds tell us that there is no such thing as a straight line—but can they tell us why we feel good inside when mother smiles a thank you after you unexpectedly fixed supper? Great minds tell us that energy equals mass times the speed of light squared—but can great minds tell us why daddy doesn't spank Johnny because he's heard rumors that John broke his best hammer? Great minds tell us that everything is related, and without this relativity nothing can succeed—but can great minds tell us why a mother's kiss stops a cut from hurting?
Undoubtedly, great minds have a definite place in our modern society—but let's not forget about Santa Claus. He must be as real to us as life itself—or facts and figures will soon overpower and overburden us until we soon will forget the simple art of faith.

THREE GO TO A.P.O. NATIONAL CONVENTION
Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, is sending three of its members as delegates to the National Convention to be held in Columbus, Ohio, December 28, 29, and 30.
This convention, which is the supreme authority of the fraternity, is composed of two delegates from each chapter and the members of the national executive board. Each chapter represented has the power to cast two votes on every legislative question and each member of the national executive board present will have the power to cast one vote.
All members of Alpha Phi Omega are invited to attend this convention and shall be extended all rights and benefits of the meeting, except that only the official delegates shall have the privilege of voting and of speaking from the floor during a legislative session.
Recording Secretary Charles Weber and Chairman of the Advisory Committee, Dean Price, have been given the power to vote on all fraternity questions as representatives of the Eta Kappa chapter of The Stout Institute. Corresponding Secretary August Bell will act as an alternate delegate for the chapter.
The three delegates are scheduled to leave for Columbus on December 26, and anticipate enjoying a valuable experience in exchanging ideas and enjoying the fellowship of their fraternity brothers, besides carrying out official fraternity business.
The doctor left the patient's bedroom and joined the anxious husband. "I don't like the way your wife looks," he announced.
"Well, doctor," said the husband, "to be perfectly honest with you, I don't care much for her looks either, but she sure takes good care of me and the kids."

wishing you holiday happiness

STOUTONIA STAFF DEPARTS TO MINNEAPOLIS

Pictured above are the sleepy eyed members of The Stoutonia staff as they appeared at eight o'clock last Saturday morning for their departure to Minneapolis.

STOUT MEMBERS SEE FRED FISHER RITES
Dean Price and four students represented Stout at the military funeral of Fred A. Fisher which was held at Werness funeral home in Minneapolis Wednesday, December 17.
Fred, a June graduate of 1952, died at the U.S. Naval Hospital in Yokosuka, Japan, on November 6, as a result of injuries.
The funeral was held in the morning followed by a procession to the national cemetery at Fort Snelling where Fred was interred. The body was accompanied by a Naval Guard.
The students who attended the funeral were Richard Duthler, president of SSA, John Wilson, president of EPT, Carol Ann Hammersten, president of Ski club, and Lewis Laustad, president of the Stout Symphonic Singers.

PHI UPSILON OMICRON CAROLED DEC. 14
Christmas caroling highlighted the evening on Monday, December 14, when the Tau Chapter of the Phi Upsilon Omicron National Home Economics fraternity met.
The girls caroled at the hospital, the homes of Dr. and Mrs. Iverson, Dean Antrim, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson, Miss McCalmont, Mr. and Mrs. Bettlerley, Dean Kirk, and the three dormitories. The last stop was Tainter Hall where the girls had chili, crackers, and milk.

STOUTONIA STAFF GOES TO CITIES SATURDAY
Minneapolis was the destination of the Stoutonia staff, when the members went on a field trip on Saturday, December 13. They toured the Minneapolis Star and Tribune building and the WCCO radio station.
Two chartered buses left Harvey Hall at 8:00 a.m. on Saturday. The first stop was made at the Minneapolis Star and Tribune building. Before the tour of the plant, a movie was shown on how a newspaper is printed.
During the guided tour the group observed many interesting features of the newspaper plant. The members were shown all the steps which are followed in printing a newspaper. They were impressed by the vastness of this organization. A unique feature of this particular plant is that two separate papers are printed in the same building. Each newspaper has its own staff, but they both use the same equipment and other facilities.
Following the visit to the newspaper, a stop was made at the WCCO radio station. Here the group saw the various studios that are part of the organization. The teletype in the news room was particularly interesting.
To fill out the day's schedule, the Stoutonia staff members went Christmas shopping. After a few hours of pushing through the surging crowd of Christmas shoppers, the students boarded the buses for the trip back to Menomonie.

and worlds of good cheer and happiness in abundance . . . that's the Christmas wish we make to every one of you.

CRESCENT CREAMERY CO.

Dr. Thomas Fleming, assistant professor at The Stout Institute, indicates to Raden Roseman, center, and Kahar Mosjhur, two educational officials from the republic of Indonesia, the organization of the stout curriculum. The two Indonesians recently visited the college to study American methods in vocational education to apply to teacher training techniques in their own nation. Roesman is inspector of technical education in Indonesia, while Mosjhur is inspector of the educational division for Sumatra.

HYPERIAN CHRISTMAS PARTY HELD THURSDAY

The members of the Hyperian sorority enjoyed their annual Christmas party Thursday evening, December 11. The party was held at Miss Carrison's apartment, the Hyperian advisor.

Singing of Christmas carols and exchanging of gifts was enjoyed in the atmosphere of a cheerful fire in the fireplace. A holiday lunch of Christmas cookies and eggnogs was served by Phyllis Schlottfeldt and Lois Fegstad.

GIRLS FROM TAITER ANNEX HOLD PARTY

Fun, food, and singing were enjoyed by all of the girls in the dormitories at the Christmas party held at Taiter Annex, last night.

Taiter Annex girls put on a skit entitled "Tyas The Night Before Vacation". Following the entertainment the group sang Christmas carols.

The girls on the various committees were: Pat Casberg and Lois Ann Walschlaeger, co-chairmen of the decorations, Nancy Renquist, Viola Wicken, Helen Harry, and Liz Keeber; refreshments, Roberta Haskins, and Mary Kay with Carol Blaney and Sally Radey co-chairmen; and program, Carol Schilstra, and Joan Mountford with Nancy Brackett and Lillian Smith co-chairmen.

FAREWELL PARTY HELD FOR HARTER PETERSON

Saturday, December 6, Pat Pagel engineered a surprise farewell party for a former Stout student, Harter Peterson of Superior, who is going into the service. The group met a surprised Harter at the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. James Zeasman in the evening.

Refreshments consisting of two kinds of cake and soda were served. As a going away present, Harter was presented with a camera from those present.

Those enjoying the fun were James and Rosemary Zeasman, George and Jean Van Buren, Virginia Jacobson and Dufur Peters, Phyllis Lumby and Warren Tiede, Pat Pagel, Gay Boyer and Bill Buckley.

Harter was inducted into the service on Tuesday, December 9.

W.A.A. MEMBERS GO CHRISTMAS CAROLING

Thirty members enjoyed an invigorating Monday evening by hiking around Menomonie, spreading Christmas cheer with their carols. At the end of their caroling, they enjoyed chile and crackers.

Gather kisses while you may For time brings naught but sorrow, The girls who are so cold today Are chaperones tomorrow.

DELTA KAPPA PARTY WAS HELD LAST WEEK

Last Thursday night, the Delta Kappas held their annual Christmas party. Gary Grainger donated some venison for the event and the Colonial Pines prepared the remainder of the meal. Clarence Lamers, chaplain, dedicated the party to the seniors that will be graduating in January. After the venison meal, the Delta Kappas opened their gifts, which in most cases were quite humorous. After a business meeting, in which the members discussed sending representatives to a national meeting of Delta Kappa at Terre Haute, Indiana, the group joined in singing Christmas carols.

John Rynders, a transfer student, is now a member of Delta Kappa. Previously, he had been a member of the chapter at Milwaukee State.

SKIING AT DEEPWOOD IS WELL UNDER WAY

Skiers took their last trip to Deepwood before the holidays for a week-end of skiing. The few inches of remaining snow did not discourage enthusiasm although it did limit the skiing possibilities.

Another pair of broken skis joined the trophies on the chalet wall. Here, splintered poles and boards with bits of poetry tell the tale of terrific tumbles. Corky Collette made the latest contribution.

Credit should be given to the hard working ski patrol. Four Stout students keep a watchful eye on beginner and expert alike, and in time of trouble, are there with quick and reliable aid. Many a hurt skier has felt considerably better at the sight of the bright flags of the ski patrol. In addition they keep trails clear and things running smoothly.

The newest addition to the team is Carolann Hammersten, the first girl to qualify for the patrol. She possesses the necessary skiing skill to be a valuable member of the group. Carl Berthlein, Corky Collette and Herb Pringle are the others who wear the emblem of ski patrol.

L.S.A. ASSISTS WITH CHRISTMAS CONCERT

The L.S.A. has done it again! On the afternoon and evening of Sunday, December 14, the L.S.A. assisted in the presenting of a Christmas drama at Our Saviour's Lutheran Church. Stout students besides those belonging to the L.S.A. also helped in this delightful program.

These people all posed as some traditional Biblical Christmas character. The scenes of the pantomime all took place in the stable where Christ was born. The choir of Our Saviour's Lutheran Church provided the traditional religious hymns. The narrator of the scenes was Reverend Boe.

The scenery used in the program was very realistic. Hay was spread around the manger and in the inn. The manger and the inn were made of wood. The costumes were as realistic as the scenery. David Peake did a very excellent job with the lighting effect.

After the evening program everyone enjoyed refreshments of cake and coffee in the church basement. All those who took part in any way deserve much thanks.

APO HOLDS REGULAR BUSINESS MEETING

APO held its regular meeting in Bowman Hall December 9, at 6:30 p.m. Information from the national headquarters was read to the members for disposition. Also discussed was expenses to be allowed the delegates to the national convention held the later part of December. A report on the first aid campaign was given by August Bell and a report on the coming blue-print sale was given by Charles Weber.

Information from the national headquarters pertained to the application for membership in APO by two southern colleges. Members of APO on the Stout campus voted to have the two schools accepted into the fraternity.

August Bell gave the first aid report and it was found that some of the shops at Stout either had no adequate supply or that they didn't have the first aid cabinet and found how many cabinets would be needed. After the total was ascertained, a requisition could be made out for the necessary number.

It was also decided that a list of possible accidents that could happen in each shop be taken down and this list taken to the nurses office. The nurse would make recommendations for first aid material for each shop with the information. Some shops would need band aids while others would be supplied with more first aid material.

Dean Price called the members attention to a series of films on current affairs put out by the March of Time. The dean suggested that the organization could do a service to the school by sponsoring these films at a later date. The organization decided to look into this matter and asked Dean Price to secure more information on this subject for further study.

A combined organization letter to Bob Adkins, former president of the organization concluded the meeting. Bob recently entered the services of his country and members thought it would be an appreciated gesture if they sent him a reply with all members doing their bit in writing the letter.

PHI SIG CHRISTMAS PARTY WAS WEDNESDAY

A Christmas party sponsored by the Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity was held Wednesday evening, December 17, in the club room above the Union.

The Phi Sigs invited all members of several sororities to the party which featured singing of Christmas songs at the Memorial hospital, Dunn County hospital and other institutions near Menomonie. The singing was followed by coffee and donuts in the clubroom. Each sorority member present was given a gift in memory of the occasion.

GRADUATE MEN'S CLUB HOLDS DINNER MEETING

Wednesday evening, December 10, marked the second dinner meeting of the Graduate Men's Club. Held in the Stout Institute Cafeteria, the members were fortunate to schedule a meeting at a date when holiday turkey was featured.

Dr. Rudiger, the guest speaker, spoke on the highlights of the recent AVA meeting in Boston, which he attended as a representative of the Stout Institute. Aspects of educational value were stressed.

It should be urged that seniors attend these meetings, as the high caliber of speakers makes them worth the time they involve. Further, the social contacts are of aid to the graduating student.

May happiness and good health be yours at Christmastime.

MRS. JACK MILNES IS NAMED COOK OF WEEK

Former Home Economics Teacher Shares Recipe And Is Avid Homemaker

The following article was taken from the Elizabethon Star, Elizabethon, Tennessee.

Mrs. H. Jack Milnes of 927 De Jarrette street, was chosen as our cook of the week on recommendation of some of her very good friends.

The sample of Butterscotch Cream Puffs she served the Star reporter and photographer certainly proved she had not been overrated as an outstanding cook.

Mrs. Milnes is a charming person and was very gracious about sharing her recipes with our readers. She is a former home economics teacher and, of course, an authority on good food.

Her husband works with the TVA Personnel Department and they are looking forward to the time when they will furnish their own home.

Both are active in the work of Memorial Presbyterian church. They share many interesting hobbies—Mrs. Milnes was justifiable proud of a 9x12 braided rug which she says will be used in their dining room "some day" and she was working on another one. This clever woman has also covered dining chairs with exquisite needlepoint and was doing some handwork for Christmas gifts.

Mr. Milnes' hobbies are leather craft and wood work. We saw some beautiful examples of his leather carving and pine shelves which he had made.

In addition to doing an excellent job of homemaking, Mrs. Milnes also finds time to take an active part in the Elizabethon Women's Club. She has a large collection of African violets and said they both enjoyed gardening and reading.

Here is Mrs. Milnes recipe for BUTTERSCOTCH CREAM PUFFS which she says are not difficult to make and the recipe yields 20 cream puffs.

1/2 cup butter
1 cup boiling water
1 cup flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
4 eggs

Add butter to water, heat until butter melts. Add flour and salt. Cook, stirring vigorously until mixture leaves side of pan. Remove from fire, cool one minute. Add eggs, one at a time, beating after each addition. Drop by heaping tablespoonful two inches apart on buttered baking sheet. Bake in hot oven (450 degrees) 10 minutes, reduce heat to 400 degrees for 25 minutes. Cool, split and fill.

FILLING:

1 cup sugar
1/2 cup flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
3 cups milk, scalded
3 eggs
1 1/2 tsp. vanilla
1 cup cream, whipped
Combine dry ingredients in top of double boiler. Add hot milk gradually, stirring constantly. Cook until thick, stirring constantly. Add slightly beaten eggs. Cook 3 minutes. Cool. Add vanilla and cream. Top with sauce.

BUTTERSCOTCH SAUCE:

1 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup rich milk
2 tablespoons white corn syrup
3 tablespoons butter
Combine all ingredients. Stir until boiling. Simmer for three minutes.

Mrs. Milnes gives the following recipe for ASPARAGUS EN CASSEROLE, a favorite vegetable dish:

2 cup (no. 2 1/2 can) asparagus
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 cut pimento
1 cup milk
3 beaten eggs
1 cup grated cheese.
1 1/2 cup rolled cracker crumbs
butter
Mix all ingredients except butter. Pour into baking dish. Melt butter and pour over top. Bake 20-30 minutes in 300 degrees.

A favorite to make at Christmas time: (yield from this recipe is about 48 one by two inch bars.)

PECAN SLICES:

1 cup flour (sift before measuring).
Combine flour with 1/2 cup butter until it is blended to a smooth paste. Spread this mixture in a 9x12 pan. Bake it in a moderate oven (350) for 12 minutes.

Spread the cake with the following mixture:

Combine 2 beaten eggs.
1 1/2 cups brown sugar
1/2 cup coconut
1 cup chopped pecans
2 tablespoons flour
1/2 tsp. baking powder
1/2 tsp. salt
1 tsp. vanilla
Bake the cake in 350 degrees oven for 25 minutes. When it is cool, spread it with:

1 1/2 cups confectioners sugar thinned to a good consistency with lemon juice.

Everyone's favorite is good refrigerator rolls. Here is Mrs. Milnes' recipe:

REFRIGERATOR ROLLS

Pour 1 cup boiling water over 1/2 cup shortening, 1/4 cup sugar and 1 teaspoon salt. Dissolve 1 yeast cake in 1/4 cup lukewarm water and 1 tablespoon sugar. Mix together with first ingredients and add 1 beaten egg. Add 4 cups flour, beat until smooth. Put in closed container in refrigerator 2 hours. Let dough rise 2 hours, shape into rolls, let rise until double size, bake in 375 degree oven. If desired, this dough may be shaped into rolls immediately after removing it from refrigerator.

PLEASE HELP KEEP OUR FILE UP-TO-DATE

We are anticipating a gigantic task of keeping an up-to-date file of addresses of the alumni who are entering service. For this reason, we are asking that everyone participate in the job of keeping our alumni secretary, Robert Rudiger, informed of the people who enter service and whose addresses will change.

We pleadingly ask those who plan to enter service to inform us immediately of their change of address so that we may list their name on our Armed Service Honor Roll. Paid-up members will not receive the Stoutonia unless their change of address is made known to the secretary's office. Furthermore, we would like to remind all of our alumni to submit the names and addresses of grads who they think have not done so.

The Alumni Association will endeavor to keep an up-to-date record of all persons who enter service from Stout Institute. This official record may be referred to by a number of persons and groups on our campus during the present crisis and in years to come. It doubtfully will serve purposes in the future which are not known at the present time.

EMANUEL ERICSON IS AWARDED CITATION

Emanuel E. Ericson, '19, was the recipient of the Ship's Citation award and a gold watch during the 1952 American Vocational Association Convention held in Boston, Massachusetts. Mr. Ericson is a Professor of Education at Santa Barbara State College, Santa Barbara, California. He is the author of six books and more than 150 articles. During the past summer session, Professor Ericson was on the staff at the Stout Institute.

The Ship's Citation is given in recognition of outstanding service in education. It reads:

"In recognition of your loyal Military Service and your inspiring leadership in Education, we of the SHIP salute you. Your untiring efforts for the advancement of teacher training your willingness and effectiveness in serving and leading your community, your state, and your nation in Civic and educational enterprise. These and your rich contributions as lecturer, teacher, writer, and consultant will serve as an inspiration to those who follow."

This is the same award that Dean Bowman received last year. The Stout Institute is very proud of both of you.

The coming of the Christmas holiday brought an added project for the Hyperion sorority of stuffing toys for the children of the Northern Colony at Chippewa Falls, Wisconsin.

Each of the thirty members of the sorority was responsible for making two toys, which were gift wrapped and mailed to the children. This is an annual project for the sorority.

The projects initiate from a pattern, are cut out, sewed together, and then stuffed with cotton. It takes from one to three hours to make each toy depending on the pattern used. The many projects vary from cross eyed cats to hunch backed elephants.

Let us not forget the real meaning of Christmas

It is a season of prayer for the whole world... for peace on earth and good will toward all men.

A.S.A. INITIATED THIRTEEN MEMBERS

Thirteen new members were initiated into Beta Chapter of Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority on Sunday afternoon. The initiation took place in the Harvey Memorial.

In the evening a formal dinner was held at the Hotel Marion. The new members were welcomed by President Betty Worthington and ASA advisor, Miss Thvedt. Guest at the dinner was Mrs. Leland Larson Bartz, B.S. '51.

Following the dinner, the group went Christmas caroling at Eichelberger Hall, Tainter Annex, Tainter Hall and Lynwood Hall.

The new members are Zoe Miller, Hazel Nelson, Darlene Neas, Jolene Chryst, Verna Dunn, Dorothy Brownell, Mary Ann Timmerman, Gloria Voigt, Ruth Sipple, Mary Gehler, Arlys Hamann, Nancy Gunderson and JoAnn Brehm.

CHRISTMAS SERVICE IS HELD AT WESLEY

A Christmas worship was held at Wesley, Sunday evening at 5:30 o'clock.

Vivian Barnhardt and her committee presented the service. The Christmas scripture was read and carols were sung. The highlight was the reading of the story "Why The Chimes Rang" accompanied by projected pictures on the screen. At the exact moment in the story that the chimes rang, the group heard "Silent Night" being pealed out by the bells. The service ended in prayer.

David Peake gave a report on the calendar sales. There are only a few left and the sale of 250 calendars will be completed this week.

Jan Benedict's committee served the supper.

The next meeting will be January 11, at which Dr. Agnew will speak on a current topic of interest.

PHI SIGS GIVE ASSISTANCE TO WORTHY FAMILY

A city-wide paper drive, sponsored by the Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity, made possible financial assistance to a family who recently had their home and belongings destroyed by fire and smoke.

The fraternity had previously decided to assist some needy individual or organization with half the profit from the paper drive. The drive proved a sound venture, and on the suggestion of Sig Warda, this family was chosen.

A GUAM CHRISTMAS

by Maria Quichocho

Like any Christian country on earth, Guam celebrates Christmas in a gay and joyous manner. Christmas was always a joyous occasion since the Spaniards were ruling the country.

Various kinds of preparation are involved just as the Christmas season is approaching. People are not only busy making or buying articles to give, but they are also busy preparing the things they are to wear and eat.

The week before Christmas, most of the men devote their time in hunting deer and birds. There are also men who go fishing especially for this occasion.

In addition to the above activities, there is also that hustle of decorating. In every home, a manger scene is built. Aside from this, Christmas trees are cut down from the mountain slopes and are adorned with modern Christmas decorations such as bubble lights.

As a tradition, the largest high school on the island presents a Christmas pageant at the Spanish plaza in the capital city. This pageant is a big and colorful scene held at night. The background is copied from the scene in Bethlehem. Practically all the islanders come to witness this Christmas pageant because the students taking part in it come from all parts of the island.

The night before Christmas, candles are lighted at the windows of every home. The doors are wide open for Santa Claus to get in because there are no chimneys in the houses.

Santa Claus is believed to arrive from the North Pole by helicopter and then change his mode of transportation because of the tropical climate; there is no snow for a sleigh. He travels to the different homes by a cart pulled by water buffalos. He is not expected to visit all the homes on Christmas night; he may come back on January 6, Three Kings Day. For the Spanish people on the island, this is another Christmas Day.

The night before Christmas, the islanders, dressed in gay and colorful costumes, go caroling after which they attend midnight religious services. They then return to their homes to feast on the Spanish rice, lobster, shrimp, venison steaks and other prepared food. The celebration continues with music and dancing and the exchanging of presents. People go to the hospitals, homes of the poor, and the prison to sing Christmas carols and distribute presents.

Wasn't it Barney Barauch who said that adults are only little boys and girls almost grown up?

Figures may not lie, but liars figure... Or, putting it another way, figures don't lie, but girdles condense the truth.

May your house be blessed with health happiness, and prosperity.

BLUEDEVILS DROP TWO NON-CONFERENCE TILTS

The Stout Bluedevils ran into a red hot shooting Carleton quintet and succumbed by a lopsided 89-49 score. The fast breaking and all around ball handling of the Carls, along with an excellent defense, completely befuddled the Bluedevil cagers. Hitting on 49% of their shots, the Carls took an early lead and were never headed. The quarter score, which favored the Carls 24-6, was only an indication of what was to come. Loaded with big, fast men, Carleton is sure to have one of the finest teams in Minnesota this year.

Coach Ray Johnson opened with the same men that started the St. John's affair the night before, when he employed John Widmar and Tom Stilp at the guards, Bob Moe at center, and Bill Kieffer and Don Steele at the forwards. The Stout offense encountered much trouble when they attempted to pass through the rugged Carleton defense, and many times throughout the game passes were intercepted and turned into fast break baskets.

Bill Kieffer led the scoring for the Bluedevils with 14 points on six baskets and two free throws. No other Stout player broke into double figures. For the victorious Carleton, Dick Richardson, a tall forward, bagged seven baskets and two free throws for 16, while teammate Rosenblum, an ideal playmaker and ball handler, netted 12.

ST. MARY'S-84 STOUT-64

The St. Mary's game at least started out a bit better for the Bluedevils. The game had gotten under way when Denny Hawkes, starting the game in place of injured Tom Stilp, hit one from the side. Baskets by Moe, Steele, and Widmar gave Stout a short lived lead, but when Pat Costello and Bill Skemp began to hit, the game soon turned into a one-sided affair. The quarter ended with St. Mary's in possession of a 19-15 lead after which they piled up twenty-five more points in the second stanza to take a commanding 44-28 lead at the intermission.

The Bluedevils began to tighten noticeably in the second period. Lack of both offensive and defensive rebounds plus a leaky defense added to the Bluedevil worries. During the second half, St. Mary's sent in many of their second and third string performers, as Costello was taken out after scoring 19 points. The brightest spot

FOB TEAM IS IN FIRST PLACE IN INTRAMURALS

As the intramural basketball season moves to the halfway point, the FOB's, Phi Sigma's, and the Delta Kappa's are setting the pace. With victories over the Frosh, Carbonizers, and Phi Sigma's, the FOB's are firmly entrenched in first place. Tuesday nights victory over the Phi Sigma's was played as a preliminary to the Stout-St. Cloud tussle. Thursday night the Delta Kappa's and the Frosh tangled prior to the Stout-Superior game. In all probability, intramural teams will play preliminaries to most of the remaining varsity games.

STOUT 83-81 VICTOR IN CONFERENCE OPENER

Balanced Scoring Proves
Too much for Bugolds;
Moe bags 23 for Winners.

Trailing by 12 points at the half, the Stout Blue Devils came on with a terrific 30 point onslaught in the third quarter and eventually eked out a 83-81 decision over the Eau Claire Bugolds.

The Blue Devils played very mediocre basketball throughout the first half, but they came to life shortly after the intermission. Center Bob Moe, who led the Stout scoring with 23 points, was ably assisted by forwards Denny Hawkes and Don Steele, and guards John Widmar and Bill Kieffer. Kieffer, who was elected captain by his teammates, played his best all-around game of the season and sunk 6 baskets and 8 free throws for 20 points. Don Steele virtually controlled both backboards and added 19 points to the scoring parade. The Crosby, Minnesota, junior, John Widmar, made a vast improvement over his showing against Winona, Tuesday and produced two baskets and seven charity tosses for eleven points. The unsung hero of the Blue Devil victory was Denny Hawkes, sophomore from Madison, who scored only six points but came through as a floorman and defensive rebounder when the Blue Devils needed him most.

Eau Claire, who stormed to an early 26-13 lead at the end of the first quarter and a 46-34 lead at halftime, had terrific scoring from Hank Slettner during the first half. Slettner poured in 18 points during this time, but could add only four more to his 22 point total in the second half. Stan Du Frane, veteran Bugold senior, sunk 17 and Dick Greene, 16, for Eau Claire.

With the Bruedevils leading by a 79-78 score, Stout attempted to stall out the remaining two minutes and 53 seconds. A little more than two minutes remained when Kieffer was fouled by Du Frane. An intentional foul, Kieffer made both tosses for an 81-78 margin. Shortly thereafter, Bob Moe eluded his defensive man and scored what eventually proved to be the clincher. But the Bugolds never gave up. A free throw cut the lead to 83-81 before Greene, rebounding brilliantly for Eau Claire, tipped one in and the Stout lead was cut to two points.

With less than one second remaining, Hawkes fouled Greene for his fifth personal, and Greene, who had made eight consecutive foul shots, stepped to the line for the first of two throws. His first effort fell short hitting the front rim and bouncing off to the left. Coach Bill Zorn then called time out and substituted every one of his tall men hoping for a possible missed free throw, and a tip in. The free throw went up, an Eau Claire man tipped it, but to no avail, and the Blue Devils had earned a hard fought and well deserved triumph.

INTRAMURAL BOWLING STARTED MONDAY

Intramural bowling started Monday, December 15, announced Coach Jack Wink. With seven teams signed up for the winter season, the round robin schedule promises to furnish the members of the respective teams with plenty of pin action.

Games have been scheduled for play on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday evenings with four games on tap for each night. The games, to be bowled at the student union, will start at 6:45 and 8:30 p.m.

Coach Wink also relates that a singles and doubles tournament may be held at the end of the season.

Teams which are entered and their respective captains are as follows:

- Graduate Men's Club, Captain—Bill Jokkel
- Hurley Tornado's, Captain—Bill Labine
- Fair Oaks, Captain—Glenn Schwoch
- The Sharp Shooters, Captain—Walt Hovey
- Sigma Tau Gamma, Captain—Ed Steineke
- Ten Pin Kings, Captain—Darrel Ebert
- Lucky Lyns, Captain—Tom Sommers

WAA BASKETBALL HAS BEGUN ITS '52 SEASON

The 1952 WAA basketball tournament is under the direction of Nyla Bock. The games are played every Monday and Tuesday evenings and the schedule is posted on the bulletin board in the physical education building.

The captains of the teams are Jean Baker, Diane Klemme, Joan Stegman, Jean Sommervold, Rosemary Haas, Carol Schilstra, Catherine Kaege, Aletha Zimmerman, and Ruth Winter.

These basketball games can and will be fun as long as the participants abide by the rules of the game plus the following: 1) each team must consist of six players; 2) if a team does not show up within 10 minutes it will be a forfeit for that team; 3) substitutes must be WAA members; and 4) tennis shoes must be worn at all times.

Remember—watch the bulletin board for time and day of the games.

in the Stout picture during the third period was the rebounding of Don Steele. Don acquired four of his six baskets during this time as he pummeled both boards. Another bright spot in an otherwise dull picture was the shooting of freshman Bob Seaman, who appeared tight in the first couple of games, finally broke loose and demonstrated his brilliant shooting ability by canning five buckets, all of them from well out on the floor.

High scorer for the St. Mary's five was Costello with 19 points. His jump shooting, while not as deadly as last year when he played here, was nevertheless effective enough to score 15 baskets.

HUSKIES HAND STOUT 79-56 SHELLACKING

Minnesota Five Completely
Dominates Play; Don Steele
Scores 16 to pace Losers.

A peppy home crowd of enthusiastic Stout supporters watched the Blue Devils, who trailed from the opening minutes of play, handed their fifth defeat of the season 79-56 by St. Cloud's Huskies Tuesday night at the high school gym.

St. Cloud's fast breaking offensive plays, together with a strong defense where the height of such players as Stepan and Buege proved to be a real asset, helped tip the scales in favor of the Huskies. This was the fifth straight victory for St. Cloud, strong favorites in the Minnesota conference.

A large percentage of the Blue Devils' shots failed to connect and consequently some nice Blue Devil teamwork went unrewarded.

Coach Johnson sent in his starting line-up with Moe and Hawkes at forwards, Widmar and Kieffer at guards, and Steele at center.

The Huskies opened with Haas and Stepan at forwards, Wold and Schneider at guards, and Buege at the center spot.

Behind by a comparatively small margin of about 16 points at the end of the first quarter and at the half, a disappointed home crowd saw the visitors attempt and almost succeed in doubling the score in the third quarter, which ended with St. Cloud leading 63-39.

The good defensive rebound play typical of Stout's game against Eau Claire was shown by the Blue Devils in the first quarter. However, 61 out of 81 Stout field goal shots missed their mark as did 19 out of 35 free throws. Similarly, two tricky fast-breaking plays by Schneider showed the Huskies' power in the early part of the first quarter. St. Cloud's good defensive guarding was also evident from the start. After five minutes and 41 seconds of play Stout went behind 2-6. A nice set-shot by Widmar closed the gap 4-6. The first quarter ended with the Blue Devils' lacking 10 points of their opponents' 8-18.

Spirited rebound plays by the Stout five opened the second quarter. Steele was high scorer for Stout in this quarter, sinking four baskets in close succession. Hawkes was close behind, scoring three times with his typical long shots. Excellent defensive play by Wold, St. Cloud guard, helped to keep Stout's scoring from climbing higher as the first half ended 25-38 in the Huskies' favor.

Pulling ahead by 39-63 during the third quarter the Huskies clinched their victory. St. Cloud's high scoring center Don Buege, displayed his skill in this quarter by adding seven points to the visitors' total. Special thrills afforded Stout fans in this quarter were set shots by Stout's Hawkes and Kieffer and by St. Cloud's Schneider.

With six minutes and 36 seconds remaining in the fourth and last quarter, St. Cloud's coach sent in an entire new line-up. This final quarter was sparked by fast breaking plays by substitutes Hanson and Hill of St. Cloud, and colorful drive-in and set shots by Stout's Steele.

Steele, the high scorer for Stout dumped in 16 points, Kieffer was close behind with 15 tallies.

Buege, one of the highest scorers in the Minnesota conference, was not the threat the Blue Devils had anticipated. The greatest point-getter in Tuesday's contest was the St. Cloud right-guard, Schneider, who had a total of 20 points, to take the lead scoring for both teams. Buege, however scored 15 points.

HOLIDAYS ARE BUSY

Christmas holidays are kept in every land but countries have different ways of keeping these holidays.

An English Christmas is the American Christmas, with exchanging of presents an outstanding feature. Singing of Christmas carols on the highways as well as in the churches throughout the land is customary.

December 26th, the day after Christmas, is known as Boxing day and is observed on a scale that is almost equal to that of Christmas day. Originally, Boxing day was the time for the village priest to open the poor box and distribute the money to the poor people. Newsboys, mail carriers, and other public officials asked for Christmas gifts on Boxing day, as they made their rounds from house to house. This custom is mutually understood. The famous ritual of the feast of bringing in of the boar's head is not done any more except at Queen's college and at some of the leading hotels in London and nearby points. At Queen's a boar's head is always bedecked with bay leaves and rosemary and placed on a banquet board as a prelude to the Christmas dinner.

Christmas in France is limited to a distribution of gifts among the children and to boisterous Christmas eve celebrations in the larger cities where the midnight supper takes the place of the usual dinner next day.

Religious ceremonies are held in the various churches as they are in other nations, but the French celebrate the New Year's day more extensively.

Russia has a pre-Christmas fast beginning the 15th of December and ending on the 24th. At sunset, when the first star appears in the sky, the villagers sit down to their evening meal consisting chiefly of fish, topped with a dessert called "contia." There are several kinds of "contia," it may be boiled rice with jam, or boiled wheat with honey, or a large but thin, dry and sweet cracker. This is broken into small pieces and covered with poppy seed.

At night the Russians sing Christmas carols and trim the Christmas tree, decorated similarly to what is done in America. There is a slight similarity between Santa Claus and Grandfather Frost, but no one believes he makes any toys. The children know that the toys come from their parents. On Christmas, families hold happy reunions with parties for the children.

Switzerland is Christmas land with everything glistening in pure white snow, the air perfumed by the stately pine trees, and sleigh bells singing merry melodies as the horses travel briskly over the mountain roads. Old St. Nicholas has been succeeded in many parts of Switzerland by the Christ Child, an angelic figure who travels over the land every Christmas eve in a beautiful sleigh drawn by six reindeer. The sleigh is heavily laden with Christmas trees, fruit, cookies, and toys for the children. The family gathers about the Christmas tree and sing carols while the younger children enjoy their new toys.

Mexico has a custom that has nine continuous days of what is called "posados" which are nine parties, one on each night preceding Christmas. People usually dance at these parties and are given a small present by the host; it may be porcelain with candy inside, or simply small candy packages wrapped in crepe paper.

The use of the "pinata" is a pretty custom peculiar to Mexico. This is a clay bowl elaborately decorated with tissue paper of different colors and taking the shape of a bird, animal, airplane, or the national native Mexican type—of simply something to give it an outside colorful appearance. The bowl is filled with fresh fruit of the season, also peanuts and candy. The "pinata" is hung in the middle of the patio and usually children, but adults, sometimes too, try to break the clay bowl with a stick releasing the fruit. The one who tries to break the "pinata" is blindfolded and he is given several chances, after which another guest takes his place.

Mexicans have their Christmas dinner on Christmas eve and not on Christmas day, usually after ten o'clock at night.

THE CHRISTMAS

TREE LIGHT

by Carol Schilstra

Somewhere in Korea, three GI's were standing around a little tree. No, it wasn't an evergreen—rather, a little bush they had pulled out from under the deep snow.

"But we gotta have lights."

"Look, you dope, NO LIGHTS. Do you want the Commies to give you a grenade for a Christmas present?"

"But we gotta have lights—"

"Yer right—please let us put a light on—"

"Yeah, please, just one on top."

"Lookie, Willie, I said no lights!!!"

"Aw right."

"Hey fellas, its snowing again."

"So what? It snowed last night and the night before, too."

"O.K. Don't get sore. I only mentioned it."

"I'm putting a light on the tree anyhow."

"NO."

"Yes, I've got a candle I saved from my birthday last month. But I won't light it. Just put it on top."

"O.K. But remember—no light!!!"

"Hey, it's snowing again."

"Look, fella, they'll never make it back. They left for gook territory two days ago. What makes you think they will get back again?"

"Yeah, and it just keeps snowing."

Three figures with heavy boots and parkas crept forward, chilled by the bitter cold.

"Hey—look over there!"

"It's a light! What's going on?"

"Shh—hh—h—maybe it's some more gooks."

Slowly they inched their way along, afraid of what might happen.

"Gee, that light's brighter—wonder where it's coming from."

"Quiet!!!!"

"Hey, it's our own outfit! That light's on top of Willie's tree!!!"

"WILLIE!!!!"

"QUIET!!!!"

"WILLIE"

"SHUT UP YOU DOPE!!!!!"

"Hey—who lit that candle?"

"I didn't, honest!"

"I told you NO LIGHTS!"

"I told you NO LIGHTS! Now put it out! Understand?"

"O.K. But I didn't do it!"

"PUT IT OUT!!!"

"Hey, sarge! I can't blow it out!"

"Well dump water on it!"

"Water?"

"Out of the canteen, you dumb-head!"

"Gimmie my canteen.-----Hey, it still won't go out!!!!!"

Just at this moment the three snow laden figures stepped into sight.

"Willie—I knew it was the light on your Christmas tree!!!"

"Fellas!! You made it back!"

"Gee, you did it!!!"

"Are we glad to see you!"

Later in the chaplain's headquarters Willie had this story to tell:

"Honest, that candle wasn't lit. Look at the wick—it's still white! But the three fellas were guided by it—and we saw it too! I don't know what it was—maybe God's way of saying, 'Merry Christmas'."

THE NIGHT AFTER CHRISTMAS

'Twas the night after Christmas—and boy, what a house! I felt like the devil! And so did the spouse.

The eggnog and candy and turkey were swell

But ten hours later they sure gave me H—!

The stockings weren't hung by the chimney with care.—

The darned things were sprawled on the back of a chair

The children were nestled all snug in their bed,

But I had a large cake of ice on my head

And when at long last I dozed off in a nap

The ice woke me up as it fell in my lap.

Then for some unknown reason, I wanted a drink,

And so, started feeling my way to the sink.

And I got along fine till I stepped on the cat.

But I just don't recall what occurred after that.

When I came to, the house was all flooded with light,

Though under the table, I was high as a kite.

While visions of sugar plums danced in my head

I somehow got up and got back into bed.

Then what, to my wandering mind should appear,

But a miniature sleigh and eight tiny reindeer.

Then the sleigh seemed to change to a red fire truck

And each reindeer changed to a bleary-eyed buck;

I knew in a moment it must be old Nick

I tried to cry out but my tongue was too thick.

Then the old devil whistled and shouted with glee

While each buck pawed the earth and looked daggers at me.

Then he called them by name and the names made me shudder

When I heard them I felt like a ship without a rudder.

"Now Eggnog! Bacardi! Four Roses! and Brandy!

Now fruit Cake! Cold Turkey! Gin-Rickey and Candy!

To the top of his dome, to the base of his skull,

Now whack away, crack away, with thumps that are dull!"

And then in a twinkling I felt on my roof

The prancing and pawing of each cloven hoof.

How long this went on I'm sure I can't say,

Though it seemed an eternity, plus a long day.

But finally, the Night After Christmas had passed

And I found I could really think straight at last.

So I thought of the New Year a few days away

And I've made my vows that no tempter can sway.

I'm sticking to water—don't even want ice,

For there's nothing so tasty, there's nothing so nice.

The night after New Year may bother some guys

But I've learned my lesson—yes, brother, I'm wise.

You can have your rich victuals and liquor that's red,

But what goes to my stomach, won't go to my head.

So a big "Happy New Year" to you and to all,

I'm back on the wagon, and I hope I don't fall!

To all our

Customs Differ With Countries

Many Christmas legends and customs which are centuries old are being used in different countries today. Each country uses different ways of interpreting the customs and legends.

Switzerland has developed the custom of parading from house to house and singing carols in a picturesque way. Costumes are remarkable. Young men and women wear head dresses representing houses, ships, and mountains. Huge sleigh bells tinkle from waists and shoulders of the young people. The Swiss carolers also have a peculiar dance used only on Christmas eve. In Switzerland, as in other European countries, the gifts are brought to good children, not by Santa Claus, but by the Christ Child who comes from the North Pole in a fairy sleigh. Christmas time for many of the natives of Switzerland signifies a period full of sacred mystery and the anniversary of days particularly specified in ancient legends. To find out how the weather will be during the next year, on Christmas eve, cut an onion in half, pull off 12 layers, one for each month. Fill the onion with salt. Those peelings which contain damp salt the next morning predict rainy weather for the respective month. The unmarried youth or girl visits nine different fountains and takes three sips from each, while church bells are calling the faithful to midnight mass. After completing this curious rite, the future mate will be standing at the church door, and a regular courtship is begun—if the spell works. After church services, the holiday spirit prevails with feasting, dancing, sleighing, and skiing.

Many Russians belong to the Orthodox church who cling to the old calendar and celebrate the birth of Christ on January 6. The Christmas feast traditionally begins with a bowl of "kutya", which is a combination of wheat, honey, ground poppy seed, and pecans. Mushroom soup, fruit, and nuts are also served. A small layer of hay is spread under the table cloth to show humility for the birth of Christ in a stable. In the old days before the revolution, Christmas ceremonies included the blessing of the river Neva. The river is always frozen over at this season and a little altar was erected on the ice, adorned with pictures of Saints. A hole was cut in the ice, and a beautiful and solemn ceremony, a cross would be thrown into the water, and priests would bless the river.

English Christmas pudding began long ago when an English king went hunting the day before Christmas, and became lost in a blizzard which blocked paths in the forest. The king and his party were compelled to remain all night in the wilds. One of the party happened to be the cook, so he prepared the Christmas meal from what he had on hand. The cook decided to throw everything he had into the pot, and hope for the best. Chopped meat from a stag killed the day before, flour, apples, dried plums, eggs, ale, meat, brandy, and sugar were used. The sticky mass was then placed in a bag and boiled until it was a pudding. The true English pudding of today has all these ingredients.

Mexican Christmas eve is a pretty combination of the religious and the festive observance. A dance is held in every village until midnight. At the stroke of twelve, musicians play mystical sacred melody. Everyone converges in front of the "nacimiento," or crib representation. The oldest woman present picks up the image of the Christ Child and marches slowly to the church, followed by all the villagers. Midnight Mass is then held. When Mass is over, the dancing and revelry, complete with fireworks, recommences and lasts until dawn.

STORE THOSE RAZORS AND RAISE A BEARD

Put away those razors, men! You won't be needing them for the rest of this month. That's right—fuzz is fashionable! The beard growing contest officially starts today, and will continue for the three weeks remaining before the Winter Carnival, Jan. 31. Prizes will be awarded for the longest, the best groomed, and the most unique. All men students are urged to participate. However it will be possible to obtain anti-beard growing tags at the SSA office if requested. Faculty men are invited to participate also. Another feature of the Carnival is to be an ice and snow sculpturing contest on campus. All organizations are urged to exhibit an entry. Other activities of the day will be ice skating at the rink, skating relays, the game in the evening with Carroll College and the Snow Brawl Dance following the game, sponsored by the the Pallas Athene sorority.

RONALD JOHNSON

PRODUCTION HEAD IS NAMED BY STOUTONIA

Ronald Johnson has been named the new production manager for The Stoutonia. He replaces Jerry Schemansky, who left for the army on December 5. Taking over his new duties at this time was quite a challenge to Ronnie, for the special Christmas issue required many hours of extra work. But the glamorous ten page edition was evidence that the new production manager is well qualified for his position. A junior, Ronnie is from Woodville, Wisconsin. He is a member of the FOB fraternity and the Stout Typographical Society. Ronnie is the estimator for the STS, so he determines the cost of all jobs. He is the person to see about having any printing done.

Working on school publication is of particular interest to Ronnie. He has done work on the Tower as well as on the paper. All this practical experience will be valuable as Ronnie intends to be a printer.

Doing the stereotyping, making up and printing the paper are all responsibilities of the production manager. Therefore, every Thursday night will find Ronnie operating the press in the print shop.

PROCLAMATION !!

Hear ye! Hear ye! Let it be known to all men attending The Stout Institute that today, January 9, is the official opening of a beard-growing contest which will last until January 31, the day of the Winter Carnival. On that day, prizes will be awarded.

Next week, January 11 through the 17th, National Printing Education Week will be observed throughout the country. This event, the twenty-fifth annual observance, is sponsored by the International Graphic Arts Education Association and is backed by newspapers, printing and publishing houses, school print shops, and technical training schools of higher learning which specialize in the graphic arts.

The three-fold purpose, as set up by the Graphic Arts Education Association, is: (1) to commemorate Benjamin Franklin's 247th birthday anniversary, January 17, (2) to bring more forcibly to the youth of America and the nation's schools, the democratic principles and wisdom of Benjamin Franklin, and (3) to call attention to the importance of the Printing Industry.

The Stout Typographical Society, an organization composed of men who have chosen graphic arts as their major field, is staging an "Open House" to do their part in making this program a success. They have scheduled the "Open House" for Tuesday, January 14, between the hours of 1 and 4 p.m. in the print shop.

Tours will be conducted during the afternoon hours and members of the S.T.S. will act as guides in acquainting students and faculty members with the Stout print shop. The members of the S.T.S. have been working diligently during the past several weeks in preparation for this annual event and hope that all students and faculty members will take advantage of this opportunity to see the print shop during "Open House".

Personalized booklets, blotters, and also the linotype casting which will be used to print the individualized names, will be distributed to each entering guest. Coffee and doughnuts will also be served in the shop.

"HARVEY" WILL BE GIVEN IN AUDITORIUM TONIGHT

RECOGNITION OF DEAN BOWMAN JANUARY 10

The recognition dinner in honor of Dean Bowman will be held at 6:30 p.m. on January 10, at Our Savior's Lutheran church. Students, townspeople, and interested persons from the state and nation are expected to bring the attendance to over 200.

The evening program will be opened by a few words from President Fryklund, who will in turn introduce the master of ceremonies, Dr. William J. Micheels, professor of Industrial Education at the University of Minnesota. The main speaker will be Mr. Rasche, director of the Milwaukee School of Vocational and Adult Education. One of the high lights in the program will be the appearance of the Menimonia's, a local barbershop quartet. President B.C. Nelson, Dean Alice Kirk, Ira Slocumb, John Jarvis, and Richard Duthler will speak a few words.

The turkey dinner will be prepared by the ladies of the Lutheran Church.

GIMBEL ART EXHIBIT IS ON DISPLAY HERE

The 1951 Gimbel "Wisconsin Airscapes and Landscapes" art collection will be on display in Room 207 and in the second floor corridor of the home economics building of The Stout Institute from Wednesday, January 7, to Friday, January 10.

According to Miss Martha Ruth Amon, chairman of the related art department at the college, the collection will be exhibited from 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. All persons in the community are cordially invited to attend.

The fourth in a series of art collections planned by Gimbel's, Milwaukee, "Wisconsin Airscapes and Landscapes" has received praise in many parts of the nation. According to its sponsors, the exhibit represents the response of Wisconsin artists to the challenge of a new "airborne" viewpoint, and also is the first time in the United States that the airscape theme has been used as subject matter for an art competition.

Paintings to be exhibited at Stout include ten oils and twelve watercolors purchased for the permanent Gimbel collection. Also included are eight honorable mention winners from the 1951 Gimbel competition.

Two of the original group of 1951 paintings have already achieved eminence. "Madison from the Air," an oil by Warrington Collescott, is being displayed at the Pittsburgh International Invitational exhibit. "Winter Landscape," by Santos Zingale, is on tour with the Big Ten art exhibition.

Paintings in the traveling Gimbel collection were selected from a total of 350 entries, judged by three distinguished art authorities. Lt. Russell Hendrickson, now serving with the U. S. Marines, won first prize with his "Winter Reflections," while Lester Schwartz's "Ascension and Recession" took second. Donald Anderson was awarded third, while William Chadsey of Racine was first in the watercolor class.

Among the many outstanding state artists represented are Alfred Sessler, Dean Meaker, and Santos Zingale, of the University of Wisconsin; Tom Dietrich, of Lawrence college; and Franklin Goggs of Ripon college.

"Wisconsin Airscapes" is the fourth Gimbel art collection to visit The Stout Institute. The "Wisconsin Centennial" collection was at the college in 1950, while the "Wisconsin the Playground" exhibit was shown a year later. "Wisconsin at Work" was displayed during the 1952 Stout Institute summer session.

The 1951 collection made its first appearance at the Wisconsin State Fair. It is being shown at selected locations to encourage Wisconsin artists and to expand the audience for Wisconsin art.

University of Minnesota

Theatre will present

This Broadway Comedy

A bus-load of young actors, scenery, costumes, properties, sound and lighting equipment from the University of Minnesota Theatre will bring Mary Chase's well-known Broadway comedy, "Harvey", to Menomonie, Wisconsin, on January 9, 1953. This group is playing one night stands in communities ranging in size from 500 to over 500,000 population in the Upper Midwest. The company is covering over 7,000 miles from Wisconsin to western Montana over a period of three months.

This is the fifth consecutive year that the University Theatre has taken full-length plays on the road, establishing a record which is unequalled anywhere in the country. Among the plays presented on former tours are "Papa Is All", "Night Must Fall", "She Stoops to Conquer" and "Arms and the Man."

One of this year's two plays on tour, "Harvey" is most unusual in that an invisible six foot, one and a half inch white rabbit is the central character of the show. Though it is hard to believe, that is what happens in "Harvey". All sorts of wonderful nonsense starts when an engaging bum takes up with an oversized bunny he finds leaning against a lamppost. The result is a fantasy with enchantment, whimsy, gayety and gusto!

The company is made up of outstanding young actors, including John Astin, Lois Clark, Bill McKereghan, John Blue, Chris Ringham, Dell Brudelle, Jean McMillan, Joe Lobaito and Tad Ware.

Direction is by Kenneth L. Graham, associate director of the University Theatre, and settings are designed by J. Morton Walker, the theatre's technical director.

Tour direction is by the University of Minnesota Department of Concerts and Lectures.

This delightfully different comedy will be presented January 9, 1953, at 8:00 p.m. in the Stout Auditorium under the sponsorship of the Stout Lyceum committee.

PRINT SHOP WILL HAVE OPEN HOUSE

Open house, commemorating Printing Education Week, will be held from one to four Wednesday afternoon, January 14, in the Stout Print Shop. This annual event is sponsored by the Stout Typographical Society.

Printing Education Week, which has been nationally observed for a quarter century will be observed at The Stout Institute, January 11 through 17, highlighted by open house in the school print shop on Wednesday afternoon. America's first distinguished printer, Benjamin Franklin, will also be honored at that time.

Everyone visiting the shop during the hours of one to four on Wednesday afternoon will be provided with a tour about the shop. Those interested will become acquainted with The Stout Institute Press, as well as the production and printing of the Stoutonia, and many other functions of the school shop.

Each visitor will be given a small booklet as well as a linotype slug upon which will be set his or her name, and a blotter commemorating the occasion.

Members of the Stout Typographical Society invite all students, faculty, and guests to drop into the Print Shop, Wednesday afternoon and become acquainted with the many functions of the school shop.

FIVE SKATING RINKS IN CITY ARE OPEN

With the cold weather here to stay for a while it has been announced by the city that five skating rinks have been opened.

The five rinks are at Coddington, North side, Lakeview park, Fowler court, and St. Joseph's Catholic school.

Now is your chance to sharpen your skates and have fun at one of these rinks.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Did you see that new baby walking around? He is a frightened, lonesome and very unhappy boy.

The baby arrived in our turbulent world just a few days ago. What a joyous welcome he received! Bells were ringing, bands playing, and people were dancing and singing. Indeed, this was an exultant hour. It would make any fellow feel big and strong to hear millions of people cheering for him. He offered a big friendly smile and secretly thanked Father Time for sending him to World.

On his way in, the new babe met an old man who was bent and weary. The man stopped a moment, leaned on his cane as he looked at the babe, then commented, "I'm glad you are strong my boy. There is a terrific heap of problems for you to carry," then the old man hobbled away.

Young 1953 began to worry about this big load of problems he would have to bear. He asked the people about it when he got to World and they assured him that they would help him carry the load. Each person handed the baby a list of resolutions which he had made to help carry the load. The baby had a minute to read a few of the resolutions which had been given to him.

First he read one from a college student resolving to learn to know and understand, through correspondence, one student of another country. Young 1953 pictured the thousands of college and university students in World. He could see a German student exchanging ideas with an American, an American learning the beliefs of an Indian discussing art with a South African. Yes, the babe saw a small world growing smaller and united.

One of the resolutions came from the most powerful but most lonesome man in the U.S.S.R. He resolved to find good in at least one fellowman. "Here," thought the baby, "is a seed that could grow rapidly and lighten one load."

On another paper, 1953 read, "I resolve to do my best to guide my people and to let them guide me. Together we will try to dispel the fears of weak nations for leading nations as we try to form one world," signed, Ike.

The baby picked up a scribbled note to read before joining the celebration. It read, "I resolve to be a good girl so mother, dad, and all of my friends will love me and the world will be a wonderful place to live."

Our New Year felt assured, after reading these resolutions, that the big problems would be solved easily and he could spend his year on World tending to such minor things as lost puppies or John L. Lewis.

It was only a few days ago that 1953 arrived, but already he is getting worried. Where are his people? Their resolutions must be carried out! Don't they see what may happen if they wait? What are they waiting for? What are we waiting for?

LOUNGE

TWENTY-SEVEN WILL GRADUATE NEXT WEEK

Twenty-seven students will graduate from The Stout Institute at the end of the first semester. Seven women will have completed work for B.S. degrees in Home Economics this January, four in the field of Home Economics Education and three in the field of Dietetics. There are seventeen B.S. graduates and three M.S. graduates in the field of industrial arts education at this time.

Home Economics Education graduates are Shirley Bendixen, Sumie Doi, Miriam MacLachlan Miller, and Phyllis Spaulding Johnson.

Dietetics majors who are graduating in January are Elizabeth Kasson, Betty Kleist, and Michiko Okada.

Those who have completed work for a B.S. degree in Industrial Education are Alfred Anderson, Darrell Anderson, DeWayne Burck, John Debrauske, Curtis Gehling, George Adam Krall, Donald Leroy Leach, Robert Harley Marsh, Stanley Meyer, Darrel Radle, Stuart Smith, Albert Spanheimer, Lawrence Temple, James Tomita, William Van Valzah, John C. Wenstadt, and John Wilson, Jr.

Those who will have fulfilled requirements for a Master's degree are Raymond Luhrsens, W. C. Pace, and Ralph Smith.

GOVERNING BOARD NEWS

Resuming work after the holidays, the Governing Board launched into a long meeting Tuesday evening at 6:30.

Following the treasurer's report, there was discussion on the placement and subsequent ownership of the PA system. Charmaine Chopp made a motion that the PA system be turned over to the school providing the SSA be given free use of it.

An offer was made by Dr. Agnew to help any students who are interested in attending the U.N. conference to be held in Madison this spring. Some of the students having previously attended the conference felt there was a need for preliminary background information.

A note of appreciation was received from Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Fischer. Inasmuch as Mr. and Mrs. Fischer have proposed offering the sum of $500 for the establishment of a loan fund, the following resolution was made: The offer of Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Fischer in the amount of $500 to provide a student loan fund in memory of their son, Fred A. Fischer, was gratefully received. The Student Governing Board of The Stout Institute expresses its sincere appreciation of this generous offer.

It was decided that stationery will be printed which will display a cut of Fred at the top of the page and an explanation that this fund is a living memorial for Fred A. Fischer. Under request of the donors, no interest is to be charged for use of this fund. However, anyone wishing to add to the fund for the privilege of using it, is free to do so.

Another tentative date, the 21st of January was set for the board to go to River Falls.

The final topic for discussion was the Winter Carnival on Jan. 41. There is to be a beard growing contest with prizes going to the longest, the best groomed, and the most unique. Another feature of the carnival will be ice and snow sculpturing entries by the various organizations. During the day there will be rink activities, such as skating relays and in the evening a basketball game with Carroll College will take place, followed by the Snow Brawl dance, sponsored by the Pallas Athene sorority.

TWO FACULTY WILL BE ON RADIO PROGRAM

Dr. Ralph Iverson, director of student personnel services at Stout, and Dr. Thomas Fleming, public relations officer of the college, will represent The Stout Institute on "The Editor's Town" radio program, to be heard at 2 p.m. on Sunday, January 11, over WEAU, an Eau Claire radio station.

Purpose of the half-hour program is to describe the city of Menomonie to Northwestern Wisconsin radio listeners and to point out various advantages which the city offers. In describing Stout, Dr. Iverson will deal with curriculum offerings, job opportunities of graduates, and enrollment procedures at the college. Dr. Fleming will describe the physical plant at Stout, extra-curricular offerings, and give a brief history of the college.

Also appearing on the program will be Mayor Michelbook, the owner of the Dunn County News, of the Menomonie Chamber of Commerce, the Lions club president, and the secretary of the Dunn County Fair. A Menomonie quartet, "The Three Breezes and a Russell," will provide two selections.

NEWS OF OUR ALUMNI

ALUMNI SCHOLARSHIP WINNERS

MANY ALUMNI CAME HOME FOR CHRISTMAS

Eugene Neubauer, '38, his wife, the former Harriet Milliron, '38, and their children Gail Ann and Thomas, Chicago Heights, Illinois, spent the Christmas season in Menomonie with their parents.

Miss Rosalie Ofstie, '41, was home during the holidays. She was vacationing from her teaching duties at Glenwood, Minnesota.

William Albrecht, '50, and his wife, the former Verle Snee, '51, enjoyed the holidays in Menomonie. Mr. and Mrs. Albrecht are both teaching in Three Lakes, Wisconsin.

Parnick Hazarian, '49, and his wife, the former Ruth Schrader, '51, spent part of the Christmas holidays in Menomonie. They are living in Muscatine, Iowa.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Halvorson, '41, and children, Middleton, Wisconsin, spent Christmas in Menomonie with his friends and relatives.

Pvt. Denny Chinnock, a former Stout student now at Fort Devins, Mass., spent Christmas in Menomonie with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight D. Chinnock.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton Rotnem, '50, and son, Jeffrey, Wood River, Illinois, and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Iverson, Benton, Iowa, enjoyed Christmas in Menomonie at the home of Burton and Mrs. Iverson's mother, Mrs. Dorothea Rotnem.

Don Sargent, class of '52, who is now teaching in California spent the holidays with his parents here in Menomonie.

Dennis Foltman, editor of The Stoutonia in 1950-1951 and graduate of the class of '52, paid a short visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sargent, talking over old times with Don.

Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn Stai spent the Christmas season in Menomonie with Vaughn's parents. Both Vaughn and his wife, the former Ruth Christensen, graduated in 1951.

Wally Metling, a former Stout student, spent Christmas in Menomonie with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Metling.

ROBERT MACKIN SENDS HIS "LI'L BEAVER"

Another Stout Institute graduate, Robert Mackin (B.S. '51) has sent back to the campus a sample of the work in which he has been engaged following graduation.

Now advisor of the "Li'l Beaver" newspaper of John H. Patterson Cooperative high school of Dayton, Ohio, Mr. Mackin sent a copy of the Christmas issue to Dr. Fleming, under whom Bob took his journalistic training.

Printed in two colors on "slick" stock, Mr. Mackin's Christmas issue contains eight pages. It features an attractive cover design in color, poetry, sports, general news columns, and a special Christmas message. The publication also has a large number of photographs, drawings, and other art work.

While at Stout, Mr. Mackin was business manager for The Stoutonia and also publicity representative for the athletic department.

ALUMNI REPORT THEIR CHANGES IN POSITIONS

Homer C. Rose, '31, is assistant head and senior training specialist of the Standards and Curriculum Branch in the Training Division of the U.S. Navy. His home is in Washington, D.C.

E.M. Claude, '25, is Chief of Trade and Industrial Education for the state of Illinois at the present time.

Wayne Hughes, '34, is director of Safety Education in the School and College Division of the National Safety Council.

John Fortin, '38, former director of the area trade school at Gadsden, Alabama, is now City Supervisor of Industrial Arts at Rockford, Illinois.

W.E. Lobeck, '27, is now Director of Vocational and Adult Education at Norfolk, Virginia.

GRADUATE GETS ENSIGNS' COMMISSION

Among the 777 enlisted men receiving ensigns' commissions here today at the Navy's only Officer Candidate School was Maurice D. Schneck of Menomine Wisconsin, who received his B.S. degree in Industrial Education in 1951 from The Stout Institute.

Rear Admiral C. E. Olsen, USN, Commander of the Newport Naval Base, presented diplomas before an audience estimated at 1100.

Former graduates of this school are already serving aboard every conceivable type of naval craft from ice breakers and mine sweepers to destroyers and submarines. And they are serving too, as jet pilots, beach masters, "frog men", and demolition experts. There are even OCS graduates in Korean fox holes, acting as gunnery liaison officers for the Marines.

In four rigorous months, members of this class—the eighth and largest since the school opened in June, 1951—covered the same naval subjects that college NROTC students do in four years. Foremost in their training was the study of gunnery, navigation, seamanship, engineering, damage control and operations.

College degrees are required of all officer candidates. In addition, they must be between the ages of 19 and 27 and must pass rigid physical examinations. The only exception to the age restriction is for members of the school's so-called "short course." This, a two month indoctrination program for candidates for Supply and Civil Engineer commissions, admits students up to 32.

MANY ALUMNI WERE HOME FOR CHRISTMAS

Donald MacGregor, B.S. 1940, visited the campus Friday afternoon before Christmas. Because he had not been back for several years he was interested in the changes and many improvements.

During the war Don was in charge of Government printing at Jacksonville, Florida. After the war he was a veteran's training officer in the Green Bay area until 1949. Since then, he has been publishing The Park Falls Herald in his home town, Park Falls.

PHI U WORK MEETING HELD MONDAY NIGHT

Combined business and work meeting was on the agenda for the January 5 meeting of the Tau chapter of the Phi Upsilon Omicron.

At the work meeting, the members divided into various groups to work on special projects. Included in these projects are a nursery school book, the starting of an alumni chapter, news for the Candle, the fraternity's national magazine, and Founders Day observance.

THE TOWER STAFF HAS NOT BEEN IDLE LATELY

"I want the copy on those first forty pages in by the last of January." This statement, accompanied by a meek nod of the head and a big gulp, was heard at the last Tower meeting.

Perhaps you can see that the Tower staff has been far from idle these days. Over one hundred prints have already gone to the engraver's, questionnaires for the Tower have been sent out and a great many have been turned in along with the required information. Some stories have been assigned, and as soon as all of the questionnaires are in, the typists will start working on the senior section identification.

Yes, there's more work behind the making of your Tower than meets the eye. So, if one of the Tower staff asks you for some information, co-operate and give him all the help you can.

STOUT CHAPTER OF ASA FEATURED IN MAGAZINE

A recent issue of the Phoenix, official Alpha Sigma Alpha magazine, featured Beta Phi chapter of The Stout Institute. The story, which was accompanied by pictures, told of the installation of Beta Phi chapter here on the campus last April 26. A picture of the Tower, together with a short history of The Stout Institute was on the cover.

Virgil C. Moe, a resident of Menomonie, has been made a captain in the U.S. Air Force, with his station at Tyndall Air Force base in Florida. Captain Moe was a student at Stout Institute in 1946.

"Should I take Junior to the zoo tomorrow?" asked Jim Duncan. "If the zoo wants him, let 'em come and get him," replied Mrs. Duncan.

L.S.A. WILL MEET FOR A "GRAB LUNCH" SUPPER

L.S.A. will meet Sunday evening, January 11, at 5:30 in the church parlor of Our Saviour's Lutheran Church. Events for the evening are to be a "Grab Lunch" supper; short meeting "Looking Ahead"; recreation "Scrap Book Album"; and a special worship service. There will be no L.S.A. meeting during the week of examinations.

Every organization needs an operation schedule so a short business meeting will be held. "Looking Ahead" will be the main topic and the meeting will be held largely for the purpose of deciding committee meetings and such.

Recreation will offer everyone an opportunity to get a glimpse at his or her family tree only as a special investigator can do so while working under the utmost pressure. Come and find out your chances for marrying a thirty-second cousin.

The worship part of the meeting will be presented in a special service as directed by an L.S.A. member who has a talent for such programs.

L.S.A. is student organized and enforced; since one of the necessary pitfalls of education is exams, L.S.A. will observe the dark week. No L.S.A. meeting on Sunday evening, January 18. Best of luck students with the exams; "see you all" Sunday evening and throughout the new year.

APO SENDS THREE TO NATIONAL CONVENTION

Alpha Phi Omega's National Convention held at Columbus, Ohio, December 28 thru 30, was attended by Dean Price, Charles Weber, and August Bell. The three men represented the Eta Kappa chapter, on the Stout Campus, as delegates.

The three day convention kept the three representatives busy attending caucuses, discussion meetings and general assemblies. The three delegates will report their findings at the next meeting of the chapter.

Purpose of the convention was to promote fellowship among all chapters in the United States and vote on amendments to the National Constitution.

Sunday evening, December 28, Dean Price gave the main address of the general session. The title of his speech was; "Why I Believe in Alpha Phi Omega." Before addressing the delegates Dean Price was formally introduced by Charles Weber, a student at Stout. Dean Price gave an inspiring talk and related incidents from his life to illustrate main points of his speech.

Outstanding speakers from all parts of the United States were in attendance and delivered appropriate talks to the delegates. Much of the time spent at the convention was devoted to discussion groups and general assemblies. The various groups assembled in different rooms at the Deshler-Wallick hotel and discussed various problems confronting various chapters and offering possible solutions to these problems. From these discussion groups, delegates assembled in the general sessions assembly for disposition of these problems.

Dean Price and Charles Weber attended the convention as voting delegates from the local chapter while August Bell attended as a non-voting delegate.

Interesting bits of information disclosed at the convention were; 521 delegates from 140 chapters in the United States were in attendance. Wisconsin was the only state present, at the convention, with full representation from all chapters in the state. Also disclosed was the number of active chapters in the fraternity at the present time which numbers 262. Total membership to date is in excess of 37,000 since the founding of the fraternity.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

Kuss or Walker?

After watching Derrick Walker's brilliant performance here just prior to the Christmas vacation, a question no doubt arises in the minds of many spectators, coaches, and players. Which is the finer all around ballplayer—Roger Kuss of River Falls or Walker of Superior?

Kuss, the long lean center of the Falcon quintet, has not yet appeared on the Bluedevil scene this year, but his past performances stamp him as one of the league's truly great all-time stars. He led the conference race in scoring for two years and is well on his way to annexing his third crown in this department. At 6' 5" he is tremendously agile and quick reacting and has mastered just about every shot in or around the free throw area. It is hard to say which shot is Roger's best. On any given night Kuss will use the jump shot, a right or left hand pivot, a right and left hand hook, and many assorted types of layups. He is also a better than average set shot and uses the one hand push to good advantage. Kuss can not afford to play much defense since his fouling out would all but kill the Falcons' chances. Even then, however, Rog is not the poorest defensive center in the conference. He is an excellent rebounder, both offensively and defensively. On offensive rebounding, he generally goes into a spread-eagle type of maneuver that makes it virtually impossible to block his follow-up shot without fouling. The Falcon attack is so built around Kuss that many times during the season he must score in excess of 35 points for them to win. But even though Kuss shoots a large percentage of the time, he will not attempt a bad shot and is a good feeder off of the pivot.

Fred Walker, on the other hand, is the deceptive type player that doesn't impress you until he has several baskets or has made a few terrific bounce passes to teammates for scores. He actually appears to be loafing out on the floor. But don't let Fred's lazy appearance fool you, for it must be added that his cuts and drives for the basket usually result in points for the Yellowjackets. He is endowed with a terrific change of pace that forces his opponents to relax at the wrong time. Fred is a master of the bounce pass and feeds his teammates beautifully. Smooth, effortless, and casual are some of the words that are used by rival coaches when discussing Walker's abilities. Slightly built at 6' 2" and 165 pounds, Walker fits perfectly into the Yellowjackets attack. Superior plays a cutting and fast break game with the center frequently pulling out to the side. This opens up the defense for Walker, Don Polglase, and Len Bartolutti to drive through. Fred is also the middle man on the Superior fast break and his impossible but perfect passes have surprised many a defensive guard.

You may tire of reading words like "terrific" and "tremendous" in connection with Walker and Kuss, but you can be certain that it's true. Only those superlatives describe these two boys who are in their final year in the conference.

So which would you choose? We'd take them both and with them the league championship.

CLYDE A. BOWMAN RETIRING DEAN HONORED AT RECOGNITION BANQUET

Students and faculty of The Stout Institute, co-workers in the field of state vocational education and citizens of Menomonie said "so-long" to Clyde A. Bowman, dean of industrial education at Stout, at a recognition banquet held Saturday night at Our Savior's Lutheran church. Dean Bowman retired at the end of the last semester after 33 years of service to The Stout Institute. Mrs. Bowman and the two Bowman daughters also received a major share of recognition.

Unlike most farewell banquets, this was not a solemn affair, as each speaker took his turn at kidding Dean Bowman and injecting a touch of humor into the occasion. Habits and doings that Dean Bowman is famous for brought frequent laughs as speakers told of Bowman's two books filled with stories. One is red and the other is black—and the black book is supposed to contain that type of story. Bowman was also chided about his ability to produce nearly anything from the depths of his pockets—especially cough drops, when he appeared on a speakers' platform—and about his graphic demonstrations.

As each speaker took his turn at the rostrum, one felt that Stout was losing a great man; and Verne C. Fryklund, president of Stout, set the theme for the evening when he said: "A great educator is being honored tonight for long and valued service to state and nation." Then President Fryklund read the letter from the board of trustees, telling of the changing of the name of the building where Bowman had his office to Bowman Hall and the granting of the title, Dean Emeritus to Bowman.

William J. Micheels, professor of industrial education at the University of Minnesota, acted as master of ceremonies. The recognition address was given by William F. Rasche, director of the Milwaukee school of vocational and adult education.

But the speaker the people wanted to hear was Dean Bowman himself. And this time Dean Bowman was without words and asked, "What does one say in a situation like this?"

Reviews Stout's Growth

Dean Bowman said he saw good days for Stout ahead. He then briefly told of the changes he has observed at Stout in 33 years. He saw Stout grow from a school that offered a two-year course to one that now offers a five-year course and he worked under three different Stout administrators.

"When the enrollment is down you have worries, and when it is up, you have problems," observed Dean Bowman. The school is fortunate to have Verne Fryklund for president and Stout has an excellent staff. Dean Bowman expressed the hope that they can be kept together.

Bowman traced the development of the physical plant and told of its growth. "The world goes on results, not how you obtained them," observed Bowman. "The years have been pleasant and stimulating and I have experienced no dull moments," said Bowman.

"I doubt that you have seen the last of us for we have two married daughters and the younger generation may come your way." He expressed the thanks of the Bowman family and concluded by saying, "The Bowman family had quite a night!"

Rasche Pays Tribute

Rasche told the group that Dean Bowman is one of the men who made practical education history. Rasche paid special tribute to Mrs. Bowman and observed that Dean Bowman would not be what he is today if it were not for his understanding wife.

"Through the last three Stout administrations has run the Bowman influence. I can't agree that Dean Bowman is retiring. He isn't retiring for several reasons. One reason is his make-up—I know his plans include more than sleeping. He can't retire because a good teacher never retires. What he did lives on. Many are better teachers and administrators because of their association with Dean Bowman."

Rasche told the group of the many good ideas that can be obtained by touring Stout. He said he first heard of Stout when teaching in a school in the Milwaukee area. One of his fellow principals suggested that industrial arts be taught and suggested a Stout graduate should be hired. Rasche investigated Stout—and learned

Dean Bowman opens a gift presented him by members of the Stout faculty. Dwight L. Agnew, a member of the Stout faculty, made the presentation. Agnew holds the "black" book for which Dean Bowman has become famous.

Dean Bowman gives his farewell address at the recognition dinner held Saturday night.

Mrs. Bowman came in for recognition, too, at the banquet honoring her husband. She and Dean Bowman are pictured above.

William F. Rasche, pictured above, gave the recognition address at the banquet honoring Dean Bowman. Rasche remarked that "a good teacher never retires."

FEBRUARY 27 LAST DAY FOR SSA PETITIONS

SSA elections are coming up. Petitions for candidates may be obtained from the SSA office any time starting today. The deadline for getting these petitions in has been set at Friday, the 27th of February at 5:00 P. M. March 11 will be the student campaign assembly and the next day, Thursday, March 12 will be the election of officers.

DEAN BOWMAN SENDS MEMO TO FACULTY MEN

One of the final official acts of Clyde A. Bowman, retiring as dean of industrial education after 33 years of service to The Stout Institute, was to release the following memorandum to Men of The Stout Faculty:

Dr. Agnew, in his address last Saturday evening, referred to several types of "memos" which you have received from me. One more type is in order, I believe.

Thank you very much for the very nice luggage presented to me at the dinner last Saturday evening. These gifts will be very useful as you no doubt surmised. One nice thing is that I can use them going and also coming back for visits.

I am reading the letters in the bound volumes. I read about six at a time. You have been very nice indeed in these letters. I shall miss the many daily contacts which are in a typical day at The Stout Institute. These letters will help. Thanks indeed.

'THE ADMIRABLE CRICHTON' IS SPRING PLAY

The Admirable Crichton, by Sir James Barrie, was picked to be the Manual Arts Players annual spring production. The dates for presentation will be Thursday through Saturday, March 19, 20, and 21. Tryouts will be held Thursday, January 29, at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium. Don't forget the date! Tryouts are open to all students, not just those belonging to M.A.P. Playbooks are in the library for advanced reading of the play.

Mr. Ziemann states that he has wanted to produce one of Barrie's plays for a long time, but the high royalty on a Barrie play has prevented the production. However, he has decided to give one regardless of cost.

The play is one of Barrie's best known fantastic modern plays. It is concerned with an aristocratic English family who, when shipwrecked on a desert island, are forced into a situation which calls for "survival of the fittest". The butler, Crichton, is regarded as leader on the island, but upon return to civilization, the situation changes.

The cast of the play is the largest the Manual Arts Players has ever had. Twenty-two people are in the cast—eleven men and eleven women! Therefore, there would surely be a part for which you would like to try out.

Also, the play requires three settings, which will provide a challenge for all students interested in backstage work.

The producing of a good play needs the cooperation of all those interested, so be on hand if you want to participate.

ROBERT DEICHERT GETS HIGH RATING AT STOUT

A high rating was received by Mr. Robert Deichert on the student check sheets at the assembly program on Wednesday, January 21. The three numbers which seemed to be most widely enjoyed were the Semiramide Overture, Sabre Dance, and Bumble Boogie.

This is Mr. Deichert's second appearance at Stout as he presented a program here four years ago. Mr. Deichert has been playing the accordion since he was five years old.

The following is the rating on Robert Deichert:

Excellent	82
Very Good	110
Good	114
Fair	45
Poor	4

SNOW BRAWL WILL CLIMAX BIG CARNIVAL

Exciting climax to Stout's Winter Carnival will be the Annual Snow Brawl, sponsored by the P. A. sorority after the Stout-Carroll game in the Stout gym, Saturday, January 31.

George Soderberg's Royal Black Hawkes will provide music amid snow theme decorations. Iris Ruf and Mary Anne Smith, in charge of the evening's entertainment, say they really have some good fun planned for intermission.

So, Bea Anderson, P. A. president, says: "Guks and Gals, grab your pals and come to the P. A. Snow Brawl and enjoy yourselves. P. S. admission 40¢ stag, 60¢ drag—"

SHOW VIEWS OF MENOMONIE IN SENTINEL JAN. 25

The Stout Institute and other interesting spots in the city of Menomonie will be featured in a full page Sunday supplement "spread" in the Sunday, January 25, issue of the Milwaukee Sentinel.

Several weeks ago, Max Nelson, executive news editor of the Sentinel, spent two days in Menomonie gathering background information and pictures on the city and the college. To do this, he visited Mayor Michelbook, Dr. Thomas Fleming of The Stout Institute, Howard Thedinga of the Menomonie Chamber of Commerce, and local newspaper men.

The feature will describe Menomonie's location and history, The Stout Institute and other educational facilities of the city, business opportunities of the area, and other points which would make Menomonie attractive to potential residents or business firms.

To illustrate the feature, Editor Nelson will choose from such photos as those of The Stout Institute, Mabel Tainter Memorial, Mayor Michelbook, Senator Stout, Memorial hospital and others. An aerial view of the city will also be included.

1952 TOWER RECEIVES FIRST CLASS HONORS

The 1952 Tower has received the First Class Honor Rating from the National Yearbook Association. Congratulations to the Tower staff.

BLOOD MOBILE WILL BE HERE FEBRUARY 12

There is hope for polio. In addition to its many other uses, civilian and military, blood is now being used as a preventive for polio.

The Blood Mobile will be in Dunn county February 9-13. Stout students will be given the opportunity to donate blood on February 13 at the center which will be set up in the Memorial Library building. Everyone who is interested in taking part in this program will be able to sign up before the arrival of the Blood Mobile. The Women's Athletic Association will provide baby sitters for townspeople who will need someone to care for their children while they are at the Blood Mobile.

Because the total blood needs of the country are increasing, all government blood collection activities have been combined into the National Blood Program.

The program was set up to supply the blood needs of the country. Besides taking care of the immediate blood needs of the armed forces in Korea, it is taking care of thousands of wounded in our military hospitals and other thousands in our civilian hospitals who require blood.

An added incentive in the blood campaign this year is that the globulin from human blood is acting as a polio, as well as a measles, preventive. Polio is expected to strike in 150 more counties next year and many more pints of blood will be needed to inoculate the children in these areas.

In launching the National Blood Program, Director of the Office of Defense Mobilization, Henry H. Fowler,

Join the MARCH OF DIMES

JANUARY 2 TO 31

The Polio epidemic was more widespread in 1952 than it has ever before been; it hit more Americans over 15 years of age and struck 1 out of 4 sufferers in many varied areas with the dreaded bulbar form of the disease. It broke all records for the number of cases occurring in single families. In one family in Mapleton, Iowa, eleven were stricken; in Scotts Bluff, Nebraska, there were 8 in one family; 6 in San Antonio, Texas; and 5 in Taylor, Wisconsin. Now out of every 100 persons afflicted with polio, there are 50 complete recoveries, 30 recover with no disabling after effects, and 14 may be pitifully paralyzed and 6 of the victims may die.

Of the polio patients in the U. S., 4 out of every 5 receive financial help from the March of Dimes. All this puts a severe financial strain on the March of Dimes Institute.

What are you and I going to do about it? Let's give, and give generously, to this vital cause so that thousands of Americans, young and old, will have a bright future.

GOVERNING BOARD NEWS

The first meeting of the Governing Board in the second semester was held on January 20, at 6:30.

Old business began with a brief discussion of the carnival ice activities which will include skating relays, figure skating, ice fishing, and a comedy skating skit. Nine prizes are to be awarded.

The date for the Student U. N. Conference at Madison is to be March 27, 28, 29. A delegation of one to five students may attend and they will have one foreign student of the University assigned to them to help them. The delegation will work from the standpoint of the views of the country they are to represent. Fees will be $1.00 registration, $1.50 housing per night (two nights), meals, and share of transportation expense. There is a possibility of some financial aid from the SSA. A sheet will be posted later to sign on.

SSA elections are coming up. Petitions for candidates may be obtained from the SSA office anytime starting today. The deadline for getting these petitions in has been set at Friday, the 27th of Feb. at 5:00 p.m. March 11, will be the student campaign assembly and the next day, Thursday, March 12, will be the election.

Thus concluded the business of the evening.

about it before Dean Bowman was there.

John Jarvis, who will take over Dean Bowman's duties, said, "We will make every effort to keep the high standards Dean Bowman has set."

Representing the faculty was Dwight L. Agnew, associate professor of social science. He remarked: "Accept our congratulations on completing a successful career. Accept our wishes for happiness and thanks for the leadership you have given."

Dean Bowman was presented two traveling bags from the men of the Stout faculty. Bowman was instructed to use the small one for going away and the large one for return trips. He was presented a radio from the entire faculty and was given two volumes of bound letters written by Dean Bowman's associates. Another volume will be presented later.

Richard Duthler, president of the Stout Student association, represented the students. "The Stout students realize a good friend is leaving the college," Bowman will receive the next five issues of "The Tower," Stout yearbook, with the compliments of the students.

Ira O. Slocumb, representing the citizens of Menomonie, said the city is a better place because Dean Bowman lived here. Dean Bowman has hinted that he intends to move to California because of the cold winters, and a group of businessmen gave Bowman an electric blanket in an effort to get him to stay in Menomonie.

Because of illness, Burton E. Nelson, president emeritus of Stout, was unable to attend the banquet. He sent a message, however, and said Stout is today a reflection of C. A. Bowman.

Alice Kirk, dean of the division of home economics, spoke briefly and thanked Dean Bowman for the steady leadership he has given. She told of some humorous incidents that occurred when she and Dean Bowman appeared on the same speaking platform.

"Dean Bowman is an example of a master teacher," said Roy R. Van Duzee, president of the Wisconsin association of directors of vocational and adult education.

The Menominnaires, a quartet composed of Ed. Phelan, Stan Nelson, George Chamberlain and Bud Medtlie, sang four numbers.

250 GUESTS TOUR THE STOUT PRINT SHOP

Open house, observing Printing Education Week, was held in the Stout Print Shop Wednesday afternoon, January 14. This annual event was sponsored by the Stout Typographical Society.

Some two hundred and fifty students, faculty and guests thronged the Print Shop during the hours of one to four, Wednesday afternoon, January 14, to commemorate Printing Education Week at The Stout Institute.

Members of the Stout Typographical Society were kept busy conducting tours, setting linotype slugs, printing names on souvenir booklets, distributing printing literature and answering questions regarding printing and Printing Education Week, from the time the doors opened in the afternoon until late in the afternoon on Open House day. A number of girls were in charge of pouring coffee and issuing donuts which were given to each visitor of the shop.

Each guest left the shop with a souvenir blotter, a booklet with his or her name printed on the front cover, a wealth of information, and a satisfied appetite.

The twenty-fifth annual observance of Printing Education Week, which ran from January 11-17, was nationally sponsored by the International Graphic Arts Education Association as well as locally observed by many newspapers, printing and publishing houses, school print shops and technical training schools.

The Graphic Arts Education Association set up a three-fold purpose in commemorating Printing Education Week, which is as follows: (1) to commemorate Benjamin Franklin's 247th birthday anniversary, January 17, (2) to bring more forcibly to the youth of America and the nation's schools, the democratic principles and wisdom of Benjamin Franklin, and (3) to call attention to the importance of the Printing Industry.

SKI CLUB MAKES PLANS FOR WINTER CARNIVAL

Tuesday night, January 20, at 7:15, the Stout Ski Club met to make plans for the rest of the ski season and Winter Carnival.

A ski trip to Telemark was planned for a week-end because of lack of snow at Deepwood. On the occasion of such a trip, the buses will leave at 6 a.m.

Carolann, the president told about the interschool ski meet at Madison for anyone interested in forming a ski team. If anyone is interested or knows of anyone who would like to ski in competition let Carolann know.

"Corky" gave a report on ski safety. The proof of his statements came from actual ups and downs that the ski club members had this year and in the past.

JAN WASEEN MARRIES LARRY JOHNSON

The parents of Janice Waseen, senior at The Stout Institute, have announced her marriage to Larry Johnson, son of Coach and Mrs. Ray C. Johnson of the Stout faculty.

Janice is a coed from Superior. Larry, who attended Stout from September, 1949, until his enlistment in the United States Navy, is now a petty officer 3rd class, acting as a radar operator on a destroyer.

RIFLE CLUB WILL MEET NEXT TUESDAY

The Stout Rifle Club will hold its first meeting of the second semester, Tuesday evening, January 27, in the upper gym of Bowman Hall.

All old members of the Rifle Club and all other interested persons, including freshmen, are invited to attend an important business meeting Tuesday evening at 7:30.

Social activities for the second semester will be discussed and a new rifle team to represent the school will be organized.

ALUMNI PARTY WAS HELD IN RACINE HOME

An impromptu party at the Fritz Wentorf's new home in Racine brought together the following Stout alumni and their families: Shirley Erickson, of the Hormel girls currently in Los Angeles; Bob Mackin, now teaching at a Coop High School in Dayton, Ohio; Bob and Jean Simons (nee Jean Greenlee), of Medford, Minnesota; Ralph and Miriam Smith, Menomonee, Wisconsin (graduate student); Mr. and Mrs. Kenny Shank and Mr. and Mrs. Woolley all of Racine.

The party started out with just local Racineites but people just kept dropping in. The biggest item of conversation was Shirley's announcement that she was engaged to Gordy Noonan, also a Stout Alumni now teaching in California. The $400 across the board increase granted Racine teachers effective in January was another attractive topic.

RAY PITTMANS VISIT IN MENOMONIE

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Pittman, '48, (nee Phyllis Nesser, '42) and children, Roger and Mary Ann, were guests in Menomonee during the holidays.

Ray has just been released from active duty as an Air Force reservist. He has also been appointed as chief of the training equipment branch of the Training Analysis and Development Division of the Mobile Training Wing at Chanute Field, Illinois. He is responsible for all the training equipment used by the Mobile Training Wing. As a part of his work, he goes to factory conferences in order to find out what is needed in the way of trainers to represent the newest aircraft developments. He also visits other training commands and helps establish training policies for the Mobile Training Wing.

JOHN WOOLLEY HAS EDITED A HANDBOOK

John Woolley, who is teaching at Washington Park High School in Racine, recently sent a copy of The Park Beacon Instruction Book, which he has edited, to Dr. T. F. Fleming. This style book will be used in conjunction with the production of the school paper, The Park Beacon.

This handbook was prepared for the purpose of acquainting the school paper staff with the principles, policies, and procedures of the newspaper. It is a reference to be used as an aid in learning the duties and their performance in the production of a school paper. The purpose of The Park Beacon is to serve the high school with a broad-minded, democratic news coverage.

The various areas covered in Mr. Woolley's 26-page booklet are: introduction, duties and responsibilities of staff members, stylebook, headlines, make-up, copyreading, and proofreading.

School Shop has recently published two of Mr. Woolley's articles. The second article appears in the January, 1953 issue.

Mr. Woolley writes that he was happy to see Bob Mackin and Fritz Wentorf during the recent Christmas vacation.

WALLY CHRISTENSENS LIVE IN MOSINEE NOW

Wally Christensen, '52 and his wife, the former Rose Gradzielewski, '52, who was Homecoming Queen of 1950, are now living at 162 N. Water Street, Mosinee, Wisconsin. Wally is employed with his father in the printing business.

REX BATTENBERG IS FEATURED IN PAPER

The accomplishments of Rex Battenberg, a Stout Institute graduate of 1946, are the basis of a recent photo news feature story in a Chicago newspaper. Shown with Mr. Battenberg is his wife, the former Eileen Behrens of Greenwood. Mrs. Battenberg, a Chicago fashion model, is also a Stout graduate (B.S. '42).

The feature story stresses the novel and functional house furnishings designed and built by Mr. Battenberg, who designs homes and teaches architecture at the American school in Chicago.

Included among the articles are living room furnishings, special headboards for beds, and a custom designed radio-phonograph cabinet. Of special interest is a telephone seat fastened directly to the wall.

SLIGHT SHIFTS OCCUR AT TAINTER ANNEX

Tainter Annex has undergone a slight shift in tenants. Kathryn Seymour, Janet Gray, and Janet Schott have transferred to Whitewater. Deloris Aeschliman and Barbara Brown are leaving the Annex also, but they will continue their studies at Stout. A new addition is Ardell Gazell, a transfer student from La Crosse.

The dormitory cooks have noticed that pan cakes are suddenly very popular with the girls. Joan Stegman seems to be the champion with ten at one meal.

As for anything social around the dorms, it is rumored that Tainter Annex is planning a party to be held sometime within the next six weeks. For the present, plans for the first big dress up dinner since Christmas are underway. The January birthday dinner will be held Thursday, January 29.

The good old days of the wash tub and scrub board are gone forever from Tainter Annex. Santa brought a Maytag washer and spin drier.

APO HOLD INFORMAL BUSINESS MEETING

Due to mid-semester exams, APO's regular business meeting was conducted informally on January 13, at 6:30 p.m. in Bowman Hall.

President Sorenson read a letter from a former member, Ray Siggens. Ray asked the organization for help in conducting a Boy Scout outing January 17, at the Fair Grounds. Names of members willing to assist in this request were taken down and duties to be performed at the outing were explained.

Phil Johnson asked members for help promoting a paper drive and a spaghetti dinner. Funds realized from the two undertakings will help defray expenses to the National Boy Scout Jamboree for deserving scouts from Menomonee.

The A. P. O. will conduct the paper drive January 31, APO members will drive trucks in picking up papers and magazines. If Stout students have an accumulation of reading material, papers and magazines, please contact Mr. Phil Johnson and he will have arrangements made to have them collected. Funds realized from this drive will go into the general fund to pay expenses to the National Outing.

A. P. O. members will sell tickets for a spaghetti dinner to any student on the Stout campus. Price of the ticket is 75¢ and each buyer can eat as much as he or she wants. Besides serving spaghetti, the rest of the menu will consist of coffee, dessert, bread, rolls, and butter. The dinner will be Monday, February 2. Exact time and place can be obtained from APO members at the time the ticket is bought. A. P. O. encourages as many students as possible to purchase a ticket for this dinner because funds made at this dinner will also be used to defray expenses to the National Jamboree to be held in California this summer.

BUILDERS PREDICT A MILLION HOMES IN '53

The National Association of Home Builders Convention, held in Chicago January 18-20, predict that the million homes built in 1952 will be duplicated this year.

CONGO CLUB RESUMES MEETINGS AGAIN

The Congo Club held the first meeting of the new year on Sunday evening, January 11, in the basement of the Congregational Church. The meeting began with a venison supper which was prepared by Barbara Hilts and Marge Strombeck.

A short business meeting included discussion of the tobaggan party to be held on Sunday evening, January 25th, at the Ruehl home. The worship service, consisting of hymns and a prayer, was led by Darrel Premo.

The group was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Robin Markham, who showed slides of scenes from the African territory to which they plan to go. Mr. Markham is a student in industrial education at Stout. The couple, with their family, are going into missionary teaching in Africa, and they answered the questions of students interested in this field of work.

"HARVEY" CAUSES QUITE A STIR ON CAMPUS

Harvey has been popping up all over Stout since the presentation of the play, "Harvey," in the auditorium, January 9, by the University of Minnesota Theatre.

Harvey is an invisible 6 foot, 1½ inch white rabbit that Elwood P. Dowd meets. This rabbit and Elwood go all over the city cheering people with their actions and experiences. Elwood's sister tries to eliminate Harvey by sending Elwood to a psychiatrist. However, before Harvey is eliminated, she discovers that all of the happiness and unusual occurrences caused by Harvey and Elwood are really of value, for these two cheer all whom they contact.

In the course of sending her brother to a sanitarium for psychiatric treatment, Elwood's sister is mistaken for the patient and becomes confined in the institution. One staff psychiatrist is dismissed because of this error.

As an outcome, Elwood is allowed to keep Harvey. Elwood's sister decides that the joy brought to all by Elwood and Harvey is more important than a "normal" brother who gripes and grouches all of the time.

BLUEDEVILS MAKE GOOD SHOW AT ST. MARY'S

Bluedevils Play One of Their Best Games With A Brand New Lineup

Opening with a brand new starting lineup, Coach Ray Johnson's boys put up a good battle against an outstanding St. Mary's quintet Tuesday night. The Bluedevils at times showed some of their finest work of the season, but every time that they whittled the lead to 6 or 7 points the Redmen put on a rally of their own. The game, however, proved to be much superior to the one played here earlier in the season when St. Mary's team emerged victorious by a 20 point margin. In that game the entire Redmen lineup was jerked shortly after the first half, but this time it was a different story. Pat Costello, the terrific high scoring forward was held to one of his lowest efforts of the season as he pumped in 22 points. He played the entire ball game. Bill Kieffer is to be commended on a good defensive job.

The Bluedevils opened with three new starters when the teams lined up for the center tip. Only Bill Kieffer, and Captain Tom Stilt had started previous games. Bruce Leonard, Tom Stewart, and Bob Boldt opened at center, forward, and guard respectively. Stewart showed to great advantage by dropping in 9 baskets and a free throw for 19 points. Leonard, until he suffered an injury to the left instep early in the game, also played good ball and was responsible for some fine assists as well as sporting two corner shots, a tip in, and a free throw for 7 points.

Boldt played capably too until acquiring a goodly number of fouls during the first half. He was replaced by John Widmar who tied for second high scoring honors with 12 points.

The Bluedevils opened the scoring when Stewart dropped in a short basket after a quick succession of passes. This lead was short lived, however, when the Redmen began to strike back with points of their own. Bill Skemp, an outstanding freshman from La Crosse, started to hit and St. Mary's soon drove to a 17-10 first quarter lead. This drive continued during the second period as well, as Skemp and Costello sank 14 out of the 22 points made by the Redmen during this time. After the halftime interlude, which found the Bluedevils on the short end of 39-24 count, St. Mary's was able to outscore Stout by only a single point during the remainder of the contest. It was an interesting game as the Bluedevils tried desperately to catch up, but the combined efforts of Skemp, Costello, and Shrike proved to be too much to overcome. At any rate, the Bluedevils fought hard down to the wire and showed tremendous spirit throughout the contest. Costello had 8 buckets and 6 free throws for 22, while pivotman Skemp sported 6 field goals and 5 charity tosses for 17.

LACROSSE OUTPLAYS BLUEDEVILS 88-57

Fast breaking and superior rebounding were the means by which the Indians of LaCrosse scored an 88-57 triumph over the Bluedevil cagers last Saturday evening at LaCrosse.

Coach Ray Johnson opened with Tom Stilt and Bill Kieffer at guards, John Widmar and Don Steele at forwards, and Bob Moe at the pivot. The first period saw the Indians take an early lead of 22-9 with neither side being able to control the offensive rebounds. The Indians' opening attack was based around the weave, leaving the center wide open for the guards and forwards to drive. Tenseness mounted in the Bluedevil five during the early part of the quarter which was eased somewhat when Steele stole the ball and dribbled the length of the floor to score. Fouling was heavy on the part of the Indians in an attempt to block shots. The Bluedevils capitalized on these fouls by scoring seven more points on freethrows.

Humphrey, an all conference guard last year, led the second quarter attack for the Indians with three field goals. Pike was on the defensive backboard initiating the fast break which widened the gap still further. More fouls were committed by the Indians and the Bluedevils sunk five more freethrows plus ten field goals in an attempt to close the gap. Nonetheless at half time, the Bluedevils were trailing 47-25.

In the third quarter, LaCrosse displayed an exceptional third string reserve as Coach Cliff DeVoll substituted freely. Each player sent in was almost as good as the one he was replacing. The Indians really widened the gap in the third quarter, scoring 29 points mostly by controlling the rebounds and by passing off for a fast break. Kempe showed his ability in the center position by scoring five field goals and two freethrows.

The Bluedevils fought back in the fourth period holding the Indians to 12 points while they scored 16. But, they were not able to overcome the Indians terrific lead. The game ended with Stout on the short end of the 88-57 verdict.

Coach DeVoll said that this was the best game his team played all year. Others who attended the game said it was the best fast breaking they had seen this year.

Kempe led the Indian scorers with 18 points, followed by Humphrey with 16. Kieffer, a senior from Hastings, Minnesota, led the Bluedevil scorers with 14 points.

DEVILS PLAYED STEVENS POINT AND PLATTEVILLE

Stout Team Is Outscored By Opponents Stevens Point 78-61 And Platteville 65-38

The Stout Bluedevils visited the schools of Platteville and Stevens Point on this years southern trip, but both teams appeared to be too much for Coach Ray C. Johnson's boys as the Bluedevils lost 65-38 at Platteville and 78-61 at Point.

It must be said, however, that both Platteville and Point played some of their finest ball of the season and the team shooting by both clubs was exceedingly exceptional.

Playing on the small Platteville crackerbox floor Friday night, the Bluedevils managed to hold the Pioneers to an 11-10 first quarter lead. But then Rhineck, Van Fleet, and Jackson began to find the range and the Bluedevils found themselves on the short end of a 33-19 halftime score. Following the intermission, the Bluedevils fired shot after shot but could counter with only 9 points of their own while the Pioneers gained another 15.

The fourth quarter found both coaches substituting freely, but Platteville still was able to dump in 20 points during this time. Low individual scoring prevailed for both clubs as Jackson, Rhineck and Bill Kieffer all sported game highs of 11 points each. The Bluedevils were not only off on shots taken from the floor, but could make only 8 out of 32 freethrows as well.

Saturday night the Pointers of Stevens Point entertained Stout and this time it was the other extreme. Stevens Point plays its games in the high school gymnasium and has one of the longest floors in the state at its disposal. Once again the Bluedevils ran into a terrifically hot set shooting team and once again this, more than anything else, spelled defeat. The Pointers, who led 21-14 at the quarter, enjoyed a comfortable 12 point lead at halftime, and also had excellent scoring from their pivotman Blomily and from a star football end, Bobby Bostad. Time and again Bostad drove past the weary Stout defense for baskets while set shooters Frits Shadewald and Bechard cracked set shots from well out on the floor.

Bill Kieffer, however, did his best in a losing cause canning 6 baskets and 11 charity tosses for a 23 point total and game high. In all Kieffer shot 20 freethrows as he was continually fouled by the Point defenders. More bright spots in an otherwise dull picture were the combined efforts of Tom Stilt and freshman Tommy Stewart. Stilt played what perhaps was his best floor game following injuries incurred at the Carleton and Winona games earlier in the season. Stewart, on the other hand, firmly entrenched himself as a future dependable scorer by dropping in 5 field goals and two free throws for 12. Stewart's work on the boards also gave the Bluedevils excellent rebounding strength during the time that he was in the contest.

DEAN OF INDUSTRIAL EDUCATION

John A. Jarvis is pictured above as he takes over his new desk and the deanship of the division of Industrial Arts.

JOHN JARVIS BEGINS DUTIES OF DEANSHIP

Mr. Jarvis Is New Dean Of The Division Of Industrial Education

John A. Jarvis, new dean of the Division of Industrial Education at The Stout Institute, has begun his official duties. He now occupies the dean's office on the first floor of Bowman Hall, Stout's industrial education building.

Dean Jarvis brings to the deanship a wide background of educational and industrial experience. Following his graduation from Janesville high school, he earned his Bachelor of Science in mechanical engineering at the University of Wisconsin.

For two years he was in charge of special equipment for the Chevrolet Motor company. He then came to Stout Institute for a Bachelor of Science in industrial education. Following his graduation from Stout, Dean Jarvis taught industrial arts in the Technical high school of Flint Michigan. He later earned his Master's degree from Wayne university.

After serving as a civilian instructor-trainer in the Armored Force school at Fort Knox, Kentucky, Dean Jarvis entered the U. S. Navy. At the time of his discharge after 3 1/2 years of service, he held the rank of lieutenant-commanding officer of the Anti-Aircraft Training Center, Samar, Phillipine Islands.

Since 1946, Dean Jarvis has been a member of the faculty of The Stout Institute. He is nearing his Ph. D. in education at the University of Minnesota.

Dean and Mrs. Jarvis are the parents of two children, Kathryn Ann and Thomas. Mrs. Jarvis a graduate of La Crosse State college, was a teacher prior to her marriage.

Dean Jarvis is the author of numerous articles in professional education publications. He holds membership in such educational organizations as NEA, WEA, NWT, AVA, and the American Association of University Professors. He is a trustee of Epsilon Pi Tau honorary industrial education and is an advisor of Sigma Tau Gamma men's fraternity at Stout.

LATEST GRADS TAKE VARIETY OF POSITIONS

Mid-year graduates of The Stout Institute who received the bachelor of science degree totaled 24, with an additional three men receiving the master of science from the Stout graduate school.

Women graduating in home economics education, their home towns and their new locations are: Shirley Bendixon, Morgan, Minn., Ellendale Minn.; Sumie Doi, Hilo Hawaii, teaching in Hawaii schools; Mrs. Miriam Miller, La Crosse, Appleton junior high school; Mrs. Phyllis Johnson, Milwaukee, Boston, Mass. schools.

Dietetics graduates who have accepted dietetics internships are Elizabeth Kasson, Escanaba, Mich., Anchor hospital in St. Paul; Elizabeth Kleist, Rochester, Minn., St. Mary's hospital, Rochester; and Michiko Okada, Hilo Hawaii, Indiana university.

Men receiving a bachelor of science in industrial education include Alfred Anderson, Menomonie, Stout graduate school; Darrell Anderson, Menomonie, civilian instructor in armed forces; Dwayne Burk, Menomonie, Stout graduate school; John Debrauske, Sheboygan, North Judson, Ind. schools; Curtis Gehling, Suring, Oshkosh Vocational school;

HYPERIANS DISCUSS THE WINTER CARNIVAL

The Hyperian Sorority, or Eta Sigma Omega, had its first meeting of the new semester on Thursday, January 22.

A new secretary was needed to replace Jan Waseen, who is no longer at Stout. Joan Fairweather was chosen to be the new secretary.

Many plans were made for the all school winter carnival, which will be held Saturday, January 30. Mary Ann Heimerman was selected as a candidate for queen for the carnival. The Hyperians also agreed to enter the snow sculpturing contest. Mary Betzel and Jody Bain are co-chairmen of the committee doing the snow sculpturing.

IMPORTANT MEETING

There will be an important meeting of all Stoutonia members next Monday at 5:00 o'clock in room 22 of Harvey Hall. All members are urged to attend. Also, anyone interested in joining the staff is urged to attend.

ACCIDENT RATE CUT BY DRIVER EDUCATION

The number of automobiles on our highways is increasing year after year. Likewise the number of teenage drivers is increasing. The teenage driver has been blamed for the large number of highway accidents. This fact has been gradually changing. Driver education and practice driving is largely responsible for this drop in highway accidents for the teenagers. The Stout Institute is one of the leaders in teaching driver education and

WINTER QUEEN CANDIDATES

CARNIVAL QUEEN TO BE CHOSEN SATURDAY

CARNIVAL TO OPEN WITH ICE FISHING

Ice fishing will mark the official opening of the Winter Carnival tomorrow morning at 10:30. Sharpen up your ice picks because you will need them as there will be no pre-bored holes from which to fish. However, the SSA is furnishing you ambitious fisherman with hooks, lines, and baits. All you have to do is chop a hole and hope you catch a fish. Jim Cook and Dick Lenhardt are in charge of the contest and will award three prizes, one for the largest, smallest, and most fish caught.

It won't be necessary to carry your lunches as there will be refreshments served on the lake from 12:30 until 4:00 o'clock. Jan Wurtz and Doris Beyer are in charge of refreshments and have ordered an enormous amount of hot dogs to sell at the price of ten cents each. Delta Kappa Fraternity has offered their experiences and services in handling the coffee situation. They will donate all proceeds to the SSA.

Balloting for the queen to reign over the Winter Carnival will take place from 2:00 until 4:00. Other interests at that time will be the "syndillating display of hockatorial talents" when the Phi Sigma Epsilon Fraternity will clash with the FOB Fraternity, without skates and using brooms and a tin can as a puck.

After the hockey game, there will be a comedy ice skating act under the direction of the skilled Westenbergs. It claims to be one of the top comedy acts on ice in this region, (one square mile).

During the half time of the Stout - Northland game, three talented barbers from the fair city of Menomonie will judge the beards picking the king, the contestant with the longest beard, and two other winners, one with the most unique beard and the second with the best groomed beard. It is rumored that one of the prizes will include a shave and a haircut.

Following the game will be the Snow Brawl dance. During the intermission time, the king and queen will be crowned. A few vocal numbers will then be given by Iris Ruf and Charmaine Chopp.

The members of the SSA, under the able coordinator and administrator, Jack Luy and his assistant, George Stephenson, have worked hard to make the Winter Carnival a success. Milt Benner put his talents forth in the advertising for this great event, Ann Rossmiller has been shopping this past week for the prizes to be awarded, and Phil Rheul has been busy setting up the generator on the lake to furnish the required amount of electricity needed.

Just a word of mention, the sculptoring contest has been postponed to a later date because of lack of snow.

Queen Will Be Crowned During Intermission At Snow Brawl Dance

Tomorrow is another day but not just an ordinary day, for tomorrow brings the Winter Carnival and also a new queen. The chosen one will be decided by you and crowned at intermission time at the Snow Brawl dance. Balloting will begin at two o'clock and continued until four. There are seven lovely candidates to choose from.

Janet Peter is a junior from Minot, North Dakota. She belongs to Sigma Sigma Sorority and is being sponsored by them. Janet left school last year and returned this semester to continue her education.

Nancy Hanshus is being sponsored by the Pallas Athene Sorority. She is a member of Home Economics Club, Alpha Psi Omega, and Pallas Athene Sorority. Nancy is a short distance from home as she hails from Eau Claire, Wisconsin.

The Hyperians have selected the president of their sorority, Mary Ann Heimerman, for the candidacy. Mary Ann, a junior, comes from Elcho, Wisconsin. She is a member of the Student Governing Board, Dietetics Club, Home Economics Club and Newman Club.

Virginia Jacobson is a junior from Brownsville, Wisconsin. She belongs to the Pallas Athene, Y. W. C. A., and Home Economics Club. Virginia is being sponsored by the Y. W. C. A.

Grand Meadows, Minnesota, claims Dorothy Brownell, a sophomore this year. Dorothy is a member of Alpha Sigma Alpha Sorority, Student Governing Board, Stout Symphonic Singers, and the Stoutonia. She is being sponsored by the Alpha Sigma Alpha Sorority.

Eichelberger Hall has chosen Joanne Fritz as their candidate. Joanne Fritz is a sophomore from Bellville, Wisconsin, and belongs to the Pallas Athene Sorority, Home Economics Club, band, and Wesley Student Fellowship.

Doris Wandrey is the only freshman candidate for queen. She is a native of Wisconsin Rapids, Wisconsin, and is being sponsored by Tainter Hall. Doris belongs to Home Economics Club, Y. W. C. A. and W. A. A.

Theresa Franda has been omitted from the ballot because she had an urgent call from out of town and will be unable to attend the carnival.

PHI U'S ORGANIZE AN ALUMNI CHAPTER

Organization of the alumnae chapter for women who have been members of Phi Upsilon Omicron, professional home economics fraternity, is being undertaken by Tau chapter of the group at The Stout Institute. Members of Tau chapter are seeking names and addresses of alumnae living in this area.

Beverly Henderson, 407 12th avenue west, Menomonie, is in charge of the project. She is endeavoring to discover all eligible persons interested in joining the alumnae group.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

The well known March of Dimes Campaign is literally marching on! As it now enters its fourth week, let us stop a short time to plan how we can catch up and participate in this worthwhile parade before it reaches the end of the month-long march.

Students in colleges and universities from east to west are backing this drive in the true spirit of patriotism to a noble campaign.

A glance at New York College school of business and civic organization shows coeds shining student and faculty shoes between classes at 25 cents a shine to swell the fund.

The highlight of the University of Florida March of Dimes Campaign was an all-faculty variety show of 15 acts. Crowds who named their own admission price flocked to see the professorial talent on display.

An interesting feature of the March of Dimes Carnival at the University of Oklahoma was an auction of faculty services. One lucky group engaged the president to work in their fraternity kitchen.

An added attraction at an all-school dance held at Montana State College was a pie-eating contest for coeds, followed by the crowning ceremonies of "Miss Pie Eater." A fraternity on this same campus began a series of polio fund campaigns when one of their members was stricken with polio in 1951. This group sells pie and coffee at their open house.

In Stockton, California, the College of the Pacific substituted "Help Week" for "Hell Week." Pledges performed at public places to raise money for the polio drive.

Various colleges have staged musical events such as vaudeville and minstrel shows, plays, concerts, and musical comedies. A very novel idea for a benefit activity is the dance which features a dime-a-dance device.

Most of the fund raising schemes that have been adopted by college and university students involve a great deal of fun as well as providing a generous sum for the March of Dimes Campaign. Many of these activities could be staged on our own campus to help The Stout Institute join the March of Dimes parade.

Certainly some individual, class or group will want to organize a drive so that we too can do our share. Now in the last week of this worthwhile campaign, let us all work to support the March of Dimes.

MILLWRITING CLASS TAKES FIELD TRIP

Mr. Anderson's millwriting class recently went on a field trip to the Andersen Corporation in Bayport, Minnesota, the Foley Manufacturing Co. and Dunwoody Institute in Minneapolis for the purpose of gathering technical information on equipment and processes in millwriting.

The class went through the Andersen Corporation for the specific purpose of seeing how the millwriting processes were done in a large firm.

Later they drove to Minneapolis and were guests of the Foley Manufacturing Co. for lunch. Following lunch they were given a number of demonstrations by Peter Hartmann of the Foley company on the use of saw filing equipment. Then the class toured the plant where they saw the manufacturing of saw equipment such as they are using in their millwriting course.

Later in the day, they toured Dunwoody Institute.

SIG. TAUS WILL HOLD SMOKER FOR ALL MEN

Englishman: I say old chap, do you mind if I smoke?

Wise guy: I don't give a darn if you go up in flames.

It's hoped that no one will go up in flames, but rest assured that there will be plenty of smoke next Wednesday night at the second semester smoker. Each year the Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity sponsors this smoker to get the semester rolling along and to acquaint the new and transfer men with Stout.

Cigars, cigarettes and popcorn will be the bill of fare for the evening. The world series films of 1952 and The Laker Story, not the film shown first semester, will also be shown. Another highlight of the entertainment will be a quality skit. For a cost-free evening of unparalleled enjoyment, don't miss the smoker this coming Wednesday, February 4.

Stanley Meyer, Menomonie, who will finish the bachelor of science requirements in the coming summer session, is now teaching at Southern State teachers college, Springfield, South Dakota.

Master of science graduates are Martin Burkhardt, Merrill, director of the City Vocational school at Merrill; Raymond Luhrs, Madison, Memphis, Tenn.; and Ralph Smith, Milwaukee, recalled by the U. S. Navy.

DRIVER TRAINING

practice driving in the secondary schools of our nation. An additional forty to fifty students are trained in the two weeks session program. At that time a basic course and an advanced course are offered.

Certificates of specialized preparation for teaching driver education are given by the college to all students who successfully complete the course. A certificate is also issued by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction to those who completed the course and are to teach driver education in the public schools of the state of Wisconsin. This certificate is given on a two year basis, and must be renewed thereafter.

Three phases of instruction are dealt with in the college course. Classroom phase of instruction, where the legal aspect, laws, and regulations are studied. The practice driving phase is where the student is taken out in the driver training car and taught the correct procedures of handling the automobile with thought of teaching a beginner how to drive, so that he or she may pass the written and performance test given by the local police officer. The satisfactory completion of these two tests give the beginner his or her permanent drivers permit.

Minister: We will now have a few minutes of prayer. Mr. Spinti, will you lead?

Carl Spinti: (sleepily) 'Tain't my lead, I just dealt.

WESLEY TAKES TRIP TO NEW ENGLAND

A trip to New England, accomplished with the aid of slides and a tape recording, composed the Wesley Student Fellowship meeting on Sunday, January 25. Reverend Reece took these slides last spring on a trip to the International Rotary Convention at Lake Placid, New York. The slides formed a complete story and included Canada, Lake Placid and Mair. Many historic monuments were shown, including Old North Church, Sites of the Boston Massacre and the Boston Tea Party, Plymouth Rock and other statues and memoirs of the Pilgrims, and Hyde Park, the burial place of F. D. Roosevelt were shown.

DIETETICS CLUB WILL HEAR JOYCE LETTNER

On February 2, the Dietetics club will have Miss Joyce Lettner as their speaker. Miss Lettner, who is now interning at Eau Claire, has been asked to speak upon the advantages and disadvantages of civilian internment as compared to military internment. Having heard the viewpoint of military interns at the National Dietetics Convention, the members of the club thought it would be wise to hear the civilian viewpoint and then draw their own conclusions as to what kind of internment would best suit their particular needs. The exact time and place of the meeting will be set later.

NEWS OF OUR ALUMNI

Gladys I. Penn ('28) is teaching advanced foods in a high school at Bakersfield, California. Last summer she made a trip to Alaska and this Christmas a trip was made to old Mexico. The high school buildings at Bakersfield were very badly damaged by the earth quakes last summer. Four of the buildings have been dismantled and the others are being reinforced at the present time. However, in spite of these handicaps, school is continuing on as usual.

Mrs. A. N. Lund, the former Belinda Hendrickson ('33), is teaching advanced clothing and tailoring to adults on a part time basis at the Green Bay Vocational School. Her husband is a law examiner for the Wisconsin Industrial Commission. She is a life member of the original Phi Upsilon Omicron Society and is one of the original members of the organization when it was first established at The Stout Institute.

Dr. Arnold J. Lien (B.S. '42) will present a summary of his Doctorate Dissertation at the American College Personnel Association Convention in Chicago, March 29 through April 2. His wife is Harriet Stevens also a former Stout student.

Beverly Jean Hedlund ('52) is a student dietitian at the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital which is a part of Harvard Medical University Hospital. She is attending classes at the Harvard Medical School and is also taking graduate work at Simmons College in Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Landsverk, '52, (Donna Gardiner) recently celebrated their first wedding anniversary at Fort Louis, Washington. They were married in Our Savior's Lutheran Church in Menomonie while attending Stout.

Larry Mosher, class of 1952, was recently initiated into the Harmony Lions Club at Harmony, Minnesota. Last fall he attended the Minnesota Education Association Convention, in Minneapolis, Minnesota and the driver's training at Hamline University.

William E. Hinterthuer, class of '52, is a Technical assistant at the Institute of Paper Chemistry in Appleton Wisconsin. At the present time he is conducting engineering studies in corrugated board. The corrugated board is made with various paper combinations and in order to determine the best possible combinations various tests must be made. After collecting the data from these tests the job of the technical assistant is to calculate and interpret the results. This information is then written up into reports to be used by various paper industries throughout the country in order to better the products.

Many Stout grads are now with the Delta Power Tool Division of the Rockwell Mfg. Co. Among these are: T. H. Teppen ('50) Kansas City, Mo.; George A. Jensen ('50) Ft. Wayne, Ind.; Darwin C. Serra ('50) Denver, Colorado; Stanley Kendall ('50) Spokane, Wash.; Will Malone ('51) and L. Burmeister ('50) Bellefontaine, Ohio; Herb Meisner ('50) Chicago, Ill.; Fred Plonsky (M.S. '51) Dallas, Texas.

Lila Danielson ('45) a former stewardess with American Airlines was recently married to Dean Gilmore, a sound technician at Goldwyn Studios in Hollywood. Their wedding trip was spent in Mexico, visiting Mexico City, Acapulco, Taxco and Cuernavaca.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Goldbeck (Lucille Hartung '44) have recently moved to California. They have three children.

Lenore L. Landy ('45) is president of the Wisconsin Home Demonstration Agent's Association. She is also a member of the board of directors of the Wisconsin Extension Workers Association. She writes a weekly column for the Telegram, a weekly paper published in Superior, and also has a bi-weekly radio program.

Ronald Ehart ('48) obtained his Master of Science degree in administration at the University of Wisconsin.

DR. RUDIGER URGES ALUMNI TO ORGANIZE

Dear Alumni:

Let's make this the year to organize a local Stout Institute Alumni Chapter in your community. By organizing a group of Stout grads you will be able to recapture the school spirit of your Alma Mater.

Many grads have said at conventions and gatherings, "How about organizing our Stout grads in this area this year?" However, this seems to be as far as it goes. Make this year be an exception—find a few interested grads and meet as a nucleus group. Plan a simple dinner, luncheon, or picnic for all the alumni in your area. At such a time elect officers and appoint some basic committees for future get-togethers.

Your national office will provide such information as addresses of grads in your area and suggestions as to how to go about setting up a local chapter. They will furnish each chapter with a document printed on high grade parchment which may be presented formally at the first meeting of your chapter if desired.

We in the national office are very interested in keeping our alumni together. Let us hear from you.

Your alumni secretary,
Robert Rudiger

MERTON L. JESSEL IS PRINCIPAL INSTRUCTOR

Merton L. Jessel, '41, has just been appointed principal instructor of the Wing Training Center of the 3499th Mobile Training Wing at Chanute Field. His major work consists of conducting courses for supervisors and commanders on the principles of supervision and management. He also conducts refresher courses and other special courses dealing with supervision whenever they are needed.

His wife, the former Ella Mae Gibson, is also a graduate of The Stout Institute. At the present time she is actively engaged as a teacher in the Rantoul, Illinois, school system. Their home is in Rantoul.

L. W. ERPENBACH IS MOVED TO VIRGINIA

L. W. (Buck) Erpenbach, '35, formerly Senior Training Supervisor at the U. S. Naval Ammunition Depot in Hawaii, has recently been transferred to Quantico, Virginia. He is now Senior Training Supervisor of the Industrial Relations Division in the Marine Corps School at Quantico.

STOUT GETS FIRST HOME WIN IN 58-54 THRILLER

Gain Revenge For Early Season Loss; Northland College Here Tomorrow

by J. Henry Rokusek
The Stout Blue Devils broke a long losing streak when they eked out a 58-54 decision over the Winona Warriors Tuesday night. Trailing 27-23 at halftime, the Blue Devils surged back in the final two stanzas when a series of free throws overcame some clutch shooting by Jack Wiczorek, deadeye freshman guard from Winona.

Tom Stewart led the Blue Devil scoring for the third time in three games when he tallied seven baskets and four free throws for 18 points.

Coach Ray C. Johnson opened with a starting cast composed of Bob Boldt and Tommy Stilp at guards, Bruce Leonard at center, and Tom Stewart and Bill Kieffer at forwards. Stilp, who was chosen captain by his teammates for the second week in succession, combined brilliant passing with alert defensive work to spark the Stout triumph.

Winona, who had earlier defeated the Blue Devils at Winona, put up a stubborn and relentless fight throughout the contest. Captain Rod Lingenfelter, veteran Warrior center and one of the clubs highest scorers, was held in check by Leonard and Ron Woodliff, the latter playing a good part of the ball game and emerging with a bucket and three free throws for five points.

The unsung hero of the Stout victory, however, was freshman Bob Seaman. The Ontario forward let fly with a tremendous one hand push shot from mid-court just before the third quarter horn. This shot by the way, gave the Blue Devils a 42-41 lead going into the fourth quarter.

The game see-sawed back and fourth until a couple of costly fouls killed the Warrior chances. First Tom Stilp, then Bill Kieffer, and finally Bruce Leonard stepped to the line and made successful foul efforts giving Stout their first home victory of the year and second triumph of the season.

The Blue Devils will play host to Northland College of Ashland, Wisconsin, tomorrow before taking on the Eau Claire Blugolds in the next conference game Tuesday night.

RIVER FALLS AND KUSS BEAT BLUEDEVILS 86-71

Falcons Lead By 20 At Half; Stewart Pumps In 25 For Stout Scoring Honors

by Jim Rokusek
Big Roger Kuss and Co. proved to be too much for the Blue Devils Saturday night, and consequently River Falls emerged with an 86-71 decision before a near capacity crowd. Kuss, the league's leading scorer and currently the second highest scorer in the nation, poured 39 points through the hoop on 15 baskets and 9 free throws.

The Blue Devils, however, played a much better ball game than the score indicates. In fact, the Johnson men opened up on the long end of a 9-4 lead. This opening surge gave the Blue Devils a short-lived lead as Kuss soon found the range during the final stages of the first period. He was helped plenty in the scoring scheme when Joe Burgoyne, Zeke Wells, and Williams cracked several long shots before the termination of the first half. So completely did the Falcons dominate the second quarter scoring that they left the floor 20 points out in front at the intermission.

It was during the second half that the Blue Devils showed their improvement in ball handling and scoring punch as they outscored the Falcons by 5 points. With freshman Tom Stewart and veteran Bill Kieffer leading the way with 25 and 16 points respectively, the Blue Devils hacked away at the big Falcon lead.

Kuss showed uncanny ability to cut for the basket although Bruce Leonard was handicapped by a foot injury suffered in the St. Mary's contest four nights previously. Kuss, who uses his entire body when laying the ball into the basket, is extremely well co-ordinated for his size and moves quickly to either side of the bucket. He also showed exceptional ability in tip-ins

STOUT TO PLAY RED HOT BLUGOLDS TUESDAY

The Blue Devils will really have their work cut out for them when they face the Eau Claire Blugolds at the local arena Tuesday evening. The Blugolds, winners of their last five contests, come in to Menomonee smarting from an 83-81 loss suffered at the hands of the Blue Devils in the first conference game of the season.

The Blugolds have risen to the top mainly because of an improved scoring punch. This improvement consists for the most part in the excellent work of freshman pivotman Roger Hanson, a graduate of Eau Claire high school. Big Roger, who at 6' 8" is the biggest boy in the conference, has really shown to great advantage during the Blugold win streak. Hanson is ably supported by forwards Stan Dufrane and Hank Sletner and guards Mike Hanson and Cornell Torgeson. Mike Hanson also has played great ball for Eau Claire and dropped in 16 points against LaCrosse Saturday night. Dufrane and Torgeson, veteran Blugold stalwarts who carried most of the early load, have held up their end of the bargain as well. On the southern trip, taken by Eau Claire earlier in the month, Dufrane scored over 40 points in two games to spark wins over Stevens Point and Milwaukee. Sletner, meanwhile was high scorer in the first Stout game with 22, gaining 18 during the first half.

Coach Ray Johnson will probably start Tom Stewart and Bill Kieffer at forwards, Bruce Leonard at center, and Captain Tom Stilp and Bob Boldt or John Widmar at guards. This is the same combination that conquered Winona earlier in the week, although it is vastly different from the starting lineup used against the Blugolds in the league opener.

and recorded several baskets in this manner.

Stewart, meanwhile, demonstrated his scoring ability to local fans after running up 19 points at St. Mary's earlier in the week. The blonde freshman with the butch cut gave Kuss plenty of trouble during the final period and was largely responsible for drawing fouls from big Rog.

Captain Tommy Stilp also played creditable ball and directed the Blue Devil offensive throughout the encounter. The Neenah senior kept the fans on the edges of their seats as he continually fell on the floor diving for the ball. In fact, he even dumped referee Isaacson at one stage of the contest. Bob Boldt showed uncanny free throwing when he dumped in six in a row along with a field goal for eight points while Leonard also had eight on three buckets and two charity tosses, making all three early in the initial stanza.

LET'S SEE YOU IN THIS SCENE THIS YEAR

Lois Peterson is rising from giving her help to our country. This picture was taken last year when the Bloodmobile was at Stout.

BLOODMOBILE AT STOUT FEBRUARY 13

Friday, February 13, is being especially designated as The Stout Institute Day by the Red Cross Bloodmobile. Any student wishing to give a pint of blood may do so on that day between the hours of nine to three in the basement of the Memorial Library.

The drive this year is of special significance as the Red Cross has taken on the responsibility of collecting two million extra pints of blood for the production of gamma globulin for polio prevention.

Gamma globulin is that part of human blood that contains antibodies built up in the blood stream as the result of the human body's fighting disease. These antibodies remain in the blood stream, can be separated from the whole blood, and concentrated for injection into patients suffering from a variety of diseases.

For more than 20 years, plasma or serum from persons who have recovered from polio has been given patients in an attempt to prevent the disease, not often successful. TWO things have CHANGED THE PICTURE. (1) The preparation of gamma globulin made it possible to concentrate the antibodies from the blood of many people, providing some protection against the different strains of disease in a small volume of material, and (2) about 2 years ago it was demonstrated that before the polio virus enters the nerve tissue, it passes thru the blood stream. If antibodies are given an individual during this period, they may minimize or prevent the destruction of nerve tissue by the polio virus. Tests on some 55,000 children over 1 year of age in Provo, Utah, Houston, Texas, Sioux City, Iowa have demonstrated the effectiveness of gamma globulin treatment in the prevention of paralysis accompanying polio.

Polio is a virus disease. The virus circulates thru the blood stream before it attacks the nervous system. If this virus can be attacked before it strikes the nerve centers, paralysis may be prevented or minimized. When the nerve center is destroyed, the muscle it serves is paralyzed.

The average dose of gamma globulin is derived from 1 pint of blood. Where does the supply of human blood come from, of which gamma globulin is a derivative? THE AMERICAN NATIONAL RED CROSS HAS BEEN REQUESTED BY THE OFFICE OF DEFENSE MOBILIZATION TO COLLECT THE EXTRA TWO MILLION PINTS OF BLOOD for children in polio epidemic countries next year. IN ADDITION TO THE THREE MILLION PINTS REQUIRED FOR THE KOREAN WOUNDED, HALF THE NATION'S CIVILIAN HOSPITALS, BUILDING A PLASMA RESERVE FOR MILITARY AND CIVIL DEFENSE NEEDS.

The $7,000,000 cost of producing and packaging gamma globulin for polio, all done by the Red Cross, is added to the 1953 Annual Red Cross Fund quota, collected each March.

The Red Cross will not distribute the globulin, the method to be determined by the National Research Council in consultation with professional, industrial and governmental groups. Like Red Cross blood—it is free to the recipient.

STOUTPATCH GALS ARE OUT FOR GAME

With eyes a sparklin and pigtailed flying Stoutpatch gals are out for game. Gone are the days of hopeless sighin, All a girl has to know is the fella's name. Set a trap baited with moonlight; Feed 'em a line wit sweet-talk as lure. If this approach don't seem quite right, A half-nelson will get thet guy fer sure. Alpha Sigma Alpha set the date and hopes it's a week most pleasin. Remember yo men got to co-operate, Fer this is Sadie Hawkins season.

PROCLAMATION

Hear ye, hear ye, all guys and gals of Stoutpatch. The Alpha Sigma Alpha Sorority of this here campus hereby gives forth with the following official proclamation.

Know all Stoutpatch men what ain't married by these presents, Whereas there be inside our campus limits, a passel of gals what ain't married but craves something awful to be so, and Whereas there be in Stoutpatch plenty of men what could marry these gals but acts ornery and won't, and Whereas we deems matrimony's joys and being sure of eating regular the birthright of our fair Stoutpatch womanhood, We hereby proclaims and decrees, that February 8 through February 14 is SADIE HAWKINS WEEK.

To them as are new to our campus there are a few rules to follow

1. All gals should go courtin' and if a guy is ketched he's gotta co-operate.
2. The gals have gotta go after the guys, but the males have to fetch the gals home.
3. Females has gotta open the doors, walk on the gutter side of the sidewalk, help the guy with his coat, and do all other male court ecies.
4. Gals have gotta keep the men happy and amused.
5. Remember gals, the little things count also. Compliments sech as — "My yore hair looks purty."
6. Pay for all entertainment, which includes his chewin' terbak-er and Kickapoo Joy Juice.

REGISTER TODAY IN NURSES OFFICE

Don't delay; sign up today in the nurses office to give a pint of blood next Friday, February 13, between the hours of nine to three in the basement of the Memorial Library. Remember, the life you save may be your own.

The warming house will be open and heated during these hours. The city is taking care of flooding and scraping the rink and is delivering wood for a small fee.

A recent educational visitor on the Stout campus has been Hermogenes Belan (left), supervisor of industrial education for the Republic of the Philippines. Completing graduate work in industrial arts and vocational industrial education in Pennsylvania State college, he is visiting schools and teacher training institutions in our mid-west. Mr. Belan is author of two industrial education textbooks used extensively in the Philippines. He is shown with Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, President of The Stout Institute (seated), and John A. Stout's new dean of industrial education.

SADIE HAWKINS WEEK BEGINS FEBRUARY 8

Stoutpatch, U. S. A. — In jest two days hence, a pack of females will have the chance they've been yearning fer. Gals have been biding their time long enuf, so now it's time to git Operation Man Chase underway. At midnight Saturday, February 7, Sadie Hawkins Week will commence fer seven days of turnabout.

It ain't no trouble fer the menfolk to co-operate neither, fer what fella kain resist a winter moon, the tantalizing smell of perfume, and agal foot-in the bills. Men may enjoy actin independent like, but a little sweet talk will bring 'em round.

Alpha Sigma Alpha is aimin to help the situation by taking advantage of a man's natcheral inclinashion to eat. They're sponsorin a candy sale on Monday and a tea on Wednesday. Both will sweeten any man up and make him content as a puppydawg.

Since a man kain't say no thank yo to a gal wearin pigtailed, Thursday and Friday have been officially recognized as pigtail days. The women have been lookin at beards fer weeks, and now it's their turn to indulge in

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

If you haven't signed up already to give blood, do so now at the nurses office because the time is drawing near. You should be willing to give a pint of blood now, more than ever. Two million pints of blood are needed to carry on the research for the fight against polio. By giving now, you may save the life of some child and that child may be very near and dear to you.

Also, more blood is needed in Korea. By giving blood now, you may save the life of your own husband or brother. You don't know for sure that he won't be over in Korea next year. You yourself may even be over there next year and may be needing blood. It is a grim picture, but it can happen.

The blood collected through the Red Cross is provided as a public service; under no circumstances does the Red Cross ask for or receive payment for blood or the cost of collecting, storing, and distributing it.

SSA MESSAGE

An estimated 200 persons fought the elements to attend the Winter Carnival of last Saturday. It is felt that the Winter Carnival can be chalked up as a success even though old man winter did his best to freeze the event out. Much hard work and cooperation went into the Winter Carnival. The school's social committee, which is composed of each organization's vice-president, deserves a lot of credit for the work they put forth. Thanks to the bearded men for their efforts and thanks to the not-so-bearded for their efforts.

It is hoped that the Winter Carnival will become an annual event and tradition on the Stout campus.

Don't forget that petitions for the coming S. S. A. elections must be returned to the S. S. A. office not later than 5:00 February 27. Now is the time to start thinking about the S.S.A. officers you want for next year. Petitions may be obtained at the S. S. A. office anytime.

S. S. A. Officers,
Dick, Ann, Jack, and George

GOVERNING BOARD NEWS

Vice-President Jack Luy presided at the February 3, meeting of the Governing Board.

A report on the Winter Carnival showed that 166 people voted in the queen contest.

Miss Antrim made a motion that three prizes be awarded for the assembly skits in the amounts of $12, $8, and $5.

Ann Rossmiller read a recommendation from the dorm councils in regard to hours. This was tabled until next meeting.

The Board agreed to pay the registration fee for two students to attend the Eau Claire Conference with Dr. Iverson.

Bruce Sorenson, representing the APO, asked for a franchise for laminating cards such as membership cards. Permission for the franchise was granted. There was also discussion on the APO initiation date. This was tabled until the next meeting.

TABLEWARE IS SHOWN TO HOME EC. CLUB

The Home Ec. Club held its regular meeting January 26, at 7:15 p.m. in the cafeteria.

The high point of the evening was a talk given by Mrs. Nels Anshus. Mrs. Anshus discussed china, silver, and glassware, pointing out the desirable qualities and showing examples of each.

The business meeting followed Mrs. Anshus' talk. A complete financial report was given.

Joan Fairweather gave a brief description of her experiences at the state Home Economics Club Convention. There was a discussion of the Province to be held in February. Suggestions for the activities and speaker for the state convention to be held here next fall were discussed.

GOVERNING BOARD MEETS RIVER FALLS

A joint meeting of Stout's Governing Board and River Falls Student Senate met January 21 at River Falls to discuss mutual problems.

During the afternoon the Stout group was taken on a conducted tour through the college buildings and the new women's dormitory.

The evening discussion with their Student Senate was an exchange of ideas on Winter Carnivals, finances, assembly-lyceum programs, dance attendance, student elections, agenda for Orientation Week, publications of the Student Directory, campus organizations, dorm hours and regulations.

One of the purposes of the meeting was to promote better feelings between the two colleges. It was suggested that something on an exchange basis might be helpful. Tentative plans were made to exchange a concert and perhaps a play. The group reluctantly adjourned at 9:30.

FRESHMEN ELECT TWO OFFICERS AT MEETING

The freshman class held a meeting Thursday, January 29, at 12:40 p.m. The purpose of the meeting was to elect officers to fill the places held by John Phelan and Kathryn Seymour. The class chose Max Cisco as vice president, and Theresa Franda for class secretary.

FOB'S HOLD ANNUAL ELECTION OF OFFICERS

The FOB Fraternity held its annual election of officers at their last meeting Thursday evening, January 29. Milt Benner, former president, handed the gavel over to Joe Stebley.

Joe is a junior, a member of the "S" Club, and a three year football letterman.

Other officers elected were Jerry Henderson, vice president; Don Beran, secretary; Al Lowe, treasurer; Ken Pietsenpol, sgt. at arms; and Jerry Duncan, historian.

There is only one proof of ability—action.

MARINE CORPS TEAM WILL VISIT CAMPUS

Dr. Ralph G. Iverson, director of Student Personnel for The Stout Institute announced today that representatives of the Marine Officer Procurement Team from room 172, Federal Office Building, Minneapolis, Minnesota will be at the campus on Wednesday, February 11, 1953, between the hours of nine in the morning and four in the afternoon to discuss the programs for college men only, leading to a commission in the Marine Corps Reserve.

The Marine Corps today is a rapidly expanding service allowing unlimited opportunities to men with college backgrounds and initiative. The platoon leaders class for freshmen, sophomores, and juniors is the Marine Corps ROTC and assures a college man that he will complete his education prior to meeting his military obligations. Participation in two six week summer training programs without interference in academic pursuits during the school year will lead to a second lieutenants commission in the Marine Corps Reserve.

The officer candidate course for seniors and college graduates requires only ten weeks indoctrination prior to receiving a commission in the Marine Corps Reserve.

The Officer Procurement team will be located in room 219, H.E. Building during its stay on campus and will be most happy to discuss the officer programs with all Stout students.

APO MEMBERS DISCUSS PROSPECTIVE PLEDGES

Prospective pledges was of prime interest to APO members at the organizations meeting in Bowman Hall, January 27. Although no official action can be taken until six weeks of the semester have gone by, members made temporary plans for considering prospective members.

President Sorenson called on Ray Siggins, former member, to speak to the group. After talking to the group, Ray introduced Mr. Peterson. Mr. Peterson also is connected with the scouting movement, he told members about the different aspects of scouting.

Final preparations for the paper drive were made and members who volunteered to help were given last minute instructions.

BLUGOLDS AND HANSON WHIP BLUEDEVILS 87-65

Eau Claire Rally Wipes Out 42-38 Halftime Lead; Rog Hanson Hits 28, Nelson 23

The Stout Blue Devils enjoyed a four point 42 - 38 halftime margin against the Eau Claire Bugolds Tuesday night, but the opening minutes of the third quarter brought disastrous results and the Bugolds eventually went on to win by a 87-65 score. The Blue Devils played a sensational first half and looked like they had finally hit their season's peak. With Bill Kieffer doing a terrific defensive job on the high scoring Stan Dufrane, and the entire Blue Devil cast combining beautiful teamwork and shooting ability. Stout led during much of the first half, leading 21 - 16 at the summation of the initial quarter.

Ray Johnson's starting ensemble included guards John Widmar and Captain Tommy Stilp, center Bruce Leonard, and forwards Tommy Stewart and Kieffer, while Bugold mentor Bill Zorn opened with Dufrane and "Skip" Lord at the forwards, 6' 8" Roger Hanson at the pivot, and Mike Hanson and Cornell Torgeson at guards.

Hanson proved to be the biggest thorn in the Blue Devils side as he checked in with 28 points and high scoring honors. Time and again the graduate of Eau Claire high school controlled the rebounds and kept the ball out of the reach of Stout centers, Leonard and Woodliff when the going was tough under the basket.

Fouls, also, hurt the Blue Devils' chances of winning. By halftime Stilp had acquired 4 personals, Widmar 3, Stewart 3, and Leonard 2. This factor became even more serious when Stewart incurred his fourth personal just after the opening whistle of the second half. Coach Johnson, aware of the dangerous approaching situation, removed Stewart and sent in the set shot from Ontario, Bob Seaman. Upon Stewart's removal, Eau Claire controlled both boards for practically the entire third period. Jim Dailey also got into the picture when he replaced Stilp to start the second half as Zorn substituted Thormer for Torgeson. With 5:49 of the third period gone, the Bugolds led by an unbelievable 69-45 score. From this point on, the two traditional rivals managed to practically match the other in scoring as both coaches substituted freely.

One thing can not be denied however. Eau Claire has what is perhaps the best scoring potential in the league at its disposal, bolstered by a terrific bench featuring such fine players as the two Greenes, Leroy Nelson, Thormer, Cronkrite, and Henry Sletner. All of these men can score and every one can move as well. This was clearly demonstrated during the third quarter when the Bugold fast break rode the Blue Devils into oblivion. Hanson, the Bugolds center, certainly deserves commendation for a terrific improvement during this, his first year in the conference. His fine play Tuesday was indicative of his future scoring prowess.

Even though Dufrane was held to a meager 7 points after scoring 38 against River Falls, the Blue Devils could not stop the terrific scoring of a reserve forward, Leroy Nelson and guard Mike Hanson. Nelson cracked in 9 buckets and 5 charity tosses for 23 while Mike canned 7 baskets and a single freethrow for 15 points and third high individual scoring honors.

Tom Stewart, the high scoring Stout forward had to be content with a tie for top local scoring when both he and Kieffer meshed 14 points. Tommy Stilp and Bruce Leonard cracked in 12 apiece as both men played their best offensive games to date.

Today the Blue Devils travel to Superior where they will be guests of the Superior Yellowjackets and the high scoring Deerick "Fred" Walker to night. The Yellowjackets, who swamped the Blue Devils 80-48 just prior to Christmas vacation, are in the midst of a long losing streak and just recently bowed to River Falls and Roger Kuss by a 102-84 count.

RIFLE CLUB SPONSORS INTRAMURAL SHOOTING

Intramural rifle shooting for students of The Stout Institute has begun and will continue until the end of February in the upper gym of Bowman Hall.

Students of The Stout Institute are urged to enter the intramural individual rifle shooting events sponsored by the Stout Rifle Club. Events are provided suited for any class of shooter including a special class for women shooters only.

MEN SHOOTERS will fire in four shooting positions. Those positions are the following: prone or laying, sitting, kneeling, and offhand or standing. Five shots are to be fired in each position.

Men will be placed in three classes depending on their final score. All those firing over 180 and up to the possible of 200 will be automatically placed in Class A; those with scores starting at 160 and running up through 179 will be placed in Class B; and all those firing up through a score of 159 will be placed in Class C.

Medals for each men's class will be given—one for the best score and one for the second best score fired in each class.

WOMEN SHOOTERS will fire in two positions—the prone and the kneeling positions. Five shots are to be fired in each position. There is to be only one class for women shooters with two medals awarded—one to the highest score and one to the second highest score.

Rifles (.22 calibre), targets, shooting mats and other shooting equipment will be provided by the Rifle Club. The shooter need only provide his ammunition which will be on sale by the club at fifty cents for a box of fifty shells. The shooter may use his own rifle if he so desires.

Interested shooters may practice as much as desired before shooting for record up until the end of February. Shooters may also fire for record at any time as often as desired up until that time. However, only one score may be used in the final judging.

SKI CLUB DISCUSSES SKIING EXPERIENCES

Good news!! Snow's fine, skiing is excellent, and the Ski Club is off to Deep Wood. At last Tuesday's meeting Carolann took care of the business and turned the meeting over to Carl Spinti, who gave a talk on "Points in Turning." This talk led to the whole group joining in with their own experiences in turns... and spills.

A large turn out is expected to go up to Deep Wood this week end. Cars will leave from the circle at 8:45 a.m. both Saturday and Sunday. So join the fun and get out and ski!!!

DIETITIAN SPEAKS TO DIETETICS MEMBERS

On February 2, Miss Joyce Lettner, dietitian at Luther Hospital in Eau Claire, spoke to the Dietetics Club on various phases of her work. She informed the girls about her intern experience while learning to apply the theories she had obtained during four years at college. Of special interest was her brief summary of the average day of the dietitian's life. Although she did not fail to mention the problems of a dietitian, she nevertheless made the girls aware of the satisfactions that she received daily from helping others.

STOUT TOPS NORTHLAND IN NON-LEAGUE TILT

Blue Devils Win 68-57 As Reserves Show Up Well; Stewart Again High Man

Stout won its second non-conference game in succession Saturday night when an alert Blue Devil team wiped out an early Northland lead and went on to win 68-57 before a large home crowd at Menomonie.

Coach Ray C. Johnson pressed every member of his 12 man squad into the contest and the results were both successful and gratifying in a majority of cases. The starting lineup, which was composed of Tom Stewart and Bill Kieffer at forwards, Bruce Leonard at center, and Bob Boldt and Captain Tom Stilp at the guard posts, had a tough time getting started as the long range shooting of guards Durkin and Anderson kept Northland ahead during most of the first half. Indeed, it was the spot playing of guards Jim Dailey and John Widmar, center Ron Woodliff, and forward Bob Seaman that gave the Blue Devils a slender 36-35 lead at halftime. Seaman, who entered the scoring fray in the role of a replacement for Kieffer, twice hit on long shots to narrow the lead. Dailey pressed into action after the popular Tom Stilp committed his third personal, added a long one hander and a free throw to the cause, while Widmar took the final glory of the first half when he launched a terrific one-hand push shot from practically mid-floor just as the horn sounded.

Kieffer opened the final half of play by driving under for two points on a beautifully executed maneuver. From this point the Blue Devils were never headed and added to their lead during the final stages of the third and fourth stanzas.

Tom Stewart, the outstanding freshman scorer from Ladysmith and Menomonie, once again gave the local fans plenty to cheer about as he topped both teams in scoring with 21 points. The 6' 2" forward has now totaled 83 points in his last four ball games for a startling 20.7 average. The possessor of a terrifically fast pair of hands, Stewart rebounded expertly Saturday night and scored many of his points on follow-ins.

For Northland, Durkin and Anderson tied for team scoring honors with 14 points each. Both guards were exceptionally good ball handlers and provided the Blue Devils with several very anxious moments.

At the present time Coach Johnson has a team predominately built up of freshmen as Leonard, Stewart, Seaman, Dailey, Woodliff, Pluckhan, Zander, and Cisco all fit into this prescribed category. Kieffer, Stilp, and player coach Rokusek are the lone departing seniors, while both Boldt and Widmar will be back for one final campaign.

THE "ROARING TWENTIES"

PA'S WILL GIVE SKIT CALLED PALLAS CABARET

Did you ever wonder what your parents did for excitement back in the roaring 20's? Those were the days of the flapper, the Charleston, and the high kicking chorus lines. Songs that your parents danced and romanced to such as "Roll 'Em Girls," "They're Wearing 'Em Higher in Hawaii," and "Side by Side," will be revived on Wednesday, February 18, at 10 o'clock at the presentation of the Pallas Cabaret in the Stout auditorium. Ann Rossmiller, Dorie Beyer, Charmaine Chopp, and Jan Benedict are the friendly bartenders who will greet the customers at the Cabaret. Dashing, vibrant costumes will complement the sparkling personalities of the entertainers at the Cabaret. Jo Gritt and Delores Sauey will do a song and dance routine to "Knock the L out of Kelly," and Irus Ruf, as a typical siren of the flapper age, will sing "Leave Me With a Smile." Sam Mikitarian helped the girls learning the Charleston routine and will handle the lighting. A sneak preview of the skit, featuring one of the songs of the flapper age, will be given in the Union Sunday night at 7:55.

The PA's have had a lot of fun hunting in attics and storage chests for old sheet music and costumes, as well as having a terrific time in planning and rehearsing for the skit. Every member of Pallas Athenes will be in the skit, and the girls are sure that each of you who see the Pallas Cabaret will thoroughly enjoy it.

DR. OETTING PARTICIPATES IN CONFERENCE

As the official recorder for the discussion group on "Developing Competencies in the Education of Teachers to Deal with Controversial Issues," Stout Institute's department of psychology and education, participated in the recent regional conference on Teacher Education and professional standards.

Held in Chicago by the National Commission on Teacher Education and Professional Standards of the NEA, the meeting sought to obtain a thorough discussion of pressing problems in teacher education and professional standards, and to formulate action programs by state delegations for improvement in the problem areas discussed.

Six major problem areas were studied: Strengthening professional phases of teacher education programs; planning fifth-year programs of teacher education; closing the gap between the academic mind and the professional mind; developing attitudes in teachers; developing multiple approaches to balancing teacher supply and demand; making teachers competent to deal with controversies; heightening the professional standards movement.

The conference concluded that each teacher-education institution should determine for itself the best means by which the quality of persons admitted to teacher training may be improved. This conclusion was reached because

VALENTINE'S DAY HAS OLD CUSTOMS

A long time has passed since days of the Roman 'Lupercalia', which was the forerunner of our modern Saint Valentine's Day. But the idea is the same. St. Valentine's Day is still for boys, girls, and Cupid. The only major change has been in the method employed to bring these three people together.

In olden times the girls put their names in a large bowl. Then the boys would pick a girl's name, and the two would pair off. For several days afterwards, if the girl wore the boy's name pinned to her sleeve, it would be a 'hands off' signal to all other girls, and if this was done faithfully, the boy and girl would be married within one year.

If this method happened to fail, there was another way. The night before Saint Valentine's Day the girl would go out and gather five perfect bay leaves. These she would pin to her pillow, one in each corner, and one in the center. Then she would cook an egg, and remove the yolk. She would then fill it with salt, and eat the egg, shell and all, without eating or drinking anything before or after. Then, if she fell right asleep, the man she dreamt about would become her husband.

And, if by some strange circumstance, the man she dreamt about did not become her husband or suitor, there was still another, surer way of finding a husband. Write the names of all the boys she knows on slips of paper. Wrap each of them in a clay ball, and drop them in water. The one that floated to the top would be her future husband.

But now we are living in the 20th century where that has all supposedly passed. Today girls 'plan' how to 'capture' their man. It all sounds cold and forbidding, and really doesn't work to well. But there is a way, boys, to soften even the hardest of hearts. On February 14, send the girl you like best a Valentine. It doesn't have to have frills and lace—it doesn't have to be expensive. Just send her a valentine, and watch how fast she melts!

MR. BARNARD TO PARTICIPATE IN WORKSHOP

Representing The Stout Institute, David Barnard, director of audio-visual education at the college, will be a participant in the 1953 Motion Picture Production Workshop, to be held in Kansas City, Missouri, March 2-4.

The annual conference, sponsored by the Calvin Co., attracts between 225-350 persons each year. Included among the guests are audio-visual experts from all 48 states and several foreign nations. Participants represent industrial and private motion picture producers, film departments of educational institutions, armed forces units, governmental divisions, industry, and private individuals with varied interests.

The host company is an organization devoted to the technical side of audio-visual work. It specializes in recording, editing, and other technical services.

Topics to be discussed at the meeting include techniques of editing, film music, scripting, laboratory operations, and televising films. Participating will be Philip Chamberlain of the Eastman Kodak company.

DR. KIRK WILL PRESIDE OVER H. E. SESSION

Dr. Alice J. Kirk, dean of The Stout Institute division of home economics, has been selected to preside over an afternoon session of the Central Regional Conference on Home Economics Education, to be held in Chicago on February 16-20.

Conducted by the office of Education, division of vocational education, of the Federal Security Agency, the conference will attract 275 home economics leaders from 11 states. Theme of the event will be "The Family—A Concern of a Free Society."

Groups participating will include state supervisors of home economics, heads and deans of home economics departments, teacher-trainers in home economics education, city home economics supervisors, and supervisory teachers of home economics in the eleven-state central region.

Another member of The Stout Institute faculty participating in the conference will be Miss Ann Noble, head of home economics education at the college.

Objectives of the conference, as described by Dean Kirk, are fourfold: increased awareness of the relation between the home and society; growing awareness of the responsibility of Americans to maintain freedom; increased understanding of ways in which home economics can function in the home; and re-evaluation of long-time goals in home economics.

At the session over which Dean Kirk will preside, topics will include "Problems of Administration Which Concern Home Economics Education" and "FHA—An Integral Part of the Program." Also discussed at the afternoon session will be highlights of the conference, guides for action, and general business affairs.

KOREAN VETERANS GUESTS OF LEGION

All Korean veterans in Menomonie and at The Stout Institute are urged to attend the special Legion program in their honor Tuesday, February 17, in the city hall clubrooms, announced Dr. Ralph Allen, Hosford - Chase commander.

Matt Schlosser, service officer, will be the main speaker. The purpose is to inform the Korean veterans of their rights and privileges under existing legislation. Lunch and refreshments will be served following the meeting which starts at 8 p.m.

AMES AND MCCOOL WILL PRESENT LYCEUM FEB. 20

Evelyn Ames, contralto, star of Oratorio concert and radio, and Charles McCool, tenor, who has appeared with several University touring groups, will present a musical lyceum program at the Stout auditorium Friday, February 20, at 8:00 p.m.

ASA THROWS SHINDIG TOMORROW NIGHT

TODAY IS FINAL DAY FOR THE BLOODMOBILE

Today is The Stout Institute Day at the bloodmobile, and there is still time for Stout students to donate a pint of blood. The basement of the Memorial Library has been taken over by the Red Cross and will be open until 3:00 this afternoon.

The Red Cross has undertaken the huge job of collecting five million pints of blood. This will be used in the production of gamma globulin for polio prevention, in the care of the Korean wounded, in civilian hospitals, and in the building of a plasma reserve for military and civilian defense.

To attain the goal the Red Cross needs the co-operation of five million people. The price of a donation is only a half hour of your time. All can afford this much for a worthy cause.

PLEDGING TIME COMES AGAIN

Pledging time will soon be a reality on the Stout campus. This is the time when male students express their interest in a particular fraternity. This also gives the fraternities a chance to look the prospective members over and make their choices.

Names of eligible members are obtained from Dean Price's office after each student's records have been checked as to eligibility. Once the list is compiled, the various fraternities on the campus send invitations to prospective members. This enables both parties to attain more information about each other. For the pledges, this is the time to actually see what the organization does and what benefits can be attained; for the organization it is the time to look over prospective members and become acquainted with them as to their ideas of the organization, what they expect to do for the organization, and what the organization will do for them.

Pledging finally culminates with the ending of "Hell Week" at which time the pledges are granted full membership in the organization.

DR. IVERSON TO BE ON PLANNING COMMITTEE

Dr. Ralph G. Iverson was asked to be on the planning committee for the third Wisconsin Faculty Conference on Christianity and Scholarship which will be held next fall, and is sponsored by the Young Men's Christian Association of the University of Wisconsin. The planning committee will meet in Madison, Saturday, Feb. 14.

Gals, Git That Man and Bring Him To the Big Doins After The Game

With Sadie Hawkins week mostly behind, and the gals havin their men all ketched fer sure, it's thet time fer a huge celebration. Alpha Sigma Alpha, anticipation the need for a shindig, are throwin a dance termorrow night after the basketball game.

Mr. George Soderberg has promised to set the mood with foot stompin music and sweet tunes too, so ther ain't no excuse fer everybody not dancin. Stoutpatch womenhood will be in their glory, fer what better occasion to pull out their finery, bows, frills, and sech. Pigtails is the word in hair stylin. There'll be prizes fer the longest, fattest, skinniest, and the most.

Men ain't to be forgotten neither. A gal will be mighty proud of her date if he's all slicked up. To help things along the Alpha Sigs are awardin prizes to the best dressed guy, gal, and couple.

If this week has left yo gals near broke, yo better grab a man with a thin middle, cuz his waistline is going to determine the price of the ticket. That ain't much tho fer the fun yore bound to have.

If you ain't asked him yet, yo better get busy. There's still time, but remember Sadie Hawkins Week don't last forever.

FOUR GIRLS ARE SELECTED FOR YOUTH DAY

Selection of four Stout Institute coeds to represent the college at the University of Wisconsin Rural Youth Day, February 6, was announced by Dr. Alice J. Kirk, dean of The Stout Institute division of home economics.

Attending the Youth Day, which is part of Farm and Home Week at the university, were Mary Detlor, Plainfield; Miriam Eckert, Manchester; Carol Bredlow, Watertown; and Bernadine Gunderman, Bloomer. All girls have previously won trips to the National 4-H Congress.

Dedicated to "Youth's Part in Community Affairs," the event attracted delegates from throughout the state and from as far away as Iran and Germany. Participating were persons whose earlier 4-H activities have developed in them a permanent interest in youth work.

The Stout Institute representatives took part in special discussion groups during the all-day meeting. A banquet, during which was discussed current problems of youth, was held in the evening.

WINNER OF STUDENT ART AWARD

FRESHMAN IS WINNER OF ART AWARD FOR '53

The watercolor painting of a Stout Institute freshman student, Carlos Carter, Clintonville, occupies the cover of the 1953 Milwaukee Journal student art calendar which has just received general distribution.

One of only six winners among 269 entries, Carlos had been studying art just one year at the time of the award. He is majoring in architectural drawing at Stout. In addition to his major student-art award, Carlos also won three honorable mentions in a scholastic art competition.

THE STUDENT UNION MANAGER

MEET THE MAN WHO RUNS THE STOUT UNION

A familiar sight indeed is the tall, dark young man who can be seen about 9:00 o'clock each morning walking briskly from a bakery on Main Street, around the corner to Second Street, and across the campus to the Union. It's hard to miss the large tray of doughnuts balancing on the palm of one hand, and it's also hard to miss the wide grin on the "juggler's" face. This route is just a small part of the daily routine of its traveler, Gaylord Boyer, manager of the Stout Union.

Gay is a graduate student this year. The prospect of becoming the student manager of Stout's Union was one of the deciding factors which motivated Gay's steps back to the Stout campus again this year. This is not Gay's first experience in work of this type. For the past three years he worked part-time in several of the local restaurants. However, this is his first managerial experience, and he has found the work much to his liking. Gay carries his infectious grin with him constantly throughout the day as he proceeds with his other duties. Typical duties of his position are checking personnel, ordering and sometimes calling for supplies, writing out schedules, and generally being prepared for handling any emergencies that may occur from the time he opens the doors of the Union in the morning until the time he closes them at night. "The buying of some new chairs ranks first in our future plans for the Union," comments Gay.

He speaks highly of the 25-30 employees that are under his direction, and claims modestly that much of the success of the year thus far has been due to their fine cooperation.

Gay enjoys meeting and talking with people, which is a real asset for a Union manager. "Closing time is the most confidential time of the day," says Gay. So keep this in mind the next time you are faced with an unusually puzzling problem; perhaps you too can profit from this extra service!

Gay's home is in Berrien Springs, Michigan. At Stout he has been active in Sigma Tau Gamma and Epsilon Pi Tau. He will get his M.S. degree in Industrial Education in May of this year. Having spent the past two summers as a truck driver delivering new Studebakers from coast to coast, Gay not only had a chance to meet people from all sections of the country, but also was able to decide on the section he likes best. The Southwest holds his hopes for the future. His plans are not definite, but his first choice is to teach metals, his major field.

Certainly much of the enjoyment we all get from our efficiently directed Union can be attributed to the attention and service given it daily by its student manager. A big vote of thanks to Gay Boyer from all of us!

A. P. O. ASSISTS BLOOD DRIVE THIS WEEK

The blood drive in Menomonie was given added support by Alpha Phi Omega. Members of the organization offered their services as chauffeurs to donors, driving them to the library and then back home again.

Future undertakings for Alpha Phi Omega call for a joint meeting with the Eau Claire chapter. At this time delegates from both chapters to the National Convention will give their comments and ideas as to what transpired at the convention.

AUGSBURG CHOIR WILL BE GUESTS OF ISA

On Sunday, February 15, Our Savior's Lutheran Church will be the scene of an informal supper meeting between members of the Augsburg College Choir and all interested Stout students and faculty. The 5:30 supper will cost approximately 50¢ and will be followed by the choir's concert at 8:00 p.m. in the church. Everyone planning to attend the supper should sign the list by the library entrance.

CONGO CLUB HOLDS REGULAR MEETING

The Congo Club held a regular Sunday meeting at the church on February 8th. A meal was prepared by some of the members after which a business meeting and worship service were conducted. The topic of the discussion led by Judy Day was, "Through Jesus Christ Our Lord."

Plans were made for future meetings including the topic for next Sunday on "Preparation for Love and Marriage," which will be given by Dr. and Mrs. D. Agnew.

NEWMAN CLUB HOLDS REGULAR MEETING

The Newman Club held its regular meeting Sunday evening, February 8, at St. Joseph's School. Highlighting the evening was a supper served by the food committee and an interesting panel discussion by the religious committee. The regular business meeting followed the supper.

Important topics brought up at the meeting included the sending of delegates to the National Newman Club Federation Convention to be held on the University of Minnesota Campus the first week in September. The members also discussed and started making plans for the next meeting to be held February 22. The date is Cardinal Newman Day, the club's founder, and an excellent program is being planned.

Concluding the evening was a Valentine's dance held in the school hall.

JUDGE PETERSON TALKS TO WESLEY ON DIVORCE

"Christianity and Divorce" was the subject at Wesley Sunday, February 8. Judge Peterson of Dunn County presented the topic. He cited actual cases from his file to prove different points. He gave the implications of divorce.

Ed Griffith's committee prepared and served the evening meal.

Doris Hutchinson's committee presented the worship service, the theme was the sacred vows in the marriage ceremony.

Next Sunday a second semester Church night will be held. Everyone is urged to attend this evening of fun, food, and fellowship.

PHI U'S CELEBRATE FOUNDERS DAY FEB. 10

The Tau Chapter of Phi U celebrated Founders Day on February 10. In recognition of the birthday of Phi U in 1910, the members of Stout's chapter wore yellow roses and attended a dinner at the Marion Hotel. Nine alumni members were present at the banquet. There were five advisors present: Dean Kirk, Miss Trullinger, Miss Elliot, Mrs. Smith, and Mrs. Whydolski. After a welcome address by President Charmaine Chopp, Dorothy Messerschmidt presented the idea of organizing an alumni chapter and mentioned activities other alumni groups conducted. Concluding the program, Mary Detlor showed a series of slides of her trip to Washington D. C.

MISS CALLAHAN IS RECORDER FOR MEETING

Miss Gertrude L. Callahan, chairman of The Stout Institute English department, will act as recorder at a Conference on College Communication and Composition, being held in Chicago on March 13-14.

The meeting is being sponsored by the National Conference on the Teaching of English, an organization composed of many teachers of English and communication throughout the United States.

Acting as a workshop participant in "Preparation of College Teachers of Composition and Communication" will be Dr. Keith Rinehart, also a member of the Stout English department. The work of this group will be devoted to a study of the problems in training teachers in today's communicative skills and in setting forth a statement of policies to achieve this goal.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Erickson (Eileen Heimstead '44) live in Coas Bay, Oregon. They have two children.

PRINTING TEACHER LAYS HOUSE PLANS IN PICAS

We quote:

The following story might be of interest in the alumni section:

Recently I was visiting the Ward Cowels family in Waterloo, Iowa, where he has been teaching printing the past few years. Like many of us they have been thinking about building a house. In the course of our conversation I asked to see the tentative plans. They are very carefully sketched on graph paper and certainly represent what will be a very nice home but it is the first set of house plans I have ever seen that were laid out in PICAS.

Very truly yours,
Larry Wright
Training Officer

Editor: This we've got to see.

a college which prepares teachers is responsible primarily to the parents and to the state, and secondarily to the enrollees who wish to become teachers.

Thus teacher-education institutions and the teaching profession owe to the public a guarantee that teachers be competent and that enrollees doomed to failure will be excluded. Every effort should be exerted, of course, to prevent the personal frustrations and social loss which occur when the unfit student prepares for an occupation in which he cannot succeed.

The conference further agreed that some qualities and competencies which are demanded by the arduous job of teaching are as follows: physical health, mental ability, academic competence, emotional stability, leadership potential, social competence, sensitivity to current social and economic problems of the world, and the abilities to read, write and speak the mother tongue fluently.

It was agreed by the conferees that much improvement is needed in the laboratory experiences now had by teachers-in-training. Some means proposed were those of paralleling all professional courses in education with realistic laboratory experiences and by providing community experiences for students. Placement and follow-up were also emphasized as important aspects of the teacher preparation program.

Planning Fifth-year Programs of Teacher Education, all institutions preparing teachers were urged to study the fifth-year programs so frequently being employed in the upgrading of teachers. Such a technique would make sure that institutions really add something to the preparation of teachers beyond the thirty hour of credit usually employed.

To heal the growing rift between academists and educationists, it was suggested that teacher training institutions make certain that all who have concern for teacher education have a part in formulating institutional programs, and a part in the development of state certificate requirements.

Conferees agreed that three broad essential approaches to the problem of balancing teacher supply and demand be used:

1. Provisions to assure holding every possible qualified teacher now employed.
2. Provision to assure the adequate flow of capable young people into teacher education.
3. Provision for short-term procedures, designed to obviate the present shortage.

It was estimated that the shortage in elementary teachers in 1953 would be as great as 100,000. In secondary schools, shortages of teachers will gradually build up until the crises of 1957-60.

Goodwill is the mightiest practical force in the universe.

—C. F. Dole.

TWO FACULTY MEN ARE AUTHORS IN MAGAZINE

Two Stout Institute faculty members are authors of articles in the current issue of "Industrial Arts and Vocational Education," national magazine for industrial education.

John A. Jarvis, dean of Stout's division of industrial education, has collaborated with Donald G. Lux, Stout alumnus and now instructor at Ohio State university, on "Improvement of Achievement Tests." The article describes an items analysis technique whereby unsatisfactory test questions may be eliminated from any test.

Dr. Gustave S. Wall, associate professor of industrial education at Stout, has written "Shopwork in Industrial Arts Teaching Education" for the same issue. Dr. Wall's article discusses the amount of shopwork offered in the industrial arts teacher education curricula in the United States and the spread of shopwork by years.

Widmar Bags 14 for Stout.

by Henry Rokusek

The Stout Blue Devils traveled to Superior Friday night in search of their second league win of the season and third victory in four starts, but the Yellowjackets won out by a 95-70 score.

The Blue Devils, who trailed by 15 at the half, actually played better ball than the lopsided score indicates. On three different occasions it appeared as if the local cagers were well on their way to overtaking the Yellowjackets. But fouls eventually staved off all chances of victory as both Bill Kieffer and Tom Stewart left the game just after the half way mark. Kieffer, assigned to the brilliant Fred Walker, a hard driving type player, did not pick up his initial personal until late in the final quarter.

Coach Leo DeMarco opened with a starting lineup composed of Len Bartolutti and Fred Thompson at guards, Herubin at center, and Fred Walker and "Bones" Hulmer at forwards, while Coach Johnson started the same quintet used against Eau Claire employing Widmar, Stilp, Leonard, Kieffer, and Stewart at guards, center, and forwards respectively.

The Yellowjackets built up a sizeable lead soon after the Blue Devils had forged ahead by a 6-4 count. With Walker, Hulmer, and Bartolutti leading the way, Stout really had a tough time keeping up. Only the pot shooting of guards John Widmar and Captain Tom Stilp kept the Blue Devils in the running as Stewart, Leonard, and Kieffer had trouble finding the range. Bob Seaman, in for Kieffer in the second stanza, came through with another uncanny long desperation shot just before the termination of the first half.

The Blue Devils fought back hard during the early stages of the third period as both Kieffer and Stewart began to hit the mark. Stewart's improved rebounding helped the team considerably, but just at the stage when the Blue Devils began to come back, Kieffer fouled out. Stewart was acclaimed guilty of his fifth personal shortly thereafter and he too left the high scoring tilt.

Walker, as usual, played great basketball. He scored on a wide variety of shots and came through with the terrific total of 36 points. He was ably assisted by "Bones" Hulmer with 25 and Len Bartolutti with 19. These three men, incidentally, accounted for 80 of the 95 points registered by the Yellowjackets as DeMarco kept his first string in until the final two minutes of play.

Widmar led the Stout scoring with 14 points as Stilp hit 13, Stewart 11, Kieffer 10, and Leonard 9. In other games this would have done the trick, but on this cold night in Superior it just wasn't enough.

The Blue Devils play host to a pair of southern schools tonight and tomorrow night as Milwaukee and Oshkosh invade the local premises. Oshkosh finds itself well up in the standings as Coach Bob Kalf, the dean of conference coaches, has come up with another good team. Milwaukee also has played good ball of late and both contests should provide Stout fans with plenty of action and interesting basketball.

SIG TAU TEAM LEADS THE BOWLING LEAGUE

The Sigma Tau Gamma team holds first place with 18 wins and 2 losses as the Intramural Bowling League goes into the second half of their schedule, but the Hurley Tornados are close behind with 14 wins and 6 losses.

The individual scoring honors go to Frank Hoffman with a 143 average and David Gresch with a 139 average.

RUSHING PARTY THEME IS THE MARDI GRAS

The Intersorority rushing party was held on February 7 in the Stout gym to acquaint the freshmen and transfer girls with the four sororities on the campus. The theme of the party was "Mardi Gras," and most of the girls came in appropriate costumes which varied from those of pirates and barefoot Mexican peasants to cigarette girls, Cupid, a valentine, and flappers. Maria Quichacho, as a hula dancer, and Fran Soulek, as Mephistopheles, were crowned king and queen of the Mardi Gras.

The invitations to the party in the form of black masks were made by the Hyperians; the Alpha Sigmas were in charge of making the name tags which were presented to each girl at the door; and the Pallas Athenes had the responsibility of the entertainment which was conducted by Ardis Olsen and Bertie Harris. A relay race, an indoor scavenger hunt, a Mardi Gras parade, and a costume-judging contest composed the activities. The presidents of the sororities introduced their members and advisors and each group sang their song. Coffee and doughnuts served in the Union by the Tri Sigmas concluded the party. During this time everyone could get acquainted with the new girls.

Dean Antrim, Miss Diefenbach, Miss Carrison, and Dr. Marshall were judges of the contests.

Humility leads to strength and not to weakness. It is the highest form of self-respect to admit mistakes and to make amends for them.

—John J. McCloy.

FOB'S WIN INTRAMURAL CAGE CHAMPIONSHIP

The intramural basketball program came to a close when the F.O.B. won their second successive championship Tuesday night. In a late disclosure announced just prior to the scheduled game with the F. O. B., player-coach August Schultz submitted a note to the confines of the Athletic Department and Intramural director Jack Wink. Schultz, who appears to manage the affairs and fates of the Phi Sigs off the floor as well as on, decided that the outcome would be a forgone conclusion and that it was better not to show up than to lose by a lopsided margin. This was in effect what the note contained as the game was officially declared a forfeit and the F. O. B.'s were handed the title.

Possessors of a 10 win and no loss slate, the F. O. B.'s defeated the Phi Sigs in a preliminary game during the early stages of the season. The team was sparked to victory by veteran squad members John Jacobson, Karl Turk, George Krall, Don Beran, and Willis Bogenhagen plus newcomers Al Loew, Gerry Henderson, Dave Bornstedt, and Ronnie Johnson.

The F. O. B.'s defeated the intramural winner from Eau Claire State Teachers College in the opening contest of the Eau Claire - Stout twin bill 55-42 two weeks ago.

INTRAMURAL SHOOTING HELD BY RIFLE CLUB

The Rifle Club has released the schedule for intramural rifle shooting practice to be held in the upper gym of Bowman Hall.

Students may practice during the following hours on the indoor range of the Stout Rifle Club: Wednesday and Friday evenings, 7 to 9, and from 1 until 4 o'clock.

All students interested are urged to sign up and begin practice because the deadline for entering is February 28.

Everyone entering the contests will be placed into classes according to his shooting abilities, a special class has been included for women shooters. All equipment and ammunition will be provided or made available by the Stout Rifle Club.

OFFICERS ELECTED BY PHI SIGS FEBRUARY 5

Election of officers was held as a part of the regular meeting of the Phi Sigma Epsilon Fraternity in their clubroom above the Student Union on Thursday, February 5.

The regular meeting of the Phi Sigma Epsilon was held Thursday, February 5, with the retiring organization officers concluding the last work of their administration.

Upon completion of the business of the evening, election of new officers was held. The following officers of the organization were elected: president, Willis Capps; vice president, Richard Bilse; secretary-treasurer, Neil Hoepfner; corresponding secretary, Leroy Sharkey; sergeant at arms, Fred Kneisler; and historian, Oliver Agre-lie.

Retiring officers of the Phi Sigma Epsilon are: president, Howard Heigl; vice president, James Cook; secretary-treasurer, Joe Luetkemeyer; corresponding secretary, Neil Hoepfner; sergeant at arms, Dan Jeatran; and historian, Richard Bilse.

SEVENTH PARADE OF QUARTETTES IS HELD

The Stout auditorium echoed some close-harmony singing last Saturday night, February 7. The occasion was the Seventh Parade of Quartettes presented by the Menomonie Chapter of S. P. E. B. S. Q. S. A.

One of the featured quartettes, Three Breezes and a Russell, was already familiar to us at Stout. Two of its members, Jim Forin and Chuck Russell, are Stout students while a third, John Phelan, attended here last semester.

Featured along with the Menomonie groups were two quartettes of wide renown—the Sing Capetes of Appleton, and the Chicagoans of the "Windy City." The Chicagoans were the Illinois District champions in 1949 and since then have lost none of their talent. Four young students from Lawrence College composed the Sing Capetes who recently have been on tour through the U. S.

The local chapter of S. P. E. B. S. Q. S. A. urges anyone who is interested in quartette singing to contact one of its present members.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

The Conference Picture The Stout Blue Devils will play Milwaukee, Oshkosh, and LaCrosse, before traveling to River Falls for the season final on Saturday February 28. The power this season rests in the southern division of the circuit with Platteville, Oshkosh, Milwaukee, and Stevens Point all running fairly high in the conference race. Only Whitewater, last year's champion, appears as the loop's weak sister having lost all but one man on last year's N.A.I.B. entry. The Platteville Pioneers, who conquered the Blue Devils 65-38 at Platteville, sport an envious season mark of six wins and one loss, although this record could be changed considerably as the Pioneers play two successive games on the road.

The Superior Yellowjackets, odds on favorite to win the coveted crown, ran along very smoothly until a couple of weeks ago. A disastrous southern trip, followed by successive losses to River Falls and LaCrosse all but dropped the Yellowjackets from contention. They still have a dangerous club; however, as witnessed by Friday night's 95-70 victory over the Blue Devils.

Roger Kuss, the long center of the River Falls Falcons, has more than held up his share of the bargain as he has averaged slightly better than 36 points per contest. This terrific total has kept him in the runnerup spot among the Nation's top scorers trailing only the sensational "6'9" freshman from Rio Grande College in Ohio, "Bevo" Francis, who, incidentally, has a 50.2 per game scoring average. Even with the brilliant Kuss, River Falls has a team which has blown both hot and cold during the season. Lack of balanced scoring power and an adequate team defense have hampered the Falcons on numerous occasions.

Oshkosh, Stout's opponent on tomorrow's card, and winner over first place Platteville, has an impressive squad containing three outstanding newcomers and all-conference guard, John Butrymowicz. Milwaukee, on the other hand, is paced by Al Wulz, senior forward, who lead the Gulls in scoring last year with a 15 point per game average.

The Blue Devils, after a slow start, have shown marked improvement over the past three weeks and should give both ball clubs a good tussle. So get out to see both games this weekend and cheer the boys on to victory. Remember, there are only three home games remaining.

Best Ball Players Department. The Blue Devils have run up against a host of fine basketball players this season as individual stars continue to dominate many of this year's ball clubs. High on our list for all-conference recognition are Walker, Polglase, Bartolutti, and Hulmer of Superior, Kuss and Williams of River Falls, Bostad and Blomily of Point, Juel and Humphrey of LaCrosse, R. Hanson, Dufrane, and Torgeson of Eau Claire, and Rhineck, Vogler, and Van Fleet of Platteville. We have yet to see Whitewater while Oshkosh and Milwaukee will be here this weekend.

Our Minnesota opponents also had home fine all-conference ballplayers and such athletes as Gits, Opatz, and Christopherson of St. John's, Costello, Shlake, and Skemp of St. Mary's, Rosenblum and Richardson of Carleton, Richter and Lingenfelter of Winona, and Stephan of St. Cloud can not be overlooked nor underestimated.

It would indeed be a chore to pick out five men in this group, but our own favorites for an all-opponent team would have to include Costello and Walker at forwards, Kuss at center, and Rosenblum and Polglase or Opatz at guards. Here is a team that would have everything. Height, shooting ability, superior ball handling, rebounding and all of the other skills that go into the making of a fine ball club are realized on this aggregation.

THE PHI SIG BLOOD DRIVE

PHI SIGS GIVE THREE GALLONS OF BLOOD

The Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity of The Stout Institute gave a total of three gallons of blood to the American Red Cross Bloodmobile Unit on Friday, February 13, when the unit was set up in the basement of the Memorial Library.

The Omega Chapter of Phi Sigma Epsilon is a group of twenty-nine members and two advisors of a national social fraternity dedicated to the purposes of fellowship, better understanding of all men, encouragement of culture, fostering college spirit, and perpetuating friendship and intimate social ties within its membership.

The Omega Chapter decided as a body to give blood for whatever worthy uses the Red Cross has for it. The fraternity hopes that in so doing no wounded serviceman in the hills of Korea or anyone in need of blood in the United States will go without blood just because there wasn't enough to go around. Members of the Stout fraternity who backed the blood campaign were as follows: Willis Capps, Bob Asman, James Cook, Francis Oberpriller, Jack Luy, Jim Berry, Oliver Agerlie, Bill Buckley, Robert Moe, Joe Luetkemeyer, Neil Hoepfner, Dick Jung, Lewis Lausted, August Schultz, Lawrence Styer, Lawrence Temple, Richard Kasel, Dan Jeatran, Dale Anderson, Howard Heigl, Richard Bilse, Gino Casucci, Howard Vetter, John DeBock, Al Ochs, Fred Kneisler, Leroy Sharkey, Fred Scheppler, and Sig Warda.

Although it was Friday the thirteenth, no one in the fraternity seemed to suffer ill effects or misfortune while they were giving blood. All were in gay spirits as they emerged from the blood unit.

Many of the fraternity members were happy to discover that there were no square or extra long needles in evidence as the registered nurses extracted the life-giving liquid from the arms of the volunteers. Nor was there anyone who instead of giving blood, was requested to take a little.

ARE YOU QUALIFIED TO TEACH SHEET METAL?

The Stout College Placement Office announces that the Area Vocational School of Austin, Minnesota, needs a vocational sheet metal teacher to teach vocational day trade preparatory classes starting September 1, 1953. The instructor qualifying for the position must have had 36 months or more of practical trade experience in sheet metal fabrication. This practical experience must have been in the field of sheet metal work encountered in designing and installing small to medium size hot air heating and air conditioning units. Employment will be for the nine months (37 weeks) with the possibility of summer school classes starting in June, 1954. Floyd J. Lueben is the director.

PHI SIGS CHALLENGE FOB TO GRUDGE GAME

Attention all members of the F. O. B.'s! Please take notice of this declaration.

The Phi Sigs have been severely criticized in lay circles, principally F. O. B., about our forfeiture of an irrelevant basketball game. Efforts have been made to distort our position. It has been said, in effect, that the Phi Sigs are afraid to play the F. O. B.'s. Nothing could be farther from the truth. We play basketball as few other teams can play it, and once a grudge game is forced upon us, there is no alternative but to apply every available means to bring it to a swift and victorious end—the object of a grudge game is victory, not prolonged indecision.

In a grudge game there is no room for appeasement. Appeasement breeds a shambled peace. Therefore, we, the members of Phi Sigma Epsilon do hereby CHALLENGE the F. O. B.'s to play us on March 4th, in the high school gym at 8 p.m. We advise you to come prepared because we will settle our score one way or another.

Note: For certain phrases contained in this article, we are indebted to general of the army, Douglas MacArthur.

Ruth Kelly, Pat Casberg, and Bea Anderson talk over the experience of giving a pint of blood as they enjoy the coffee and cookies provided afterward. School nurse, Shirley Kuhn, R.N. looks on.

ONE HUNDRED AND SIXTY-ONE GIVE BLOOD

A total of one hundred and sixty-one students, faculty and their families of The Stout Institute cooperated in the campus blood drive held on Friday, February 13, in the basement of the Memorial Library. This total does not include those who came to the blood unit without parental permits or those who came after the unit was closed for the day.

STOUT CONCERT BAND TO SHOW TALENTS MARCH 3

CONTRALTO AND TENOR WILL GIVE PROGRAM

Evelyn Ames and Charles McCool, contralto and tenor, will present a program of varied musical selections at the lyceum program tonight in the Stout auditorium at 8 p.m.

Evelyn Ames has appeared throughout the Middle West in concert, recital and oratorio. Her important radio engagements have included The Carnation Hour, Kraft Music Hall, Pageant of Melody, Maid of America, and the Northerners.

Charles McCool has been acclaimed as outstanding soloist in the Chicago area. He has been engaged by various college groups and has appeared with marked success before numerous womens clubs in the Chicago area.

Their program promises to be one of high quality entertainment.

HYPY SPONSOR DANCE AFTER LACROSSE GAME

The Hyperian Sorority has added to February's several "special" days by sponsoring a dance on Saturday, February 21, after the Stout - LaCrosse game. Music for the "February Frolics" will be provided by the Royal Blackhaws. The Hypys will be looking forward to having you help them celebrate their February holiday.

ROBERT W. HANSEN TO SPEAK AT CONVO

Robert W. Hansen, representative of the American Brotherhood and Inter-Religious Council, will speak at the convocation on Wednesday, February 25.

Mr. Hansen graduated from Marquette University and was the former editor of the Marquette Law Review. He was also national president of the Fraternal Order of Eagles and editor of the National Eagle magazine. At the present time Mr. Hansen is a member of the All American Conference to Combat Communism, a conference of 61 national organizations formed to promote freedom and to combat communism.

Mr. Hansen represents the National Conference of Christians and Jews, a civic organization of religiously motivated persons seeking "to promote justice, amity, understanding, and co-operation among Protestants, Catholics, and Jews, and to analyze, moderate and finally eliminate intergroup prejudices which disfigure and distort religious, business, social, and political relations."

BALDWIN RATED BY DR. SALTER AND COMMITTEE

Dr. Guy Salter was on the committee of the North Central association of colleges and secondary schools that was asked to evaluate Baldwin high school, in order that it might meet the requirements needed to become a member of this association.

The Wisconsin state committee headed by R. F. Lewis, assistant state superintendent of public instruction, called 28 educators in the Baldwin area to visit Baldwin high school and evaluate techniques and programs and make a report to the state committee.

The Baldwin high school staff under Principal Lewis Berg have been self evaluating their school for some time. The North Central committee audited their self evaluation and made recommendations.

Rex Remenberg of the state department of public instruction was consultant for the study. C. A. Vig of New Richmond was general chairman. Besides Dr. Salter, Dr. A. G. Stone from River Falls and Dr. Axel Peterson of Eau Claire were the college representatives. Other members of the committee were high school principals, superintendents and teachers from north western Wisconsin.

Proceeds From Tickets To Help Finance Spring Tour For Band And Choir

A winter band concert by The Stout Institute Concert Band, Victor H. Hardt conducting, will be given on Tuesday evening, March 3, at 8:15 p.m. in the Stout auditorium.

Included in the program will be overtures, marches, novelty numbers, and popular selections. In addition soloists and ensembles will be heard in selections for snare drum, cornet, violin, clarinet, and brass.

Miss Dorothy Belisle, Menomonee pianist, will be a featured soloist with the band. Miss Evelyn Knospe, band director of Menomonee high school, will appear as guest conductor for one of the band numbers.

Music students at the college have begun a ticket-selling campaign in Menomonee. Tickets may be purchased from these students or at the door on the evening of the concert. Proceeds from the tickets, which are 75 cents for adults and 25 cents for children, will help finance the spring tour for the band and choir. The spring tour, to take place during the first week in May, will take the Stout music groups through southern Wisconsin and the Chicago areas.

According to Director Hardt, the band members and soloists have been working hard in preparation for the concert and promise an interesting and varied evening of musical entertainment.

APPLY FOR SELECTIVE SERVICE EXAM NOW

All eligible students who intend to take the Selective Service College Qualification Test in 1953 should file applications at once for the April 23 administration, Selective Service National Headquarters advised today.

An application and a bulletin of information may be obtained at any Selective Service board. Following instructions in the bulletin, the student should fill out his application immediately and mail it in the special envelope provided. Applications must be postmarked no later than midnight, March 9, 1953. Early filing will be greatly to the student's advantage.

Results will be reported to the student's Selective Service local board of jurisdiction for use in considering his deferment as a student, according to Educational Testing Service, which prepares and administers the College Qualification Test.

PA'S ASSEMBLY SKIT REALLY WOWS 'EM

By the time convocation was over Wednesday and the students pushed their way out of the jammed auditorium, many were humming snatches of "Roll 'em Girls", "By the Sea", and "They're Wearing Them Higher in Hawaii." Then came the time to talk over everything that had happened.

The general opinion was that the chorus line should have given a repeat performance. Everyone is still wondering who let out that enthusiastic "woof!" as cigarette girl, Carol Zuege, appeared in her danger red costume. The harmony given out by "Three Porks and a Chopp" was really extra special, but how could they keep their solemn expression during that one verse? Dolly Sauey and Jo Gritt had a fast change of character parts from "Knock the 'L' out of Kelly" to "I Don't Want to Play in Your Yard." Ann Rossmiller intrigued the audience with "Come on Papa." Few people realized that the voice behind Maryann Smith's "Roll 'em Girls" was Iris Ruff. In addition to her convincing mimicry, Maryann really wowed policeman, Avis Reschenberg. Iris used her charms on the gentlemen in the cabaret, much to the displeasure of their girl friends. Carolann Hammersten and Jo Gritt proved that they are wearing them higher in the U. S. as well as in Hawaii when they charlestoned. The grand finale rolled out as the Pallas Athenes linked arms "Side by Side."

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Election time will soon be here again. During the coming week many petitions will circulate around the campus, and various people will ask you to sign a petition in order to put an individual on the election ballot.

Signing one of these petitions does not mean that you are voting for this certain individual, but you should think about whom you are signing for. Before signing a petition consider if the candidate is qualified, if he will represent you as the student body to the administration, and if he will serve you as well as the present officers have. Remember that the offices to be filled are important ones. The officers represent us, the students, in all affairs with the administration and the student governing board. They are the people who will make the decisions affecting us directly and indirectly.

SSA MESSAGE

In one more week it will be time for social fraternities to begin their pledging. "Hell Week" as it is called is a time for everyone to enjoy, even the pledges if they enter it with the right attitude.

During "Hell Week" the pledges of the four social fraternities are required to perform a multitude of duties to find out if they are qualified for admission to a fraternity. Those of you who are about to pledge may think you are being picked on, but remember, everyone in a fraternity has gone through the same stage. If you will remember this, "Hell Week" can be a pleasant experience for you and others at Stout. Let's make this year's "Hell Week" one of the best ever experienced on our campus.

Don't forget that Friday, February 27, is the deadline for the SSA officer's petitions. A position in the SSA is one which requires time and effort, but without a student association, many of the students' needs would not be filled. Place care in the selection of a candidate and have his or her petition in the SSA office by five o'clock Friday, February 27. Let's make it a good election this year by having several candidates for each office and by giving each a good, clean campaign. Remember the SSA is your voice; without it, the administration would not be aware of many of the students' needs, so let's make this year's election a good one.

Your SSA Officers,
Dick, Ann, George, Jack

"MR. TEXAS" TO BE SHOWN BY SCF

A showing of the colorfilm, "Mr. Texas" will be the main feature of the meeting of The Stout Christian Fellowship to be held Tuesday, February 23. Anyone interested in seeing this film is invited to attend at 6:45 p.m. in the club room above the student union.

"Mr. Texas" is one of the stories of the evangelist, Billy Graham. The color film has its setting in the state of Texas.

Lunch will be served following the film. Everyone is invited to see this film on Tuesday evening.

PLEDGES MEET APO MEMBERS AT MEETING

Dispensing with the regular business meeting, President Sorenson asked members of Alpha Phi Omega to introduce themselves to the pledges. After completing introductions, the president turned the remainder of the meeting over to Vice-President Bob Spinti. Bob called on August Bell, Fred Kajihara, Oliver Agertie, and Charles Weber to explain the three objectives of A.P.O. and the history of Eta Kappa Chapter at Stout.

Vice-President Spinti next introduced Dean Price. Mr. Price informed the pledges as to the backgrounds and qualifications of the advisors. He stated that recommendations as a member of APO are always highly regarded.

Pledges were then dismissed, and a short business meeting followed. A letter from the Eau Claire Chapter was read to members extending an invitation to them to attend open house February 18, at the Eau Claire campus.

President Sorenson made known that A.P.O.'s request to obtain a franchise to laminate cards had received approval from the Governing Board. Laminated cards preserve the life of the card for a greater period of time against wear and tear. The card is coated with a transparent solution that hardens and leaves the card in a durable condition. A nominal fee to cover expenses will be asked when orders are taken by A.P.O. for cards. The organization will realize no profit from this service to the student body.

Before adjourning, August Bell suggested that this year's pledging program should include provisions to have each pledge make a wooden key. The key would be a duplicate of the official key of the organization. Members would be allowed to keep these keys after pledging. A report on the first-aid campaign completed recently by A.P.O. was given and accepted by members.

CUPID CONTINUES INDISPENSIBLE JOB

Within the last two weeks cupid has been a busy fellow. Alice Kelly, a junior from Chippewa Falls, received a ring from Jim Seitz, who lived in Menomonie until joining the service last fall. Ann Sipple from Cleveland, Ohio, and Neil Palmer also announced their engagement and plans for a summer wedding.

VALENTINE SUPPER AT WESLEY FEBRUARY 15

At 5:30 p.m. on February 15, Doris Hutchinson and her committee served a supper at Wesley. Red and white table decorations carried out the Valentine theme. The worship service, presented by a committee under the supervision of Bert Moline, consisted primarily of hymns. Following worship Earl Knight directed folk games.

TOPSY TURVY SADIE HAWKINS WEEK IS OVER

After enjoying a week of unlimited opportunity, Sadie Hawkins disappeared from Stout at midnight February 14. To commemorate her departure, Alpha Sigma Alpha sponsored a dance as topsy turvy as the six days preceding it.

The Stout-Oshkosh game provided the needed spark for an evening of fun. Ten spirited freshmen girls, donned in unique get-ups cheered the Blue Devils to victory, while the crowd matched their enthusiasm.

Afterwards, knowing this to be the last chance, the girls dragged the guys to the dance. Ticket takers measured the waists of the boys, despite protests and corrections. Most of the Stoutpatch population followed the tradition of dressing up. Everything from long underwear to black derbies characterized the costumes.

The Royal Blackhawks were the music makers, setting the mood with their tunes. Decorations were straight from Al Capps drawing board with Mammy and Pappy Yokum holding the places of honor.

Judging of costumes and pigtailed was done by the chaperones: Mr. and Mrs. Barnard, Mr. and Mrs. Harbour.

NEWS OF OUR ALUMNI

Joanne Buboltz '52 is an interne in the Barnes hospital in St. Louis, Missouri. She is working in many departments and enjoys her work very much.

Beverly Brehmer Ryder, B. S. '52, is teaching in the Woodville school and has affiliated the F.H.A. chapter at Woodville with the state and national F. H. A. for the first time. Her husband, Lawrence (Bud) Ryder, is at Stout working on his M. S. degree.

Helen Haase Mein attended Stout for one year and then attended college at St. Theresa in Kansas City, Missouri. She is married and has a twenty-one month old daughter. Her husband is an electrical engineer for General Motors. They just bought a new home at 4712 W. 60 Terrace, Madison, Kansas.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Schlosser (Isabel O'Meara, B. S. '40) live in Arkansas, Wisconsin. They have two sons, Charles and Pat, and one daughter, Mary Serena.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Gilmore (Lila Danielson, B. S. '45), live at 6451 La Miranda, Hollywood 38, California. Mr. Gilmore is a sound technician at Goldwyn studios in Hollywood.

Mr. and Mrs. Stan L. Fox (Ruth Good), both B. S. '38 are living in Owatonna, Minnesota. They have been married for fourteen years and have one son four years old. Stan is plant engineer for Josten Manufacturing company and American Year Book company. Ruth attended the Stout alumni dinner in Milwaukee in November '52. Stan has been president of the Jr. Chamber of Commerce and on the administrative committee for the Boy Scouts. Ruth was president of the League of Women Voters of Owatonna in '51 and '52. She also belongs to the Steele county home economics associations. Their address is Stan L. Fox, 817 Harriet, Owatonna, Minnesota.

Frank L. Dumann, B. S. '46, is residing in Milwaukee. He spent last summer in the Yukon Territory of Canada. His travels on the Alcan highway could fill a book on adventures.

Richard P. Maliszewski, B. S. '49, has two children, Paul six years old and Marian seven years old. His new address is 44 West Irving Street, Oshkosh, Wisconsin.

Gertrude Samida Taggart, B. S. '26 and M. S. '50, has resided in Rhinelander since 1946. She married Gordon Taggart in 1932. She has taught in Rhinelander schools and has been in institutional management work in Oneida County in '45-'48. In '47, when her husband passed away she finished his unexpired term as sheriff. She returned to Stout in 1950 to obtain her M. S. degree.

Helen Helm Russell '50 is now in Trieste with her husband who is in service. Her husband is Joel Russell, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Russell of Menomonie. She formerly taught at the Mobridge high school in Mobridge, South Dakota.

Bernice S. Thomas, B. S. '15, is a house mother at Memorial Hall at Eau Claire state college. She has three married daughters and eight grandchildren. Her husband is not living.

Anita Gundlach, B. S. '31, is assistant state Supervisor of the home economics extension at the University of Wisconsin. She spent the 1951-52 school year at U. C. L. A. in California, where she received her M. S. in home economics education. She was also a recipient of a $2,000 scholarship from the Farm Foundation Fellowship. Her address is Anita Gundlach, 2223 University Avenue, Madison, Wisconsin.

Robert Adkins, drafted in October '52, is in W. Monmouth, New Jersey. He is in the U. S. Army Signal Corp training center taking a twenty week course in fixed radio station repair. Mike Huley '52 and Wayne Weiler who attended Stout are in the same company.

Margaret Jwarogowski, who worked in the graduate office, is in San Diego with her husband and six months old son. Their address is 4931 Saratoga Avenue, San Diego, California.

Pvt. Bill Sherman, who attended Stout in 1950-52, has been moved to El Paso, Texas.

Mr. Matt Janiak '50 and his wife, Betty, are in the Hawaiian Islands where he is working with the Federal Communications Commission. He is concerned with keeping the radio stations operating on the proper frequencies. Their address is 247 Kulauli Street, Kneone, T. H.

Fred Plonsky '51, one of the factory representatives of the Delta Power Tool Division of the Rockwell Manufacturing Industries, will give a demonstration on the efficient use of the radial arm saw at the fifth annual Industrial Teachers Conference which is to be held on the Texas A & M College campus Friday and Saturday, February 27-28. The Industrial Education Department and the Engineering Extension Service will serve as hosts of this Industrial Education Conference in Texas.

H. C. THAYER IS THE STATE SUPERVISOR

It is of interest for students and alumni of The Stout Institute to know that the Wisconsin state supervisor of trade and industrial education is now H. C. Thayer. He succeeds R. L. Welch.

Mr. Thayer, who at one time was a faculty member at Stout, is still a frequent member of the summer school teaching staff. Mr. Thayer is on the staff of the Wisconsin state board of vocational education.

STOUT IS WELL REPRESENTED IN MAGAZINE

Faculty and students of The Stout Institute were prominent among contributors to a recent issue of "The Wisconsin Dietitian," the official publication of the Wisconsin Dietetic association.

Author of "Did You Hear Opportunity Knock?" is Miss Ella Jane Meiler, head of the department of food and nutrition at Stout. Her article encourages improved nutrition education in the community and making use of opportunities to coordinate such projects with relevant events in the community, especially events that help people realize their need for better nutrition.

A Stout Institute coed from Guam, Maria Quichocho, has written "Guamanian Foods." Her feature article points out the similarity in diet of persons living on Guam and those in the United States. Maria indicates that on Guam the "Basic Seven" foods are important considerations in the diet of all citizens, but that war's devastation has made the importation of foodstuffs a necessity.

"Hawaiian Foods" is the title of an interesting feature by Michiko Okada, a Stout graduate at mid-year who is now interning at Indiana University Medical Center in Indianapolis. Michiko describes the environment of her native Hawaii, comparing it to life as she found it on the Mainland. She also gives a charming description of many Hawaiian foods, stressing those dishes typical of the Japanese and native Hawaiian national groups in the Islands.

Also a great interest is an essay, "What I Expect from a Dietetic Internship," a part of Beverly Hedlund's application for a scholarship which the Wisconsin Dietetic Association sponsors to encourage students to take a dietetic internship. Miss Hedlund won one of the $200 scholarships awarded last year.

Beverly, a Stout graduate of June, 1952, is now interning in dietetics at the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital in Boston, Massachusetts. This hospital is associated with the Harvard Medical School. Students now enrolled in the dietetics curriculum at Stout, or any students still searching for a life career, will find much that is interesting and stimulating in an article written by a young woman who successfully completed her dietetics training and has now begun a splendid internship.

WHAT I EXPECT FROM DIETETIC INTERNSHIP

By Beverly Hedlund
My first thought is what can I give, and my second thought is what can I expect to receive.

What can I give? An enthusiastic spirit for my work and for my profession; cooperation both to my superiors and to my equals; a deep understanding of human nature; great tact in working with both the sick and the well; patience for the most tedious tasks; unlimited energy for the work at hand; courage to take upon the seemingly hopeless cases; a cheerful attitude on even the most discouraging day; application of all that I have learned in my college courses; an open mind that is ready to accept new ideas and suggestions; and time and effort willingly given to the job. I firmly believe that one receives only that which one puts into it. With this in mind, I will endeavor to do everything possible on my part to make my internship the most valuable part of my training.

Second, what can I expect to receive? It has often been said "actual experience is the best teacher." Here I expect to receive just that—experience in all the phases of dietetics. Under administration experiences will be menu planning, ordering, marketing, preparing quantity food, using equipment, supervising personnel, cafeteria service, housekeeping, administration contacts and policies, cost accounting and control, purchase records, et cetera. Under diet therapy will be planning and teaching of special diets, supervising tray service, preparing and serving research diets, instructing patients in normal and therapeutic diets, taking nutrition histories, working with children's diets and formulas, participating in the work of a state and city nutritionist, et cetera. From all these experiences I shall readily learn the time and effort required for each task. I will know what to expect of each employee for a day's work and better appreciate his viewpoint. This will serve as a guide to me when I am the dietitian in charge. Another great benefit will be the experience of carrying full responsibility for relieving a staff member for a short time. When I put all this together, I will certainly have an excellent picture of the work of a dietitian.

At the same time that I am gaining experience in all these phases, I am also becoming acquainted with each, and will be aware of my strong points and my weak points. I shall have the opportunity to learn that which I am best suited for and most interested in, which would be helpful if I should decide to go into one particular phase of dietetics upon my completion of the course.

An internship offers the chance of a lifetime for here I shall have the occasion to meet all levels of intelligence, skills, ages, and health. To me the study of human nature is of utmost interest.

My opportunities will certainly not be limited solely to my work. There will be the new friendships to form in a new location. There will be the advantage of the many cultural and recreational facilities in the city. There will be the professional educational experience gained through seminars and practice. There will be a few semester hours of graduate work at a college in the city which in itself will be a new educational experience.

As a junior member of the American Dietetic Association, I plan to become fully acquainted with the work of this great professional group. Before completion of the course I will be proud to join as an active member, and I will be ready immediately to assume an active part in the work of this organization.

OSHKOSH 78-71 VICTIMS IN BLUEDEVIL TRIUMPH

Second League Win For Stout as Stewart, Kieffer, And Leonard Lead Assault

Exhibiting their finest basketball of the season, the Stout Blue Devils dumped the highly regarded Oshkosh Titans 78-71 Saturday night. The Blue Devils, who led by the slim margin of a single point at halftime, displayed some excellent offensive and defensive work throughout the third quarter, during which time Oshkosh was held to the meager total of seven points. So completely did the Blue Devils dominate play, that Oshkosh did not obtain one field goal throughout the ten minute period, as the Blue Devils held a substantial 62-50 lead. A few anxious moments prevailed during the final minutes of the last quarter as Tommy Stilt fouled out, but Jim Dailey, the mighty mite from Omro, succeeded the Stout captain and was instrumental in protecting the lead.

The Blue Devils, who led almost all the way, had excellent balanced scoring right down the line. Tom Stewart and Bill Kieffer both went over the 20 mark, while Bruce Leonard and John Widmar hit 17 and 13 respectively. Stilt, who hit only one free throw, nevertheless made his presence felt as he sported many assists and intercepted several enemy passes throughout the contest. It must also be remembered that neither Stilt or Dailey took many shots at the hoop during the time that they were in the game.

Coach Bob Kolf opened with a comparatively small but speedy five as John Butrymowicz, John Dees, Reggie Lamers, Russ Tiedeman, and Jim Stearns answered the opening whistle. Lamers and Tiedeman, high scorers and fine rebounders, were held beautifully in check by Stout forwards, Kieffer and Stewart. The latter played what perhaps was his best game of the year as he came off with a majority of rebounds and harassed the brilliant Tiedeman all the way. As for scoring, Stewart scored 23 to Tiedeman's 7; while Kieffer canned 21 to Lamer's 5.

Bruce Leonard also came through for Coach Johnson and produced 17 big points for his finest offensive performance of the season. At least two of Leonard's tips bordered on the sensational, as the Minneapolis athlete made a big improvement over his showing the night before. Another Stout hero was John Widmar who dropped in four long shots when the Blue Devils were battling for the lead early in the ball game. The Crosby junior added some free throws late in the game to further ice the contest. The Blue Devils did more cutting than any time during the season, as evidenced by the fact that four Oshkosh starters left on five personals.

Oshkosh, who had smashed first place Platteville by almost thirty points at the Oshkosh "bowling alley" two weeks ago, lost a hard fought tilt to Eau Claire the night before. The double defeat at the hands of the two northern entries all but throws them out of the running for the conference crown, as only three games remain on the Titan schedule.

BLUEDEVILS PLAY FAST BREAKING LACROSSE

by Jim Rokusek

Coach Ray C. Johnson's cage quintet will make their final home appearance of the season when they face the LaCrosse Indians tomorrow night.

The fast breaking Indian squad, coached by their new and very capable mentor, Cliff DeVoll, pounded out a decisive 88-57 victory in the first Stout-LaCrosse game played at LaCrosse earlier in the season. As usual LaCrosse boasts a team deep in reserve strength and long on scoring punch. Victorious over River Falls, Whitewater, and Milwaukee in recent starts, the Indians have improved considerably during the latter stages of the campaign. Leading the Indian attack are: captain Glenn Humphrey, an all-conference guard in 1951-52; Lee Kempf, 6' 5" center from Madison; Don Peth of nearby Tomah, the high scoring newcomer Marv Juel, and 6' 2" Bob Pike of Janesville. Peth, ineligible during the first semester, led the club to a 71-69 victory over Phil Belfiori's River Falls Falcons just two weeks ago. Other Indians sure to see action are Jack Eifert, Jim Flood, Bob Kime, and Don Strand. Football fans will remember Eifert and Kime, as they were standout regulars on the LaCrosse grid team last fall.

The top Indian rebounders are Kempf, Pike, and Humphrey and it was this phase of the game which, more than anything else, defeated the Blue Devils in the first encounter. Stout must control the rebounds in order to stop the vaunted Indian fast break. Humphrey, the veteran senior guard, is depended upon to set up most of the scoring plays, while Juel and Peth are reliable and continually dangerous scorers.

Coach Ray Johnson will probably open with the same starting quintet he decided on Oshkosh last Saturday, namely: Stilt and Widmar at guards, Leonard at center, and Stewart and Kieffer at forwards.

The LaCrosse-Stout rivalry promises to produce a thrilling and exciting game for all those who plan to attend, so let's get out and see the Blue Devils in their last home game of the season.

W.A.A. WILL SPONSOR GYM JAM NEXT FRIDAY

Attention all students!! Something new is in store for you when the W.A.A. will sponsor a gymjam which will be held in the Stout gym, at 7:30, Friday, February 27.

TOWER IS PROGRESSING IN ORDERLY MANNER

More pages of this year's Tower are being completed daily. The staff is doing its job in workman-like order under the guidance of the two advisors, Mr. Barnard and Dr. Rinehart.

Another engraver's deadline was met last Saturday, February 14, when 50 pictures were sent to the Bureau of Engraving in Minneapolis. Approximately 60 pictures are left to be scaled in the book.

March 1, is the 2nd printer's deadline, and staff members and advisors are planning to drive to Minneapolis on that day to confer with the printers and engraver. At this time, page proofs and copy will be checked for errors and for final position in the year book.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Jim Rokusek

Platteville's league leading Pioneers did about as well as any other southern team on its two game tour of the north. By coming from 17 points behind to defeat the Bugolds at Eau Claire Saturday night, they managed to gain an even split in the weekend festivities, having lost to Roger Kuss and company at River Falls the night before. With only two games remaining on the Pioneer schedule, it appears as if the Platteville five is insured of at least a tie for the championship. Added to this is the fact that Platteville does not meet Oshkosh, the number one challenger in the south, again this season. This has been quite a year for the small school in the southwestern part of the state as they took the southern division football championship as well.

Oshkosh, the second ranking team in the conference last Thursday, took a double defeat at the hands of the Bugolds and Blue Devils, while Stevens Point and River Falls played a terrific 215 point game at River Falls. Kuss banged 54 points through the nets on 15 baskets and 24 free throws.

This exceeded his best previous night when he dumped in 52 points two years ago. Forward Bobby Bostad hit 30 and guard Kenny Roloff 33 for the losing Pointers.

Saturday's game with LaCrosse will mark the final home appearances of Tom Stilt and Bill Kieffer. Stilt, who played his last basketball for Stout in 1949, has showed to be of great advantage as a team leader and expert playmaker. Our choice for the finest dribbler and ball handler in the conference, the 180 pound Stilt will be sorely missed come next season. Always a terrific competitor, the Neenah senior captained the Blue Devils in a majority of the games played this season.

Bill Kieffer, on the other hand, is in his fourth year as a member of the Blue Devils. Earning the reputation as one of the hardest driving players in the conference, the Hastings, Minnesota, veteran has been pitted against high scoring opponents as well. Kieffer's speed, rebounding ability, and defensive work will be most difficult to replace.

BLUEDEVILS WHIPPED 88-69 BY GREEN GULLS

Milwaukee Team Outscores

Stout In Second And Fourth Quarters; Widmar Bags 20

The Stout Blue Devils entertained their first guest from the southern division of the conference Friday night, but the Green Gulls from Milwaukee did not show any gratitude for their hospitality and went on to trounce the Blue Devils by a 88-69 count. Milwaukee, paced by the brilliant Allen Wulz, who garnered 25 points for his night's activities, outscored the Blue Devils in only two of the four quarters as Stout played them stalwarts broke into double figures. The defensive work, however, left much room for improvement, especially in the matter of defensive rebounding. Several times Milwaukee got easy baskets when no Stout player appeared on the weak side of the board for rebounding purposes. Milwaukee, who had a fairly tall quintet, made the most out of the Stout rebounding deficiency and used their big men to great advantage. Most of the points on the fast break were made by Wulz who showed a great deal of finesse and a fine change of pace.

For the second time in succession John Widmar led the Stout scoring, canning 20 points on six buckets and eight foul shots. Kieffer, Stilt, and Stewart were well bunched together with 14, 13, and 12 points respectively, while Bruce Leonard had three baskets and two free throws for eight.

Oh woe! Oh woe! Oh washday woe!
This day the fates will mock;
I found in the tub with my snow white clothes,
My roommate's wine red sock.

Stout showed brilliant scoring prowess in the opening quarter as they jumped off to a 6-0 lead. The Gulls came back strong, however, and the scoreboard showed a 21-21 deadlock when the period ended.

With Milwaukee outplaying and outscoring the local favorites during the second quarter, the Johnson men found themselves eleven points down at the half. It still appeared that the Blue Devils were in the game in the third period when they narrowed the lead down to six points, but Joe Perez, the Gull set shot wizard, cracked a long one and Milwaukee's lead was never again threatened.

Offensively speaking, the Blue Devils did a good job as four of the Stout

Everyone is invited to Attend This Meeting of E.P.T. and Phi U.

"Can we stop Communism in Asia?" is just one of the many questions that will be answered by Cecil G. Tilton, formerly Lieutenant-Colonel on General Douglas MacArthur's staff in Japan when he lectures Monday, March 2 at 7:30 in room 411 at the open joint meeting of Phi U. and E. P. T. His subject will be "Far Eastern Affairs." Everyone is invited.

Tilton served in the occupation of Japan for five years as both Army officer and Department of the Army civilian. He entered Japan in 1945 in the first military government on the organization and administration of the Imperial Japanese Government. He was also the first military government officer to enter Tokyo and Yokohama. As a civilian in that organization he headed the mission for democratization and liberalization of the prefectural, city, town and village governments in which the 83,000,000 Japanese people live.

His writings include the book, "Japan: Government and Administration," published by the War Department for the military government officers entering Japan, and many other articles and contributions on Japan including an article titled "The Communist Party in Japan."

Cecil Tilton's travels have taken him through Japan, the Philippines, China and Korea. He has served the United States Government in Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands and the Canal Zone. He was also an advisor to the Republic of Panama. And as an educator he has been a member of the faculties of the University of Hawaii and the University of Connecticut.

The University of Minnesota Concert and Lecture Service has arranged Tilton's tour of upper midwest colleges and universities.

DON COSSAK GROUP WILL PERFORM HERE

The Platoff Don Cossak Chorus and Dancers and their director, Nicholas Kostukoff, will give a performance at ten o'clock on Monday, March 9, in the Stout auditorium.

The chorus and dancers consist of 25 members. The chorus has a varied, colorful program that seems to please everybody. Offering the hallowed anthems of the Greek Orthodox Church, haunting folk songs, boisterous regimental songs, and gay peasant dances, the Cossaks have musical offering for everyone in the audience.

SCANDINAVIAN FOODS SERVED IN TEA ROOM

On February 26, the tea room was the scene of a miniature Scandinavian Smorgasbord. In carrying out the theme for the semester, "Foods Americans Like Best," the class served foods typical of Wisconsin such as an array of cheeses, cheese cake with chocolate angel food, and old fashioned apple dumplings.

On March 5, the theme will be the fiesta at Mexico City. Gay colors and Mexican foods should liven the March appetites.

46.5% OF VETS ARE ENROLLED UNDER LAW 550

At present, 46.5% of the veterans attending The Stout Institute through the GI Bill, are enrolled under Public Law 550. This represents a 27% increase over last semester's Korean veteran enrollment.

Of the total number of veterans under the three public laws, seven are attending under Public Law 16, 61 under Public Law 346, and 31 under Public Law 550.

There are 97 men and 2 women taking advantage of the educational opportunities offered by the government. There are also a number of veterans still attending Stout who have not used up their time under the different Public Laws. These are not included in the above totals.

Post-Korean veterans who have enrolled since the beginning of last semester are the following: Donald A. Zittleman, Colfax; William J. Wagner, Green Bay; Eugene J. Beck, Oshkosh; Frank M. Hoffman, Milwaukee; Milton J. Kream, Woodville; Robert L. Schultz and William R. Schultz, both of Menomonie; John N. L. Smith, Nashville, Tenn.; Robert H. Smith, Elmwood; Lyle H. Teppen, Colfax; and James W. Young, Menomonie.

Continuing post-Korean veterans from last semester are as follows: Warren H. Schuster and George J. Fink, Oshkosh; Howard L. Thorpe, Stanley; John L. Oakeson, Marinette; William E. La Bine, Ontonagon, Mich.; Roland C. Ridgeland, Roland E. Seager, Neenah; Kenneth L. Lamkin, Rice Lake; and Allan E. Reed, Gerald H. Oberpriller, Daniel K. Jeatran, Stephen E. Hansen, John Albert Anderson, Vern F. Ader, Oliver J. Agertie, Clifford J. Schultz, Richard F. Rowe, and Robert A. Erickson, all of Menomonie.

'53 FOB SKIT NIGHT IS TO BE BEST EVER

"It'll be the biggest and best ever," say the new F.O.B. pledges about their forthcoming skit night. The play will be presented by the boys on Monday, March 2, at 7:30 in the Union.

Skit night is an affair presented by the new pledges of F.O.B. each semester. This semester's presentation will be a forty-five minute comedy enacted by a cast of ten or twelve. You can be sure that the boys will be wearing their very best talent.

All those interested in watching and laughing are advised to come early and get a seat.

Conductor will be
Miss Evelyn Knospe

Solos and ensembles will be among the featured numbers in the Winter Concert of The Stout Institute Concert Band, to be held Tuesday evening, March 3, at 8:15 p.m. in the Stout auditorium. Victor H. Hardt, music chairman at Stout will direct. Guest conductor will be Miss Evelyn Knospe, director of the Menomonie high school band.

Piano soloist for the concert will be Miss Dorothy Belisle, Stout freshman coed from Menomonie. Other solo and ensemble numbers will feature snare drum, cornet, violin, clarinet, and CALLING ALL STUDENTS TO THE WAA GYMJAM!

GRADUATE MEN INVITE SENIORS TO DISCUSSION

The Graduate Men's Club extends an invitation to the members of the senior class, men and women, to attend a panel discussion at the supper meeting which is being held in the Stout cafeteria on Thursday, March 5, at 5:30 p.m.

There will be three fifteen minute panel discussions immediately following the supper. The topics that will be presented are: "The Superintendents Considerations for Teacher Selection," led by Mr. Ballentine, superintendent of the city schools; "The Interview," presented by Dr. Ralph Iverson; and "Correct Technique and Form in Letters of Application," led by Dr. Thomas Fleming.

In order to determine the number of persons who plan to attend the dinner and panel discussion, a registration form will be posted on the bulletin board in Bowman Hall at the beginning of the week. It is preferred that those who sign up attend both the dinner and the panel. However, this is optional. This invitation does not imply that the dinner is free.

TOWER STAFF VISITS PRINTER FEBRUARY 28

February 28, is encircled on the calendar in the Tower office. That is the day staff members will journey to Minneapolis to meet the printer, and it is also the second deadline of this year's yearbook. Members of the copy staff have now completed two-thirds of the yearbook. The remaining third is scheduled to be in the printer's hands by April 1.

In Minneapolis, final copyreading will be done to check for misspelled words and identification. Page proofs will be compared to the dummy to insure correct position.

There will be activities, Including Dancing, That Everyone will Enjoy

Calling all students! Calling all students to the WAA gymjam which will be held tonight in the Stout gym from 7:30 until 12:00.

This will be a good time and place for everyone to use their excess pep and energy. You will be able to bowl, swim, play volleyball, deck tennis, and shuffleboard; in the pool room there will be ping pong, and in the club room there will be dancing. All activities begin at 7:30 and end at 10:00 with the exception of dancing which will be held until 12:00.

Admission will be 25 cents and there will be two door prizes for some lucky students.

So remember with your support this gymjam will be a success and will become an annual event.

WAA members will be in charge of the various activities. The chairman is Margaret Fitzgerald, social chairman of WAA.

HEIDELBERG INN IS THEME OF HYPS' TEA

Swinging doors, tables with red and white checked cloths, candles, and pretty bar maids will help transform the Harvey into the Little Olde Heidelberg Inn of Germany on Wednesday, March 4.

This quaint scene will provide the setting for the tea of the Hyperian Sorority who have made the Olde Heidelberg Inn a tradition each year. This tea is really a "break away" from the conventional tea for at Olde Heidelberg no tea or coffee is served. Ginger ale and root beer will be the two beverages and instead of cookies or cakes, popcorn, potato chips, and pretzels will be served.

The doors to the inn will swing open at 3:30 and close again at 5:30 so be sure to drop in during this time.

"ADMIRABLE CRICHTON" IS IN FULL SWING

If anyone chances to look in the auditorium any week night from 7:15 to 9:30, he will find play rehearsal in full swing. The cast has the lines for acts I and II memorized, and now they are beginning to work with some properties. On Saturday mornings, you can see paint-smearing people working on the profile sets for the play. This type of set, being used for the first time at Stout, is easily moved and is quite a radical change from the familiar flats. The costume and properties committees, along with the publicity crew, are busy working on their individual jobs so that in three weeks their efforts combined with those of the cast, will produce a "hit" play.

PHI U PLEDGES SEVEN NEW MEMBERS

Second semester initiates of Tau Chapter of Phi U are Carol Bredlow, Joeline Chryst, Elaine Hansen, Barbara Hiller, Pat Jensen, Jeanette Oetting, and Gloria Voigt. Elaine, Barbara and Jeanette are juniors, and the remaining are sophomores. Initiation of these girls into Phi U will take place on March 13.

On March 2, E.P.T. and Phi U will sponsor a program for the student body. Mr. Tilden will speak on "Far Eastern Affairs". Phi U will act as hostess to Alice in Dairyland, a Phi U member, when she visits our campus on March 25.

At the Founder's Day dinner on February 10, Dorothy Messerschmidt gave the requirements for organizing a Phi U alumnae chapter in this area. The nine alumnae who were present held a meeting following the dinner at which they elected a committee to work on this project. Members of the committee are Mrs. Whydowski, Mrs. Arthur Medtke, Miss Trullinger, and Mrs. Ray. Mrs. Arthur Medtke is acting secretary.

BEWARE OF FRIDAY 13 WHAT IS YOUR FATE?

A broken mirror will cause a person seven years bad luck! Don't walk under a ladder, and above all don't open an umbrella indoors! But most of all—beware of that evil day, Friday the 13th.

March 13 is on a Friday—what is going to happen on this Friday the 13? Will it be an evil day for the students of Stout, or will it be a day of unlimited pleasure? The Goddess of Fate knows—and, you too, will soon know what is going to happen on Friday the 13th.

Be sure to get a copy of next week's Stoutonia for further details on Friday the 13th of March!

AUDIO-VISUAL CONFERENCE TO BE HELD HERE

Alumni and other readers of the Stoutonia will be interested in a preliminary announcement of an audio-visual conference to be held at The Stout Institute on Wednesday, April 1. All persons interested in audio-visual instruction, the preview of new educational films, and exhibits of the latest in audio-visual equipment are invited to attend.

The preliminary program indicates a registration period from 9:00 to 9:30 in Harvey Hall (the Home Economics building). Participating in the full day's schedule will be Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of Stout; Mr. John Hamburg, assistant superintendent of schools at Edgerton; Mr. Aaron Mickelson, director of audio-visual education in the Eau Claire schools; Mr. David Barnard, director of audio-visual education at Stout; Mr. Ray Cornwell, instructor of industrial education at Stout; and Miss Marjory Elliott, assistant professor of home economics education at Stout.

Mr. Earl Ellis, Coronet film representative, will show the new films produced by his organization as will Mr. C. J. Krumm, representative of Encyclopedia Britannica.

Films which will exhibit the latest in audio-visual equipment include the Central Audio-Visual Supply Co., Eau Claire; Eau Claire Book and Stationery Co., Eau Claire; and the Photoart Visual Service, Milwaukee.

SSA MESSAGE

Today at 5:00 p.m. is the deadline for the petitions of the candidates who will be your new SSA officers. In the next two weeks these candidates and their sponsors will campaign for your vote and for a chance to represent you in the student's governing body. Remember, when you are preparing to back a candidate, that an officer in the Stout Student Association requires a great deal of time, effort, and enthusiasm.

With FOB stunt night only one week away, all of the organizations on campus are busy rehearsing and planning for the big event. This is an excellent means to advertise and to strengthen your organization. Working together on a project such as this can be loads of fun.

The Stout band has been working hard during the past weeks preparing for a concert which is to be held on Tuesday, March 3. Let's get out and give them our support! We'll see you there.

BROTHERHOOD WEEK IS TOPIC OF CONVO

Mr. Hansen, speaker for the convocation Wednesday, February 25, spoke in connection with the national observance of brotherhood last week, February 15 through the 22.

In his speech Mr. Hansen acknowledged the help given to communities by service clubs and other participating groups. He also said that there is a change in the concept of human relations. For instance, he said that in industry it is possible to buy a man's time but not his loyalty, initiative, and heart and soul interests. It is now realized that an industrial worker wants security, some chance of advancement, dignity, and a sense of the importance of his work. "An individual should earn his rights himself and also lose them in that way," stated Mr. Hansen, "and not be prejudiced by people." Hostility and hatred, he said, are diseases which mainly concern judgement.

In closing, Mr. Hansen said that the "will to do" is of great importance in improving our world today.

A BIRTHDAY ON FEB. 29? IMPOSSIBLE!

Birthdays come and go, objects of much discussion and celebration when the participants are young and looked upon with much less enthusiasm when the victims are older.

A few unfortunates rarely face this major event in the course of years. The calendar makers of long ago successfully disposed of the extra day that pops up each fourth year, but they sadly neglected the children born on this day. There is no room on the 1953 calendar for the 29th of February. This year birthday candles will collect dust in homes where there are victims of chance and leap year.

Phyllis Lumby, a senior, has adjusted herself to this strange situation. Fortunately she has a kind family who firmly believe in a girl's right to be 21 and will not forget her this year on her "unbirthday."

ARTS AND CRAFTS CLUB PLANS FOR CARD PARTY

Business conducted at the February 23, Arts and Crafts meeting centered about the new pledges and the coming card party. Of the eleven member applicants, an eligible group of six was accepted as pledges. They begin their pledging duties on Monday, March 2. The names of the pledges accepted are as follows: Carlos Carter, Robert Eckman, Thorton Edgeberg, Melvin Podolske, John Posewitz, and Jerry Sommer. The following committees were organized for the coming card party: tables and chairs, Robert Boehm, chairman; food, Ray Burkhalter, chairman; prizes, Ken Pietenpol, chairman. The new pledges will assist these committees in their preparation for the card party.

ASA HOLDS REGULAR BUSINESS MEETING

Laurie Hanson, sophomore transfer student, became an Alpha Sigma Alpha pledge in a service conducted Thursday evening in the Harvey Memorial.

Immediately following the ceremony a meeting for the discussion of plans for stunt nite was held.

Lunch was served and the meeting closed with the singing of sorority songs.

TRI SIGMAS HOLD PLEDGING CEREMONIES

The Sigma Sigma Sigma Sorority held pledging and initiation ceremonies Thursday, February 19, in Harvey Hall. The new pledges of Tri Sigma are Joanne Peterson and Elaine Hanson. These two girls will now spend several weeks studying the rules, and regulations, and services of Tri Sigma before actually being initiated into the sisterhood.

Upon the completion of her pledge-ship, Janet Peter was initiated into the sorority at the same meeting.

Following the ceremonies Miss Marjory Elliott held "open house" and "gab fest" at her apartment for both old and new members.

STUDENTS OBSERVE WORLD DAY OF PRAYER

World Day of Prayer was observed by The Stout Institute students Sunday, February 22, at 4:00 p.m. at Our Saviors Lutheran Church. The groups attending were L.S.A., Y.W.C.A., Canterbury Club, Congo Club, and Wesley.

The worship service, conducted by Wesley, consisted of a brief history of World Day of Prayer and some scripture verses relevant to the day. An offering for the World Student Federation was taken.

The speaker, Reverend Fitzmeyer, pastor of the First Congregational Church of River Falls, spoke on "Prayer." He described prayer as a band aid which we use only in case of an emergency and forget until the next emergency. He emphasized the importance of putting prayer into work.

L.S.A. served supper to the seventy students present. Following supper, Joan Fairweather, of the Canterbury Club, led the group in songs and hymns. The meeting closed with Reverend Fitzmeyer singing "Wagon Wheels" and "Deep River" to his own piano accompaniment.

THIS IS HELL WEEK FOR SIG TAU PLEDGES

Pledges to the Sigma Tau Gamma Fraternity will be easily recognized as they flourish their blue and white shields and golden swords. These men have donned the colors of the fraternity for the traditional Hell Week, endeavoring to prove themselves worthy of becoming members of the fraternity.

The surface of Hell Week may appear as a jumbled mess of uncorrelated clowning, but Hell Week means much more than that to the fraternities and their pledges. It is a time when the bonds of the brotherhood are formed, a time when the future strength of the organization is tested, and a time when the pledges learn more about the workings of the organization of their choice.

Typically, Hell Week is the center of attraction on the Stout campus. Pledges from all of the four social fraternities will be participating in duties that are often-times constructive as well as interesting and sage.

For the benefit of those who wish to follow the activities of the Sig Tau pledges throughout Hell Week, a schedule of highlights is presented:

Monday: The pledges will be on sentry duty at Harvey Hall.

Tuesday: Be on hand at the cafeteria Tuesday night for the pledges box lunch and song fest.

Wednesday: The pledges and members will serenade the women's dormitories.

Thursday: The pledges will be at door guard duty at Harvey Hall during the noon hour.

PHI SIG HELP WEEK BEGAN THIS MORNING

Help week began on the Stout campus this morning for seven pledges of the Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity when they began collecting the required items of apparel which they will wear from dawn until dusk (and after) for one week.

Phi Sig pledges may be identified by the Texas-type red ribbon bow ties, straw hats, walking canes, and tag-board signs with the words "I am a Phi Sig Pledge."

They may also be identified by the many helpful acts which they will go out of their way to perform. These acts of kindness will consist of opening doors, holding water fountain handles, and, in general, being an all-around good fellow (especially toward the members of the fraternity.)

RIFLE CLUB MEMBERS ELECT NEW OFFICERS

The Stout Institute Rifle Club held an election of officers, Friday, February 20, at the indoor rifle range in the upper gym of Bowman Hall.

Twelve Nimrod enthusiasts elected the following new slate of officers for the Rifle Club at this meeting: president, Charles Stubbs; vice president, Richard Kadotani; secretary, Barbara Rushing; and treasurer, Barbara Post. The first official act of President Stubbs was to appoint Hugh Schmahl in charge of selling ammunition for the club, and Glenn Voelz as range officer of the club.

Retiring officers of the club were: Stan Meyer, president; Hugh Schmahl, vice president; and DeWayne Nevin, secretary-treasurer.

SELECTIVE SERVICE TEST TO BE MARCH 2

All men interested in taking the Selective Service College Qualification Test are invited to attend the meeting which will be held on Monday, March 2, at 5:00 p.m. in Room 22, Bowman Hall.

Those persons who are eligible to take the test:

1. must be registered for selective service.
2. must be pursuing a full time college course, undergraduate or graduate, leading to a degree.
3. must not previously have taken the test.

Dr. Oetting will explain the selective service test at this time.

The Selective Service System has established this testing program to provide Selective Service local boards with evidence of the relative qualifications of registrants for college study. The test scores of registrants will provide the local boards with evidence of their aptitude for continued college work.

The Selective Service College Qualification Test, prepared and administered by the Educational Testing Service, Princeton, N. J., will be given on April 23, 1953.

NEWS OF OUR ALUMNI

Lois Heike '51 is in her second year of teaching in Augusta. She has an active F. H. A. and also works with the local 4-H club. She has charge of the home economics department of the local fair and assists with the Eau Claire county fair.

Barbara Johnson Perry '52 is now married and teaching in Prairie du Sac, Wisconsin. She has home economics classes and F. H. A., is a junior class advisor, serves as the school nurse, and is a counselor for the girls. Her husband is a commercial teacher and the assistant coach in the same school.

Mrs. R. T. Hart, (nee, Mabel Anderson, B. S. '16) is living in Moose Lake, Minnesota, where she and her husband run a coffee house.

Georgia Aber Galbraith, B. S. '31, lives in Plainfield, Vermont, with her husband and small daughter. They are building their home on the ten-year plan. They have a 7 1/2 acre farm where they grow and harvest fruits.

Marie Averill Stevenson, B.S. '38, was a dietitian before entering the army, now since her discharge she is a homemaker. Her address is:

Mrs. O. J. Stevenson
459 Bryn Mawr
San Antonio, Texas

Betty Quilling Lovance, B. S. '40, is living in Racine with her husband, "Mink", who attended Stout from 1935-37, and their two children. They often come to Menomonie and Chetek to visit her relatives.

Lenore Landry, B.S. '45, who is now the home demonstration agent in Douglas county, lives in Port Wing, Wisconsin. She attended the National Home Demonstration Agents convention in Chicago in 1952 and will attend the one in Buffalo, New York, in 1953 as an official delegate from Wisconsin.

Eleanor Busse Johnson, B. S. '46, lives in New Richmond with her husband and her 1 1/2 year old daughter. She is at the present time substituting as home agent in St. Croix county. She and her husband are making plans for their home to be built this spring in Barron, Wisconsin.

R. J. Sutton, B. S. '49, is living in Daughlin, Canada. Daughlin is located in the province of Manitoba near Winnipeg.

James Young, B. S. '50, is assistant director of a school camping program conducted by the Dearborn, Michigan board of education. He has two children; his wife works as camp nurse at the camp where he is employed. He is interested in the U. S. Naval Reserve and spent last summer in California teaching navigation at reserve officer-candidates school.

Vern Reseland, B. S. '50, is teaching industrial arts in Eugene, Oregon, and is working toward his M. Ed. degree at Oregon State during the summer.

Garth Wilcox, B. S. '51, and his wife had a new baby in October, they now have two boys. They are living in Tomahawk, Wisconsin, where he teaches.

Shirley Carlson, B. S. '52, is working in the research and development laboratory at Pillsbury Mills, Inc., Minneapolis, Minnesota.

Gerda Ravenholt, B. S. '52, is teaching in the junior and senior high school in Quincy, California. This part of California is much like Wisconsin with lots of snow in the winter time. The main business is lumbering and the best form of recreation is skiing.

Howard Knop, B. S. '52, is at present attending officer candidate school in Newport, Rhode Island.

NOTICE FOR ALUMNI IN THE KENTUCKY AREA

All Stout alumni who plan to attend the Kentucky Education Association Convention in Louisville or who will be in that vicinity on April 15, are requested to call or write Mr. Lewis Berger, 1101 W. Oak Street, Louisville, Kentucky, in regard to a Stout alumni get-together.

Mr. Berger is arranging a Stout dinner for April 15, and would like to know how many will attend. Mr. Dewey Barich, former head of industrial arts at Kent State University, and now manager of the Ford Awards Program, will address the group.

Mr. Berger was present at the Bowman Recognition Dinner Party and will be able to enlighten the alumni concerning many recent changes around the campus.

If you can possibly attend, be sure to contact Mr. Lewis Berger.

DID YOU KNOW???

There is a new organization on campus known as the "Deoderized Order of the Skunk" . . . Head of the group is tagged the Grand Stinker, and their platform is "stinkerhood and brotherhood". They have several other chapters scattered around the country, commonly known as "Aromas" . . . We hear they even have a large chapter in Washington which will soon begin lobbying for a law against the manufacture of chlorophyll.

ALUMNUS MARINE IS MOVIE CAMERA MAN

We received the following letter from one of our former members on The Stoutonia staff. It reads:

Dear Friends,
As I start this letter to The Stoutonia, it brings back memories of the days when I was a member of the staff during 1950 and 1951. Of course, I was signed on the staff under a different name, but I still was an official member. Yes, school days are swell memories and recollections of some swell friendships. I realize that after graduation, many of us lose contacts that we promised to keep. I wish to insert my address in The Stoutonia in case any of my friends and former classmates are interested.

I am now serving a stretch in the United States Marine Corps as an official Marine Corps movie cameraman. I've shot many movies in both color and black and white and in both 35 mm. and 16 mm. film. Movie work is rather interesting and also affords an excellent opportunity to do things and travel. I also carry a personal camera on official jobs so I can record some things for myself.

At the present time, I have about thirteen and one half months left to serve. I am counting off the time left and beginning to plan a few things for when I get back to civilian life.

I have been stationed in southern California since I was drafted in March, 1952. The sunny California weather is quite the thing in the summer months when one doesn't see a drop of rain for five months. In the winter, between rains and heavy fogs, we still enjoy the sun. Some days the fog becomes so thick that the sea gulls are even walking.

In my off duty hours, I have traveled up to Los Angeles and Hollywood with some of my buddies. We have seen Marilyn Monroe, Frankie Laine, Edgar Bergen, and many other stars. The radio shows are very good to see as we can watch many big stars in action.

I have heard that many old friends of mine are officers in various branches of the armed services and I would appreciate knowing their addresses.

In closing, I would appreciate letters from those who read this and will attempt to reply. I would especially enjoy hearing from my fellow graduates, B. S. '51, and thus compare notes on our experiences since graduation.

Sincerely,
Pfc. Bohumil Holub 12059 USMC-SS

HIGH SCORING SECOND HALF BEATS BLUEDEVILS

Bluedevils Take 39-38
Halftime Lead; Marv Juel And Kieffer Top Scorers
by Jim Rokusek

In one of the most peculiar games of the season, the Stout Bluedevils lost to the Indians of La Crosse 95-69 in the home final. The game was peculiar in the respect that the Bluedevils held a one point 39-38 halftime lead and had earlier held the Indians to a mere twelve points during the entire first period. The La Crosse entry came back strong in the third period, however, to completely turn the tables on the Johnson men. Putting on a third period scoring splurge of 31 points while holding Stout to nine, the Indians turned the game into a rout. The attack was spearheaded by improved rebounding which led to fast break baskets on numerous occasions. The Indians started the game with Olson and Humphrey at guards, Kempf at center, and Juel and Peth at forwards, while Coach Johnson sent John Widmar, Tom Stilp, Bruce Leonard, Tom Stewart, and Bill Kieffer to the starting line. Stewart, the ace rebounder and scorer, of the Bluedevils was found guilty of three personals during the first six minutes of play and before Coach Johnson could send freshman Zane Zander in to replace him, he had picked up a fourth. Zander, however, played creditably and the Stout contingent went on to gain a 16-12 first quarter margin.

The second quarter found John Widmar and Bill Kieffer carrying the load as each made their share of free throws and one-hand push shots. Widmar made several sensational shots during the first half and had thirteen points at the termination of second quarter action. The Indians, on the other hand, had trouble getting started as the Bluedevils played good defensive ball and controlled the majority of the rebounds.

The lid blew off to start the third period as Kempf and Peth began to control almost all of the rebounds. With Humphrey leading the vaunted Indian fast break as the ever responsible middle man, Indian forwards Juel and Peth started to find the range. Juel showed the Bluedevils some of the fastest driving and cut-

'HELL WEEK' MARKS PHI SIG GRUDGE GAME

The big event of "Hell Week" next week will be the Phi Sig vs F. O. B. grudge basketball game.

The F. O. B.'s have insisted that the Phi Sigs are a bunch of panty-waist ball players and are too timid to play a good team. (Champs they say.) We will let them talk if they want because the Phi Sigs will literally jam every untrue word down their throat Wednesday evening. The Phi Sigs do not claim to be a great team, but they will play as a fraternal unit defending their name. They will — the F. O. B.'s next Wednesday evening at 8:00 p.m. and they hope there will be some witnesses to the massacre.

The Phi Sigs, under their mentor Augie Schultz, are going after this game in dead seriousness. A closed practice session will be held this week to practice a radically different style of offensive play. In the past session, the Phi Sigs have been strictly a defensive ball club. During the past week, "Shuttle" Schultz has been conferring with key varsity and coaching personnel in formulating the new offense.

Coach Schultz will call upon the services of Jack "Lover Boy" Luy, Jim "Dribble Happy" Olds, Neil "Sore Head" Hoeffer, Al "High Jump" Ochs, LeRoy "Game Saver" Sharkey, Bob "Pot Shot" Asman, Fred "Good Lookin'" Kneisler, Oliver "Ozark" Aglerie, Fran "Ink Pig" Oberpriller, Bob "Mighty" Moe, and Jim "Fishy" Berray. The trainer will be Barney "Steel Grip" Styer, and the manager will be Gino "Schnozz" Casucci. With this mighty array of talent, the Phi Sigs will show the students of Stout just who is the panty-waist ball club around here.

Cyrano de Bergerac once said, "We may have differences of opinion during our lifetime, but we can still be friends in the hereafter." We'll be looking down at all you F. O. B.'s. ting witnessed this season as he added eight baskets and nine freethrows to the Indian cause.

Kieffer played good basketball during the second half and continued to rack up points, but from the Blue-devil point of view the boys were just playing out the string. Tom Stilp, the fiery competitor from Neenah, tried desperately to get the Bluedevils going but it was just too much to ask. During the final stages of the contest both coaches substituted freely, as eleven Bluedevils saw action in the high scoring fracas.

Marv Juel led the Indians and all scorers with 25 while Kempf, the junior center from Madison, recorded 17. Kieffer, meanwhile, had six baskets and eleven free throws for 23, followed by Widmar's six baskets and five free throws for 17.

LOCAL APO MEMBERS VISIT OPEN HOUSE

Eta Kappa Chapter of Alpha Phi Omega attended an open house sponsored by the Eau Claire chapter last week. The purpose of the meeting was to introduce new members and pledges and to inform pledges of their responsibilities before being admitted into the service fraternity.

Cliff Peterson, district Boy Scout executive, told members of both chapters that it would be possible to use the facilities of Camp Phillips if the two chapters wanted to hold a get-together some weekend. The get-together would consist of business meetings and would afford members the chance to enjoy the outdoor facilities at Camp Phillips.

Dean Price, the next guest on the program, delivered a timely speech to the new pledges. In his speech, Dean Price pointed out the advantages of APO from the standpoint of service to the school and service to the community.

Entertainment was provided by a member of the Eau Claire chapter who did pantomimes set to music, and, from remarks by members from Stout, the entertainer was well received. After the meeting all members and pledges adjourned to the cafeteria where coffee and an assortment of cookies were served.

STOUT GOES TO RIVER FALLS FOR FINAL GAME

Falcons Have Terrific
87.3 Per Game Average
And Chance For Title
by Jim Rokusek

Ray Johnson's Bluedevils will make their final appearance of the season when they take on the River Fall Falcons at River Falls tomorrow night. The Falcons, currently the league's second place team, have an outside chance of tying Platteville's Pioneers for the conference crown. In order for this to become a reality Phil Belfiori's men will have to take the Bluedevils while Platteville must lose to Stevens Point.

The game will also mark the last time that Roger Kuss will oppose the Stout eagles. The 6'5" center, a native of River Falls, has led the league's scorers for two consecutive years and is well on his way to a third scoring crown. Largely through the efforts of Kuss, River Falls leads as the top offensive team in the conference with a sensational 87.3 per game average.

The Falcons will have the added advantage of playing on their own crackerbox floor. Even though the Bluedevils hold two wins over River Falls in the past three years, neither one has taken place on the opponent's floor.

Do not get the idea that River Falls is a one man team however. Forwards Zeke Wells and Bob Williams add plenty of rebounding and scoring punch as both can be considered to break into double figures on almost any occasion. Of the two, Williams has the better average and is also the top rebounder, whereas Wells poses a good one hand shot from either side of the court.

Little Jim Belisle, 5'5" junior from Menomonie, will open at one starting guard post while Joe Burgoyne will undoubtedly merit the other starting assignment. Belisle is regarded as a good shot and an ideal floor man. His tricky passes in to the pivot have given Kuss many a basket so far this season. Burgoyne, on the other hand, is one of the best all-around athletes in the conference. A quarterback in football and a fine baseball pitcher, the bespectacled Burgoyne is a good basketball player as well. His unexpected long shooting gave the Bluedevils plenty of headaches during the first Stout - River Falls game played earlier this season.

All in all, it looks like the Bluedevils will be involved in another high scoring game as every man in the Falcon lineup has definite scoring possibilities. Coach Johnson will no doubt employ John Widmar, Tom Stilp, Bruce Leonard, Bill Kieffer, and Tom Stewart at the starting posts, although Jim Dailey, Bob Seaman, Bob Boldt, and Zane Zander are due for plenty of action. This would be a fine game for the Bluedevils to win, so let's hope that the boys are at the peak of their game for the season final.

SCENE FROM "AH, WILDERNESS!"

"Ah, Wilderness!" will be presented in The Stout Auditorium tonight by the University of Minnesota Theatre Touring Company. You will probably recognize the characters who gave such a charming performance here in "Harvey."

LYCEUM WILL BE PRESENTED HERE TONIGHT

The University of Minnesota Theatre Touring Company will present Eugene O'Neill's "Ah, Wilderness!" on March 6, 1953, at 8:00 p.m. in The Stout Auditorium. The performance here is under the sponsorship of the Lyceum Committee of The Stout Institute.

When "Ah, Wilderness!" was first presented on Broadway, the audience was astounded at a hitherto unsuspected phase of Eugene O'Neill, its famous author. Mr. O'Neill had grappled successfully with the more psychological things of life, but in "Ah, Wilderness!" he shows a tender understanding of everyday people in everyday life.

The story, nostalgic as a look into an old picture album, is a touching and hilarious picture of American family life in the first decade of the century. The crisis involves a young boy, Richard, in the throes of both starry-eyed love and the rebellion of adolescence. It is claimed that the play is partly auto-biographical and undoubtedly this is true. The character of Richard is much akin to O'Neill himself when he was a dreamy, romantic boy in the home of his father and mother.

The manner in which he lifts the commonplaces of family life into a poignantly interesting story is a triumph even for this master dramatist, and the result is an amusing and heart-warming two hours in the theatre for people of all ages.

The play has been staged by Richard D. Spear of the University Theatre staff, and the cast is a group of outstanding and experienced young actors, including Chris Ringham, Lois Clark, John Austin, Billy McKereghan, Del Brudellie, John Blue, Jean McMillan, Joe Lobaito and Tad Ware.

ANNUAL STUNT NIGHT IN AUDITORIUM SATURDAY

FOB Presents Ninth Annual
Stunt Night At 8:00 P. M.

Tomorrow evening - Ten Skits
Tomorrow night the F. O. B. Fraternity will present the ninth annual Stunt Nite. Ten skits will form the entertainment which is scheduled to start at 8:00 p.m. Those participating will be Alpha Sigma Alpha, Hyperians, Pallas Athene, Sigma Sigma Sigma sororities, the P. S. E., Sigma Tau Gamma, and Delta Kappa fraternities, Tainter Annex, Tainter Hall and Eichelberger Hall.

Prizes of $15, $10, and $5 will be awarded to the three winning skits. Judges will award these prizes on the basis of smoothness of presentation, originality, and general acting. The judges for the night's gala event will be Dr. Salyer, Dr. Agnew, Mr. Zieman, Miss Nelson, Miss Amon, and Dean Antrim.

Tickets are 40¢ and can be obtained from any F. O. B. member. Tickets will also be on sale in the corridor until 5 o'clock this evening and at the door Saturday night. The fraternity has given each participating organization ten free tickets.

The co-chairman of Stunt Nite this year are Jerry Henderson and Ken Pietenpol who have been making all the preparations for a successful Stunt Nite.

Sigma Tau Gamma won first prize last year with their portrayal of the perplexing life of an inductee. The P. A.'s won second prize with their skit "With Strings Attached". Third prize went to Tainter Annex for "Beaux and Beau Nots".

Stunt Nite is one of the biggest functions of the year and credit is due to the F. O. B. Fraternity for a job well done. This is an activity that no Stout students should miss for it is one time during the year that Stout talent can shine. The chairman, Jerry Henderson, said that the show this year should be better than last year for the organizations have been working extra long hours rehearsing their acts.

Make Stunt Nite a "must" on your weekend entertainment list.

FRIDAY THE 13 WILL BE YOUR LUCKY DAY

Everybody is whispering, "What is going to happen on Friday the 13th?"

Well, guys and gals, the secret can now be told! Were you collecting good luck pieces for fear it was going to be an evil happening? Dismiss those thoughts! Friday the 13th is going to be your lucky day! The Intersociety Council is sponsoring a big record dance in the Stout gym on that night!

Do I hear groans from some of you? We know it's hard for some of you to give up that pinocchio or cribbage or sheephead game—so the Intersociety has taken care of that! Problem-cards and card tables will also be furnished for the card fiends!

Come one and come all to the record and card party on March 13!

cert together 22 years ago in the Cathedral in Prague in Czechoslovakia. They were exiles from the Don River. The Cossacks sang their first country and were gathered together by Nicholas Kostukoff who left Russia during the Revolution. Thus they began their musical wanderings which were ended when they were invited by the city of San Francisco to sing at the San Francisco Exposition in 1939. They have been here ever since, except for two long overseas tours

The students pictured above are candidates for the S.S.A. office; seated left to right are: Gloria Voigt, Jeanette Oetting, Diane Klemme, and Carol Bredlow. Standing left to right are: Bob Spinti, Jerome Sommer, Donald Beran, Gary Grainger, and Jack Luy.

S.S.A. CANDIDATES BEGIN CAMPAIGNS SATURDAY

Two For President, No
Contest For Vice-president;
Four For Secretary; Two
For Treasurer

Campaigning for S.S.A. offices begins tomorrow noon. At this time, posters may be placed in the halls and the union. Candidates will present their platforms at the campaign assembly next Wednesday, March 11. Voting will take place on Thursday from 9:50 to 4:00.

There are two candidates for the position of president. Jack Luy, a junior from Milwaukee, Wisconsin is very active in school activities. He is currently the vice president of the SSA and a member of Epsilon Pi Tau, Phi Sigma Epsilon, and The Stout Symphonic Singers. Jack was president of his freshman class, vice president of his sophomore class, and assistant secretary-treasurer of EPT.

Robert Spinti, a junior from Wauwatosa, Wisconsin, is currently a member of Epsilon Pi Tau, Alpha Phi Omega, Sigma Tau Gamma, and the Stout Symphonic Singers. Robert holds the vice presidency in Alpha Phi Omega and is the assistant secretary of the latter organization and was the vice president.

Gary Grainger, a sophomore from Beaver Dam, Wisconsin, is the only candidate for vice president. Gary is a member of Epsilon Pi Tau and Delta Kappa. He is secretary of the latter organization and was the vice president.

There are four candidates for the job of secretary. Gloria Voigt is a sophomore from Reedsville, Wisconsin. She is active in the Home Economics Club, Alpha Sigma Alpha and the Manual Arts Players. She is pledging Phi Upsilon Omicron at the present time. She is treasurer of Home Economics Club and historian of the Manual Arts Players. Gloria was president of her freshman class and a representative on the Student Governing Board last year.

Jeanette Oetting, Menomonee, Wisconsin, is a junior. She belongs to the Sigma Sigma Sorority, Dietetics Club, Manual Arts Players, and The Stout Symphonic Singers. She is also pledging Phi Upsilon Omicron. Jeanette has taken part in three plays at Stout. She is also the historian in Sigma Sigma.

Diane Klemme, a sophomore, is from Sheboygan Falls, Wisconsin. She belongs to the Pallas Athene Sorority, Women's Athletic Association, Home Economics Club, and The Stout Symphonic Singers.

Carol Bredlow, is a sophomore from Watertown, Wisconsin. She is a member of The Stoutonia, Women's Athletic Association, the Hyperian Sorority, Phi Upsilon Omicron, Home Economics Club, and the Tower. She is presently the treasurer of the Women's Athletic Association.

There are two candidates for the post of treasurer. Jerry Sommer is a sophomore from Milwaukee, Wisconsin. He is a member of Sigma Tau Gamma, Inter-Religious Council, and Student Governing Board. He holds the office of treasurer in the Lutheran Student Association. He also was treasurer of his freshman and sophomore class.

Donald Beran is a junior from Cumberland, Wisconsin. He belongs to Epsilon Pi Tau, Phi Omega Beta, and the "S" Club. He holds the office of secretary in the Phi Omega Beta Fraternity.

M.A.P. PLAY WILL BE GIVEN IN TWO WEEKS

The Manual Arts Players will present "The Admirable Crichton" on the evenings of March 19, 20, and 21. Tickets will be sold starting March 16, and will be handled by Phi Upsilon Omicron at the reservation desk in the corridor of Harvey Hall. Students may obtain tickets by showing their S. S. A. cards. Curtain time is 8:15 p.m. in the Stout auditorium.

to sing for American troops. During their thirteen years stay in this country they have given more than seven hundred concerts to most enthusiastic and appreciative audiences in forty-eight states.

The chorus has a varied and colorful program that seems to please everybody. Offering the hallowed anthems of the Greek Orthodox Church, folksongs, boisterous regimental songs, and gay peasant dances, the Cossacks have something musical for everyone in the audience.

Regardless of the place where the chorus gives its concert, be it the famous Carnegie Hall in New York or a modest hall in a town with the population of three thousand, the chorus always performs with the same thoroughness. For the chorus members there is no such thing as big or little concerts, to them all concerts are equally important.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Within a week, the Stout students will go to the polls to elect officers who will represent them for the coming year. One fallacy will appear on the ballot. The post of vice president will go by default because of lack of competition. There is no valid excuse for this lack of interest. With 650 students and 45 organizations on the campus, enough interest should be generated to have a spirited contest for every office. It is a sad commentary on student affairs that such disinterest has appeared for the second year.

While it is too late to correct the S.S.A. ballot, it is not too late to prepare for student governing board election which is coming soon.

Another point we would like to comment on this week is the student assembly held last Wednesday. The meeting held was a good example of student participation brought about by the SSA officers and the social committee. Meetings of this type should, and could do a lot of good. There should be more of them. It may be an excellent idea to schedule regular meetings of this type.

GOVERNING BOARD NEWS

The governing board spent a very profitable two and a half hours Tuesday night discussing among other things, the social problems and needs of our students.

The U. N. Conference, scheduled for March 27 to 29, now poses a problem for students wishing to attend. Ten women have signed the list to attend, therefore none of the delegates would be in a position to provide transportation. Sixty dollars was to have been allotted for expenses of the ten delegates, but this would be insufficient to cover the expense of bus transportation. The problem has been referred to Dr. Agnew.

The athletic department has incurred a debt for cheerleader uniforms which at present has been paid from the reserve fund. John Christianson moved that Jack Luy and George Stephenson be appointed to investigate the status of the athletic department relative to paying the debt on the uniforms.

A new twist on franchises has arisen. The M. A. P. would like a franchise to sell pop at the intermission of their play, with the provision that they could transfer the franchise to another organization. The board granted permission that this be done with the Phi Upsilon Omicron selling pop at the play March 19. This is on a trial basis only.

The board is authorizing a delegation to the Minnesota Conference of Education, which is to leave this morning, March 6. Registration fees and transportation for three car loads are being provided.

Here is a review of the hours for S. S. A. elections: campaigning starts at noon tomorrow, student assembly is Wednesday at 10:00, elections are Thursday, at 9:50 through 4:00 p.m.

The regular meeting was adjourned and a meeting with the vice presidents of the various organizations commenced. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss the social needs and problems of the students and ways in which these problems might be alleviated.

These are some of the problems which were discussed. Organizations which sponsor functions are losing money because of poor attendance. It was felt that there should be activities of the gymjam nature. Too many students are off-campus on weekends. The atmosphere is too formal. There is too much emphasis put on having dates for every event. There is a difficulty in getting the students to mix at dances.

There were suggestions to have roller skating parties at the armory, tournaments in cards, pool, ping pong, bowling, and having the gym floor open for volleyball and other sports.

There was so much enthusiasm for discussing these problems that it was decided to adjourn until the problems could be laid before the student body in an open discussion at convocation Wednesday morning.

ONE STUDENT'S REACTION ON OPEN ASSEMBLY

Last Wednesday morning at a Stout Student Assembly the social problems at Stout were aired before the student body. This move was unprecedented in the annals of this SSA staff. Many things were discussed pro and con and many enlightening suggestions were made. Now, before we start to build new dormitories, enlarge clubrooms, or in general enlarge the Stout facilities, let us look around and see what we do have at Stout. We have a record number of annual dances each school year. We have a football team, basketball team, baseball team, intramurals, bowling, card playing, ping pong, pool, television, snack bar, and a swimming pool. We have carnivals, skit nights, lyceum, picnics, parades, fraternity parties, sorority parties, concerts, and ice skating. We have at our disposal many churches, movies, and even a golf course. Now! after you have reviewed all the events that happen in a school year and still nothing interests you, than you may be beyond any help. Ask yourself this question. Have I given Stout and the rest of the students a chance to make me a better social person? Our problem is not so much a lack of things to do, but rather for all of us to go out and enjoy what is presented. The hard working committee men go all out to make things right for the students. They are not infallible in their work, but deserve your presence at activities to show that their work was appreciated. Let's get out of that shell we "stay-in's" and "go-home's" live in and give Stout a chance to make college a good thing all the way around. As the doctor tells a patient, "I can only supply the remedy, now the cure is up to you." Let's all get out and enjoy ourselves by making our school events and facilities a part of our social education.

TRI SIGS MAKE SCRAP BOOKS FOR HOSPITAL

Social service projects rank high among the activities of the Sigma Sigma Sigma Sorority. A new project is worked on each month. This month's project is the completion of several humorous scrapbooks which will be given to the local hospital for the amusement of the patients. These scrapbooks contain anecdotes, cartoons, and other amusing items.

If anyone has anything they would like to give to this worthy cause, Mary Klaus, chairman, or any of the other members would be happy to accept the contribution.

DEAN ANTRIM SPEAKS AT CONGO MEETING

The first March meeting of the Congo Club began with a delicious party meal served by Pat Wangan, Verna Tuomi and Ed Clary. President Tom Kitto led the meeting and worship. The speaker at the meeting was Dean Antrim who spoke about sororities and fraternities.

The next meeting will be a buffet lunch at Rev. and Mrs. Buran's home.

FIVE W.A.A. MEMBERS ATTEND PLAY DAY

Five Stout students represented the W. A. A. at an all-state play day held at La Crosse, February 28.

Kathryn Garvin, Marilyn Freeden, Rosemary Hass, Mae Rammer, and Marie Strodthoff were the representatives. There were 140 girls from 14 state colleges present.

The girls were divided into various sections to participate in basketball, volleyball, badminton, and swimming. They also enjoyed an exhibition of tumbling and synchronized swimming staged by La Crosse students.

ALPHA SIGMA ALPHA ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

The new president of the Alpha Sigs is Marilyn Eckstein. Other officers elected are: Mary Gehler, vice president; Grace Laudon, secretary; Joeline Chryst, treasurer; Jo Brehm, editor; Nancy Gunderson, chaplain; Louise Zirbel, registrar; Dorothy Brownell, song leader.

Installation of the officers will take place on March 15, when the group will attend church together and have a luncheon.

NEWS OF OUR ALUMNI

Mr. and Mrs. Newton Van Dalsun, B.S. 1908, lives in Los Angeles, California. They have three living children and seven grandchildren. Mr. Van Dalsun retired in 1944. Last summer they traveled to many of the national parks located in California.

Gladys I. Penn, B.S. 1928, is teaching advanced foods in the high school in Bakersfield, California.

Fredrick L. Curran, B.S. 1935, was married five years ago and has one little girl. Mr. Curran is the son of a former staff member at Stout. He teaches in a new building, an annex to Mackenzie high school in Detroit, Michigan. He is the chairman of the writing of "Handbook for Woodworking Teachers."

Charolette W. Gist, B. S. 1945, is a dietitian in Milwaukee. She spends every summer in the Ozark Mountains teaching weaving. Her husband builds radar stations off the coast of South America. They have two grandchildren.

Mrs. Jeanne Stuckey (nee Jeanne Kane, B.S. 1949) lives in Cashton where she taught for one and one-half years and where her husband teaches agriculture. They have two small boys. Mrs. Stuckey has three sisters in home economics education who had their training at Stout.

Donald Lux, B. S. 1949 and M. S. 1952, lives in Columbus, Ohio. He married Harriet Harmer in 1945 and they have two sons born in 1949 and 1952. He is the secretary at Ohio State University of the Alpha Chapter of Epsilon Pi Tau. This chapter was the original chapter of the fraternity.

Donald Raether, B. S. '50, is in the army. His job is chief radar mechanic and he is stationed in Western Germany. Bob Bade and Raether took a twenty day furlough together last summer. They were in Switzerland, the French Riviera and Paris. Bade is also a former Stout student.

Robert Morley, B.S. '50 - M. S. '51, is in Huron, Michigan. He and his wife celebrated their sixth wedding anniversary by attending the Detroit-Los Angeles professional football game December 31. They have three daughters.

Roman Weinzierl, B. S. '52, is teaching industrial arts and is the assistant football and basketball in Goodman, Wisconsin. The Goodman football standing this season was seven straight games won. He attended the state convention in Milwaukee in November.

Marvin Desrocher, B. S. '52, is in the Navy Cadets stationed in Whiting Field, Florida. He is learning the basic principles of flight. His address is:

N. C. Marvin P. Desrocher USNR
Blde. 1451 Rm. 130

Milton, Florida

Dorothy Knutson, B. S. '52, is a dietitian intern at the University Hospital in Columbus, Ohio. She is also working for her master's degree which she hopes to obtain by December.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Straw live in Canby, Minnesota. He graduated in 1951 and his wife is the former assistant librarian at Stout. She is now the secretary to the principal at Colby high school. He teaches in the junior high school and coaches the junior basketball team. In December he was elected president of the Canby Education Association.

Mrs. Edward O. Hansen (nee Jean Engebretson), B. S. 1951, lives in Eau Claire. She has a small son born in October.

The principle of Almont high school is Ronald G. Mittlestadt who graduated with his B. S. in 1947 and received his M. S. in 1952. The town of Almont is directly north of Detroit, Michigan. He belongs to many educational and civic organizations.

Robert Miller, B. S. 1952, is attending the Naval Officer Candidate School in Newport, Rhode Island. He spent a sixteen day leave at home during Christmas and expects to have another leave after graduation.

Dorothy Krushas Dale, B. S. 1952, is teaching 7th, 8th and 9th grade home economics at Chippewa Falls junior high school. She is the advisor for the school paper which has sixteen students on the staff. She was married last summer and lives on a dairy farm on the outskirts of Menomonee.

Russel C. Browe, B. S. 1934 and M. S. 1943, who has been a classroom teacher at Oklahoma City for several years, was recently appointed principal of the U. S. Grant high school in Oklahoma City.

Director of the Wausau Vocational School is Laurence B. Hoyt, B. S. '34, who has one son and one daughter. He attends the AVA regularly and is President of the local Rotary Club. He is also active in the Chamber of Commerce, Community Chest, YMCA, and the Education Association.

STUDENTS TELL OPINIONS OF ALUMNI AWARDS

Each year, you, the alumni of The Stout Institute, are asked to assist your scholarship committee. The most vital part of your assistance is the encouragement you give worthy, needy, and interested high school seniors to make application for a boy's and a girl's scholarship given each year. We would like everyone to realize that you who provide this encouragement are the real keys to your student's advancement and to our continued success.

For your students you have encouraged the opening of another door—that being the opportunities and the values of a college education. It is not the monetary value of the award alone that will help the recipients, but also the honor and the subsequent will to succeed. You, James Cook, a senior, and you Robert Wallace, a freshman, have told us this in your comments published today.

Your committee's most difficult task is the selection of one boy and one girl from twenty to thirty applicants. That was evidenced last year when the committee recommended that two exceptional boys were equally qualified and that each be given a scholarship. It has been felt for some time that more scholarships were needed. Those of us on the committee have often wondered how many of last year's applicants were members of Stout's freshman class in the fall and how many were lost to other colleges for the scholarships they offered. Certainly each was well-qualified and of the caliber Stout desires.

What can you do? Possibly alumni who have received scholarships in the past or all of you who recognize a need will provide an answer in the form of additional funds. Your committee is hopeful of awarding more than two scholarships in the coming year.

What have the alumni scholarships been to our winners? The following comments are given by James Cook, a senior from Cambridge, Wisconsin, and Robert Wallace, a freshman from Neilsville, Wisconsin. You gave them encouragement and are to be congratulated.

James Cook—senior: I received the Alumni Association Scholarship in 1949. It proved to be of great value to me. The actual value of the award was of course a help. However, an even greater value was obtained through the impetus it gave me in my desire to attend and ultimately succeed in my college work. As a result, I will soon graduate from Stout. I plan to enter teaching. I shall always remember my student days at Stout and the prominent role the alumni scholarship played.

Robert Wallace—freshman: I think the alumni scholarship is very valuable to freshmen students because of the great help it gave me this year. I had not planned on going to college until I won the scholarship. Now that I have started school, I can see that the award was of more value than just helping out during the freshman year. It served as an incentive to start college. Now that I have started school, I am sure that I want to continue. Without this aid, I would not be going to school now. With this start, I plan to become a mechanical drawing teacher.

FEATURE STORY BY STOUT GRAD IN MAGAZINE

"At Your Fingertips" is the title of a national magazine article on use of presentation boards written by Betty Erickson Layman, a former student at The Stout Institute. Mrs. Layman is now homemaking teacher at Eastern Suburban junior high school, Silver Spring, Maryland. Her husband, a Stout graduate, also teaches in that vicinity.

Betty's feature story appeared in the March issue of Forecast, a magazine for home economists throughout America. Mrs. Layman developed the basis of the article in Dr. Fleming's feature writing course while she was a coed at Stout.

Evidence that such articles are actually read comes from Roberta Hutchinson, now teaching in Bear Creek high school. Miss Hutchinson, who took the feature writing course at the same time as did Mrs. Layman, recently sent the Forecast article to Dr. Fleming.

ROGER KUSS HITS 57 IN 103-74 FALCON VICTORY

Bill Kieffer Scores 24
In Swan Song; Stewart
And Dailey Also Shine
by Jim Rokusek

It was all Roger Kuss Saturday night, as the big 6'5" center from River Falls tallied 57 points, or more than one half of the Falcons total of 103. At halftime, the league's scoring leader had thirteen baskets and six free throws for thirty-two points. His second half total of 25 exceeded his best previous total of 54 established against Stevens Point at River Falls three weeks ago.

The game had barely gotten under way when Bob Williams hit a shot from the side. Two field goals by Kuss increased the Falcon lead to 6-0 as the River Falls raced out to an early advantage. The Bluedevils were never ahead throughout the contest as the Falcons built up a sizeable first quarter lead.

The Bluedevils attempted to use a three out and two in type of offense to start the game, but lack of height forced Coach Johnson to insert Bruce Leonard into the pivot in place of freshman Bobby Seaman. Leonard, however, did not even last out the first half, as Kuss wasted no time in getting him to foul out. Leonard left the contest with three baskets and two free throws for a total of eight points.

Time and again the smooth working Kuss worked his way under the basket for easy lay in shots as the Falcon forwards and guards passed over the top of the smaller Stout pivotmen. In all, Coach Johnson employed five different players in a vain attempt to stymie the Falcon ace. Stewart, Leonard, Zander, Boldt, and Rokusek all tried their best, but it just wasn't good enough.

The Stout forwards did good defensive jobs on "Zeke" Wells and Williams as each tallied only ten points apiece as compared to Kieffer's 24 and Stewart's 20. Taking Kuss out of the lineup, Kieffer and Stewart combined, scored only one point less than the rest of the River Falls team.

Bill Kieffer played one of his better ball games of the season in his last game as a member of the Stout cage squad, as he continually drove around Wells for close in shots. Two other Bluedevils, Stilp and Rokusek, were also seen on the hardwood for the last time. As usual, the Neenah captain did a creditable job of ball handling and was responsible, in part, for much of the Stout scoring. Jim Dailey, Stilp's cohort in the backcourt, teamed up to give the Bluedevils a smooth working offensive unit during much of the contest. By scoring twelve points, the

KIEFFER TOPS CAGERS WITH 14.3 AVERAGE

Bill Kieffer, veteran mainstay from Hastings, Minnesota, and top Blue-devil candidate for all-conference honors, topped Stout's individual scorers by recording 287 points in 20 games for a 14.3 average. One of three Stout cagers to play in all 20 contests, the 175 pound Kieffer tallied 199 points in 12 conference games for an even better 16.6 per game average.

Tom Stewart, the Bluedevils outstanding freshman forward, trailed Kieffer by 95 points, although he had a sparkling 16.8 average for the final ten games of the season.

Kieffer led the Bluedevil scorers in eight of the 20 contests, while Stewart topped local scorers on six occasions.

F.O.B.'S COP THIRD STRAIGHT 'GRUDGE GAME'

The F. O. B.'s beat the P. S. E. fraternity 61 to 49 Wednesday night in the annual grudge game. The game was a thriller from start to finish with the P. S. E.'s taking an early first quarter lead. Two quick baskets put the winners ahead and they held a slim margin until midway in the third period when the P. S. E.'s made a sensational comeback.

Coach John Christensen opened with the veteran combination of Bill Kieffer, John Jacobson, Karl Turk, Al Loew, and Ron Johnson while head mentor Augie Schultz's starting line-up consisted of Jim Olds, Neil Hoepfner, Larry Sharkey, Bob Boldt, and Al Ochs.

High scorers for the game were Turk and Kieffer with eighteen points each for the F. O. B.'s. Hoepfner was high for the P. S. E.'s with fifteen. Jacobson and Loew played good ball for the winners with thirteen and six points respectively. Boldt and Sharkey came through with nine points apiece for the losers.

The hard fought game was a demoralizing loss for Coach Schultz. In fact, the heartbreaking defeat forced ed Schultz to depart for Madison early Thursday morning.

Referees for the annual football game on the hardwoods were Stilp, from the University of Minnesota, and Rokusek from the University of Illinois.

Gay Boyer: "If I take a job with you, will you pay me what I'm worth?"

Manager: "We'll do better than that. We'll go so far as to pay you a small salary."

March 19, 20, and 21 (Thurs., Fri., and Sat.) are the big nights for the presentation of "The Admirable Crichton". Reserved seats may be obtained by students free of charge. Simply show your SSA card and a reservation will be granted. Seats will be on reserve March 16 through 20 in the Harvey Hall. Curtain time is 8:15 p.m. in the Stout auditorium.

This play is one of Barrie's best known fantastic modern plays. It is about an aristocratic English family who get shipwrecked on an island. In their struggle for existence, many very humorous situations arise which make this an especially enjoyable play. The butler, Crichton, is regarded as leader on the island, but upon return to civilization, the situation changes.

The cast have been working hard learning and perfecting their lines. The cast for this play is especially large. It includes: Charles Russell-Crichton; Mike Pavlein - Lord Loam; Carlos Carter - Lord Brocklehurst; Corky Collette - Ernest; Fritz Ebert-Mr. Treherne; Ed Nowicki - Mr. Rolleston; Herb Pringle - Monsior Fleury; George Stephenson - Tompsett; W. Klosterman - Thomas; David Peake - Page; Dick Duthler - Navy Officer; Jeanette Oetting - Tweeny; Carol Schilstra - Lady Mary; Mary Bohrnstedt - Lady Agatha; Ardis Carr - Lady Catherine; Mary Betzel - Miss Fisher; Joanne Gritt - Mademoiselle Jeanne; Joan Stegman - Mrs. Perkins; Joan Mountford - Jane; Jackie Frisbie - Gladys; Dorothy Brownell - Miss Simmons; Bertie Harris - Lady Broklehurst; and Avis Reschenberg-Kitchen Wench.

Technical director for the play is Sam Mikitarian. Busy as assistant director or prompter is Verna Dunn. Barb Hilt has charge of sound effects. Chairman for various backstage committees are Louise Wenger, Carolyn Schauf, Nancy Hanshus, and Gloria Voigt.

INVETERATE TRAVELER WILL LECTURE AT CONVO

Dr. Hooper Illustrates His Lectures With Pictures He Has Taken On His Travels

Dr. J. Gerald Hooper, a man of many interests and one who has an outstanding record of achievement in many fields, will give an illustrated lecture at the convocation on March 18. His artful skill with a camera and his natural gift for telling a story have won for him the enviable reputation as the travel-lecturer who weaves a magic spell with words and pictures.

Dr. and Mrs. Hooper are inveterate travelers and together they constitute a superb photographic team. Lands of legend and romance have been captured by the Hooper cameras in sparkling films which bring to the screen the thrill of adventure in strange places, the inspiration of history and bits of comedy, pathos, and drama.

Dr. Hooper is an alumnus of Morgan Park Military Academy and has received the degree of Doctor of Dental Surgery with scholastic honors from the Chicago College of Dental Surgery. He is a practicing dentist in Chicago where he served on the faculty of Loyola University for eight years.

Dr. Hooper is the designer of laboratory apparatus used by the United States Army and Navy and many of the industrial "big names" here and abroad. For several years he was President of Fernald Specialty Company, a concern manufacturing equipment of his design.

"Wandering Along Acadian Trails" is a film covering the remote and little known Gaspe Peninsula, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island. Enroute, you are treated to a brief stop at Niagara Falls, a walk through the Franklin Delano Roosevelt estate at Hyde Park, a day abroad the famous schooner Yankee sailing along the rock-bound coast of Maine, a look at Barr Harbor and the result of forest fires, and a never-to-be-forgotten treat-Lobster Salad, Key West Style, at the famous Fodge Inn.

MOTHERS WILL BE HONORED AT YWCA BANQUET

The Y. W. C. A. invites you to bring your mother to the annual Mother-Daughter banquet. The event is to be held March 28, 1953, at 5:30 o'clock. Following the banquet will be a speaker and a toast to the daughters and to the mothers.

This is an event in which all women students may participate. It is not just for Y. W. C. A. members. Donna Anderson is in charge of the ticket sales, the tickets will be on sale next week in the Harvey Hall corridors. Tickets must be bought before Friday, March 27.

A new feature has been added this year. That is that a tour of the buildings will be held on Saturday afternoon for all mothers. There will be guides available from 2-4 o'clock.

LUY, GRAINGER, OETTING, AND SOMMER ARE NEW S.S.A. OFFICERS

Eighty Per Cent Voted; Close Contest In All Races Landslide for Veep.

JACK LUY

Eighty percent of the Stout students took an active interest in their student government yesterday as they went to the poles to elect Jack Luy, president; Gary Grainger, vice president; Jeanette Oetting, secretary; and Jerome Sommer, treasurer.

Active participation in yesterday's election far exceeded the expectations. In the past two years sixty-three percent of the student body turned out at the poles. Except for the landslide of the vice presidency, all offices were closely contested.

This year's election was alive with active campaigning. A great deal of enthusiasm and interest was shown by the entire student body.

Jack, a junior from Milwaukee, Wisconsin, has been very active in student affairs in his three years at Stout and is well qualified for the position of president having been president of his freshman class, vice president of his sophomore class, and vice president of the S. S. A. this past year. As president of S. S. A., he will have ample opportunity to use his experience in working with fellow students and faculty.

Gary, a sophomore from Beaver Dam, Wisconsin, won the vice presidency by a landslide. Gary's qualifications need not be listed here, but as vice president, he will need to draw on the very qualifications that gave him this office. He will be an important member of the team working for the betterment of The Stout Institute, and he, with the rest of the officers, will need the support of the student body.

GARY GRAINGER

JEANETTE OETTING

Jeanette Oetting, a junior from Menomonie, Wisconsin, is well qualified for the position of S. S. A. secretary being at the present time the Tri Sigma historian and the secretary of girl scouts. At the present time, Jeanette belongs to the Sigma Sigma Sorority, Dietetics Club, Manual Arts Players, the Stout Symphonic Singers, and is pledging Phi Upsilon Omicron.

PLACEMENTS OF SENIORS IS RELEASED

Placement of a number of home economic seniors has been announced by Miss Gertrude M. O'Brien, chairman of the college Placement Committee.

Coads who have accepted positions, together with the city in which they have those positions, are Shirley Bendixen, Ellendale, Minn.; Mary Lou Bohrnstedt, Trempealeau; Charmaine Chopp, Mayville; Mary Jane Davies, Fort Atkinson; Winifred Einum, Freeric; Nancy Folkestad, Houston, Minn.;

Shirley Lepien, River Falls; Catherine Magee, Tony; Ardis Mander-schild, Kiel; Dorothy Messerschmidt, Beaver Dam; Miriam Miller, Appleton; Fern Naedler, Iron Mountain, Mich.; Hazel Nelson, West Salem; Ardis Olson, Thorp; Charlotte Winslow, Ellsworth; Beverley Henderson, Chippewa Falls; Mrs. Aubrey Duncan, Arkansas; Mrs. Geraldine Bieniasz, Colfax; Marlys Quillings, Elk Mound; Frances Soulek, Lincoln high school Manitowoc; Muriel Roffers, Rice Lake; and Wanda Staehli, Pepin.

The placement chairman indicates that during the past two or three weeks many superintendents from Wisconsin and neighboring states have visited the campus looking for home economics teachers for next year.

Many of the young women have a definite preference as to the location or area in which they wish to teach. These spots vary from year to year as to popularity, with Eastern Wisconsin always a popular area for Stout graduates. However, most young teachers prefer to locate near their homes.

The home economics placement season opens earlier than does that for other fields. This early selection can well be attributed to a shortage in supply of teachers of home economics, a condition which has existed for several years. In overcoming the two scarcity fields those of home economics teaching and kindergarten teaching, superintendents have come to realize that "The early superintendent catches the necessary graduate."

Demand for teachers of industrial education is good. Again this year, shortages exist in the supply of teachers of printing, metals, electrical work, and auto mechanics. Shop teachers with vocational rating in the preceding fields are at a premium.

Each year, The Stout Institute Placement Service helps alumni secure promotions or new positions. Last year, over 200 alumni secured teaching positions through the Placement Service here. The Placement Committee makes a follow-up study of each year's class of new teachers. These reports are then evaluated by the Placement Committee and are of benefit to the college and to the teachers in the field.

JEROME SOMMER

Jerome is a sophomore from Milwaukee, Wisconsin and is very active in school activities, being a member of Sigma Tau Gamma, Inter-Religious Council, and the Student Governing Board. He holds office of treasurer in the Lutheran Student Association and held the treasurer post of his freshman and sophomore class. These qualifications will prove quite helpful to Jerome in the ensuing year.

STOUT WILL NOT SEND DELEGATES TO MEET

No transportation has been found for the students who signed up for the student United Nations Conference in Madison. For this reason, The Stout Institute will not be represented.

The conference is to be held March 27 through 28. Each college participating is allowed ten delegates, those present representing various countries belonging to the U.N. Foreign students attending the University of Wisconsin will be assigned to each group of delegates to help them during the conference.

JOINT MEETING OF AAUP WILL BE HELD HERE

The American Association of University Professors will have a joint meeting with the Eau Claire and River Falls chapters here March 28. A banquet will be held at the Congregational Church. There will be a social hour from 5:30 to 6:30. After the banquet, State Superintendent of Schools, George Watson will speak on "The Teachers We Need." The faculty may purchase tickets from local officers of A. A. U. P. Mr. D. P. Barnard, Mr. K. T. Olson, Dr. Salyer, or Dr. Wall.

WINTER SCENE

This shot was taken recently of the new Stout library which will be ready for use next fall. The snow looks pretty deep but work is progressing.

NEW LIBRARY IS GOING UP ON SCHEDULE

The Stout Institute's new library building is beginning to show its final silhouette. During the past few weeks the walls have reached their full height and the beams have been put in place for the roof. If the construction continues on schedule, the building will be finished in time for the students to use next fall.

The building will be an important addition to our growing campus, providing adequate stacks for the library's books, a reading room which will accommodate 250 people, and a number of "carrels" or personal study cubicals. In addition, it will provide a memorial room, a typewriting room, an audio-visual room, a recording room, and three seminar rooms.

An inebriate was watching a man enter a revolving door. As the door swung around, a pretty girl stepped out. "Swell trick," he muttered. "Don't shee how that guy changed his clothes so fast."

DON COSSACKS PLEASE EVERYONE AT ASSEMBLY

"Wasn't that a swell assembly? The chorus and dancers were really wonderful."

These are just a couple of the comments that the students exchanged after attending the assembly Monday morning. The Platoff Don Cossack chorus and dancers, under the direction of N. Kostrukoff, presented a musical program that pleased everyone in the audience.

The chorus presented Russian ballads and folk songs, along with a few popular melodies. "The Dance Song" the number in which the chorus sang with the tempo of a polka; "The Song of the Flea", a hilarious number with a solo by a bass-baritone; and "Snowstorm" where the Cossacks express deep love for their homeland, were just a few of the many songs that were so popular with the audience.

"Dagger Dance", a solo by one of the dancers, was a tremendous success, as was the dance number in which all the members of the group participated.

SIG TAUS END THE WEEK WITH A PARTY

Twelve pledges of the Sigma Tau Gamma Fraternity are rounding out their pledge duties by studying the history and ideals of the fraternity. Pledges have also been familiarized with the local and national organization of Sigma Tau Gamma.

The men who have pledged Sigma Tau Gamma this semester are: Carlos Carter, Max Cisco, James Dailey, Darrel Ebert, Kayo Hietala, Thomas Kitt, Bruce Leonard, Phillip Mann, Darrel Premo, Dave Sandahl, Carl Spinti, and Harold Thorpe.

A party tonight will highlight the weekend for the members, pledges, and their dates. The party, under the direction of David Gresch, will be held above the Union.

PHI SIGS FORMALLY INITIATE FIVE PLEDGES

Formal initiation for five new members was held Thursday evening March 12, in the River Room of the Stoppe Cafe in Durand by the Phi Sigma Epsilon Fraternity.

A tasty chicken meal was served the members and prospective members of the Phi Sigma Epsilon on the banks of the Chippewa River at Durand last Thursday evening.

Following the traditions of the organization, the five former pledges of the Phi Sigs were formally initiated as members of the fraternity. A short business meeting was then held with the new members participating. Upon completion of the meeting, the members then returned to Menomonie.

New members initiated into the fraternity were Robert Boldt, Lawrence Bruno, James Christianson, Leo Janis, and James Olds.

GREEN TEA TO BE HELD NEXT WEDNESDAY

The annual Green Tea given by the freshmen girls and sponsored by the Home Economics Club will be held in the Harvey Memorial, Wednesday, March 18, from 3:30 to 5:30.

The general chairman is Doris Hutchinson. Other committees with their chairmen are: Food, Charlotte Elliot, chairman, Mary Adams, Ruth Winter, Kay Yentz, and Hila Jeffery; decoration, Dorothy Ann Neis, chairman, Virginia Ehlers, Terry Franda, and Mary Paciotti; invitations, Carol Viestenz, chairman, Caryl Teasdale, Lillian Smith, Roberta Haskins, Judy Day, and Joan Anderson.

Rosemary Kelly and Avis Mertes are in charge of publicity. Doris Curtiss is chairman of the equipment, with Doris Wandrey and Barbara Rushing serving on her committee. Betty Conrad and her committee of Mary McIlquhan, Ruth Bradley, Sally Radey, and Ardelle Gossell, will take charge of clean-up.

TRI SIGS PLAN DINNER DANCE FOR MARCH 21

Spring will arrive early when the Sigma Sigma Sigma Sorority holds its annual spring dinner dance on Saturday, March 21 at the Hotel Marion. A spring theme will be used with violets and pearls, the sorority flower and jewel, as the center of attraction of the decorative scheme.

George Soderberg and his Royal Blackhaws will furnish the music for the occasion.

HYPs WILL OBSERVE THEIR FOUNDERS' DAY

The Hyperian sorority will observe their founders day on March 19. During the day the members will wear a yellow rose, the sorority's flower, to commemorate their founding.

A dinner will be held at the Anchor Cafe at 5:30 p.m., and the sorority extends an invitation to their former members to attend.

PHI U WILL INITIATE NEW PLEDGES TONIGHT

This evening, the Phi Upsilon Omicron will formally initiate its seven new pledges: Carol Bredlow, Elaine Hansen, Gloria Voigt, Barbara Hiller, Jolene Chryst, Jeanette Oetting, and Pat Jensen.

The initiation is to be held in the tearoom and will be followed by a gathering in the Harvey Memorial for refreshments.

PLEDGES HEAR OF STS FIELD TRIP PLANS

A supper meeting was held to introduce prospective pledges and discuss plans for the annual field trip on Wednesday, March 4, by The Stout Typographical Society in the tearoom.

Plans for the annual STS field trip was discussed at the first supper meeting held by the organization this school year. Members who take the field trip will visit fourteen business establishments related to the printing field in the Fox River Valley area.

Prospective pledges of the printing organization present at the supper meeting were James Berray, David Beyl, Charles Houge, Loren King and Gerald Oberpriller. These pledges donned the traditional paper hats and other printing equipment on Friday, March 6.

ARTS AND CRAFTS CLUB INITIATES PLEDGES

"The Care and Feeding of Contented Cows" and a "Dry Bombing Run" highlighted the Arts and Crafts initiation ceremonies held on March 9. These skits and other entertainment were provided by the club's seven new pledges and were followed by cake, ice cream, and coffee served by Ann Sipple's committee.

A short discussion of prizes for the March 28 card party was held and it was decided to display the prizes for three days before the party. The club members are now creating prizes for each card table, and all who buy a ticket will have a chance at the beautiful door prize.

WILLIAM C. BANKS

ROBERT D. MILLER

TWO GRADS ARE COMMISSIONED NAVAL ENSIGNS

Eight hundred and forty enlisted men traded their white hats for the gold trimmed caps of commissioned ensigns, as the Navy's only Officer Candidate School graduated its ninth and largest class here today.

Two of those graduated were: William C. Banks of Chetek, Wisconsin, and Robert D. Miller of Clintonville, Wisconsin. Both were graduated from The Stout Institute in 1952.

Over one thousand persons watched the impressive ceremony as Captain Harold O. Larson, U.S.N., Assistant Chief of Naval Personnel for Education and Training, made presentation of diplomas.

These new officers will join other OCS graduates already serving on every type of combatant and non-combatant ship in the fleet.

Many will go to specialists schools where they will be trained further as pilots, aviation ground officers, beach masters, underwater demolition team officers or "frog men", and some will serve with the Marines in Korea as gunnery liaison officers.

These men, in four months of intensive study and training, have covered the same Naval subjects that College NROTC students do in four years. Foremost in their study was gunnery, navigation, seamanship, engineering, damage control and operations.

To qualify for line officer's candidate school, a person must be a college graduate, be between the ages of 19 and 27, and pass a rigid physical examination. The only exception to age limitation are candidates for restricted line commissions who may be between the ages of 19 and 33.

The Stoutonia staff wishes the best of congratulations to Bill and Bob.

APO PLEDGES TAKE THE CLUB'S SERVICE VOW

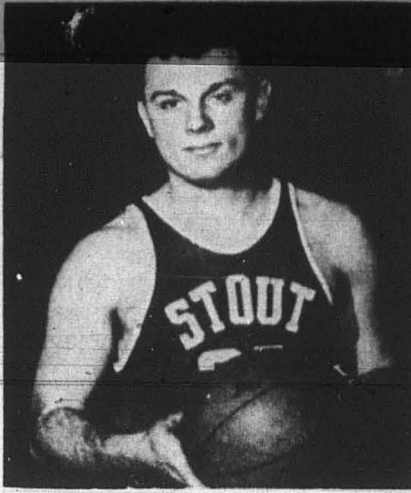

Service to School - Service to Student Body - Service to Community - Service to Self. These pledges were accepted by future members of Alpha Phi Omega at their formal initiation, March 7 in the room above the union at 5 p.m.

Successful completion of pledge duties were accomplished by pledges. The impressive ritual at the initiation was given added incentive by the wishes of the pledges to become active members in the organization. After the initiation all members and advisors assembled at the Anchor for dinner. A delicious meal consisting of steak, salad, potatoes, coffee, rolls, butter, and dessert was served to the members.

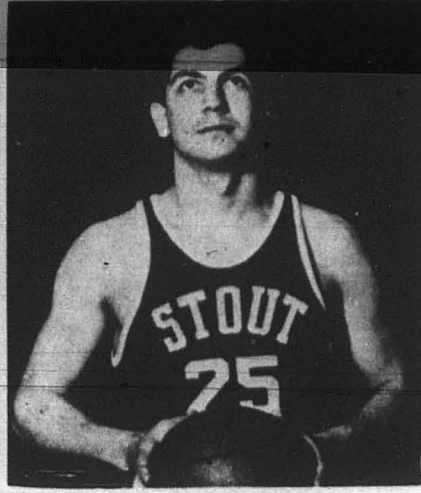

The impressive candle light ceremony was conducted by President Sorenson. Dean Price and Dr. Salyer, advisors, clearly emphasized the serious obligations undertaken by the pledges. Charles Weber, secretary, described the organization's coat of arms very vividly and Fred Kajahara, historian, spoke of the meaning of the key. Phil Johnson, Boy Scout Advisor, described the relationship between Alpha Phi Omega and scouting. Before closing the initiation, President Sorenson replaced the pledge lapel button of each pledge with the service lapel button significant of active participation in the organization.

Next event, on the calendar, for the organization is a meeting to be held at the president's home Tuesday night March 10. An informal business meeting will be in order and a social time will follow.

CAPTAIN AND MOST VALUABLE PLAYER

TOM STILP

BILL KIEFFER

PRIZE PLAYERS ARE STILP AND KIEFFER

The Stout cage team met as a unit for the last time on Monday, March 2, on the third floor of the student union. The meeting was primarily called to elect the honorary team captain and the most valuable player of the 1952-53 basketball season. When the voting had terminated and all of the votes had been counted, seniors Tom Stilp and Bill Kieffer were the proud possessors of the awards.

One of the most popular and most respected men to ever wear the Stout colors is team captain Tom Stilp of Neenah, Wisconsin. The fine competitor came out of virtual intercollegiate retirement to spark both the grid and cage teams to whatever accomplishments that were attained throughout the year.

Tom sustained many and various injuries throughout the season, but the 5'9", 180 pound Stilp would never quit the game. Such injuries as a chipped ankle bone, a broken finger, a swollen elbow that had to be drained, and occasional cases of the flu, added to an already bad knee injury, made the Neenah bearcat play even harder.

Elected by his teammates to the position of game captain in each of the final ten contests of the season, the fine ball handling guard definitely proved himself as a team leader and floor general. The honor was the second of the year for the popular senior, as he was elected the most valuable player on the Stout football team earlier in the campaign.

A lover of body contact, the former

University of Minnesota griddier gave it everything he had in every ball game regardless of the score. He was a terrific inspiration to many freshmen on the squad, and his take charge attitude will be sorely missed when another cage season rolls around.

Bill Kieffer, meanwhile, goes down as one of the finest basketball players to ever represent The Stout Institute. A high scoring forward at Hastings high school in Hastings, Minnesota, Bill played both forward and guard during the past two seasons. To further prove his versatility, the six foot 175 pound senior moved into the pivot in two of the games this season.

By leading the Blue Devils with 287 points, Kieffer established a 14.3 per game average over a twenty game schedule, although his conference showing raised his average to 16.6 in twelve outings. Bill also tied the individual game scoring efforts of Tom Stewart when he tallied 25 points in the season final at River Falls on February 28. He led the Blue Devil scorers on seven occasions out of 20 and tied Stewart for another when both tallied fourteen points against Eau Claire.

When speaking of Bill's offensive abilities, his defensive talents are somewhat overlooked. For this reason, it must be remembered that Bill often guarded the best men on the opposing team and in most cases performed yeoman like service. His defensive jobs on high scorers Stan Dufrane, Reggie Lamers, Pat Costello, Zeke Wells, and Bob Bostad stamp the Blue Devil ace as one of the league's best in this department.

An all-conference selection in football, Bill is a rare three sport man. His exploits on the gridiron, floor, and diamond will long be remembered by those who were close to the Stout athletic picture during the past four years.

STOUT BAND RENDERS FINE MUSIC CONCERT

The Stout Institute Band, under the direction of Victor Hardt, presented its annual concert on March 4. A small audience witnessed the fine music produced through the hard work of the musicians.

The numbers featured were: "Why Don't you Believe Me"; "Scenes from Operaland"; "El Burrito"; two numbers, "The Choral" and "March" by Victor Hardt; and "The Syncopated Clock", directed by Evelyn Knospe, Menomonie high school director.

Hearty congratulations are extended to the fine soloists and ensemble groups who performed during the program.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

by Jim Rokusek

Once again we come to that period during the college year when intercollegiate sports activity reaches a standstill. Basketball is over, and baseball, golf, and tennis will soon share the conference spotlight. An opening call for pitchers and catchers was scheduled by Coach Jack Wink for Monday, March 9, while the golf and tennis squads will begin to work out later in the month.

Let us pause here for a moment to give somewhat of a final analysis of the Stout cage picture. The Blue Devil's ninth place finish of two wins and ten losses is nothing to get excited about to be sure, but nevertheless the team did play creditable and improved ball during the latter stages of the campaign. With eight freshman playing alongside two juniors and two seniors, of which only one was a letterman, Coach Ray C. Johnson got almost everything out of what material was on hand. At least four freshman showed promise of future prowess and one, Tom Stewart, proved to be a very dependable scorer, averaging 16.8 points per game in the ten games in which he drew the starting assignment.

With the recent disclosure of the Stout team captain and most valuable player, only the final all-conference selections remain. These selections, which will be made by the ten conference coaches later this month, will wrap up basketball for another season.

After watching all but one team in the conference during the year, and that team being the last place White-water entry, we thought that it might be interesting to name an all-conference team of our own. It was decided to name a ten man squad since several players are worthy of mention. Here are the choices for this year's all-conference team:

Forwards

Walker, Superior
Kieffer, Stout
Bostad, Stevens Point
Wulz, Milwaukee

Centers

Kuss, River Falls
Rhineck, Platteville

Guards

Humphrey, LaCrosse
Dufrane, Eau Claire
Butrymowicz, Oshkosh
Van Fleet, Platteville

Roger Kuss and Fred Walker are unanimous choices while Glenn Humphrey and Stan Dufrane come close to that category. The fifth position on the first team is open to some question as Bill Kieffer, Bob Bostad, Marv Juel and Al Wulz all rate high in conference scoring. Loren Rhineck, a classy center from Platteville, could also be utilized at a forward position if need be. John Butrymowicz, an all-conference selection in 1951-52, and Rudy Van Fleet, veteran Pioneer playmaker round out the squad.

HELL WEEK IS OVER FOR FOB MEMBERS

From derbies and placards to black shirts with white ribbon ties, the F.O.B.'s, old and new, ushered in a new hell week, and a new group of pledges.

The week from February 26 to March 6 proved to be an eventful one for the pledges. The first few days were devoted mainly to getting acquainted and making paddles. Monday night was the F.O.B. skit night, and the pledges did an outstanding job. Later that same night the pledges serenaded the girls dorms.

Tuesday night marked the informal initiation and Wednesday was the grudge game. At the game the pledges cheered their team on to victory, and showed their sportsmanship toward members of the opposing team.

Thursday night climaxed Hell Week with the formal initiation, which was held at the Anchor Cafe. F.O.B. Stunt Night, held on Saturday, ended a trying and hectic week and a half for both pledges and members.

"GOD OF THE ATOM" TO BE SHOWN SUNDAY

The film "God of the Atom" will be shown by the Stout Christian Fellowship in The Stout Institute auditorium on Sunday, March 15, at 2 p.m. The film, a religious-scientific film based on atomic research, was made in beautiful natural color by the Moody Institute of Science. There will be a free-will offering.

PHI U INITIATES

SEVEN PLEDGES ARE TAKEN INTO PHI U

On Friday evening three juniors and four sophomores were initiated into Phi U. The new members are Carol Bredlow, Jolene Chryst, Pat Jensen, Gloria Voigt, Elaine Hansen, Jeanette Oetting, and Barbara Hiller.

Immediately following the initiation the members met in the Harvey Memorial for refreshments.

Alice in Dairyland will be the guest of The Stout Institute on March 25. The Phi U will serve as official hostess. On that day a tea will be held in her honor.

TWO TEACHERS GO TO ENGLISH CONFERENCE

Reports on the latest philosophy and techniques of college communication have been made by Miss Gertrude L. Callahan, chairman of the English department of The Stout Institute, and Dr. Keith Rinehart, assistant professor of English.

Both teachers represented Stout at the Conference on College Composition and Communication held recently in Chicago.

Participating in a workshop on "Improvement of Reading Ability" was Miss Callahan. Under the chairmanship of Professor James I. Brown, of the University of Minnesota, panel members discussed the importance of reading ability in college students.

Also of interest to workshop members were proposals for improvement of reading skills for college students requiring such remediation.

As official recorder for the all-conference evening panel, Miss Callahan worked with three leaders in communication who discussed experimental projects being carried on in their colleges.

Chairman of the panel was Professor Jerome Archer of Marquette University. Speakers included Professors Lowell Coolidge, Wooster College; Robert Limpus, Michigan State college; and Stewart Morgan, Texas A. and M.

Dr. Rinehart was secretary of the workshop on "Preparation of the Teacher of College Composition or Communication." Chairman of the group was Professor Harold Allen, of the University of Minnesota. Central problem before the workshop was improvement of graduate courses in English aimed at preparing teachers of communication.

Also of interest to workshop participants were reports of experimental work on the theory and practice of teaching communication. These reports deal with work being carried on by Professors Albert Kitzhaber, University of Kansas, and Phillip Wiklund, University of Indiana. The pressing problem of censorship of American books and magazines was also considered by the meeting.

The workshop reports which Miss Callahan and Dr. Rinehart compiled will soon be published in the forthcoming "Bulletin of the Conference on College Composition or Communication."

BE SURE TO SEE "THE ADMIRABLE CRICHTON"

Last night's performance of "The Admirable Crichton" was another success in the long list of M.A.P. performances. If you haven't already seen this play, you still have a chance. Performances will be given tonight and tomorrow night. Curtain time is 8:15 p.m. in the Stout auditorium. The play is about an aristocratic family that becomes shipwrecked on an island and have to get along without all their fine material possessions.

This is an unusual play that you won't want to miss. Remember—all you need is your SSA card and you can get a free reservation in the Harvey Hall corridor.

"ALICE" WILL MAKE A VISIT TO OUR CAMPUS

"Alice in Dairyland" will make a visit at Stout on Wednesday, March 25. She will be sponsored by Phi Upsilon Omicron. She will give a talk at 4:00 p.m. in the auditorium which will be followed by a reception in the Harvey.

Miss Beverly Ann Steffen, who was chosen as "Alice" in June, 1952, at the Wisconsin State Fair, is from Appleton, Wisconsin. Following her reign as official hostess at the State Fair, Miss Steffen has represented the state in many events throughout the state and nation, including appearances at the annual Dairy Industries Supply Exposition, Wisconsin Cheese Week at Houston, Texas, and the Rose Bowl. She is a full time employee of the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture until the 1953 "Alice" is crowned during June dairy month.

HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS INVITED TO OPEN HOUSE

All The Stout Institute home economics alumnae and all other teachers of home economics are cordially invited to bring their high school girls of the junior and senior years to The Stout Institute's biennial Open House at the college on Tuesday, April 21.

Because it will be necessary for the arrangement committee to know approximately the number of persons who will attend, teachers are requested to write to Dean Alice J. Kirk no later than April 10, indicating the number to be in their party.

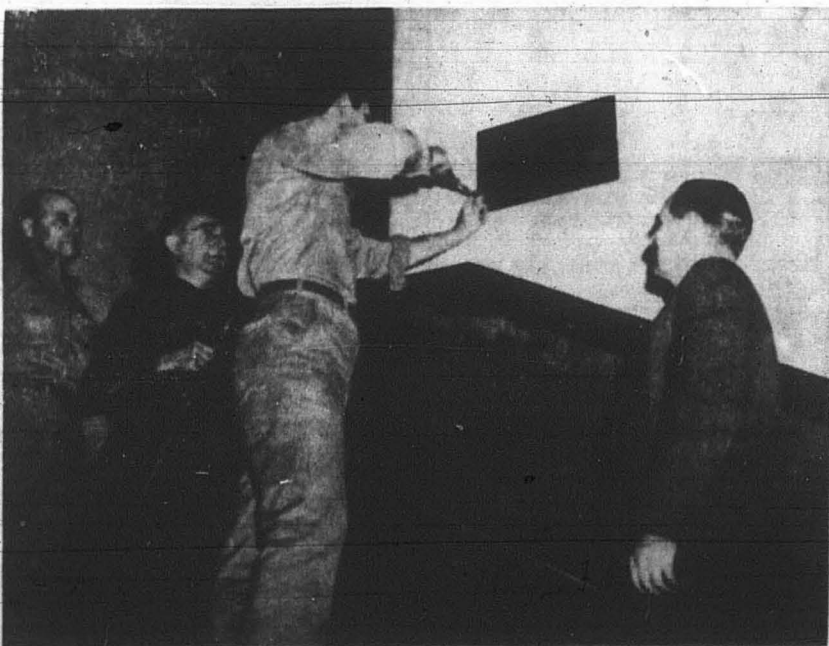

Produced under the direction of Dr. Kirk, dean of The Stout Institute Division of Home Economics, the Open House will feature demonstrations, exhibits, a style show, gymnasium exhibitions, and tours of the campus.

A special program, composed of the style show and many of the exhibits, will be offered on the evening of the 21st for residents of the Menomonie area.

The Stout Institute's Open House programs seek all alleviate the critical shortage of home economics teachers.

PERUVIAN STUDIES AMERICAN TECHNIQUES

Watching Jose Cosio demonstrate his skill in using a modern American power hammer is Dr. John A. Jarvis, dean of industrial education at The Stout Institute. Cosio, a Peruvian vocational educator, is attending Stout to learn the latest techniques in this nation's industrial education program.

JOSE COSIO GIVES OPINION OF AMERICA

"I Love America and I think American life is wonderful. But how can Americans afford to live on the prices they pay, when in Peru steaks sell for 24 cents a pound?"

This reaction to America's high cost of living comes from Jose Cosio of Lima, Peru, a special student at The Stout Institute. Cosio is attending the college for one year to learn latest American theories and techniques of industrial education.

Enjoying America with Jose are his wife and nine month old baby. Of all the many sights the Cosio family has seen in their tour of America, this nation's many trees and abundant green foliage impressed them most. "While we are very proud of our native Peru," Jose says, "we must admit that Peru for the most part is barren, brown, and sandy."

The popular sport of square dancing was demonstrated to Jose when he saw 1500 4H boys and girls dancing on the campus of Maryland university this summer. He likes American square dancing but is even more impressed by the fact that American boys and girls play together and learn together.

"In Peru," Jose states, "girls and boys are kept apart on all things." However, he believes that co-education is not only good but necessary, predicting, "There are many customs in Peru that must be changed before Peru can have co-education for all ages"

Cosio is attending The Stout Institute on the Four Point Plan which encourages inter-change of educators between North and South America. Chosen, along with 16 fellow industrial education majors by the Peruvian government and the American Cooperative Service in Peru, he will study at Stout until June. At the end of that time, he will return to direct the industrial arts department of the new Central Normal school in Lima.

Funds for the construction of this new school were advanced to the Peruvian government, as part of a program by which the United States hopes to stimulate industrial education in South America. Cosio was directed to The Stout Institute by Dr. Stuart Anderson, former Stout teacher, now Chief, Division of Technical Education, Lima, Peru.

Industrial education is a new program in Peru. Going into industrial arts upon his retirement from the Peruvian Navy, Cosio was one of ten former Navy men to go into this new field. He had previously served as a Lt. Commander in the Peruvian Navy from 1930 to 1945.

Assistance in improving his use of the English language is just one of the many benefits which Jose believes he has already gained from his study at Stout. In estimating what American life has meant so far, he exclaims with emotion: "I am proud to be in this great country. Although America's cost of living may, at first glance, seem a little high to a foreigner, the privilege of living in such a nation is far too wonderful to be thought of in terms of mere dollars and cents."

CATALOG FOR SUMMER SESSION BEING MADE

The Summer Session Catalog, in the process of being made, is planned to be ready for mailing during the first week of April. Inquiries for the bulletin have been coming in since last October.

Dean Kirk, Dean Jarvis, and Mr. Wigen have all been busy preparing and assembling material for the catalog.

RIFLE CLUB IS SPONSORING A TURKEY SHOOT

Want a fine turkey, chicken, or ham for that Easter dinner? Then come to turkey shoot at the Company A Armory, Sunday, March 22, anytime after 1:00 o'clock in the afternoon, and you may win just what you want. All rifles and shooting equipment will be provided by the Stout Rifle Club. However, if you have a pet rifle of your own, by all means use it. All you have to do is be there yourself. Admission is free.

PROM THEME CONTEST WILL CLOSE MONDAY

Yes, spring is just around the corner. One of the first signs of the season to appear on the Stout campus is the annual junior prom theme contest. This contest is already underway having begun last Monday, March 16, at 8:30 a.m. It will close next Monday, March 23, at 5:00 p.m. All Stout students are eligible to submit entries and a prize will be awarded for the winning theme choice.

Ideas for the theme must be accompanied by a tentative plan for decorating the high school gym. There is no limit to the number who collaborate on a particular theme. Name or names should be signed to all entries. A prize of two tickets to the prom will be given to the winner or winners.

So put on your thinking caps and drop your suggestions in the box in front of Harvey Memorial.

Don't forget, the contest closes next Monday, March 23, at 5:00 p.m. So if you haven't as yet submitted any theme suggestion for the contest, let your imagination get a real work-out during your leisure hours this weekend. Here's a chance for you and Stout to profit from your talents.

CARD PARTY WILL BE HELD NEXT WEEKEND

"We Welcome all Card Sharks" may well be the motto of Arts and Crafts members as they invite you to attend their annual card party to be held in the Stout Gym on Saturday, March 28.

By buying a small thirty-five cent ticket to this affair, you will have your choice of the card game you wish to play, chances to win a useful table prize and beautiful door prize, and a lunch of sandwiches, cake and coffee. Couple these advantages with an enjoyable evening with your friends and what can you lose?

Prizes of wood, metal, and plastic made by Arts and Crafts members will be on display in the Harvey Hall corridor next week for you to select the prize you want, should you be the winner at your table. A modern carved table lamp created by Dick Kadotani will go to the lucky person whose name is drawn for the door prize.

AIR FORCE CADET TEAM TO VISIT CAMPUS MON.

A U. S. Air Force Aviation Cadet Selection Team will visit the campus, Monday, Mar. 23, to give information about Aviation Cadet training. They will be located in the Union Building from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. each day.

In keeping with recent authorization by Congress for expansion of the Air Force to 143 wings, officials announce a need for additional trained and capable fliers to meet an increase in air craft production.

The team will answer students questions on all aspects of the program. Officials will give information on types of aircraft, length and scope of training and benefits after graduation.

Second semester sophomores in jeopardy of being drafted this summer are urged to see team officers during their visit to the campus.

TWENTY FOUR COUPLES ENJOY DINNER DANCE

Saturday evening, March 14, the Hotel Marion was the scene of the Delta Kappa annual dinner dance. Twenty four couples enjoyed a lovely dinner of sirloin steak and turkey. Guests of honor included George Hawthorne, past vice-president of National Delta Kappa, Charles Buckley, and Gerald Goldsmith all from Terra Haute, Indiana. One alumni, Gerald Jefferies, also attended. Dr. and Mrs. Oetting chaperoned the party. Music for dancing was furnished from 8:30 to 11:30 by the Royal Blackhawks. The party was enjoyed by all who attended.

which has made it difficult for many school superintendents to secure properly trained instructors. As a leading source of teachers of home economics, Stout is doing its very best to provide qualified candidates for vacancies which are continually occurring.

Solution of this shortage is possible through a vocational guidance program to acquaint high school pupils with the opportunities available in the field of home economics. Open House, therefore, seeks to inform prospective college students about such opportunities.

Two years ago, Open House at the college was enjoyed by well over 1,000 high school students. The evening program was attended by 800 persons from Menomonie and surrounding communities.

Working with Dean Kirk, the following faculty members have the responsibility of Open House:

Miss Martha Ruth Amon, general chairman; Miss Jean Diefenbach, assisted by Miss Hazel Van Ness, style show and other auditorium features; hall decorations and signs for all departments, Miss Ardis Thvedt; art exhibitions Miss Amon and Miss Thvedt. Food demonstrations, Miss Clara Carrison, Miss Ella Jane Meiller, and Miss Ellen Nelson; clothing displays, Miss Lillian Jeter; cafeteria luncheon, Miss Mary Killian; physical education exhibitions, Miss Irene Erdlitz; reception and registration, Miss Marjory Elliot.

Program planning and hospitality, Miss Meiller; preparation and distribution of programs, Miss Ann Noble; publicity, Miss Eleanor Cox and Dr. Thomas Fleming.

MR. PHELAN WILL SPEAK AT YWCA BANQUET

Mr. Phelan, a Menomonie resident, will be the main speaker at the annual mother-daughter banquet sponsored by the YWCA. The date of the banquet is March 28 at 5:30 p.m.

The ladies of St. Paul's Lutheran Church are serving the meal. The menu will have roast beef, mashed potatoes, buttered carrots, waldorf salad, ice cream and brownies.

The ticket sale is being conducted by Donna Anderson. The tickets, selling at $1.35, will be on sale soon and will be sold until Thursday, March 26, at 3:00 p.m.

On Saturday afternoon a guided tour of the buildings will be held for the mothers from 2 through 4 o'clock. This is an added attraction and it is hoped that many mothers will participate.

FOUR FACULTY WILL ATTEND CONFERENCE

Representing The Stout Institute at a meeting of representatives of Wisconsin colleges offering home economics will be Dr. Alice J. Kirk, dean of home economics; Miss Ann Noble, head of the department of home economics education; Miss Marjory Elliott, assistant professor of home economics education; and Miss Margaret Harper, assistant professor of home economics education.

The all-day conference is to be held at Stevens Point State college on March 25. Participants will be present from The Stout Institute, the University of Wisconsin, and Stevens Point.

Also taking part will be Dr. Johnnie Christian, program specialist in home economics education for the 13 states in the central region of the United States, who will represent the Division of Vocational Education of the U. S. Office of Education.

MR. BARNARD PARTICIPATES IN WORKSHOP

Mr. David Barnard, director of audio-visual education at The Stout Institute, was a participant in the 1953 Motion Picture Workshop sponsored recently in Kansas City by the Calvin Company.

At the three-day conference Mr. Barnard worked on scripting, editing, synchronization, and other aspects of producing motion pictures and with other audio-visual equipment. About 350 persons attended the conference.

The guests included representatives of industrial and private motion picture producers, film departments of educational institutions, armed forces units, governmental divisions, industry, and private individuals with varied interests.

The Calvin Company is an organization devoted to the technical side of audio-visual endeavor. It specializes in photographing, recording, editing, and similar services.

PIANIST TO APPEAR HERE NEXT WEEK

Mr. Frederick, pianist, of Chicago, Illinois, will present a varied, interesting, and unusual program at the convocation on Wednesday, March 25. One of the outstanding features of Mr. Frederick is his large hands. He has been in this field of entertainment for some time and is one of the best. Mr. Frederick puts on certain types of stunts and clown acts which will make a very entertaining program.

SPRING FEVER MAY STRIKE SOON

"..... and the young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love"..... and hookey — and open convertibles!

The snow has begun to melt, and the roads are getting clear. Before long the leaves will come out, and the grass will turn green. Girls will come to school with flowers in their hair and studying will become a thing of the past.

That two-hour class from 3:00 to 5:00 never ends. Everything outside smells so fresh and clean. Your thoughts wander, and you forget what the teacher is saying while you day-dream about the more pleasant things of life.

The bell rings and you race home, put on your old clothes, and meet the kids for a hike out to Point Comfort. Then out come the hot dogs, and before long you're filled with that feeling of "everything's right with the world and me."

But what's happening to that schoolwork? The books are piled in the darkest corner you can find and are slowly accumulating dust. With luck, the first really warm day will hit just about in the middle of mid-semester tests.

How lazy we'll all feel! But don't forget that you came to college for an education. Leave the daydreaming for after-school hours. Get your homework done so you can take a ride in that convertible without a prick of conscience. The beach party will be ten times more fun knowing that you don't have an assignment to do when you get home!

NEWS OF OUR ALUMNI

Evelyn Berg Klug, B. S. '43, has been married for six years and has two boys, Billy, 3½ years and Dickie, 1½ years. She lives in Milwaukee and is a member of the local chapter of Stout Alumni and also of the chapter of Phi Upsilon Omicron. In 1943 a group of grads started a Round Robin Letter and the tradition has continued ever since. Every summer this group holds a reunion. They also attend Homecoming festivities every year.

Francis F. Whitting, B. S. '31 and his wife (nee Gertrude Hansen '30) have two children, Barbara, sixteen years old and Peggy, thirteen. They celebrated their twenty-first wedding anniversary in January. Mr. Whitting is head teacher in the Machine Shop Department at the California State Polytechnic College located in San Luis Obispo, California. This school is probably the best equipped for machine shops west of the Rockies. Last summer he spent a vacation in Minnesota and Wisconsin with a day in Menomonie.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Thurston of Durand both graduated from Stout, also their daughter, Kathryn, who is now Mrs. J. E. Beland. Mr. Thurston is a lawyer and a member of the Tax Appeal Board. He spends about four days a week in Madison in his office in the Capitol building. Mrs. Thurston has been President of the Womens Club and President of the Bi-County Women's club, she also has been Worthy Matron of the Eastern Star.

SCHOLARSHIPS FINANCED BY LIFE MEMBERS

Have you ever wondered how the alumni scholarships are financed? Possibly one thinks little of this question unless directly responsible for the committee's activity. Since we represent all alumni, we should like to explain to you and to the students at Stout where our funds come from.

These awards depend upon the alumni who buy life memberships each year. Out of every thirty dollar life membership, the scholarship fund gets twenty dollars and our general fund ten dollars. This means that in order to award two sixty dollar scholarships annually, six life memberships are needed. However, we regret to report that the amount of money we receive from life memberships is not large enough to keep the fund solvent. Therefore, so that we might continue with this program, it has been necessary to charge the scholarship fees against our general fund.

Certainly we as alumni of Stout are capable of organizing a long range program which is solvent and embraces more than two awards. Again, think of what Stout's training has done for you.

You can help in fulfilling this dual objective—to remain solvent and to award more scholarships. Alumni who do not have life memberships and seniors graduating from Stout in June are urged to consider what a life membership will mean indirectly to some boy or girl.

For instance, Ardis Manderscheid, a senior from Malone, Wisconsin, states: "I cannot express fully my deep appreciation for the alumni scholarship that I received. The award was very helpful since it covered the first semester fees and part of those of the second semester. It was also a great inspiration to me during my years here at Stout. Time has gone by so quickly that it seems as though it was only last fall I received the scholarship."

I graduate in June with a major in home economics education. As yet I do not have any definite plans, but I hope to teach in a small town in south-eastern Wisconsin.

Another award winner, Shirley Lundeen, a freshman from Sebeha, Minn. expresses herself as follows: "The alumni scholarship made it possible for me to attend Stout this year. It has been especially helpful in taking care of out-of-state tuition."

During my first semester at Stout I have definitely decided that I like the field of home economics education. I am looking forward to receiving my degree and teaching others the correct way to do everyday things.

I am very happy I did apply for the alumni scholarship because through receiving it I have found what I think will be a successful and happy future."

What would you be doing today if you had not attended Stout? You might say that this is a pointless question, but we ask you to consider it seriously for just a few moments. Think back over the months or years to your graduation and make a mental note of the influences a college education has had upon your life since then.

The degree you earned was a membership card to join the privileged ranks of professional people. The training of four years on the campus made you a leader, perhaps of youngsters, perhaps of hospital personnel, perhaps of men in industry—a leader. In your classes and in the social life at Stout you were exposed to high standards which are reflected in your life today. That life is good, and your profession assures you a rich future.

Do you want the same for your children some day? Definitely! Then we ask you to try to put yourself in the place of many top-notch seniors graduating in June whose parents do not share your enthusiasm, or whose family is financially unable to send them to college even if they would like to.

You can do more than sympathize with these students. You can help them, help Stout, and help the fields of home economics and industrial education by encouraging any worthy graduating senior you know of to apply for a scholarship at Stout. You can help by buying a life membership in your Stout Alumni Association to add to the funds available for use in awarding scholarships. You can help by urging your local alumni group to contribute directly to the scholarship fund.

What would you be doing today if you had not attended college?

NEWS OF OUR SERVICEMEN

Pfc. James R. Ooley, son of William Ooley, Route 6, Menomonie, Wis., and Mrs. W. H. Ooley, 18 E. Elm St., Chicago, are returning from Germany to the United States for release from active army duty.

Ooley entered the army in March 1951, and took basic training at Fort Belvoir, Va., before going to Europe in October, 1951. He has been serving as instructor in the troop information unit of the Army's Fuessen Detachment.

A 1947 graduate of Menomonie high school, Jim later received a degree from The Stout Institute, where he was a four year football star.

Fred Hodges, who attended Stout for two years, expects to be back again next September to complete his education. He is now in the Army but expects to be discharged in May or June.

The beaten path can easily become the path of the beaten.

Hardly anything can overtake an untruth if it has a moment's head-start.

People who attempt to dodge their obligations often find the detour is much rougher than the highway of the plain duty.

TAKING OUT THE STIFFNESS

Tom Stilp of Stout and Thomas Jeatran of Menomonie are pictured as they take advantage of the whirlpool bath purchased by the "S" Club.

WHIRLPOOL BATH PROVES A GREAT ASSET

The object of praise and the most treasured item in the Stout athletic department is the new whirlpool bath which was obtained through the co-operation of the "S" Club and the S. S. A.

Each year, the "S" Club puts on a school carnival including a white elephant auction for the student body. The public auction is the major part of the Carnival and it is at this time that the generous donations of the local merchants are sold to the highest bidders.

Last year's proceeds went toward the purchase of the whirlpool bath and it has proved to be a sound venture.

Both Stout and Menomonie high school students have had excess to this wonderful machine. It has relieved stiffness from many sore muscles and ankles in the past year. It worked overtime during football season and has continued to serve all those in need.

This year as in the previous years, the Stout "S" Club is trying to promote a successful Carnival, and it is hoped they will continue to contribute their efforts for the good of the school and the community.

DORMS CELEBRATE MARCH BIRTHDAYS

Do you have a birthday this month? All of the freshman girls who live at the dormitories had a birthday party for the nine girls who have birthdays in March on Tuesday, March 17.

The decorations carried out the Saint Patrick's day theme and were designed by Carol Lundeen, Lois Gallagher, Barbara Post, and Janice West.

Spring has sprung,
The grass has riz,
Where last year's Careless driver is.

TOWER PRODUCTION IS ON SCHEDULE

Something new has been added to the tower office. For those students who have not yet seen the doors to the office, let it be known that the windows in the door are supporting a new look. The "Tower" artist, Milt Benner, finished decorating the glass last week. Everyone going past the office will now know where the year-book staff holds forth during the entire school year.

March 15 was an engraver's deadline for pictures, and the last of this year's pictures were sent to the Bureau of Engraving. Final copy deadline is set for April 1. Soon after that date the 1953 TOWER will be printed and sent to the binders. The final operation of production will be finished when the book is bound and covered.

Staff members are slowly seeing the light of day again, now that page and cut proofs are coming back to the tower office. These proofs are pasted into the dummy in the exact positions that they will occupy in the book. Yes, it can safely be said that all members of the tower staff are eagerly looking forward to the day the books will be distributed.

PHI SIGS RUN OVER EAU CLAIRE CHAPTER

In an inter-fraternity basketball game played between the Eau Claire and Stout chapters of the Phi Sigma Epsilon, the local chapter rolled over the Eau Claire chapter 93 to 32. The game was played in the lower gym, Saturday evening, March 14.

Lead by the sharp shooting of Neil Hoepfner, who scored 28 points, the Omega chapter jumped to a 46-16 halftime score and went on to raise the score to 93-32 at the end of the game. Other players on the Stout Phi Sig team were James Olds, Bob Moe, Francis Oberpriller, Dick Kasel, Leroy Sharkey, Al Ochs, Jack Luy, Oliver Agerlie, Dan Jeatran, James Ber-ray, Fred Kneisler, and Bob Boldt. The coach of the Stout Phi Sigs was Gino Casucci. Officials for the game were Karl Turk, Bill Buckley, and Howard Vetter.

Members of the Eau Claire squad were Lukas, Haug, Anderson, Hamilton, Larson, Nehs, Falstad, and Wagner.

Following the game, a social meeting was held with both chapters participating.

DR. OETTING WILL SPEAK TO MEN'S CLUB

"The Legal Aspects of Teaching" will be presented by Dr. Oetting to the Graduate Men's Club on Thursday evening, March 26. Some of the topics to be included in Dr. Oetting's discussion are: certification of teachers, contracts, tenure and retirement, insurance, and liability. Members of the senior class and the faculty are invited to attend the club's informal dinner or they may come only for the discussion. The dinner discussion is to be held in the Stout cafeteria at 5:30 p.m.

S.C.F. WAS FOUNDED FOUR YEARS AGO

The Stout Christian Fellowship is an interreligious group which was organized four years ago to provide Christian fellowship and worship on our campus.

The local organization was founded in the fall of 1951 and it is now an associate member of Inter Varsity, which is a national interreligious organization. The local group meets every Tuesday evening at 7:00 in the club room above the union. Everyone is invited to attend these meetings.

"THE PASSION PLAY" TO BE SHOWN SUNDAY

In keeping with the Lenten theme, a color movie entitled "The Passion Play" will be shown at Our Savior's church on March 22. Following the ninety minute movie, scheduled to start at five o'clock, a supper will be served by the Woman's Guild. All Stout students will dine together in a separate room.

Students and faculty are also reminded of the Lenten Vesper Concert to be presented by Our Savior's choir on Sunday, March 29.

BASEBALL IS TAKING THE SPOTLIGHT

Stiff arms and aching backs have told us that baseball is once again approaching the spotlight.

Manager Styer reports that a very promising team is turning out with eyes centered on April 28, the first game of the season. This year's schedule calls for a slate of from twelve to fifteen games.

Many capable freshmen are aiming to fill the positions vacated by graduates. They will team up with the returning lettermen in the persons of Henderson, Partch, Beran, Kort, Tobias, Grainger, Sharkey, and Kieffer.

YWCA ELECTS NEXT YEAR'S OFFICERS

YWCA officers for next year were elected at the meeting held on Wednesday, March 11. The results were as follows: president, Eunice Nulton; vice president, Virginia Jacobson; secretary, Donna Anderson; treasurer, Ruth Behrents; inter-religious council, Edna Gaffron; and district representative, Miriam Eckert.

After the election, the mother-daughter banquet was discussed. A work meeting was held on Wednesday, March 18, to make place cards, table decorations and posters.

PARTY AT THE ANNEX IS A BIG SUCCESS

Fun was had by one hundred girls and boys at the Tainter Annex dormitory party held Saturday, March 14. Card games and dancing were enjoyed throughout the evening.

It seems that the party turned out to be a big success, and that more of these might be on the agenda.

Various committees who helped make the party a success were refreshments, Carol Young, chairman, Mary Buol, Nancy Ringquist, Ann Shemick, and Mae Rammer; entertainment, Faye Nelson, chairman, Doris Hutchinson, Nancy Brackett, and Mary Paciotti.

Barbara Ness was in charge of clean-up with the help of all of the girls; publicity, Caryl Teasdale, chairman, Carol Viestenz, Carol Schilstra, and Marie Strodthoff; decorations, Helen Harry, chairman, Sylvia Ruben, Jane Gargulak, Lillian Smith, and Ferne Swenson.

DEAN JARVIS RECEIVES
PH.D. AT MINNESOTA

Doctorate Is Conferred At March Commencement Of The U. of Minnesota

Recent recipient of his Doctor of Philosophy from the University of Minnesota is Dr. John A. Jarvis, dean of The Stout Institute division of industrial education.

Dr. Jarvis received his degree at the March commencement exercises of the University of Minnesota, in Northrop Memorial auditorium. He was presented for the degree by Dr. John G. Darley, assistant dean of the University's graduate school. President J. L. Morrill of the University conferred the doctorate.

Speaker for commencement was Dr. Paul H. Giddens, president of Hamline university. The title of his address was "Citadels of Truth and Freedom."

Previous to receiving the Ph.D., Dr. Jarvis had earned his Bachelor of Science in mechanical engineering at the University of Wisconsin. He later received a Bachelor of Science in industrial education from The Stout Institute. Dean Jarvis' Master of Education was earned at Wayne University, Detroit.

Working under Dr. Homer J. Smith, chairman of the industrial education department at the University of Minnesota, Dean Jarvis wrote his doctoral dissertation on "Student Survival Factors in The Stout Institute."

Dr. Jarvis, a lieutenant commander in the United States Naval Reserve, assumed the duties as a Stout Institute dean at mid-year.

PREPARE FOR AUDIO-VISUAL PROGRAM

Dave Barnard, director of audio-visual education, is shown with Miss Marjory Elliott, assistant professor of home economics, going over the conference program for 125 educational administrators and teachers, to be held at Stout Wednesday, April 1.

AUDIO-VISUAL MEETING WILL BE HELD HERE

Mr. Barnard Planned the All-day Conference To Be Held On April 1

With over 125 administrators and teachers expected from a wide area of the state, The Stout Institute will hold an all-day audio-visual conference on Wednesday, April 1, on The Stout campus.

Planned by Mr. David Barnard, director of audio-visual education at The Stout Institute, the conference will feature sectional meetings, film demonstrations, and exhibits of the latest audio-visual equipment. Principle speaker for the event will be John Hamburg, assistant superintendent of schools at Edgerton, Wisconsin.

Registration for the conference will be held from 9:00 to 9:30 a.m. in Harvey Hall, Stout's home economics building. Following a welcome by Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of Stout, Superintendent Hamburg will speak on "Are We Making Effective Use of Audio-Visual Materials in Our Schools?"

As director of audio-visual education for the Eau Claire public schools, Aaron Mickelson will conduct the sectional meeting on "Are We Mak-

COLLEEN CEMINSKY IS NEW STOUTONIA EDITOR

COLLEEN CEMINSKY

Miss Ceminsky Will Take Over The Editorship
Next Week

Colleen Ceminsky, a sophomore from Montgomery, Minnesota, has been appointed editor-in-chief of The Stoutonia for the coming year. She will take over her new position beginning next week.

Colleen, long active in school publications, was one of the founders of her high school paper. To that publication, she contributed not only her services as a reporter, but also her talents as proof and copy reader.

In her freshman year at Stout, Colleen's first Stoutonia assignment was that of reporter, and she advanced quickly to the associate editorship.

Francis Oberpriller, retiring editor of this year's Stoutonia, wishes Colleen every success in her new job and expresses his appreciation to all staff members who have worked so hard on this year's newspaper.

In leaving the editorship, Francis says:

"Being editor of our college paper was both a privilege and a responsibility. I had many valuable experiences during the past year and have made many friendships which mean much to me.

"To everyone who gave of his or her best efforts in making The Stoutonia possible, let me once again say a heart-felt 'Thanks.'"

DR. CHRISTIAN CONFERS WITH DEAN KIRK

Dr. Johnnie Christian, of the Division of Vocational Education of the U. S. Office of Education was at The Stout Institute all day Friday, March 20, to confer with Dr. Alice J. Kirk, Dean of the Division of Home Economics, and with members of home economics departments of the college. Dr. Christian is the vocational home economics program specialist for 13 states in the central region of the United States.

Dr. Christian came to Stout from conferences held with the home economics faculty of the University of Minnesota. Following her interviews at Stout, she conducted similar meetings at the University of Wisconsin.

CONFERENCE OF YOUTH MEETING
MARCH 28

The Stout Institute will be the scene on Saturday, March 28, of the District VIII Youth Conference. Made up of both adults and youth interested in the welfare and progress of young people, the conference is a joint effort between these groups to make communities more pleasant and rewarding places in which to live.

The conference begins at 9:00 a.m. with registration of the delegates. A late registration fee of 75¢ will be charged. The advance registration fee was 50¢ until March 21. The morning session will start with a short address of welcome by Nick Michelbook, mayor of Menomonee. This will be followed by an invocation from Rev. John M. Buran, Pastor of the Congregational church of Menomonee. Following the invocation Don Shea, vice president of the Eau Claire County Youth council will give an introduction to the conference as a follow-up of the State Youth conference.

The conference will focus around six work shops as follows.

1. How to organize a County Youth Council.
2. The founding and sponsorship of youth centers.
3. Problems rising out of the sale of alcoholic and malt beverages to youth by taverns.
4. The maintenance of interest in youth activities.
5. Adult participation in youth programs for community welfare.
6. Rural youth participation in community affairs.

Most of the high school age youth of the eight counties comprising District VIII: Polk, Barron, Rusk, St. Croix, Pierce, Dunn, Chippewa, and

HELICOPTER TO LAND ON NELSON FIELD

An on-the-spot inspection of one of the U. S. Navy's $47,000 helicopters is in store for Menomonee residents between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. at Nelson athletic field this Saturday, March 28.

The helicopter will soar over Menomonee about 11 o'clock Saturday morning, landing in the athletic field for a brief ceremony and a two-hour public inspection. The purpose of the visit is to accept into the Naval aviation cadet program a senior, Dennis Brooks, who will be the first Naval air cadet in the nation sworn in on campus by officers using a helicopter.

Use of a naval helicopter for cadet procurement is the first event of its kind ever to be attempted in Wisconsin. It has been tried in general procurement only once before in the U.S., but never for the actual swearing-in ceremony.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

With next week's Stoutonia, a new editorial staff will have command. This staff was chosen after much deliberate thought and planning, and we feel they are well-qualified for the difficult tasks which will face them next year.

There is not much glory or recognition for the workers on the school paper, in fact, complaints seem to be the order of the day but those who have been publishing the paper feel they have received valuable training which will help them in many ways.

We, who edited the paper this year, want to thank everyone for their co-operation. We also wish the new staff the best of luck in the coming year.

MANUAL ARTS PLAYERS DO IT AGAIN

"You've done it again!" were the words heard by Mr. Ziemann, the cast, and the staff of the M.A.P. play, The Admirable Crichton.

The excellent characterizations by the actors have again made Mr. Ziemann a proud director. Charles Russell, as Crichton, did an outstanding performance. He did a marvelous job of portraying Crichton's changing role in life from the stiff, humble butler to the leader on whom they all depended, and then back to butler again. Mike Pavlicin, as Lord Loam, again performed with an ability that he has shown in previous plays. Especially realistic was his rendition of his trials after he had been shipwrecked and lost from the others. Ernest Collette again did a splendid job of portrayal, this time as Ernest Woolley.

The three haughty, snobbish daughters were certainly portrayed to the utmost by Carol Schilstra, Ardis Carr, and Mary Lou Bohrnstedt. Jeanette Oetting, as Tweeny, did an excellent personality change as her role on the island changed from a meek servant to a more equal status with the rest. Carlos Carter, as the stuffy Lord Brocklehurst, set the audience laughing several times, as did his mother Lady Brocklehurst, played by Bertie Harris. Others in the cast—Darrell Ebert, Richard Duthler, and all those in the tea scene are certainly to be commended on their fine performances.

The tea scene was remarkable in that it went along with such a polished smoothness when there were so many on stage at once. Each servant who entered was a new and different personality who, after his first entrance, melted into the scene and became part of it.

The last scene, in which help came and Crichton found his servant's role returning, was a very tense one. The audience seemed to feel the extreme anguish of Crichton and Polly in having to change roles again.

The scenery was a work of art which the audience will remember for a long time. Much credit goes to Sam Mikitarian, who directed the building of the sets. There was more change of scenery than is usual in a play, and a lot of work went into those sets.

The island scenes were especially realistic looking complete to a sense of perspective. The trees, bushes, jungle-like foliage, and rocks helped make the audience feel as if they were on the island, too. The second island scene showed the shipwrecked party's

HOME EC CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS AT MEETING

The election of officers highlighted the meeting of the Home Economics club, which was held on Monday, March 23. Following the elections, Gloria Voigt and Mary Detlor told about their trip to the province workshop at Chicago.

The following officers were elected: president, Gloria Voigt; vice-president, Dorothy Belisle; secretary, Jean Baker; treasurer, Elaine Hansen. These officers will take over their duties next month and will continue them during the coming school year. Thirty-nine per cent of the home economic club members were present and voted at the meeting Monday night.

Gloria Voigt and Mary Detlor presented a very interesting talk on their experiences at Chicago. Four states, Illinois, Iowa, Michigan, and Wisconsin, are included in province seven. Colleges and universities that offer home economics send delegates to this meeting from each of these states. Gloria and Mary told of the meetings they had attended and about their interesting tour through the Merchandise Mart. The convention was held from February 13-15.

WORLD SERVICE DRIVE IS SPONSORED BY YWCA

The World Student Service Fund drive conducted by the YWCA began on March 20 and will continue through April 2. Collecting will be done in the HE building near the Harvey. Money collected will help students all over the world who are in need of food, clothing, and equipment to carry on their studies. Many colleges and universities have not returned to normal since the last war, yet students are needed and expected to go to these schools at great personal sacrifice. Let's try to make their life a little easier through contributions. A few cents given to this cause will feed an Indonesian student or provide health service for Greek students or enable the Japanese student to have chemical equipment for his studies. Students of all races and religions profit by these contributions. They need our help—let's share.

clever little living quarters which they had rigged up under Crichton's directions.

The sound effects and lighting were superb. The sound of the island birds and dangerous animals in the woods were so very real that the audience could easily feel the terrific fear and loneliness which the people on the island felt. The fading lights made the island scene even more effective and real.

Such a large cast and large production staff needs the utmost cooperation on the part of each one concerned in order to produce a smooth and successful play. This play was produced with the cooperation of approximately 65 persons. These people worked hard for many weeks carrying out their parts of the whole. A play needs competent actors, a technical director, assistant director, stage manager, and house manager. It also requires willing workers for the lighting, sound, usherettes, properties, costumes, make-up, publicity, and stage crew.

These are the things necessary for a good play. These are the things that have made this play, "The Admirable Crichton", and all of the other M.A.P. plays under the direction of Norman Ziemann, the successes which they have been.

TEACHERS TELL OF AUDIO VIS CONFERENCE

As delegates to observe a special "closed circuit educational broadcast" at the spring meeting of the Wisconsin Department of Audio-Visual Instruction, David Barnard, director of audio-visual education at The Stout Institute, and Raymond Cornwell, instructor in graphic arts at the college, met with audio-visual leaders of the University and other state institutions at Madison recently.

In addition to the television demonstration, delegates heard a "Report on Television," by John Guy Fowlkes, dean of the School of Education at the University.

Other events during the meeting included workshops on photographic techniques, demonstrations of film-strip projection, and other audio-visual innovations.

Delegates also heard speakers discuss educational philosophy as it pertains to audio-visual education and a report on the use of audio-visual aids in the teaching of English.

Mr. Barnard, as chairman of the Wisconsin Department's publication committee, gave a report on the status of material submitted for publication and participated as a member of the board of directors.

SCHOLARSHIP APPLICATIONS

DUE APRIL 1

Within a short time we, your scholarship committee, will be reviewing and making recommendations for the 1953 award winners. REMEMBER THE DEADLINE FOR MAILING SCHOLARSHIP APPLICATIONS IS APRIL 1.

Our real work begins after this date. It means correspondence between the various committee members for agreement on the winners and alternates. Once agreement is reached, the winners must be notified and acceptance confirmed. It is extremely important that we have confirmation as quickly as possible, for we are obligated to inform those we must refuse. They then can make other arrangements for a most important decision in their life.

We trust that you who are making use of your application blanks will have them in the mail shortly. We are looking forward to your response.

NEW ADDITIONS

MR. BARNARD'S ARTICLE IN MAGAZINE

Author of a national magazine article on audio-visual instructional techniques is David P. Barnard, assistant professor of audio-visual education at The Stout Institute. Mr. Barnard's article, "Combine Film Production with Instruction," is given lead position in the March issue of Educational Screen magazine.

Basis of the article is the successful techniques used at Stout of permitting audio-visual students at the college to gain practical experiences by actually producing film strips and sound motion pictures.

The technique, according to Barnard, eliminates the "tablet-armchair courses," where the student is merely told how to perform certain activities but never obtains actual training.

Under The Stout Institute plan, the article indicates, each student picks an individual filmstrip or pairs up with another student to create a production.

Classes also complete a full-scale sound motion picture, including selection of title, statement of content and purpose, analysis of audience, choosing of medium, gathering content, doing content research, suggesting treatments, scripting, and doing production break-downs.

Each class also does the actual photographing, film editing, and rough synchronization of the motion picture. Final synchronization is done at the laboratories of the University of Minnesota.

Cost of the venture is frequently regained through sale of finished prints to other institutions. In addition, Mr. Barnard shows that institutional use of the films within The Stout Institute is also of value to the college.

According to "Combine Film Production with Instruction," students gain from Stout Institute's technique the valuable knowledge and skills which will help them in their subsequent teaching positions. Success of the venture, Mr. Barnard writes, is evident from reports by graduates of the course, indicating that they are pleased to have "learned by doing, not simply by hearing and talking about how such creative work should be done."

NAVY HELICOPTER

weather the Naval air station at Minneapolis is sending to Menomonie a late model Hiller helicopter, powered by a single motor with a 30 foot blade span. The crafts carries a pilot and two passengers. Four of this type helicopters are operational equipment for the helicopter squadron stationed in Minneapolis.

Visiting Menomonie last week to complete arrangements with President Verne C. Fryklund and Dr. Thomas Fleming of The Stout Institute, were Lt. Comm. F. E. Tonrey, public relations officer at the Naval air station, and Lt. Comm. Vic Alldridge, head of helicopter training in Minneapolis and the pilot of the craft which will visit Menomonie.

The Stout Institute athletic field was chosen for the landing because it offers a clear approach and combines all necessary safety factors for helicopter operation. Lt. Comm. Tonrey will bring a full ground crew and necessary equipment to Menomonie on Friday in preparation for the event.

Flying in Saturday to swear in Cadet Brooks and to greet President Fryklund will be Commander Harold H. Randecker, a Stout graduate. As executive officer of the Naval air station, Commander Randecker is second in command of the entire Minneapolis installation.

In extending a welcome to all persons in the area to watch the helicopter land, and examine the ship between 11 and 1 p.m. Saturday, Lt. Comm. Tonrey said:

"This helicopter visit to Menomonie is part of the U. S. Navy's policy of exhibiting to the tax-paying public much of the splendid, necessary equipment which their tax dollars buy.

The ceremony itself seeks to impress upon the community the importance which the Navy attaches to procuring aviator candidates and the opportunities which Naval aviation offers to young men."

The flight training program into which Cadet Brooks will enter after receiving his Bachelor of Science from The Stout Institute in June, graduates successful trainees as Naval ensigns or Marine Corps second lieutenants. Salary upon completion of the $65,000 flight education curriculum, begins at $455 a month.

The cadet procurement office at the Naval air station, was indicated its intention of enlisting graduates of The Stout Institute, or those with at least two years of college training. The Stout Institute male students are sought who are between the ages of 18-27, are unmarried, and are American citizens.

MARVIN KRUEGER IS NEW E.P.T. PRESIDENT

Marvin Krueger was elected to the position of president of the Epsilon Pi Tau fraternity for the coming year at elections which were held recently.

Jack Rupert was elected vice-president. Robert Spinti was chosen for the task of secretary-treasurer and Richard Kadatoni as his assistant.

Trustees for the coming year will be Phil Rhuel, who was appointed to replace Dean Bowman, and Dr. John A. Jarvis.

The new officers will replace John Christensen, and James Cook, who were this year's president and secretary-treasurer.

OFFICERS MARCH 19 TRI SIGS ELECTED

On Thursday, March 19, the Sigma Sigma Sigma Sorority held a special formal meeting in the Harvey Memorial to elect officers for the coming year.

Succeeding Phyllis Allman as president will be Donna Anderson. The other officers are Celia Fritz, vice-president; Bonnie Retzlaff, treasurer; Carolyn Shauf, recording secretary; and Janet Kumbier, corresponding secretary.

Before these officers are installed in April, they will take part in a training period in which they will learn the functions and duties of their office.

APO INSTALLS NEW OFFICERS AT MEETING

Looking ahead to the 1953-54 school year, A.P.O. installed new officers for the coming year. Dean Price, advisor for the group installed the officers during the regular meeting of the organization on Tuesday, March 24, in Bowman Hall at 6:30 p.m. President for the coming year is Bruce Sorenson. Bruce was elected to the office of president last fall succeeding Bob Adkins who was called into service. Vice-president for the coming year is Donald W. Walters. Don succeeds Bob Spinti. Kent Roebur is the new recording secretary succeeding Charles Weber. Office of treasurer is Fred Kneisler. Fred has taken over the duties formerly discharged by Robert Brunswick. Duties of Floyd Jolliffe are that of corresponding secretary and Oliver Agerlie is the historian. The post of alumni secretary is held by Marion Dellinger, and Charles Stubbs is Sgt. at arms.

Reporting to the members about the proposed "Kite Day," the committee expressed hope that as many members as possible would be on hand to assist at the event. Cub scouts from Menomonie will have a chance to fly kites they built at the fair grounds in April. A.P.O. members will build sticks for the kites but the cub scouts must put paper around the sticks and supply the string.

Information pertaining to National Jamboree to be held in June was read. The National Office of A.P.O. requested one volunteer from each chapter to assist with the Jamboree at Santa Anna, California. Alpha Phi Omega at Stout will not have a member on the team. The organization, however, will receive information about the event from one of its members. Don Walters will spend the summer in Santa Monica, California. Don told the members that he would drive over to Santa Ana the first Saturday of the Jamboree and take notes about everything that was going on. His report will be given to the organization after school resumes in the fall.

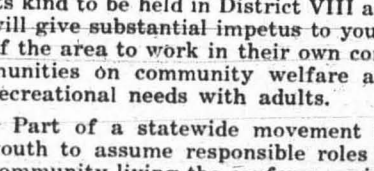

YOUTH CONFERENCE

Eau Claire counties, received first hand information about the content and purpose of the conference. Speakers panels of youth who had been delegates to the State Youth conference called at most high schools and spoke to the student assemblies about the conference. The speakers panel asked the student bodies to set up speakers panels of their own to tell you about the conference and seek financial sponsorship of youth delegates to the conference by organizations.

Many high school student councils, classes, clubs and other school organizations are sending delegates. Other groups sponsoring delegates are Boy Scouts, Girls Scouts, 4-H clubs, FFA, FHA, Girl Reserves, DeMolay, Job's Daughters, adult clubs, and service organizations; as such PTA, Women's clubs, Homemaker's clubs, Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions, Farm Bureau, Cooperatives and Fraternal organizations. Many adult groups are sending adult delegates.

This conference will be the first of its kind to be held in District VIII and will give substantial impetus to youth of the area to work in their own communities on community welfare and recreational needs with adults.

Part of a statewide movement by youth to assume responsible roles in community living the conference aims to channel the vitality and enthusiasm of youth in positive programs of community building. Youth recognize the need for shoulder to shoulder community work with adults because the latter have had the experience and sound judgement youth presently lack. This kind of team work in the community has already produced many positive and laudable results.

WOODWORKING DEPARTMENT MAKES DISPLAY

Modern trends in furniture design and construction, developed and used by the woodworking department of The Stout Institute, provide the theme of a display now being offered in the windows of the Goodrich Furniture Company.

Being shown are coffee tables, TV chairs, occasional chairs, footstools, lounging chairs, TV stools, and other modern functional furniture. All items were designed and made by students in the Stout woodworking department.

Also attracting great interest is a sectional exhibit of the construction and materials used in many varieties of modern home furnishings.

To assemble the display, the freshman machine woodworking classes at Stout made the furniture frames and stockpiled them. The sophomore general woodworking sections then designed furniture backs, legs, and arms. Upholstering was the responsibility of students in general woodworking. Furniture was then finished by Stout's general finishing students.

Faculty members whose classes constructed the exhibit include Mr. K. T. Olsen, George Soderberg, and Mr. Herbert Anderson. Classes participating were those of general woodworking, machine woodworking, and general finishing. Richard Jung, a senior student from Fond du Lac, also assisted with the upholstering.

A woman walked into a millinery shop and pointed out a hat in the window. "That red one with the feathers and berries," she said. "Would you take it out of the window for me?"

"Certainly, madam," said the woman moving toward the exit. "The horrible thing bothers me everytime I pass."

A NAVAL AVIATION CADET IS SWORN IN

HELICOPTER VISITED HERE MARCH 23

Over 1,000 Menomonee citizens visited Nelson Athletic field Saturday to inspect the U.S. Navy's visiting $47,000 helicopter and to witness the first ceremony of its type in the nation, the swearing in on campus of a Naval Aviation cadet by officers using a helicopter for the recruitment ceremony.

Sworn in was Dennis Brooks, a Stout Institute senior, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Brooks, Pepin, who will enter cadet training upon his graduation from Stout in June. Performing the ceremony was Commander H. H. Randecker, executive officer of the Minneapolis Naval Air Station, and a Stout Institute graduate of 1932.

Other naval officers participating included Lt. Comm. F. E. Tonrey, public relations officer of the Naval Air Station, and Lt. Comm. Vic Alldridge, helicopter pilot and head of the helicopter training squadron at the Naval Air Station. They were greeted by President Verne C. Fryklund of Stout who also received a demonstration flight.

Sent to Menomonee was a Hiller helicopter, powered by a single motor with a 30 foot blade span. Four of this type craft are operational equipment for the Minneapolis helicopter squadron.

The visit was designed to demonstrate to the tax-paying public some of the equipment for which the U.S. Navy is spending its public funds. The ceremony was part of the Navy's program to impress upon Americans the importance of the Navy procurement program for naval aviation candidates.

The flight training which Cadet Brooks will enter after receiving his Bachelor of Science from The Stout Institute graduates successful trainees as Naval ensigns or Marine Corps second lieutenants. Cadets receive a $60,000 flight training.

Eligible for recruitment as aviation cadets are male American citizens with a college degree or at least two years of college, and who are between 18-27, and are unmarried.

HYPERIANS HOLD 2ND SEMESTER INITIATION

The Hyperian Sorority had its second semester formal initiation recently at the home of Pat Wangen. The three girls initiated into the sorority were: Nyla Bock, Chilton, Wisconsin; Shirley Brask, Chippewa Falls, Wisconsin; and Barbara Hilts, Owen, Wisconsin.

DR. FRYKLUND IS AWARDED U OF M HONOR

Receiver of an Outstanding Achievement Award as an honored alumnus of the University of Minnesota is Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of The Stout Institute, who was honored during Peik Hall dedication ceremonies on the University campus last evening.

Bestowed by the University regents as a token of high esteem and in recognition of noted professional attainment, Dr. Fryklund's citation commends him as:

"A Distinguished Graduate of the University of Minnesota, President of The Stout Institute, Gifted Contributor to the Theory and Practice of Industrial Arts, Vigorous National Champion of Industrial Education, a Person Renowned for Meritorious Public Service in War and Peace."

In addition to the citation, Dr. J. L. Morrill, president of the University of Minnesota, presented President Fryklund with the Outstanding Achievement Award Medal.

The Outstanding Achievement Award has been designed by the University for alumni who have attained signal distinction in their chosen field. According to the dedication program:

"All recipients have earned the respect and admiration of their professional colleagues. The presentation of the Award is an expression of the deep obligation which all of us have for those who have lived courageously and fruitfully to the end that society in general benefits."

Occasion of the banquet was the dedication of Peik Hall, a laboratory school in which the 2,000 teachers-in-training at the University can observe the master teaching for students in the University training schools. Peik Hall will also be the center of educational experimentation with equipment, materials, and teaching methods.

Photos of the award presentation to President Fryklund and to four other outstanding alumni appeared on Twin Cities television Tuesday evening. Honored with Dr. Fryklund were Edna Amidon, home economics specialist in the U.S. Office of Education; Luella Cook, Minneapolis curriculum consultant; William Reeve, emeritus professor of mathematics, Columbia University; and James Umstadtd, chairman of the department of curriculum and instruction, University of Texas.

NUTRITION WEEK PROVIDES BEST MEALS

"Would you like a meal that not only tastes good but also is nutritious and free?" That is the question the Dietetics Club will be asking every student April 13-17. These are the dates of Nutrition Week at The Stout Institute.

In sponsoring Nutrition Week the club is striving to accomplish two main objectives: first, to make every student aware of his nutritional requirements; second, to encourage every student to apply his knowledge every day of the week.

In addition to making fact revealing posters for both the school and the union, the club will also pay for the meals of students in the cafeteria who have before them a meal which fulfills certain nutritional requirements when a previously set alarm clock goes off. This alarm clock will be in the cafeteria starting at breakfast on April 13 through April 17.

The Dietetics Club hopes that by sponsoring Nutrition Week that every student will eat balanced meals not only for this one week but also the other fifty-one weeks of the year.

BETTY ROADMAN

BETTY ROADMAN WILL SPEAK AT NEXT CONVO

Betty Roadman will be the speaker at the convocation on Wednesday, April 15. Miss Roadman is more than an entertainer. She has a subtle art which is so completely natural that it seems not to be art at all, and yet therein lies her real artistry. Her striking appearance and radiating personality and her beautiful voice and perfect diction all combine to make her the outstanding artist that she is.

During an over thirty year residence in Hollywood, Betty Roadman has played many character roles in motion pictures and on the legitimate stage. Recently she toured America with Charlotte Greenwood playing one of the Norwegian-American sisters in "I Remember Mama." She is an actress, author, lecturer, and impersonator, and one of the most loved entertainers on the platform today.

"LET'S DRAW"

Menomonee public school students are shown as they tape record a State Radio Network program, "Let's Draw," to be heard over the Colfax FM station WHWC at 1:30 on Tuesday, April 7. Working in the related art department of Stout Institute are (Standing L-R) Miss Martha Ruth Amon, chairman of related art at Stout; Shirley Lepien, Stout senior from Hartford; and (far background) Mr. James Schwalbach, University of Wisconsin originator of "Let's Draw." Students (L-R) at table are Nancy Johnson, Russell Erickson, George Massey, Cheryl LePean, Ronny Puhl, Richard Metzger, and Jean Goehring, all of the Menomonee schools.

VICTOR HARDT JUDGED MUSIC CONTEST

Acting as one of the judges who evaluated over 1,000 high school contestants in the recent Eau Claire District high school Music Contest was Mr. Victor H. Hardt, head of the music department at The Stout Institute. Mr. Hardt was judge of vocal and instrumental solo and ensemble divisions. Contestants given a "star" rating by the judges will now compete in the all-state music contest.

DUNN COUNTY NEWS EDITOR TO SPEAK HERE

YOU ARE INVITED !!!
Tuesday evening, April 14, at 8 p.m. in The Stout Institute auditorium, Paul Hasset, editor of The Dunn County News and recently a first lieutenant flying against the Communists in Korea, will show slides and speak on combat flying over Korea and on life in Okinawa as viewed by combat personnel.

Returning to Menomonee last December, Lieutenant Hasset had been navigator on thirty-one B-29 bombing missions following his recall to active duty. Previous to his overseas assignment, he underwent intensive training in the Southwestern United States.

While in combat Lieutenant Hasset's plane was struck three times by Communist anti-aircraft fire. On two of these missions the plane was forced to make emergency landings in South Korea. Two of the crewmen suffered serious wounds during their tour of duty.

The speaker will discuss his experiences over Korea and in Okinawa, but he will also trace a military flyer's career through training, crew operation, combat, and return to civilian life. In Lieutenant Hasset's case, as with most flying crews, eleven strangers were suddenly recalled from peaceful civilian life, formed into a flying unit, and sent into combat where every life depended upon the teamwork of the entire eleven men.

Following his talk the speaker will conduct a question and answer period for members of the audience. These questions can deal with the peaceful civilian aspects of life in Japan and Okinawa as well as the dangers of combat flying.

The program, to be offered as a Stout lyceum number, will be open to the public and to students and faculty of The Stout Institute. No admission will be charged for the event.

ART LESSON IS PREPARED FOR RADIO

The related art department of The Stout Institute, working with ten students of the Menomonee public schools, has just completed a tape recorded program for presentation over eleven stations of the State FM Radio Educational Network and nine commercial outlets.

The program will be heard in this area from 1:30 to 2:00 p.m. Tuesday, April 7, over WHWC, the state FM station at Colfax. It is estimated by James Schwalbach, extension specialist in art and design for the University College of Agriculture, that 110,000 youngsters in Wisconsin will hear and participate in the program.

Working with Martha Ruth Amon, chairman of the related art department at The Stout Institute, Mr. Schwalbach recorded an art lesson which Miss Amon taught to Menomonee public school pupils.

Topic of the lesson is "Color in Clothing." During the program pupils throughout the state are encouraged to design costumes appropriate to their own coloring and body structure. Miss Jeanne Diefenbach, instructor of clothing and textiles at The Stout Institute, assisted in developing the lesson.

Menomonee students who will be heard during the half-hour presentation on April 7 are Nancy Johnson, Gail Miller, Judy Retsloff, Jean Goehring, Cheryl LaPean, Carl Neilson, George Massey, Russel Erickson, Richard Metzger, Wayne Nelson, and Ronny Pahl.

The "Let's Draw" program has been for seventeen years a weekly feature of the Wisconsin School of the Air. Its programs combine a maximum of imagination with a minimum of instruction in technique.

According to statistical analysis made by the Wisconsin School of the Air, students participating in the radio series last year sent in 46, 135 of their art works for judging. It is estimated that 4,320 classes take the year's course.

THE "400" WILL STOP HERE TOMORROW

Arrangements have been made and completed for stopping of the "400" at the Menomonee Junction for the benefit of Stout students for Easter vacation week. Bus service has been arranged between the Marion Hotel and Menomonee Junction and the east entrance (Third Street) of Harvey Hall.

GOVERNING BOARD NEWS

The Governing Board meeting Tuesday evening was called to order in the Trustee's Room at 6:30.

In the line of old business—letters have been received from Eau Claire and River Falls thanking the Stout Governing Board for the afternoon and evening which they spent here several weeks ago.

The Home Economics Club was discussed relative to crediting points. Jerry Sommers moved that we exclude the Home Economic Club from being counted on the basis of the following points which had previously been drawn up:

1. The total membership of the Home Economics Club is one hundred and sixty nine.
2. The Home Economics Club is affiliated with a national organization and the members benefit professionally through meetings held only once a month.
3. The Home Economics Club is a "stepping stone" to the Home Economics Association, a women's professional organization.
4. A girl may be kept from membership in Phi U by not belonging to Home Economics Club.
5. Membership is unlimited and any girl in school may belong.

Dick Duthler reported on the FTA Convention held in Eau Claire. The purposes appeared to be to gain a better understanding of the WEA and to help form FTA chapters after graduation. Recruiting students would also be an aim. The Board decided that the matter needed wider publicity for better understanding.

Ann Rossmiller offered on behalf of the PA's to provide the decorations for the SSA dance after the "S" Club Carnival April 18, inasmuch as that group will be out of town that day.

Candidates for class representatives to the Governing Board were selected from the names submitted by each class. The following were chosen: freshman class—Dorothy Belisle, Carol Schilstra, John Oakeson, and Max Cisco; sophomore class—Mary Gehler, Roger Hanson, Delores Sauey, and Joeline Chryst; junior class—Barney Styer, Maryann Smith, Mary Detlor, and Janice Wurtz.

DELTA KAPPA SENDS THREE TO MEETING

At the last meeting of Delta Kappa Sigma it was decided to send a delegation of three to the Midwest Convocation to be held in Terre Haute, Indiana. The convocation is concerned with the expansion of chapters and distributing of chapters according to area. The three delegates are: George Ueda, William Rahl, and Gary Grainger. The meeting is to be held April 6.

It was also decided at the last meeting to hold a pre-prom dinner dance. No definite place has been decided upon.

ATTENDANCE OF CARD PARTY WAS GREAT

Attracted by the many prizes offered, approximately eighty-seven card players attended the March 28 card party sponsored by the Arts and Crafts club.

Popular prizes selected by table winners were black indianhead bookends and natural finished birch cribbage boards. The person whom Lady Luck blessed with the door prize was Tom Kitto. In addition to adding the carved walnut table lamp to his possessions, Tom selected one of the popular bookends as his table prize.

The Arts and Crafts club wishes to thank all those who made this event a success, and to especially acknowledge all who loaned cards and card tables for our use.

APO PLEDGING AND ELECTION MARCH 10

Formal pledging and election of officers for the coming year constituted the main business at Alpha Phi Omega's meeting March 10, at the home of president Sorenson.

Alpha Phi Omega held its regular formal initiation last Saturday afternoon, but two of the pledges were unable to attend the ceremony; consequently, another pledging ceremony took place at the regular meeting Tuesday night. Pledges taken in at the latest initiation were Marion Dellinger and Charles Stubbs. Members participating as the initiating team were Dean Price, Phil Johnson, Bruce Sorenson, Charles Weber, Floyd Jolliffe, Fred Kneiser, Bob Spinti, and Donald Walters.

Election of officers for the coming year followed the initiation ceremony. Officers elected to lead the fraternity were: president, Bruce Sorenson; vice president, Donald W. Walters; secretary, Kent Roebur; treasurer, Fred Kneiser; corresponding secretary, Floyd Jolliffe; alumni secretary, Marion Dellinger; historian, Oliver Agler; sgt.-at-arms, Charles Stubbs.

A report on the proposed kite day for cub scouts was given and approved. As yet no date has been selected by the committee, but April was set as a tentative time. Members were asked to donate time helping cub scouts in Menomonie to make these kites. A joint meeting with the Eau Claire chapter was also discussed. This meeting will take place at Camp Phillips sometime in April.

LENTEN SERVICE WAS SUNDAY FOR WESLEY

Wesley held their annual Lenten Service Communion Sunday night at 5:30 o'clock. After supper and some group singing the whole group went to the sanctuary for the Communion. Several songs were sung and two girls read a portion telling what Communion meant to them. The Communion was silent; the students could go at any time and remain as long as they wanted.

The next Wesley meeting will be held on April 19.

HOW WILL YOU SPEND EASTER?

Everyone celebrates Easter differently. This year President Eisenhower will have about three hundred children on the White House lawn looking for eggs that he and his wife hid. New York and Chicago will have their fashion parades. The ladies will don their new bonnets and try to show up their neighbor. Many people will spend the day in church followed by listening to the beautiful Easter music that will be played on the radio and on television.

But what of the people in different countries? What of the soldiers and civilians in Korea? How are they going to spend Easter?

Right now the American soldiers are one hundred miles into North Korea. What are they thinking? The night is so black they can't see their hands in front of their faces. They are sitting in their tanks waiting for something to happen. What? Who knows? They just wait. The only thing they can think is that somewhere in the night are Chinese Communists waiting to kill them. That is the way our American soldiers will spend Easter. While fashionable socialities will be parading around Fifth Avenue, other Americans will be waiting in the night of Korea.

Let us look beyond Korea to other lands. A boy from Germany, a Hitler youth, tells how he spent a previous Easter. In Ulm, Germany, is a beautiful cathedral where he and his family worshipped. While they were in church the city was bombed, and many of his friends and relatives were killed. All though only a child at the time, this World War II memory has welled up much bitterness in his mind. "I never entered that cathedral again. We moved from the city to the country so we would be safe. The next time I came to Ulm, only the shell of the church remained standing."

In Wood Hospital, near Milwaukee, Wisconsin, are hundreds of wounded men recovering from World War I and II. Some are blind, some deaf, some crippled. Others are suffering from mental disorders and shell shock. But each year at Easter the American Red Cross sees that these men are remembered with a little favor or gift given by Wisconsin school children. In a letter written by one of the nurses at this hospital came this message, "The favors are very much appreciated by the men. One of the men had a little gumdrop girl for his favor. It is still sitting by his bed. The thought of being remembered does much to boost the morale of these boys."

How is your Easter being spent? Not in a tank, a bombed city, nor a hospital. Your Easter will be spent in your home, where you will be surrounded with your family and friends. You will put on your best clothes, go to church, and come home to a big dinner. But when you are in church this Easter, won't you say a special prayer for the soldiers in Korea, the youth living in bombed out cities, and the men and women in our hospitals?

NEWS OF OUR ALUMNI

Mr. Paul O. Swartz, B. S. 1941 and M. S. 1950, is now teaching in Andrew high school in Salem, Virginia.

W. W. Rose, B. S. from Stout in 1931 and M. S. 1951 from West Virginia University, is located in Clarksburg, West Virginia. He has three children - Jane, 13; Jon, 9; Kristina, 4. Mr. Rose is the supervisor of Trade and Industrial Education in Harrison and Taylor Counties in West Virginia. Last year he traveled coast to coast from Southern California to the AVA Convention in Boston.

Ardeen E. Sveum, B.S. 1951, is married and has one child. He teaches machine shop, foundry, and forge, is a dorm master and is in charge of the camera club which takes all the pictures for the school paper and year book. His address is:

Ardeen Sveum
Kamehameha School for Boys
Honolulu, Hawaii

A story entitled "Modern Foundry: School Size" appeared in the Hawaii Weekly on February 8, 1953. It told of the plan that Ardeen Sveum conceived of installing a foundry at one end of the machine shop to obtain better understanding of the relationship of the foundry to the machine shop. The course is the only one of its kind in the territory. The students are especially interested in the use of coal in the forge. The article also showed several pictures of the department.

Wayne Hughes, who received his diploma in 1923 and his degree in 1934, lives in Phoenix, Arizona. He is married and has one son who graduated from the U.S. Naval Academy in 1952.

Delmar D. Owens, B.S. 1939, teaches industrial arts at East Durham junior high school in North Carolina. He also coaches football, basketball, and baseball.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. McAmber (Jean Bangsberg, B.S. 1942), and their three children have just returned from a six week vacation in Florida. They are living in Silver Lake, Michigan.

Arnold Lien, B.S. 1944, married Harriet Stevens, who also attended Stout. He is a coordinator of student personnel services and Dean of Men at Wisconsin State College in White-water, Wisconsin.

Emma L. DeCanter, B.S. 1947, is teaching in Centuria, Wisconsin. All her children are married except one; she has eight grandchildren. She visited one of her daughters in Los Angeles in 1951 and also spent a week in Denver, Colorado.

John Chase, B.S. 1943, and M.S. 1948, married Ruth White, B.S. 1941. He teaches in a seven man department in Waukesha, Wisconsin.

Mrs. Gerald Solie, B.S. 1950, taught two years at Gays Mills, Wisconsin. She then went to St. Louis, Mo., where her husband is studying occupational therapy. Mr. Solie attended Stout for three years. Mrs. Solie has been working as an assistant dietitian in various hospitals.

Mrs. Donald Long, B.S. 1950 (Ruby-nan Jarman), was married in November, 1952, and took a honeymoon to Florida and New Orleans. She has been teaching in Brussels, Wisconsin, where her husband is an accountant for General Motors.

Charles Mowbray, B.S. 1951, married Carolyn Blain, B.S. 1951. Mr. Mowbray teaches woodwork, metal work, and drawing in the Monroe, Wisconsin school. His wife teaches home economics in Juda high school.

James Anderson, B.S. 1952, teaches woodwork and drawing and is the audio-visual director in the Drummond, Wisconsin high school. He holds night class for adult men once a week as part of a community project. Marge Hedling, also a '52 graduate, teaches home economics in Drummond.

Patricia Peterson, B.S. 1952, married Bill Wenzel on December 23, 1953. Bill attended Stout for three years, and is now in the Navy.

Elaine Blaser, B.S. 1952, teaches in Whitehall high school in Whitehall, Wisconsin. She teaches 7th and 8th grade and high school students. She also has a night class which is studying knitting.

Edward F. Haungs, B.S. 1942, died March 21, at Elmhurst, Illinois, of a heart attack. He was a teacher and the chaplain of a Catholic high school in Elmhurst. He was a member of E.P.T. while here at Stout.

George Stegman, who left Stout in the June of 1951, is stationed in Germany with the army. He worked from June until December, 1951 when he was inducted. He is with the 66th Engineer Topographic Company on the outskirts of Stuttgart, Germany. He has been teaching a course on drafting to the 7th Army. He says, "I can remember when I took courses in edu-

SCHOLARSHIP BLANKS ARE POURING IN

Have you ever seen a dream in writing? If you could read the carefully filled-out scholarship blanks the postman is delivering to your committee chairman, you, too, would be able to read the hopes of several high school seniors. Their dream—to attend Stout.

We commend the alumni who have urged these young people to make application for help, since these students are worthy of help and must have it to make their dream come true. It is not going to be easy to name the winners, for each time an application blank arrives along with its high recommendations, we think, "Here is another student we want Stout to have." Our goal is to be able to keep more of these well-qualified young men and women for our alma mater. We hope that goal will be realized in the not-too-distant future.

We wish to add a special "Hats off!" to one alumnus, Douglas Sherman, who wrote to the committee requesting three additional blanks after he received the first one. This is what we would call a truly Stout-hearted spirit.

The following letters from previous winners express their appreciation for the assistance they received in making their dream a reality. Max Cisco, of Lima, Ohio; now a freshman states:

"The scholarship which I have received is one of the main reasons why I am attending Stout. If I had not received it, I could not be here for I am an out-of-state student and am working my way through college. I wanted to go to Stout because it is the best in the field of industrial education. This scholarship enabled me to enter the field which I like and in which I would like to teach. It will also enable me to help my sisters and brothers in getting their education. This is why it has meant so much to me to win the award."

A winner now in her sophomore year, Beverly Ruegg, of West Bend, Wisconsin, writes:

"The Stout alumni scholarship has been of help to me during my freshman year at Stout, for without it I would have had to work many more hours than I did to finance that year. The scholarship helped to make possible my coming to Stout, and I am sure that it will help any freshman student."

The next word from your committee will be the news of the awards. Again we thank you for your co-operation.

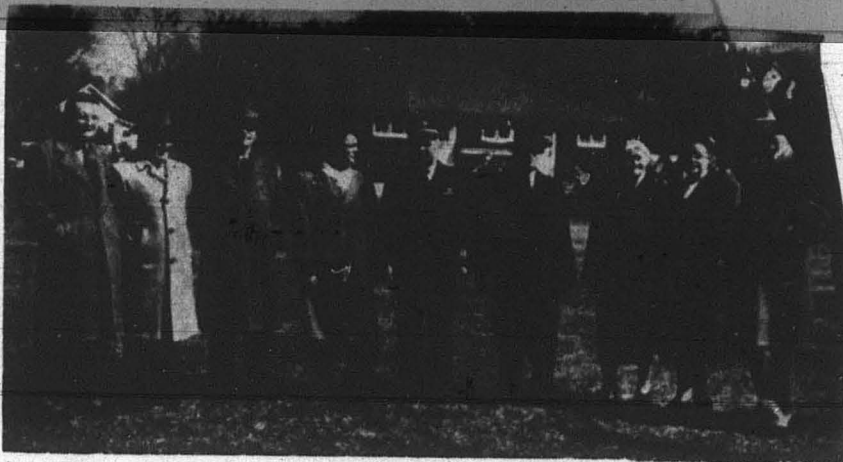

education at Stout and I thought I would never use them even when teaching. Well, I certainly am glad I have retained as much as I have, because I have been able to put them to good use here." He plans to return to Stout in January of 1954. His address is:

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS CONCERNING THE DRAFT

Editors of "Student Life," Washington University, Mo., asked a Selective Service official last month some jack-pot questions about the draft—and got some unpleasant answers.

The officer was Lt. Col. Irving W. Hart, chief information officer for Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of the U. S. Selective Service System.

Question: Is any change likely to be necessary in the student deferment policy?

Answer: "Nearly all eligible men in the older age group have already been inducted and we are now starting to take 19-year-olds in many states. The manpower is running short. We cannot, therefore, afford to be as liberal with student deferments in the future as we have in the past."

Question: If drafting students is found necessary, what consideration, if any, will be given students who are married or are fathers?

Answer: "Under current regulations a student who is drafted at the end of an academic year receives no consideration for deferment on account of a wife. . . . Under current regulations fathers cannot be inducted."

Question: Is any change likely to be made in the policy of deferring students enrolled in Reserve Officer Training Corps units?

Answer: "Students enrolled in ROTC units are deferred by law . . ."

Question: Speculation has been that if need for draftees increases, the government will be forced to begin drafting either students or fathers. Which group is likely to be called upon first?

Answer: "The office has no way of knowing . . ."

Question: How many men are now being drafted and what change in the number is likely?

Answer: ". . . The secretary of defense has announced publicly that he expects to call approximately 50,000 men per month for the balance of the fiscal year. Should it be decided to increase the size of the monthly calls, that decision will be made by the department of defense."

Question: How many students are now being deferred on the basis of the Selective Service Qualification test and on ROTC enrollment?

Answer: "On Dec. 1, 1952, Selective Service has deferred approximately 185,000 college students on the basis of class standing or test scores, while upward to 330,000 ROTC students were deferred . . . In addition, there were many more students who had not yet reached the age of liability (18½) or who were rejected for service . . ."

STS ACCEPTS PLEDGES AND ADVANCES FOUR

Recent pledges accepted by The Stout Typographical Society as apprentice printers were: Jim Berray, Dave Beyl, Charles Houge, Loren King, and Jerry Oberpriller. Advanced to journeyman was Ray Burkhalter. Oliver Agerlie, Gary Gore, and Francis Oberpriller were accepted as master printers.

Plans for the coming field trip were pushed ahead. The organization will tour the Fox River Valley. They will visit paper mills, publishing houses, an ink company, and schools in the area. The field trip will take one week to complete.

President Scheldrup suggested that a dinner be held in conjunction with the formal pledging program. The suggestion was further advanced by members putting the suggestion in the form of a motion. The motion was passed. At the time of formal pledging, advancing members will also be honored and presented with their keys and hats.

Before leaving on their field trip STS members will be briefed about the various plants they will visit. Even though the group will be gone a week, instructional study will not be forgotten. Members will not only gather information about various paper processes and printing processes but also they will see actual operations of the two processes.

STS WILL VISIT THE FOX RIVER AREA

The Fox River Valley area is the destination of The Stout Typographical Society when the organization takes its eleventh annual field trip beginning the week of April 20, 1953.

The Fox River Valley was chosen for the trip because of the many printing plants and paper mills grouped in that area.

Field trips are an annual affair for the STS. With the exception of the war years, the organization has gone on the following tours: 1939, north central and central Wisconsin; 1940, eastern Wisconsin and northern Michigan; 1941, southern Wisconsin and northeastern Illinois; 1942, northeastern Minnesota.

Eastern Wisconsin and northern Illinois, 1947; eastern Minnesota, 1948; eastern Minnesota, northern Iowa, northeastern Nebraska, and southeastern Wisconsin, 1949; central Wisconsin, 1950; Chicago, 1951; and Minneapolis and Saint Paul, 1952.

All expenses for the trips are met entirely by the members of the STS organization through the printing done for other organizations on the campus.

TVA SOLVES PROBLEMS THROUGH EXPERIENCE

"How can we prevent students from coming too early and staying too late?" This is one of about thirty problems that the girls are trying to solve in the teaching Vocational and Adult Education class, better known as T.V.A. Most of the answers can not be found in books and must be worked out through personal experience. To gain this experience each member of the class visits and takes part in two adult classes through the cooperation of the Menomonee Adult Vocational Education School. The class also investigates various teaching methods and aids.

AFTER-THE-PLAY PARTIES CLIMAX WEEK

"A wonderful climax to many weeks of work and fun." What's this we're talking about? Why, the play parties, of course. You haven't heard about the play parties? Oh—you have heard, but don't know what they're all about? Did you ask any of the 57 persons who attended the party after "The Admirable Crichton?"

Yes, the play party has become a regular affair, taking place on the last night of the play performance. Everyone who has any job in connection with the play is invited. Parents who had come to see their children perform may also attend this party.

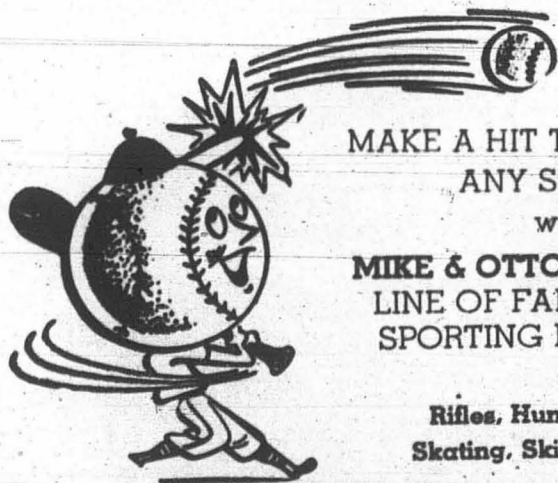

This year, Mr. and Mrs. Ziemann very kindly offered to have the kids come out to their home after the plays. Just an hour or so of talk and refreshments—simple, but a nice end to the three nights of performance. Everyone sits on the floor informally and enjoys himself. Some of the actors entertain us by going through certain parts again "to polish them up a bit" or else going around most of the evening still living the part which he had in the play. One high spot in "The Admirable Crichton" party came when the crew presented Mr. Ziemann with a small token of their appreciation.

All in all, it gives one a wonderful feeling to get together as one of this group of people who present theatrical production. It makes you feel like—well—there's no business like show business."

CANDIDATES ARE NAMED FOR GOVERNING BOARD

Choose The Most Capable People When You Cast Your Vote in Election

Attention Democrats and Republicans.

The election of members for the Student Governing Board will be held April 23, from 9:50 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. It's your chance to vote for your own choice from a selection of very capable nominees. Four candidates from each of the freshman, sophomore, and junior classes have been nominated. Two of each of these four will be elected.

Introducing the freshman candidates, we have John Oakeson who hails from Marinette, Wisconsin. John is a member of the Delta Kappa and "S" Club. His activities include the LSA, intramurals and he is a member of the Marine Corp Reserves.

Dorothy Belisle, Menomonie, Wisconsin, is the vice president of the Home Ec. Club. She is a member of the Stout Symphonic Singers and the Stout Band. Dorothy also is a member of the Wesley Student Fellowship.

Carol Schilstra, a graduate of Central high, Sheboygan, Wisconsin, belongs to the WAA, Girls' Glee Club, Stoutonia, Home Ec. Club, MAP, and Wesley Student Fellowship. Carol had a lead in the play, "The Admirable Crichton."

Max Cisco from Lima, Ohio, is a member of Sigma Tau Gamma and is vice president of the freshman class. Max also is active in football, basketball, and baseball.

Among the sophomore candidates is Mary Gehler from Waterloo, Wisconsin. Mary belongs to Alpha Sigma Alpha and Home Ec. Club.

Delores Sauey, a graduate of Phillips high in Baraboo, Wisconsin, belongs to the Home Ec. Club, the Stouttonia, Stout Symphonic Singers, Pallas Athene sorority, and the Stout Christian Fellowship. She is class secretary as well as librarian of Stout Christian Fellowship.

Roger Hanson, Wittenburg, Wisconsin, is a member of the Delta Kappa fraternity. Roger is active in Stout intramural sports.

Jolene Chryst, Menomonie, is active in the Stout Symphonic Singers, Home Ec. Club, Phi Upsilon Omicron, Alpha Sigma Alpha, and treasurer of Stout Symphonic Singers and Alpha Sigma Alpha. She is a member of the Congo Club and has worked on MAP plays.

Maryann Smith is among the junior class nominees. She is a student from Thorp, Wisconsin, and is a member of Pallas Athene sorority, Home Ec. Club and MAP. Maryann holds offices in the MAP and Newman Club. She was a member of the Student Governing Board in her sophomore year. She is also on the student curriculum and instruction committee.

Lawrence (Barney) Styer, Boyceville, Wisconsin, is a Phi Sigma Epsilon member as well as vice president of the junior class. Barney has served as football and baseball manager.

Mary Alice Detlor of Plainfield, Wisconsin is president of the Home Economics Club. She belongs to Phi Upsilon Omicron, Pallas Athene sorority, WAA and YWCA. Mary was a SSA representative of Tainter Annex and vice president of the Wesley Student Fellowship.

Janice Wurtz is from Elmwood, Wisconsin. Janice belongs to Phi Upsilon Omicron, Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority, Home Ec. Club, Stout Symphonic Singers and Newman Club. She is vice president of Sigma Sigma Sigma and secretary of Stout Symphonic Singers.

SYMPHONIC SINGERS TO GO ON ONE-WEEK TOUR

Tour Takes Choir and Band Through Illinois and Wisconsin

On May 4, the Stout Symphonic Singers will be going on their annual spring tour. Ninety-four students make up this year's touring group of 60 choir members and 34 band members. A distinctive program has been prepared for the tour, combining both choral and instrumental music.

This year's tour will get under way at 7:00 Monday morning, May 4, and will take the Stout musicians east across Wisconsin to Oshkosh, then south through Wisconsin and Illinois. Highspot of the tour will be the weekend stop-over in Chicago, where the group's headquarters will be right downtown in the Loop.

Two or three concerts are scheduled for each day of the tour, but still there will be time for sight-seeing and picnics. After a week on the road, living out of a suitcase, seeing lots of new places, meeting many nice people, and having loads of wonderful experiences, the Symphonics will return to Stout for a few days rest before their big home concert.

This annual spring concert will be presented on Wednesday evening, May 13, at 8:15 p.m. in the Stout Auditorium. Out-of-town students are especially invited to attend this concert. Below is the program.

COMMITTEES FOR THE PROM GO INTO ACTION

Exquisite orchid decorations and lighting effects will provide a rich atmosphere for this year's junior prom which will be held on Saturday, May 2, 1953, from 9:00 p.m. to 12:30 p.m. in the high school gym. Cliff Kyes and his orchestra will be on hand to supply the music. Tickets for the dance will be on sale one week before the prom. Committees, composed of junior class members, are hard at work on all the details.

"Orchids in the Moonlight," theme of the prom, easily stimulates dreams in one's mind. The decoration committee headed by co-chairmen, Virginia Hoppe and Barney Styer, promise to make the decorations live up to all expectations.

Cliff Kyes, having made his last appearance at 1952's homecoming dance, is a favorite on the campus.

"Tickets will be on sale in the main hall of Harvey Hall beginning Monday, April 27, 1953, and also will be sold at the door the night of the prom," say Mary Detlor and Art Scheldrup, co-chairmen of the ticket committee.

Louise Wenger and Grace Laudon, co-chairmen of the punch committee, also promise to brew up something tasty.

Iris Ruf, chairman, and her social committee are busy arranging all the courtesies for the dance.

The publicity committee, headed by Joan Fairweather, is right in the swing of things by putting up posters and seeing that other advance publicity is published.

John DeBock, president of the junior class, reports "Plans for the prom are progressing very well, and we all hope the student body and our alumni will back up our efforts by attending the prom."

X-RAY MOBILE WILL BE HERE ON APRIL 22

The State Board of Health mobile unit will be at The Stout Institute on April 22.

All sophomores, juniors, and seniors will be given appointments as well as freshmen who have reacted positively to the tuberculosis test within the past year. Faculty and all other employees of The Stout Institute are also being asked to have chest X-rays.

It will not be necessary to undress. Only coats, jackets, ties and vests and metal or bone jewelry from the chest area will have to be removed.

The schedule which follows is according to last name: 8:30-9:30 A, B; 9:30-10:30 C, D, E, F, G; 10:30-12:00 faculty and employees; 1:00-2:00 H, I, J, K; 2:00-3:00 L, M, N, O, P; 3:00-4:00 Q, R, S; 4:00-5:00 T, U, V, W, X, Y, Z.

Remember the early tuberculosis gives no warning. The X-ray will show long before symptoms appear. Reports of the X-ray will be sent to the individual about four to six weeks after the X-ray is taken. Chest X-rays show not only lung conditions, but also the size and shape of the heart.

CRAFTS CLASS SHOW POTTERY

Stout co-eds, Mary Kay, Ardis Carr, and Myra Evans, are shown selecting pottery which will be on exhibit at The Stout Institute's Open House on Tuesday, April 21. High school girls from throughout the state will attend a style show and home economics demonstrations.

1,000 GIRLS EXPECTED HERE FOR OPEN HOUSE

Displays, Exhibitions and Style Show Will Be Presented For Guests

With over 1,000 high school girls attending from throughout Wisconsin, The Stout Institute will offer its biennial Open House at the college, all day Tuesday, April 21.

Produced under the direction of Dr. Alice J. Kirk, dean of The Stout Institute Division of Home Economics, the Open House will feature home economics demonstrations, displays, gymnasium exhibitions, tours of the campus, and a style show.

For residents of Menomonie area, a special evening program will repeat many of the attractions presented earlier to the girls and their teachers. Beginning at 7:15 p.m., Menomonie citizens will enjoy tours of all home economics departments, viewing exhibits and the latest in home economics laboratories.

Later in the evening, they will see 35 Stout Institute coeds in a style show featuring sports, daytime and formal costumes, as well as a special campus wardrobe.

Girls and their teachers attending the all-day entertainment will be welcomed by Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of The Stout Institute, and by Mary Detlor, Plainfield coed who is president of the college Home Economics club. Dean Kirk will also address the group on "Home Economics as a Career."

Following the fashion show which has been written and produced by members of Stout's Home Economics club, guests will enjoy a variety of demonstrations, displays, and campus tours.

Among the demonstrations will be those on textiles, clothing units, weaving, ceramics, design, gymnastics, and food preparation. Of special interest will be inspection of two new Stout Institute laboratories, one for Textile and Clothing Selection and the other for Clothing.

The Textile and Clothing Selection Laboratory features such relatively unique equipment as the fadometer and laundrometer as well as the tensile strength tester. Unusual equipment in the Clothing laboratory is the compact clothing unit, designed by the college to achieve maximum efficiency in sewing and clothing construction.

Also of interest to the visitors will be the tour of the college dormitories, a visit to the home management house, and a view of activities at the college gymnasium and union.

The Open House seeks to alleviate the critical shortage of home economics teachers, which has made it difficult for many schools to secure properly trained instructors. As a leading source of teachers of home economics, Stout is seeking to provide qualified candidates for the vacancies which are continually occurring.

Working with Dean Kirk, the following faculty members have the responsibility of Open House: Miss Martha Ruth Amon, general chairman; Miss Jean Diefenbach, assisted by Miss Van Ness, style show and other auditorium features; hall decorations and signs for all departments, Miss Ardis Thevdt; art exhibits Miss Amon and Miss Thevdt.

Food demonstrations, Miss Clara Carrison, Miss Ella Jane Meiller, and Miss Ellen Nelson; clothing displays, Miss Lillian Jeter; cafeteria luncheon, Miss Mary Killian; physical education exhibitions, Miss Irene Erdlitz; reception and registration, Miss Marjory Elliott.

Program planning and hospitality, Miss Meiller; preparation and distribution of programs, Miss Ann Noble; publicity, Miss Eleanor Cox and Dr. Thomas Fleming.

OUT-OF-TOWN STUDENTS ATTEND M. A. P. PLAYS

Attendance information regarding "The Admirable Crichton" was released by Norman Ziemann of the Stout Speech Department. The total for this play was 824 persons. As "Kind Lady" attendance was 740, this would indicate that M. A. P. is doing a successful job of gaining the interest of more and more people in dramatic activity.

The attendance at plays is composed not only of Stout students but also of other students and of local residents. The guest students came not only from the high school here but from other cities.

The M. A. P. had as their guests for "The Admirable Crichton" twenty-five Boyceville students and fifteen students from Siren. The M. A. P. plans to attend plays in other cities whenever it is possible.

By bringing in out-of-town guests, the M. A. P. can acquaint the surrounding communities with Stout and its activities. It can also show what Stout is doing in the line of theatre work. Through exchanging guests between schools another goal of the M. A. P. is obtained—that of creating more friendly relations between the dramatic players of Stout and those of other schools.

Norman Ziemann of the Speech Department and the Manual Arts Players are hoping that next year even more Stout students, townspeople, and guest students will attend the play and raise that total even higher.

FRESHMAN GIRLS GIVE ANNUAL GREEN TEA

Green tea, shamrock cookies, and a green derby symbolized this year's Green Tea, an annual function sponsored by the Home Economics Club and carried out by the freshmen girls.

The Green tea is put on each year in the spring. The green color was used in the tea, the candles, and novelty napkins. Freshman girls, with minimum supervision from Miss Noble and Miss Nelson, planned and organized the tea.

This year's general chairman was Doris Hutchinson. Under her supervision the committees were organized and duties were assigned. The four committees were food, decorations, invitations, and publicity. Carol Viestenz was chairman of the invitation committee. She was helped by Caryl Teasdale, Lillian Smith, Roberta Haskins, Judy Day, and Joan Anderson. The food committee was headed by Charlotte Elliot. It consisted of Mary Adams, Ruth Winters, Caroline Yentz and Hilda Jeffery. Dorothy Ann Neis was chairman of the decorations committee. She was assisted by Theresa Franda, Virginia Ehlers, and Mary Paciotti. Publicity was the fourth committee. It was headed by Avis Mertes. She was helped by Rosemary Kelly.

An article about the tea was sent into the Journal of Home Economics for publication in the September issue.

DR. FLEMING WRITES VIEWS ON EDUCATION

"Train a Teacher and You Train a Nation" is the title of an article by Dr. Thomas Fleming, assistant professor of English and journalism at The Stout Institute, which appears in the April issue of the "American Vocational Journal," official national publication of the American Vocational Association.

In his article, Dr. Fleming traces the inception and development of The Stout Institute, from a two-room public school in the early 1890's to its present status as a Wisconsin State college of national reputation.

Also included in the feature are discussions of Stout's industrial education and home economics divisions, stressing the curriculum of each. Dr. Fleming then points out the varied careers open to graduates of the college.

Other information in the article describes the administration, faculty, student body, and extra-curricular activities of the college. A list of The Stout Institute's famous graduates is also included.

HYPHS ELECT OFFICERS FOR NEXT YEAR

The Hyperian Sorority elected its officers for next year at their meeting on April 2. The officers elected are as follows: president, Carol Bredlow; vice-president, Jean Baker; secretary, Kay Wedin; treasurer, Betty Jacobsen; and historian, Joan Bain.

M. S. M. SPRING MEETING WILL BE NEXT WEEK

The Methodist Student Movement of the state of Wisconsin is holding their annual spring conference at Superior, Wisconsin, April 24-26. There will be eighteen schools represented by about 100 students.

The speaker will be Dr. Keith Irwin, Director of Religious Activities at Hamline University, St. Paul, Minnesota. He will speak on the theme of the conference which is "The Christian Student and the Church."

There will be several Wesley members attending the conference.

FINAL PRINTING OF TOWER IS IN PROGRESS

Word from the printers is that the final printing of the "1953 Tower" is just about finished. During the Easter vacation, page proofs were read as quickly as they were received and then sent back to Minneapolis with corrections for final printing. If students walk past the Tower Office and notice smiles on the faces of the members, they will know that members are relaxed for the first time since last September.

At the present time no official date has been set for distribution of the books to students. When word is received from the Binders as to date of shipment, information will be given as to time, place, and what students must do to receive their book.

Staff members look back on their accomplishments with both awe and no regret. The experiences gained have been beneficial and just plain time consuming, but the book is an experience that each member of the staff is proud to say I was part of it.

We of the staff wish to thank the student body for the help that they have given us and for their co-operation.

EICHELBERGER HALL PARTY IS TONIGHT

Friday evening after the lyceum, Eichelberger Hall is holding an open house for all men interested. It will be an informal get-together with music for singing and dancing. Cards will be available for the card sharks. Come on fellows—to "Eich" after the lyceum.

S. T. S. WILL VISIT FOX RIVER VALLEY PLANTS

"All Signs Point to the Fox River Valley." Monday, April 20, is the start of the S. T. S. annual field trip, and members are looking forward with anticipation to places they will visit during the week long trip. This year's trip should prove to be highly educational and interesting in that many printing plants and paper mills are grouped within the Fox River Valley; consequently, not much time will be lost in going from place to place.

With the exception of the war years, S. T. S. has undertaken a field trip to various parts of the middle west in search of gaining experience with various printing processes and ways of making paper. This year's trip, as well as previous trips, has been financed by printing done for the various organizations on the campus. Each member of S. T. S. to remain in good standing must contribute 10 hours every semester to the organization. It is during these hours that most of the printing is done.

Members agree that lectures and movies are an integral part of their education as future teachers of printing, but keeping in constant contact with the printing industry is important too. New processes are being introduced continuously and a field trip is the only way of seeing these processes in operation.

This year's field trip will culminate on April 24 and on April 27 the print shop will once more resume its regular activities.

PHI SIGS PLAN DINNER DANCE AT THE MARION

The beautiful Cardinal Room of the Hotel Marion will be the scene of a dinner dance for members and guests of the Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity on May 16.

A gala evening of dining and dancing beginning at 6:30, with the lovely strains of Jimmy Knight and his orchestra as a background, is in store for Phi Sigma Epsilon and guests at their annual dinner dance.

Members of the fraternity in charge of arrangements are Dick Jung, Joe Luetkemeyer, Jack Luy and James Olds. In charge of decorations are Bob Bolt, Lawrence Bruno, James Christianson, Leo Janis, and James Olds.

HOMEMAKERS COUNCIL MEETS IN TEA ROOM

Meeting at the tea room of The Stout Institute, the West Central District meeting of the Homemakers Councils of nine Wisconsin counties heard reports of the activities and projects of each county and were given a description of the National Council meeting at Raleigh, North Carolina, by Mrs. John Ramsey, Peshtigo.

Presiding over the meeting of 54 delegates was Mrs. Victor Gilbertson, Ellsworth, district chairman of the Homemakers Councils. Under the direction of Dr. Alice J. Kirk, dean of The Stout Institute division of home economics, the delegates received a tour of Stout's home economics laboratories.

Following luncheon at the college, participants heard each county president describe the accomplishments of her Council during the year.

Attending the meeting was Mrs. Grace Duffee, assistant state leader of home economics extension. Counties, together with their home agents, in the West Central are:

Buffalo, Pauline Poehler; Chippewa, Ruth Johnson; Clark, Sara Stelle; Dunn, Shirley Young; Eau Claire, Yvonne Olson; Jackson, Rosemary Thorton; Pierce, Alberta Brown; St. Croix, Jean Stebbins; and Trempealeau, Margaret Goodell.

Coed guides for the event were Muriel Roffers, Ardis Breitman, and Frances Soulek.

P.A.'S WILL REVIVE

"PALLAS CABARET" ACT

April 25 is the date that the P.A.'s will revive their "Pallas Cabaret" skit. The skit, with several new roaring twenties numbers plus several other acts, will be sponsored by the Menomonie Lion's Club. The greater share of the profits will be used to send the Menomonie high school band to a district tournament in Superior. The program will start at 8:00 p.m. in the Stout Auditorium.

HOME FURNISHINGS CLASS TAKES A TRIP

The once-a-semester field trip to the Twin Cities, taken each semester by The Stout Institute girls in the class studying home furnishings, took place last week. It was more extensive, more strenuous, and more "everything" than ever before.

Miss Amon, who plans and guides this trip, says that she would become very much bored if the trip were always the same; therefore, she manages enough variety so that the whole day is always great fun, both for her and for each participating group of girls.

Essentially it is the same thing—much planning goes into getting a bus which will take the group all around and always for less money than a round trip regular bus ticket. The private bus is more like a taxi for the group, for it takes them from here to there when they are ready. Reservations for luncheon at the hotel, and arrangements with the stores and art galleries are made in advance. The plan may vary, but it always includes a visit to Dayton's Store to see their furniture and accessory type home furnishings, and to Walker Art Center to see their current exhibits.

But this last time... Many "special" events! At Dayton's we were told about all the important furniture manufactures and were shown some of their furniture. Then we were shown the dishes (where the man frightened everyone by dropping a Lenox plate to show that it didn't break), the Marghab linen, and lovely glass from Sweden.

Then, a truly "special" event! At Walker Art Center, the painting by Franz Marc of the "Blue Horses" wasn't hanging, so everyone felt disappointed. But—whiz—they took us to the storage vaults to see it. The "Horses" were ready to be packed to go out on a traveling exhibit. We "caught" them before they left and felt very lucky!!

Many more unusual exhibits for, after a "coke-stop", the bus took us to the "Modern Center" and on to the

CRAFT CLASSES MAKE USEFUL ARTICLES

The Stout Institute coeds who are taking "ART 400", or crafts, this year are busy finishing their woven articles and their pieces of pottery. Some of the first things that they made were shown in the display case on first floor a few weeks ago. The sign describing their "Good Design" quality expressed these ideas:

That coeds wanted to make things that were in good taste because they were useful and suited to the materials, and they wanted them to have pleasing proportion, balance, and rhythm.

Beautiful hand-woven wool scarfs have been made in just a few weeks' time. And some linen towels of pink with washable gold threads were a big hit. Then there were real rugs, too, woven on our big loom.

And among the pieces of pottery made from the wet "mud" are some very pretty brown cream pitchers and sugar bowls, some red vases that are as nice as you'll find in any store, many low bowls for flowers, and boxes for candy. Soon to be seen will be key-cases, bill-folds, and leather purses. This leather-craft is especially popular, because everyone knows that she (or the boy friend) will use the leather articles immediately.

The other things? . . . well, anyway, it's "loot" to take home and put in the hope chest!!

St. Paul Gallery and School of Art. In those places we saw the real things: chairs, tables, dishes, stainless steel, and lamps which we had been seeing in magazine pictures.

Need we say that having started at 7:45 a.m. and having gone rather steadily till 4:30 p.m., we felt some fatigue, but everyone was so pleased with the variety of things seen that we all felt a glow of pleasure, even as we relaxed on the way home. And we still feel it now as we recall all the things we did and saw.

GREETINGS

A cordial welcome to all of you who are helping us celebrate our third big OPEN HOUSE. During the past few weeks, your letters with the news that you were coming have been arriving from far and near, all the way from the northern tip of Wisconsin to communities down state. All of us hope that you will enjoy the day with us. We want you to meet our faculty and see our laboratories and buildings. And we would like you to realize, too, that it is fun to go to college and that there will be many worthwhile and fascinating activities all along the way.

The Stout Institute has a national reputation because of its fine offerings in the field of Home Economics. It has enjoyed this reputation for more than half a century. We specialize in Home Economics Education because we believe it provides security and happiness from both a professional and personal point of view. Home economists are in demand in teaching and in business; and in the homes throughout the country, home economists find their college education ready to serve them always.

We are proud and happy to have you as our guests today, and we hope that many of you will join us as freshmen at The Stout Institute next year.

Sincerely yours,
Alice J. Kirk, Dean
Division of Home Economics

NEW YORK TRIP WON BY JANE DAVIES

A Stout Institute coed, Jane Davies of Tallula, Illinois, was recently named a national winner in the 1952 National Needlecraft, all-expense trip to New York City, plus a cash award.

Announcement of Miss Davies' success was made in this area by Dr. Alice J. Kirk, dean of The Stout Institute Division of Home Economics, in which Jane is a senior, majoring in Home Economics education.

During her New York visit, Jane saw her contest wardrobe modeled at a fashion show at the Waldorf Astoria hotel. Clothing which she had entered included a navy silk shantung dress, an unlined jacket to match, and a matching coat lined with multicolored striped taffet.

Previous to her victory in the national contest, Miss Davies had won the qualifying contest for participants in her state. Beginning in 1948, Jane has won five consecutive prizes for her designing and sewing skill.

As a 16 year old, Miss Davies won a national first prize for her entry in the junior division of the contest.

BOY'S HOME EC.

Do you eat an olive with your fingers or with a fork? This was one of the questions recently asked in the boys' home economics class after seeing the movie, "Good Table Manners." Yes, boys are interested in many phases of homemaking, for they find that cooking is fun, but the boys are as concerned as the girls about the correct kitchen procedures to use, how to serve the foods they prepare, and the proper way to eat the food. In Stout's senior boys' class, much enthusiasm was shown in apron construction, which was preliminary to the food units.

When a boy makes the mistake of wearing plaid pants with a plaid shirt, and then a plaid necktie, his error brings out not only the importance of choosing becoming clothes, but also what colors and what textures can be worn together.

And is it too much to expect a teenage boy to assist in darning his own socks, in pressing his pants, and in sewing on buttons? These are just a few of the skills that the senior high school boys are studying and practicing in their homemaking class at The Stout Institute. This class is offered during the second semester and is taught by Mrs. Leone Dederling and Mrs. Alice Boehm, under the supervision of Miss Margaret Harper.

DIETETICS MEMBERS ATTEND CONVENTION

The Dietetics Club, accompanied by Miss Meiller, attended the 35th annual meeting of the American Dietetic Association at the Minneapolis Auditorium. Their attention focused mainly on the exhibits and lectures.

The theme for Wednesday was "To Help Develop Dietitians to meet Responsibilities." In carrying out this theme, discussions on the following topics were held: Nutrition in the Community; Appraising Food Quality; and Diet Therapy and Feeding Practices. A talk on the dietitian's responsibility in hospital administration was of special interest to the girls. The talks given by armed forces dietitians drew forth many questions.

The exhibits were on display on several floors in the auditorium. Large quantity cooking equipment, dishes, various food products, and new products such as purified amino acids and calorie-absent sweetenings were among the ones examined by the group.

SENIOR GIRL GOES TO 4-H CLUB CONGRESS

"You've cinched our record."
"We'll all be 'red scarfers' at the '420 house!'"
"Aren't you happy?"

These were the words which greeted Bernie Gundersman on her arrival home recently. A phone call notified Bernie that she had been selected as one of Wisconsin's 26 delegates to the 31st National 4-H Club Congress.

Bernie, a senior from Bloomer, Wisconsin, is majoring in home economics education at The Stout Institute. This is the third honor awarded to her this year and it is a fitting climax to this, her 10th and last year as a 4-H Club member.

Bernie is the fifth and last of her roommates to receive this honor. This series started in 1948 when Lois Bredlow, a senior from Watertown, Wisconsin, was selected as a delegate. In '49 Miriam Eckert, a junior from Manchester, Wisconsin, was chosen; in '50 it was Mary Detlor, a junior from Plainfield, Wisconsin; and last year Carol Bredlow, a sophomore from Watertown, Wisconsin attended. The girls live at 420 10th Avenue, which was christened the "420 House" last February when it served as headquarters for the state reunion of the "red scarfers" (former delegates to the National Club Congress.)

Chosen from more than 42,000 club members in the state, Bernie will be one of the 1,200 boys and girls from the 48 states, Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico, who will attend the congress. Group discussions, exchange of ideas, educational tours, and special award presentations will comprise part of the scheduled program.

Bernie won double honors in the state for her 1952 project work. Her versatility and ability in all phases of home economics was reflected when she was chosen one of eight girls in the state to receive honors as an all-around member in home economics projects. At the same time she was picked as one of the 17 district winners in clothing.

A listing of Bernie's activities shows clearly her enthusiasm for 4-H club work. These include: district leadership camps, judging contests, dress reviews, safety speaking contest, delegate to numerous State Fairs, and club officer for five years.

"STUNT NIGHT" MEANS LOTS OF FUN

Stunt Night is an annual evening of fun at which our students display their artistic talents for their fellow students and the college faculty.

ELAINE HANSEN IS ELKS CLUB AWARD WINNER

Further honors for Elaine Hansen, a Stout Institute junior who recently won an Elks Club scholarship award have been announced by Dr. Alice J. Kirk, dean of The Stout Institute Division of Home Economics in which Miss Hansen is a student.

On April 15, Elaine's achievements were honored at an Elks banquet in Eau Claire. At that time also, she was eligible for an all-state scholarship.

Competing against students of Eau Claire State college and those of Eau Claire's two large high schools, Miss Hansen was chosen as a co-winner of the Elks district outstanding student award.

On the basis of her accomplishments since she began high school, Elaine won on the basis of scholarship, initiative and self-reliance, and character. Letters from her former teachers and from Dean Kirk indicated that, in addition to extensive work experience, Elaine has been valedictorian of her Bloomer high school class and is first in her Stout junior class of 137 students.

Possessing almost a straight "A" average while at Stout although she also holds a job, Elaine has been named to Phi Upsilon Omicron, national honorary scholastic fraternity for college students majoring in home economics. Elaine also is a pledge of the Sigma Sigma Sigma Sorority.

BARB BARGEN ENDS ARMY TRAINING

2nd Lt. Barbara A. Borgen, 1952 graduate of The Stout Institute, has just completed an orientation course at Medical Field Service School where she learned the customs and practices of the Army Medical Service before beginning her formal training as a dietetic intern at Brooke Army Hospital.

She is one of ten recent graduates of approved schools of dietetics who have entered on active duty as 2nd lieutenants of the Reserves, who will train under the supervision of the experienced dietitians of the Hospital's staff. The year's internship gives the young dietitian the experience she needs and prepares her for the responsibilities in her field of work. Successful completion of her internship makes her eligible for membership in the American Dietetic Association.

In addition to working with the staff dietitians in all aspects of the tremendous job of planning appetizing well-balanced meals for the patients, working out special diets and supervising kitchen personnel, the dietetic interns attend classes regularly, complete research problems and gain some practical experience in other Army hospitals when they go for some weeks to other camps and stations of the Fourth Army Area.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION PROMOTES GRACE

A woman of strength? Not necessarily, but a woman of grace and coordination, the product of The Stout Institute Physical Education classes.

All freshmen and sophomores are required to take Physical Education, so you'll be meeting your fellow classmates in such required courses as swimming (1 quarter for freshmen and 1 quarter for sophomores) and body building (1 quarter for freshmen). The electives are always fun. Can't you just imagine enjoying field hockey, volleyball, basketball, bowling, tennis, softball, or golf? Of course these sports give the wonderful grace desired for smooth follow through of movement, but the most desired course is rhythm, which include social dancing, folk dancing, rhythmic form and analysis, and painting in rhythmic pattern the visual images which music suggests.

The Red Cross has added to the classes by making it possible to learn Life Saving and later to take the Instructor Course in swimming.

We all enjoy athletics, but here is the chance to do more than watch. Choose your favorite among these sports and join us in class next fall.

STYLE REVIEW SHOWS CLOTHES AT OPEN HOUSE

A style review depicting clothes typical of a college girl's wardrobe will be presented to The Stout Institute's open house visitors by the Home Economics club. Day-time showings will be given in the auditorium at 11:00 a.m. and 1:00 p.m. An evening showing will also be given residents of the Menomonie area.

In a stage setting of pink and black, models will come through a door and down the elevated ramp to show off many pretty wearable clothes. These clothes have been selected from the wardrobes of Stout coeds on the basis of suitability and good taste. All garments will be modeled by the students, for many of the girls have made their garments themselves. Carol Schilstra will be narrator for the event. A musical background will be furnished by Dorothy Belisle at the organ. A girls quartet will furnish entertainment before and after the show. Singing in the quartet will be Doris Beyer, Ann Rossmiller, Iris Ruf, and Jan Wurtz.

Almost any type of clothing a girl could want or need will be seen at this style review—from play clothes to formal, from swim suits to ski suits, from lab uniforms to sleepwear. Garments to be modeled include separates, school dresses, dressy dresses, formal, coats, suits, rainwear, sports wear, uniforms, and sleepwear.

Under the direction of Miss Diefenbach and her assistant Miss Van Ness, faculty advisers for the event, Home Economics club members have been responsible for producing the style review. Miss Wauneta Hain advised in the writing of the script. Assistance with stage and lighting was by Miss Ardis Thevdt and Mr. Norman Ziemann.

The wardrobe committee obtained and checked all costumes and accessories. Chairman of this committee was Shirley Lepien working with her were Catherine Magee, Ann Rossmiller, Joan Dehn, Rose Peper, Diane Klemme, Ginny Lathrope, Carolyn Solem, and Eunice Nulton.

The theme committee wrote the script, selected music and chose the commentator. Members of this committee were Delores Sauey, chairman, Joan Mountford, Barbara Hiltz, Carol Koch, Doris Hutchinson, and Carol Schilstra.

The backstage committee in charge of dressing rooms and make-up included Pat Jensen, chairman, Charmaine Chopp, Winifred Waite, Ginny Lathrope, Ruth Vance, Barbara Clemons, Gloria Voigt, and Joan Fairweather.

Sets and lighting were taken care of by the stage committee. Nadine Brown, chairman, worked with Ardis Carrison and Donna Ebert. Music was handled by Dorothy Belisle, chairman, Iris Ruf.

Programs were compiled and designed by Joanne Fritz, chairman, and Ann Switzenberg. Elinor Lehmann, chairman, and Bea Anderson had charge of publicity.

Among the separates which will be seen at this style show are such pretty and practical thing as a knife pleated plaid skirt and velveteen weskit, a bolero-sweater worn with a blouse and skirt, and a corduroy jumper. School and casual feature fashions in corduroy, wool, rayon suiting, and cotton.

Dressy college fashions will be seen in many types of materials: wool, taffeta, silk, linen, and chambray. An outstanding example is a stylish ensemble in navy blue silk shantung with a plaid taffeta-lined duster. Then there is a neat everglazed cotton for summer. Formal occasions call for dreamy formals both in the popular ballerina length and full-length. Ever-dependable suits in wool and corduroy will be modeled in the style show. To be seen are many fitted jackets and bolero style jackets with straight and flared skirts.

Not all days are sunny days, so we must have something to keep our coeds dry on those rainy days. It may be a plaid ensemble or a sleek black gabardine outfit. And for warmth we have beautiful coats for spring and fall wear, and warm outfits to combat old man winter.

"All work and no play makes Jane a dull gal." To take care of those play times, we'll have on review bathing suits, play togs, slacks, and those ever-loving ski suits. The six letter word "uniforms" is important in the career of many local coeds, for a Home Economics girl without a uniform is like a kitchen without a cook.

DR. WATSON SPEAKS AT BANQUET

Pictured above is Dr. Watson, state superintendent of public instruction, speaking at an AAUP meeting. Students at Stout receive many benefits by listening to noted educators.

I WON A TRIP TO WASHINGTON D. C.

A year ago I was anxiously awaiting my trip to the National 4H Camp in Washington D.C. Every year two girls and two boys from each state are awarded the trip, and last year I was one of the fortunate four from Wisconsin. Nearly all of the girls who are given the honor of attending National 4H Camp are studying home economics at some college or university. This is why I feel that my studying home economics at The Stout Institute helped me win the trip to Washington D. C., a journey which satisfied my every expectation.

It has been the custom for several years for the delegates of the six states of North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota, and Wisconsin to meet in Chicago and charter a bus together, called the "Cornbelt Special."

We "Cornbelters" had a wonderful time together, traveling through Ontario to Niagara Falls and to Philadelphia to visit some historical markers of our country. We journeyed on to Washington where we were kept very busy listening, participating, and touring. We had several inspiring speeches from national figures. Ex-President Truman spoke to us at the White House telling of the fine work rural youth were doing in America.

A few places of interest that we visited were The Lincoln Memorial, Jefferson Memorial, Washington Monument, Smithsonian Institute, Washington Cathedral, Federal Bureau of Investigation, Mt. Vernon, U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, National Gallery of Art, The Mint, and the U.S. Department of Agriculture Research Center at Beltsville, Maryland.

The theme of National Camp was "Know Your Government." I am sure every delegate returned home with a clearer idea of our government, for we had visited the regular sessions of both houses. One day we met with various Congressional committees with whom we participated and asked questions.

My outstanding experience was meeting, visiting, and learning of the problems of the people around the world from delegates at National Camp who had traveled from many foreign countries. It was very disturbing to learn how many of our tariffs and import laws were increasing their problems and adding tremendously to their financial debts.

All of these foreign delegates were International Farm Youth Exchange delegates, more often called "IFYE's." They were staying in United States for six months, living and working on our farms in order to learn more about our country and way of life. When they returned to their home lands, they traveled throughout their countries telling their stories and showing pictures. This is called an exchange program because the United States had the same number of IFYE's visiting in the various countries.

After a very full week in Washington, we "Cornbelters" started home in our bus, stopping at Gettysburg. We traveled over the Pennsylvania Turnpike and then on through Ohio and Indiana to Chicago. All of us returned home, a little tired from the two weeks activities, but inspired and thrilled beyond words. It is an experience which none of the delegates will ever forget. Most important, each of us has a much better understanding, not only of the problems in our own country, but also about the problems around the world.

History was not Billy's strong point and this morning he had failed to name six Presidents of the United States.

"Why, William," remonstrated his teacher, "when I was your age I could name every one of the Presidents since Washington."

"But please, ma'am, there weren't nearly so many then."

MECHANICAL INSTITUTE FOR PRINTERS AND PUBLISHERS

The Mechanical Institute for printers and publishers met Friday, April 10, at The Stout Institute. These men are the Stout representatives and the printers suppliers from the upper Wisconsin area.

MISS AMON TO PARTICIPATE IN ART MEETING

Participating in the program of the Northwestern Wisconsin Art Education meeting, to be held at Eau Claire State college on April 18, will be Miss Martha Ruth Amon, chairman of the related art department of The Stout Institute.

Miss Amon will present to the meeting the recent art lesson which she taught to Menomonie boys and girls for the State FM network's "Let's Draw" program. The program was heard over 11 state FM stations and nine commercial outlets at 1:30 p.m. on Tuesday, April 7.

At the art education meeting, Miss Amon will instruct students of the Eau Claire college training school, as arranged by Miss Gretchen Grimm of the Eau Claire faculty.

Attending the demonstration will be members of the art department of the University of Wisconsin, Reid Hastie, of the University of Minnesota art department, and several hundred teachers, largely from elementary departments.

PILOTING OVER KOREA STILL CONTINUES

"The life of an airforce pilot on Okinawa would be a pleasant vacation of sightseeing and visiting service clubs, if it weren't for the missions you must fly," said Paul Hasset, editor of the Dunn County News when he spoke in the Stout Auditorium last Monday evening, April 14. But the missions in the big B-29's keep on night after night over Korea. Lt. Hasset showed slides he had taken of life on Okinawa and views of the B-29 in preparation for flight. His very interesting and worthwhile talk covered civilian and service life on Okinawa and the preparations a bombing crew makes before a mission.

W. A. A. SPORT PUNCH TO BE HELD APRIL 22

The annual W.A.A. tea will be held in the Harvey Memorial, Wednesday, April 22, from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. The theme this year will be "Sport Punch."

General chairman for the tea is Margaret Fitzgerald. Other committees and chairmen are: food, Rose Peper, chairman, Diane Klemme, Mae Rammer, Barbara Rushing, Shirley Lundeen, and Joyce Fraedrick; publicity, Ellen Russell, chairman, Beverly Peterson, Kay Wedin, and Doris Hutchinson.

Mae Rammer is chairman of the decorations with the assistance of Dorothy Ann Neis, Virginia Ehlers, Marie Strodhoff, and Carol Schilstra. Marilyn Fredeen and her committee of Kathleen Garvin, Mary Asp, and Marilyn Klusmeyer have charge of the invitations.

Everyone is urged to attend. Remember:

TRY YOUR LUCK AND SKILLS AT CARNIVAL

Opening at 12:30 With Thrills Galore And Evening Dancing

"Step right this way ladies and gentlemen for the greatest attraction of the century. We are presenting, one time and one time only the greatest bargain of the day." The foregoing chant may be quite familiar to many of you and faintly remembered by all who have attended a carnival. This week on Saturday, April 18 at 12:30 p.m. the annual "S" Club Carnival will take place in the physical education building. Everyone is invited to attend with fun for all and thrills galore. This years carnival should be a bigger attraction than those of previous years because of the more energetic approach. There will be games, food and things to test your skill. The girls can meet the boys and vice versa in a gay carnival atmosphere. Come as you are and have a day. Who knows, dates for the dance are a cinch at this place. Don't be shy and don't be alone, for everyone is invited to attend the the gala Carnival events of Saturday, April 18.

Don't forget the dance in the evening. Who knows "Cyrano" may be there. The usual "white elephant sale" will be held at the all school picnic in May.

In four years of nationalization, it is reported that the British coal industry added 300 working miners to the payroll - and simultaneously 7,000 supervisory officials. . .

EIGHT ATTEND STUDENT U. N. AT MADISON

The Seventh Student United Nations Conference held in Madison recently was well attended. Hugh Schmahl, Troy Hansen, Marge Strombeck, Carol Viestenz, Judy Day, Shirley Lundeen, Joyce Fraedrich, and Miss Hain, faculty advisor represented Stout.

Mr. Menin, a delegate from India to the U. N. Assembly in New York, gave the opening address and was available for discussions throughout the conference.

The council meetings and the general assembly were informal. Each delegate in turn expressed his ideas.

A dance sponsored by the International Club gave the delegates an opportunity to meet those delegates from the many countries represented.

Attending the conference was a wonderful experience and it is hoped that The Stout Institute has had a part in strengthening international relations.

STOUTONIA MEMBERS PLAN FOR A PARTY

After putting out 25 issues of your school paper, The Stoutonia staff is taking a night off to celebrate. April 27 has been set as the date and Mae Rammer is general chairman.

Carol Schilstra, chairman of the food committee, will be aided by Colleen Ceminsky, Avis Reschenberg, and Oliver Agerlie. The entertainment committee consists of George Stolp, chairman, Mary Adams, Verna Dunn, and Rosemary Kelley.

A. P. O. DESIGNATES A "KITE DAY" FOR CUBS

Cub Scouts in Menomonie have circled April 18 on their calendars. That date is "Kite Day" under guidance of A.P.O. Members of A. P. O. formed teams and attended meetings of the dens on April 1. At that time demonstrations of kite making were given. The "Kite Day" was undertaken by A.P.O. as a service project for younger scouts. It is the first in a series of projects undertaken by the Service Fraternity for Cub Scouts in Menomonie.

Site of the "Kite Day" is the Fair Grounds on April 18 at 1:30 in the afternoon. Building of the kites was left up to each individual cub. Members of A. P. O. made and distributed the sticks and also demonstrated how the kites were to be made. The cubs were required to furnish paper, string, paste, and the extra time to complete the kite.

Prizes will be awarded to owners of the best kites at the meetings of the various dens.

GIRLS PARTICIPATE IN GENERAL FINISHING CLASS

Ardis Olson, a Stout Institute coed from Turtle Lake, is shown in the painting and general finishing shop of the college as she tries her feminine skill on refinishing an antique sewing machine. On her right are Nadine Brown, Manitowoc, and Mildren Pixley, Bear River, Minnesota, two other coeds who are also invading the paint shop, once the stronghold of men only. Several of Stout's male population, working disconsolately in the background and remembering better days are (L-R) Charles Schanck, Ladysmith, Neil Hoepfner, West Allis, and Alan Stuve, Whitehall.

THREE GIRLS ARE BUSY IN GENERAL FINISHING

Girls Enroll
In General
Finishings

Visitors in the painting, decorating, and general finishing shops of The Stout Institute often rub their eyes these days. They don't do it because of paint fumes either. No, they blink at the sight of three pretty college co-eds who are busily sanding and applying finishes to wood surfaces while surrounded by admiring if somewhat skeptical males. However, the girls work as energetically as any of their male counterparts have ever done for George Soderberg, assistant professor of general finishing in Stout's division of industrial education.

Yes, co-education, no matter what the masculine reaction, has invaded the industrial arts program in the persons of Nadine Brown, Manitowoc; Ardis Olson, Turtle Lake; and Mildred Pixley, Bear River, Minnesota.

These three girls are convinced that Stout's course in general finishing will better qualify them to teach home furnishing courses in home economics. Along with a greater appreciation of good furniture and good wood finishes the girls feel that they benefit personally from the excellent information on purchasing that this course offers. For instance, learning how to buy good paint brushes and good wood finishing products impressed the girls very much. Miss Brown sums up her changed viewpoint by saying, "My ideas of home decorating were entirely limited to a paint brush and a can of paint. I never imagined that there were such products as wood filler and sealer that improve results in home decorating."

Ardis Olson has attempted the unique project of the class. She is refinishing a spinning wheel made in Norway in 1855. The spinning wheel, made in Norway, is in perfect operating order, and belongs to Miss Olson's mother. Ardis is very much enthused about the experiment, claiming, "If I ever get this spinning wheel refinished, I'll probably become ambitious and try spinning yarn on this antique."

When class first began, there were more than a few "doubting Thomas's" among the male students. Thus the girls were subjected to some good natured teasing. Although the co-eds had to learn even the most fundamental uses of tools when they began, the girls soon proved to be on par with the boys.

Mr. Soderberg encourages co-eds to enroll in his general finishing classes. It is his belief that a great deal of household painting and decorating is now done by women, for often the man of the house doesn't have the time to do it; consequently his willing wife must.

Having three girls enrolled in what was once considered "man's work" is certainly an indication that women's interest, as well as women's work, is never done.

S.T.S. TOURS FOX RIVER VALLEY

Pictured above is Mr. Verne Feurst, assistant circulation manager of the Appleton Post-Crescent newspaper plant, showing the members of The Stout Typographical Society the method of lockup. Looking on is Mr. Raymond Cornwell, Charles Houge, Ronnie Johnson, Art Scheldrup, Oliver Agerlie, Charles Weber, Dufer Peters, Gary Gore, Jerome Duncan, Mr. Lloyd Whydotski, Loren King, Allen Marheine, Alan Reed, Ray Burkhalter, Francis Oberpriller, and Jim Berray.

S.T.S. MEMBERS TOUR FOX RIVER VALLEY AREA

Fourteen Printers Of S.T.S.

Return From A Five Day Educational Field Trip

Receiving actual observation of class room theory, fourteen members of The Stout Typographical Society, a professional printing chapter at The Stout Institute, have just completed a five day tour of educational institutions and paper and printing establishments in the Fox River Valley. Directing the organization's annual educational field trip, which was made by chartered bus, was Mr. Lloyd Whydotski, head of the printing department at The Stout Institute and Mr. Raymond Cornwell, assistant to Mr. Whydotski.

Arriving on schedule at Port Edwards, Wisconsin, just outside of Wisconsin Rapids, the Society was welcomed to the Nekeosa-Edwards Paper Company (NEPCO) by Mr. Bill Gardner, assistant sales manager; Mr. Ken Greene, Mr. Jim Rose, and Mr. Adam C. Remley, vice president in charge of sales. Mr. Bill Gardner, Stout grad of 1933, gave a short welcome address and then introduced Mr. Adam C. Remley who gave a short talk about paper. Then the members of the Society were shown through one of the two NEPCO sulphite bond plants from beginning to end learning every step that goes into making paper.

From Forest To Paper

Later the NEPCO executives took the group to a tree nursery where over a million seedlings grew in one small plot. One million four hundred thousand pine trees a year old and over nine million trees from one year seedlings to four year transplants are also part of the nursery. Over one hundred and fifty thousand acres are also growing in reforestation in such states as Montana, Idaho, Ohio, Minnesota, and Wisconsin. The guides then proceeded to show the group the NEPCO lake which supplies the two paper plants with over forty million gallons of water a day. This water is supplied from a man made lake which is, in turn supplied from natural springs. That water is then piped under a river to the two plants. One can imagine the way the visitors' eyes popped at this phenomenon but that was not all. A very alert member spotted three walleyes in the lake and the group was quick to learn that the lake was well supplied with fish.

Upon completion of the tour, the Nekeosa-Edwards Paper Company invited the Stout Typographical Society to a dinner at the Paper Inn at Port Edwards. Upon completion of a wonderful dinner, Mr. Gardner gave a short talk and answered any question the group had and then invited the group for a return visit.

Right On Time

Following its schedule closely, the group arrived at the Consolidated Power & Paper Company in Wisconsin Rapids to be greeted by Mr. Meyer. He introduced two guides, Mr. Jung and Mr. Fry, who took the members through the entire plant, demonstrating how coated paper was made for such popular magazines as Life and Time. Mr. Harold Samuelson then showed the group how paper is tested and explained the various methods and machines used for the tests.

Mr. Samuelson explained that over three hundred different kinds and grades of coated paper were made there, not to mention the thousands of tints and shades. It was at this plant that members were shown additional steps in the coating and super calendering of paper.

The members then proceeded on another bus trip to Appleton, which was to be their headquarters for the week.

The following morning, members toured the Appleton Coated Paper Company where they were shown another process of coating paper and an entirely different method of drying, known as air drying. Here the paper travels up and down through a series of heated air blasts, journeying hundreds of feet before it is put on a roll.

S.T.S. Visits a Newspaper

The afternoon was spent at the Appleton Post-Crescent newspaper plant, where the organization was greeted by Mr. Verne Feurst, assistant circulation manager, and Mr. Maurice Cartier, production manager. Arriving slightly before press time, the visitors were taken to the cafeteria where they were treated to a delicious meal.

They were taken through the Post-Crescent plant and shown all the steps that go into creating an edition of a newspaper, from the story writing through presswork. Members of the Typographical Society were also shown how photographs can be wired across the country and how, in turn, any picture can be wired back. The group was shown the actual receiving of a photograph by wirephoto from New York.

Press Time

The Post-Crescent presses began rolling and the group witnessed a fifty four page paper with a thirty three thousand circulation come off the tail end of three presses, two of them synchronized together, all folded and ready for insertion and to be put on trucks for delivery in a matter of minutes.

The group was fortunate enough to see rolls of paper break while on the press and to see how rapidly master printers were able to repair the break.

COME TO THE W.A.A. GYMJAM TONIGHT!

Attention all students! ! Another gymjam given by Stout's W.A.A. will be held in the gym tonight starting at 7:30.

The last gymjam turned out to be such a success that it was decided at the last W.A.A. meeting to make this a yearly social event.

Tickets were sold in the Harvey Hall this week, and will be sold at the gym door tonight at 25 cents each.

The evening's activities will give you a chance to get off some of your excess steam by participating in basketball, volleyball, shuffleboard, bowling, pool, ping pong, and a pavement dance on Wilson Avenue.

All events will begin at 7:30 and end at 10:30 with the exception of dancing, which will end at 12:00.

The various activities will be started by the W.A.A. sport heads as follows: Virginia Ehlers, volleyball; Judy Day, shuffleboard; Marie Strodthoff and Elene Sweet, swimming; and Barbara Rushing, bowling. Publicity will be handled by Nan Carroll, Deane Krueger, Arlene Chapman, Ann Switzenberg, Kay Wedin, Jean Baker, and Carol Bredlow. General chairmen are Mae Rammer and Marie Strodthoff.

So everyone remember.

SYMPHONIC SINGERS' TOUR BEGINS MONDAY

Spring concert tour time for the Symphonic Singers of Stout Institute begins on Monday morning, May 4, when the group opens a one-week tour which will carry them through Eastern and Southern Wisconsin, Northern Illinois, and the Chicago area.

The Symphonic Singers is a combined choral and instrumental organization of 60 voices and 35 instruments, directed by Victor H. Hardt, head of The Stout Institute music department.

A total of 12 concerts has been scheduled in this year's tour, ending with a performance before 2500 high school students and faculty members of Chicago Heights, a suburb of Chicago.

A unique program, blending both instrumental and choral music, has been prepared by the touring Symphonics organization. Two Menomonie students at Stout, Miss Dorothy Belisle, pianist, and Charles Russell, baritone, will be featured soloists.

Chaperones for the journey, which will be made in three chartered buses, are Mrs. Sherman Lee, 816 5th street; Miss Lorraine Tietz, 2001 4th street, and Director Hardt. Mrs. Lee is the president of the Menomonie Music club.

Residents of the Dunn County area will have the opportunity to hear the Symphonic Singers on Wednesday evening, May 13, at 8:15 p.m. in the Stout auditorium, when the 95 musicians, seasoned by a week on tour, will present their final concert of the college year.

Tickets for this concert are now on sale at Lee's Drug Store and may also be purchased at the auditorium on the evening of the concert, Wednesday, May 13.

EXHIBITION OF FOODS ARE PERFORMED

Are you aware that the public demonstrations given by Miss Clara Carison's Food demonstrations class at The Stout Institute are already underway? Two were presented last week and there are four more to be given next week. All of the demonstrations are scheduled for 7:30 in the evening in room 301 of Harvey Hall. Anyone wishing to come is cordially invited to do so.

Roberta Harris presented her "Winning Washes" demonstration on Tuesday, April 28, and Fern Naedler was next with her "Controlling the Food Dollar".

Coming up on the calendar for this week will be a "Variety Meats" demonstration by Charlotte Williams, on Monday, May 4; "Basic Kitchen Equipment for the June Bride" by Joan Fairweather, on Tuesday, May 5; "Easy As Pie" by Mildred Pixley, on Wednesday, May 6; and Ruth Kelly will climax the week's demonstrations on Thursday, May 7, with her demonstration entitled "It's all in the Dough".

Demonstrations will be given for the next two weeks and full particulars will appear on these in the paper next week.

These public demonstrations mark the finale of weeks of preparation on the part of each demonstrator; they promise to give us new and practical ideas. Remember those dates, May 4, 5, 6, and 7, at 7:30 p.m. to 12:30 p.m. at the high school gym to the music of Cliff Keyes and his orchestra. This is the same orchestra which was here for the homecoming dance.

Nancy is a junior from Eau Claire and a member of the Pallas Athene sorority.

Tickets have been on sale this past week in Harvey Hall and will be on sale at the door Saturday night.

Virginia Hoppe and Barney Styer are supervising the decorating which will be in keeping with the theme "Orchids in the Moonlight." Joan Fairweather has been busy with publicity. Iris Ruf has charge of the social committee. Grace Laudon and Louise Wenger head the punch committee and Mary Detlor and Art Scheldrup are in charge of ticket sales.

Guests at the prom will be President Fryklund, the deans, Alice Kirk, Keturah Antrim, John A. Jarvis and Merle M. Price. Chaperones will be Miss Amon and Mr. and Mrs. Ruehl.

John DeBock has been general chairman of the prom and would like all the juniors to be on hand to help with clean-up.

MISS COX IS DELEGATE TO SCIENCE MEETING

Delegate to the annual meeting of the Wisconsin Academy of Science Arts and Letters held last week-end at Madison was Miss Eleanor Cox, associate professor of mathematics and science at The Stout Institute.

Miss Cox, a member of the Junior Academy state committee, observed demonstrations by the state's young scientists competing for awards and memberships granted by the American Association for the Advancement of Science, the Wisconsin Academy, and the American Chemical Society.

In addition, Miss Cox attended the banquet of the Wisconsin Academy, an annual affair for scientists of the state.

STOUT SHOP CLASS FILMED BY MAGAZINE

Two 50-frame film strips directed by Mr. George Soderberg, assistant professor of industrial education at The Stout Institute, and produced by Popular Science Publishing Company and McKnight and McKnight Company have been previewed at The Stout Institute and will now be distributed commercially.

The strips, describing proper techniques in wood finishing, were made in The Stout Institute's woodfinishing and decorating shops by two Popular Science photographers flown from New York by the publishing company.

Under the direction of Mr. Soderberg, the wood finishing steps and equipment were photographed and later made into educational film strips. The two strips on finishing are part of six strips in a woodworking unit, including four others on safety, design, hardwood lumbering, and hardwood processing.

According to correspondence received from Dr. David Goodman, chief of Popular Science's audio-visual division, additional film strips, directed and photographed at The Stout Institute are being planned.

Previewing the films with wood finishing classes at Stout were Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of Stout, and Dr. John A. Jarvis, dean of Stout's division of industrial education.

According to preview reports, the film strips were received very favorably by the faculty guests as well as by members of the finishing classes.

ASA HOLDS MOTHER-DAUGHTER DINNER

Alpha Sigma Alpha held their Mother-Daughter Dinner on Saturday evening at St. Paul's Lutheran Church. This was held after an afternoon program in which the girls' mothers were honored by ASA members and taken on tours of the Home Economics building. This group, along with the rest of the members and foster mothers, attended the banquet at 6:00 p.m. on Saturday evening. Following the meal, Hazel Nelson explained the activities of the ASA in the past year. Singing of Alpha Sigma Alpha songs concluded the evening program.

PHI U'S HOLD ELECTION OF NEW OFFICERS

The members of Phi Upsilon Omicron, the professional home economics fraternity on campus, have chosen their officers for next year. They are Joan Fairweather, president; Janice Wurtz, vice president; Rose Deuber, treasurer; Irus Ruf, chaplain; Lois Peterson, recording secretary; Barbara Hiller, corresponding secretary; Mary Detlor, marshal; Carol Bredlow, historian; and Gloria Voight, librarian.

TOWER STAFF ASKS YOUR CO-OPERATION...

As of this date no word has been received from the Bindery Co. as to date of shipment of the '53 Tower. Staff members have been notified that the printing has been completed and that all material has been sent to the bindery.

Students can speed up the distribution of the yearbook by following these simple instructions.

1. If you have been in attendance since last September, secure a card and fill out the necessary information requested on the card.

2. Move into the right line either A-M or Mc-Z. Signs will be posted for each line. Turn the card into the desk and make sure your name is checked off the directory by the person in charge.

3. If you have been in attendance since January fill out a card. Go through the designated line and tell the person on duty that you are a second semester student. Upon payment of the balance due for the book you will receive your yearbook.

The tower staff requests your co-operation on the above instructions. Unnecessary delays will be eliminated if all concerned follow these directions.

MANUAL ARTS PLAYERS ELECT OFFICERS

Election of officers was the main business of the meeting of the Manual Arts Players Chapter of the Alpha Psi Omega on Monday, April 13. President for next year will be Sam Mikitarian; vice president, Bob Brunswick; treasurer, Roberta Harris; and secretary, Louise Wenger.

Other business included the setting of a date for the initiation banquet to be held in honor of the new members who were brought into the organization this year. The date set was April 27.

PHI SIGS PLAN FOR ANNUAL DINNER DANCE

A dinner dance for members and guests of the Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity will be held in the Cardinal Room of the Hotel Marion, Saturday evening, May 16.

A gala evening of dining and dancing beginning at 6:30, with the lovely strains of Jimmy Knight and his orchestra as a background, is in store for the Phi Sigs.

Members of the fraternity in charge of arrangements are Dick Jung, Joe Luetkemeyer, Jack Luy, and James Olds. In charge of decorations are Bob Boldt, Lawrence Bruno, James Christianson, Leo Janis and James Olds.

SIX DIETETIC APPOINTMENTS ARE ANNOUNCED

With April 15 designated as the day for nation-wide appointment of college seniors to dietetic internships, Dr. Alice J. Kirk, dean of the division of home economics at The Stout Institute, has announced appointment of the six graduating seniors in the division who have majored in dietetics.

The coeds, their home cities, and the location of their internships are Phyllis Allman, Phillips, Colorado General hospital at Denver; Phyllis Horning, Maiden Rock, Women's Medical Specialist Corps of the Department of the Army; Jean Kelton, Woodville, Veteran's Administration hospital at Hines, Ill.;

Joan Lee, Independence, University of Indiana at Bloomington; Mary Ann Moore, Wabeno, University of Wisconsin hospital at Madison; and Mrs. Beatrice W. Fleming, Menomonie, St. Mary's hospital at Rochester, Minn.

On the April 15 date, dietetic internship appointments are made throughout the nation through heads of home economics departments in colleges approved by the American Dietetic association.

PHI U ALUMNAE CHAPTER IS BEING FORMED

As a professional project this year, Tau Chapter of Phi Upsilon Omicron at The Stout Institute decided to form an alumnae chapter in Menomonie.

Under the direction of Dorothy Messerschmidt, a Tau member, a committee began work. At the Founder's Day banquet in February two alumnae, Mrs. Patricia Medtke and Mrs. Myrtis Whydowski, were appointed to contact interested alumnae in the area, and draft tentative by-laws for the group.

At a March meeting held at the home of Mrs. Virginia Ray, the by-laws were approved and a nominating committee appointed. This committee was composed of Mrs. Ann Rudiger, Mrs. Ginny Solberg, and Mrs. Patricia Traxler. There was a good deal of joyful reminiscing of the good old days.

At the April meeting held at Mrs. Ginny Solberg's home, officers were elected. Officers for the next two years include: Mrs. Virginia Ray, president; Mrs. Patricia Traxler, vice-president; Mrs. Patricia Medtke, secretary; Mrs. Cecilia Close, treasurer; and Mrs. Margaret Swanson, Candle editor.

Mrs. Virginia Ray is a charter member of Tau Chapter. Miss Gladys Trullinger, assistant professor of home economics at The Stout Institute, is the only non-Tau member belonging to the group. She has the distinction of being a charter member of Xi Chapter of the University of Nebraska.

SIG TAUS PLAN FOR PRE-PROM DINNER

The members of Sigma Tau Gamma are again turning their attention toward their annual pre-prom dinner. The dinner, which precedes the junior prom, is the Sig Tau's main social function of the spring season and, as in the past, many alumni will attend the dinner and renew old acquaintances. This year's pre-prom dinner will be held at the Methodist Church.

The officers of Sigma Tau Gamma for next year have recently been installed. They are president, Lawrence Smith; vice president, Fred Bahr; recording secretary, George Stolp; corresponding secretary, Dave Gresch; treasurer, Dick Kadatoni; sentinel, Louie Kort; high priest, Harry Thorp; Saga reporter, Tom Kitto.

A.P.O. MEMBERS ARE BEING KEPT VERY BUSY

Two separate projects were successfully undertaken by A. P. O. on April 18, when cub kite day and the "S" club carnival kept members on the jump.

August Bell served as chairman of the kite contest. Assisting Bell were Bruce Sorensen, John Walter, and Don Walters. Floyd Jolliffe and Charles Weber served as co-chairman of A. P. O.'s booth at the carnival.

Members of the organization are presently enrolled at the Scout Master's school conducted by the Chippewa Valley Council. Successful completion of the course will certify members as scout masters from national headquarters.

As in years past, A. P. O. will furnish ushers at the commencement exercises this year. This is another service that the organization gives to the college in the course of the school year.

Final plans for closing of the school year were discussed at the regular meeting of the organization, April 18, in Bowman Hall. A schedule for next year's activities was drawn up and plans for the annual freshmen tour of the town. The incoming freshmen will be taken on a tour of Menomonie, after which they will attend a "get together" as guests of A. P. O.

THE LAKE MENOMIN BOATHOUSE IS OPEN

The boathouse on Lake Menomin opened April 25. Boats and canoes can be rented at any hour during the day. On week-ends the boathouse will open at 9 a.m. and close at 7 p.m. Now that spring is here, a perfect way to spend a couple of hours would be a relaxing boatrip on the lake.

Sound judgment, with discernment, is the best of seers.

ALUMNI NEWS

A Stout Institute alumnus who recently visited the campus was Bernard P. Ney, (B.S. '36), who has resided in Honolulu since 1936.

Mr. Ney, whose present position is that of apprenticeship representative, U.S. Department of Labor, Bureau of Apprenticeship, Honolulu, attended a meeting in Denver and was in Washington, D. C., on official business.

In addition to returning to the Stout campus, Mr. Ney also visited relatives in Elk Mound.

STOUT ALUMNUS VISITED THE CAMPUS RECENTLY

Miss Doris Ellen Knopps, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Knopps of Route 5, Menomonie, Wisconsin became a hostess for Capital Airlines recently when she received her wings at a luncheon-graduation ceremony at the United Nations Club, Washington, D. C.

The blue-eyed blonde graduated from Menomonie high school and attended Teacher's College in Eau Claire. She has been assigned by the airline to fly out of the Chicago station.

WEDDING BELLS RANG DURING EASTER

On April 8 at 4:00 p.m. Phyllis Amacher and Stuart J. Smith were married in a candlelight ceremony. Attendants for the couple were Mary Bohrnstedt and Robert Braun. Phyllis will receive her B.S. degree in May and Stuart received his degree last January and is presently employed in Milwaukee where the couple will make their home.

April 6 was the wedding day of Charlotte Winslow and Tom Williams, a recent Stout student now with the Army. The two were married at 11:00 a.m. at the Sextonville Methodist Church with Alice Winslow and Gerald Williams attending the couple. Mrs. Williams will graduate in May and will teach next September at Ellsworth.

TRI SIGS CELEBRATE THEIR FOUNDERS DAY

America the Beautiful was the theme of the Founders Day Banquet celebrated by the Sigma Sigma Sorority on Sunday, April 20.

The Beta Pi Chapter and the other 51 chapters throughout the country celebrated the 55th birthday of the Tri Sigma sorority. Founded at Farmville, Virginia, in 1898, the sorority is one of the first to be organized on state teachers college campus.

On Monday the chapter wore the traditional white dresses with violets.

P.A.'S PREPARE FOR ANNUAL DINNER DANCE

Soft music will be floating from the country club on May 15, as the Pallas Athene Sorority gathers for its annual dinner dance. Chairman of the affair, Louise Wenger, has the plans for the evening well underway. George Soderberg will furnish the music. All alumni are invited.

STOUT RADIO PROGRAM CHANGES TO NEW TIME

New radio time of The Stout Institute weekly program on Station WM NE has been set at 6 p.m. each Saturday, according to Mr. Victor Hardt, who is in charge of the series.

The programs are of a varied content each week, including band numbers, solos, vocal groups, and other attractions. In addition, news of the college is presented to the listeners.

Working with Mr. Hardt on the series are Dr. Thomas Fleming, who provides publicity material, and Dick Duthler, narrator and sound engineer.

HYPIS DINNER DANCE

WAS APRIL 25

Spring showers last Saturday, April 25, didn't dampen the spirits of the Hyperian sorority as they enjoyed their annual spring dinner dance at the Hotel Marion.

Large daffodils on the walls and smaller ones as table decorations appropriately carried out the theme of "Dancing Daffodils". Music for the evening was furnished by Johnny Farwell and his orchestra. Guests for the evening included Dean Antrim, Mr. and Mrs. Whydowski, Mr. and Mrs. Zieman, and Miss Clara Carrison.

"HIDDEN TREASURES" TO BE SHOWN AT CONVO

"Hidden Treasures", the latest in the series of science films produced by the Moody Bible Institute will be shown at Convocation Wednesday morning, May 6. Back To School

On Wednesday morning, The Stout Typographical Society entered a different atmosphere, touring Appleton High School. Here they were met by Mr. Sid Cotton, head of the printing department, and Mr. Owen Reppert, a Stout grad of 1950 and head of the drafting department. The printers were shown through the printing department and saw the organization and teaching set-up.

Later that morning The Typographical Society members toured the Appleton Vocational School where Mr. Notebart explained the vocational angle of teaching and showed them through the school.

In the afternoon, the visitors toured the Menasha Vocational School and again met more Stout graduates including Mr. Harold Griffith, head of the printing department, who received his M. S. degree at Stout in 1945. Mr. Griffith gave the group a very interesting talk concerning "Tips for Teachers." Afterwards, Mr. Gilles Wolfe, M. S. graduate of Stout in '52, showed the group through the print shop where members saw a well-equipped and well-organized shop. Menasha Vocational School has a record of receiving eighteen All-American ratings out of twenty-two year books printed in that shop.

Not to be out-done in hospitality, Mr. A. J. Poellinger, a Stout grad of 1930 and former S. T. S. member, showed the visiting group through his remarkably well-organized print shop at Neenah High School.

Beginning bright and early on Thursday morning, the members traveled through the Northwest Engraving Company at Menasha, where they were greeted by Mr. Russell H. Spoor, sales manager. Mr. Spoor conducted the visitors through the plant and showed them a $12,000 camera used for one-color work and a $26,000 camera for four color process work. The visitors were also shown a step by step procedure of photoengraving and were later given a booklet, "The Art of Photoengraving", for later reference.

Ink Is Made

On Thursday afternoon, The Typographical Society traveled through the Printing Inks Division of Marathon Corporation where Dick Mathews, Marathon manager, explained the five basic kinds of ink from which literally thousands of inks are made. The group saw more ink in that afternoon than they could possibly use in ten years.

S. T. S. Goes On The Radio

Upon completion of that tour, a tape recording for Neenah's radio station WNAM was made by Mr. Lloyd Whydowski, head of the printing department at The Stout Institute; Raymond Cornwell, assistant to Mr. Whydowski; and four members of The Stout Typographical Society: President Gary Gore, former president Arthur Scheldrup, Francis Oberpriller, and Dufur Peters. During the interview, these men told of their various experiences throughout the week. The tape recording was then broadcast over station WNAM last Wednesday morning.

On Friday morning, the group toured the Gilbert Paper company in Menasha. Members were shown a movie prior to a tour through the plant and were later served refreshments and finally a full course dinner at the Gilbert cafeteria. The paper made at this plant was entirely different from the paper made at other plants previously visited in that this paper was made from rags while the other papers were made from wood pulp.

A Valuable Book Is Seen

During the course of the morning, Mr. Whydowski discovered a valuable original masterpiece by Dard Hunter entitled "Paper making by Hand in America." This was the one hundred and fifth copy of two hundred available copies of the eighth edition printed by Dard Hunter at his Mountain House Press. Both the paper and type were hand made by Dard Hunter.

Before leaving the Gilbert Paper Company the members of The Stout Typographical Society were introduced to Mr. Clarence Elmgreen, head of the personnel department; Mr. Franklin Otis, traffic department; Mr. John Pinkerton and Mr. Frank Poplinsky, sales service; Mr. Elmer Thalke and Mr. John Christopherson, cost department; and Mr. Joe Ashmeade, technical department.

Members that went on the field trip were: Gary Gore, president; Oliver Agerlie, vice president; Arthur Scheldrup, Allen Marheine, Francis Oberpriller, Dufur Peters, Loren King, Jim Berray, Allan Reed, Charles Houge, Charles Weber, Ronald Johnson, Jerry Duncan, and Ray Burkhalter.

DR. RALPH IVERSON TO SPEAK IN MILWAUKEE

Dr. Ralph G. Iverson, Director of Student Personnel services at The Stout Institute, will speak on "Leading Clients to Insight" at the spring meeting of the Wisconsin Association of Education and Vocational Guidance at Milwaukee on May 1.

Dr. Iverson will address a joint session of the guidance and rehabilitation groups at the spring meeting. Chairman of the session will be A. I. Anderson, case supervisor at the Eau Claire office of the State Rehabilitation Division.

TRI SIG OFFICERS RECEIVE INSTRUCTIONS

The Beta Pi Chapter of the Sigma Sigma Sorority held officers candidate school the weekend of April 17, 18, and 19. This is something new for them. It was developed to instruct new officers and chairmen in the duties of the new office they are to hold. It also serves to familiarize them with the constitution, by-laws, and history of the Tri Sigma Sorority.

Miss Elliot, alumna advisor, instructed the group, and refreshments were served after the meeting.

The new officers are: Donna Anderson, president; Celia Fritz, vice president; Carolyn Schauf, secretary; Bonnie Retzlaff, treasurer; and Janet Kumbier, recording secretary.

RESULTS OF HOW YOUR VOTES COUNTED

P.A.'S ELECT AND INSTALL OFFICERS

The Pallas Athene Sorority recently elected and installed their officers for the following year. They are as follows: president, Avis Reschenberg; vice president, Joanne Fritz; secretary, Pat Jensen; treasurer, Ginny Lathrope; historian, Barbara Clemons.

MR. SODERBERG MAIN SPEAKER RECENTLY

Mr. George Soderberg, assistant professor of industrial education at The Stout Institute was the main speaker at a recent meeting of the Northeastern Wisconsin Association at Sheboygan.

Under the chairmanship of Harry Olstad, prominent Wisconsin industrial educator, 109 industrial arts teachers (a new record for the meeting) attended Mr. Soderberg's demonstrations.

In his two-hour talk and demonstration of wood finishing techniques, Mr. Soderberg showed proper techniques for producing high gloss finishes on varnish or lacquer, producing an oak grain effect, creating a flock finish, and using the new photographic plastic film technique.

The entire group then participated in a discussion on mutual finishing problems. Among the door prizes given at the event was a copy of Mr. Soderberg's textbook, "Finishing Materials and Methods".

Numerous Stout Institute graduates were among delegates at the meeting. They included many who had taken their training under Mr. Soderberg.

SUMMER SESSION BULLETINS ARE READY

Summer school bulletins are now available and may be obtained by either writing the director of summer session or by calling at the office of the dean division of industrial education, dean division of home economics education, or director of graduate studies.

Undergraduate students now in attendance who intend to be in attendance during the 1953 summer session should fill out enrollment blanks as soon as possible. Enrollment blanks are now available at the above offices.

Those desiring to enroll in graduate courses should contact the director of graduate studies office.

WESLEY MEMBERS GO TO SUPERIOR MEETING

Robert Spinti was elected Vice President of the Wisconsin Methodist Student Movement at a conference held in Superior the weekend of April 25.

Nine members of the Wesley Student Fellowship, accompanied by Dr. Guy Salyer, traveled to Superior, Wisconsin last Friday evening for the annual M. S. M. spring (9 in spite of the snowstorm) conference. The main speaker at the conference was Dr. Keith Irwin of Hamline University in St. Paul.

The highlight of the conference was the Saturday evening program which began with a huge banquet and was followed by a hilarious talent program. Dr. Irwin gave an inspirational address concerning the responsibilities of religion on a college or university campus. His speech was followed by the initiation of the new state officers, which includes Robert Spinti of The Stout Institute as Vice President.

Communion service, which was planned and carried out by the Menomonie group, closed the Saturday evening program.

MISS MEILLER WILL GO TO DIETETIC MEET

Representing The Stout Institute at the spring meeting of the Northern Wisconsin Dietetic association, to be held at St. Francis Hospital in La-Crosse on May 9, will be Miss Ella Jane Meiller, head of the department of food and nutrition at Stout.

Miss Meiller will be concerned with two aspects of panel discussions to be held during the spring meeting. One will include presentation of data obtained by students in The Stout Institute course on Nutrition and Dietetics. The Stout Institute surveys provided information on the interest of college students in nutrition education.

As a member of a committee of the American Dietetic association, working in conjunction with the American Diabetes association, Miss Meiller helped devise a system of calculating dietaries. Data on this system will also be presented at the LaCrosse meeting.

TOWERS DISTRIBUTED WEEK OF MAY 11

Word has been received from Bring's Press that the 1953 Tower should be ready for distribution the week of May 11. More definite information will be released as soon as staff members are in a position to release more complete data.

Plans already are being laid for the 1954 edition of the yearbook. Changes have been made on the new staff and a new advisor has been added. Mr. Raymond Cornwell is replacing Mr. David Barnard as production advisor. At the last meeting of the staff Larry Smith took over the reins of editor. Charles Houge is the production manager and Norma Schlottman is literary editor. Don Walters has taken over the duties held by Dufur Peters, namely business manager.

An early start on a project as large as the yearbook is an asset. Preliminary plans can be taken care of without worrying about deadlines and much more time can be spent in laying out the yearbook. Next fall members will have all the preliminary work done and actual production work can start right in with the beginning of school.

TWO OF FACULTY GO TO NUTRITION MEETING

Acting as The Stout Institute delegates to the Western Wisconsin Nutrition Education Project, meeting in St. Croix Falls on May 19, will be Miss Ella Jane Meiller, head of the department of food and nutrition at Stout and Miss Ann Noble, head of the department of home economics education at the college.

The project is concerned with the teaching of nutrition at the elementary school level. Representatives from elementary schools, colleges, and normal schools will participate.

FACULTY MEMBERS GO TO EDUCATION MEETING

Participating in the spring meeting of the Wisconsin Committee on General Education during the past weekend at Oshkosh State college, were three members of The Stout Institute English department: Gertrude Callahan, Chairman, Wauneta Hain, and Dr. Thomas Fleming.

Dr. Fleming spoke as a member of the panel on the place of communications in general education, taking as his topic "The Elements of Journalism Needed in Any Course in Communications." Miss Hain also took part in this discussion.

Other members of the panel included Dr. N. S. James, Chairman of the English Department at Oshkosh, Dr. Joseph Schwartz of Marquette University, and Dr. Hans Gottschalk of Eau Claire. Miss Callahan participated in the panel group dealing with humanities and general education.

Principal speaker for the conference was Professor Rassweiler, Associate Professor in General Education at the University of Minnesota. He spoke on "Dangers to General Education Mid-Career".

Also addressing the conference was R. F. Lewis, Assistant State Superintendent of Public Instruction, who informed conference delegates on recent deliberations of the Wisconsin Commission on Teacher Education and Professional Standards as they applied to general education.

SELECTIVE SERVICE TEST WILL BE GIVEN

The Stout Institute has been notified by the state headquarters of the Selective Service System that a Special College Qualification Test will be given at Stout on May 21 for all student registrants who were unable to take the test when it was given last December or April.

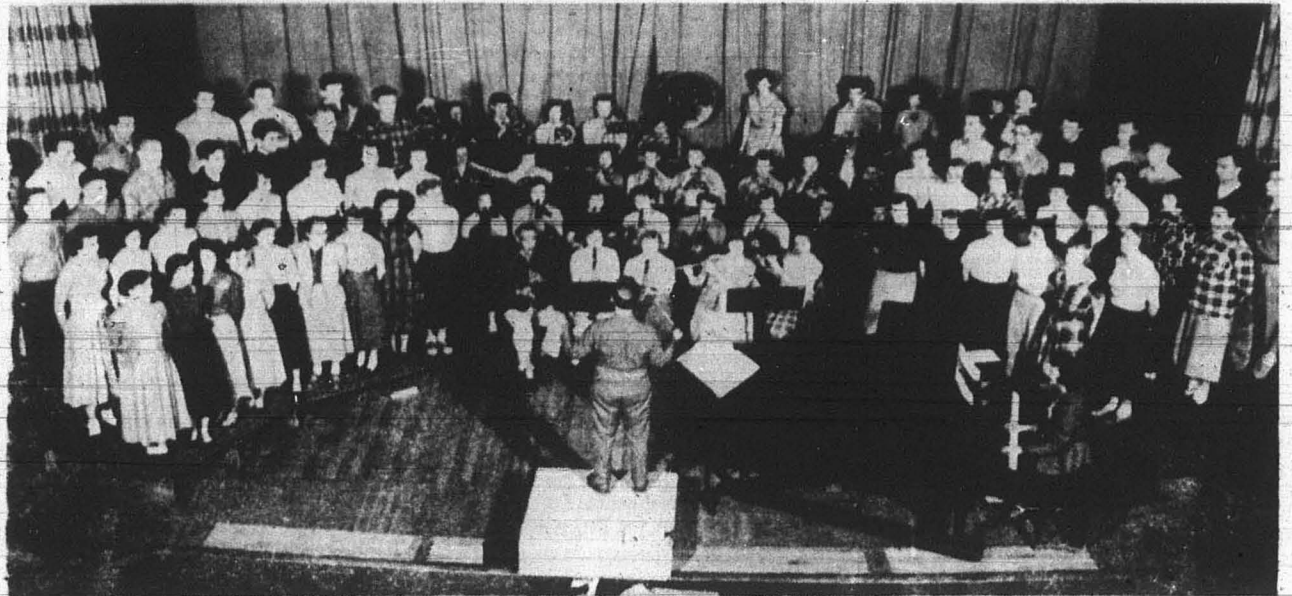

In order to be eligible to apply for the special test on May 21, a student need not have applied for one of the previous tests. The Selective Service System, however, is urging applicants to submit applications for the May 21 test at the earliest possible date. Applications postmarked later than May 11 will not be accepted.

In charge of the Special College Qualification Test for The Stout Institute will be Dr. E. R. Oetting, Chairman of the Department of Psychology and Education at the college. Application forms may be obtained at any time from Dr. Oetting.

GRADUATE MEN'S CLUB PLANS FOR PICNIC

The annual picnic of the Graduate Men's Club will be held at Wakanda Park at 5:00 p.m. on Thursday, May 14. Men faculty, and split program graduate students are invited to attend.

Symphonic Singers and Concert Band Return From Tour and Will Give Concert Here

After returning from a week's concert tour during which they performed before more than 10,000 people, the Symphonic Singers and Concert Band of The Stout Institute will offer their annual spring concert at the Stout auditorium on Wednesday, May 13, at 8:15 p.m.

The two musical organizations toured southern Wisconsin, northern Illinois, and the Chicago area in appearances before students, faculty, and the general public. In Chicago Heights alone, 2500 persons heard the combined musical groups.

Under the direction of Victor H. Hardt, chairman of the music department of The Stout Institute, the Symphonic Singers and Concert Band will offer to their Menomonie audience a unique program of sacred, modern, folk, and novelty music.

The concert will feature both choral and instrumental music, and will also offer such soloists as Charles Russell, baritone, and Dorothy Bellisle, pianist. Several other ensemble numbers will also be highlights of the evening.

The range of selections to be included in the spring concert ranges from such Negro spirituals as "Set Down Servant" to the classical "Dream of Olwen" and the popular "While Strolling Through the Park."

Appearing in the spring concert will be 95 student musical artists of Stout. Membership in the Symphonic Singers totals 60 male and female voices. The Singers are accompanied by 35 student concert instrumentalists.

Tickets for the spring program, the final concert of the college year, are on sale at Lee's Drug Store and may also be purchased at the door of the Stout auditorium on the evening of the concert, May 13.

MISS O'BRIEN MEETS WITH REGISTRARS

Attending a recent meeting of the American Association of Collegiate Registrars at Minneapolis was Miss Gertrude M. O'Brien, registrar of The Stout Institute.

Miss O'Brien participated in such workshops as those dealing with Admission Policies for Colleges, Permanent Records of the College, and General Problems in Dealing with Records and Transcripts.

Among the highlights of the meeting were addresses by President J. L. Morrill of the University of Oklahoma, and Dr. Theodore C. Blegen, dean of the graduate school of the University of Minnesota.

Registrars were also guests at a reception given by Time magazine. John Phillips Sousa III, grandson of the famous band leader and now a Time representative, acted as official host.

It's a Lark to Park This Way

Since many motorists find parking is their biggest driving difficulty, the Orange Disc, Gulf Oil house magazine, recently conducted street tests to find the most practical method. As a result, the editors recommend the steps below, claiming they will put even new drivers safely in to the curb in "one pass."

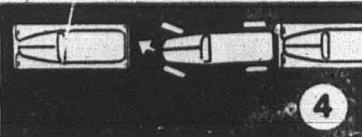

PULL UP PARALLEL to the car ahead of the parking space, preferably one foot and NOT MORE THAN TWO FEET away from it (check distance through your right door window). Stop when rear bumpers of two cars are about even. Make sure road is clear to rear.

BACK UP SLOWLY, turning steering wheel as far right as possible. This swings car into parking space at about 45° angle. When front seat is even with the other car's rear bumper (position above), straighten front wheels, still backing slowly.

AS YOUR RIGHT FRONT WHEEL comes opposite the other car's rear wheels, start turning steering wheel to left. When clear of other car's rear bumper, quickly complete turn of steering wheel to left as far as it will go. Back slowly as far as necessary to put your car "in" without hitting car to rear.

THIS SHOULD ALIGN YOU with curb in parking position. If not, straighten wheels and pull forward until aligned. Stop in center of space. Any difficulty with the method can usually be cleared up by a few minutes trial on a quiet street where the motorist can dismount and check his position against these diagrams.

VICTOR HARDT JUDGE OF MUSIC CONTEST

Acting as judge for the Minnesota State Music contest, held over the week-end at Thief River Falls, Minnesota, was Victor H. Hardt, chairman of the music department of The Stout Institute.

As judge, Mr. Hardt evaluated the performances of 69 instrumental solos, 22 bands, and 13 orchestras from throughout the state of Minnesota.

Immediately upon his arrival back at Stout, Mr. Hardt left with his 95 college band members and Symphonic Singers for a tour of southern Wisconsin and the Chicago area of Illinois.

On Wednesday evening, May 13, Director Hardt will lead the combined groups in The Stout Institute's annual spring concert at the college auditorium at 8:15 p.m.

F. H. A. PRESIDENT TALKS TO HOME EC. CLUB

The joint Phi U-Home Ec Club meeting was held on Monday evening, the main feature of the program being a talk by Mary Ellen McCade about her trip to the national FHA convention at Washington, D. C. Miss McCade, of Ladysmith, Wisconsin, is the national FHA president. Lillian Smith, a past FHA state officer, gave a short talk on the state organization of FHA.

Next year the dues of the Home Ec club will be raised to one dollar per semester to help defray expenses. The senior breakfast will be held on Sunday, May 24. Tickets will be on sale in Harvey Hall.

ARTICLE BY DR. WALL APPEARS IN MAGAZINE

"General and Vocational Education: Objectives Different," an article by Dr. G. S. Wall, associate professor of education at The Stout Institute, is the lead feature in the spring edition of "Tech Training."

"Tech Training" is a periodic publication for administrators and personnel employed in educational and industrial training programs. The magazine provides information on research and teaching problems in vocational, technical, industrial, and business education.

Aim of the article, according to Dr. Wall, has been to inquire into and dwell upon the purpose and objectives of vocational education as it is practiced today, with emphasis on its inherent values.

Dr. Wall then discusses how students "live" as well as "work" in their everyday existence. He then emphasizes the importance of this fact to educational philosophy and procedure.

According to the author, vocational education has three major objectives in preparing our youth for living in a democratic society: development of desirable attitudes, acquisition of skill, and development of skills.

Dr. Wall then discusses attitudes, or work habits as they are sometimes called. He points out also the place of knowledge and skills in education.

To conclude his article, Dr. Wall proposes the following challenge to vocational educators: "It is the responsibility of every vocational educator to educate the whole of youth, although he is primarily concerned with their special development, and only secondarily concerned with their general development."

M. A. P. HOLDS ANNUAL INITIATION BANQUET

The annual initiation banquet of the Manual Arts Players chapter of the Alpha Psi Omega was held on Monday, April 27. The banquet was held at the Anchor Cafe. The initiation ceremonies took place at the home of Mr. Zieman, head of the speech department.

The Manual Arts Players had an impressive ceremony which included the repeating of vows by the new members, a review of the services which each new member had done previous to initiation, and a reading of the by-laws of the national fraternity. The following were initiated into MAP: Mary Betzel, Herb Pringle, Vivian Barnhart, Carol Young, Doris Hutchinson, Joan Mountford, Mary Lou Bohrnstedt, Dorothy Brownell, Carol Zuege, Nancy Hanshus, and Verna Dunn.

BORROWED ARTICLES ARE NOT COMING BACK

The Manual Arts Players are happy to lend out properties and costumes which may be of service to other organizations for various presentations. However, they are not always getting everything back which has been borrowed and are wondering if they should keep up this service. A top hat and a swallow-tailed coat were lent out some time ago and not returned at this writing. One prop or costume lost may mean many hours spent looking for a replacement next time it's needed. Let's not abuse the borrowing privilege which we have!

DR. IVERSON IS NAMED COMMITTEE CHAIRMAN

Appointment of Dr. Ralph G. Iverson, director of student personnel services at The Stout Institute, as chairman of the State-wide Action Committee of the Wisconsin Association of Educational and Vocational Guidance has recently been announced by the Association.

Duties of the committee will include making studies and recommendations which will advance the course of guidance in Wisconsin, integrate action among all members of the Association, and improve guidance service in Wisconsin schools.

Dr. Iverson will attend a meeting of the Association at Milwaukee on May 9. During that conference, the first meeting of the State-wide Action committee will take place. Dr. M. Arline Albright of Marquette is president of the Association.

AWARDS GIVEN MAY 1 BY RIFLE CLUB

The awarding of letters and chevrons was the main order of business of The Stout Institute Rifle Club on Friday evening, May 1, in the upper gym of Bowman Hall.

Members of the organization who received letters were the following: Oliver Aglerie, Willis Capps, James Leader, Barbara Rushing and Charles Stubbs.

Members who received chevrons were: Stan Meyer, DeWayne Nevin, Jacqueline Sorenson, Hugh Schmahl, and Glen Voelz.

Awards were made on the basis of participation in club activities, participation in National Rifle Association activities, and the advancement of gunnery.

PETER BIBB IS SKI COACH IN ALASKA SCHOOL

Far from The Stout Institute, but nevertheless doing a good job of teaching, is Peter Bibb, a Stout graduate of 1951 who is now a teacher and ski coach of Juneau High School in Juneau, Alaska.

According to an issue of "J-Bird," official newspaper of Juneau High School, Mr. Bibb's team was to meet the Anchorage ski team for top honors in downhill, slalom, cross country, and jumping.

Under Mr. Bibb's coaching, the Juneau team made a trip to Anchorage, the longest ski trip in its history. A previous trip to Whitehorse had been the longest competitive jaunt taken. The ski club was also reported as having made major improvements in ski facilities at Juneau.

The article in the "J-Bird" concluded by complimenting Mr. Bibb's ski team for its accomplishments "in spite of a comparatively snowless winter." To most residents in the United States proper, a snowless Alaskan winter would seem an impossibility.

P. A.'S TO HOLD SENIOR FAREWELL DINNER

The Pallas Athene senior farewell dinner will be held on May 21 at the Stoppe Cafe in Durand. On this occasion the sorority presents each graduating senior with a piece of sterling silver as a lasting remembrance of the sorority. Pat Jensen and Avis Reschenberg are co-chairmen for this last meeting.

WESLEY MEMBERS TO HOLD TAFFY PULL

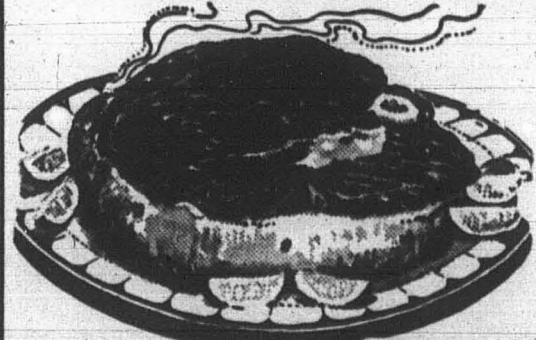

A "Taffy Pull" will be held at Wesley next Sunday. There will be the usual supper preceding the event.

On Sunday, May 3, reports of the spring conference were given by members and Reverend Reece presented a topic on "Vital Religion". The meeting ended with the showing of a film that Reverend Reece took of Church Night and other Wesley events.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Haase live in La Crosse. They have five children, four girls and one boy. Mrs. Haase was the former Morine Schultz. She states that 36 home economics graduates of 1936 keep a questionnaire continually as a means of contacting each other and keeping up to date on families and activities.

H. A. Tice, B. S. 1936 and M. E. 1945, is the head of the department at Technical High School in St. Cloud, Minnesota. All but two of the men in the department are Stout graduates. They are Dan Chamberlin, Jim Leigh, Von Stai, and Ralph Muhrmann.

Betty Hasslingers Holsen, B. S. '46, was married in 1951 and now has one son who is six months old. Before she was married she was the home demonstration agent in Manitowoc County.

Mrs. Walter W. Estabrook (Jane Seyforth, B.S. 1942) has been living in Greenfield, Ohio, but is moving to Hamilton, Ohio. Mr. Estabrook works with Central Steel and Wire in Cincinnati. Their address is:

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Estabrook
5 Hillcrest Drive
Hamilton, Ohio

Lon A. Loebel, B.S. 1951, returned from the service after spending eight months with the army in Germany. He started teaching in the Milwaukee school system in December, 1952. He is now teaching at Custer junior and senior high school, having two classes in metals, one in woodwork, and two in arithmetic. His address is:

Mr. Lon Loebel
2060 South 82nd Street
West Allis 14,
Wisconsin

William C. Hansen, B.S. 1939, has been teaching industrial arts in Willmar, Minnesota, since 1939.

Charles Schiferl, B.S. 1952, is teaching three classes of machine shop and two classes of driver training in Ishpeming, Michigan. He states that the area of Ishpeming is a desirable place to live in the winter because sports are "tops". His address is:

Mr. Charles Schiferl
300 East Pearl Street
Ishpeming, Michigan

Joyce Fuhrmann Hicks, B. S. 1949, was married in 1950. She taught home-making in Amery high school for three years and now teaches in Grantsburg School.

Mr. and Mrs. Wally Hammerburg, both B. S. 1949, are living in Highland Park, Illinois. They have one son, who is eighteen months old. Mrs. Hammer-burg is the former Norma Nelson. Mr. Hammerburg teaches woodwork and drawing at the Highland Park high school. They spend their summers as assistant directors at a ranch camp in Jackson Hole, Wyoming.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Randall live in Clifton, Texas. Mr. Randall teaches at a small junior college where he is an instructor of industrial arts, coach, and dean of men. Mrs. Randall is the former Audrey Goodell who attended Stout for two years. They have one child who was born on April 21, 1953.

Eugene W. Tahlner, B.S. 1951, is the route salesman for Wards Baking Company. He lives in Rochester, Indiana, with his wife and two year old daughter. He was entered in the American Bowling Congress in Chicago in March.

NSA CONGRESS DATES HAVE BEEN ANNOUNCED

The United States National Student Association will hold its sixth annual congress at Ohio State University, August 24 to September 2, in conjunction with the Ohio Sesquicentennial it was announced by Richard J. Murphy, NSA president.

"The Four Freedoms in Higher Education" will be the theme of this year's meeting with such outstanding notables as President Dwight D. Eisenhower, NSA Director Harold Stassen, Hunter College President George Shuster, Commentator Edward R. Murrow, and a host of others being invited to address sessions of the congress.

The association will sponsor the annual student body presidents' conference, August 20 through 23, at the same site. The Reverend Vincent J. Flynn, president of the College of Saint Thomas has been invited to keynote the meeting of the student presidents.

More than 500 official student representatives are expected to participate in the two conferences. In recognition of the association's importance in the educational community, it has been asked to have the congress serve as the highlight for the youth activities of the Ohio Sesquicentennial being celebrated in Columbus, home of Ohio State University.

LATEST FOOD TIPS TO BE GIVEN MAY 11

If you are interested in the latest tips on freezing foods, new ways of using cheese in your menus, or new ideas for tasty and different casserole dishes, you will not want to miss the demonstrations that will be given May 11, 12, and 13 in room 301, in Harvey Hall.

On May 11, at 7:30 p.m., Julaine Christenson will give her demonstration on "Freeze and be Happy." May 12, at 7:30 p.m., Ann Ritzinger will show several ways to use cheese in your menus in her "Cheese, Dairylands' Pride," demonstration. Mary Ann Moore will give her "Fun With Casseroles," demonstration at 4:00 p.m. on Wednesday, May 13.

These demonstrations are open to the public and all who wish to attend may do so.

STOUT JUNIOR PROM WAS HUGE SUCCESS

A large number of couples danced to the music of Cliff Keyes and his orchestra Saturday night, May 2, at the Junior Prom. As a special attraction Mr. Keyes did a tap dance number for the group.

Nancy Hanshus was crowned queen by King John DeBock amid a tropical scene, orchids and all. Green and white streamers and orchids further carried out the theme "Orchids in the Moonlight". The wonderful evening passed much too quickly for everyone attending.

NOTES TO THE WISE ON VIRUS AILMENTS

"You must have that virus that's going around" are familiar words to almost every sufferer from sniffles, sore throat, and cough during the winter. College infirmaries pile up with "virus patients" at exam time and drug stores do a land office business in patent medicines. Forget the drugs and nostrums, advises Earl Ubell in the April "Ladies' Home Journal." In "That Old Virus," the author explodes some of the myths about common winter and spring ailments and says that the body itself is the best weapon against infection.

Most doctors agree that they can neither prevent nor shorten the length of the illness caused by the so-called "winter virus." (Nor do they know exactly what the virus is—it may be one of some 3000 varieties, causing illnesses ranging from the common cold to intestinal flu.) When a virus, much smaller than bacteria and unable to grow outside of a living plant or animal enters the body, it reproduces its own kind and literally eats up the body cells. The blood, meantime, produces anti-virus chemicals (antibodies) that ward off the virus and stay in the body to produce a virus immunity for a short period of time.

Since medicines, gargles, and tablets can do no more than soothe the symptoms of a virus infection at best, they are a waste of money. Antibiotics like penicillin are not only expensive but even actually harmful when they are carefully prescribed for a person with an antibiotic allergy. Since antibiotics attack only germs, they are useless against virus. More over, some actual germs can build up a resistance to penicillin administered too freely.

Here is a list of physicians' rules for fighting virus:

1. Stay in bed and give your body a chance to shake off the virus.
2. Keep warm and eat normally.
3. Don't treat yourself—rest and let your blood manufacture virus-fighting antibodies. If any symptoms persist or if your fever is high (over 101) call your doctor.

ADULT CRAFT CLASS (Continued from page 1)

By Joseph Hainault

Capacity enrollment in an Adult Craft Class, a recent addition to Menomonie's adult education program, is proving not only that many of today's women are seeking creative leisure time activities but also that such organized classes stimulate artistic skills and creativeness which would otherwise be lost.

Composed of twenty-four craft enthusiasts, the class, which meets once a week, provides a pleasant problem for its teacher, Mrs. E. J. Rawson: "No one can say that my 'pupils' don't keep me busy supplying new project ideas to satisfy their creative urges."

Class members come from a diversity of backgrounds. One is a busy mother with three small children, who seeks an evening's respite from family responsibilities. Wives of The Stout Institute students find the class both enjoyable and also a means through sale of completed projects of fattening their often anaemic G. I. education budgets.

Some members, Mrs. Rawson believes, find the class an outlet for creative energy. Others enjoy sharing companionship and craft ideas. For many, the evening of adult education is their "night out" while husband baby sits.

Among the varied projects directed by Instructress Rawson, wife of a Stout Institute teacher and herself an advanced student in art, are textile painting, making hooked and braided rugs, working leather craft, creating decorative wooden ware and designing costume jewelry. Members are given the privilege of selecting crafts they would like to learn.

Mrs. Rawson encourages members with special talents to help teach specific units of the course and receives good response. Mrs. L. J. Rudiger and Mrs. Eva Wolford have demonstrated the art of Scandinavian embroidery. Mrs. Emil Jensen has given a demonstration on pine needle weaving which she learned while vacationing in Florida.

Occasionally Menomonie residents with special talent are invited to a class session to demonstrate a highly skilled craft. Mrs. Kate Boguhn has already instructed the class in the art of braiding rugs. Joe Hainault, president of the Stout Arts and Crafts Club, assisted in teaching leather craft.

When the class began decorating wooden ware, Mrs. John Lee of Boyceville got a few ideas of her own. Says Mrs. Lee, "I had never before done any wood turning on a lathe, but I was willing and eager to try."

So from a stick of poplar fire wood she surprised herself and her husband by creating a small covered urn. Not only did she turn the urn, but also an eight inch tray, and other covered novelty boxes.

All class members seem to be equally interested in each new project introduced. Several of the women laugh at how they stay up late nights, fascinated with the current crafts class project which they are completing.

Members are proud of their work and find such personal achievements as hand-painted lazy susans and nylon artificial flowers the solution to their gift problems. A lovely hand-painted table cloth designed by Mrs. Earl Retzlaff has already been sent to England.

DELTA KAPPA SENDS FIVE TO CONVENTION

On May 8, five Sigmas will travel to New York for the National Convention. Richard Lenhardt, Roy Willmarth, James Kichieski, Roger Hanson, and William Rahl, will represent the Sigma Chapter of the Delta Kappa's at the three-day affair.

Parties, dances, and business meetings must be scheduled for next year and a committee made up of Gary Grainger, DeWayne Nevin, James Kichieski, and Richard Lenhardt will do the job on next year's social calendar.

SYMPHONIC SINGERS GIVE SPRING CONCERT

Group Presents Special Concert Upon Returning From One-Week Tour

Returning to Menomonie on a flood of favorable comment from their week-long tour of southern Wisconsin and northern Illinois, the Symphonic Singers of The Stout Institute presented a special spring concert for the residents of the Dunn County area at 8:15 p.m. on Wednesday evening in The Stout auditorium.

On their tour, the Symphonic Singers gave twelve concerts which were heard by over 10,000 people, including an audience of 3,300 at Chicago Heights. Reaction to the concerts has been reaching the campus this week in letters and notes to Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of Stout, and Victor H. Hardt, director of music at The Stout Institute.

A. E. Dittbrenner, superintendent of the Racine County School at Rochester reported the tour concert as "excellent" and expressed the hope that a similar program would be presented in his school next year. John H. French, superintendent of Community Unit District 200-U in Illinois expressed a similar hope that the Symphonic Singers would return for a repeat program and called this year's concert "A fine job of singing and playing. The group entered into the program with a spirit that helped up here to think well of The Stout Institute."

Reaction from the president of a commercial canning corporation paid this tribute to The Stout Institute musicians:

"I don't ordinarily write letters of this kind. However, I was one of the fortunate individuals who attended the concert given by the Symphonic Singers from your institution and it was especially fine. The young folks did a wonderful job and the director, Mr. Hardt, was especially good."

The final Symphonics concert of the school year on Wednesday was a distinctive and unique program by the 95 members of the choral and instrumental group. Featured was a blend of sacred, folk, modern, and novelty selections.

Solists for the concert included Charles Russell, Menomonie, baritone; Dorothy Belisle, Menomonie pianist; Betty Johansen, Sherburne, Minn., drum virtuoso; and Elsie Bush, Vocalist from Dorchester.

BACCALAUREATE SERVICES ARE IN CHURCHES

Special Baccalaureate Services for The Stout Institute students, being held this year in churches of varied student denominations, have been announced by a number of Menomonie pastors.

At 9 A. M. on Sunday, May 24, Rev. H. A. Pankow, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, is designating that morning service as the Baccalaureate Service. All students, faculty, parents and friends have been invited to participate.

At 8 P. M. that evening, May 24, a Special Baccalaureate Service is being held at Our Savior's Lutheran church by Rev. E. T. Boe, Rev. Norris Olson, and Rev. John Woerth. This will be the traditional Baccalaureate in which graduating seniors are invited to wear their caps and gowns in a procession, which is to be part of the service.

Speaker for the occasion will be Rev. A. S. Tanner, pastor of First Lutheran church in Eau Claire. All students, faculty members, parents, and friends have been invited.

It has been called to the attention of all graduating seniors that, although the churches thus far sponsoring Baccalaureate Services are of the Lutheran denomination, graduating seniors of other faiths are invited to participate if they desire to do so.

NOTICE! "400" WILL NOT STOP

The "400" will not stop at the Menomonie junction at the end of the school year. Those planning to go home on the "400" will have to travel to Eau Claire where the train stops regularly.

SCHEDULE FOR FINAL EXAMS IS READY

Only a few more days and exams will be taken. All classes will meet through Friday, May 22. Examinations in courses having single sections, graduate or undergraduate, are to be given Wednesday, Thursday, or Friday, May 20, 21, or 22, whichever is the last meeting of the class. Students having conflicts in the group schedule will take the subject of their classification first. (Juniors will take junior subjects first, etc.) The period 3:00-5:00 on Wednesday is made available for use in case a three subject conflict occurs.

All final examinations are based on a one hour limit. Reports on grades should be turned in at the earliest opportunity, at least 24 hours after the examination. All reports are to be in before the final deadline at noon Friday, May 29.

The schedule is as follows:

MONDAY, MAY 25

WHITE ELEPHANT SALE TO BE HELD WEDNESDAY

Attention all you bargain hunters! Next week at the all school picnic immediately following the lunch hour, the "S" Club will put on their annual "White Elephant" sale. A professional auctioneer has been secured to do the chores for the evening. Save all your pennies and nickles as they may buy anything from a set of dishes to oil for your car. Ask those who have attended the previous auctions and they can only say "It is a bargain at any price." Let's all get together after the lunch and see what we can bid on for the good of the "S" Club Dad's Day fund.

Remember, — Auction Sale on May 20, at Wakanda Park at 6 p.m.

JACKIE KLING IS ACCEPTED BY RESTAURANT

Acceptance of Jacqueline Kling, a 1953 graduate of The Stout Institute, into the training program of Marshall Field and Company's food service marks continuance of that company's employment of Stout graduates to the point that all Marshall Field dining rooms, the largest restaurant operation in the Chicago area, are supervised by graduates of The Stout Institute.

Announcement of Miss Kling's placement was made by Dr. Alice J. Kirk, dean of The Stout Institute division of home economics. Miss Kling, who has majored in institutional management at the college, is from LaCrosse.

Other Stout graduate institution management majors now in supervisory positions at Marshall Field include Clarice Zarling, 1952 graduate from Sheboygan; Lois Subitch, 1952 graduate from Waukesha; Madelyn Erickson Pollock, 1950 graduate now from Menomonie; and Rose Scianni, a member of the 1948 class.

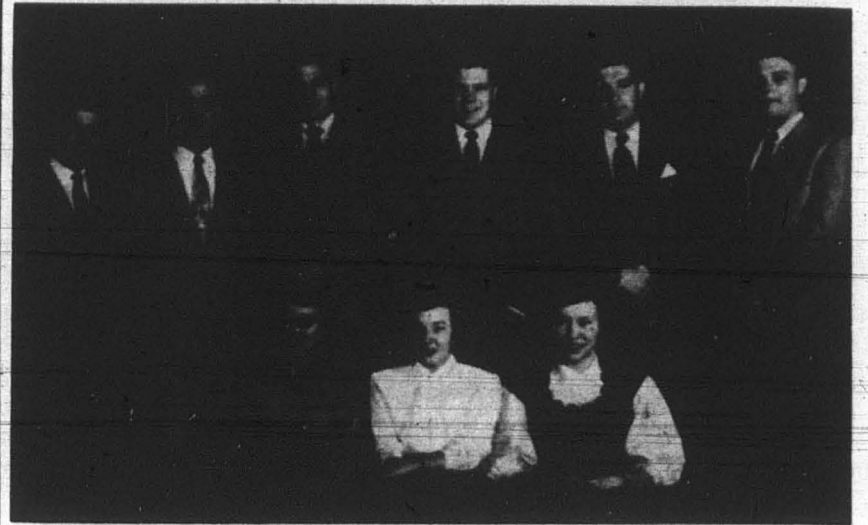

These supervisory personnel direct the food service for nearly 28,000 persons a day in well-known Marshall Field restaurants such as the Walnut Room, English Room, Narcissus Room, two restaurants at the Chicago Municipal Airport, and others.

The program into which Miss Kling will enter July 15 is of six to eight months duration. Trainees are informed on policies, organizations, and objectives of Marshall Field and are acquainted with particular methods and procedures used by the restaurant division.

Trainees also receive such administrative courses as those on basic personnel policies, merit rating, supervision technique, and work simplification. Successful trainees, upon completion of the program, become assistant supervisors and later supervisors in charge of food service for an entire restaurant unit.

Aim of the training program, according to Marshall Field, is to obtain college graduates from home economics divisions of the highest caliber and develop them into executive personnel for the company.

WHO'S WHO FROM THE STOUT INSTITUTE

TWELVE STUDENTS IN COLLEGE WHO'S WHO

Who's Who Recognizes Outstanding Efforts and Achievement

Twelve Stout students were elected to the honor of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. Who's Who is composed of distinguished students selected from the college and accepted by the organization. Who's Who is also designed to render greater, though less conspicuous service:

As a means of compensation for outstanding effort and achievement. As a standard of measurement for students comparable to other recognized scholastic and service organizations.

Each of the twelve students elected to Who's Who will be awarded a certificate at the Senior Recognition Assembly in May.

Milt Benner is a senior from Oshkosh, Wisconsin. He is active in Phi Omega Beta, "S" Club, Stoutonia, Tower, and vice president of the junior class.

Geraldine Bieniasz is a May graduate from Menomonie, Wisconsin. During her four years at Stout she has been very active in extra curricular activities. She belongs to the Home Economics Club, Pallas Athene Sorority, Phi Upsilon Omicron, and the Stoutonia. She has been vice-president of the Phi Upsilon Omicron and editor of the Stoutonia.

Nadine Brown hails from Manitowoc, Wisconsin. She has been very active at Stout in the Home Economics Club, Phi Upsilon Omicron, Pallas Athene Sorority, Band, and Tower. Nadine has been president of the Home Economics Club this year.

Charmaine Chopp is a senior from Kohler, Wisconsin. She has been active in the Home Economics Club, Pallas Athene Sorority, Band, Stout Symphonic Singers, Phi Upsilon Omicron, Student Governing Board, and W.A.A. She was secretary of her sophomore class, secretary of Stout Symphonic Singers, and has been, during the past year, president of Phi Upsilon Omicron.

Dick Duthler comes from Freeport, Illinois. Dick has held the most important office on the campus namely the presidency of S. S. A. He is also active in Epsilon Pi Tau, Alpha Psi Omega, and Sigma Tau Gamma. He was a representative of the Student Governing Board.

Jack Luy is a junior from Milwaukee, Wisconsin. He has been active in Epsilon Pi Tau, Phi Sigma Epsilon, Stout Symphonic Singers, and Student Governing Board. Jack has been vice-president of his sophomore class, vice-president of the S. S. A., and at present is the S. S. A. president.

Hazel Nelson is a May graduate from Glen Flora, Wisconsin. During her four years at Stout, she has been active in many extra curricular activities. She has been in W.A.A., Home Economics Club, Stout Christian Fellowship, Y. W. C. A., Inter-religious Council, Phi Upsilon Omicron, Alpha Sigma Alpha, Tower, and Girls Glee Club. She was secretary of the Stout Christian Fellowship, vice-president of the Y. W. C. A. her junior year, secretary of Phi Upsilon Omicron during this past year. Her junior year she was co-editor of the Tower, and this year was the editor.

Francis Oberpriller is from Menomonie, Wisconsin. He has been very active in extra-curricular activities while here at Stout. He has been active in Alpha Phi Omega, Phi Sigma Epsilon, Stout Symphonic Singers, the Stoutonia, and Epsilon Pi Tau. His senior year he was editor of the Stoutonia.

Ann Rossmiller hails from Burlington, Wisconsin. Ann has been active in the Home Economics Club, Phi Upsilon Omicron, Pallas Athene Sorority, W. A. A., Band, Stout Symphonic Singers, Student Governing Board, and Stoutonia. She was treasurer of her sophomore class and president of the Pallas Athene when she was a junior.

August Schultz is from Oshkosh, Wisconsin. While at Stout he has been active in the "S" Club, Epsilon Pi Tau, and Phi Sigma Epsilon. During his sophomore, junior, and senior years, Augie has been football manager.

George Stephenson is a senior from Galesburg, Illinois. He has been active in Alpha Psi Omega, the Stoutonia, Alpha Phi Omega, Epsilon Pi Tau, Sigma Tau Gamma, and Student Governing Board. George was secretary-treasurer of Epsilon Pi Tau his junior year and during the past year has been treasurer of the S. S. A.

John Wilson, a January graduate, is from Morgan Hill, California. While at Stout he took part in several extra curricular activities. He was a member of Alpha Phi Omega, Epsilon Pi Tau, and Rifle Club. John was president of Alpha Phi Omega his junior year, and president of Epsilon Pi Tau his senior year.

SYMPHONICS' CONCERT IS GIVEN AT ASSEMBLY

The Symphonic Singers and concert band presented their annual spring concert for assembly Wednesday, May 13.

The program included sacred, folk, modern, and novelty music, both in choral and instrumental form. "While Strolling Through the Park," "Set Down Servant," and the classical "Dream of Olwen" were just a few of the selections that were featured at the concert.

STS WAZYGOOSE TO BE HELD AT TAINTER LAKE

The banks of beautiful Lake Tainter will be the scene of the annual printer's holiday, the Wazygoose, on Saturday, May 16.

The Stout Typographical Society will hold its annual picnic at the Lantern Room on Lake Tainter Saturday afternoon, May 16.

Members, advisors, and guests of the STS will enjoy a lunch of potato salad, baked beans, sandwiches, and other refreshments.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK
Tremendous recent progress toward a control for infantile paralysis has brought us to the threshold of prevention of the disease. Thanks to the support of the March of Dimes by the American people, scientists are now planning the first field trials of a polio vaccine, and manufacturers are producing the blood fraction, gamma globulin, for limited use as a temporary preventive of paralysis.
Both are good news. Hope rides high.
But despite this, 1953 will see outbreaks of polio; we cannot count on any startling reduction of cases this year. Reasons:
1) the vaccine is not here — it has to be tested;
2) despite every effort of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, the American Red Cross and government authorities, gamma globulin will be in such short supply it can be given to fewer than one million children out of a population of 46,000,000 in the susceptible age groups.
We must understand and accept the facts and keep cool heads when faced with the reality of polio. We cannot relax our watchfulness nor ignore the usual precautions yet awhile. If polio comes to your community you will want to observe the sensible rules for good health that have been urged in previous years:
---let your children continue to play with their usual companions — avoid new groups;
---make sure they scrub their hands before eating, avoid use of other people's soiled towels, dishes and tableware;
---beware of fatigue and chilling, which lower resistance to polio virus;
---don't subject young children to unnecessary and lengthy travel.
Consult your doctor if your child has any symptoms of polio such as headache, fever, sore throat, upset stomach, stiff neck or back — and keep him in bed, away from others, till the doctor comes.
If polio strikes, turn to your local Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis advice and financial assistance where needed.
Conquest of polio is not yet here — but final victory is much nearer.

HOME EC. CLUB GIVES SENIOR BREAKFAST
The Home Economics Club will present its annual senior honor breakfast from 8:45 to 10:15 a.m. on May 24 in the cafeteria. The two students with the highest scholastic records in both the freshmen and sophomore class will serve as candle bearers. President Fryklund, Dean Kirk, and the senior girls will be guests.
Tickets will be sold in the dormitories and in the Home Economics corridor up to 5:00 p.m. on May 20.

APO HOLDS FINAL MEETING OF THE YEAR
APO's final meeting of the school year was held Tuesday evening, May 12, in Bowman Hall. Next year's schedule was planned and put into workable order. The organization undertook many worthwhile projects during the '52-'53 school year, and successfully completed every one. Tentative plans for '53-'54 call for many more activities for the organization.
Members enjoyed a picnic at Riverside park on Sunday, May 10. Having worked up an appetite playing volleyball, they settled down to an appreciated lunch of hot dogs and buns, pickles, potato chips, pop, and beans.
The final event of the school year will be the Camp-o-ree to be held May 22 and 23 at Neilsville. For the past five weeks members have been attending a training program at North school to qualify as future Scoutmasters.

RIFLE CLUB PRACTICES ON 30 CALIBER RIFLES
Shooting 30 caliber rifles was featured at a special outing for members of The Stout Rifle Club Sunday afternoon, May 10, at the farm of George Kolkind, a local farmer interested in the advancement of shooting.
Using the army M1 rifle, the older model 1903 army rifle, and the model 30.06 rifle, the club spent Sunday afternoon familiarizing themselves with the functioning of heavier shooting rifles. The process consisted of learning the nomenclature of each rifle, zeroing in each weapon, and actually shooting the rifles from various positions.
Members of the club who participated in the 30 caliber activities were Charles Stubbs, president of the organization, John Rynders, Dick Kresse, Willis Capps, and Oliver Agerlie.
Members who will shoot 30 caliber rifles on May 17, will be Oliver Agerlie, James Leader, James Toms, Glenn Voelz, Hugh Schmahl, Barbara Rushing, and Barbara Post.
M1 rifles, 30 caliber ammunition, and regulation targets are provided for rifle club activities by the U.S. Army.

MISS CALLAHAN'S POEM CHOSEN FOR PRINTING
"Not in Words Alone," a sonnet by Miss Gertrude Callahan, chairman of The Stout Institute English department, has been chosen for the 1952-53 "National Poetry Anthology" of the national poetry association.
The anthology is composed of the selected poetry of librarians and teachers in schools and colleges. The fifth edition of the National Poetry association's anthology, the volume is composed of poems chosen from among thousands of submitted manuscripts.
Miss Callahan's sonnet points out to busy mothers, hungry for the praise of their loved ones, that the love which bound the Holy Family was "love expressed not in words alone."

TOWER STAFF RELAXES AS YEARBOOKS GO OUT
After many months of work and worry the yearbook is finally in the hands of the students. Under the able guidance of Mr. Barnard and Dr. Rinehart, advisors, staff members feel justly proud of this year's Tower. It has been a long and tedious job for members of the Tower staff but everyone is happy to have contributed his or her share to the final product.
The Tower office is quiet now, and members look upon the scene with both regret and relief. Many students have no conception of the amount of work that went into this year's yearbook. Staff members gave up many week-ends of fun in preference to working on details of the book. It was not a question of putting off the work until next week, as that would mean twice as much to do. A deadline was just that, it had to be and was met.
We of the staff realize that some of the students will be a bit harsh in their criticisms of the book, but to those students may we offer this defense. We did the best we could. We may have slighted some groups unintentionally, but we tried to cover as much as we could both in writing and with pictures.
Before turning the key in the door for the final time we say thanks again to the students at Stout. The Tower staff members know that with your help we were able to present a book that will remain with us for a long time to come.

WISCONSIN FISHING SEASON OPENS
The sound of a line swishing through the air and a few seconds later a splash resounding from the water; Mr. Fisherman has caught his first fish of the season. This scene was enacted by Stout students a week ago Saturday as the fishing season in Wisconsin officially opened.
Many of the male students of the campus have been seen carrying fishing gear from the dorm to waiting cars and then on to Lake Menomonie and surrounding lakes. The surprising fish stories are the same. The ones that got away were either too big to haul in, or they just snapped the line of the ardent fisherman.
The urge to catch that slippery creature in the water far out weighs the inconveniences that have to be incurred. Rain storms come and go, but the ardent sportsmen takes no heed—he wants that fish at all costs.
Until now the weather man has been very co-operative, and students have been quick to take advantage of the situation. So far the champion fish catcher has not been determined, but as the season progresses the competition will become greater and greater. After all, the one that got away is still lurking around and has to be caught.

NEWS OF OUR ALUMNI

Louis Smith, B.S. 1935, has been chosen teacher of the month by the Detroit Teachers Association. He was honored with several banquets and other activities.

A letter was received from Bohumil Holub which follows:

I have been receiving the Stoutonia regularly every week since I wrote the last letter. I wish to thank the ones responsible for this.

The main reason for this letter is to present the following news: I was one of the official Marine corps photographers at the last atomic blast that the Marine corps participated in at Desert Rock, Nevada. I am not permitted to disclose much detail because of secret demands. I was in a helicopter shortly after the blast. It was a pre-dawn explosion and the light of the blast is beyond words. We shot 35 mm. Eastman color negative movies of all phases of the operation. I wasn't able to see the blast area, so I can't describe the effects. Be sure to see the movie the Marine Corps made entitled, "A Bomb Operation".

I wish to express my appreciation again for the pleasure of receiving the Stoutonia as it sure helps to pass the service life faster.

Roman T. Brom, B.S., has been principal in the public schools in Louisville, Kentucky, since 1941. He is a member of the Louisville Kiwanis Club and Phi Delta Kappa. He was first named in "Who's Who in American Education" in 1945.

One of the two industrial arts instructors in Plymouth, Wisconsin, is Theodore Hein, B.S. 1952. He teaches electricity, drawing, and general shop. Mr. Hein operates the youth center in Plymouth; therefore, his experience in Menomonie was valuable. The other instructor in Plymouth is Ernest Hauke, B.S. 1949, who manages the wood and metal areas in the department at Washburn, Wisconsin. Merlin Moore, M.S. 1952, is also teaching in Washburn.

Mrs. Betty Taylor (Betty Christopherson, B.S. 1935) was at the alumni dinner at the Milwaukee teacher's convention. She teaches in Onalaska, Wisconsin. Mr. and Mrs. Taylor and their three children live in Galesville, Wisconsin.

Mrs. H. E. Halpin (Ruth Herschleb, B.S. 1942) was married in 1950. Her husband, a graduate of Purdue University, is a pharmacist in Lafayette, Indiana. The Halpin's summer vacation is spent in Wisconsin Rapids, Wisconsin, at the home of Mrs. Happin's parents.

Nona Landt Crist, B.S. 1943, was married in 1943. The Crist's now have two boys, age six and one half, and three and one half years old. Living in Wisconsin Dells, Wisconsin, Mr. Crist manages the Wisconsin Dells ice cream and locker company.

Hugh O. Tyler, B.S. 1947, lives in Stewart, Nevada, with his wife and two small daughters. He was a staff teacher at Indian service summer session in 1951. He speaks to civic organizations on Indian education and placement.

Ronald Ehart, B.S. 1948, and his wife live in Joliet, Illinois. He teaches in the Joliet high school and junior college. The Joliet high school band won the national championship by placing first in Eisenhower's inaugural parade.

Robert G. Christianson, B.S. 1950, was married in the summer of 1952, and now resides at Mascoutah, Illinois. He is employed at Scott Air Base near Belleville, Illinois. His address is:

Robert G. Christianson
Burgard Court 10
Mascoutah, Illinois

Lloyd Gannagan, B.S. 1950, is a printing instructor of junior high and senior high school students in East Aurora, Illinois. He is building a new home in Aurora.

Mrs. Natalie Gehri Stapleton, B.S. 1952 (January), taught at Port Edwards, Wisconsin, but has now joined her husband who is serving with the paratroopers stationed at Fort Campbell, Kentucky. The Stapleton's have one child, a boy who is five months old.

SEE DEMONSTRATION, "KEEPING THINGS COOL"

"Keeping Things Cool" is a good suggestion for the coming summer months. If you want some good hints as to how to do just that come to the demonstration by Winifred Waite in room 301, Monday, May 18 at 11:00 a.m.

Keep Things Cool. Follow Willie the Penguin to room 301 on Monday.

Y.W.C.A. HONORS SENIOR MEMBERS AT PICNIC

The YWCA is holding a picnic in honor of its senior members on Monday, May 18. The group will meet at 5:00 at the union, and hike to Point Comfort for a picnic lunch. The menu will include hot dogs, baked beans, potato chips, ice cream bars, and pop. In the event of rain, the supper will be held in the clubrooms over the union.

PHI SIGS WILL HOLD ANNUAL DINNER DANCE

Tomorrow night is the night. At that time, a dinner and dancing is in store for members, advisors, and guests of the Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity. The event will take place in the beautiful Cardinal Room of the Hotel Marion, beginning at 6:30. Jimmy Knight and his orchestra will provide the musical background for the gala evening.

Members of the fraternity in charge of arrangements are Dick Jung, Joe Luetkemeyer, Jack Luy, and James Olds. In charge of decorations are Bob Boldt, Lawrence Bruno, James Christianson, Leo Janis, and James Olds.

MODULAR BUILDING IS DEMONSTRATED

The Stout Institute this week has been the scene of a home construction demonstration, given by a nationally known authority on Modular building techniques, which was photographed and reported for a national magazine.

Giving the lectures and demonstrations on modular construction has been Griffith S. Clark, of the Momasote Corporation of Trenton, New Jersey. Griffith flew from Trenton to The Stout Institute for the event.

Reporting the activities have been representatives of the "American Builder," the trade publication of American light building construction. The meeting will receive a complete story and photographic "spread" in the national magazine.

In attendance at the lectures and demonstrations have been students from varied industrial education classes at Stout, fathers of Stout students who expressed a desire to attend, representatives of local building concerns, and members of the administration and faculty of the college.

Supervising the program and arrangements for the visitors has been K. T. Olsen, associate professor of industrial education at The Stout Institute. Members of the college administration participating in the project include Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of Stout, and Dr. John A. Jarvis, dean of industrial education at the college.

Modular building construction, regarded by builders as an increasingly important contribution to building techniques, is based upon standardizing the size of construction materials in multiples of four. The modular technique has been shown to achieve both economy and efficiency in building.

Interest of the "American Builder" in the program lies in that publication's desire to see more practical building activities undertaken by colleges teaching industrial education. As The Stout Institute offers such "learning by doing," the "American Builder" will give the story of Stout's success to the other colleges in the industrial education field.

Many of the arrangements for the building demonstration were completed by Professor Olsen at the Ninth Annual Convention and Exposition of the National Association of Home Builders, held in Chicago last January. Griffith Clark was one of the main speakers at that national meeting.

There Mr. Clark, publisher of "American Builder," noted architect W. T. Anicka, and Professor Olsen worked out details for this week's demonstration at Stout.

PHI U'S WILL HONOR SENIORS AT DINNER

The Phi U Senior Dinner will be held on Tuesday, May 19, at the Stoppe Cafe in Durand.

A special invitation is extended to the members of the alumni chapter. Mrs. Ray, who is president of the newly established alumni chapter, is tentatively scheduled to speak.

BALLOT COMMITTEE REPORTS ON ELECTION

BILL HEHLI NAMED HEAD OF SCHOOLS

William H. Hehli, 35, well known Menomonie man who graduated from Menomonie high and The Stout Institute has been named superintendent of Mondovi public schools, it was announced last week by the Mondovi board of education.

Mrs. Hehli is the former Janet Medtlie, also of Menomonie, and they have two children, Billy, five, and Jan Marie, 12.

Hehli has been an industrial arts teacher at Mondovi for the past three years, and he was named acting superintendent of Mondovi schools since the death of Chester L. Dodge several weeks ago. President of the board, Dr. R. A. Kreher, stated there had been numerous applications for the superintendent's post.

Hehli is well known in Menomonie as high school athlete and Stout assistant coach, later as official for football and basketball in the northwest Wisconsin area, and last March he was selected as an official at the state basketball tournament in Madison.

During World War II he served in the Navy, and entered Stout following his discharge. He coached baseball at Stout and assisted with football and basketball. He plans to complete his masters degree requirements in education at Stout this summer.

Mrs. Walter Flick, Eau Galle, is the mother of Hehli, and Mrs. Edna Medtlie, Menomonie, is the mother of Mrs. Hehli.

ELAINE HANSEN IS MODEL TRI SIG PLEDGE

Elaine Hansen, pledge of the Sigma Sigma Sorority has been selected by the National Office of Sigma Sigma Sigma, as the model pledge of the year.

This honor is conferred on a pledge each year of convention, which is held every three years. Each of the 53 Tri Sigma chapters send in a candidate, and the model pledge is selected from these on the basis of scholarship, character, organizations participated in, and personality.

Elaine, as model pledge, will go along with Donna Anderson, Beta Pi president, to Essex and Sussex Hotel, Spring Lake, New Jersey, scene of the national convention. The girls will be guests of the National Office for the convention.

Stout Institute National Alumni Association Officers Are Named

A report of the ballot committee of The Stout Institute National Alumni association has indicated that the following persons have been chosen for offices in the association:

Jean Anderson, national president; Mrs. Emma Anderson, first vice-president; George Tinetti, second vice-president; Conrad Mayer, Northeast representative; Lawrence Braaten, South east representative; Warren Thomas, Midwest representative; and Mrs. Dean Gilmore, West Coast representative.

A total of 300 votes was cast for president, with four additional ballots being cast without presidential preference but with a choice of other candidates.

Of the 304, 21 votes were incorrectly cast by indication of a vote for each region or no vote at all. Of the 283 acceptable ballots, 45 came from the Northeast, 12 from the Southeast, 212 from the Midwest, and 14 from the West Coast.

The Alumni association wishes to express its sincere thanks to Mr. H. C. Milnes, who acted as nominating chairman of the election, and to Mr. Philip Ruehl and Mr. Lloyd Whydot-ski, election chairmen.

"We place less and less emphasis on the joy of achievement - and more and more on the achievement of joy. This is a social problem which we cannot evade much longer."

TEN NEW EPSILON PI TAU MEMBERS

Members of the EPT are pictured above. They are from right to left: Row 1, Marvin Krueger, John Jarvis, and Bob Swanson; Row 2, James Cook, Howard Vetter, Phil Mann, Phillip Ruehl, and Jack Rupert; Row 3, Bill Stern, Wilbert Knobeck, Willis Capps, Gerad Duchon; Row 4, James Lund, Dufur Peters, and Thorsten Edgeberg; Row 5, Robert Herling, Edward Nowicki, and Bob Takasaki.

TEN MEMBERS INITIATED BY EPSILON PI TAU

Examination Results, Formal Initiation, and Banquet was Saturday, April 25

Epsilon Pi Tau, local Theta Chapter of The Stout Institute, initiated ten new members in spring initiation ceremonies. The oral examination was held on Friday, April 24. Examination results, formal initiation and banquet was held on Saturday, April 25.

The ten new E. P. T. members welcomed in by the Theta Chapter are Willis Capps, Gerald Duchon, Thornton Edgeberg, Robert Herling, Wilbert Knobeck, James Lund, Edward Nowicki, Dufur Peters, William Stern and Robert Takasaki.

An initiation team consisting of Marvin Krueger, Phillip Mann, Howard Vetter, Robert Swanson, Jack Rupert, James Cook and John Jarvis presented another famous Theta Chapter initiation. Mr. Ziemann of the English and speech department held practices with the team previous to initiation to perfection as to be expected in the ceremonies.

The initiation banquet was held at the Marion Hotel. Marvin Krueger, president of Theta Chapter acted as toastmaster. Dr. John A. Jarvis, dean division of industrial education at The Stout Institute, gave the welcome address to the new members. Dr. Thomas F. Fleming, assistant professor of English, gave the main address.

Dr. Fleming talked on the subject of the writing of professional articles. A few points of the main address included the possibilities of article demand of a professional nature; the several types of articles; reasons why a person should write; how an article should be written and the steps involved in submitting an article to a publisher.

Following the spring initiation and with the completion of the annual spring picnic, E. P. T. activities for the 1952-53 school year will have come to a successful close.

INTERSORORITY COUNCIL HOLDS MEET

The new members of the Intersorority Council, consisting of the newly elected presidents, secretaries and the advisors, held their first meeting on May 7.

The date, theme, and committee for the fall intersorority rushing party were chosen. The committee consists of Donna Anderson, Marilyn Eckstein, Kay Wedin, and Avis Reschenberg. They are setting up the by-laws for the Panhellenic Council, which will take the place of the Intersorority Council next year. The new officers of the council are Carol Bredlow, president, and Patricia Jensen, secretary-treasurer.

SIGMA SIGMA SIGMA HOLDS INITIATION

Beta Pi chapter of Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority held its initiation May 8 at 7:00 in the Harvey.

Initiated were: Doris Van Keuren, a sophomore from New Richmond, Wisconsin, and Joanne Peterson-a junior from Bennett, Wisconsin.

MULTIPLE SCLEROSIS FUND DRIVE IS ON

M. S. stands for Multiple Sclerosis, a disease about which very little is known. Medical Science is still searching for a cure for this dreadful crippling disease. It is a form of creeping paralysis. The M. S. Society needs money to carry on its educational and research program. The drive is being sponsored in this community by Miss Lillian Carson.

Those afflicted by M. S. are between the ages of 15 and 20, and 35 and 40. Its victims are never cured. Former Stout students have been and are its victims.

To quote Dr. Parkin, "M. S. affects the brain as well as the spinal cord. Symptoms that develop from this disease depend entirely upon where it takes place. It is a disease of young adults and it strikes during the most productive period of life. The M. S. disease varies from case to case. Symptoms usually include weakness, numbness of the extremities, tremor and incoordination, disturbances in speech. Then too in the list of symptoms the patient will even suffer from emotional instability and psychic disturbances. A sudden attack may reach a fatal outcome."

However, Dr. Parkin said, (in Broadcast No. 183 at the Wisconsin State Medical Society) that in the ordinary cases of M. S. the symptoms progress slowly. The patient may tend to improve or the symptoms disappear. He said this did not mean the patient is cured. Relapses occur frequently and usually with each relapse the symptoms will increase and new ones will appear. A patient can go on for a long period improving and then having a relapse. There is not a specific test or specific symptom that will tell for sure that some particular disturbance of nervous function is the beginning of M. S. However, signal symptoms do appear. These can include NUMBNESS or WEAKNESS of one extremity, DOUBLE VISION, or a SUDDEN BLINDNESS of the central vision in one or both eyes. Such signs may even disappear before the disease is diagnosed. They are warning signals and should be heeded by all physicians. Making final diagnosis is pretty tricky business. As yet there is no specific test that can be used.

The patient should avoid infection of common nose and throat infections (common cold). Prevention of infection of all kinds will help prevent a relapse of M. S.

Dampness and cold is hard on M. S. patients, as for those suffering with arthritis. M. S. is rare in warmer climates in U. S. A.

The Wisconsin State Physical Therapy and Psychiatrist Clinic has done much for their M. S. patients, putting them on their feet and helping them to help themselves.

A check made out to the National M. S. Society will be your income tax deduction receipt and your contribution will be for a most worthwhile cause.

TOWER STAFF MET IN DURAND MAY 21

The final meeting scheduled for members of the Tower staff was a dinner held last evening at the Hiway 10 Club in Durand. Members and their guests enjoyed a delicious steak dinner that was almost an anticlimax to this year's work. It was the first time since last fall that all the members were together at one time and with not a worry about the book to keep their minds occupied.

Although much of the shop talk was missing, a certain amount crept in during the ensuing round of talks. After all, eight months work can't be forgotten practically over night.

Ground work for the 1954 Tower is being laid right now and some planning will be completed by the time the school year comes to a close. At this time a correction to next year's staff is as follows: Norma Schlottman as was previously stated will not be Literary Editor next year, instead Norma will assume the Associate Editor's duties. Literary Editor will be Ellen Russell.

DR. RINEHART WRITES ON JOHN S. MILL

"John Stuart Mill's Autobiography: Its Art and Appeal" is the title of an article by Dr. Keith Rinehart, assistant professor of English at The Stout Institute, which appears in the summer, 1953, issue of "The University of Kansas City Review."

Dr. Rinehart's article discusses Mill as an early type of contemporary man, one who feels the disintegrating effect of too narrow specialization and who, at the same time, endeavors to live a full, well-rounded life.

This split between thought and emotion, Dr. Rinehart points out, constitutes the special appeal of Mill's "Autobiography" for the modern reader.

In his analysis of Mill's art in the "Autobiography," Dr. Rinehart shows that Mill has used many of the literary devices common to the novel, the drama, and the epic poem. Hitherto, autobiography has generally been considered a factual account of an author's life and has not been much studied as a kind of literature.

Dr. Rinehart's thesis is that great autobiography, like all other great literature, uses artistic means to achieve its effect. Mill's "Autobiography" is an especially good example to illustrate the point, since Mill's interests were practical rather than aesthetic in nature.

The "University of Kansas City Review," regarded as one of the "little Magazines" of the literary world, is in its nineteenth year of continuous publication. Each year only eighty manuscripts are chosen for publication from among the 4,000 submitted.

FRESHMAN GIRLS WILL HAVE PARTY MAY 25

Tainter Annex will hold a farewell party for all freshman girls at the dorm on Monday, May 25. The party will begin at 10:30, and the agenda for the evening will include refreshments, dancing, and playing cards.

JACK LUY, S.S.A. PREXY DRAFTED RESIGNS OFFICE

SECTION IX SSA CONSTITUTION

Article III Section 3.

Any student may become a candidate for any office except the presidency and vice presidency; these two offices must be chosen from the junior and sophomore classes respectively.

Section 5

Vacancies occurring during the school year shall be filled by a majority vote of the Student Governing Board.

S.S.A. president Jack Luy formally resigned at the meeting of the Governing Board May 19, and his resignation was accepted. According to the Constitution the vacancy is to be filled by the Student Governing Board. The Board is requiring all eligible candidates to submit qualifications and indicate their interest in the position. Candidates must be juniors at the present time and have a 1.5 average. The Board will vote the vacancy at a special meeting on Monday at 4:00.

All qualifications from candidates must be submitted by Saturday noon to the S.S.A. office.

DEAN PRICE ATTENDS TWO CONFERENCES

Representing The Stout Institute at two state-wide conferences in Madison recently was M. M. Price, dean of men at the college. He attended a meeting of the State Committee of Conservation Education at Teacher Preparation Institutions, a sub-committee of the National Resources Committee of State Agencies which was created by the 1951 Wisconsin Legislature.

Dean Price also participated in the planning committee for the 1954 Wisconsin Student Ecumenical conference in a meeting held in the Methodist Student Center of the University of Wisconsin.

Members of the Committee on Conservation Education include in addition to Dean Price, Harry Werher, Dodge County Normal; Ralph Nanz, Carrol college; Sister M. Nona, Edgewood college; Luther Zellmer, Platteville State college; Roy Ihlenfeldt, Department of Public Instruction; Frank Woerdehoff, State Board of Vocational and Adult Education; John Treacy, Marquette university; and Robert Finley and LeRoy Peterson of the University of Wisconsin.

In the planning committee of the Ecumenical conference the theme for 1954 was chosen "Believing Ecumenically: The Basis of the Christian Community." The conference was scheduled for Stevens Point State college, with The Stout Institute as an alternate site. Dates were set as March 5-6-7 or March 12-13-14, 1954.

The meeting, which also reviewed the work of three previous Ecumenical conferences, was attended by representatives of the University YMCA and YWCA, several University student religious groups. Carroll college, Beloit college, Milwaukee State college, Stevens Point State college, Milwaukee School of Engineering, and The Stout Institute.

As the World Council of Churches will meet in Evanston, Illinois, in 1954, the Wisconsin Student Ecumenical conference of 1954 will be regarded in a sense as preparatory to the Evanston meeting.

ENROLLMENT SCHEDULE FOR FALL TERM

The registration schedule for the Fall Term of '53-'54 will be as follows:

Tuesday, September 8—Freshman Registration

Wednesday, September 9—Registration for matriculated students and freshman convocation.

Thursday, September 10—Registration for matriculated students and new students other than freshmen.

Friday, September 11—Classes convene.

MANY SENIORS HAVE RECEIVED PLACEMENTS

MAGAZINE HAS ARTICLE BY MR. BARNARD

Author of a feature article, "So You Think You Have an A-V Program?" appearing in the May, 1953, issue of "The Clearing House" magazine, is Mr. David Barnard, director of the audio-visual education center at The Stout Institute.

Material in the article is based upon the author's experience in visiting rural high schools with from 75 to 200 students enrolled where the administrator claims to have an adequate audio-visual education program in operation but where the evidence seems to indicate otherwise.

After describing a mythical interview in which he probes the weaknesses of the audio-visual facilities typical of many small high schools, Mr. Barnard lists 13 questions which any administrator must answer satisfactorily before he can claim to have an adequate audio-visual program.

These questions ask the administrator point-blank if he is "teaching" with audio-visual films or only "showing movies"; if he and his school board will allot adequate money for rental of relevant films or are "bargain hunters" of irrelevant free films; if equipment is adequate, available, and well-serviced; if audio-visual equipment is used in many classrooms instead of only one special room; and if an evaluation program is in use for selecting the best materials for specific teaching situations.

In conclusion, Mr. Barnard urges administrators to help sell their communities on the value of audio-visual instruction, and by permitting first-year and experienced teachers to demonstrate their effective utilization of audio-visual materials and techniques, develop a really effective audio-visual program in the small high school.

ELEVEN ARTICLES ARE SUBMITTED BY CLASS

For 11 articles thus far submitted by students in the Feature Writing course at The Stout Institute taught by Dr. Thomas Fleming, a total of 20 publications has been achieved. The articles, together with reprints of those articles, have appeared in national magazines, state teacher publications, and newspapers throughout a wide area.

Gary Gore, Stout senior, had an article accepted for fall publication in "Industrial Arts and Vocational Education." A feature on co-educational home economics and industrial education, written by Mrs. Aubrey Pollock Duncan, a Menomonie coed, will appear in next season's "WEA Journal."

Other articles are under consideration by "Pageant" magazine "School Shop," "Industrial Arts and Vocational Education," "Field and Stream," "Sports Afield," and other magazines.

Frequent sales have also been reported to area newspapers. With 16 articles still remaining for publication, class members have already earned $107 on the 11 articles sold.

FOOD LABORATORY HAS BEEN REMODELED

Spring has brought not only a transformation of the trees on the campus, but also a remodeling of laboratory 325 in the Home Economics building. This laboratory will be used by the high school students and also many of the practice teachers for both foods and clothing classes. Special provisions have been made for discussion periods and social activities within one class room.

Five unit kitchens will serve as working areas for about twenty-five students. The sewing center has also been built similar to those found in the home. By setting one working area up in a unit, it is felt that the girls will be able to make practical application more easily. In planning the laboratory, the education department considered the problems and needs that would be encountered in teaching.

GRADUATING SENIORS ARE GOING INTO VARIETY OF FIELDS AND LOCALITIES

Many of the graduating Stout men and women have already received their placements. Among the women who will receive their bachelor's degree on May 29, 1953 are: Joyce Applegren, who will be teaching at New Lisbon; Geraldine Bieniasz at Colfax; Valeria Bloom at Milwaukee; Ardis Breitzman at Mound, Minn.; Lois Bredlow (Extension Home Agent) at Dodgeville; Nadine Brown at Highland Park, Ill.; Leone Dederig at Chilton; Aubrey Duncan at Arkansaw; Delores Dusek (Extension); Margaret Fitzgerald at Shawano; Bernadine Gundersman (Extension); Nancy Hauser at Drummond; June Higgins at Belleville; Carolann Hammersten at Colorado Springs, Col.; Beverly Henderson at Chippewa Falls; Betty Johansen at Woodruff; June Keefer at Wausau; Ruth Kelly (Extension Home Agent) at Bayfield; Mary Klaus at Elkhorn; Phyllis Lumby at Elmwood; Mrs. Zoe Miller at Eau Claire (Homemaking); Patricia Pagel at Milwaukee; Mildred Pixley at Minneapolis; Marlys Quilling at Plum City; Muriel Roffers at Rice Lake; Ann Rossmiller at Racine; Mary Jane Shadewald at Athens; Frances Soulek at Manitowoc; Wanda Staehli at Pepin; Betty Worthington at Beloit; Rosemary Zeasman (Homemaking).

Among the Home Economics Alumni are: Elaine Blaser (1952) at Reedsburg; Mrs. Shirley Coleman at Chetek; Betty Fuller (1942) at Boyceville; Patricia Johansen (1949) at Minneapolis Honeywell; Kathryn Allan Kay at Roberts; Joan Mitby (1953) at Winona, Minn.; Doris Pickernign (1953) at Cashton; Delores Pirlot (1950) at Watertown; Patricia Telford Weege at Madison.

SYMPHONIC SINGERS PLAN FOR 1954 TOUR

The 1954 Symphonic Singer's tour is in the planning process. Next year's tour is to be bigger and better. The Symphonic Singers have received requests for evening performances to be given at each of this year's stops. These evening performances will be the main part of the 1954 tour. The remainder will be devoted to morning and afternoon concerts given at neighboring schools.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

As another year draws to a close, it holds many memories for each of us. The bonfire, homecoming, teas, fraternity and sorority dinner dances, and the prom all helped to make this another pleasant and successful year. Most of us will be able to enjoy these activities on the Stout campus again, but for the seniors, they will be experiencing new activities and situations in their new lives.

The 1953 graduates will be representing The Stout Institute in many different sections of the United States and Hawaii, and we are sure they will do an excellent job. Good luck to the seniors and we hope to see all of you visiting the campus frequently next year. We hope the rest of you will be able to resume classes here next fall, and again participate in the school activities. Until then, good luck to everyone and have a pleasant vacation.

GOVERNING BOARD NEWS

The new Governing Board members met with the Board for the first time last Tuesday evening.

Arrangements are being made to transfer the public address system from the S. S. A. to the electrical department.

The foster child project was discussed and has been dropped.

Cliff Keyes has been contacted to be the orchestra for Homecoming again next year.

The principle business of the evening was to begin proceedings to fill the gap caused by the drafting of S.S.A. president Jack Luy. Jack formerly resigned and the Board accepted his resignation. According to the S.S.A. Constitution, the vacancy is to be filled by the Board. The Board is requiring all eligible candidates to submit their qualifications and indicate their interest in the position. They must be juniors at present and have a 1.5 average. The Board will fill the vacancy at a special meeting, Monday, at 4:00. Candidates should submit their qualifications by Saturday noon to the S.S.A. office.

The Board adjourned to observe Jack make his first trial flight with a small airplane, a farewell gift from the Board. Maryann Smith and her shoe proved to be the rescue squad when the small craft lodged in one of the campus trees.

The group adjourned until Monday.

It is the little things well done that go to make up a successful and truly good life.

—Theodore Roosevelt.

HYPHS HOLD ANNUAL FAREWELL DINNER

The Hyperion Sorority held its annual farewell dinner for its senior members on Thursday evening, May 14, at the Harbor. The tables were appropriately decorated with small figures of graduates for place cards. Each senior girl upon being presented with a gift from the sorority gave a short talk on her future plans.

S.C.F. HOLDS SPRING PICNIC INDOORS

The Stout Christian Fellowship held their annual spring picnic Tuesday, May 12. Due to bad weather, the picnic had to be held indoors. Food, games, and Christian fellowship were enjoyed by all.

WESLEY MET AT POINT COMFORT LAST SUNDAY

The last meeting of Wesley Fellowship was held Sunday evening at Point Comfort. The members hiked and hooted to the picnic spot and had a free supper. The worship service was planned especially for members departing from school for the summer. The seniors were recognized and given a farewell by the group. The next meeting of Wesley will be held September 11 at which time incoming freshmen will be welcomed.

AVAREGE VETERAN AGE IS THIRTY-EIGHT

The average age of Uncle Sam's nearly 20,000,000 living veterans in civil life is almost 38 years. But the extremes range from 111 years for the oldest veteran down to under 18 years for the youngest.

These figures were announced by the Veterans Administration today, based on the estimated age distribution of veterans in civilian life as of December 31, 1952. Following is a breakdown by wars, showing the number of veterans of each and their average:

..... Since Korea, 1,483,000 veterans, average age 26.
..... World War II, 15, 424,000 veterans, average age 34.
..... World War I, 3,345,000 veterans, average age 59.
..... Spanish-American War, 95,000 veterans, average age 76.
..... Indian Wars, 295 veterans, age 87.
..... Civil War, 2 Union Army veterans, one 106 and the other 111 years old.

In addition to these veterans of wartime service, there are 61,000 veterans of peacetime service who are receiving compensation from the VA for service-connected disabilities. The average age is 41.

The youngest veterans...those under 20...have served only since the Korean hostilities started on June 27, 1950. They number approximately 47,000.

The largest group of veterans is in the age bracket between 30 and 34 years. They number approximately 4,600,000.

These two groups account for nearly one-half of all veterans. The remaining half are in all of the other age groups, beginning with the under-20 bracket and ending with the 90 and over bracket.

Have you heard about the pessimistic Indian who went around with a wet blanket?

STOUTONIA BANQUET TO BE HELD IN DURAND

The Stoutonia staff will hold its annual banquet at the River Room in Durand on May 22. The menu is fish and french fries or ham and mashed potatoes, carrots and peas. The meal will be climaxed with a dessert of fresh strawberry sundaes.

ANNOUNCING DATES OF SUMMER MARRIAGES

Wedding bells will ring this summer for many of Stout girls. Sally Hauser will be the first June bride. She is getting married on June 5. June 13 is the important date for Donna Ebert, Catherine Magee, Marilyn Klusmeyer, and Winnie Walke. June Higgins has set her wedding date for June 28. Joanne Peterson has set a tentative date for July 11, while Val Bloom and Janet Hardies will receive their Mrs. degrees sometime in August. Shirley Lepien and Doris Van Keuren are also making tentative plans for this summer since Uncle Sam will decide their dates.

PHI SIGS HOLD ANNUAL DINNER DANCE

A dinner dance sponsored by the Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity was held in the Cardinal Room of the Hotel Marion on Saturday evening, May 16, at 6:30 p.m.

Members, advisors, and guests of the Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity began the evening with a ham dinner topped off with apple pie. President Willis Capps concluded the dinner by making note of the members who were listed in Who's Who. President Capps then introduced the old and the new officers, covered the advancement of the fraternity from its beginning on the Stout campus as the old KFS fraternity in 1929, and presented former president Howard Heigl with a key chain containing the crest of the fraternity for his fine service to the organization.

The remainder of the evening following the dinner was spent, dancing to the fine music of Jimmy Knight and his orchestra.

Y.W.C.A. MET AT POINT COMFORT MAY 18

The final meeting of YWCA was in the form of a picnic at Point Comfort in honor of the seniors. The picnic was held Monday, May 18.

A gift of flowers was sent to Miss McCalmont, who is in the hospital. The first event that YWCA will participate in next fall will be the Big Little Sister Tea. This tea will be held Sunday, September 13.

LSA HOLDS FAREWELL BANQUET FOR SENIORS

In their program for the final weeks of the '52-'53 school year, The Stout L. S. A. has placed emphasis on the seniors who will soon be leaving. May 17 the group honored seniors at a farewell banquet. Dianne Klemme and Rose Peper were co-chairmen for the banquet, and Mrs. Boe presented an interesting and informative lecture on the history of religious music.

L. S. A. members are also assisting in the Baccalaureate Service scheduled for May 24 by writing invitations and ushering at the service.

As we close this year, the officers and advisors of The Lutheran Student's Association wish to thank their members for the fine fellowship shared together this year and bid you all God's eternal blessing and guidance.

DORMS HONOR MAY BIRTHDAYS AT DINNER

A birthday dinner, honoring all May birthdays, was held Monday, May 11, at the Tainter Hall dining room. The menu included Swiss Steak, mashed potatoes, carrots and peas, salad, relishes, ice cream, and cake.

ANNOUNCING LATEST ENGAGED COUPLES

It seems that cupid has been very busy this spring. He even went along on the choir tour during which Bob Spinti and Bev Peterson became engaged. They plan to be married a year from this summer.

Nancy Gunderson received her ring via the mail from Mark Reimers who is stationed in New York. The couple is planning to get married during his first leave.

FRESHMEN TOUR FRESHMAN TOUR

A.P.O.'s final meeting of the year took place in Bowman Hall, May 12, at 6:30 p.m. The date for the Freshmen Tour of the Town was set for September 9 at 6:30 p.m. Incoming freshmen will be taken on a tour of Menomonie and afterward will be guests of A.P.O. at an informal get-together at Riverside Park.

Ushers for graduation May 29, will be furnished by A.P.O. again this year. Members who volunteered their services were: Bruce Sorensen, Kent Roebor, Floyd Joffe, Don Walters, August Bell, John Walter, Marion Dellinger, and Charles Weber.

Marion Dellinger informed the members about the new system for keeping track of former members. Cards will be made bearing each former member's last known address and present member's address. This system will entail much preliminary work but once the system is in use a quick check can be taken as to the whereabouts of any of the former members.

What you keep by you, you may change and mend; but words once spoken, can never be recalled.

YEAR'S ALUMNI ACTIVITIES DRAW TO CLOSE

Dear Alumni:

Again we are drawing to the close of another successful year of activities in our organization. It has been a busy year with many things being accomplished.

The filing system of alumni addresses was changed to facilitate mailing services. Successful alumni gatherings were held at homecoming, the WEA Convention in Milwaukee, and the AV Convention in Boston. A newsletter is now being launched and should be in your hands in the very next few days. An election of officers was held with very successful results. And the Scholarship Committee has just announced the new winners of the alumni scholarship award. May next year again be as successful as the past.

We are sorry that you did not receive the newsletter earlier, but the print shop has been very busy this spring with numerous other production jobs and is now just completing our newsletter. We hope you enjoy this extra news concerning your fellow members. It is our sincere hope that we may be able to run a fall issue and a spring issue each year in addition to our regular Stoutonia alumni news section. If you have any comments on the newsletter please let us hear from you. Special thanks are due to Lloyd Whydowski and Dr. Fleming for their help with this newsletter.

May you have a pleasant summer. Plan now to take part in next years alumni activities.

Sincerely,
Bob Rudiger
Alumni Secretary

A daughter, Lynn Ann, was added to the George Zimmermann family at Two Rivers, Wisconsin. George is a graduate of The Stout Institute who received his B. S. '49 and M. S. '51. Mrs. Zimmermann is the former Dorothy Schoenwald '42.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Boettner (Jean Van Liew, B. S. 1952) announce the birth of a daughter, Brenda Jean Boettner, on April 15, 1953, in Flint, Michigan. Russell, who received his degree in 1951, is teaching his second year of electricity and metalwork at Kearsley Agricultural High School, Flint, Michigan. He plans to teach there next year also, in addition to his classes, he is advisor to the Jr. Hi-Y group.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Walter Weiss, (Nancy Haertlein) both B. S. 1951, announce the birth of twins, Donna Ruth and Donald Ray, born May 13, 1953. They have one other child, Charles Kenneth, one year old.

Janet Washburn Lewis died March 11, 1953, at her home in Dearborn, Michigan, after a lingering illness. Janet attended Stout in 1933-34. She was the wife of Henry Lewis who graduated from Stout in 1934. There are three children, David 17, Duncan 13, and Deborah 7.

The April 18 Stout Women's Alumni Meeting was held at the home of Elaine Thomas Charlick. Both Mr. and Mrs. Charlick are graduates of The Stout Institute. They have moved into a new ranch home which has been planned and decorated by Elaine and LeRoy.

ALUMNI SCHOLARSHIP WINNERS ANNOUNCED

HOWARD P. KNOP

STOUT GRAD RECEIVES ENSIGN RANK

Howard P. Knop of Antigo, Wisconsin, was among the 837 men congratulated recently by Rear Admiral Charles C. Hartman, USN, Commander Destroyer Force, U. S. Atlantic Fleet, for having graduated with the rank of Ensign, from the Navy's only Officer Candidate School. Howard received his B. S. degree in 1952 from The Stout Institute.

Earl R. Herring, B.S. 1952, is teaching industrial arts to college freshmen at the state teachers college in Minot, North Dakota. He attended the North Dakota teachers convention at Grand Forks in October. He is returning to Stout for the 1953 summer session, where he will complete the work on his master's degree.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Thomas announce the arrival of a daughter on April 24. The baby weighed seven pounds and will be named Linda Kay.

Janice Claire Jenquin
And Kenneth W. Reynolds
Are The Recipients

Two June graduating high school seniors are very happy today for they are the proud recipients of the Stout alumni scholarship awards for the school year 1953-54. This honor has been given to Janice Claire Jenquin of Seymour, Wisconsin and Kenneth W. Reynolds of Alpena, Michigan.

It was a hard decision for your committee to make. The competition was keen. Fourteen applications were received from seven girls and seven boys. The states of Michigan, Minnesota, and Wisconsin were represented as well as the Territory of Hawaii.

The winners were chosen on the basis of the following qualifications: (1) high scholastic average; (2) interest in home economics or industrial arts; (3) excellent character traits; (4) participation in school, community, and home activities; and (5) a need for financial assistance. Miss Jenquin will major in institutional management, and Mr. Reynolds will major in industrial education.

We wish to thank you again for the interest and cooperation you have shown in the awarding of Stout alumni scholarships. Especially proud are the Stout alumni whose students received the awards. They are Mrs. Robert Wolk (Alice E. Finger, 1945) and Douglas R. Sherman, 1949. It is the hope of the committee that in the near future more scholarships will be made available to all deserving students who would like to have the opportunity to attend The Stout Institute.

Faith that the thing can be done is essential to any great achievement.
—Dr. Thomas N. Carruthers.

PRINTER'S WAZYGOOSE: THE ELITE EAT

The printer's hung up their aprons last Saturday long enough to throw one last social event of the year. Like most of the organizations on the campus, the S. T. S. went picnic-happy, but they call it a wazygoose. Call it what you will, the thing was a success. At least all the food was gone and everybody was grimy and tired when it was over, which seem to be the most important constituents of successful picnics.

Here are some of the more distinguished faculty members who graced the wazygoose table: David Barnard ("Where's the food?"), Ray Cornwell ("There are five operations to building a fire . . ."), Lloyd Whydowski ("Look at the stuff in the boat on the lake.") Dr. Salyer ("I'm just going over here and rest awhile."), Dean Price ("Well, don't just stand there, deal!"), and Dr. Rinehart ("Goodness, I seem to have dropped my pickle.") The printers were happy to have the faculty along, and the faculty was probably glad to come. They have been coming to picnics ever since some observant teacher discovered that on a picnic a faculty member doesn't have to act like a faculty member, a treasured privilege possessed only by students.

Harry Thomas and Ernie Hall, from the Boothby print shop were also kind enough to come to the modest picnic. The food served (Definition of served: "Help yourself, I don't see any hooks in you.") was very good and consisted of beans, potato salad, and ham. Duncan Hines never said it, but the wazygoose is a good place to eat.

But there was something more than eating and playing ball. In the pleasant atmosphere of the pine trees, and the informality of the occasion, students and faculty become equals. Differences are forgotten, and the troubles that only a few hours before loomed heavy suddenly disappear. Close to nature and away from the grind, a man realizes how small he is, and yet how immensely important are his friends. So here's to picnics: the right to enjoy the companionship of others and life in general—the last refuge of free men.

Shown standing, left to right, are Gary Gore, Jim Berray, Hank Rokusek and Dave Beyl. The one in the car is Chuck Houge, who was either too lazy or too modest to stand up.

Winners were determined by the high total score. In the event of a tie in the high total score, the best score fired in the offhand shooting position decided the winner for that class.

B. PONTYNNEN ACCEPTS COLLEGE POSITION

A Stout Institute graduate, Burton Pontynen (B.S. '51), has accepted a position with Pacific Union college, Angwin, California. He has resigned from teaching industrial arts at the Stephenson, Minnesota, high school.

Pacific Union college to which Mr. Pontynen is going is a fully accredited liberal arts college of about 1,000 students, owned and operated by the Seventh Day Adventist denomination. It is one of eight such colleges which the denomination operates in the United States.

It is one of the few colleges which requires all of its students to take some work in applied arts to meet the requirements for a B. A. degree.

Mr. Pontynen will serve on the college faculty as an instructor in machine shop, welding, and auto mechanics.

DR. F.J. JORDAN WILL SPEAK TO SENIORS

Dr. Fred J. Jordan, Eau Claire, will give a message that will be appropriate for graduating seniors at the Methodist Church, Sunday, May 24, at 10:45 o'clock. His subject will be "How Big Is Your World?"
